It Fights Germs

Lifebuoy is a soap for the toilet and bath. The basis is two palm oils. It is a soap as exquisite as the largest soap-makers in the world know how to give you. But we add a germicide because you need it in a soap more than any other factor.

Your hands touch many things, and every touch brings germs. Life Extension Institute lists 27 diseases which may be conveyed by hands. Perhaps half the colds, for instance, are conveyed by imprints of a hand that checked a sneeze.

Think of that when you touch biscuits, fruit, candy, etc. In protection to you and yours, wash your hands in Lifebuoy lather before you touch a food. Otherwise, every finger-print on anything eatable is a nest of germs.

First Cake Free

We offer the first cake of Lifebuoy free—only one to a family. Just to let this matchless soap argue for itself. Ask us for this free cake. Cut out the reminder so you won't forget. Do it now.

A MUSCULAR MYSTIC REACHES FOR SOULS

Driving Force of Students' Christian Organization Is Nearly Seven Feet Tall —Once Preached to Bootleggers

A NEssayist of resource might well take for a theme the popularity of certain phrases and the utter lack of justification for their use. The term "muscular Christianity" is one of them. Just why a man should not be physically robust and a robust Christian is not readily apparent. Nevertheless it is a fact that the name "muscular Christian" was widely used a few years ago to designate the preacher or religious teacher who could not fairly be described as a physical wreck.

Rev. N. F. Palmer

Which somewhat pompous preface is designed to lead up to the fact that the Rev. Noel F. Palmer, secretary of the Canadian Inter-Collegiate Christian Union, stands six feet eight inches in his stocking feet. The term, "muscular Christian," fits him like a glove.

For Mr. Palmer is muscular, mentally as well as physically. He has had experiences denied to the majority of religious workers. He holds his convictions with a grip of iron. His enthusiasm is so great that even his huge body scarcely seems sufficient to contain it.

The Inter-Collegiate Christian Union is frankly evangelical in its purpose and its head in Canada has a background which is uniquely, even uncannily, appropriate.

The Rev. Noel Palmer was born in Bedford, England, the town in whose jail John Bunyan wrote The Pilgrim's Progress. He was educated at Bedford Modern School and later went up to Cambridge to study agriculture. Because, as he explains, "it seemed to me that a man of my stature was cut out for some sort of outdoor occupation."

While at Cambridge, to while away the time and "with a secret sense of embarrassment," Mr. Palmer read a life of John Wesley. Promptly he decided that religion deserved a very earnest investigation. But war broke out and the student of Wesley's life joined the 9th Suffolk Regiment as full private. He was twice wounded and received a lieutenant's commission.

The war over, Mr. Palmer gave serious thought as to his life's work. He soon decided that in some way religion was to play an outstanding part in it. For this reason he took advantage of the British government's offer to finance war veteran students who wished to graduate from a university. This time, however, Cambridge and agriculture were given the cold shoulder. Wadham College, Oxford, was chosen because the future preacher wanted to take his Bachelor of Arts degree and later to enter Mansfield Theological Seminary.

After obtaining his degree Mr. Palmer taught for a while at Cliff College, near Sheffield. This college is an institution for the under-privileged and is designed to turn out Christian workers. Followed a term of evangelical work in London, and then Mr. Palmer found himself invited to study divinity at Drew Seminary, Newark, New Jersey. Of course he had to do some sort of work and very odd sort of work it turned out to be. He was assigned mission work in the city and was hedged about on every side by bootleggers and their influence. It was valuable experience, however.

Ask this magnificent specimen of manhood about his present work and, to put it bluntly, he will preach to you. Not that you will find his preaching objectionable—a man in deadly earnest rarely is objectionable. He will tell you that the solution of the world's infinitely various and profoundly perplexing problems is to be solved by a whole-hearted acceptance of the Nazarene. He will tell you that he believes every word of the Bible "intellectually as well as spiritually." That he believes prayer works miracles. Also he will tell you of some miracles he has witnessed and give you chapter and verse for them.

The Inter-Collegiate Christian Union is an extension of the British Inter-Varsity Fellowship of Evangelical Unions. Those engaged in it must needs possess a driving force of purpose and a compelling personality. No one can talk to the Rev. Noel Palmer without realizing that he is splendidly equipped to lead the workers in the field that he has chosen.

Ex-President of France Has Remarkable Memory

NEWS that M. Poincare has so far recovered his mental and physical vigor as to be contemplating throwing his hat into the ring as a candidate for the presidency of his country—an office which he held at the outbreak of the Great War—is a reminder that he enjoys the distinction of having the most accurate memory of any statesman in Europe.

M. Poincare

At a banquet at Madrid in 1914 during M. Poincare's last pre-war visits to Spain, while M. Poincare was toasting the King of Spain, Alfonso, propped his copy of the speech against his wineglass in order to test the truth of the tales he had heard regarding the French president's marvellous memory.

After they had risen from the table King Alfonso said: "I've caught you, M. le President. You went wrong in one passage of your speech."

"I knew that," replied the Frenchman with a smile. "I noticed that Your Majesty was checking it with your own copy, so I deliberately altered three words."

M. Poincare then repeated the passage, giving the words exactly as they appeared in the monarch's copy.

Miss Macphail by "R.T.L."

MISS AGNES MACPHAIL is still the only woman member at Ottawa, although she has been down there for the last nine years and is now likely to remain for another year.

Nobody, however, has been presumptuous enough to call her the Sweetheart of the House.

She is afraid she will never meet anyone she can be afraid of.

No matter who the minister of defence may be she will never have any use for him. She would like to have the job herself and not bring in any estimates.

She likes candy, cows, writing letters, J. J Morrison and having roses on her desk.

She dislikes General MacBrien, the educational system, cadet training, Colonel Lennox, late parties, early parties, St. James St., uniforms, penitentiaries, the tariff, bank presidents, senators, bishops, thick soup, talkies, the way some women dress, history books, courtiers, aides-de-camp, potatoes au gratin, Toronto, funerals and lobbyists and has frequently said so.

Her motto is: "I am what I am and I say what I think."

She was born on a farm in Grey county and taught school near Sharon in North York. A number of people have already cracked that joke about the Rose of Sharon.

She is suspicious of people who are nice to her.

In religion she is a Latter Day Saint and denies being a Mormon. She thinks polygamy is entirely wrong, but is not very enthusiastic about monogamy either.

Her view of matrimony is that the marriage ceremony might as well read: "Will you take this woman or will you have her sent?"

She once caught the bride's bouquet at a Chinese wedding and for a while feared the worst although she is determined not to be superstitious.

She says she has never had time to get married.

In her first month at Ottawa she lost ten pounds, but has quite succeeded in getting them back.

Ever since she went to Ottawa she has intended to learn to speak French fluently, but is still not as good at it as Mr. Arthur Meighen. (Mr. Meighen is a former resident of Ottawa who once had bi-lingual ambitions.)

She prides herself on never blushing, but secretly would rather like to.

She would rather make an epigram than be right and has exercised this preference on several occasions.

The first four years she was in parliament she returned $6,000 of her sessional indemnity and then went home and told the folks in Grey county that she had been a fool.

She often deplores the fact that she is so famous and, with the exception of Canon Cody, is probably the best publicity expert since P. T. Barnum.

She won her election last summer in spite of the help which was given her.

In the House of Commons she never wears a hat because she can't think with one on and says she is afraid of getting bald.

She used to wear blue serge tailored dresses to avoid attention, but these were talked about so much that she had to get a green silk one and now quite often wears evening gowns.

She is a pretty good dancer, but doesn't like the folks back home to think so.

She never carries a vanity case, but once bought a lipstick in the summer of 1912. She subsequently used that as a crayon.

She works very hard and is terribly honest.

She is five feet seven and a half inches tall with her shoes on and once made a cutting remark when she was described as an ignorant little school teacher by Mr. Horatio C. Hocken. (Mr. Hocken is a Toronto citizen who is five feet five except on the Twelfth of July.)

Her people spell her name MacPhail, but she accidentally began writing it Macphail and now prefers it that way. She thinks it looks better and is easier to write.

Her father's name is Dugal MacPhail and he is an auctioneer as well as a farmer.

She keeps scrap-books, does not read novels and enjoys newspapers except that she believes most of them are in a conspiracy to start another war, which she intends to stop if she can.

She is the best woman member of parliament Canada has ever had.

Miss Agnes Macphail, M.P.

Surveying From Air Is His Specialty

ADVENTURE in many lands has marked the career of Sir Charles Delme-Radcliffe, K.C.M.G., C.B., C.V.O., who has recently been visiting and delivering addresses in the leading Canadian cities. Some of this adventure has been of a military nature, as is to be expected of one who holds the rank of brigadier-general, but a large part has been in pursuit of his other calling—that of surveying the difficult areas of the earth.

Before being placed on the list of those who receive "Retired Pay" in 1921, Sir Charles, who is 66, had crowded many things into his life. He was an A.D.C. at Gibraltar, D.A.A.G. in the northwestern district of India, fought in two wars and was twice decorated in Uganda, and then was assigned the task of delimiting the Anglo-German boundary and making surveys near Lake Victoria Nyanza where it is difficult for an ordinary white man to live.

After serving as military attache at Rome he had a period of comparative quiet. Then came the war. Who more suitable could be found than Sir Charles to head the British military mission to Italy when she entered the war on the side of the allies?

This led to a romantic meeting which has borne rich fruit. In the Italian army on the Carso which Sir Charles commanded was a young flying officer, Umberto Nistri. Nistri and his brother were intensely interested in aerial photography. Together they evolved what is considered the best of all systems. In developing this for peace-time use for aerial mapping Sir Charles' practical experience in Uganda proved both acceptable and invaluable.

Naturally the distinguished British officer has been telling Canadians about it. Even non-surveyors have been able to see its advantages. "A photograph doesn't lie," he remarked. "In this, of course, it differs"—and here his accent became particularly English—"from some poor devil of a chainman on the ground, who can't be over-particular about accurate measurements because he's hungry and wants to get to his bee-ah!"

One of the most interesting surveys undertaken by the Nistri method was of precipitous, rocky Lundy island, scene of many a shipwreck. The level plateau of the island is cut into small fields with stone walls, so there was no possibility of aeroplanes landing there.

"Instead I chose the mainland," said the general. "Westward Ho golf course was quite handy—the locality of which Kipling wrote in Stalky and Co. As it happened, the wild Dartmoor ponies which belong to the Prince of Wales were grazing nearby and every time the plane landed they would stampede furiously over the fairways and fling up huge divots from the greens with their flying hoofs. Of course we paid compensation, but we did it quite cheerfully, and the golf club forgave us."

General Delme-Radcliffe gives credit to Canadian aviators for their work in aerial photography and declares that the new British-Italian system will supplement rather than supplant it.

"MENTAL hospital" is in future to be used in place of "asylum"; the word "lunatic" is also to be dropped, save in the case of criminal lunatics.

SUPREME COURT JUDGE HANGS OUT HIS SHINGLE

Retired From the Bench At 76, Justice Mignault Opens a Law Office—Says He Doesn't Want to Rust

Eleven years as a judge of the highest court in the land has not spoiled him as a lawyer, he contends, so he has opened an office in the Transportation building, Montreal, as a legal consultant.

Judge Mignault

"I may be too old for the supreme court, but I'm not too old to work at my profession," he explained with a twinkle in his youthful eyes when visited in his new realm.

"Why should I start loafing just because I am 76 years old? If I set out to kill time, time would kill me."

Mr. Justice Mignault's retirement from the bench was a matter of necessity, not choice, since a few years ago a statute was passed setting 75 years as the age limit for supreme court judges. Under this the eminent jurist was automatically retired on Sept. 30, 1929, although still young in spirit and filled with a zest for work.

He went travelling in Europe just to freshen himself up for his renaissance as a lawyer. At his request, his name was replaced on the roll of advocates of the province of Quebec, where it had been inscribed for many years before his elevation to the supreme court.

Although of Canadian parentage and acclaimed as one of the brightest ornaments of the Canadian bench and bar, Pierre B. Mignault was born in the United States, at Worcester, Mass. He was educated at St. Mary's college, Montreal, and in New York. He took his degree of Bachelor of Civil Law at McGill and was called to the bar of Quebec in 1878. Later both McGill and Laval universities conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Law.

For the half century that followed he devoted himself to civil law in its various branches, not only practising it and dispensing it as lawyer and judge, but imparting it to would-be legal lights as professor of civil law at McGill and writing on it. He resigned his professorship when he went to the supreme court, but later accepted the chair of legal ethics, which he still holds to-day.

It was in 1918, when still a youngster of 64, that his highest honor came to him in the form of a summons to the supreme court of Canada. Because of the two systems of civil law prevailing in the Dominion, that based on the English system and that based on the Code Napoleon, which has prevailed in the province of Quebec since 1866, this tribunal makes unusually exacting requirements of its jurists.

"It is the greatest school of comparative law I know of," commented Mr. Justice Mignault in paying warm tribute to the bench on which he served as long as the statutes would permit.. "I carried away with me the deepest admiration for the highest court in the land."

There is one distinction which sets this veteran of the courts apart from the vast majority of his brothers of the bar. Pierre B. Mignault has never "played politics." Perhaps that was why it took him 40 years to get to the supreme court, but he is proud of it, feeling that he has ever been faithful to the one mistress—law. He will admit under pressure that he once, only once, spoke from the hustings, but that was long, long ago, a youthful indiscretion which he has lived down.

Conversing with this courteous "gentleman of the old school" one receives an impression of cultured brilliance that commands instant respect and admiration. Yet there is no pride here; only a simple dignity. In his manner or speech there is an indefinable hint of the last century, a mellowness which supplies the only indication that one is talking to a man of many years.

And ready at his hand as he talks lies his work, waiting to be eagerly resumed as soon as the interview has terminated. Here is a jurist to whom law is hobby as well as profession.

So, at 76, with a brilliant career behind him, he just had to return to work.

"I could not face the thought of going to clubs when there was no one there, of becoming miserable and making myself a nuisance, and this was my only alternative," exclaimed the Hon. Pierre B. Mignault.

"Many times I have seen professional men go to pieces when they retired, unable to adjust themselves to a life of loafing after one of hard work. . No, no! I intend to avoid that fate."

THE RIGHT BOOK

"I WANT to buy that book in the window called 'How to Captivate Men,'" said the little girl to the assistant in the bookship.

The man looked dubiously at the little girl. "That's not the sort of book for you," he said; what do you want it for?"

"I want to give it to my father for a birthday present," replied the child.

"But surely there are hundreds of books he would like better," advised the assistant.

"No, I know he would like that one," persisted the little girl. "You see, he's a policeman."

Old Stuff

"Did you get the new maid?" he asked.

She shook her head.

"No, I'm afraid not, dear," she answered.

"Weren't there any at the registry office?" he went on angrily.

"Yes, darling, but we've had them all before," was the rejoinder.

"WHEN I started out in life I was convinced that the world had an opening for me."

"And had it?"

"Yes. I'm now in a hole."

Will He Succeed Baldwin?

Neville Chamberlain

ALWAYS overshadowed somewhat by his big brother Austen, Neville Chamberlain has never figured prominently in the limelight of Westminster. Perhaps it is the monocle and the orchid, and the almost uncanny resemblance to his father, Joseph Chamberlain, that gives to Austen a prestige that has been denied to his younger brother. Neville has little of his illustrious sire's looks except, perhaps, in the way in which his hair curls off the forehead and the determined chin and the resolute mouth. The latter is almost hidden by a shaggy moustache; and, although nobody could pass Austen without immediately recognizing him, one would have to know Neville before one could pick him out in a crowd.

It was not until after the war that Neville Chamberlain entered the House of Commons. In December, 1918, he was elected for one of the Birmingham constituencies, and he has been an M.P. ever since. He was given cabinet rank in 1922 when he became postmaster-general; from 1923 to 1924 he was chancellor of the exchequer, and from 1924 until 1929 minister of health.

During the last twelve years, although Neville Chamberlain has allowed his brother to direct most of the glory to himself and to play to the gallery as much as he liked, he is to-day the "man of the moment" and the "dark horse" of the Conservative party in the old country. He is popular among the rank and file by whom he is looked upon as the strong man who can keep Mr. Baldwin on the right track. His appointment to what he called the "thankless job" of chairman of the Conservative party last June was a shrewd gesture on Mr. Baldwin's part, as if anybody can steer the party free from that internal strife and dissension that has shown itself over the question of a tariff on wheat, that man is Neville Chamberlain. Since his appointment as chairman of the Conservative party he has acted as a kind of liaison officer between Mr. Baldwin and Lords Rothermere and Beaverbrook, a delicate and highly responsible task.

Should Mr. Baldwin be unable to rally the discontented element in the Conservative party under one standard, and build a platform upon which Conservatives may fight at the next general election, he may resign rather than split the party as Joseph Chamberlain split it on two historic occasions. Neville Chamberlain has stated that the future economic program of the party would not be the same slow, partial, cumbersome experimenting with Mr. Baldwin's safeguarding measures, but would be rather to follow Canada's example by enacting a tariff and making use of its bargaining power to negotiate with foreign countries. "The new government in Canada," he stated, "has brought in an emergency tariff of a provisional character, and why should not we take a leaf out of Canada's book? It is all in the family. Why should not we, in the first few months of our term of office, introduce an emergency tariff? It may, perhaps, be somewhat of a rough and ready kind, but it will give our home manufacturers breathing space while we enter into negotiations with the dominions and with foreign nations and make use of that which we have never used—the bargaining power which we should wield by virtue of possessing one of the best import markets in the world."

This is the kind of speech that is usually left for a party leader to deliver; it is really a program that a leader might ask the rank and file of his followers to accept. Was Neville Chamberlain making a subtle bid for leadership when he used those words? Possibly he was! And, being behind the scenes and the chief organizer of the Conservative party, he was probably not speaking with his tongue in his cheek! He might quite likely become premier if Mr. Baldwin stepped down by the simple process of history repeating itself. In 1911, when Lord Balfour resigned as leader of the Conservative party, the two candidates for the vacant post were Austen Chamberlain and Walter Long. Both had equal claims, and as the supporters of neither would give way to the other, Bonar Law stepped into the breach and became premier. Neville Chamberlain may quite easily follow in Bonar Law's footsteps. If the oft-heard slogan, "B.M.G." (Baldwin must go), ever comes to the point of realization, the natural contenders for the vacant office would be Austen Chamberlain and Sir Robert Horne. The following of each is powerful and influential, and if neither would withdraw Neville Chamberlain would logically step into the breach and become premier.

He Fights Well—if Winning

WHATEVER Lord Melchett, still often referred to as Sir Alfred Mond, undertakes to do he does enthusiastically. Among other things he keeps himself prominently before the public both in Britain and on the North American continent, and perhaps he is taken more seriously in the latter than in the former country. His father, the eminent chemist, Ludwig Mond, whose name is so closely associated with nickel and gas, sent young Alfred to Cheltenham and then to St. John's college, Cambridge. At the age of 26 he was called to the bar of the Inner Temple, but industry made a stronger appeal than did the law, and his days as a barrister were soon over. As a member of the great chemical firm of Brunner, Mond and Company, now incorporated in the world-wide combination of Imperial Chemical Industries, Alfred Mond showed outstanding ability as a business man. Gradually his interests in the gas and chemical industries, and in anthracite have been built up and extended until to-day his companies control practically everything that is worth while in their particular sphere.

Part of Lord Melchett's success in life must be attributed to the methods which he has always adopted towards industry. From his father he inherited a scientific mind; and, since his earliest days, he has always regarded industry as an exact science. Similarly, too, with politics. With him politics have not been merely a game to be played in order to have a seat at Westminster; he made them a real business by study and close application, and by following methods employed by great parliamentarians of the past.

It is now almost 25 years since Lord Melchett went to Westminster—he was first elected as Liberal member for Chester in 1906, and he remained a staunch Liberal until 1926. Free trade was his specialty; he became immersed to the point of saturation in the teachings of Richard Cobden and others of the "Manchester school," and he preached free trade from one end of Britain to the other. This is all the more remarkable for the reason that the chemical industry in Britain was protected by tariffs, and under protection Alfred Mond built up the great firm of Brunner, Mond and made a vast fortune in the process. He founded the Free Trade Union to fight protection!

In 1910 Alfred Mond received the honor of a baronetcy as a reward for his services to the Liberal party in Britain, especially in the interests of free trade; and in 1916, on the formation of the Coalition government, he became first commissioner of works, this being the only cabinet rank he ever held. In 1926 he and his leader, Mr. Lloyd George, disagreed on the latter's land policy, and he seceded from the party and joined the Conservatives under Mr. Baldwin's banner. There may have been other matters on which they disagreed; but, in any event, Sir Alfred Mond could not but have foreseen the virtual extinction of the Liberal party at Westminster, and he never played long on a losing side! His hopes of a peerage could probably never be realized if he remained a Liberal, and social as well as [illegible] ambition burned fiercely within him. Mr. Baldwin gave him a peerage in 1928

Lord Melchett frequently visits Canada in connection with his nickel interests at Sudbury, Ont., and to keep himself informed at first hand of conditions here and in the United States. Last August he came to the conclusion that "God should find America very difficult to please"; and, on the subject of the Canadian wheat pool, he expressed the opinion that a policy covering not only one year but a period of several years is necessary to the success of a marketing operation of such magnitude.

Although a Conservative for the last four years, Lord Melchett believes that a stronger protectionist than Mr. Baldwin will be the next Tory premier. He has been one of the most prominent supporters of Lord Beaverbrook in his empire crusade campaign; and, in a vigorous letter to the press he recently issued an appeal to the British nation to look the facts which have come out at the Imperial Conference squarely in the face, and to impose a tax on foreign wheat if such is necessary to give the dominions the preferences they desire. He paid a striking tribute to Lord Beaverbrook—"who, primarily, made the conference a reality instead of a mere form!"

Again, Lord Melchett's changes of mind show that he seldom remains long on the losing side!

This dance, by request of the young people, was for relief purposes and was attended by nearly two hundred people. Excellent music was provided by Jack Marshall and his six-piece orchestra, who outdid themselves last night by the quality of their playing. The guests were received by the president, Mrs. J. Bacon, and the general convenor was Mrs. A. Pink. Mrs. G. F. Collis and Mrs. W. S. Hake acted as treasurers. The prize for the spot dance went to Miss Irene Moore and Mr. Dick Jones, while Miss Gladys Dafoe and Mr. W. Cripps won the prize for the birthday dance. The program also included a ribbon dance and three spotlight numbers with pretty lighting effect.

You'll be thrilled with the easy manner in which it is made.

It will make an excellent Christmas gift.

The back, too, has perforations for deep V for evening wear. The upper and lower edge may be trimmed with lace.

Crepe de chine, crepe satin and flat crepe are popularly used.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Whenever you are out for tea and your hostess is a careful one, and sets the table daintily, you will notice the china and glassware are polished as well as the silver.

• • • • • • •

Unlike the silver, no polishing agent is needed for the china and glassware. It is the rubbing of well washed dishes until they shine that supplies the polish.

• • • • • • •

It will be seen that there is a difference between simply wiping dishes and drying them. When they are actually dried with a towel they get some polish, but it is the few extra rubs that makes them shine.

• • • • • • •

You know, yourself, that a table set with streaked dishes is not good to look upon. The careful homemaker will not set the table with streaked dishes.

• • • • • • •

It is important and necessary to have a table set temptingly as well as furnished with food that pleases the eye, while it nourishes the body.

• • • • • • •

There are several causes for streaked dishes. It is not that they are dirty, but that they have not been properly dried. Streaks are to be found on dishes allowed to dry from their own heat which makes the water evaporate quickly.

• • • • • • •

Unless the water is clear in which the dishes are rinsed, a suggestion of soap may cling to the surface and leave its line. The dish is not dirty, but it does not have the polish that lends attraction.

• • • • • • •

Dishes that are really dried will have a polish. Dishes that are wiped may or may not have the same lustrous surface. It all depends upon the person doing the work.

• • • • • • •

Many homemakers consider a dish ready to be put away that has been wiped, but not so thoroughly that it is dry. Then the bottom of the dish resting on another leaves its impression on the dish beneath.

• • • • • • •

It may even adhere enough to jar the one beneath when the top one is lifted off. Under dishes have been broken by one clinging to another in this way and then dropping back again.

• • • • • • •

So for reasons of prevention as well as good looks dishes should be thoroughly dried, not just carelessly wiped.

• • • • • • •

The busy housewife will find it simplifies housework to allow dishes to dry from their own steam. There is no wish to suggest that this is not practical. But the polishing of dishes dried with steam is essential if a table is to be attractive.

• • • • • • •

The polishing may be done when the dishes are taken from their shelves to be used, or just as they are put away after drying.

• • • • • • •

A few brisk rubs with a clean towel will, in either case, make the surface shine. This will not take nearly so long as to dry them by hand. If a towel is even slightly damp, it is ruined for polishing.

• • • • • • •

Dry friction is necessary. Linen is the finest for dish towels because of its high absorbency. White flannel or outing flannel is also used for polishing.

• • • • • • •

WEARING PYJAMAS AT DINNER PARTIES

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The season is fast approaching when society comes to the parting of the ways. Some go north and some go south.

Winter sports have developed to such an amazing extent in this country and abroad that mid-season collections devote considerable time and thought given to costuming them appropriately, or perhaps what is more to the point—smartly.

Schiaparelli made a feature of such costumes seemingly being intrigues with those for skiing. Interesting ski costumes were shown developed in navy gabardine with the top in bolero effect over a fancy tricot blouse ending in a draped tricot belt shown under the bolero. Both the bolero and the blouse may be taken off to reveal a dressy satin crepe blouse of pale color with neckline and long sleeves of black openwork tricot suggesting net.

Schiaparelli was one of the first of the haute couture to advocate pyjamas for sports—now there are pyjamas not only for sports but for dinner parties, the collection including one dressy pyjama with wide trousers of white georgette with top of silver pailettes suggesting the top of a bathing suit.

Other pyjamas pose plain tricot trousers over bathing suit of tricot in small patterns or monotone diagonal bands. One model is fashioned with a bolero and a yoke on the trousers and is developed in a string like widely open net effect in dark blue revealing a red bathing suit.

The introduction of sectional costumes for tennis and winter sports is interesting as is also the use of sequins in connection with pyjamas.

CORONETS ARE WORN WHEN HAIR IS LONG

Grey Wool Frocks Also Appear With Brilliant Trimmings.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(C.P.)—Well, coronets are back. Womanly as you please, they encircle the brow in coruscant splendor. Coronets look better if your hair is long, but any Parisienne who hasn't long hair is pinning a switch on to go with the coronet. Just the same, not every brow looks well with a diadem. And with spectacles they lose their effect, somehow.

A gray day can be very pleasant, especially if it is matched by one of the gray wool frocks now in evidence. Gray is a sort of compromise with the black-and-white vogue, and the catch about a gray frock is that it can be trimmed in as brilliant a color as you like in the matter of edgings on pockets and neck, and in the matter of bows on sleeves.

It's a toss-up whether the new lace is lace or braid. Much heavier than wool lace, it beautifies the cuffs and necks of tailored dresses, looking especially well in cream on a black gown. Though designated in many smart shops as lace, it really is braid; and plaited often like an old-fashioned braid of hair.

Young People Meet In Queensboro Hall

QUEENSBORO, Nov. 19. (Examiner Correspondence.)—The young people had a good attendance at their meeting on Friday evening. It was opened with a song service using 'Oh Canada" and 'Jesus Shall Reign". Prayer was offered by Albert Brown, of Vancouver. The scriptural lesson was read by Miss Ida McCaw and Mrs. J. E. Dixon of Belleville, gave a paper entitled, "Friends" in which a friend was defined as, One who knows all about us but loves us just the same. True friends overlook our faults as something not worth worrying over. Mr. Brown gave a very splendid talk on "The Paris Peace Pact."

BOLERO THEME

Whether negligee, dancing frock or morning suit, the bolero theme is a chic one for new styles to sing. It calls for a slender waistline, however, for no bolero that does not sway away from the body is smart.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

MASSAGE IS NOT EXERCISE.

Although I am a great believer in the benefits that can be obtained from massage, I cannot help but regret that so many people think of massage as a form of exercise, and that it will do them as much good as exercise proper.

Now what happens when you actually exercise by work or play? The muscles work, sugar is burned up in the muscles, carbon dioxide is manufactured which must be removed from the blood, and more oxygen is needed to replace oxygen used up by the exercise.

This means more work for heart, lungs, and blood vessels. The blood becomes more acid or less alkaline.

What happens when you are massaged?

There is practically no increase in the work done by heart or lungs, and only a slight increase in circulation, as there is no increase of acid in the blood.

Therefore, from the standpoint of muscular strength, massage is of little or no use.

What then is the purpose or benefit of massage? It has been definitely proven that massage dilates or opens up little blood vessels in the part massaged; increases the amount of oxygen in the red blood cells, and increases also the number of these cells, for an hour following its use.

Also by opening up the little vessels in the part massaged, any waste or broken down products are thus more readily removed.

You can understand that if massage were really exercise, it would hardly be good sense to vigorously massage an athlete after severe exertion, as you would thus only be increasing the poisonous waste-lactic acid — which causes tiredness or fatigue.

It is the actual removal of this lactic acid by massage that is of such great benefit.

My thought then is that massage is an excellent thing to help circulation in the part massaged, which can only be done by the help of the little nerves supplying the vessels. This may give a slightly stimulating effect to the brain, or a quieting effect which induces relaxation or rest.

For injuries to joints and muscles, massage is of wonderful help in removing products caused by injuries or by infection.

So think of massage as of great help to mankind, but don't let it take the place of active exercise.

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The 16 ounces thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

"King" Clancy Opens Scoring For Toronto Team—Horner Gets Final Counter.

QUAKERS TIE SENATORS.

MONTREAL, Nov. 19. — Working like Trojans in front of superb goal-tending by Lorne Chabot, the still undefeated Toronto Maple Leafs took their second victory of the young National Hockey League season last night by defeating Montreal Maroons 3 to 0. In three games Maroons have not scored a single goal.

The game was of the rough-and-tumble ragged variety, with the Leafs outplaying their opponents throughout, with the exception of a few minutes in the second period. The first goal, which really decided the issue, was fittingly enough scored by King Clancy, who deserved at least one tally on his night's performance. An awarded goal marred the last period when the referees ruled that Lionel Conacher had hurled his stick in front of a goalward puck. The last tally, by "Red" Horner, was a clean-cut affair when he caught the Maroons with no one on the defense in the last minute of the game.

Toronto's first two goal-thrusts were splendid affairs, bringing Walsh to his knees each time. The first was a rifling drive by Ace Bailey, and the second a blazing rush and good shot by King Clancy. The speedy visitors forced matters for the first few minutes although one of the Stewart-Hooley Smith drives looked dangerous. Both teams sent on their second lines. Horner and Trottier had a duel, several butt-ends being exchanged without a penalty being called. The locals survived an attack when two men short. Soon afterward Clancy and Day went off together, and it was the Leafs' turn to defend.

Chabot showed a touch of real brilliance on two quick shots from Smith and Siebert, which came before he could properly set himself. Toronto were skating rings around any of the many combinations Dunc Munro put on the ice. The Maroon manager was experimenting with his fifteen men, and had a different assortment in the game almost every minute.

Quakers Tie Ottawa

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19. — The Philadelphia Quakers staged a sensational third-period rally, scored two goals and thus earned a tie with the Ottawa Senators in a National Hockey League match at the Arena last night.

With the score 2 to 0 in favor of the Senators and more than half of the third period gone Gagne was sent to the penalty box. This gave the Quakers some life and finally Barton crashed through, captured a pass from Howe and scored. Two minutes later Starr was given a two-minute sentence and Jarvis scooped up a rebound to slap the puck into the net.

There was no scoring in the overtime period, although there were many close calls for the goal-tenders. The work of Connell in the net saved the day for the Senators.

To Operate Two Teams At Trenton This Season

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 19—Two teams, junior and intermediate, will represent Trenton Hockey Club this season; this decision being reached at a well-attended meeting of the fans and officers. Chambers, Fillon, Bohan, Bowen, Shensel and many others are available. At first Trenton was not going to enter the O.H.A., and Belleville was counting on using several of the players. The meeting endorsed the suggestion that Trenton teams be given western instead of eastern groupings.

LAKEFIELD TEAMS LOSE DECISIONS

Go Down to Defeat at Hands of Sugar Bowl and Harrisons in Softball Loop.

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 19 (Examiner Correspondence).—The local teams were out of luck on Friday night when both the Lakefield team and the Canada Cement team went down to defeat at the hands of the Sugar Bowl and Harrisons.

The Lakefield team was minus their energetic manager and catcher Paul Payne, and the consequent shifting of positions perhaps militated against their victory. The Sugar Bowl played an excellent game and once more Forsyth starred with eleven strike outs. Nicholls made three of the Sugar Bowl's seven runs while Lancaster got two out of three for the locals. Clare Chittick at the plate and Curly Northey at bases looked after the game in satisfactory manner.

The line up was as follows:

Sugar Bowl—Forsyth, p; W. Mahood, c; Maudsley, 1b; Gillespie, 2b; Hardill, 3b; Nicholls, ss; B. Mahood, ss; McWilliams, f; Simmons, f.

Score by innings:

Lakefield	0100101—3
Sugar Bowl	301021x—7

The second game was very closely contested and kept the fans busy till the very end. It was the closest shave the all conquering Harrisons have had in the league. Both teams were on their toes and played a remarkably good game. Frank Payne officiated at the plate and Clare Chittick at bases.

The following is the line up:

LONDON, BUFFALO AND WINDSOR WIN IN INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

Game's Only Goal Wins For London When Goldsworthy Tallies in Overtime.

BISONS BLANK SYRACUSE.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 19.—(CP)—Although very much in the minority Canadian teams in the International Hockey League give early season promise of developing into the class of the seven clubs performing in the King circuit.

Last night, three matches were played and both London Tecumsehs and Windsor Bulldogs vanquished strong opponents. The Forest City team kept right behind Buffalo in the standing by scoring a spectacular one to nothing overtime victory over Cleveland Indians, last season's champions, while the Border City team trounced Detroit Olympics, three to two. In the third game the Bisons maintained their winning streak by blanking the Syracuse Stars, two to nothing.

Manager Roy Brothers of the Tecumsehs has denied his club is making efforts to induce Gordie Brydson, clever forward to return to the fold. He could have been used last night in the gruelling struggle against the Indians. By a coincidence it was Leo Goldsworthy, secured by Brothers from New York Rangers to take Brydson's place, who scored the winning goal after seven minutes had elapsed in the extra session. Leo Grosvenor, smart center ice player from Ottawa, fed Goldworthy the pass.

While the Olympics scored the first goal in the game against Windsor the Bulldogs were not dismayed and hammered three tallies past the Motor City goalkeeper before the losers replied with their second marker.

Earl Robinson and Frank Duncan proved a dangerous offensive duet for the Bulldogs. The latter tied the score in the first period on Robinson's pass after Harry Newman had put the Olympics in front. In the middle frame Robinson put his team in the lead when Duncan reciprocated by feeding him a perfect pass. Bill Phillips, former Vancouver star, and like Robinson and Northcott, farmed out to Windsor, put the Bulldogs well in the lead when he scored unassisted near the end of the game. Only a few seconds remained when Detroit notched its second goal, Gillies beating Clint Benedict on a pass from Steele.

Stubborn Battle

Syracuse put up a stubborn battle against Buffalo but failed to solve the powerful Bison defence and lost any chance for victory by attempting individual rushes past Gamey Lederman and Red Murray, which proved easy for the hard hitting Bison defence pair to stop.

Babe Bogardis opened the scoring in the first period on a pass from Sammy Godin in the first frame. Rolly Huard notched Buffalo's second goal half-way through the second session to put the game beyond doubt. It was the third straight victory for the winners who are one point ahead of London in the standing.

Tonight the Stars entertain the Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets in a sort of reunion of exiles. The stars are players of last year's Hamilton club, while the Yellow Jackets are a mixture of last season's Niagara Falls and Toronto Millionaire teams. Both teams have played two games and lost them. So they will start the game on an equal basis.

SETS WATER RECORD

The 16-year-old swimming star of the Dolphinet Club, Toronto, Miss Irene Pirie, added another record to her long string, when she established a new 220-yard Canadian record at the Ontario swimming championships at Hamilton, Ontario. Miss Pirie's new mark is 2.52 3-5, clipping more than eight seconds from the old mark. Other Canadian records held by this young girl range all the way from the 100 yards, 200 yards, 220 yards, 300 yards, 400 yards, 500 yards, and the half mile.

Jones Will Be Back, Thinks MacFarlane

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Willie MacFarlane, the tall, slender professional, who once gave Bobby Jones one of the most surprising beatings of his golfing career, thinks the chunky master of the links will be back in action within three or four years.

"Bobby will be back" he said discussing the retirement of the Atlantic wizard. "He loves competitive golf too well to stay on the sidelines. He'll see one open championship and then he'll race to the clubhouse for his bag and his shoes. It'll be the old fire-horse hearing the bells again."

TIGERS WEAK FOR TANGLE WITH QUEEN'S

SCRIMMAGE FOR QUEEN'S.

Tri-color Champions to be at Full Strength For Play-off Game.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 19 (C.P.) — While Hamilton Tigers, Big Four champions, were still nursing injuries suffered in the game against Toronto Argonauts last Saturday, Queen's University, Intercollegiate titleholders, held a brisk workout at the Kingston Stadium in preparation for the Eastern Canadian semi-final football game at Toronto against the weakened Tigers.

According to latest reports from the Jungle camp, Brian Timmis, one of the chief cogs of the wing line, will not be in condition to play against the Tricolor. Then, to make matters worse from a Tiger viewpoint, Ernie Cox, veteran snap, is a doubtful starter, owing to his injured knee.

Coach Mike Rodden has ordered his team out for practice to-day and will likely decide on his starting line-up. It is understood Bert Gibb, husky half-back, may be moved up to the front line, where he has played before; and Tom Chapple, substitute inside wing, will likely be given a regular berth at middle.

Queen's are all in fine shape for the big game and expect to make a better showing against the rampaging Tigers than they did last year. Their line does not appear quite as formidable as the Hamilton steam roller, but on the half-line the Tricolor has a big edge as the Tigers have no one in the same class with Howard Carter as a punter.

GOALIES GOOD IN NO SCORE GAME

PLAY SPEEDY HOCKEY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—New Yorks two National Hockey League teams, the Rangers and the Americans, failed to reach a decision in their first intra-city struggle of the year last night, winding up 70 minutes of fast rough-and-tumble hockey in a goalless tie.

The game was as even as the score from start to finish, as both teams played at top speed and neither gave the other an opening good enough to produce a goal. The two goalers, Roy Worters of the Americans and John Roach of the Rangers, stood out, as they saved brilliantly every time an opponent got through with a hurried shot and their defence always were on hand to clear the puck and prevent a follow-up. The Americans had a slight advantage in the first two periods, due largely to Ranger penalties, but the Blue Shirts even it up in the third frame.

PLAYING GOOD HOCKEY

"BABE" BOGARDIS

CANADIENS FALL BEFORE BRUINS

Play is Fast as Play-off Rivals Meet on Hub City Ice.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 19.—Some of the prestige that the Boston Bruins lost last season when Montreal Canadiens stripped them of the Stanley Cup was regained here last night when they turned savagely on the flying Frenchmen and smashed out a 5—2 victory.

The game, a fast and thrilling hockey exhibition, was deadlocked until the Bruins started their furious drive in the final period. Boston opened the scoring early in the fray, when Clapper tallied on Weiland's pass, but Howie Morenz squared matters by speeding through the entire Boston outfit, and, firing the puck into Tiny Thompson's cage, unassisted. After a goalless second session, Gainor, Weiland, Chapman and Barry caged the puck in rapid order, and Canadiens scored their second tally just before the game ended, when Johnny Gagnon, graduate of last year's Providence Club of the Canadian-American League, poked a doublet pass from Morenz to Mondou, through the Boston goaler's pads.

The teams started at a fast pace and the first-string sets of forwards were deadlocked as they belted at each other's cages. Clapper broke through the Montreal defense pair, took a perfect pass from Cooney Weiland and belted the puck into Hainsworth's cage for the opening tally.

Lateness of Season Fails To Halt Lindsay Bowlers

LINDSAY, Nov. 19.—Lawn bowling in November, and under ideal weather conditions was the experience of six local bowlers Saturday night last. These enthusiasts played an interesting game on the private greens of Harry Norton. The players were: O. Oulbert, W. J. Mullen and W. J. Ferguson v. H. Norton, Charles Bell and D. J. McLean.

Each player used two pairs of bowls and 24 ends were played, and in the final count only two points separated the two rinks. The greens were perfect, the bowling was excellent, and the games were much enjoyed.

Our Boarding House . . . . . By Ahern

William "Bill" Sturm, speed impressario extraordinary, after a tour of Ontario, lauded the highways of the Province, and stated that the O.H.L. road signs are, in his opinion, superior to the road signs in the States. He denounced what he termed "antiquated speed laws." Mr. Sturm evidently is not aware that the Hon. George S. Henry, Minister of Highways for Ontario, has already stated that the time is not distant when Ontario will emulate the example of Great Britain in supplanting its rural speed limit with a more rational provision requiring speed to be reasonable and proper with regard to the circumstances.

CUP CONTENDERS MADE PUBLIC

Golf Wizards Name Headed List of Likely Amateur Athletes.

HUGE ENDOWMENT OFFERED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Bobby Jones' virtual retirement from competitive golf to make a series of golf motion pictures might deprive him of the honor of being chosen as America's greatest amateur athlete.

The name of the Atlanta golf wizard led all the rest yesterday when the list of 10 star athletes still in the running for the James E. Sullivan Memorial Trophy was made public at the final session of the Amateur Athletic Union convention here. The first winner of the trophy—to be awarded annually to the athlete adjudged the outstanding amateur competitor—is to be selected before Dec. 1 by a tribunal of more than 600.

In making the list public, Gustavus T. Kirby of New York, former president of the A.A.U. stated that in the opinion of the Union's Memorial Trophy committee Jones had eliminated himself from further considerations through his retirement announcement.

Those Still Eligible

Kirby listed the nine others still in the running as follows: Clarence Demar, veteran Boston marathon runner; Helene Madison, Seattle swimmer, Helen Wills Moody, tennis champion; Barney Berlinger, University of Pennsylvania track star; Stella Walsh, Cleveland sprinter; Ray Ruddy, swimmer; Thomas Hitchcock, polo player; Harow Rothert, Stanford football and track athlete, and George Simpson, Ohio State sprinter.

More than 165 athletes originally had been nominated for the honor, Kirby said. The 600-odd judges included close followers of amateur sports in all sections of the country.

The A.A.U. closed its three-day session last night after selecting Miami Beach, Fla., as next year's convention city and re-electing Avery Brundage of Chicago to his third term as president. Brundage, a former Olympic athlete, was chosen, 90 to 43, over Major Patrick F. Walsh, of New York. Walsh was named first vice-president.

Other officers elected were: T. Morris Dunne, Portland, Ore., second vice-president; Dr. Howard A. Bruce, Schenectady, N.Y., third vice-president; Ben Giffen, Pittsburg, fourth vice-president; and Daniel J. Ferris, New York, secretary-treasurer.

Huge Endowment Offered

To-day it was announced by Brundage that the A.A.U. has been offered a $2,000,000 endowment for its work by a nationally known sports devotee who prefers to remain anonymous. Early acceptance of the offer, which would provide the organization with an annual income of between $90,000 and $100,000, was expected. At present the Union's annual budget does not exceed $30,000, Brundage said.

The only stipulation made by the unnamed donor, a wealthy easterner, was that he be allowed to select three of the committee of five A.A.U. members who would invest and disburse the funds.

Amateur Situation Is Without Leader; No Successor In Sight For Bobby Jones

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The retirement of Bobby Jones leaves the range of amateur golf sadly depleted, for it comes just at a time, when the old order is changing, yielding place to new. Many of the famous amateurs who were driven from the spotlight during the Jones dynasty already were withdrawing from competition, and the youngsters who are coming along to fill their places are not quite ripe for top-flight championship play.

Of the ranking amateurs in the United States, named by the United States Golf Association in seeding the draw for the 1930 championship, three have retired and lost their amateur standing, and three others are finding the pressure of business too great to permit constant tournament competition.

Together with Jones, George Von Elm and Johnny Goodman have surrendered their amateur status. Francis Ouimet, former open and amateur titleholder, who once fell under the U. S. G. A. ban himself, is seriously occupied with his stock exchange job in Boston, as is Jess Sweetser, another ex-champion, in New York City. Sweetzer, incidentally, is making $100,000 a year from his business. Jimmy Johnston, a third ex-amateur titlist, is busy in the grain brokerage trade, and his golf has fallen off as a result.

While a number of other ex-champions showed up at Marion for the amateur championship, it was evident from their play that they are not taking their golf too seriously these days. This leaves only George Voigt, the New Yorker whose own amateur status has been under fire from time to time, and "Doc" Willing, of Portland, among the seeded players of the 1930 championship available for the next contest for the title at Beverly Country Club next Fall. It is probable that these two are now the outstanding contenders for the throne vacated yesterday by King Robert.

NOTRE DAME TANGLE PROMISES FEATURE TILT IN U. S. FOOTBALL

Both Teams Undefeated and Untied and Championship Hangs in Balance.

CONFERENCE COMMENT.

NEW YORK, November 19. — If you are one of those cynical souls to whom tradition is just another nine-letter word meaning custom, then Saturday's football program calls for but one really big game—the Notre Dame-North-Western fracas out in Evanston.

If, on the other hand, you prefer football scented by memories and reminiscences of the time you sneaked over to the Dalrymple Campus in the dead of night and painted a scarlet "S" (for Siwash) on the enemy's law school, then you will be interested in the Harvard-Yale contest, or Kansas-Missouri, Lafayette-Lehigh, Michigan-Chicago, and Stanford-California.

These games involve teams who have been playing one another since Bull Run. Their past records don't mean a thing. The boys get to reading faded and yellow clippings from scrap books before game time, and go out there on the grass all hopped up with tradition and ready to play miles above their heads. Princeton showed what spirit will do by holding Yale to a 10 to 7 win. Harvard is likely to show the same thing against a powerful Yale club, and so on down the line.

Championship in Balance.

The Notre Dame-North-Western affair holds the centre of the stage on Saturday simply because a national championship will be hanging in the balance. Both teams are undefeated and untied, and both teams will be ready to shoot the works. You can take your choice. If in doubt, name Notre Dame. The remainder of the schedule is nothing to call up mother about.

The South, for the first time this season, fails to offer a single noteworthy attraction. Of course, if you are interested in Auburn's attempt to come back you might properly call the Auburn-Vanderbilt tiff a high light, but we doubt it. The South will blossom again on Thanksgiving, however, when all the leaders get into action.

Outside the California - Stanford game, the Far West offers nothing more enticing than Montana versus Idaho and Oregan State versus California (L.A.).

The East, in addition to the traditional games mentioned, has Fordham v. Bucknell, N.Y.U. v. Rutgers, and Navy v. Maryland. If any of this group excites your pulse a chess game would kill you.

Purdue meets Indiana, Detroit faces Michigan State, and Nebraska takes on Iowa in the Midwest. 'Way down in Texas, Rice and S.M.U. clash in that section's headline act.

P.H.C. To Practice In Oshawa Saturday

The Peterborough Hockey Club's Intermediate and Junior squads will take to the ice for the first time on Saturday evening at the Oshawa artificial ice arena. The club executive could secure only the hour between 6 and 7 o'clock on Saturday for the initial workout.

It is expected that a large number of players will make the trip. Cars, conveying the players, will leave Lebarr's store at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

At the Theatres

AT THE REGENT

RONALD COLMAN IN "RAFFLES"

The Amateur Cracksman who has fascinated readers by the daring of his exploits comes to the porous screen, in a picture from United Artists' studios. "Raffles" is the gentleman crook who foiled Scotland Yard so long and so successfully in a series of stories written by E. W. Hornung. Ronald Colman in the title role is as engaging as ever, and his admirers will be pleased t learn that they can see him at the Regent for four days this week, the picture continuing until Friday night, inclusive.

Filmed in London, England, with a real London "particular" fogging the picture at its opening and its ending the atmosphere follows out the traditional ideas of English life. Raffles is a master cricketer whose means of livelihood comes from his nocturnal adventures in thievery. He gets away with it at all times, although Inspector Mackenzie of Scotland Yard gives him a run. The part of this likeable inspector with the rolling 'rs' is taken by David Torrence, the old warlock of the "Covered Wagon" and other pictures. Kay Francis, who has many admirers, although this reviewer is not numbered among them, is as stunning as ever in the role of Raffles' financee, the undulating Gwen. And then there is Lady Melrose, with her diamond necklace that proves a magnet for other thieves as well as Raffles.

Hornung, the author of this likeable tale, was a brother-in-law of the late Conan Doyle and was a great English patriot, very intolerant towards pacifists. His son, a second lieutenant, was killed in France during the early days of the Great War. Being too old for active service himself, he went over to France with the Y.M.C.A and gave out coffee in the ruins at Arras to the Tommies, sleeping with them in their dugouts. He died a short time after the war ended.

With the feature picture at the Regent, is a comedy that is chuck full of errors that keep the amusement line high. There is an intriguing small bit showing the gift to Mayor Curley of Boston (and illustrating, by the way, his very nice Bostonese accent) of a little baby kangaroo, a present from Mayor Houde of Montreal.

IN POLICE COURT

"I don't know whether I am or not. I don't remember anything about it" stated a Lindsay man this morning when asked by Magistrate Langley in police court if he were guilty of being intoxicated last night on Charlotte street. Later the man concluded that if he couldn't recall the incident he must have been drunk, so he pleaded guilty and was fined the usual $10.

The charge against a local man of supplying liquor to a minor was withdrawn. The man had been remanded in jail on the charge for more than a week, to allow police time to secure a material witness.

O.H.A. Entries Close On November 29th

Judging by the number of entries received for the different series the O.H.A. executive committee when it holds its first meeting of the year on November 28, will be called upon to group almost as many teams as last season. Clubs are reminded that entries to the senior A, senior B, intermediate and junior series close a week from to-day, Wednesday, Nov. 26 and no team will be admitted after that date. One hundred and ninety-three teams played in the O.H.A. during the season of 1929-1930.

MONTREAL "REDS" FAIL TO TALLY SINGLE GOAL SO FAR THIS SEASON

Munro's Erstwhile "Mighty Maroon Machine" Fails to Function Against Leafs.

CLANCY LEADS RUSH.

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 19 (C.P.)—Montreal Maroons, playing their first game on home ice and their third game in the current National Hockey League season, took their third straight beating last night when Toronto Maple Leafs maintained their winning streak with a three to nothing victory. Dunc. Munro's erstwhile "Mighty Maroon Machine" again failed to function and in three games they have failed to score a single goal.

Some nine thousand loyal Maroon rooters watched their favorites struggle in vain against the strengthened Toronto team, swarming into the enemy territory in futile efforts to turn the tide of battle. To add to their discomfort Maroons gave away the second goal when Lionel Conacher was convicted of throwing his stick at his brother Charlie, who was credited with a tally for Toronto.

The former strong scoring combination of Hooley Smith and Nels. Stewart could not function, nor could Trottier, Siebert, Ward and Gallagher get started in their old time form. When they did get into action with what looked like real threats, Chabot, Leaf's stonewall goalie, took care of everything that got past the defence. Hooley Smith and Gallagher worked hardest for Maroons, but the only member of the team that seemed to have his regular form was "Flat" Walsh, who saved his mates from a more complete deluge.

King Clancy, a recent acquisition by the Leafs from Ottawa, was a tower of strength on the Toronto defence, and it was his rush down the ice late in the second period, that brought the first score. He carried the puck down and passed to Jackson. Walsh stopped Jackson's shot but Clancy was there for the rebound and had it in the net before Walsh could recover. Maroons attacked with redoubled fury, but the rest of the period was scoreless. The attack was renewed when the third opened, but Leafs carefully guarded their lead.

The second tally came when Charlie Connacher plunged down to score. His brother, Lionel, on Maroon defence, in a wild effort to check, flung himself down flat on the ice, his stick reaching out. The stick left his hands and knocked the puck away from the Leaf player, but Referee Corbeau awarded Charlie a goal.

"Red" Horner added the third goal with a pretty rush away from the swarming Maroons around the Leaf citadel in the dying minutes of the game. His fast shot went through Flat Walsh's hands as the Maroon goalie grasped at it.

Germany Forms Pro. Soccer-football Loop

BERLIN, Germany, Nov. 19.—Germany's professional football union has been established at Cologne with about half a dozen West German teams.

Steps will be taken to establish relations with the professional unions in other countries.

It is expected that professional football will now make rapid strides in Germany and the first advertisements have already appeared in Berlin for first class players for a Berlin team.

In West Germany 20 teams are expected to join the new union. Only the manager will be a paid official.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS HEAR TORONTO PASTOR AT MILLBROOK

Rev. J. T. Sanderson Speaks at Anniversary Services of Grace Presbyterian Church.

SPECIAL MUSIC.

MILLBROOK, Nov. 19—(Examiner Correspondent)—Rev. J. T. Sanderson, B.D., of Bewley church, Toronto, was the special preacher at the anniversary services of Grace Presbyterian church held in Sunday, November 16, morning and evening with congregations that filled the auditorium to capacity, particularly at evening service when it was difficult to provide seating accommodation for the large gathering.

The combined choirs of the Central Presbyterian Church and of Grace church, Millbrook, numbering approximately thirty voices, under the leadership of Mr. W. McKee Bingham, had prepared special musical for the occasion and rendered appropriately the anthems, "Praise Ye the Father" (Gounod) and "What Are These" (Stainer) the one at morning and the other at evening service; a quartette "Lead Kindly Light", sung by request by Miss Alice Berry, Mrs. W. McKee Bingham and Messrs G. Berry and W. Bradshaw, preceding the sermon at night; while Mrs. Bingham's solo, which greatly delighted the congregations, were "Eye Hath Not Seen" and "The Holy City".

Church Decorated

Floral decorations of golden and mauve 'mums, centred with a large poinsettia, placed within the altar railing, were very beautiful. The young manhood of the church was represented in the ushers for the day, those serving at evening worship being, Gordon Armstrong, Joe Thompson, Keith Larmer and George McKnight.

The markedly spiritual atmosphere, which was an outstanding feature of the day's service, developed as the result of the finely-thought out sermon delivered by Rev. J. T. Sanderson, whose subjects were simply and definitely stated, the material being replete with instruction, and pressed urgently upon the minds and conscience of his hearers.

In the evening Rev. Mr. Sanderson chose the quite unusual text found in Proverbs 12:27: "The slothful man roasteth not that which he took in hunting," and after a brief comment on the twenty-fourth verse where the diligent man is commended, he went on to express the opinion that a great deal of the present unemployment is the result of slothfulness and deceit—"the man who watches the clock, who will only do what he is paid for, who will not go to the second mile which is a matter of courtesy, love and self-sacrifice, while the first mile is trod because it is obligatory, will never become necessary or important, or reach high status. A lazy man will always find excuse for his laziness, but I believe such are abhorrent even to God."

Mentioning personal knowledge of men who have gone fishing and were too busy to clean the catch; or hunting and too indolent to bring out the game, taking only the head or the antlers a trophy of the chase; the speaker urged this lesson, "He who is an honest hunter roasts his game; there is some trophy of the chase lying on almost every doorstep but we fail to roast what we have gained in hunting. We are all better at taking than giving."

Good Literature.

Eulogizing the benefits of good literature, music, art, and the responsibility of the franchise, as certain facilities we have received from God," the minister pressed home the question, "Are we really roasting them? Do we really see, hear, execute, use? Do we roast what we taken in hunting?"

The 'roasting' was carried also into the realm of the tongue, given for communion of thought, hence the joy of being not only a good conversationalist but also an appreciative listener; 'taking in what we hear and roasting it'; the value of friendship with special remembrance at the approaching Christmas season of the old friends; the preservation of our homes as a christian duty; the interests of our national life studied that we may have an intelligent understanding of its problems. But above all the gain in spiritual matters was overlooked. "Why do we not hunt with the zest we used to possess? Some unseen weakness within is holding us back in spiritual growth and accomplishment."

"The Church today requires men who will say, like nehemiah: 'So did not I because I fear God' who will heed the Master's admonition, 'Watch and Pray'; the only ones who will hear the words which mean the greatest degree any university can confer, 'Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of Thy Lord'."

As a closing thought the speaker urged, "We can do anything we really want to do in the chase, but to appreciate the spoils we must develop an appetite." And as a special word to Presbyterians, with earnest assurance that he had no wish to offend any in the congregation, Mr. Sanderson spoke of the fine spirit of enthusiasm which had marked the Presbyterian church in Canada in 1925, "which if it had kept up would have made us strongest in virility, according to our numbers, of any denomination in the Dominion. Let us capture again that zeal with which we sang, "Faith of Our Fathers', and avoiding any spirit of narrow sectarianism, but with a broad catholicity of outlook may we, by God's help, light such a fire in Canada in these latter days as nothing may put out. Consecration, inspiration, and contribution and communion, will accomplish this."

Growth in Christian character, the minister concluded with deep emphasis, comes only by means of service well done, "or we shall be doomed to the position of the slothful man, who did not roast what he took in hunting."

MANGLED BODY IDENTIFIED

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Nov. 18 (C.P.)—The mangled body of a man found in the Canadian National Railway tracks a mile east of St. Catharines early Sunday morning was identified last night as that of Isaac Powles, 38, of South township. He was a lifelong resident of Ontario and had served overseas. A widow and five children survive.

A BEDTIME STORY

by Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S BIG NOISE.

"Ho! Ho! Ho!" Uncle Wiggily," grunted fat Mr. Twistytail, the pig gentleman, with a laugh as he leaned against the fence in the rabbit's back yard. "That's a funny sign to put up."

"It's a sign I put up to keep the Bad Chaps out," explained Mr. Longears who was raking a lot of dried leaves into a pile.

"Keep the Bad Chaps out? Why that sign will never do it in the world!" grunted the fat pig. "Why, look here, Uncle Wiggily, you are asking them to come in."

Mr Longears was raking leaves.

Surely enough a sign, painted in red on a piece of white birch bark, and stuck on a stake in the bunny's back yard said that very thing. For the sign read:

WELCOME. COME IN AND HAVE A CUP OF TEA.

"How do you expect that will keep the Bad Chaps OUT when you ask them to come IN?" asked Mr. Twistytail. "And what's it all about, anyhow?"

"Well, it's like this," said Mr. Longears, raking more dried leaves into a big pile. "You see the Bad Chaps have been prowling around my back yard the last few nights. Nurse Jane saw their pawmarks in the old garden, and so did I. So I put up a sign telling them to keep out, for I don't like the Fox, the Wolf and the Bob Cat slinking around my bungalow at night."

"I wouldn't either," squealed Mr. Twistytail. "You say they still came after you put up a sign telling them not to?"

"Indeeed they did, and I wrote PLEASE on the first sign, too," said Mr. Longears. "So now I have put up this sign telling them to come in."

Uncle Wiggily didn't tell Mr. Twistytail, for the rabbit gentleman didn't know it himself, but when the bunny was painting the last red sign, the Bob Cat was hiding in the bushes watching. And when Uncle Wiggily flipped the paint brush he splattered some red paint on the Bob Cat's nose.

Then the Bad Chap slunk away to tell the Wolf and Fuzzy Fox, as well as his cousin Red Fox, about the funny sign near the hollow stump bungalow.

"But still I don't see," grunted the fat pig, "why, if you want the Bad Chaps to keep out, you should put up a sign telling them to come in and have a cup of tea. Why did you do it?"

"Sush! Listen! It's all a trick!" whispered Uncle Wiggily as he raked more dried leaves into the pile. "What I think is that when the Bad Chaps find I am inviting them to call they will think I am going to try and catch them in a trap, or something, so they will stay out. You know, sometimes, if you tell a little boy or girl to do something, they just won't do it. And if you tell them NOT to do something they WILL."

"I know—contrary like," murmured Mr. Twistytail.

"That's it!" chuckled Uncle Wiggily. "Well, in some ways the Bad Chaps are like children. I told them to KEEP OUT of my yard and they CAME IN. Now I am telling them to COME IN—"

"Ha! Ha! I see. Maybe they will KEEP OUT!" chuckled Mr. Twistytail. "But suppose, Wiggy, they do come in? Then what?"

"Then," whispered the bunny gentleman, "I am going to make a BIG NOISE and scare them so that ever after when they see my sign inviting them to come in, they will keep out."

"A big noise? How?" asked the pig.

"With this." Uncle Wiggily held up a big, red toy balloon, with a long rubber tube fast to it. "I'm going to hide this balloon in my pile of leaves," whispered the rabbit. "I'll have it partly blown up, and I'll take the long rubber tube with me inside my bungalow. I will watch through a window. When the Bad Chaps come in my yard and are near the pile of leaves, all of a sudden I'll blow up the balloon as big as anything. I'll blow until it bursts and the Bad Chaps will think they're shot and away they'll run."

"That's fine a trick!" said the fat pig. "Let me see you play it."

The balloon was carefully hidden under the pile of dried leaves, and more leaves, raked around so they covered the long, rubber tube which Uncle Wiggily carried into the house, fastening the end in his kitchen. By this time it was night and he and Mr. Twistytail sat in the dark waiting to see what would happen.

Soon the moon came up and made plain the funny, red sign which invited the Bad Chaps in to have a cup of tea.

"Do you think they'll come so you can scare them with the big noise?" asked Mr. Twistytail.

"I think so. Some one is coming now," answered the rabbit. "Sush!"

Palpitation Of The Heart Nerves Were All Gone

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Price 50c a box

Miss Rose Griffin, Ashern, Man., writes:—"About five years ago I was troubled with palpitation of the heart, caused by a shock, and my nerves were all gone, and I could not sleep. I read about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and decided to try them. After I had taken three boxes I was feeling fine again. I think they are a wonderful remedy, and wish all others who suffered as I did would give them a trial."

Sold at all drug and general stores, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

THIS NATURAL LAXATIVE CEREAL

WHEN children are fretful or irritable the real cause is often constipation. To try to correct this with harsh purgatives may injure the child's system and make the little one seem more irritable.

It is safer to use nature's own method. It is gentle. It is efficacious. Just add Quaker natural Bran to the child's daily diet. Sprinkle it over other cereals; serve bran muffins made plain or with raisins, or use the other recipes given in every package.

Both children and grown-ups like bran served in these appetizing ways. And what wonders it works! Cheeks glow, eyes sparkle, new vigor comes to young and old alike. That is because Quaker Bran is a natural bran, uncooked and sterilized, recommended by physicians as the best laxative cereal. Made of soft Ontario winter wheat, it does not irritate.

BRAN MUFFINS

2 cups Quaker Flour, 2 cups Quaker natural Bran, 1 cup Sugar, 2 tablespoons Molasses, 1 teaspoon Baking Soda, 1 cup Seeded Raisins, 1 Egg, 1 teaspoon Salt, 2 tablespoons Shortening, 1½ cups Sour Milk. (Sweet milk may be used if 3 teaspoons of Baking Powder are used in place of the Soda.)

METHOD—Mix shortening thoroughly with molasses and sugar. Add egg well beaten, then milk, salt, flour, bran, soda, and floured raisins. Bake in well greased muffin tins in a hot oven 10 to 15 minutes.

QUAKER natural BRAN

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

PARTY VISITED ONTARIO SCHOOL

Interesting Tour Made Through Institution For Deaf at Belleville.

LARGE ENROLMENT.

IVANHOE, Nov. 19. (Examiner Correspondence)—A party of fourteen, consisting of the teachers, trustees and some friends of the Ivanhoe and White Lake school sections of Hasting's County, were privileged through the courtesy of Charles B. McGuire, the bursar and H. B. Fetterly, M.A., the principal to spend a day in the Ontario School for the deaf, which is situated in Belleville.

In this interesting institution there is a staff of thirty teachers besides supervising teachers and officers, and an enrolment at present of 302 pupils.

The object of this province in founding and maintaining this school is to afford educational advantages to the youth of the province between the ages of 7 and 20 years, who are on account of either partial or total deafness to receive instruction in the common schools.

Beginning with the junior grades, the party watched with interest the methods used to teach these children the art of lip reading and finally speech. It was indeed marvelous the results obtained. Through the sympathetic work of the teachers and co-operative of the pupils the seemingly impossible was attained, that children deaf and previously of necessity dumb, could be taught to speak so that they might be understood by all present.

Not only this, but a demonstration was given of how it was impossible, through the service of touch to give these children a knowledge of music and rhythm. By placing their finger tips upon a table they could readily distinguish between high and low chords from the piano, and provided with different musical instruments form an orchestra, they played together and also performed drills and dances, keeping perfect time with the piano.

Besides the regular school work these pupils are given vocational training. For the girls art household science, and sewing and for the boys, printing, carpentry and shoemaking. Added to this there is a splendid recreational life for all so that it is no wonder that these seemingly unfortunate children appear without exceptional to be healthy happy and contented and graduating are able to take their places beside these in possession of all their senses.

Those who were privileged to witness the work carried on in this school will not soon forget, the hospitality so freely extended to them or the wonderful results obtained through sympathy and painstaking effort in overcoming handicaps in the lives of so many unfortunate children.

FINE TRIBUTE IS PAID LOCAL UNIT

Colonel Hall has taken from me many of the things I had wished to say, but I can repeat that the N. C.O.'s are the backbone of the Regiment."

He was glad to see that the sergeants had undertaken to get social activities into the mess, and he assured them that such activities had the whole-hearted endorsement of the District Officer Commanding.

Colonel Park voiced his desire to make the battalion one of the finest units in the Dominion, but did not attempt to disguise the fact that it means a great deal of hard effort on the part of the present members. He further warned them that other units are equally as keen and that the Rangers must not rest on their laurels.

"The Militia in Canada is now on the move, and there is certainly some sort of spirit working through the Militia which is giving it such wonderful impetus," he said.

The Padre.

In a thoughtful address in which he paid tribute to the work of the Militia, which apart from its value in time of a national crisis, is a wonderful means of inculcating a spirit of patriotism and a keen sense of duty, Captain the Rev. Dr. R. C. Blagrave said there had been a strong tendency recently on the part of a certain group to refer to the Mother Country as a "Dominion"—as one of the Dominions in the British Empire. Although the speaker is a "Canuck of the second generation," as he termed himself, he was of the opinion that Canadians are not given to modesty and in proportion to their size are as great a country of boasters as Uncle Sam. This same group of people, he said, are prophesying that Canada shall become the centre of the Empire. "I cannot conceive of such a thing," he said, "and while I am proud that we have the dignity of being called a Dominion with the power of self-determination, I contend that we want to ever look up to the Mother Country as something more than a Dominion, and want the Mother Country to remain Great Britain always." (Applause.)

The reverend speaker also referred to the recent unfortunate blunder in which the MacDonald Government appeared as though they were lacking in several essentials. "The British people are not fools, and some of those statements which come across to us do not probably represent the true facts," he said in referring to recent statements concerning the British Government's alleged proposals to do away with wreaths on memorials.

A Half Truth.

He thought that the statement had told but half a truth and that if there was anything in it, that it probably referred to England's relations with the rest of the Continent of Europe. He was quite positive that no returned man and no citizen of this country wants to see the time when we shall cease to lay wreaths at the Cenotaph and Memorials—not for the reason that it will foster a warlike spirit, but as a tribute to those whom we wish should be revered and to pay them some debt of gratitude.

"Whatever the motive of the message which reached this country from overseas so shortly after Armistice anniversary, the speaker was certain that it was not the desire of Premier MacDonald and his Cabinet to forget—"and it never shall come to pass." he ejaculated.

Rev. Dr. Blagrave said it had given him great pleasure to hear the expressions of loyalty voiced by the gathering that night and ot hear of the great devotion to her country and to the Regiment of Mrs. Mill's. He was of the opinion that in these days people are inclined to belittle service and to speak of the uselessness of the Militia.

"Apart from the significance and value of preparing for war, the Militia is also a means of inculcating loyalty which is so well exemplified in a battalion, regiment, or unit, which is a great thing for anybody. He continued to speak of the great privilege of wearing the King's uniform, and of the service which the militiamen are rendering to their country.

Major J. Dewart, M.C., officer commanding No. 3 Company, C.M.G.C., in thanking the sergeants of the Rangers' Mess for their invitation, brought greetings from his unit, and assured the members of the Regiment that his unit is prepared and anxious to co-operate with them at all times.

REV. G. JOHNSON ATTENDS RALLY

among our young people, which possibly presents the greatest challenge of any branch of the home work.

"It should be stated that much work in the homeland is being done of a pioneer nature and many of the home workers right here in Ontario and Eastern Canada are sacrificing even many of the necessities of life for the promotion of this Four-fold Gospel ministry. In many cases they are receiving so little that one can hardly understand how they can possibly exist. The spirit of sacrifice is not only found on the mission field but in some cases is practiced to even a greater right in our homeland. Yet these workers are rejoicing and happy in their work for Christ. Among all the forces both home and foreign there are no modernists, but all are true to the Bible, God's Word.

"Although the year has been one of financial depression and economic stringency, yet there has been a marked advance in Missionary giving, and this has been true of three quarters of the churches throughout the United States and Canada. One new Canadian missionary has just been sent out to Borneo, Mr. Earnest Preswood, a resident of Toronto.

"The Conference had the rare privilege of having in their midst, Rev. William Christie, the Vice-President and Treasurer of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, who came as the deputation from the New York Board. Mr. Christie's messages were most inspiring and helpful. After many years of pioneer experience in the great land of Tibet in the heart of Asia, and after a more recent deputation to the mission fields of the Orient, Rev. Christie came well versed in missionary matters.

The following are some interesting facts of the Alliance missionary program, outlined by Mr. Johnson. The Gospel is now being preached in 64 different language groups and dialects in 22 mission fields. To disclose the fact that there has been no retrogression but on the contrary advancement, it can be reported that 17 of these language groups have been entered within the last two years and 44 in the last ten years. This is substantial proof that the death of the founder of this Society, Dr. A. B. Simpson, has in no wise hindered the work but has been a stimulant to push forward. Dr. Simpson never endeavored to attract men to himself, but rather to attach them to God, and God's program. This quite likely is the reason for the lasting effects of the work and also for the fact that the movement has suffered no division.

At present there is a force of 538 missionaries, 1138 native workers and out of this latter number 674 are supported by the native church exclusively. During the past five years there has been an increase in missionary funds per anum of 1½%.

The spirit of pioneer advance is ever present and for years has acted as an incentive to push forward. This Society is now responsible for the evangelization of 65 million or 5% of the heathen population. Along with this fact there are two others which are most important. Although the Society is responsible for 5% of the population, yet they are endeavoring to do this task on only 2% of work and on less than 1% of the funds contributed for missionary work. These facts prove a strict economy practiced in the Society and the minimum overhead. The result being that instead of retrenchment, as is so often the case these days, several new missionaries are sent out each year. At the present time there are six times as many candidates applying for foreign service than the Society is able to use and still perhaps the most severe requirements that can be found are being imposed upon applicants. God has wonderfully blest the movement and yearly thousands are being one for Christ all over the world.

Bethany Tabernacle, which is the local branch of the Christian and Missionary Alliance at Peterborough has had a real vital part in this program. Many workers have gone out from its midst and we expect this year to be able to send well over $2,000 for this work that is being blest of God.

THE RETURN OF TARZAN No. 57 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As they came nearer, the French officer saw a line of savage warriors, four of whom bore a burden on their shoulders. Before them walked a gigantic white man and a girl, clad in leopard skins. Now they suddenly stopped, and with amazement d'Arnot heard his own name called, as with outstretched hands, their leader ran toward him.

And then d'Arnot, scarcely believing his eyes, saw that the lithe, brown giant was Tarzan of the Apes! When they reached the camp, many seemingly strange things were quickly explained. Tears of joy streaming down his face, Jane's father enfolded his daughter in his arms. Black Esmeralda could hardly contain herself at the safe return of her "po' li'le honey."

All agreed that nobody but Tarzan could have accomplished this miraculous escape. They loaded the uncomfortable ape-man with praise and attentions until he almost wished himself back with his ape tribe. Great interest was shown in his savage Waziri, and many were the gifts the black men received from these friends of their King.

As yet the newcomers had seen nothing of Lord Tennington and "Thuran." "How surprised 'Thuran' or Rokoff, will be to see you," said Jane. "His surprise will be short-lived," said Tarzan grimly. Realizing his intention, she begged him not to wreak his vengeance upon the Russian, but to turn him over to the captain of the French war-ship.

Mrs. Richards of Whitby Addresses W.M.S. Meeting

The thankoffering meeting of the W.M.S. of St. Andrew's United Church was held Tuesday afternoon with a good attendance. Mrs. Ross Williamson sang "What Hast Thou Given Me?"

Mrs. Richards, Whitby, was the guest speaker, the subject being, "Missionary Work in Our Own Country," and stressed the importance of medical needs in the Western Provinces. Clothing bales received there it was learned, were exceedingly helpful and evidently much in need.

President Miss F. Dixon offered appreciative thanks for the speaker's enlightening information regarding mission work in the Far West.

A hymn, "O Spirit of the Living God," and a prayer given by Mrs. C. Edwards, brought the meeting to a close.

NO MAIL DELIVERY ON CHRISTMAS.

Mail carriers throughout Canada are going to enjoy Christmas Day this year. It is the first time in history that the "posties" will not be out in the snow delivering parcels on Christmas Day. The mail men will spend Christmas Day before the fire at home this year, because the order has gone out that there will be positively no delivery. So that slogan "Do your Christmas mailing early" carries a special warning this year.

TWO AUTOS COLLIDE

A motor accident occurred at the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets at 9 o'clock last night. Melville Staples 133 Kenneth avenue, was driving west on Charlotte and Theodore Gree, R.R. 6, Lindsay, was proceeding north on Aylmer street. The cars collided at the intersection, Staples' vehicle being turned completely around by the impact. Damage to both cars were less than $100.

FOREIGN WORKER SPEAK AT "Y.W."

Miss Palvo Molnarova of Czechoslovakia Will Be Guest of Local Association.

REGULAR MEETING.

The regular meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association was held Monday afternoon with the president Mrs. E. E. Harvey presiding, and also conducting the devotional exercises specially based on the Y.W.C.A. Week of World Fellowship and prayer. A collection for the World's gift was taken and an announcement made of the coming visit of Miss Palma Molnarova, a Y.W.C.A. secretary and prominent worker of Czecho-Slovakia who will be a guest of the Association this week and will speak at various meetings, including a tea for Board and Committee members and friends on Friday afternoon, the Local Council of Women on Thursday and the Kiwanis Club Friday noon, and a Rally meeting of C.G.I.T. Groups and Girl Guides and "Y" Members on Friday evening.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved by the secretary and the financial reports by the treasurer, showing a considerable deficit accumulated during the summer due to numerous repairs. The president spoke of the Financial Campaign and reminded the members to complete their lists as early as possible. The response to date has been very encouraging and it is hoped when all subscriptions are in the objective of $2000.00 will be reached, this being only 6 per cent of the Association budget.

Secretary's Report

The General Secretary's report included the numerous activities of the month which all pointed to a splendid season. The Senior and Junior Rallies early in the month had been well attended. Six clubs with an enrollment of 151 to date had been started. The Wohelo Club for Industrial and business girls, the Thursday Supper Club for Business girls, the Old Country club for newcomers to Canada, the Pollyanna club for school girls and the Ever Bright and Sunshine Clubs for little tots and Junior school girls. Each club has arranged a program based on the four-fold standard of the Association. Girls who had holidayed at Camp Inglestane enjoyed a happy reunion at the Association on October 10, the Junior members arranging to form a Junior Campers League to meet the first Wednesday of each month to work for camp. Educational classes to start during the month were the French Conversational class with Madame Walsh as teacher, and ten regular members enrolled. The St. John's Ambulance and Red Cross Home Nursing Courses with Miss Lois Stewart as Instructress and 19 enrolled and a class in elocution taken by Mrs. Hazel Davidson McClelland with 15 members. Classes planned to start this month include basketry, wood carving, bible study, junior cooking and junior story hour. The committee are also considering arrangements for English literature and current events.

The physical director reported for the gymnasium and swimming. Gymnasium classes opened October 6 with a splendid registration which has continued to grow all month, the total registration in 13 classes and 3 clubs being 330. The Hallowe'en parties for all Junior and Senior girls of the city had attracted many and been much enjoyed. Refreshments were served and small prizes awarded for the best costumes. In the swimming department pupils were prepared for life saving examinations and the closing exhibition. Eleven candidates passed successfully the Proficiency, Bronze and Award of Merit examinations, three children under eight years of age being the youngest in this city to have passed the proficiency test.

The residence superintendent reported most favorably on the residence. The usual quantity of fruit and pickles had been canned during the summer and fall and rooms redecorated and necessary repairs made. The residence was now filled to capacity with business girls and students. Many transients had also been accommodated.

The meeting closed with prayer after which tea was served.

MISSION CIRCLE THANK OFFERING

GOOD PROGRAM.

The thankoffering meeting of the X.L. Mission Circle of St. James' United Church was held last evening at the home of Mrs. W. Rose, Morrow street, when thirty-five members were present.

Miss Jessie Martin, the president, occupied the chair, and reversed the usual order of business, making a pleasant change.

"Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow" was the opening hymn, and was followed by prayer by the president. A poem, entitled "The Thousandth Psalm," was chosen as the Scripture lesson and was read by Miss Connie Wagar. The Lord's Prayer formed the basis of a responsive service, in which all took part.

Misses Betty and Doris Ferguson, two clever little pupils of Miss Aileen Rose, gave a piano duet which everyone enjoyed.

The closing chapter of the study-book for the year was given in a very interesting synopsis by Mrs. A. E. Moorhouse. This portion of the study dealt with the great Jerusalem world conference in 1928. Their chief message to the world was "Jesus Christ." This, coming from the representatives of so many nations, carries added weight. Prayer was also emphasized as the mightiest force in the world. So, in Jerusalem ends our study of world missions where they began so many years ago.

Miss Nina Andrus, secretary of Christian Stewardship, gave a short talk on this department, in which she endorsed systematic and proportionate giving as the most satisfactory method of raising funds.

Miss Andrus also read a message from the Circle leader, Mrs. Wagar, on the question of self-denial as practised by Circle members. She maintained that if the girls and women gave prayers, service and money as God has prospered them, no self-denial would be required.

The results to date of the daisy contest proved very satisfactory.

Miss Zetta Wood, mite-box secretary, had a busy half-hour counting the pennies brought in this way, which was also an encouraging item.

While the thankoffering was being received, the girls sang softly, "We Give Thee but Thine Own."

The benediction closed this part of a very successful program. The hostesses, Mrs. Rose, Miss Andrus and Mrs. Wagar, served refreshments and the girls enjoyed a social half-hour together.

FIRST PETERBOROUGH TROOP

The Scouts of the First Peterborough Troop held their weekly meeting Friday in St. John's Parish Hall. The Scout master was in charge.

After flag break the officers inspected the various patrols and found a practically full turn out in each group.

The boys were then sent to their patrol corners for "Patrol in Council" and instruction work.

Later in the evening Patrol Leader Millard took the boys in games which allowed them to give vent to their real spirits.

This period was followed by the campfire period. At this time the gathering heard about hikes which had taken place during the last week-end and discussed the idea of having one on Saturday.

The meting closed with the usual proceedure.

At the beginning of the evening Albert Hope was a very welcome visitor.

Troup Hike

On Saturday morning fifteen boys set out for the canal bank under the leadership of A.S.M. Turner. The boys headed for a point about three miles up the shore and followed signs left by an advance party.

The first thing the boys did on arriving at their destination was to prepare to eat. When the boys had finally eaten the Scotchman of the crowd was acclaimed the champion.

The boys then enjoyed games which are best played in the open. One popular game was "capture the flag". Alf. Pink was the only successful man to attack the flag.

Towards the end of the afternoon the A.S.M. and most of the boys set out for home, leaving behind them five boys with P.L. Victor Millard in charge who came in later.

RE-ORGANIZE WHEAT SELLING AGENCY

PREMIER BROWNLEE OF ALBERTA MAY RETIRE AND BE APPOINTED GENERAL MANAGER OF COMPANY

Hon. George Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture, Would Become Premier.

SALARY $18,000 A YEAR.

Three Governments Are Involved to Extent of $10-000,000 For Pool.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 20 (By the Canadian Press).—The Winnipeg Tribune to-day publishes a special despatch from its Ottawa correspondent asserting that there is to be an immediate re-organization of the central selling agency of the wheat pools, that Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Premier of Alberta, will be appointed general manager at a salary of $18,000 a year, and that he will be succeeded as head of the Alberta government by Hon. George Hoadley present Minister of Agriculture.

The Tribune correspondent also says:

"It is probable that the re-organization will involve voluntary liquidation proceedings on the part of the central selling agency, as distinct from the three prairie pools."

The despatch follows:

"Re-organization of the central selling agency, the body through which the three prairie pools market their grain, is a development which, it is learned on good authority, is anticipated within the next two weeks as a result of the wheat situation.

Premier Brownlee of Alberta will be the new head of the Central Selling Agency at a salary of approximately $18,000 per year. He will be succeeded in the Alberta Premiership by Hon. George Hoadley, present Minister of Agriculture. Details of this reorganization are understood to have been agreed to by the Prairie Premiers on their visit here earlier this week and to have been approved by the Dominion Government. Premier Brownlee, as the new head of the selling organization, is declared to be acceptable to the Prairie Provinces, the banking interests, and the Federal Government.

"The situation now is that the Saskatchewan Government is involved to the extent of $12,00,000 by the Wheat Pool losses on the 1929 crop guarantee, and Manitoba and Alberta jointly to the extent of another $8,000,000. As against its obligations on behalf of the Pool, there are some $17,000,000 worth of physical assets in Saskatchewan in the form of elevators and grain-handling equipment. It is expected that in order to protect itself, the Saskatchewan Government will step in and operate these for the benefit of the Pool farmers until the Pool is on its feet again."

DEATH PENALTY MAY BE BANNED

London Paper Claims Abolition To Be Experiment For Five Years.

COMMITTEE PROBING.

LONDON, Nov. 20 (C.P.) — The Labor organ, The Daily Herald, says the select committee of Parliament on Capital Punishment will recommend abolition of the death penalty for an experimental period of five years. Their report is expected around Christmas time. Meanwhile the Home Secretary will be empowered through a Parliamentary resolution to exercise his prerogative of mercy until legislation sanctioning the experiment has been passed, according to The Herald. The newspaper asserts that other recommendations will be that the penalty will continue to apply to women on the same terms as men, and that nobody under 21 may be sentenced to death.

Expect Bennett Home End Of Next Week

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 20. (By Thos. T. Champion, C. P. Staff Correspondent).—Premier R. B. Bennett, returning to London from Edinburgh to-day, told the Canadian Press he would return to Canada just as speedily as he could dispose of official business in France and Great Britain. He will leave for Paris at the end of this week and it is expected he will be returning to Canada about the end of next week.

The Canadian Premier declined to comment on the wheat situation in Canada. Anything he might say, he pointed out, might affect the interests of those most vitally concerned and so he must refrain from discussion at the present.

Lakehurst Citizen Bags Large Moose

Percy Hunt of Lakehurst is credited with the largest bull moose shot in the district this season. The spread of its antlers was four feet, and when it was hung up to a tree it measured fourteen feet from its heels to its nose. Mr. Hunt is said to have bagged the big fellow about 25 miles north of his home. There were twelve moose reported in that area, and his party got two of them.

HUNTER IS FOUND AFTER TWO DAYS TRAMP IN SWAMP

Thomas Davis, Toronto, Found Late Last Night 25 Miles From Camp.

LITTLE THE WORSE.

Posse Headed By Provincial Police Searched All Day For Missing Man.

MARMORA, November 20 (Examiner Correspondence)—Thomas Davis, Toronto war veteran, who disappeared from his hunting camp at Lynch's Mill, ten miles north of Marmora, at noon on Monday, was found twenty-five miles from his camp last night. The missing man turned up at the farm of John Davidson, three miles west of Millbridge, and was brought in to Shanick to the home of Ben Revoy, arriving at about 9.30 o'clock.

It is stated that Davis was apparently little the worse for his trying experience.

Combed Large Area.

A posse had been formed by the residents of this district led by Provincial Constable Percy Gray, and including C. A. Lummiss, F. S. Johnston, H. Phillips, E. Phillips, Ben Revoy, and a Mr. Smith of Niagara Falls, who along with other hunters at present in the vicinity, combed a large area.

Arthur Tomkins and many of the settlers also searched the big burn on the eastern side.

The territory in which Davis had disappeared is a swamp of thick undergrowth, marsh and burn.

Davis' reappearance has come as a great relief to the anxious searchers, who had intended renewing their efforts this morning on a much larger scale, while the missing hunter's brother with other friends was expected down from Toronto.

CAR DEALER IS HURT IN CRASH

Chas. Whiting of Cannington and His Brother Crash Into Moving Train.

AT GAMEBRIDGE.

LINDSAY, Ont., Nov. 20 (Special to The Examiner).—A serious accident which may terminate fatally occurred at Gamebridge last night when Chas. Whiting, automobile dealer of Cannington, was injured. Mr. Whiting in company with his brother, was motoring home from a deer hunt, and when approaching the C.N.R. crossing at Gamebridge in a heavy fog, he crashed into a moving train. The engine of the automobile was driven back into the car, which is a total wreck. Mr. Whiting was terribly bruised and cut, and one leg was broken. He also sustained internal injuries. His brother was thrown completely through the car window and was severely cut by broken glass as well as badly bruised. Both men were taken to Orillia hospital. A sad feature in connection with the accident is the death this morning of Mrs. Chas. Whiting's mother.

GUARANTEE OUTLOOK DARK.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., Nov. 20 (C.P.).—Prospects for satisfactory wheat price guarantees to the producer as a result of the Prairie Premiers' pilgrimage to Ottawa are "far from bright." Premier John Bracken of Manitoba made this statement in a telegraphic message from Montreal to the annual meeting of United Farmers of Manitoba, which he had planned to attend.

HALT IS ORDERED ON TICKET SALES

Contract Shows Promoter Gave $100 to Charity, Kept Rest of $631 Taken in.

MAY LAY CHARGES.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 20. (CP)—Completing his investigation into the alleged selling of tickets for charity concerts, David McKinney, Staff Inspector, ordered that the practice must be stopped.

A meeting was held in the Inspector's office yesterday and the promoter for the concerts along with his counsel were present. The promoter admitted presenting several concerts for various charities, the proceeds of which in some instances had failed to reach the charities.

A contract was produced whereby the promoter was to arrange a charity concert in aid of a women's organization but the contract called for $100 for charity while the promoter kept the remainder of the $631 which was taken in.

Inspector McKinney informed the promoter that charges might be laid under the criminal code and that his acivities must cease immediately.

Birkenhead's Essays Lauded Lloyd George

LONDON, Nov. 20 (By Thos. T. Champion, C.P. Staff Correspondent).—That one of the late Earl of Birkenhead's most admirable qualities was his steadfast loyalty and friendship is again proved by his last essays, published to-day. They reveal that he never ceased to regret the break-up of the political partnership between himself and Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, following the Conservative withdrawal from the coalition nearly a decade ago.

He was evidently uncertain whether the "Welsh Wizard" would ever return to power. "So great is his skill in political manoeuvre, and so enormous the glamor of his name, in a country where men will do everything for him but vote for his nominees, that those would be rash prophets who ruled out the impossible chance he has of once again becoming the national leader," Lord Birkenhead

Sixty per Cent. of the World's Gold Lies in Coffers of France and U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(CP)—Sixty per cent of the world's gold lies in the coffers of two nations, the United States and France.

Never since the World War have any two countries held such a stupendous share of the world's wealth. The Federal Reserve Board set the United States holdings of November 1 at $4,530,000,000. They have grown $140,000,000 in ten months of this year.

France, said the Board, has been the Globes principal taker of gold since 1927 when it stabilized the franc. The Bank of France utilized its foreign balances to increase the gold reserves until spring of 1929 then it stopped, but commercial banks continued the inflow, adding to the Bank of France reserves a total of $550,-000,000. The Republic's holdings now are $1,999,800,000.

CANADIAN GENERAL TO BE OPEN FOR INSPECTION ON SATURDAY

'Open House' For Two Hours in the Afternoon Has Been Declared.

LARGEST PLANT IN EMPIRE.

An opportunity to visit the largest electrical plant in the British Empire, is being afforded to the citizens of Peterborough, through the courtesy of E. G. Patterson, works manager of the Canadian General Electric Company, who has declared 'open house' for two hours on Saturday afternoon of this week.

Mr. Patterson's invitation is to be found in another section of this issue. It is extended to everybody!

Without a doubt a large percentage of the populace will avail themselves of this, almos unprecedented opportunity. It is probably thirty years, since such an offer was extended, when a dance was held at the official opening of one of the buildings. Many of the citizens have never been through the C.G.E. plant, but to those who were through on that previous occasion, the improvements, alterations and additions, will come as a great surprise.

To the privileged few, who are permitted to go to various section of this great seat of industry on business at intervals, changes are none the less apparent.

Second Largest in World.

One of the most recent and outstanding innovations is the construction of the enormous welded-steel building, the largest of its kind in the Dominion, and reputed to be the second largest of its kind in the world.

On its wood and concrete paved floor space could be easily found to manoeuvre a whole battalion of soldiers. The building is 400 feet long and 160 feet wide, and is the last word in modern factory construction. Its walls are not masonry, but great banks of glass, and its ceiling, too, reminds one of a great florist's greenhouse. It is scientifically lighted and ventilated. Within its area great electrical appliances will be put through tests, and for this purpose a gallery runs around one end of the vast room, away up near the roof, from which customers and engineering experts may make observations.

APPEAL ENTERED IN AVIATION CASE

CROWN PREPARING CASE.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 20 (C.P.).—An appeal to the Judicial Committee of the Imperial Privy Council from the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada in connection with the reference respecting jurisdiction as between Dominion and provinces in the matter of aviation is at present in course of preparation by law officers of the Crown, and the prospects are that a hearing will be given in London some time next summer. The appeal arises out of the Supreme Court's opinion, published some weeks ago, the effect of which is interpreted to be that the Dominion may control such aviation matters as are involved in international affairs and such aerial activities as the Dominion itself engages in, but that the provinces have definite jurisdiction to control and legislate on aviation within their own territories.

Analysis of the Supreme Court's decisions indicates that in Their Lordship's opinion Federal legislation heretofor affecting aerial activities in Canada, insofar as this legislation seeks to lay down regulations applicable to the provinces, severally and collectively, is invalid. The effect of this would be to place upon each individual province responsibility for controlling and legislating upon all aerial matters within its borders.

YOUNG PRINCE IS HAILED HEAD OF HAPSBURGS

Otto, Attending School in Belgium, Celebrates Eighteenth Birthday.

LAST DIRECT MALE HEIR.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 20 (C.P.). — A Hapsburg family statute to-day made Prince Otto, last of the direct male line of the house which for centuries ruled Austria, actual head of the dynasty and pretender to its regal claims.

The young Prince, who has been in school in Belgium, learning the things he may need to know some day as King of Hungary, to-day in the midst of prominent members of his family, celebrated his eighteenth birthday and the attainment of his majority, an occasion which legitimists have looked forward to as a date on which he actually would assume the Hungarian throne at Budapest.

Grand Marshal Pays Tribute.

The former Grand Marshal, Hunyadi, Count Cziraki, Count Sigray, Count Zichy, and Viscount Pellarini officially greeted Otto to-day as head of the Hapsburgs, paid him tribute, and, it is believed, took the oath of allegiance to him, a formality which members of his family already have undergone.

Two bishops Monsignors Seydl and Waltz, came from Vienna especially to preside at Teu Deum sung this morning in the mediaeval castle at Ste. Nockerzeel, in the presence of members of the former Imperial and Royal Houses of Austria, former court officials, and many Magyar noblemen duly accredited by Hungarian Royalists.

Moslems Pin Hopes Upon King George

LONDON, Nov. 20 (C.P.). — From the lips of Muhammed Ali, a leader of the All-India Moslem League, came a tribute at the Round-Table Conference yesterday to His Majesty the King.

"He knows India better than any of his Ministers, past or present," said Ali, "and we are looking to him to do justice to India's 320,000,000 people. History may be written: George the Third lost America: George the Fifth saved India."

THREE ARRESTS ALREADY MADE AT MONTREAL

Goods Brought in During Past Year Valued Between $100,000 and $300,000.

BAFFLED POLICE YEAR.

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 20.—(CP)—With the arrest of three men here customs preventive officers today believed they had smashed a Canadian-United States smuggling ring which, in the period of over one year had brought illegally into Canada goods valued between $100,000 and $300,000.

Louis Miller and Julius Cohen, described as dry goods dealers and Joseph Lapalme, a customs appraiser, were the men under arrest.

Sent in Trunks

The merchandise smuggled into the country, the officers claimed, came from New York and adjacent cities and after their arrival in Montreal in trunks, were distributed to Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton, Vancouver. They included ladies wear, furs, knit goods and hosiery.

The modus operandi of the smugglers was well conceived and the authorities worked on the case for nearly a year before they finally discovered.

A clue which led to the break of the ring.

NEW GOVERNORS FOR EAST NAMED

STANFIELD IN N. S.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 20.—(CP)—A Nova Scotian manufacturer who built his business from small beginnings, and the founder of the fox-breeding industry in Prince Edward Island were appointed yesterday at Ottawa to the Lieutenant-Governorships of their native Provinces. Frank Stanfield of Truro will take up his official residence at Government House, Halifax, on December 2, while the successor to his honor Frank R. Heartz at Charlottetown is Charles Dalton of Tingmish.

While Mr. Stanfield was busily engaged in the affairs of his growing silk and woolen business at Truro years ago. Mr. Dalton was experimenting with the breeding of black foxes. In early manhood he was a trapper, and it was then that he visualized the future of fur-growing in captivity. He became associated with Robert Oulton, and together they experimented with the breeding of foxes caught in their traps. Finally after many discouragements and losses, they succeeded in securing litters of black foxes, the pelt of which were profitably marketed in London. Less than twenty years ago the world heard of the new Industry. Within a few years ranches sprang up all over the island, and in other parts of Canada and the United States. Finally Dalton sold out to the Charles Dalton Silver Fox Company with a capitalization of $625,000 at that time the largest fox company in the world.

Construction Program Is Outlined By C.N.R.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—(CP)— The program of construction which will be engaged in by the Canadian National Railways under the arrangement whereby interest on necessary borrowings is paid by the Government was announced here.

The arrangement is made so as to speed up construction, etc., in order to give employment as soon as possible. The total estimated amount for the various projects, according to the program is $9,048,653, of which $6,-654,748 constitutes the proportion to be paid by the railway. The remaining sum will be met out of the grade crossing fund and other sources, the amount of contributions to be determined by the Board of Railway Commissioners.

In addition to the total sum mentioned there is a further amount of $5,110,750 for rails and ties.

Federal Authorities Not Considering Making Churchill Free Port of Entry

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 20.—(CP)—It may be taken for granted that the present Government is not contemplating a tariff schedule on goods coming into Canada at Churchill that would be different from the tariff on goods coming at any other Canadian port. This was the opinion expressed in Government circles here today in reference to the proposal by Hon. R. A. Hoey, acting Premier of Manitoba, that Churchill be made a free port of entry for British goods coming to Canada.

A number of ports in Europe are known as "free ports." Goods may be shipped into storage in such ports without any customs restrictions and then sold. However, such imports later have to meet the tariffs of the countries to which they are ultimately consigned.

Italian Lads of 18 Are Forced to Drill Each Sunday Morn

ROME, Nov. 20.—(C.P.)—The Council of Minister, with Premier Mussolini presiding, to-day took one of the most important steps in preparation of Italian youth for military careers to be inaugurated since the Fascist regime began eight years ago.

Hereafter, beginning October first after the arrival of their eighteenth year, every young Italian will be required to devote his Sunday morning to army drill for eighteen months, unless service is reduced for family reasons.

REQUEST GOV'T STATE ATTITUDE ON EMPIRE TRADE

Willingness to Adopt Quota if Difficulties Overcome Be Relief.

PLEASE CANADA, AUSTRALIA.

Times Declares Dominion Premiers Still Hopeful For Future.

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 20. (C. P. Cable).—"Looking to Ottawa" is the caption over an editorial in The Times to-day in which the newspaper urges the need for a clearer difinition of the attitude of the British Government towards Empire trade and particularly towards the proposal for a quota system on British wheat purchases.

"A definite statement that the Government is ready to adopt the quota system if technical difficulties could be overcome, would be received with relief in both Canada and Australia—to say nothing of the farmers of Great Britain" said The Times.

"It would give Canada and Australia greater confidence to face their present difficulties, if they could feel that there was at least a reasonable hope of concluding an agreement at Ottawa which would give them an assured market in Great Britain for a great part of their wheat surplus.

Help Mitigate Disappointment

"Some such assurance would help mitigate the disappointment of the Dominions at the smallness of the economic results of the conference, and it would be the more welcome since the anxiety of the wheat farmers of the Empire has been doubled by the Soviet dumping of wheat and of large quantities of goods made possible only by exploration of what is practically indistinguishable from slave labor.

The Times added the Dominion Prime Ministers were still hopeful for the future, though their hopes were likely to be doomed to disappointment unless the British Government went to Ottawa "in a very different spirit from that which they displayed throughout the London Conference." They need to prepare themselves more seriously, to have a far more definite policy, and to show much greater determination to make the Ottawa meeting a success, The Times concluded.

Baker, 70, of Sunderland, Ont., was almost instantly killed when he was buried alive due to a cave-in at a gravepit near Sunderland, where he was working. His body was recovered shortly afterwards, but he was already dead. Dr. Oliver of Sunderland was called, and from what can be ascertained no inquest will be held.

HON. J. L. PERRON NOTED POLITICIAN TAKEN BY DEATH

Prominent Montreal Lawyer Succumbs After Several Months' Illness.

57 YEARS OLD

Appointed Minister of Agriculture For Quebec After Successful Fight in Montcalm.

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 20. — (C. P.)—Hon. J. L. Perron, K.C., Minister of Agriculture, one of the outstanding figures in the political life of the Province of Quebec and a noted lawyer of Montreal, died here to-day, aged 57. Mr. Perron had been ill for several months.

Last year Mr. Perron left the comparative quiet of the Legislative Council of the province for the hurly-burly of an election fight, was victorious in a by-election in Montcalm county, and took his seat in the Lower House as Minister of Agriculture. His health gradually failed ever since and death resulted this morning. He had played a part in ruling the province for twenty years, having been first elected to the Lower House in 1910. In 1916 he was appointed to the Upper House and joined the Cabinet in 1920, without portfolio. In 1921 he was appointed Minister of Roads, relinquishing that position last year to take charge of agricultural affairs.

Queen's Park Addition Announced By Henry

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 20 (C.P.) — In an effort to relieve the unemployment situation, Hon. George S. Henry, Acting Prime Minister, announced today that the Ontario Government has decided to proceed at once with the addition of another section to the eastern offices of the Parliament Buildings.

The new structure, which will be one-third the size of the existing building, will be used to afford accommodation for the staffs of the Government's departments.

The Government has made an arrangement whereby it will employ the labor, much of which will be unskilled and will pay a contractor to supervise the work. The initial stage of construction will involve an expenditure of about $240,000 and the total cost of the building, it is estimated will be approximately $800,000.

Mounted Rifles Hold Re-Union This Week

The second annual reunion of the 4th Canadian Mounted Rifles Association, is to be held on Saturday next at the Prince George Hotel, Toronto.

Last year three hundred ex-service members of the unit renewed old friendships and associations, and in view of the extra work of planning and organization which has been undertaken in connection with the forthcoming event, it promises to be more successful than ever.

G. L. Howard, 68 Roseneath Gardens, Toronto, chairman of the ticket for table reservations and requests early application. There are many former members of this fine unit living in Peterborough and district, and they are reminded that there is a reduction of fare in operation this week on both railway systems. The Winter Fair is on, and return tickets may be bought at the rate of a fare and a third.

MINERS TO OPPOSE WAGE CUTS.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(C.P.)—Delegates representing 670,000 coal miners to-day adopted a resolution to "make every possible resistance to attempts at further wage cuts by mine owners," at a meeting to consider wage reductions now in prospect.

WEIR HAS PLANS TO AID FARMERS OVER DOMINION

Results of Three Days' Deliberations Announced at Royal Winter Fair.

OFFERS FOUR MEASURES.

Better Blood To Be Introduced in Herds—Market To Be Studied.

TORONTO Ont. Nov 20. (CP)—A Dominion agricultural policy was last night proclaimed by Robert Weir Dominion Minister of Agriculture, on the occasion of the opening of the Royal Winter Fair. The minister enunciated important policies, adopted after three days deliberation of the Provincial Ministers of Agriculture and to be known as the "national agricultural policy."

Drastic Steps Needed

Declaring that at the present period of depression new and drastic steps in the right direction should be taken and insisting on the necessity of co-operation on throughout agricultural Canada, the Minister introduced four measures designed to remedy the situation and bolster "Canada's chief industry." They are:

1—The introduction of better blood in herds.

3—Careful study of the science of marketing.

4—The prevention of implantation and spread of poultry diseases.

Mr. Weir began by complimenting the directors on the high standard attained by the fair and assured his audience that he was a farmer speaking to farmers with exclusive intention of helping and "if possible of directing efforts in the correct channel."

One of his ambitions and reiterated policies, said Mr. Weir, was to find some machinery by which every farmer throughout the country could be made aware of the changes in agricultural methods and of the improvement in farming conditions. This he had discovered, he said, as the result of the conference with provincial agricultural leaders.

"It has been agreed that the Provincial Departments of Agriculture and all the machinery at their service will transmit and interpret to the farmers of Canada every possible advance or policy which the Dominion Department of Agriculture, after consideration and consultation, will consider beneficial to the farming population as a whole. This, of course, with the least possible delay and at the lowest cost."

Decrease in the cost of production and scientific production—that is the production of market requirements—were two fundamental principles that had not been lost sight of.

Suggestions Explained

The Minister made a brief analysis of his four major propositions. Considering the difficulty the average farmer experiences in procuring a first class sire, whereby he might improve the blood of his cattle and the general usefulness of his stock, Mr Weir undertook to supply free of cost to any group of energetic and deserving farmers a sire to be used during a period of two years. This, he thought, would eliminate expense, and a useless waste of time and energy and encourage one of the more necessary and wholesome steps in the raising of profitable and sound stock.

Because of present conditions, the Minister foresaw a very definite increase in pork production during the next few years. This he did not advise but felt that because of the inevitable trend, steps should be taken to direct that increased production. In his opinion this would be best done by supplying farmers, breeding sows of the fine bacon type at cost and at half transportation price. This would eventually mean that the right quality of bacon could be procured for home consumption and exportation with substantial remuneration for the farmer.

HEAVIER LOADS FOR GRAIN BOATS

Freighter May Carry 25,000 Bushels More Due to Deepening of Welland Canal.

LIMIT NOW 18 FEET.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—(C.P.)—Work on the Welland ship canal has progressed sufficiently that vessels will now be permitted to load to a draught of eighteen feet, Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, announced. The former limit was fourteen feet. Present canal-sized vessels now carrying an average of from 85,000 to 90,000 bushels of grain will be able to increase their loads by 25,000 or 30,000 bushels.

The extension of loading is restricted to present canal-sized vessels, as the clear channel now is only one-half of the 200 feet which next year will be available for the larger Upper Lake boats. On completion the Welland ship canal will have a minimum depth of twenty-five feet, or about five feet greater than the navigation depth of the Upper Lake connecting channels. Although able to load to eighteen feet through the Welland ship canal, vessels destined for Montreal will be required to reduce their draught to fourteen feet at Prescott.

GAY SPECTACLES DURING OPENING OF WINTER FAIR

Sir Robert Borden, War-time Premier, Makes Inaugural Speech.

COLISEUM THRONGED.

U. S. Army Team Captures First Event in Military Classes.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 20.—(CP)—Under a roof resplendant with shaded lights and gaily colored bunting, the Royal Winter Fair was formally opened last night by Sir Robert Borden, Canada's war time Premier.

Sir Robert's declaration of the opening came as fitting close to a series of speeches and well wishes for the Fair from leading Canadian agriculturists, who previously had listened to the announcement by Hon. Robert Weir, Canadian Minister of Agriculture of a national agricultural policy, formulated as a result of a conference of Provincial Agricultural Ministers at Ottawa and Toronto during the past two days.

Sir Robert Pleased

During a brief address before the huge throng which packed the coliseum, Sir Robert expressed his pleasure at attending the Fair and rejoiced at the friendly rivalry among the six nations represented in the International Military events in the horse show.

The day was allotted to the children and thousands of public school pupils crowded the arena to watch the awarding of prizes in the various class of agriculture, cats and horses. One of the most outstanding features in the agricultural show was the award to Ontario of the sweep stakes for the best box of apples, an honor which for years was held by British Columbia.

U. S. Team Winners

By a margin of only half a fault, the United States army team, under Lieut. J. W. Wofferd, captured first honors in the preliminary event of the International Military jumping contests at the Royal Winter Fair horse show last night. The American trio committed five faults while the team representing Sweden suffered only half a fault more. Canada came third with six and the Irish Free State a weak fourth with nine and one half. The Swedish trio were well in the lead until the third horse knocked off the top bar of the last barrier. Germany and Hungary, who also are entered in the contests did not take part in the performance.

Parisian Reporter Makes Trip To Yukon

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 20.—Sent by his newspaper, "Petit Parisien", to gather data on the northwestern parts of Canada, a young Parisian reporter Jean Alloucherie, passed through here recently on his way to Yukon and Alaska where he intends studying the romantic and impressive surroundings that inspired Jack London's celebrated novels.

A year ago Mr. Alloucherie made a trip out West to investigate immigration problems but, this time, his inquiry will cover the life of the mounted police, the prospector, the Eskimo and the missionary. His trip, which has Vancouver as a starting point, will extend as far as Ketchigan, Dawson and possibly Nome. Mr. Alloucherie also intends retracing the path of the '98 gold rush.

Similar work, on previous occasions, has taken the young French reporter to Morocco and Syria, where he furnished the "Petit Parisien" with magazine material necessitated by tense competition now existing between the feature sections of Parisian newspapers.

Three Found Dead In Wrecked Plane

BURBANK, Cal., November 20 (C.P.). — Three occupants of the Pacific Transport mail plane were found dead late yesterday in the Tehachapi Mountain foothills, where the plane had crashed on a sloping plateau. Discovery of the bodies ended a 42-hour search by scores of planes.

The wreckage had not burned. The plane, piloted by F. A. Donaldson, and carrying Miss Jean Markow, aged 18, of Los Angeles, and George Rogers, a mechanic, left the United Airport here on Monday night and became lost in the fog, snow, and gales over Tejon, 80 miles north.

TOLL OF THREE TAKEN IN WRECK OFF PORTUGAL

OVIDIA CREW SAVED.

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 20.—(CP)—Its masts alone protruding from the swelling waters of the Atlantic the Nelson Steam Navigation Company's new liner, Highland Hope, lay beneath the waves off the Farilloes Islands, Portugal, to-day, a complete wreck.

Five hundred and thirty-four persons, comprising a large passenger list and crew were quartered in hotels at Peniche, Portugal, to await a southbound ship which would take them on their way to South American ports for which they were bound or back to England.

534 Survive

Of the 537 who left aboard the boat early in the week, all but three were safe. One of these was Manuel Perez, a Spanish emigrant, who died during the night from injuries received in getting away from the Highland Hope after she was aground at dawn yesterday. Two others, a Spanish woman emigrant and her child were not accounted for and were believed lost.

The saddest figure among all the survivors was that of Captain T. J. Jones, 75 years old commander of the vessel, whose lifetime of splendid service sailing the Atlantic shipping routes was brought apparently to an abrupt end with the disaster which yesterday at daybreak culminated in the loss of his ship on the rocks near Peniche.

Mauretania Rescues 28

Twenty-seven men and one woman followed the ancient code of the ocean and rowed half a mile through raging waters to reach the liner Mauretania, summoned by the SOS after they had abandoned the distressed Swedish freighter Ovidia off the Grand Banks of Newfoundland.

Up in the North Sea five seamen drowned after a collision of the British steamer Continental, freighter, and the British steamer Hebble in Antwerp Roads. The freighter sank but five others of her crew were rescued.

Shipping circles were concerned for the small Swedish steamer Tanja, which dropped out of sight in the South Baltic after she left Danzig ten days ago.

Chimpanzees Display Many Human Qualities

Montreal, Que., Nov. 20.—"Chimpanzees show all the human characteristics of love, hate, memory, community life, and irascibility in old age," said Dr. W. D. Tait, professor of psychology at McGill University, in an address on "The Intelligence of the Ape" to members of the Montreal Kiwanis Club recently.

Dr. Tait's remarks were illustrated by a film record of experiments in Berlin with chimpanzees which were not trained in any way but were set problems and allowed to solve them in their own way.

The apes in one case were supplied with a number of boxes and given the task of getting a banana hung just out of reach. They placed the boxes one on top of the other and so reached their objective.

Similar intelligence was shown by an ape given two sticks with which to reach fruit well beyond the bars of its cage. Without hesitation it pushed the end of the thinner stick inside the end of the thicker one and with the lengthened stick pulled the fruit towards him.

London Post Rumors Not Denied By Premier

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 20 (C.P.) — Queried through an exchange of wireless messages by the local Conservative organ, Premier G. H. Ferguson did not deny that he may assume the office of Canada's High Commissioner to London.

Mr. Ferguson was reached aboard the Empress of Australia, now in mid-ocean on her way to Canada. The messages from the Ontario Premier inferred Premier R. B. Bennett must be free to make some announcement before the head of the Provincial Government will discuss the High Commissionership.

Commenting generally on the Imperial Economic Conference, Premier Ferguson stated the people of Great Britain favor closer Imperial trade and other relations.

51 Divorce Writs Filed in Ontario

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 20 (C.P.)—Since Ontario's courts were clothed on May 30 last with power to grant divorce, 51 writs have been filed at Osgoode Hall here asking for dissolutions of marriage.

Of the plaintiffs, 21 are women. In some of the petitions filed by women, adultery alone is cited as the ground upon which divorce is asked: therefore when these cases come to trial, the issue of the "double standard" may be fought out. When the issue is actually raised in litigation as to the necessity under Ontario's new law, for a woman to plead cruelty as well as adultery, the judges will determine it.

SWEDISH EXPERT HAS TARIFF PLAN

Dr. Jacobson Would Have a Maximum Tariff Rate Between All European Countries.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 20 (C.P.)—A general tariff treaty with a fixed maximum tariff rate between all the states of Europe is the gist of an interesting plan of international economic co-operation published by Dr. Per Jacobson, a well-known Swedish expert on international economics, previously with the League of Nations' Secretariat in Geneva.

In analyzing the Euorpean tariff situation, one of the principal causes of the present unsatisfactory economic and industrial conditions, the author says, is the historic fact that a general fall in prices automatically and inevitably calls forth an increase in protectionism and a demand for higher tariffs by depressed industries. This is a fact of importance in explaining the present situation, since within the space of a year wholesale prices have dropped 15 per cent and in many cases have even reached the pre-war level. In addition, the customs frontiers in Europe through the disintegration of Austria-Hungary and the emergence of a number of new states have been extended by no less than 7,000 miles.

A comparison between the tariff levels of the various countries before and after the war brings out the interesting fact that with the exception of England it is the great Powers which have the highest tariff while the smaller countries, such as Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Austria and Sweden have the lowest tariffs. After the war, however, the young countries built up high tariff walls with the intention of establishing new industries of their own and to attain economic independence. It seems probable, the author says, that those states will realize that the barriers have to be adjusted downwards and that they cannot attain a high level of national prosperity unless they, in their own interest follow the example set them by comparable older states such as for instance, Sweden, Holland and Switzerland.

In order to arrive at a general adjustment for the benefit of European economic co-operation as a whole the author suggests as a basis of discussion that the states of Europe might conclude a treaty on the following terms: (a) Tariffs shall be permissible, but the tariff rates shall be limited to a maximum of, say, 20 per cent ad valorem. (b) The duties on goods imported from the other contracting states, who take part in this treaty, shall be reduced to half; that is to say, a tariff rate of, at the highest, 10 per cent shall be applied to those countries. This would mean establishment of a preferential system within Europe, but also a certain deviation may in some cases have its drawbacks. The general advantages gained by a maximum of tariffs and the establishing of a wider market in Europe will far outweigh these drawbacks.

Dr. Jacobson points out, that the trade situation in Europe would be vastly improved, if a treaty was concluded on these lines. He analyzes the possibilities and advantages of a number of countries as parties to such a treaty and arrives at the conclusion that it should be acceptable to all of them. He expresses the wish that his plan shall be submitted to open and general discussion.

URGE FREE ENTRY OF BRITISH GOODS AT CHURCHILL

Move Would Put West's Agriculture on Profitable Basis Says R. A. Hoey.

WISHES GOV'T SANCTION.

Proposal Made in View of Brief Three Months' Open Season.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., November 20 (C.P.). — Proposal that Churchill, the West's sea-harbor on Hudson Bay, be declared a free port of entry for British goods, was made last night by Hon. Robert A. Hoey, Acting Premier of Manitoba at the annual convention of the Unitthat Churchill, the West's sea-harbor sidered that such a move would tend measurably toward the establishment of the West's agriculture on a permanently profitable basis.

Return Cargo Assured.

Mr. Hoey's suggestion is that the plan be approved at the next session of Parliament, permitting the full use of the Hudson Bay Railway to Churchill and the Bay route next year. Ships, he stated, would then be able to carry wheat to Britain and be assured of a return cargo, while the north-bound trains would not be called upon to return empty.

Mr. Hoey suggests that all goods of British origin manufactured and produced in Great Britain should enter Canada by the Hudsan Bay free of customs duty. "It has been estimated that this port will be open at least three months of the year, he asserted, "open for shipment of wheat, perhaps cattle, outward, and open as well to receive shipments from other countries." He made the free port proposal "in view of this brief open season."

Counterfeiters are busy in Scotland.

RECIPROCAL TRADE AGREEMENTS TORY OBJECTIVE WITH DOMINIONS

PARLEY NOT IN VAIN.

LONDON, Nov 20 (By Thos T. Champion, CP Staff Correspondent) The Conservative Party, given the opportunity by victory at a general election, will not rest until reciprocal trading arrangements have been concluded with the Dominions, Rt Hon Neville Chamberlain, chairman of the Conservative Party, making this pledge at a party gathering yesterday, added:

"We should not shrink even from a tax on foreign wheat rather than forego the supreme advantages foreseen in a true system of economic unity."

Ready For Election.

Britain was ready for another general election, he emphatically declared.

"The Imperial Conference offered the greatest opportunity in a generation," Mr. Chamberlain said. "To their lasting shame the Government disappointed the hopes of the Dominion delegates. They had no idea, no plan, and their complete lethargy was all the more extraordinary because it stands in striking contrast to the energy displayed when helping Russia to trade with us.

"The result of the conference after all these weeks seems to be that the Dominion representatives have been sent away empty-handed, their main proposals rejected, with nothing but a vague promise to look into some alternative methods—none of which were submitted with even a semblance of conviction. It is a melancholy conclusion.

"Yet I do not think the conference has been in vain. At any rate it demonstrated the Dominions were ready and anxious to do business with the Mother Country and with one another. I trust it has been made plain to them that, whatever may be the views and intentions of the present Government, that the Conservatives, if they had the opportunity, would quickly grasp the hand extended and gladly enter into conversations with the fixed determination not to rise from the table until reciprocal trading arrangements have been concluded.

Should Not Fear Tax.

"I believe it would be possible to secure from the Dominions a substantial advantage to employment in our own basic industries. If the quota system (on wheat purchases) should prove unacceptable to the Dominions or should be rendered impracticable through forces outside their control, then we should not shrink from a tax on foreign wheat, rather than forego the supreme advantages foreseen in a true system of economic unity. If we go on like we are doing there will be nothing left to us but our language and our Crown."

Rt. Hon. Mr. Chamberlain was asked by a member of the audience what the Conservative headquarters were likely to do in order to heal the breach with Lord Beaverbrook on the question of Empire trade.

He answered that it took two to make a bargain and no doubt the question to Lord Beaverbrook. He questions to Lord Beaverbrook. He saw nothing in the difference worth fighting about, he added.

It is understood the Conservatives still support a motion of censure on the Government reports on the Imperial Conference in the House of Commons next Wednesday.

Magnesia Best For Acid Indigestion

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants.

Most people who used to suffer from gas, sourness, bloating and indigestion have now given up disagreeable diets and the use of harmful artificial digestants. Instead they eat their favorite and formerly forbidden foods and after meals take a little Bisurated Magnesia—either tablets or powder—in some water. They have no stomach trouble.

Most so-called indigestion is merely "too much acid" in the stomach. Food sours and ferments before it can be digested. Gas forms. The stomach needs an alkaline to give safe, certain and speedy relief.

Bisurated Magnesia instantly neutralizes excess stomach acids, sweetens the food contents, ends gas and bloating, and quickly stops stomach pain. Then digestion becomes easy. It is a safe, pleasant and convenient method to use, and druggists everywhere sell it on a positive guarantee of satisfactory relief or money back. Try a test package on this plan, and enjoy your meals with no more fear of indigestion.

HUNTERS GET QUOTA.

Marmora Man Bags Buck Weighing 287 Pounds—Another Shot With .22 Rifle.

MARMORA Nov. 20 (Examiner Correspondence). — Good fortune seems to have been attending the local hunters this year, many of the parties getting their full quota.

Especial good fortune however befell two amateurs. On Monday George Woodhouse secured the finest specimen of the season. He shot a buck weighing 287 pounds, winning thereby hearty congratulations of his many friends. Michael Finnegan with only three bullets left also brought down a very fine buck with his .22 rifle as the animal unexpectedly crossed his path.

First Little Theatre In Britain Next Year

MANCHESTER, Eng., Nov. 20—(By the Canadian Press)—The first specially constructed Little Theatre in Great Britain will be in Altrincham, Cheshire, where an Eastern Bazaar was recently held to raise funds for the proposed Little Theatre, with Miss Sybil Thorndyke performing the opening ceremony and giving her hearty support to the movement. The Altrincham Garrick Society has undertaken the work of raising funds and erecting the Little Theatre.

It is a far cry from the cellar in an Altrincham house, where the founders of the Garrick Society met for the first time in 1913, to the steel and brick playhouse, with all the latest stagecraft appliances, which it is hoped will be built some time in 1931 under the society's auspices. The Garrick Society of Altrincham is one of the leading amateur dramatic societies in the North of England, and at the bazaar Miss Thorndike paid generous tribute to the society's enthusiasm and pioneering spirit.

Turkey Government Fights Illiteracy

Progress to Education is Being Accelerated By New Stamboul Schools.

STAMBOUL, Turkey, Nov. 20.—(By The Canadian Press).—Turkey's progress in education has not been very swift but now there appears to be a determined fight against illiteracy under way. In the whole of Turkey 500,000 pupils go regularly to school, which represents about 3.65 per cent. of the population. Of these, 34,200 frequent foreign schools and those belonging to the non-Mussulman minorities.

According to official figures, Stamboul has now 388 schools with 42,875 pupils, as against 196 schools and 32,000 pupils in 1908. The school shortage is, nevertheless, still strongly felt, as that the law compelling Turkish parents to send their children to Turkish schools for their elementary education before they go to foreign ones, has not yet been enforced. Of the 34 new elementary schools to be erected at Stamboul, 23 are ready. The construction of the rest will rapidly follow, and the law on general education will then be strictly applied.

The fight against illiteracy is also carried on in the so-called national schools—i.e., night schools giving compulsory instruction to adults in reading, writing and arithmetic. They were frequented last year by 549,858 persons, 359,702 of whom were women. The greatest difficulty is to give elementary instruction in the provinces, where the density of population is under four persons per square mile.

On the butter market, prices for Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized creamery were ¼c lower, being quoted at 29½c a pound, and bids at 29¼c. Solids were 33c and prints 34c a pound to retailers. Receipts were 92 boxes.

The cheese market was ¼c lower. Ontario selling at 13¼c and Quebec at 12¾c a pound, with buyers bidding fractionally below these prices. Receipts totalled 364 boxes.

Prices on the potato market were 5c higher. New Brunswick Green Mountains were quoted at 90c per 80-pound bag.

The egg market was unchanged. British Columbia eggs, in carlots, were quoted for: Fresh extras at 62c; fresh firsts, 57c, and pullets 50c a dozen, less than carlot prices for Ontario new-laid eggs. Top quality were 58c to 60c a dozen. Receipts were around 2,596 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Grain values tilted moderately upward yesterday, helped by well-timed purchasing for United States Farm Board allies and also by concerted action of Canadian banks. It was announced that wheat price stabilizing operations of United States Government-sponsored agencies were not confined to Chicago, but extended to all domestic markets. Manwhile, reports were current that Canada's banks would protect margins on wheat holdings of the Canadian Growers' Pool.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were firm at nearly the day's top level, ⅛c to 1⅛c a bushel higher than Tuesday's finish. Corn closed 1c to 1⅜c advanced; oats ⅜c to ¾c up, and provisions unchanged to 10c lower.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, November 20.—Wheat, after the 5c to 8c recession on Tuesday, gave a good account of itself yesterday, the market holding gains throughout the session, and closing 1¼c to 1⅞c higher.

A better export demand, with total sales of Canadian wheat overnight and yesterday morning estimated at 1,000,000 bushels, was th main factor in the steadiness. Shipping interests and investment traders were the takers of all offerings. At times selling was on a liberal scale, with further unwinding of spreads between Winnipeg and Chicago, but the buying power was equal to all that came out.

Strength in Liverpool and Bunos Aires cables also added to the more optimistic tone here. These markets paid little attention to Tuesday's slump here.

Demand for higher grades of cash wheat was quite good, with terminals and mills the buyers. Actual sales of coarse grains were confined to rye for export and low-grade oats and barley for domestic use. Rye showed substantial gains, while coarse grains moved up fractionally.

WEDDING BELLS

HANSON—COVENEY

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 20. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — The Church of St. Peter in Chains, Trenton, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Tuesday morning, November 18, when Anna Evelyn Coveney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Coveney, became bride of Carl H. Hanson, son of H. R. Hanson, Madison, Wisconsin, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Father O'Reilly.

The bride wore a gown of rose beige lace and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses, while the bridesmaid, Miss Helen Coveney, wore a frock of green georgette. The groom was attended by Mr. John Curran of Toledo.

you can serve it hot

Most people want a hot breakfast dish for a cold day. Shredded Wheat is deliciously warming when eaten with hot milk. Crisp the biscuits in the oven and pour hot milk over them. The flavory shreds retain enough crispness to encourage thorough chewing—that's one reason it's so good for children. Delicious for any meal with fresh or stewed fruits.

CAVAN COUPLE ARE HONOURED

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Carr Receive Many Well Wishes on Eve of Departure.

PRESENTATIONS MADE.

CAVAN, Nov. 20 (Examiner Correspondence)—A very pleasant social gathering was held in Cavan Community Hall on Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Carr, who with their two small sons are, this week, moving from Cavan to Indian River, where Mr. Carr is employed by the C.P.R.

There were over one hundred present. A few merry games were played and a peanut hunt was enjoyed. Mr. D. J. Hunter made a genial and efficient chairman for a very short program.

The Rev. J. E. Whitham, pastor of Cavan United Church spoke briefly expressing regret at losing two highly esteemed citizens and extending best wishes for their happiness in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr were called to the platform and Mr. R. A. Sutton read an address voicing the regrets of those present at their departure, expressing appreciation of their helpfulness and kindness as friends and neighbors and in token of this appreciation asked them to accept the gifts carried in and placed on the platform.

A wicker fernery was presented to Mrs. Carr from the Cavan Women's Institute, of which she was a member.

A beautiful comforter and table cloth with matching serviettes and a smoker's stand were presented from the community. Mr. Carr made an appropriate reply expressing his wifes' and his own pleasure and appreciation of the gifts.

The singing of "For They are Jolly Good Fellows" brought the program to a close, many friends gathering round to speak to Mr. and Mrs. Carr and see the beautiful gifts.

The chairman announced supper, almost ready in the basement and all went down to find two long tables spread with a bounteous and appetizing lunch. Delicious coffee with cream was served. After supper the young people enjoyed dancing, music for which was supplied by the piano and violins.

Mr. Loyd Kennedy, Bethany was floor master.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr will be very much missed from the community, of which they have been life-long residents.

Mrs. Carr was a member of the choir. The Woman's Association of the church and Cavan Women's Institute.

BLUES LEAD REDS IN ATTENDANCE DRIVE

Campbellford Lodge I.O.O.F. Six Week's Contest Shows Very Gratifying Results

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 20 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—The culmination of a contest started six weeks ago by the Campbellford Lodge, No. 284, I.O.O.F. will take place on Tuesday next, when the organization will indulge in a banquet, to be staged in their hall.

To increase the attendance at lodge the members were divided into two groups, the Blues under G. W. Lucy, and the Reds under Roy Loucks. The conditions of the contest were, that the side obtaining the highest mark in the attendance drive would arrange for a program to be presented at a banquet which would be given by the losers.

For the first five weeks the Reds kept the lead, but on the final night the Blues swung the contest with a small margin. The net result of the contest, however, is very gratifying, for the attendance at lodge has been increased over one hundred and fifty per cent.

...ERVICE WANTED.

...the efforts that are being put forth by the ...ple of Apsley to improve mail facilities for that part ...f Peterborough County, there should be every sympathy.

At present the Apsley section has to be satisfied with a daily service for only six months of the year and a service of three times a week for the other six months, and the Postoffice Department is being asked to extend the daily mail period to cover ten months.

There is no reason why the request should not be granted. In fact, there does not seem any reason why Apsley should not be given the advantage of daily mail the year round, in view of the fact that stage communication was maintained throughout the whole of last winter.

The Examiner understands that a petition asking for the extension of mail facilities has been signed by practically every resident of the Apsley district.

Their request should meet with the favorable consideration of the Postmaster-General; it is a service that will be of great convenience to a large number of people who are entitled to the benefits of better facilities when these can be provided without difficulty.

Instead of daily service for ten months as is being asked Apsley should be given such a service throughout the year.

THE COMING CONVENTION

As the date of the Ontario Liberal Convention draws nearer, it becomes more and more evident that one of the most interesting features of this Provincial gathering will be the discussion that is inevitable in regard to what is popularly known as "the liquor question."

From various cities in which delegates have been appointed come reports that the Liberal sentiment in those centres tends toward the abandonment of the "dry" platform.

On the other hand the announcement is made that Liberals and Progressives are effecting an alliance and that to facilitate the fusion the Progressive leader is ready to resign his position. It is impossible to reconcile these two reports inasmuch as the views of the Progressives in regard to prohibition, prevents a union with any party that discards the prohibition policy.

In short the Liberal convention will be faced with the alternative of dropping the prohibition plank or of adhering to it and ensuring Progressive support.

Should the decision be to withdraw from the "dry" position, it seems is clearer than that, at the next election the two old parties will find themselves faced by a third political organization enlisting under its banner all who believe in the principal of prohibition.

And in view of the dry sentiment in rural Ontario, it is certain that in three-cornered fights the Prohibition party would capture a by no means negligible portion of seats.

THE ROYAL WINTER FAIR

The successful opening of the Royal Winter Fair and the prediction that in spite of unusual economic conditions this year's Fair promises to set a new record all round, are matters of general interest.

The Royal Winter Fair has steadily grown in extent and popularity until today it is probably of more benefit and value to the agriculturists of this country than the Canadian National Exhibition.

In fact no event throws the spotlight so effectively upon agriculture and its possibilities than does this great fair which brings to Toronto each November the best that Canada produces in the way of farm stock and farm products of all kinds.

This of course is not merely an Ontario event, for it attracts entries from every Province in the Dominion and incidentally its prizes are distributed over the whole country, inasmuch as our friends in other Provinces have usually made a most successful showing in the various fields of competition in which their products are entered.

This bringing together of successful farmers, vegetable growers, dairymen and others interested in the various departments of agriculture, hailing from all parts of Canada is one of the most praiseworthy features of the Royal Winter Fair inasmuch as it contributes effectively to a better knowledge of general conditions throughout Canada and a better appreciation of the problems of those living in other sections of the Dominion.

THE PRICE OF WHEAT.

Despite general sympathy for the western grain growers, very strong opposition to the request of the Prairie Premiers that the Federal Government should guarantee a price of 70c per bushel is in evidence.

The wisdom of the Government entering into the field of marketing, no matter what the commodity may be, is questioned in many circles, where it is felt that the experience the Premiers of the Western Provinces have had in regard to their own guarantees should have convinced them of the futility of trying to stabilize the market by governmental action.

When the Prairie Governments committed themselves to guarantees last year they hoped by so doing to prevent pool wheat from being forced on an unfavorable market.

Wheat was selling at $1.15 a bushel at that time, nearly 60c a bushel higher than it is at present—in other words, the action of the Provincial Governments hurt rather than helped the grain growers they sought to save.

The results, should the Federal Government be so unwise as to accede to the request for a fixed price, would be equally disastrous.

If the Ottawa administration were to adopt the Western Premiers' request the world price of wheat would not be changed thereby, but what would happen would be that the Government would find itself in possession of millions of bushels of wheat upon which it would lose heavily should the price drop below the guaranteed level.

The Ottawa Journal, which says that it is unthinkable that the Dominion Government should add to the rest of its troubles by going into the wheat business, points out another danger.

"One hundred or two hundred million bushels of wheat in the hands of the Government of Canada would not stabilize wheat prices," says the Journal. "It might even crash prices. For if wheat importers knew that the Government of Canada had all this wheat on its hands, that it must eventually sell, they wouldn't be rushing about paying high prices to farmers."

TWO MINUTES OF SILENCE.

(Stratford Beacon-Herald)

Perhaps this story should have been written as an interview and found its place with the news of yesterday. Yet it isn't exactly news, as we regard news; it is different in several ways.

News is something that must be recorded quickly; the paper must have it within a very short time after it happens. So this story is different because it has been going on for a long time.

A motherly sort of lady was standing near the war memorial on the 11th of November—yesterday. The service had been held the previous day, and she was viewing the display of wreaths placed there.

The whistle blew at eleven o'clock for the two minutes of silence and it was just then that a friend engaged her in conversation. There were a few remarks made about the display at the war memorial and then the sound of the whistle brought this remark. "I guess that is eleven o'clock for the two minutes of silence."

There came this answer: "Two minutes of silence. Why let me see there has been almost fifteen years of silence in our home since the boys went."

It may have been the surroundings, the wreaths, and the signal for silence that called for the short explanation: "Yes, it has been silent at our place since they went. They were just natural noisy boys, both of them, but at times I wonder if people who observe just two minutes of silence once a year know what it means to have had that silence in the home for almost fifteen years now. . . ."

So that is why we decided this item was not exactly news.

That is why it was decided to put it up at the top of the column, in a place often reserved for the discussion of some question that seems to be loaded with more immediate concern.

Perhaps lightly at times, and with some formality, do we pause for two minutes of silence on the eleventh day of November.

This mother has lived through almost fifteen years of silence.

EMPIRE TOBACCO PRODUCTION.

No more striking and significant example of how a preference in the British market can be utilized to subserve the matter of Empire trade development has yet been adduced than that afforded by the tobacco producing industry. Its story dates back only eleven years, to 1919 when the first concession to the principle of Imperial preference was granted by the British Coalition Government, amounting to one-sixth of the gross duty. In 1925, under the premiership of Mr. Stanley Baldwin, the concession was increased to an equivalent in money value of two shillings and a halfpenny (about fifty cents) per pound, later stabilized at this amount for a period of ten years. The result was remarkable. Production expansions occurred in all parts of the Empire, notably in Canada, and also in Northern and Southern Rhodesia, and Nyasaland in Central Africa, in the Union of South Africa, in India and Cyprus. Experiments, designed to test out the possibilities of tobacco cultivation, were undertaken in Australia, New Zealand and many other of the colonies and mandated territories.

Market openings also were rapidly found in Great Britain as evidenced by the Customs clearings. In 1919, before the first concession became operative, only a fraction over one per cent. of the clearances of leaf for home consumption in Great Britain was listed as of Empire origin. By 1924, the proportion had risen to 9.42 per cent.; by 1929 it had become 17.10 per cent., by far the most important sources of supply, in addition to the Canadian product, being India, Northern and Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland. All these latter producers compete with the Canadian leaf in the United Kingdom market, and because of this competition it is of vital importance to Canadian growers that they should be well-posted regarding what they are up against. They have the satisfaction of knowing, however, that the Tobacco Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, co-operating with the Department of Trade and Commerce, has collected much valuable information and holds it at the disposal of the Canadian industry.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Russia has a favorable trade balance with Great Britain of well over $250,000,000. Surely another argument in favor of greater trade within the Empire.

Eighteen years in the penitentiary was the sentence inflicted upon two bank robbers in Toronto yesterday. The mining brokerage racket would seem a safer plan.

Conferences of the Dominion and Provincial Ministers of Agriculture are to be held yearly henceforth. Much of benefit to the farming industry should develop from such meetings.

THE SILVER HAWK

By

WILLIAM BYRON MOWERY

"Maybe I can't understand you any more, but you'll understand me. We're going down to my Quesnal lodge. You seem to like being hidden in the mountains; that's fine; you'll like Quesnal."

Aurore shuddered and tried to draw away from him, but Carter-Snowdon laid his hand heavily on her shoulder—A gesture of his mastery now. It seemed his physical contact aroused Aurore to rebellion; a sudden fire kindled in her eyes; with a quick movement she freed herself, and she flung at him:

"You can take me there, you've got the power; but I've got power too—a power you dread; and I'll use it on you. In that telegram I warned you never to hunt for me. Maybe you didn't believe I meant that warning. You'd better believe me now! If you take me down to Quesnal, if you ever touch me again, see what happens to you!"

It fairly staggered Carter-Snowdon—this sudden defiance from Aurore. He had never expected her to make any struggle, much less to threaten him with the avalanche he dreaded. The change from the girl he had known to the spirited creature resisting him now was more astounding than her flight. He simply could not believe she meant her words.

He tried to domineer, to break her down: "Get these crazy ideas out of your head! You're going where I say—to Quesnal!"

"I'm not going! You don't dare take me!"

In the face of that defiance Carter-Snowdon could no longer harbour the delusion that Aurore regretted her flight and was eager to return to him. He began to see that there had been some reason, some powerful motive, for her fleeing away; and that she still clung to her reason.

And then, while he was groping, angry and exasperated, for explanation, over Aurore's shoulder Carter-Snowdon suddenly caught sight of that breakfast table—a table set for two, with the ashes of a cigarette on one plate and candles there as evidence that the meal had been eaten at night.

His whole body stiffened at the sight; the blood flew into his face; his fists slowly clenched and unclenched. For him that breakfast table exploded another delusion. Confronted with it he no longer could believe that Dorn's guardianship had amounted to a few innocent visits. The man had half lived here; he had taken her away with him all day in his plane; he had eaten meals here—at night! A jealouse rage flared up in Carter-Snowdon—an infuriate jealousy more violent than the passion which yesterday had caused him to fly along in hope of seeing Dorn go down to death. With that table in front of his eyes his imagination gibbeted him; and into his mind sprang the intent to punish the girl fittingly and to kill Dorn, for it seemed to him that only whe the other man was dead, when Dorn was dead and he himself still alive, could he blot out what had happened and have any feeling of triumph.

Aurore read the emotions livid on his face and guessed what thoughts he was harbouring. On a low, cold voice she said:

"He has eaten three meals with me in three weeks. He never touched . . . he never allowed himself as much liberty with me as you just now took." Aurore lashed him with stinging contempt: "Can't you even imagine a man who has a girl utterly in his power and still will not"—she faltered, and then used Dorn's own words—"and yet will not turn wolf?"

Carter-Snowdon did not answer; did not even hear Aurore. Out of the writhing tumult of his jealousy and rage an ugly fact had risen and taken shape and touched him with its cold hand, and was warning him: "Go slow, you're trapped, you're caught. You haven't any power over this girl; she has you in her power. You don't dare take her; you don't dare kill that other man. . ."

He had nearly blurted out his intention to be revenged on Dorn; but now he drew back warily, shocked and sobered, from that self-destruction. It came home to him that the whiphand was Aurore's if she chose to defy him. It was easy enough to threaten her with the Quesnal lodge, but the actual facts were another thing. Her mother would demand to know where she was; her friends would ask; and even thrown upon her own resources Aurore would be sure to escape, for she had a fortune to bribe the Indians and metis guarding her, and she could plot with them in their own language. He could not coerce her with physical power. He was beaten, unless . . .

He thought of taking her to some hiding safer than Quesnal. He thought of killing Dorn and letting her remain here till loneliness and starvation broke her will. Both plans he swept away; either one might prove to be dynamite exploding in his hands.

But he could not give up the lust to be revenged on Dorn, nor the prospect of taking Aurore down to his Quesnal lodge, for he had lived with that prospect till it was a madness in his blood. Now to find that she loved this cartographer; to find himself powerless to coerce her . . . beaten . . . threatened with something that would overwhelm him, annihilate him. . . .

He turned away from Aurore; it was his purpose to go down to the detective, and ask help, advice from the man who had double-crossed him once. But even as he turned, there sprang into his mind the first vague and formless idea of how he might crush Aurore McNain, with a power infinitely more certain, less dangerous to himself, than any physical compulsion; and he checked himself and stood hesitant a few moments till the whole scheme was sharp and clear and he had solid hold of it.

He whirled to Aurore. With a certain heavy shrewdness he said: "I suppose you're expecting him again to-night—here."

"He isn't coming again. Last night we bound ourselves not to see one another again. YHe promised me; he'll keep his promise; he'll never come, he'll never see me——"

Carter-Snowdon sensed something of her fighting love for Jim Dorn; and though it stung him, yet it was his very weapon against her. He said:

"You expect me to believe he'll keep away from you; that he isn't coming here any more! Well, I believe it! In fact, I know he won't!"

His veiled words caught Aurore's quick attention. Her brown eyes narrowed in puzzlement, in suspicion, as she tried to reason out what he could mean. She was looking at him sharply, her face upturned, so that when she did realize, when her fear did come—Carter-Snowdon saw it suddenly vivid on her features. She gasped, and recoiled from him with an inarticulate cry. It had been he who captured Aurore after combing the whole island; he had seen her fright then, but this now was a greater fear, and it surprised Carter-Snowdon himself to see how terrible a weapon he had discovered against Aurore. He exulted: "She isn't thinking of herself now! She won't stick at any niceties about herself now!"

Sure of his bludgeon, he went on, crushing all the fight out of Aurore: "What would any man in my place do? . . . him stealing you away from me, bringing you here, half living here; besides that, trying to kill me, dynamiting our camp! I held off till I could find you; but to-night, when he's there in his tent . . . You can run away from Quesnal, you can spread lies and damage me, but how much is that going to help him?"

Aurore went deathly white of face, and her eyes wild with terror. The ghastly threat to murder Jim Dorn brought her world crashing down upon her. She could see now that Dorn had deliberately shielded her from all knowledge of her enemies; that he had been fighting them lone-handed all these weeks; but yesterday those planes had been enemy planes . . .

As if echoing her very thoughts, Carter-Snowdon spoke:

"We intended to get him yesterday. But you were in his machine. We let him go because of you. But to-night——"

Aurore cried out, 'Can you stop that—stop that to-night?" She clasped his arm and in broken sobs she begged of him: "I brought this on Jim. . . . He—we're guilty of nothing—nothing. . . . He must not . . . You'll stop that . . . You'll let them . . ."

In those moments following, Carter-Snowdon was uncertain whether or not he would kill the cartographer, Dorn; for in Aurore' naked eyes, in her cry that Dorn and she were guiltless, there was something which gave the lie to his jealous thoughts. He believed now that she had sent Dorn away and they would never see one another again, and he realized why Aurore had done that. And the belief of Aurore's innocence grew on him till it was a certainty in his mind, an anodyne to his fever, and he was no longer obsessed with the desire to punish her.

Moved by her abjectness, by her clinging to him, he promised: 'Down there at Titan Pass they're waiting on my word, my order. I'll not send it. You'll go down ot Quesnal, you'll not try to get away or to damage me. So long as you do that . . ."

Aurore's hand dropped from his arm and she looked away, now that she knew the ultimatum. After several moments her eyes came back to Carter-Snowdon and she met his gaze squarely, and she asked an honest, a deliberate and deadly question of him:

"What—at Quesnal?"

Carter-Snowdon did not reply to that. It was a question which demanded that he pronounce judgment upon himself. He knew what the answer inevitably would be, it was answered already in his possessive and tumultuous impulses toward Aurore; but he could not face her and say what was in his heart or even admit it to his own self. His eyes shifted from hers; he took a miserable refuge behind a threat.

"Get out to the plane—if you want to stop that from happening to-night. I've given you your chance; right now you're deciding—whether he's to live or die."

Watching her, Carter Snowdon saw that with Aurore there was no struggle at all. She went past him, to the door, and opened it; and he saw her glance back from the threshold and look for a last time at everything in the cabin, but not at him; and then start down the path toward the waiting plane. In a few seconds he roused himself, and followed.

CHAPTER XXVIII

ENLIGHTMENT

During those two hours of darkness after he left Aurore, Dorn flew down across the mountains toward Titan Pass. Now and then he would glance at the misty ranges under keel and swing a little farther west; in those three weeks he had built up the habit never to come home out of the north. He was tired and flight-weary—so tired that he flew mechanically and the instruments blurred in front of his eyes, but the weariness could not dull his thoughts or give him any rest.

It was during this lonely flight that Dorn for the first time was unable to keep his mind away from the question of Aurore's relation with Henry Carter-Snowdon. More than once since his discovery that their relations had been intimate and personal, this question had coiled and struck at him in an unguarded moment; he had been able to push it away until now; and even now when he could no longer evade it, he denied, with hot anger at himself, the one explanation which was indicated by the meagre details he knew of Aurore's trouble and by all she had told him of herself.

When the gray dawn broke Dorn was eighty miles west of Titan Pass, and as he swung east, following the Canadian National home, his thoughts went afiead to his enemies at Euax Mortes, and he planned his steps for that day. He reasoned that with old Luke ambushed along the mesa trail, Aurore was safe from those 'breeds; and with Aurore warned against exposing herself, she was safe from those two machines discovering her refuge. He had built up the best defence in his power; and he felt that only by some crushing accident would Carter-Snowdon ever find Aurore.

Dorn planned to close out his camp at Titan Pass and fly across to Eagle Nest by noon, and tell Kansas that now he was to take over the personal guardianship of Aurore McNain. He thought: "Kansas ought to have this plane in case trouble breaks on him some day. I'll give him the Silver Hawk and use his machine—what time I'm still here." He hoped that Kansas, who usually visited him over the week-end, would not be waiting for him at Titan Pass; if Kansas kept outside the pale of suspicion, he could come and go to Aurore's lake unwatched.

A further plan came to Dorn; and though it was vague, a mere outline, he immediately recognized it as something which he would eventually do. He decided —a bitter resolution: "I'll wait till Luke has stopped those 'breeds, till Kansas visits Aurore again and I know everything's all right between them; then I'll go over to Ontario and take that Red Lake offer." His own aching need to get away from these mountains with their haunting and tragic memories was only a small part of Dorn's reason for deciding to go. If his presence would have helped Aurore in any manner, he would not have thought of going. But there was nothing more he could do for her here; on the contrary, his very presence endangered her. He felt that by leaving he could do her a last service, his best service of all. He thought:

What To-day Means To You

"SCORPIO"

If November 20th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7 a.m. to 10 a.m. and from 4:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. The one danger period is from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Astrological signs on this date are quite encouraging from a material standpoint, and business progress seems to be assured. On the other hand, there is a prospect of quarrels, bickerings differences.

Children born on this November 20th will, even in their infancy, be original and not imitative. As they mature, they will be of an inventive turn of mind, patient, attentive to detail, and quite persevering. A fair measure of success will attend their efforts.

You are both energetic and active, but are too keen to do everything yourself. You have no confidence in the work of others, and prefer to be entirely on your own. This attitude of mind, in view of your exceptional abilities and wide vision, is a drawback rather than an advantage. If you were willing to relegate to others the working out of details, you would be able to accomplish so much more.

You are rather impatient, and as a result your quick grasp of affairs, you cannot tolerate what to you are long drawn out explanations. In this manner, you frequently make mistakes, and arrive at erroneous conclusions. Your memory is very retentive, and although not fooled by external appearances, you are often "at sea," when dealing with members of the opposite sex, as, occasionally your emotional nature is aroused, and sentiment triumphs over reason.

Your disposition is rather mercurial, and you are, at times, moody and sad. These fits, however, do not last long, and are immediately succeeded by a spasmodic gaiety and a very winning congeniality. On the whole, the stars promise you a life full of interest, and a fair amount of success. The greatest blows in your life will be dealt during youth or early manhood or womanhood.

Gordon Enters Suit Against the Council

LINDSAY, Nov. 20.—(Special to The Examiner).—His Honor Judge Swayze has reserved judgment in the joint action entered by Constable Gordon of Fenelon Falls against the municipal council of that village for $100.00 for assessing in 1930, claiming that this work was not included in his regular duties as constable. In the second action he claimed damages for wrongful dismissal by the council as constable of the village. C. G. Frost of Lindsay acted for Mr. Gordon, while T. J. Parley of Fenelon Falls represented the municipality. The case aroused a great deal of interest.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

BRIDGEBURG FIRM AWARDED CONTRACT

LINDSAY, Nov. 20.—(Special to The Examiner).—The Horton Steel Works of Bridgeburg, Ont., has been given the contract by the local Board of Water Commissioners for the erection of a stand pipe in the western part of the town and adjacent to the Ross Memorial Hospital. This standpipe, which will have a capacity of 290,000 gallons of water, and is constructed for the purpose of ensuring the municipality of an adequate supply of water for fire and domestic purposes and will also relieve the demand on the local pump house. The main reservoir will hold 250,000, while the "riser" pipe below will contain 40,000 gallons. The steel frame work for the pipe is nearly erected.

Next spring it is the intention of the Commission to deal with the question of an improved water supply for domestic purposes. The water supplied the citizens from the Scugog river at present is far from being satisfactory, and the advisability of installing artesian wells is now being considered.

DAILY MAIL SERVICE WANTED TO APSLEY

For Six Months of Year Service Has Only Been Three Times a Week.

For some years past Apsley and district has had a daily mail service for only six months of the year and for the other six months three times a week. Efforts are now being made for a daily service between Lakefield and Apsley for ten months of the year which seems to be a modest enough request inasmuch as the stage made daily trips all last winter between Lakefield and Apsley. A petition has been signed by practically all the ratepayers in the district and Dr. Emburv, the Federal member, has been enlisted to give his efforts on behalf of new daily service.

In any center of population great or small daily mail communication is very essential and as Apsley is the centre of a very large district, the daily mail service that is proposed would be of immense value to a large number of people.

FINANCIAL BRIEFS

New regulations prohibiting limited liabilities companies from operating on the Toronto Stock Exchange will become effective at the first of the New Year and in the meantime those who have been operating as limited liability concerns are putting their houses in order and in recent weeks several changes have been announced in the personel of local brokerage organizations conciliation of a few houses has been announced and all proportions made to comply with the new by-laws. Early last fall the committee of the local exchange adopted a by-law empowering the exchange to form a board of independent auditors to make audits of all members books through the year. This board worked entirely independent of the exchange and the satisfactory manner in which it has functioned is found in the act that there has not been a failure on the Toronto Stock Exchange during this period when security values were dropping and volume fell off considerably. This is a good record in view of the failures in Montreal and New York.

Research Work.

With a view to increasing operating efficiency, Gypsum, Lime and Alabastine, Canada, Limited, has formed a board of four company officials to do research work in manufacturing and marketing problems. This board has as its chairman, Major G. M. Thomson of Caledonia, long connected with the development of the company and other members are, F. S. Bridges, head of the construction department, James Govan, particularly known for his architectural research on insulation and Angus Graham, Toronto industrial engineer. It is anticipated by the management that the appointment of this board will lead to increased operating efficiency throughout the entire organization and important economies.

Bargains in Stocks.

The Wall Street Journal quotes a New York broker as saying that even better bargains exist in stocks than in Fifth Avenue stores. "The latter," he said, "have made very drastic price reductions, in some cases from 25 per cent to 50 per cent. But many good stocks are off 50 per cent to 75 per cent from prices prevailing in September last year. It is my firm belief that stocks will be very popular Christmas presents this year."

"Fight the good fight with all thy might," was one of the hymns sung at a wedding at Twickenham, England, recently.

COPPER SITUATION SETTLES PENDING MORE DEVELOPMENTS

Traders Unwilling to Make Further Commitments Until Trend of Events Indicated.

AGNEW QUASHES RUMORS.

TORONTO, Nov. 20 (Special to Examiner.)—Action on the mining Market was dull to-day, prices moving within narrow limits and in an irregular manner. Copper situation appears to have settled down for the time being awaiting effect of stabilizing efforts and traders in copper stocks are unwilling to make further committments until trend of events is indicated. As anticipated, prices have established themselves at somewhat improved levels and the general market picture is considerably brighter.

Though some customs smelters and second hands are offering metal at concessions, large producers are holding copper at 12 cents delivered and no change has been reported in the export price of 12.30 Cif European ports. Domestic consumers are making few enquiries, having purchased requirements fairly well ahead and foreign buying has diminished.

World production of copper, according to the American Bureau of Metal Statistics was 152,544 short tons in October, an increase of 139 short tons over September world production in October 1929 totalled 175,360 tons.

"We will not be increasing our staff until the business depression now being experienced shows some improvement," J. J. Agnew, vice president of International Nickel, is reported to have stated when interviewed in his office at Copper Cliff, recently. He answered in the negative when asked if he expected any development in the near future with the increase of copper prices.

Mr. Agnew pointed out that rumors prevalent in the district that Inco would soon extend its activities to include manufacture of present products into utensils were baseless. Manufacturer of copper and nickel products for commercial and domestic purposes was for other business concerns, he said. He was of the opinion the present increase in copper price did not reflect any more activity in mining and smelting operations.

Should the efforts being made to reduce surplus copper stocks above prove successful and the price of the metal be stabilized at a reasonable level, it is possible that Amulet mines will be back on a production basis, next April or May The mine and mill were closed down a month ago.

Amulet has demonstrated it can make good profits, 14 to 15 cent copper with zinc recoveries helping. Even with the low prices for zinc-worst seen in a generation—the company made money shipping concentrates to Belgium. Since the property closed there has been an improvement in zinc prices, small, but possibly significant.

FORD OF CANADA RISES ABOVE 22

NICKEL UNCHANGED.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 20.)—(By the Canadian Press)—The market on Toronto Stock Exchange was firm this morning, but there was no improvement in the trading. Ford of Canada was on of the firmest spots along the board, rising above 22 early in the second hour and holding the greater part of this gain. Strength in New York accounted for the rise locally.

Dominion Stores met with better support at the opening, confirming the belief that liquidation on account of suspension of a New York firm of which a member was a director of Dominion Stores had run its course yesterday. The stock was up nearly a point, selling at 13¾ at midday.

International Nickel, C.P.R., Bell Telephone, were unchanged to a small fraction higher. Brazilian did not record a single transaction the first couple of hours. Scarcely any changes took place in prices of the oil stocks. Service Stations was firmer but not active.

Hamilton Bridge remained unchanged Standard Paving continued to sell at 15.

BUDGETARY METHOD IS FAVORED IN LIMITING NAVAL ARMAMENTS

Measure Approved Over Opposition of France, United States and Japan.

LORD CECIL SEES SNAG.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 20 (C.P.)—Over the opposition of the French, United States and Japanese delegates the Disarmament Commission to-day approved employment of the budgetary method for limiting naval armaments.

Lord Cecil of Great Britain, who championed to-day's action, recognized the impossibility of concluding a general convention providing budgetary limitation for fleets unless some way of accommodating the United States and Japanese position could be found.

He declared this scheme for fixing a maximum figure for naval expenditures was regarded by the British as purely supplementary to the direct method embodied in the Washington and London treaties.

The vote for the budget limit for navies was:—

For.—Great Britain, Canada, Russia, Ireland, Norway, Persia, Finland, Italy, Rumania, Holland.

Against.—United States, France, Japan.

The commission also concluded adoption of the naval limitation draft which transfers the principles of the Washington and London Treaties into a general convention for all nations. The articles approved to-day concerned definitions, exemptions and rules for the transfer of tonnage.

Slight Improvement Among Unemployed

"With the inauguration of the Government relief work, at present being undertaken by the City Council, the unemployment situation has improved considerably, "said Hugh Robertson, superintendent of the Government Employment Service office here, to The Examiner.

There is an improvement in the situation of a few weeks ago, despite a rather anomalous condition which exists, whereby the registrations almost total the 500 mark.

This was explained by Mr. Robertson, who states that a large percentage of the registered applicants for situations are at present engaged on Government relief work. They are kept on the list for the reason that the work is distributed chiefly to married men, who are taken on in shifts. That is to say, they work alternate weeks, thus affording a fair and equal distribution of employment for the maximum number of men.

Unemployment figures are also boosted by the number of transients who drift through the city.

Mr. Robertson spoke highly of the response which citizens made to the recent, "Give a Man a Job" appeal. It had resulted in casual employment to a large number of men.

There is little demand these days for farm labour, but the slate this morning listed two situations vacant, one for a woman cook for camp and the other for a salesman with a car.

CANADIAN GENERAL OPEN ON SATURDAY

The amazing noiselessness and rapidity with which this gigantic building took shape, constitutes one of the marvels of modern engineering science. Nearby stand the boiler room and lower house, at present in the hands of the stonemasons and steam fitters, who are in talling giant turbines, which when completed will afford the plant a supply of electrical energy from five different sources.

Visitors, will be received at the main gates, by the timekeepers office at two o'clock on Saturday and will be escorted around the plant until four o'clock. A large staff will be on hand including the Company's fire department, who will be stationed at many vantage points to guide the wondering sightseers on their tour.

NEW STORE FRONT

Alterations in the hands of Braund Brothers, contractors, are now being undertaken at Sam Jordan's floral shop on Charlotte street, but they are not interfering with business, which is moving along in the usual channels.

The improvements consist of the installation of a completely new store front, of modern design. When completed, the door which was formerly on the west side of the store, built in at an angle, will be on the opposite side of the front, and will open in directly at right angles to the sidewalk.

Wheat Prices Gain On Chicago Market

On the trading floor of the Board of Trade the word went around that agencies of the Federal Farm Board had lifted to 76½ cents a bushel their buying price for May wheat, new contracts. Houses which previously have acted for the stabilization corporation placed bids at that level, ½ cent higher than they offered yesterday.

APPOINTED SPEAKER

QUEBEC, Que., Nov. 20 (C.P.)—Hon. Jacob Nicol, Member of the Legislative Council and former Provincial Treasurer, has been named Speaker of that body in succession to Hon. Adelard Turgeon who died recently. The appointment was announced following to-day's meeting of the Provincial Cabinet.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

REFUSED WORK ON NEW HIGHWAY

No Jobs For City Residents Unemployed Are Told When They Apply.

THOUGHT RELIEF JOB.

Several of the city's unemployed are reported to have applied for work on the new highway east of the city and to have been told that there were no jobs for city residents. Their impression was the highway was begun at this season not only because it had been planned as a permanent improvement, but also as a means of absorbing unemployed men in this neighborhood without excluding those who happen to live in the city Quite a number of farmers are already engaged on the road between the city and Norwood, drawing gravel and spreading it, but on the contract stretch along the block road it was though that city men would have an equal chance with residents of the townships. Street opinion is that there is no ground whatever for discrimination on this job except for farmers whose teams are needed.

HIGHER TREND ON MINE LIST

Hudson Bay, Coast Copper and Pend Oreille Among Issues to Firm.

GOLDS INACTIVE.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 20.—(By the Canadian Press)—Trade was dull during forenoon on the mining market to-day with the relatively few movements taking an irregular to slightly higher trend.

International Nickel and Noranda, in light turnover, eased a few cents from last night, while Hudson Bay and Coast Copper both firmed a quarter. Pend Oreille was stronger at 77 and Sherritt Gordon sold up 3 at 85 other Lindsleys were quiet.

Golds were an unusually inactive group, many failing to put in an appearance prior to noon. Teck Hughes, whose meeting in Buffalo yesterday was reported to have struck an optimistic note sold up 5 at $5.70 and Mining Corp., advanced another couple to $1.35.

Acme and Nordon, up a point or so each, showed the only changes in the oils.

Nine Lives Are Lost In Motor Accident

Nine lives were instantly lost in an accident this afternoon on Water street within thirty feet of the police station. A small, white mongrel dog was responsible for all nine deaths. The dog spied a cat on the sidewalk and gave chase. The cat in its frantic effort to escape, darted beneath the wheels of a huge truck. Its nine lives were quickly ended.

A beautiful collie dog also was killed by a motor car this afternoon, at the corner of Sherbrooke and George streets. One of the collie's legs was broken and a police constable ended its suffering with a bullet.

NEW YORK LIST ADVANCES IN INCREASED TRADING VOLUME

LOAN MONEY ABUNDANT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (By the Canadian Press)—The stock market took on a tinge of bullishness to-day, as prices pushed through to new high ground for the recovery which began 10 days ago.

Few gains exceeded a point or two but the volume of trading increased moderately. Trading appeared to be largely professional, and operations for the advance appeared in the motion picture, merchandising, and motor groups.

Shares gaining 2 points or so included American Water Works, Byers, Loews, Westinghouse Electric, and Allis Chalmers, while 3 to 4 points advances were recorded by Macy, Electric Auto Lite and Foster Wheeler.

Among many shares gaining a point or more wer U. S. Steel, American Can, General Electric, American Telephone, National Biscuit, General Motors, Chrysler, May and Hahn department stores, Grand - Silver, Safeway, Fox, Radio Keith, Columbia Graphophone, North American, Consolidated Gas, Air Reduction and Union Carbide.

Efforts to stabilize commodity prices seemed to be encountering obstacles in some instances. One first hand copper deal report was said to have offered the metal as low as 10⅛ cents a pound, while large producers still held to their price of 12 cents. Advices from Amsterdam contradicted recent Wall Street rumors that a move was under way to restrict production in the Dutch East Indies, with the co-operation of the Government. The wheat market, however, maintained its improved tone, and Chairman Legge of the Farm Board expressed the opinion that the wheat situation was working out satisfactorily.

Credit remained abundant. Call money was available in the outside market at 1 per cent, and time loan rates were shaded a little. The Government is expected to take advantage of this situation with a large Treasury offering within a few weeks.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

Foreign exchange steady. Demand rates (Great Britain in dollars, others in cents): Great Britain, 4.85 9-16; France, 3.92¾; Italy, 5.23 1-8. Canadian dollars at 9-64 of one per cent. premium.

PREPARING ENCYLICAL.

VATICAN CITY, No. 20.— (C.P.) —Pope Pius was understood to-day to be preparing a new encylical dealing generally with the question of universal peace and indirectly with disarmament.

LAURA SECORD HOME BURNED.

NIAGARA FALLS, Nov. 20.— (C. P.)—Late last night one of the landmarks of the district, the Laura Secord home on Water street, Chippawa, was destroyed by fire. Only the bricks, walls nad part of the roof remain standing. This was the original home of Laura Secord, heroine of the war of 1812 and was a mecca for patriotic Canadians.

LEGION BAZAAR IS BIG SUCCESS

Hall is Exceptionally Well Decorated This Year—Many Dainty Booths.

CLOSES TO-NIGHT.

One of the most successful bazaars in the history of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion is being held at the Legion Hall. It started yesterday, with the opening presided over by E. A. Peck, M.P., and J. F. Strickland, M.P.P., and finishes to-night, when the drawing for various articles offered at the different booths will be held.

The hall is exceptionally pretty this year, and the articles on sale at the booths are very dainty. There is a wide range of things, with something for every taste and purse. The ladies, who have been working busily for months past, preparing for this annual event, have surpassed themselves in energetic endeavor to make their bazaar a real success.

The hall, with plenty of soft lights, making a cosy interior, is decorated with quantities of overhead pennants and the booths are arranged with red, white, and blue fronts. They are ranged around the hall, against the walls, while a little tea-room in the south-end has small tables centred with flower vases. Afternoon tea was served during both days.

Mrs. J. Mills General Convenor.

Mrs. J. Mills, president of the Auxiliary, is general convenor, assisted by members in the different booths. At the yellow and mauve candy table, where little boxes of sweetmeats are done up in prettily colored papers, are Mesdames W. H. Peryer, F. Millard, W. Howell, and A. E. Everitt. The bedroom sale of dainty fancy work and useful pyjamas and night gowns, is in charge of Mesdames E. McKinstry, E. Porter, and A. Monks, while the dining-room accessories in linens and embroideries are sold by Mesdames G. Foster, E Delong, and W. Johnson. The kitchen sale of preserves and home-made cooking is supervised by Mesdames B. P. Walton, A. Parrington, and J. Gynane, and aprons and babies' woollen things are sold by Mesdames E. Dormer, G. Chambers, and W. Rowe.

A sale of novelties in pretty Christmas gifts and boudoir accessories is in charge of Mesdames D. Manley, E. Cooke, and A. Cripps, while quilts and comforters and a rummage sale are looked after by Mesdames S. J. Waterman, E. Houghton, and A. Gash.

Mrs. J. Little has the fish pond, and Mrs. M. Lynch tells fortunes.

The little tea-room is in charge of Mrs. W. Hughes, assisted by Mesdames J. Peace, Brazendale, Mackness, A. Clark, R. Paterson, Wagstaffe, W. Dunmitt, and J. W. Devail.

Tea was poured yesterday afternoon by Mrs. W. R. Morris and Mrs. E. H. Wood officiated this afternoon.

To-night sees the closing of the bazaar, with many pretty things still available at moderate prices, also the drawing for various things offered at the booths, in the way of large dolls, iced cakes, an embroidered tea set ,a worked afghan, and a wool rug.

MARION BAILEY ESSAY WINNER

Oratorical Contest Staged Under Auspices of the League at Stirling.

SEVERAL SPEAKERS.

STIRLING Nov. 20 (Examiner Correspondence)—Choosing for her subject, "The Alphabet," Miss Marion Bailey was successful in winning the oratorical contest held on Monday evening under the auspices of the League, which was in charge of the Missionary branch.

Harry Hulin was in the chair and after a brief song service, Miss Lillian McGuire took charge. Miss McGuire explained to those present that the generosity of W. H. Martin made possible the main feature of the evening, the oratorical contest. Mr. Martin each year donates $50 to the Missionary Branch, but it must be won by these young orators. Four contestants signified their intention to enter, but two did not appear.

Miss Marion Bailey was the first speaker and carried her audience back to the dark ages when peculiar ones conveyed the meaning of one's wants. It would seem now that there were strange interpretations in those days.

Miss Ruby Stapley, the second speaker, chose for her subject, The Industrial Possibilities of Northern Ontario. She presented her ideas in a clear and forceful manner and brought to mind many suggestions of development of this country.

The young orators, although very young and pupils of Form 1 of High School, did remarkably well. The judges for the contest were Mrs. A Dobbie, F. Hulin and G. Clute.

HUNT YARNS FOLLOW FISH STORIES NOW

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 20. (Examiner Staff Correspondent) — At last they come, some of those good old hunting stories, and they are on a par with the proverbial fish story too.

This one comes from the Tom Davis hunt club that operated in the Sudbury district. Besides the captain, who is from Bridgenorth, the following men in the camp were from the same place. Albert Davis, H. Pierson, H. Telford, William Trude, Bill Hurd, 13. A. Webster of Lakefield and Chief G. C. Bromley of Campbellford.

And here's the yarn. It is reported that Trude shot a large doe, but did not make the final dispatch, so Telford held the animal down by the ear. Then a mixup occured, and the beast got away. The story goes that Trude was lucky enough to get a ride on the doe's back for half a mile before parting company from it, but of this fact there is no confirmation.

However, the club made their full count and are well satisfied with their trip.

Tired and Rundown

"Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was always feeling tired, weak and rundown and I worried over things. Since taking the Compound that feeling has left me. I can work now and not get so tired. I do my wash and take care of my house and three children. I eat and sleep better. In fact, I feel better in every way. I will answer letters from interested women at any time."—Mrs. H. C. Fletcher, 127 Smith St., Peterboro, Ontario.

INSTITUTE PLAY WELL RECEIVED

"Marrying Anne" Enacted By Young People of Roseneath in Orange Hall.

TAKE PARTS WELL.

ROSENEATH, Nov. 20 (Examiner Correspondence)—The play "Marrying Anne" put on by the young people in the Orange Hall on Friday evening proved a howling success. Each player acted their part exceedingly well.

Lewis Roberts favored the audience with a humorous song "Well you can't think of everything, can you," and responded his loud applause with a comic song. Another feature in the program which was very pleasing was given by little Lillian Calbery, aged three years, who danced for the audience, keeping step with the music of the victrola. The little tot is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Calbery of Colborne. Music between acts was rendered by the Doxtator family, who treated the old folk with some old time selections and again played the latest up to date selections.

Mrs. Delbert Brisbin made an excellent chairlady and thanked those who had come to enjoy the entertainment, and on behalf of the Women's Institute in showing their appreciation, she reminded her hearers that the ladies of the society will be pleased to help, any who are in need, that can be aided through the society.

Mrs. Halstead and Mrs. L. Nichol were door keepers. The proceeds amounted to $67.15.

INTEREST REVIVES IN LONDON THEATRE

Sir John Ervine's Serious Play Remains Highly Popular.

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 20. (By Thos. T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—In the two centuries' history of the famous Haymarket Theatre there has never been such a success as Sir John Ervine's comedy "The First Mrs. Fraser" with Henry Ainley in one of the principal characters. The play shows no signs at present of failing to draw capacity houses. Observers, knowing the success of this piece and of other plays of a like character, are inclined to think that it betokens that the theatre-going public are giving an increased and sustained patronage to plays which depend for their success upon adroit characterization and keen psychological observation.

Two other essentially serious plays which have proved popular in the best sense this year are "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" and "Street Scene." The London theatre-goer has also at his command several good comedies and farces, ranging from Noel Coward's impudent "Private Lives" to the uproarious absurdities of "It's a Boy," and quite a number of the best actors and actresses seem doomed to that long continued playing of one role which is not always thought very good for individual talent.

At the Hampstead Garden Suburb, where many literary people have gathered, John Galsworthy gave a reading of his poems in aid of the Council of Social Welfare. Those guests who had bought tickets at a guinea each were allowed to bring with them one copy of any of Mr. Galsworthy's books. These were autographed by Mr. Galsworthy in the course of the evening.

The suggestion that a portion of the profits of the British Broadcasting Corporation should be allotted by the Government for the purpose of establishing a national theatre was made by Harley Granville-Barker, speaking at the annual conference of the British Drama League at Exeter. He explained that such a grant from the B.B.C. funds might be allotted by the Government to be used first as a credit for the establishment of a national theatre and then, as a sufficient yearly endowment for its support.

"A credit of about one million pounds would be needed to meet the cost of a national theatre" he said. "I do not think it practicable to raise a credit of one million pounds from private subscription. I thing in some form or other we must look for public money, and I want official approval for the scheme."

FIRE DAMAGES DAM.

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 20. (Examiner Correspondence).—The Lakefield fire brigade was called out about 5.30 a.m. on Tuesday to put out a fire which had gained great headway at the new dam at Lock No. 3 and which was a serious menace to the timbers of the old dam. The entire superstructure of the dam was destroyed and the old dam badly damaged. The Lakefield brigade did splendid service and prevented the damage from becoming more serious. The fire had gained great headway and was beyond the control of men at the dam when the alarm was sent in.

W. A. O'Brian Conducts Young People's Meet

MILLBROOK, Nov 20.—(Examiner Correspondence)—Oliver Brock, convenor of the Citizenship Department had charge of the meeting of the Young People's Society at Saint Andrew's church on Monday evening, the opening worship period being conducted by W. A. O'Brian, teacher of the Tuxis Square Bible Class of the Sunday school.

Mr. O'Brian chose for the scripture lesson Paul's greater chapter, I Corinthains 13, and based his remarks on the symbol of the Y.M.C.A. with special application to the boyhood of Jesus, which was studied a a fitting conclusion to the devotional part of the meeting.

Mr. Kelly, who is vice-president of the Y.P.S. of the Cobourg Presbytery, gave a most comprehensive talk on the timely subject, "How to Earn Money," advancing many practical suggestions, and such material that was new to the listeners.

A piano solo by Miss Dorothy McDowell contributed to the musical part of the service, which was closed with the usual Y.P.S. benediction. Next week the social committee, Miss Marjorie Sayles, convenor, will be responsible for the meeting.

BRITISH RULE ABOLISHES WAR AMONG THE TRIBES IN AFRICA

Natives Practice Periodical Warfare to Provide Outlet For Man's Fighting Instincts.

TRIBAL FEUDS UNKNOWN.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 20 — One thousand miles in Nigeria's interior is a primitive African tribe called the Tangale which innumerable years ago put into practice the idea of periodical warfare to provide outlet for man's fighting instincts. The peculiar custom followed in regular cycles —seven years of warfare and seven years of peace.

But all that is now ended. Tribal feuds are almost unknown under the present day British rule, relates Rev. John Hall, who after 14 long years of missionary work among the Tangales is in Ottawa enjoying a brief vacation at the home of a brother. When Nigeria came under the protection of the British Government 30 years ago administrators were sent into the various districts of the vastly populated territory. The tribal leaders among its population of eighteen millions now take their troubles to these administrators for peaceable arbitration.

An insight into the history of the Tangale given by Rev. Mr. Hall was thorough and colorful. Tradition, he pointed out, has it that the original quarrel which led to development of the cycles of warfare started over a woman. A brave of East Tangale eloped with a maid of the West Tangale tribe without paying for her the standardized bride-price of eight goats and 110 hoe heads. Bloody warfare followed.

The custom was that at the end of the seventh harvest war was inaugurated with elaborate ceremonies. Fighting and skirmishing between the neighboring tribes continued for the next seven harvests. Then it came to an automatic end with ceremonies equally as pompous as those which marked its beginning. There was always an official, hereditary war lord to lead the people and the high ranking hero was he who returned with the largest number of enemy heads. Battles were fiercely fought for capture was worse than death as the Tangales have even yet cannibalistic tendencies.

Now that the Tangale has been led closer to civilization he engages mainly in agricultural pursuits supplemented by a little hunting. The only instrument for cultivation is a roughly formed hoe made of iron which they mine themselves. Small replicas of the hoe heads form the basis of a coinage system which, with the flocks and land titles, is the hereditary wealth of the tribe. Their chief crops are of guinea corn anod millet.

Africa is not becoming rapidly civilized in regard to customs, Rev. Mr. Hall declares.. It is the desire of the British Government to preserve whatever is of worth in the native customs and not to create discontent by leading the people to civilization too quickly as, he believed, had been done in the case of India. The African government ruled the people indirectly through their native chiefs and interfered in local affairs only when a tribe engaged in inhuman practices. By these means Britain was governing effectively and was laying the groundwork for a stable nation in the future.

Campbellford Holds Court Of Revision

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 20. — An adjourned meeting of the Campbellford Court of Revision was held on November 12, with Reeve J. M. Bygott presiding. Others present were Councillors, H. N. Carr, N. Alex McColl and J. R. Battisby.

J. G. G. Kerry of Toronto, president of the Quinte and Trent Valley Power Company was also present and addressed the court in regard to the appeal of the company.

Mr. Kerry pointed out that in accord with the Assessment Act, back assessment could only go back three years inclusive of the current year, thus as far back as taxes could be levied on the Quinte and Trenty Valley Power Company was 1928.

On motion of Councillor Carr and seconded by Councillor Battisby it was passed that the Court deal only with the taxes levied against the Quinte and Trent Valley Power Company, which were not paid for the years 1928, 1929 and 1930.

A proposition was submitted by Councillor MacColl in which the taxes would be based on assessment per rate to the time the power was in operation. This was finally put in the form of a motion.

Moved by Councillor MacColl, seconded by Councillor Carr, that, from the year 1928 the assessment of the Quinte and Trent Valley Power Co. be based for its land at $20,000; on buildings, $5,833; on business $833.00; total assessment for year, $26,666.

For the year 1929, land $20,000; buildings, $35,000; business, $5,000. Total assessment for year $60,000.

For the year 1930, land $20,000; buildings, $11,600; business $1,666. Total assessment for year, $33,332. Grand total for three years, $119,998. This motion was carried.

OBITUARY

JOHN BROCK

LINDSAY, November 20 (Examiner Correspondence). — The death occurred in Ops Township on Tuesday of John Brock, a well-known farmer of this district, and a descendant of Sir Isaac Brock, who was killed at the Battle of Queenston Heights in the war of 1814.

Mr. Brock was in his seventieth year and had been in ill health for the past two years. He was a prominent member of the U.F.O. in the days when the organization wielded quite an influence in this country. He was also Reeve of the Township of Ops and a member of the County Council for two years.

JAMES MATTHEWS

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 20 (Examiner Correspondence). — James Matthews died yesterday at the home of his son in Dummer Township at the age of 82 years, following a brief illness. The late Mr. Matthews was a farmer by occupation and had lived practically all his life in Dummer Township. He was a life-long member of the United Church.

He leaves to mourn his loss, two sons, Herbert and William Russell, both of Dummer; and three daughters, Mrs. Sidney Watney and Mrs. Gordon Lloyd and Mrs. Agnes Grant.

The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. from Russell's home to the Third Line cemetery, Rev. Mr. Wilkinson of Warsaw will officiate.

SOCIETY PLANS CHRISTMAS BALE

DORCAS WORK DISCUSSED.

MILLBROOK, Nov. 20.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Mrs. Herbert Russell was hostess for the November meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of Saint Thomas' Anglican church, the gathering being at her home, King street, on Monday evening, with a fair attendance, the president, Mrs. C. M.Westmacott, occupying the chair.

The opening worship period was in charge of Rev. P. W. A. Roberts, rector in charge of the parish, and following the devotions the reports of the officers were received, these including the Junior W.A.; the Little Helpers; and the Women's Guild. Reports were satisfactory showing all financial obligations met, and a fair balance on hand in each case.

The discussion regarding the sending of the usual Christmas bale, for which a 'pound' shower is generally held, each member contributing a pound of groceries, took up considerable time; this bale is sent to a needy parish of which word is received from Toronto, and helps provide Christmas cheer for a number of families.

The Dorcas work, which is chiefly concerned with the bale containing a complete outfit for an Indian girl at some mission school in the west, also came up for attention; this bale has been, in the past, a united effort on the part of all the Auxiliaries of the parish, and is shipped in April. There is some likelihood that one church, Saint John's, may desire to ship its own bale next spring, instead of joining with the othres in this missionary enterprise.

Regret was expressed at the death of Miss Young, who has for some years been the representative of the Branch to which Millbrook belongs at the Diocesan office in Toronto, and whose decease means the removal of a warm friend, and one whose correspondence will be sadly missed. Her successor has yet to be appointed.

The local branch of the W.A. has been in the habit of attending service on Saint Andrew's Day, when corporate communion is observed. As this date falls on Sunday, November 31, this year, the rector will be unable to have the special service that morning, but on Monday, December 1, the Auxiliary will gather in the church for the Lord's Supper dispensed by Rev. Mr. Roberts, who will also give an address appropriate to the Auxiliary aims and activities.

The nomination of officers for 1931 occupied some time, the list to be submitted to the January meeting of the W.A. for election. Several of those already in office were renominated, and much regret was felt that Mrs. H. W. Jordan, assistant superintendent of the Junior W.A., who has most successfully filled that office for some time past, will be unable to continue in the position. Owing to her mother's illness, following an operation, Mrs. Jordan expects to spend some time in Hamilton helping with the care of Mrs. Crealock, and will necessarily have to be relieved of some of her duties locally until she has less responsibility in other directions.

The secretary, Miss Rose Macnamara, read the epitome of two chapters from the study book on "Japan", prepared by Mrs. Jordan, the material being exceptionally well arranged, and both interesting and instructive.

According to the suggestion of Rev. Mr. Roberts, the plan will be tried at future meetings of having each members choose what she finds most interesting in the Monthly Leaflet, and reading this selection at the next meeting gathering of he Society.

The invitation of Mrs. J. E. Allen to hold the annual meeting, in January, 1931, at her home, King street east, was gratefully accepted. As the president, Mrs. Westmacott, will be absent, intending to leave for Victoria, B.C., where she will spend the winter, early in December; and the secretary, Miss Macnamara, will be in Toronto for some months, other officers will fulfill the duties of these positions until those faithful and capable workers return.

Mrs. Russell, assisted by her daughter, Miss Margaret, served dainty refreshments during the social hour which was enjoyed at the close, and a hearty vote of thanks was extended to the hostess for her generous hospitality before the gathering finally dispersed.

VALUABLE SERVICES OF BIRDS STRESSED

Dr. Harrison Lewis Urged More Protection in Lecture in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 20.—The best efforts of authorities in Canada and abroad are insufficient for the protection of bird life, and the individual must do what he can to assist in its preservation, Dr. Harrison Lewis, chief migratory bird officer for the provinces of Quebec and Ontario, said in an address before members of the Young Men's Canadia Club, recently.

The speaker sought to impress his auditors with the immense value of the birds, drew their attention to the treaty for protection of migratory specimens which has been concluded with the United States and finished with a strong appeal for the protection of harmless varieties.

He began by saying the value of their services to Canadian agriculture had been fixed as high as $100,000,000 annually. They kill insects and eat weeds; others live on destructive rodents. Other birds, like the gulls, are scavengers who help keep the waterfront clean. The game birds supply food to men in the woods and form the basis of an industry of sporting equipment estimated at $7,000,000 yearly.

The lecture was illustrated by a number of slides, followed by two reels of moving picture. Birds common to this province and Ontario were shown in their native surroundings. Dr. Lewis spoke of the information about the habits of migratory birds which has been gathered by the practice of banding their legs. Much data, which permits the Government to take steps for the protection of these wanderers, has been gathered. The speaker mention a few of the most remarkable examples. A tern, which had been banded in northern Quebec, was found nine weeks later in Africa. It was but a young bird, but it had travelled at least 9,000 miles in nine weeks.

SOUTH AFRICA SUFFERS FROM HEAVY INDUSTRIAL DEPRESSION

CHANCE FOR IMPROVEMENT.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, November 20 (C.P.). — The Union of South Africa is suffering from economic depression. But the Union is not in such desperate straits as the Commonwealth of Australia. Though a substantial deficit was revealed when the results of the first five months of the fiscal year were made known, Union Government heads expect a much better showing in the remainder of the year. And South Africa will reap the benefits of the sound financial policy followed in the past few years, a large surplus having been carried over.

Hon. C. W. Malan, Acting Minister of Finance, announced recently that revenue for the current year will fall substantially short of the estimate. The Government accordingly will reduce expenditure in every way possible, and he made an appeal to all citizens to lend their co-operation in a policy of general economy.

The Minister said he considered it desirable to point out that it is impossible to gauge the results for the whole year by applying the tests of average for the first few months, because neither the revenue nor the expenditure is evenly spaced over the whole year.

At the end of August this year the deficiency of revenue below the expenditure was $20 435.000, which is reduced to $18,210,000 by the surplus carried forward from last year. This deficiency may be expected to increase until the end of November, and thereafter to diminish rapidly. It is now certain that the revenue for the current year will fall substantially short of the estimate, since in the absence of any general improvement in world conditions it is impossible for the revenue for the remaining months to overtake the shortfall already realized. On the other hand, the expenditure will be reduced by an amount considerably in excess of the figure of $2,125,000 mentioned in the Budget statement as being required to balance the revenue and expenditure on the assumed expenditure and on the assumption that the revenue estimates were realized.

"Efforts are being made to economize in every possible way, and all departments are working heartily to keep the cost of the administration of our country as low as possible without the essential services having to suffer. The public can also help in the application and the carrying out of these measures, and I make an appeal to all citizens to lend their co-operation," he said.

"The facts must be faced. The sale prie, amongst others, of our agricultural produce has dropped considerably in consequence of what is happening in other parts of the world price, amongst others, of our agriculture to go about the management of their affairs with the greatest degree of carefulness and deliberation. There is not the slightest reason for measures of a panicky nature. The condition of our land is inherently sound. The output of all classes of products has increased and are freely sold and exported although at a lower price basis than previously.

PILES

Ended Without Cutting or Salves

Thousands of Pile sufferers have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves or cutting remove the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To end Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonhardt's prescription has a wonderful record of success right in this city and McDermid & Jury, Bond's Drug Store invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantees to refund the purchase price if it does not end all Pile misery.

Used Car Stocks

Right now the used car stocks are [illegible] giving concern, for the new models have brought exchanges. Dealers have entered into [illegible] to introduce the new models and to liquidate their stock. It seems probable that the new year will see quite a heavy annual clean of used cars as at the start of the present year, when it was estimated that 1,250,000 of the old cars were in the hands of dealers. The situation has naturally been made worse by unemployment, competition [illegible] sale of their cars at a sacrifice by the great army of unemployed. To the buyer a used car at the present time presents an opportunity to [illegible] the like of which was [illegible] before. A short time ago those who [illegible] are wont to make wild predictions, believing that in so doing they are insuring [illegible], would have it that the fall would surely see a great gain. Then the time of an upturn was set for December, and [illegible] as it is set for January. Work is to start soon on the 1931 models on an increased scale to care for early year demand. Makers will be ready this time to meet business developed at the shows. In past years this show business has been taken care of late in January.

Competition is going to be even keener in the future than in the past. In the lowest priced field this will be particularly [illegible]

Henry Ford has expressed confidence in the "return of business" and, as Ford is to-day suffering just as are others, his statement is important. Ford is making plans in a big way for next year and will spend almost $30,000,000 on new plant. In Ford's new plans there is said nothing about the six-cylinder model it was said he would bring out. There was strong proof that work on a six was going on in the statement made by a workman on vacation at his home in Newark, N.J. This man had worked on the tooling-up as an expert in that line. If Ford is to drop in a six-cylinder motor in the Model A which is made of sufficient motor capacity to hold the six he is keeping his own counsel, and as usual, will spring a front page surprise story when ready.

POLITICAL LIFE THRILLING, SAYS MISS AGNES MACPHAIL

Plans to Continue in Public Life, Canada's Woman Member of Parliament Tells Interviewers in Course of United States' Tour.

BOSTON, Nov. 20.—Women who are always seeking thrills should enter politics and they certainly will be gratified is the opinion of Miss Agnes Campbell MacPhail, only woman member of the Canadian Parliament.

Miss MacPhail, who is on a lecture tour of the United States for the Foreign Policy Association, visited here for a few days and when interviewed at her hotel told reporters something of her life and aspirations. She has been a member of Parliament for ten years and plans to keep right on, even if she should marry. She was 30 years old, the youngest member, when she was first elected to the House of Commons.

"I can't understand why so few women go into politics. They want thrills and politics give them," she said. "Thrills never stop coming.

"When I was first elected, everything I said was wrong; everything I wore was wrong; everything I did was wrong, to hear the comments about them. Bouquets were not thrown at me because I was the only woman. Brickbats were what I got. The men did not want me in Parliament and the women hadn't put me there. You can imagine how they felt when one morning they woke up and found a girl from the country had been elected and they hadn't had anything to do about it.

"Men and women were both mad because they did not know anything about me. I had entered as an Independent and everybody was critical. The papers were full of it, but I hadexpected just that sort of thing."

Miss MacPhail was born and brought up on a farm in Grey County, Ontario. She now owns a 150 acre mixed farm and manages the cattle and the crops. She studied in college and was in her early twenties when she began organizing the United Farmers.

Speaking on immigration and other International problems Miss MacPhail said that until recently immigrants were encouraged in the farm regions but since the depression they were not wanted, although not excluded. She particularly praised the United States farmers who had settled in Alberta and Saskatchewan. She said they were industrious and made excellent citizens.

She attributed Canada's lack of a gangster problem to a better enforcement of law. "They don't bother us much," she said, "except along the border an they get short shrift. Our laws are fewer. We enforce them better. The gangster wouldn't get away with what he does in the United States." She laid part of the answer at the door of the Canadian judges who, she said, "are not politicians. They don't let a criminal go by default."

When asked about Canadian judicial procedure as compared with what she has seen of that in the United States she said that she believed that there was more formality in Canada, but just as much smoke in the committee meetings. She described the other 244 members of Parliament as "great fellows" and, like legislators in any country, not hard to get along with if one knows them well.

BATTERED ASHORE IN ATTEMPT TO SPAN OCEAN IN OPEN BOAT

30-FOOT POWER BOAT

By Berton E. Robinson.

Special to Examiner. Copyright, 1930.

Nov. 20.—A valiant attempt for fame and glory ended in ignominious failure near here when the Karf A-3514, a thirty foot fuel power boat, in which three intrepid German love planned to brave the storms of the wintry Atlantic and cross to their Fatherland, went ashore near Halifax in a gale which swept the western Atlantic.

Joe Leppich, skipper of the craft, August Kubatto, and Christian Brato in the Karf A from Bronsing, Mich., seven weeks ago. They came through the barge canal to New York, from whence they sailed to Yarmouth, by way of Boston. From thence they came to Halifax, planning to sail to Saint John's, Nfld., from which port they would commence the perilous last long lap of their trip to Hamburg, Germany.

They left Halifax for Saint John's on Friday, November 7, in spite of storm warnings which hung ominously from the yard arm at Citadel Hill. Shortly after their early morning departure came the storm. But the gale did not daunt them. Resolutely the nose of the Karf A was set into the face of the storm, and valiantly the three amateur mariners strove to keep on their course to Saint John's.

But ill luck dogged them. In the midst of a howling gale such as only a wintry north Atlantic can produce, their engine failed them, and they were soon drifting helplessly to the rocky promontory, known as Cape Jarvis, on the Atlantic coast of Nova Scotia.

The huge waves pounded the Karf against the rocks, and it was with difficulty that the crew escaped.

The attempt will not be renewed this season, according to Capt. Leppich, but it is probable that he will try again next year. This is the first attempt to cross the Atlantic in an open boat at this season of the year.

An experienced salt water skipper, questioned by your correspondent as to the possibility of such a crossing replied somewhat dubiously that it could be done, but added to his statement the rider that he would not care to make an attempt.

It's perhaps a little of the irony of fate that the trip was sponsored as a publicity scheme by the manufacturers of the engine whose failure so nearly spelled disaster to the dauntless mariners.

Sixty-three-year-old Dr. Thomas W. F. Gann, the explorer and archaeologist of London, was married recently to Miss Mary Wheeler, aged 27.

MOTORING NEWS

(By Frank Chamberlain. Special to The Examiner. Copyright 1930.)

Right now is the time to prepare for winter driving. The cooling system of a car is undoubtedly its weakest part during winter. A sound radiator is a major requirement. It should be carefully checked for leaks or weak spots. Then the hose connections between it and the motor should be examined. Swollen or rotten hose should be replaced. Anti-freeze solution should be used immediately the weather turns toward the freezing mark. There are a number of good solutions on the market, and a selection of any one is largely a matter of personal choice. A battery must be kept fully charged during the cold weather, when the drain upon it, as a result of difficult starting, is greatest. If it is not fully, or nearly fully, charged, it is likely to freeze. Lights and starter should be used as sparingly as possible. Spark plugs should be cleaned, insulation of wiring and cables should be scanned. Gasoline of easy starting qualities should be used. The carburetor should be adjusted for winter driving and a service station should be consulted concerning the brand of oil best suited for your car for winter driving.

It's good news from Detroit, hub of the American automobile industry. Seven plants have started or will shortly begin large-scale manufacturing programs which annually precede the introduction of new cars. On a rough estimate it is expected that payroll totals for the latter part of November will show a gain of $35,000 over October 1. Former employes are naturally being given preference. Working on new models, 26,000 men, who have been employed on a staggered schedule, have resumed full-time operations at Chevrolet. The statement of the Hudson Motor Car Co. that employment will be arranged for 3,500 men was hailed in Detroit as one of the most encouraging recent news stories. Other companies have started on drives for immediate activity.

The newly opened vehicular tunnel connecting Detroit with Windsor is the only one in the world to connect two countries, and with but one exception—that being the Holland tunnel in New York which connects New York and New Jersey—it is the largest tunnel in America, and perhaps the world. Up to one year ago, when the Ambassador bridge became available, a several hours' wait and a line of automobiles two or three miles in length was a common occurrence at this point. All this has now been eliminated. The tunnel has a capacity of 1,000 automobiles per hour in each direction. The passing of custom officers is the only detention; this, however, has been reduced to a minimum by the many lanes available after leaving the mouth of the tunnel.

Virginia Schmitz, a newspaper writer, has discovered that even a professor can't teach his wife how to drive. She says "the easiest way to convince a man he picked a brainless dumbell for a wife, or a woman that she married a heartless brute, is to let her take driving lessons from her loving husband."

Men can teach other men's wives to drive with ease and precision, Miss Schmitz claims. But just let any man start explaining the intricacies of the gear shift to that lady who happens to be his wife, and the battle of the ages is on.

Miss Schmitz suggests that girls should learn to drive cars while they are on their honeymoon, or, better still, while they are engaged. "After the honeymoon is over, there's no learning from him," she concludes.

Edsel Ford—son of Henry—has officially announced that there will be no change in the present Model A Ford. He expressed the belief that 30,000,000 of the present models will have been produced before the motoring public will demand a change. The old Model T touched a 15,000,000 point before a start was made on the present Ford line.

Some day, somebody is going to complain about the length of trucks now traversing our highways. Some of them are from 50 to 100 feet in length with trailers. Kansas, through its highway commission, has stated that highways were built for the public and not for commercial trucks. The Kansas law permits 33-foot trucks and trailer of 60 feet. Some trailers 60 feet long have been used and the commission, deciding that they were a menace to traffic, declined to renew the permits of a number of owners. Truck owners are naturally objecting. The matter is likely to be taken to the courts to serve as a test case.

All of which brings to mind the discussion of recent days between the menace motor truck business has brought to the railways. Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, has admitted that the motor truck business has brought about losses in traffic, freight and passenger, all over Canada, and particularly in Quebec and Ontario.

The total number of American automobiles which passed through the 22 Canadian ports of entry to September 1, 1930, is 344,459. The number registered at the same ports during the corresponding period of 1929 was 284,994, showing an increase of 54,465 automobiles, or 21 per cent.

Just because a railway track is rusty doesn't mean it isn't used. It is much wiser to look both ways . . . and, better still, stop at all railway tracks, make certain the rails are clear, and then proceed.

Mexico Buys Wheat From Canadian Pool

CHICAGO, Nov. 19 (C.P.)—Reports were received at the Chicago Board of Trade to-day from Mexico City to the effect that the Mexican Government had arranged for the purchase of 200,000 bushels of Canadian wheat from the Canadian Pool.

The purchase was said to have been arranged by the Mexican Commercial Attache at Ottawa, and was due to the unsufficiency of the Mexican crop for home use.

The wheat will be transported by rail and water, said the reports, with its transport due late in December.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES HELD IN JANETVILLE UNITED CHURCH

Rev. Dr. Langford of Toronto Assisted By Rev. Mr. Patterson Conduct Service.

SPLENDID ADDRESS.

LIFFORD LINE, Nov. 20 (Examiner Correspondence).—Impressive anniversary services were held in Janetville United Church on Sunday morning and evening. The church was artistically decorated for the occasion with chrysanthemums and house plants.

The special speaker for the day was Rev. Dr. Langford who is secretary of Religious Educational work in Toronto.

Rev. Mr. Patterson, pastor of the church, assisted by leading in prayer and reading the 6th chapter of St. Luke, the theme of which was further emphasized by a much appreciated anthem by the choir "I will bless the Lord at all times." The Janetville choir was assisted by members from the Bowmanville United Church choir. A solo and quartette were appealingly rendered at both services by male visiting choristers, the morning solo, "Spirit of Holiness," being particularly impressive.

Special Thankoffering

A special thankoffering of three hundred dollars was asked for as funds are urgently needed for the carrying on of church work. The church and parsonage have recently been wired and a new fence has been built on the church property.

Rev. Mr. Patterson introduced the visiting speaker stating that he had known him for years but unfortunately never had the privilege of having him take his pulpit before.

In Dr. Langford's introductory remarks he congratulated the church on the occasion of another anniversary, reminding the congregation that a church sometimes becomes discouraged and asks the question "What have we accomplished since last anniversary?" In the same way the busy house-wife asks herself what has she accomplished at the end of the day. Yet she has done one more days work for her family and God and the church has done one more years work for the people and for God.

Foreign Missions

The reverend speaker chose as his text "Go ye therefore and teach all nations" remarking that this text was classed as a foreign mission one yet it was just as much ours as any missionary's who ever went to China or Japan. Here Jesus was telling all of us to teach everybody—"all nations." Then the thought-provoking question was raised, "What are the things Jesus taught when here on earth that we ought still to be teaching, what is the gospel the missionary carries?"

The first answer was the "Highest and clearest conception of God." We had only a partial knowledge of God before Jesus came. He brought the clear vision of the character of God—His nearness, love, companionship and fellowship. He brought the note of intimacy—of human sympathy with people. His second answer was "God loves all the people all of the time"—astonishing information that God is good to us whether we are good to Him or not. He sends rain on the just and unjust and is kind unto the unthankful and evil. Often when things go wrong we wonder if God has cast us off entirely but He loves on through all the years with that undiscouraged love hoping we'll come back eventually.

The speaker urged all to tell this message to their children—to those in foreign fields and to those in the open prairies who have no religious services.

The third answer to the initial question was "what man must do." Man must be like God, "Children of the Father"—he must love everybody, even those who have been unfair and unkind to him just as Jesus did. Paul was shamefully abused and died a prisoner—he kept on suffering yet he lived the life God lived. If everybody had carried this message until pettiness dwindled as dust beside our example and challenge millions of men who now lie in Flanders bloody fields would now be carrying on in useful lives.

The last answer to the question was "Gospel of Forgiveness." The speaker illustrated this theme from the story of the women taken in adultery, "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone."

In Dr. Langford's concluding remarks he convinced the people that in his eighteen years of experience from coast to coast he had never found the hunger to hear the word of God, and the response of word, as great as it is to-day. There comes pleadings from the West to send ministers although financial distress is indescribable.

Bazaar

The Women's Association held a bazaar in the basement of the church on Friday afternoon and evening previous to the Sunday anniversary. The basement was attractively decorated in red and green and at four o'clock car loads began to arrive to inspect and choose from the various booths displayed.

Three ladies took charge of each booth and found a ready sale for hand sewing, knitting, fancy work, home-made candy, etc., a large part of which had been in preparation for some time past.

A cold chicken supper was served by the ladies commencing at five o'clock and continuing till all were served.

Instrumental piano music was furnished throughout the evening. The total proceeds amounted to one hundred and forty-six dollars and the ladies felt well repaid for their efforts.

ROSENEATH UNITED CHURCH

ROSENEATH, Nov. 20 (Examiner Correspondence) — Owing to the absence of Rev. R. W. Paton, the pulpit was occupied on Sunday evening by Rev. J. Daley, Supt. of the Children's Shelter, Port Hope.

The speaker delivered a most stirring and interesting address, his position which he has been connected with for many years has made a wide experience among all kind of people in which he comes in contact with.

On Sunday evening, Rev. Daley spoke of the life of Caleb, his example for men and women to bear in mind it takes courage to withstand difficulties and left a message for everyone to stand fast, have faith in God who is ever willing to carry His loved ones over all tides of troubles and sorrows, and difficulties.

The Women's Missionary Society have been fortunate in securing Rev. Dr. Frank Allan, a returned missionary and who is well known in this district, will preach on Sunday, Nov. 30th. On Monday evening Dr. Allan will give a talk on his work in the Foreign mission fields, also a short program is being prepared by the ladies of the society.

Service in the United Church next Sunday morning at 11 a.m.

ECZEMA GOES IN SEVEN DAYS

Or Money Back

Thousands of people who suffer from itching skin, eczema and unsightly eruptions will be glad to know that Moone's Emerald Oil, a clean, powerful, penetrating antiseptic oil, will banish their trouble in seven days or less.

For years they have been using ointments and salves, and while they helped to relieve the itching, soreness and pain they often choked the pores and did not allow the poisonous matter to escape.

Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) overcomes this objection, for this oil penetrates down through the pores and leaves them free to discharge all poisonous secretions. It is highly concentrated, and only a few drops are required at an application. You can get it at McDermid Drug Co., Bond's Drug Store, McDermid & Jury or any progressive druggist's and if it doesn't end your trouble in seven days—money gladly returned—directions on each bottle.

CAMPBELLFORD

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 20. (Examiner Correspondence).—Mr. P. A. Morgan, who has just returned from a hunting trip in the Haliburton district, reports that his club shot fourteen deer, one bear and one fox. It was estimated that the bear, which was shot by the guide, was over four hundred pounds in weight. The club was situated fifteen miles from the trail head, which distance had to be covered by motor boat.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. J. R. Battisby is confined to his house for a few days, but trust that he will soon be around again.

It is reported that Mr. N. Stone, who under went an operation in the Peterborough Hospital, is progressing favorably.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this paragraph and hand it to them, and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer, perhaps from total deafness. The medicine can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist a ¼ oz. bottle of Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pt. of hot water and a little sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this preparation a trial.

A new form of cold in London is believed to be caused by an insect sting.

WOMEN OF INDIA REJOICE AT AWAKENING

WOMAN DELEGATE AT CONFERENCE CONGRATULATED BY THE MEMBERS FOLLOWING HER SHORT ADDRESS

Bespeaks a Greater Part For Women in India in Near Future.

FACE WAS VEILED.

None of Speeches Heard Have Been Followed With Deeper Interest.

LONDON Eng Nov 20 (By Geo Hambleton, C P Staff Correspondent) —Before the Princes and politicians of the Round Table to-day the Begum Shah Nawaz spoke of a new and changing India. Ten years ago even, to-day's scene in the old palace of St. James' would have been dismissed as an idle fantasy, for of all the 10-minute speeches heard to-day, none was followed with deeper interest than that of the Muslim woman, members of a family whose women have always maintained strict purdah—the veiled face.

The Begum is the wife of a member of the Punjab Legislature, her father, Sir Muhammed Shafi, is former President of the all-India Muslim League. She made a very feminine picture as she spoke. From her head and shoulders fell a pale blue sarc, or long shawl, embroidered with silver. A diamond ornament glittered in her black hair. About her neck was a gleaming string of pearls.

Highly Congratulated

She spoke quite nervously at first but when she had concluded all delegates rushed to congratulate her, the first woman to speak in such a conference. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald hastily scribbled a note of personal congratulations. Rt. Hon Wedgwood Benn, Secretary for India and two of the ruling princes went around to congratulate her personally while the chamber rang with applause.

"Things have moved in India. They are moving at such a pace" said the Begum. "That sometimes we ourselves are startled. In remote corners of India, in out of the way places, you find people, especially young boys and girls, talking of their national aspirations, of freedom and liberty for their motherland.

Awakening in Youth

"There is such an awakening in the youth of the country. Both in rural and urban areas. That it is not possible to check the growing desire and increasing spirit which animates them to form themselves into a nation worthy of the name. We women of the nation cannot but rejoice at this awakening. But happy as we might feel, this brings with it a tremendous responsibility of guiding the younger generations. It is our duty as mothers, as sisters and wives, to show them the right track and lead them along the straight road."

The women delegates, said The Begum (there is one other woman delegate) supported the idea of a federated India. The basis of human society was federal, she continued. She hoped the conference would not treat the women as they had been treated in the despatch of the government of India. The fate of half the population of the country could not be decided in one sentence.

"The women of India are coming forward and taking an active part in the political life of the country. With women to guide them the men of the country could achieve greater success in social reform.

"I appeal to you all," he concluded. "Let us not sit down in the spirit of ruler and ruled, but as friends with sympathetic hearts and open minds, to arrive at a conclusion which will help the suffering masses of the country we love. India, bruised and aching, is looking to us—rather not only India but the whole world is looking up to us—to spread the balm of good will and friendship. Let us not disappoint them. May the Almighty God bless our efforts."

PROFIT FOR RELIEF FUND.

The public is again reminded of the sale of tickets by the members of the Canadian Legion for the car contest, the proceeds of which are for the relief of returned men in the city. The whole profit from this drawing is to go into the relief fund, and the affair is entirely in the hands of the Local Branch of the Canadian Legion. Members have tickets for sale, and they may also be had at the Legion Hall. Sale of tickets closes on Thursday, Nov. 27th, with the concert and draw in Canadian Legion Hall Friday, November 28th.

Atmospherics Now Scientific Study

CANBERRA, Australia, Nov 20 (By the Canadian Press) A centre for the study of atmospherics has been established at the Commonwealth Solar Observatory at Mount Stromlo by the Radio Research Board of the Council for Scientific and Industrial Research. An instrument has been installed by means of which the direction of arrival of individual atmospherics can be read on a graduated compass scale. An identical instrument is being used near Melbourne by colleague of the scientist in charge of the work at Mount Stromlo, Dr L. G. H. Huxley.

In connection with the announcement of the establishment of the centre for the study of atmospherics Dr. Huxley, in an interview with the Melbourne Argus, said that owners of wireless sets might at first be disappointed to learn that the elimination of atmospheric disturbances, more familiarly known as "static" was of only secondary interest in the investigations to be made.

Smoking Saloons In New Air Liner

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 20. (By the Candian Press) Smoking is prohibited in British air liners but Imperial Airways, Limited, hope to obtain permission from the Air Ministry to allow smoking in the company's new 40-seater air liners which are being constructed for use on the Empire airways London-India- South America. Application for such permission has been made to the authorities. An official of Imperial Airways in a recent interview said:

"Up to now smoking has been prohibited in British air liners. We have, however, ordered a fleet of huge passenger aeroplanes which have been developed from air liners which have been in service on the cross-Channel route for the past seven years, in which a special fire-proof smoking saloon to seat 20 people is being provided. There will also be a saloon in each machine with 20 seats for non smokers and separating them will be a fully-equipped cocktail bar.

"The first of these new 40-seater is practically completed and we are applying to the Air Ministry to license these machines for smoking. We expect that this will be a welcome boon to passengers on the long stages of the Empire Air routes."

RUST HITS ARGENTINE WHEAT.

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 20 (C.P.).—A report issued last night by the Argentine Ministry of Agriculture estimates that 2,000,000 tons of wheat will be lost from the next harvest because of rust. The statement adds that the area affected contains about 6,000,000 hectares (14,820,000 acres).

Students Riot in Havana, Cuba

Student rioting and what not has resulted in martial law being proclaimed in Havana, Cuba, with the death toll placed unofficially at about 32, not to mention broken heads and other injuries. ABOVE is shown a scene along Avenida de Italia in front of Spanish newspaper office, El Pais, with a mounted policeman clearing entrance following clash with student rioters.

MORE "VULGAR" LITERATURE IN DEMAND BY FICTION READERS

No Dust Gathers on Gay Cover of Vina Delmar's Popular Novel "Bad Girl."

MANY SUCCESSORS.

The "best seller" or rather circulator at one of Peterborough's neighborhood libraries has been for months that American classics "Bad Girl" by Vina Delmar, to whose credit, it is related, that only a few years ago she was a waitress, or as they say on Woodward Avenue, a hash-slinger.

The Delmar opus was so popular in its hectic day that no dust gathered on its grey cover. For weeks it wasn't even returned to its shelf, but it passed from hand to hand in bridge and office sets earning its two and three cents a day in its course of entertainment.

"Bad Girl" was succeeded by those erotic sequels that began with "Ex-Wife." These somewhat tarnished ladies gave each other a hot chase for the neighborhood record, and now there's another new one in the field, "Babe Gordon" by Mae West, who landed in the head lines of the newspapers after the police had raided a theatre in which one of her plays was being shown for the first time, and arrested the cast because of the indecency of the lines which Miss West has given them.

"Some of our readers ask us why we don't get more of Edgar Wallace's books, said a clerk in this store, "and by actual count yesterday I found that we have had twenty-seven of his in circulation."

Those who get their reading from the Public Library have probably never seen any of the Delmar—Mae West type of ephemeral, "snappy" fiction on its sedate tables, but possibly back in the racks you might discover some books that are not entirely innocent and innocuous. The difference is that the Delmar fiction is simply vulgar; the others are classics.

STRENGTH NEEDED GOVERNING KENYA

Sir John Bryne, New Governor, Regarded as Man Needed to Handle Native Policy.

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, Nov. 20.—(By the Canadian Press)—Brig.-Gen. Sir Joseph Byrne's appointment as Governor of Kenya in succession to Sir Edward Grigg, who returned to England recently, is hailed here as likely to be productive of good results. The Daily Herald of London, organ of the British Labor Government, is quoted as saying that "a strong man like Sir Joseph Byrne, with a clear idea of the Government's native policy, is just what is needed in Kenya."

The Herald says this is one of the most striking colonial appointments of recent years. The Labor organ recalls Sir Joseph's "startling dismissal from the post of Inspector-General of the Royal Irish Constabulary 10 years ago. This was attributed to his refusal to be associated with the Black and Tans' reprisals. He created a seconds sensation by refusing the post of head of the special branch of the Criminal Investigation Department after the appointment had been officially announced."

DR. URQUHART DRAWS ROSY PICTURE OF ARCTIC LIFE

NO UNEMPLOYMENT.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 20 (C.P.) — Squatting in her igloo with a happy brood of little ones around her, the modern Eskimo mother twirls a knob on an expensive radio and a love-song, story or lilting tune comes to cheer her from over the air, thousands of miles south. Her worries are few for her man has no unemployment problem with which to grapple. The ice box is well stocked with food, her children receive up-to-date schooling and when there is sickness, hospitals, doctors and nurses are close at hand.

This rosy picture of life on the Arctic fringes of the globe is brought to civilization by Dr. J. A. Urquhart, of the Northwest Territories Branch of the Department of Interior. He has left his "modest" practice extending over an area of 90,000 square miles to enjoy a spell of the amenities of the modern world. It is his first trip "out" in two years and, thanks to present-day enterprise, a journey that would otherwise have consumed months has taken him but a few days.

From Aklavik the doctor hopped by airplane to Edmonton, a distance of 2,000 miles, in 14 hours and 5 minutes; from there he journeyed east on a fast express train. He was discovered ensconced in a cosy room in an Ottawa hotel, lolling in a deep chair, telephone at his elbow, comfortable sound of heat in the radiator and within reach all the so-called advantages of modern life—music, cuisine speciale, amusements, social life in all its aspects. And yet he admitted he was not thrilled.

"It's all right for the first few days and then you tire after living in the North," he said. "You've just got to get back to the simple Arctic life."

The widely held belief that Eskimo life is gradually vanishing was scoffed at by Dr. Urquhart. "Rather than dying out, the Eskimos are increasing. They are a much finer and more intelligent type of people than the average Easterner imagines," he commented. The 'flu epidemic which swept through the North in 1928 had decimated the ranks of the older Eskimos but the younger and sturdier element had been spared to profit by the advantages the inroads of modern civilization brought to them.

One of the greatest characteristics of the native was his industry and this, possibly, was matched only by his providence. The average Eskimo male puts in from ten to twelve hours a day at his fishing or hunting. Dr. Urquhart said, and each man was his own boss. There were no employer Eskimos around Aklavik and there was no sign of unemployment.

BACK TO NORMAL

Louise and Mary had been "very special" friends until Louise's marriage took her away. Then their friendship seemed to widen with the miles. Remembering one night of having read of the ease and low cost of Long Distance telephoning, Mary decided it would be a real thrill to call Louise. It was. And it paved the way to a return to the old intimacy.— Advt).

Had Eczema on Limb For Twenty Years. Healed by Cuticura.

"Eczema broke out in a rash on my limb, below the knee. It was in a spot about as large as a half dollar and itched badly. When I scratched it water came from it and the eczema spread until nearly the whole side of my limb, below the knee, was covered. Later it became dry and scaled over, and the irritation kept me awake nights. I had it more or less for twenty years.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they helped me and before long I was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. M. A. Palmer, Auburn, Nova Scotia.

DENTIST VERSUS DOCTOR ON DOUBTFUL TEETH.

I believe dentists are just as conscientious in their work as are physicians and when they disagree with a physician who advises the removal of a patient's tooth they feel justified in their stand.

They feel that no artificial tooth can take the place of the patient's own tooth and that they would prefer to fill the tooth rather than extract it.

And yet to treat the tooth properly means the removal of the pulp which is a matter of fact is more than the nerve it is really the whole source of supply to the tooth; it nerve, artery, vein and supporting tissue.

However, as point out only the taking away of the artery and vein of the tooth pulp leaves at the root end a condition which does not provide complete circulation, and in consequence the removal of harmful organisms, which have deposited there, is difficult.

Now root canals can be successfully filled especially the front teeth and sometimes at the side, but the grinders at the back of the mouth have very thin roots which are most difficult to fill properly.

Now why am I talking about what dentists should do about teeth when they know more than I can possibly know about teeth and their needs?

Simply because all patients are not alike, all teeth are not alike, all infections in the teeth are not alike, some organisms being twenty times as harmful as others.

All I want to suggest to patients and dentists is that where the dentist knows his patient well, knows how he react to infection, or to sickness, knows his teeth so well that he hasn't any difficulty in successfully filling the entire root canal, then he is justified in going ahead and trying to save the tooth for the patient.

However where he does not know this and goes ahead to save the tooth on "general principles," I think that if the patient's physician suggest the extraction of the tooth so as not to take any chances, then the dentist should be willing to discuss the matter.

In what way?

By meeting the physician wherever the X-ray films can best be seen, and allowing the physician to tell him something of the patient's health history—previous illnesses, his reaction to infection, his blood pressure, his general physical condition, and so forth.

In this way the patient would get the best possible results, and after all it is the patient and his health that really count.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Alice Michaelis

EARTH HAS ITS SPLENDORS.

Earth has its splendors; every eye may dwell
Upon cool fountains of the rising moon
Whose sprays of light in upward glory swell
While sweet night winds their wist ful music croon.
And there are April days with silver rain
White stars that swing above the desert sand
Who, seeing these, could not forget his pain
An I clasp sheer beauty close within his hands?

Foolish and futile are the ways of grief
And all who wander there pay useless toll;
As shadows, cloud-cast by the sun, are Brief,
So cares should swiftly leave the shining soul.
Earth's loveliness is like a skylark's voice
That sings always, 'Rejoice, rejoice rejoice!"

WINTER CHEER

Looking ahead to gloomy days, nothing is cheerier than a lively colored kitchen. Sunny yellow, cream with crimson trim, parchment-colored walls with flaming orange curtain or black and white with the most vivid of decorations are all stimulating.

MEDICINE STAINS

Silver stained with medicine should be rubbed with methylated spirit. Afterwards wash the silver in warm, soapy water and polish with a dry cloth.

COLORLESS COLOR

Vionnet specializes in distinctive colors for winter frocks. They are such delicate versions of green mustard, pink and blue to have been dubbed "colorless colors." They are said to enhance blonde beauty more than brunet.

CANADIAN HEIRS AWAIT FORTUNES

Two Laborers Continue Regular Jobs While Millions Tied Up in Courts.

MUCH "RED TAPE."

BATH, Me., Nov. 20.—Every day two potential millionaire residents of this city go to work with dinner buckets and work every bit as hard as the humblest toiler, planning and awaiting the day when their millions will emerge from a welter of lawsuits.

Wilbert Crowe of 15 Hust street, who toils in a gravel pit, and Frederick H. Smith of Goddard street, who drives a team, take their impending riches lightly. They are not spending the money before they get it.

And, if Crowe and Smith take the fortunes that are just over the hill lightly, the viewpoint of their fellow workers is positively gossamer, which explains why both men are extremely reluctant to talk about the wealth that they are certain is to come to them before the winter is over.

Smith realized only a small portion of his fortune when he received a check for $1500 from the executors of Nova Scotia, as part of the interest on the million dollar estate of which he is heir.

"I'm still not counting chickens before they are hatched," said Smith. "The check I got to-day is just the interest on the money I am to get when the estate is finally settled. I don't like to talk about it because the men at the coal yard got to calling me the millionaire coal heaver when they heard about the estate. The estate comes from my mother's people."

Crowe is going through the same experience. Out of the city gravel pit in North Bath he was busily engaged in loosening material in a gravel bank, wielding a crowbar, while fellow workers joked about his fortune.

Crowe's mother was the granddaughter of Daniel Metcalf, a cotton mill operator in Leeds, England, who during the early part of the 19th century piled up a fortune rated at over a million pounds. When he died the fortune was taken by the Crown because all trace of direct heirs had disappeared. Crowe's mother emigrated to America, and other branches of the family learned that the cotton mill magnate's fortune had increased to over $300,000,000 under the guardianship of the Crown. An effort was made to locate the heirs-at-law of the estate.

Four members of Crowe's immediate family are to participate in the division of the estate, and there are 27 heirs, including the Canadian and American relatives. Including among those who will participate in the division of the property, according to Crowe, are Mrs. Mary McLaughlin of Goldsmith place, Roxbury; Mrs. E. D. Hirtle, Warwick road, Pawtucket, Crowe's sister, and three of Crowe's brothers living at South Freeport, Me. Crowe is a native of Providence, R.I., and has lived in Pawtucket, Portland and Bath. He is a construction worker, he stated, but owing to unemployment has been forced to take a job working in the gravel pit. He is married and has one child. He is 48 years old.

NEW HOSPITAL TO REPLACE MISSION

Labrador Worker Believes Better Hospital Will Succeed One Destroyed By Fire.

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Nov. 20.—The fire that recently destroyed the Grenfell Labrador Medical Mission Hospital at Battle Harbor may prove a blessing rather than a calamity, in the opinion of Miss Frances Baier, Principal of the Grenfell Mission School at St. Anthony, across the Strait of Belle Isle rom Battle Harbor. While the loss was considerable, Miss Baier though a much needed concrete hospital would replace the old frame structure, which was unoccupied when destroyed, the staff having moved to winter quarters.

Miss Baier, visited Daint John enroute to the United States for a 12-months furlough. She has devoted seven years to service in the Labrador. St. Anthony, situated near the extreme north of Newfoundland, was described by Miss Baier as the chief distributing centre of the Grenfell Mission, having its orphanage for 65 children, a school for 150 children, a fine new hospital erected two years ago, a new electric plant erected this year, a large industrial department, a large stock barn housing many cattle and sheep, a large store for clothing and a greenhouse in which chiefly flowers are grown.

The past summer had been a particularly good one for the Labrador people and a most unusually warm one, with the thermometer registering 85 degrees on several days in succession. The summer was also notable for the visit of two tourist boats, Miss Baier said. Sir Wilfred and Lady Grenfell, with their two sons and daughter, spent considerable time at the station. Of workers from "outside" there were about 10 serving during the summer months Miss Baier said, and they came mostly from the United States and St. John's, Newfoundland. The Grenfell Medical Mission was achieving great things Miss Baier stated. She spoke especially of what had been done in teaching the people new industries. Ivory carving was one of the latest developments and from the tusks which are readily at hand the people were being taught to carve the fascinating ornaments.

With regard to new buildings, Miss Baier said a new school had been erected at St. Mary's which is a mission station in connection with the Battle Harbor hospital and a new school would also open at Cartwright.

That the bales and contributions from Canada, England and the United States are much appreciated, Miss Baier said, was putting the matter very mildly. Through the generosity of out-

BOY AT WHEEL AS SHIP SUNK

OFF NEWFOUNDLAND.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 20.—The night is clear, but dark and starless. The only sounds coming up to the bridge are the rythmic drone of the engines and the faint churning splash of water at stern and forefoot. Bright points of red and green and white are the lights at port, starboard and top. On the forecastle head the lookout peers into the dark. And on the bridge a fifteen year old boy, with eight months of seadaring already behind him, grips the wheel-spokes under the eyes of the officers on watch. Distant lights on two capes have slipped astern and another is abeam.

Suddenly out of the gloom under the port bow a light appears, and the quiet breaks in two sharp strokes of the look-out's signal. "Hard-a-port!" is the order and the boy twirls the spokes. The telegraph jangles in the engine room, and the indicator points to full speed astern.

But two seconds are not enough. There is a rending crash under the steamer's forefoot. Shouts come up from the water. A mast and sail are seen for a moment, then disappear as the port life-boat goes over the side. The shouts cease. One man is picked up, but hours of searching reveal no trace of the woman and four men who were with him aboard the schooner.

This is collision at sea, in the eyes of Ingweal Resanger, fifteen year old Norse deckboy who was at the wheel of the ore-carrier Haugerland when the big freighter cut down the little Burin schooner Vibert T. Shave off Ferryland on the night of September 27, this year.

Resanger, first officer Gerhard Olsen, and ordinary seaman Herman Svanis, look-out man when the vessel was sunk, were examined on the same day during the inquiring into the collision conducted in St. John's. And no more graphic story of the tragedy was told than that outlined by the deckboy, through an interpreter, as he described in simple seaman's vocabulary, the two or three minutes that turned an ordinary voyage into an involunatary mission of death.

Captain Shave picked up by the Haugerland's lifeboat, was the only survivor of the Vibert T. Shave's crew, his wife and four seamen going down with the vessel.

Resanger had been on the look-out during the hour previous to the collision, and had taken his trick at the wheel a few minutes before the crash. There was a good view from the wheel, he said, but only two seconds or thereabouts intervened between the sighting of the vessel's light and the vollision.

Hirman Svanis, look-out, said the light appeared to come from the skylight in the cabin of the schooner. He saw no red or green light on the vessel, and saw the white light only a space of seconds before the collision.

side friends and workers the clothing stores had been well supplied, but last year there had been a sad shortage of Christmas gifts for the children. She explained that it is not only the children in the mission institutions but the child dren in the outports and hamlets for whom gifts were sought.

A visitor to the city yesterday who awakened pleasant memories for many of his former scholars and friends, was Mr. J. J. Rooney, of Winnipeg, a former headmaster, in the early '90s, of the old Ashburnham School where so many of the men and women of the city received their early tuition. Mr. Rooney, who was much beloved by his pupils, also commanded the respect of every scholar in his classes. In looking after the mental destinies of a room full of lively boys and girls, he was of necessity a stern disciplinarian who got splendid results from his teacing and was also able to inspire in his pupils a genuine love and admiration for their teacher. For the past twenty-five years, Mr. Rooney has been a resident of Winnipeg, where he has been Chief Inspector of Properties for the Great West Life Insurance Company and also had an opportunity of meeting many of his old pupils who have gone west to live. He was greatly interested in the expansion and pleasing appearance of Peterborough. He is in excellent health, but his friends were sorry to learn that Mrs. Rooney has been an invalid for the past two years. It was a real thrill for his old pupils to see their teacher again. He was keenly interested in hearing of what each had done with their lives since the time they had passed from his control. In talking about his years as teacher in the old Ashburnham school, he discussed with enjoyment many episodes of that time. He remembered the names and traits of character as well, of all of his old boys and girls and spoke of their good points, apparently quite forgetting that they ever had any bad ones. While here, Mr. Rooney was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams, friends of himself and his wife, and of Mr. R. M. Glover, one of his former pupils.

Mauve and yellow 'mums were on the buffet in the tea room and the table was done very attractively in autumn shades. The cloth of Chinese filet was centered with a large silver basket filled with russet baby chrysanthemums, which were also placed in the specimen silver vases at opposite corners of the table. Russet candles in silver holders completed the interesting color scheme.

The reception rooms were arranged with large mauve chrysanthemums and the table was very attractive in a unique color scheme of black and gold. The handsome cloth with its intricate cross stitch embroidery, was centered by a mirror reflector holding a black satin glass flower stand with brass handles, filled with yellow 'mums. Tall black candles were in brass candlesticks. Tea was poured by Mrs. W. R. Breyfogle, assisted by Mrs. Ray Scott, Mrs. Gordon Matthews, Mrs. A. G. Howson and Mrs. V. Eastwood, Junior.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

There are ways of saving money in buying articles besides getting them at low cost. The latter is the usual one, and to many minds thrifty buying consist of expending a minimum sum for a given thing.

• • • • • • •

Especially just now we must think of economy in order that we may assist those in need during the winter, but if we really could get the money in circulation, (for as I read just today, the money hasn't flown away) all concerned would be benefitted a great deal.

• • • • • • •

It is possible, however, to pay one and the same price for articles singly or in quantity and yet buy thriftily by purchasing in quantity, or, save in the culinary department although the initial cost is not lessened.

• • • • • • •

For instance in the purchase of soap. The cost of soap is little, if any, less when cakes are bought separately or by the box, yet there is appreciable saving in getting it by the box.

• • • • • • •

The reason being found in the texture of fresh soap compared with that of soap that has been kept long enough to ripen. The longer soap is kept, especially when exposed to air currents, the harder it gets.

• • • • • • •

The harder it gets, the longer it will last. It will not dissolve wastefully. Soap, fresh made, that is, the kind purchasable which we designated as freshly made, is comparatively soft.

• • • • • • •

The quantity of fresh soap that a family uses for laundry and kitchen purposes during a year will be found to be surprisingly large. Where fancy toilet soaps are used, many of which cost tremendous prices, the saving is more noticeable per cake, although the quantity is small.

• • • • • • •

Homemade bread is another item worth considering. The cost per loaf compared with that of baker's bread is approximately the same, but the amount of the former required to satisfy a family is smaller than the latter.

• • • • • • •

• • • • • • •

Homemade cakes can have the same thing said of them. Also both home made cakes and bread keeps fresh longer.

• • • • • • •

It is well for the housewife to appreciate that her cooking is an asset in the home thrift conditions. She must make her viands as tasty and tempting as food that is purchased 'ready made.' Otherwise the comparison in her favor cannot be well sustained. It is within the power of every woman, however, to become a competent cook.

TWENTY MINUTES ON A LONDON BUS

At 10.45 a.m. my usual train from Brighton glided into Victoria Station, London.

Being a lovely morning, I decided to take a Bus to office instead of the underground railway, although it would take twenty, instead of ten minute.

Walking across to Victoria Street, a London Bridge Bus soon came along and a few passengers boarded it.

Wishing to see everything possible and enjoy the air; I took a front seat on top of the bus and as we moved off two ladies—dressed in the well known Salvation Army Uniform—took seats on the other side and they, too, seemed anxious to see everything possible.

We had not proceeded many yards, when one of the ladies said "I do believe that (pointing ahead) is Westminster Abbey" then turning to me said: "Excuse me, is that Westminster Abbeey." I said: 'Yes—and this tower on our right is the Westminster Roman Catholic Cathedral—which you will see as we pass the next street." "Thank you so much"—said the lady. 'If you know London, would you mind kindly pointing out places of interest as we pass we are just over from Australia."

I promised—asking them to keep a smart lookout for the whole route was full of places of interest.

Here is Westminster Abbey and the Church near—where a crowd of people are congregated—is St. Margaret's, called The Members of Parliament Church; and, where it is evident—one of the fashionable weddings—which are numerous here—is taking place.

On our left is Westminster Hospital and Middlesex County Hall, and the large building with a great dome is the Wesleyan Central Hall. Here are the Houses of Parliament and Westminster Hall and the House of Lords in the distance.

Just as we looked at the clock tower, the clock chimed out, and on the first stroke of eleven—the lady said: "Is that the Big Ben we hear on the radio in Australia?"

We were held up a moment by the policeman and just had time to view in the distance ,Westminster Bridge—crossing the river—and on the opposite bank, was the County Hall (home of the London County Council) and the extensive St. Thomas' Hospital.

We turned into Whitehall and again stopped; giving us time to see the great Government offices—such as the Home Office, Ministry of Health; Ministry of Labour; the Treasury, etc., and New Scotland yard—home of the Detective and Police Department.

Th second street on our left is Downing Street, where the Prime Minister and Chancellor of the Exchequer reside; and here we pass the Cenotaph and notice how every man and boy passing—raise their hats and caps.

Here is the Horse Guards, with mounted sentry at the entrance, and behind is Hamilton House, with its great wireless station, from which, it is said, to be in touch with our Navy the world over.

The monument ahead, is Nelson's, in Trafalgar Square. Now look out, for we rush round the square quickly and there is much to see. Through the Archway on our left, we get a glimpse of Green Park, Buckingham Palace and the Victoria Memorial. Here is the C.P.R. offices and the Canadian National headquarters, just beyond; and this most imposing building is, Canada House.

This is the National Art Gallery; there is Nurse Cavell Monument, and we pull up alongside St. Martins-in-the-Fields, which became famous when the first church service was broadcast and listened to by millions of people.

The new fine building on our right, is the new Ontario House, and the massive building, of American design, on our left is Bush House, and this, I know will interest you, it is "Australia House." The ladies stood up, and were much impressed.

This is the church, where the great Dr. Johnston used to worship and here behind the church is Dr. Johnson's monument, facing Fleet Street, which he loved; and here is the Cheshire Cheese Hotel, where Dr. Johnston was a regular visitor.

On our left are The Law Courts, where all the great trials are held; and here is Temple Bar and that passage leads to The Temple Church, and headquarters of the great law institutions. "Is that the Temple Church where a Choir Boy sang, 'Hear my prayer"—which I have on a gramaphone record." I assured the lady it was.

We are now in Fleet Street, notice the great Newspaper offices.

We are now at Ludgate Circus, and near this spot stood Ludgate, one of the entrance gates to the City of London. Looking left along Faringdon Street, we see the great Memorial Hall, headquarters of the Congregational Church of England and Wales; and built on the site of the historic Fleet Prison. We also see in the distance Holborn viaduct and Smithfield Market, built near the spot where the Smithfield Martyrs were burned.

Going up Ludgate Hill and looking left, we could see Old Bailey, the great criminal courts and prison, with its monument, "Justice" so conspicuously placed.

I must now leave you, but you can no doubt guess what the great building before us is, "Yes", said the lady: "it is St. Paul's Cathedral."

CONTEMPLATIVE DEVOTION APPEALS TO THE CHINESE

MANY TEMPLES.

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 20.—(C.P.)—An appreciation will appear [illegible] Japanese than the [illegible] Very Rev. Father Jean De guire, O.F.M., ex-provincial of the Franciscan Province of Canada, [illegible] now in Montreal. He [illegible] to [illegible] Japan and ex[illegible] Japanese Nationals.

Father Deguire said that the relations between Canada and Japan were very cordial as a result partly of the trade now going on between the countries and partly of the respect in which the Church is held by the Mikado. The Emperor, Father Deguire said, received Mgr. Jardin, the papal delegate, in audience every year and has honored the Church by conferring on him the highest of Imperial decoration.

There are, the missionary said, 14,000 Shintoist temples and 72,000 Buddhist temples in Japan. The contemplative life appeals to the Japanese and it is the aim of Father Deguire to set up a monastery on some hill-top near Tokio. Since last March two Franciscan fathers and two brothers have been occupying a rented house on the outskirts of the city, but they are there as a nucleus not of a foreign but of a native monastery. Father Deguire believes that the establishment of Christianity in a new land depends on a native clergy and it is the aim of the Franciscan Order to recruit clergy from among the Japanese.

"These are changed days," Father Deguire said. "From those of the 17th century, when it was estimated that 25,000 Japanese Christians were put to death because of their faith. For 30 years they were hunted from pillar to post as it became it was suspected that the missionaries had been the forerunners of conquering European armies and navies. But the day is past when the Japanese think of us as anything but a religious community, entirely independent of civil and commercial powers."

POWER PROJECTS IN NEW ENGLAND

BOOTHBAY, Me., Nov. 20.—The power project at Passamaquoddy Bay designed to develop power from the tides calls the mind many earlier attempts on the part of man to harness the energy of the sea.

The Passamaquoddy development is the direct offshoot and application of methods learned by pioneers in their first experiments to put the tides to work.

In early Colonial days, the New England coast was dotted thickly with tide water mills patterned after those in use in Europe. But the march of time and invention of more efficient power plants has relegated most of these into oblivion and for the most part they stand idle and fallen into tumbling decay.

Of the numbers of these mills which once dotted Maine's rockbound coast, there remains one which to this day is functioning as a saw mill, and which yearly turns out close to 700,000 feet of lumber. It stands at East Boothbay, Me., a picturesque summer resort and shipbuilding town on the Damariscotta River, where it has resisted the march of time and laughed at innovation for over a hundred years.

When Caleb Hodgdon sailed up the mouth of Damariscotta in the first quarter of the 19th century to build a mill, he had this part of Boothbay to himself. He arrived in June, 1826, from Westport, anchored his "pinkie" in the lee of a ledge upstream and set to work. A dam was thrown across the small outlet of a natural pond, gave him a 40-acre extent of tidal water with which to turn his wheels.

This was historic land, included by Captain John Smith in his map of the region made during his 1614 voyage of the New England coast. Nearly a hundred years later, French and Spanish voyagers had seen and admired the place which is not far from the Island of Monhegan, landfall for all early mariners.

The spot is a mine of still earlier historical associations and ancient industry. Enormous shell heaps, even now the wonder of scientists, are relics of the primitive picnics of many generations of Indians who came to gorge themselves on shell fish and vegetables cooked in hollow hewn from the ledges. Of the hordes of Indians who had inhabited the region, few if any were left in Caleb Hogdon's day. The settlers had driven them out during the Indian wars of the previous century at great loss of life and property to themselves.

Caleb's ship was his home until the mill was complete, and then he started grinding corn for the neighboring settlements of Boothbay Harbor and Southport. He soon put in a reciprocating (up-and-down) saw for getting out lumber and wood to satisfy the needs of his neighbors, thus starting a business that has continued without interruption for well over a hundred years.

Opening of new highways in Chile in the next eight months will give automobile transportation from Africa to Puerto Montt, a distance of 2,000 miles.

ANOTHER CANUCK TO NATIVE HEATH COMES BACK SCREEN STAR

Walter Huston, Star of "Abraham Lincoln," Returns to Canada Unannounced.

TALKIES ARE TOUGH.

By Arthur A. Bossin.

(Special to Examiner, Copyright, 1930.)

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—Abraham Lincoln, looking somewhat tired and wrapped in a warm camel hair coat, strolled through the Toronto Union Station the other night, bought a couple of papers at a newstand and boarded the train for New York without being recognized by a single one of the numerous colored boys about as the great emancipator of their race.

Well—not exactly Abraham Lincoln, but certainly the man most closely associated with him by moving picture fans throughout North America. None other than Canada's greatest contribution to the broadway stage and the Hollywood studio—Walter Huston, whose portrayal of "Abraham Lincoln" in the current production of that name has won the acclaim of critics everywhere.

Walter is distinctly a Canadian product. His grandfathers came to Canada from Ireland in 1828 and settled in Ontario where they raised large families. Walter himself, was born and educated in Toronto and has relatives scattered all over Canada. The Hustons living around the corner or over in the next concession may be something or other to him for all you know.

To come back to Walter—he arrived in Toronto several days ago to visit his brother Alex, who lives here while on his way to Hollywood from New York then Europe.

I caught him as the train fussed and fumed preparatory to pulling out. Baggage trucks kept us nimbly sidestepping steam swirled about and porters jostled by.

The hardest part of working in talkies—to him, at any rate—is getting up early in the morning, he told me.

"I had to be on the lot at 6.30 while I was making 'lincoln" he complained.

"Oh, not as bad as that. I went to bed early and woke feeling fine. Great place, Hollywood," he averred. "Besides, you've got to feel like working to give your best."

Before the first camera could even begin to petrify a scene, he had to spend two full hours at making up, Huston said.

"That is one reason why I had to be at the studio as early," he added.

"I read that you grew a beard especially for the role," the scribe remarked.

"Not me. They make better beards than you can grow, in Hollywood. Than I can grow, anyway," he corrected in deference to my unshaven jowls.

Walter is going to Europe on a combined business-pleasure trip. He is to make a personal appearance in London.

"But I'm going to make it as much 'pleasure' as possible," he said, as though he was playing 'hookey' from school.

At the same time, he will be scouting for suitable stories. There is a lamentable lack of them now, he declared.

"I'll be able to study the dialogue on my way back," he said. "That's a big helptoward smooth screen work."

Having always felt that he would do well on the stage, Walter began appearing in amateur productions here while still a youngster. When a repertory company gave him an opportunity to join them in 1901 at fifteen dollars a week, he jumped at the chance. Since then he has played everything from old time meller-drammers to vaudeville. Five years ago he made his first big hit on the legitimate stage and now is well on his way to become one of the screen's greatest stars—at $50,000 a picture.

He showed me a book he had picked up in Chicago called, "X Marks the Spot" It contained the choicest selection of pictures of murdered gangsters lying in pools of blood that I have ever seen.

Officials Stage Fox Hunt in Museum

Officials and employees of the National Museum of Canada, at Ottawa, enjoyed all the thrills of fox-hunting recently when a silver fox, taken to the museum for exhibition at a lecture for children, got away from its keeper and led a merry chase through corridors and halls before being recaptured. Above is a picture of the cause of the trouble (at the top) in the hands of a youthful admirer; (below) draped around the neck of its owner.

Air Force Develops New Land Catapults

After Years of Research R. A. W. Produces Aircraft Catapults Promising New Air Methods.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(By the Canadian Press)—Aeroplane catapult devices, similar in action to the Roman Balista of 20 centuries ago, have reached a high stage of development in experimental work at the Royal Aircraft Establishment, Farnborough.

For several years the work has proceeded in secret. Catapults are fitted to some warships and a certain number of aircraft are strengthened to withstand the shock of catapult launching and fitted with attachments at four points by which the aeroplane is held in the catapult cradle. Recently tests were made with a Fairey biplane, possessing safety auto-slots in the leading edges of the wings so that the maximum lift might be obtained directly the craft was propelled into the air. Complete success was recorded and foreign technical experts who have examined catapult apparatus in other countries declare that the British device is much the best yet constructed. The aircraft is launched by compressed air and leaves the catapult at the end of a short run at a speed of about one mile a minute.

Ashcans or BUYERS—

where is YOUR Advertising GOING?

YOU give an Air Mail Special Delivery letter preference over all other mail, not because of the carrier investment involved, (you, the recipient, pay NOTHING for it) but because its manner of delivery has CONVINCED you of the importance of its contents . . . . The self same message, carelessly tossed into your front yard, to snarl the blades of your lawn mower or spoil the yard's tidy appearance, would probably gain your attention also, but it would be attention not calculated to put you in a mood to buy the product advertised . . . . EVEN IF YOU READ THE MESSAGE.

Your Advertising Message to be Wholly Convincing Must be Delivered Convincingly

Your may force your advertising message into the hands of a prospective buyer, with countless schemes and methods of delivery, but you CANNOT force him to read that message . . . . . The prospect must be PERSUADED to read your message by first placing it before him in a manner that CONVINCES him that YOU, the advertiser, believe sufficiently in its importance to, at least, GUARANTEE delivery . . . . Unobtrusive delivery, in no sense forced delivery that gains his attention by persuasion; delivery that gives him his news the way he wants to receive it . . . . THAT is newspaper advertising.

AND AS FOR INVESTMENT

The cost of printing in a job room, a circular of the same size as a full newspaper page and mailing laboriously only 5,000 of them to an uncertain delivery, is at least $20.00 more than the newspaper full page costs, and it is given a welcome reception in double the number of homes, without any more trouble to the advertiser than the simple preparation of copy. There is a great difference between the way a circular is looked on, which is "only an advertisement," and the way the daily newspaper is received, so that in the latter case, your offerings are brought to the reader's attention under the most favorable conditions possible. The Examiner reaches 10,000 homes, where 50,000 readers look eagerly for its daily visits, bringing both the cream of the world's news, and your advertising message to an appreciative public.

Syracuse Defeats Jackets For First Victory

STARS WINNERS IN THEIR FIRST HOME FIXTURE

JACKETS MEET BISONS.

Bill Holmes and Stan Brown Are Scorers for the Winners.

TORONTO Nov. 20 (By the Canadian Press) Only one game was played in the International Hockey League last night and the result had no effect on the standing of the leading teams.

Playing before more than 3,000 home fans, the Syracuse Stars won their first victory of the season by defeating the luckless Jackets. This was the first professional hockey match to be played in the New York state city and the first time the fans had had an opportunity to cheer their team to victory. They did not pass up the chance, making more noise than twice that many ordinary enthusiasts of the great winter sport when Syracuse took the lead in the first period on Bill Holmes' unassisted goal. Stan Brown put his team two up half way through the second session also on an individual thrust.

Bondy Fields, former Toronto Millionaire centre, who was the star of the Yellow Jacket offensive, put the visitors in the running with a neat goal early in the third period. Eager for their first triumph in three starts, Pittsburgh sent every man up to the attack but the goalkeeper in an effort to notch the tieing and winning goals. But their enthusiasm proved costly as Brown snared the puck and raced down the rink to score, having only Bud Fisher, the Yellow Jacket goalkeeper, to beat.

Pittsburgh go right back to the wars to-night when they entertain the leading Buffalo Bisons. The latter with three straight victories and no goals yet scored against them are expected to have a good workout, as the Yellow Jackets are weak defensively.

In the other scheduled contest to-night the smart London Tecumsehs clash with the Olympics in Detroit. The Canadian team is right behind Buffalo in the standing, but will be handicapped by the loss of Leo Reise, stellar defence player, who is on the hospital list with a knee injury.

The Tecumsehs have played three games, won two and tied one, while Detroit has played two, winning and losing one.

Cochrane Leading Hoppe In Titular Cue Contest

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Continuing his great play to win the sixth block in succession, 300 to 75, last night, Welker Cochran of Hollywood, Cal., took a lead of 1,800 to 884 over Willie Hoppe at the half-way mark in their 12-block match for the world's 18.1 balkline billiards championship.

Cochrane won the afternoon block yesterday 300 to 238, ending it with an unfinished run of 33. Last night he carried the cluster to 84 before he missed. The block went only eight innings, as Cochrane made a high run of 100 and wound up with an unfinished run of 75. Hoppe never could get started and had a high run of 19.

Miniature Golfers Undisturbed By Fire

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 20—The irresistible appeal of miniature golf seemed to gain an argument in its favor here recently when fire broke out in the fourth story of a building, the ground floor of which is entirely devoted to a diminutive thirty-six hole golf course.

While flames raged and firemen were scaling walls to pour tons of water on the blaze, the players engaged in their game of Tom Thumb did not even flick an eyelid and kept on with the arduous task of avoiding nazards. An amused crowd peered at them through large windows, finding the sight a lot more entertaining than a mere fire.

Toronto at New York Americans.

Detroit at Ottawa.

GROCERS FALL TO BOWLRITES

Dormer Victory Upsets Standings in Lakefield Indoor Softball League.

PLAY ON FRIDAY.

(Examiner Correspondence)

LAKEFIELD, Nov 20.—The Softball League was sceduled to close on Friday evening with the presentation of the Cement Company's Silver trophy by the plant manager, E. W. Bailey, but the best laid plays have a way of not always running true to form and the defeat of the "unbeatable" Harrison's by George Dormer's Sugar Bowl aggregation on Tuesday night altered the color of the proposed program. It was a game with a bunch of thrills in every innings and a tense excitement for the last ten minutes which exceeded that of any previous game.

On Friday evening the Canada Cement and Sugar Bowl meet and a victory for the former would mean a three-cornered tie for the leadership of the second half.

H. "Mouse" Dormer was welcomed back to first base of the Sugar Bowl team and was up to his very best form. Forsyth had eight strike-outs, no walks and Sturgeon had seven strikeouts and six walks.

Briant at the plate and Chittick at bases held the game down and had a strenuous hour for the game was snappy from start to finish, the only rest period being when the ball refused to roll out of a snug retreat between the beams and the roof.

The line-up was as follows:

SUGAR BOWL		HARRISONS
Forsyth	P	Sturgeon
Mahood	C	Haas
H. Dormer	FB	Playford
Gillespie	SB	Corbett
Maudsley	TB	Dorrington
Nicholls	SS	Smith
Webb	SS	Wilshaw
Dallin	OF	Harrison
Hardill	OF	Vinnett

The score by innings:

Sugar Bowl	0	1	0	2	0	2	5	—	10
Harrison's	0	0	2	0	1	0	1	—	4

Features—Dorrington got two of Harrison's four runs and Percy Harrison himself got another. Wilshaw got the first run. Gillespies three-base hit in the fourth innings was notable.

Lakefield Wins 19—17

The second game seemed like an anti-climax after the thrill of the first but the old friendly rivalry between Selwyn and Lakefield made a game worth while as both teams were true to their best form and while there were several gaps in the ranks and Richmond Stabler and Shearer were missed the game was a close one with evenly matched teams and Lakefield trying out a new pitcher, "Mackey" Payne who pitched exceptionally well.

Hamblin made a home run in the fifth which was Lakefield's big innings. For Selwyn Elliott and Nicholls each made four runs.

The line-up was as follows:

LAKEFIELD		SELWYN
F. Payne	P	W. Elliott
R. Payne	C	G. Nicholls
H. Hamblin	FB	E. Graham
N. Kyle	SB	O. Darling
J. Langley	TB	C. Fitzgerald
V. Lancaster	SS	H. Olver
J. Gilson	OF	M. Wilson
L. Lawless	OF	R. Elliott
R. Moth	OF	C. McIlmoyl

Score by innings:

Lakefield	0	2	2	4	10	0	1	—	19
Selwyn	4	4	3	3	0	3	0	—	17

Maroons and Canucks in First Intra-City Tilt

TORONTO LEAFS HAVE HARD NUT IN AMERICANS

Canadian Group Leaders Tangle With Gerard's Playboys at New York.

MAROONS AT CANADIENS.

All Six Teams in National Hockey League Swing Into Action To-night.

One of the matches in to-night's N.H.L. is an All-Canadian affair, two are intra-group fixtures, while the other tussle of the four scheduled is an All-American struggle.

Montreal Maroons and their fellow-citizens, Canadiens, clash in the Forum in the first intra-city game of the season between these two noted rivals. While Maroons have shown lamentably weak form in the three games played so far, it is anticipated they will rise to greater heights in their efforts to vanquish the Flying Frenchmen. The chances of a Maroon victory, however, seem slight, as they have been shut out thrice—by Ottawa, Toronto and New York Americans, respectively.

Canadiens, while beaten at Boston by the National Hockey League champions, appear every bit as strong as last year when they trounced the Bruins in the world's championship final. They won their first game of the young season from Ottawa, and should advance to-night at the expense of the Maroons, who have yet to reach anywhere near their true form.

Toronto Maple Leafs, leaders of the Canadian group with five points out of a possible six in three games, have a hard nut to crack at Madison Square Garden, where they meet the "Amazen Amerks." The latter team is but one point behind the speed artists from Toronto, but have played one game more.

Builds Strong Team

Eddie Gerard, the new American coach, has taken a leaf out of Tommy Gorman's book, and rebuilt the Amerks into a powerful defensive machine. Gorman did the same thing two years ago and reached the playoffs. In the four games played so far, the Gothamites have had but one goal scored against them. They have played scoreless ties with their intra-city rival, the Rangers, and with the Maple Leafs in Toronto. They beat Maroons by the only goal scored and lost to Boston by the same margin.

To maintain their lead the Leafs will have to break through one of the strongest defensive teams in the league, which is no easy job, especially for a team like the Torontonians who rely mainly on speed and wide-open playing, to attain success.

The Ottawa Senators will have a handful as they entertain the Detroit Falcons, the surprise team so far of the American group. With two straight victories to their credit the Motor City team appears to be going somewhere this year and the Senators will have to be at their best if they would turn back the Falcon threat. Detroit are tied for the leadership of their group with Rangers and Boston, while Ottawa are in third place in the Canadian group ,two points behind the leaders.

Chicago Blackhawks, who tied with Rangers in the only game they have played, have Boston Bruins as their guests and an exciting struggle is expected. The Blackhawks were pretty much masters of the Bruins last season, their fast, hard-checking forwards, proving more than a match for the Boston "Dynamite Trio." This season, it is claimed, the Windy City team has improved considerably and if this is the case, victory should be theirs when the final whistle blows.

Bruins have not slipped any from last year when they set several records for consecutive victories and won the N.H.L. title. In two games they have beaten the Americans and the Canadiens.

GENE GIVES PROMOTER K.O.

Some of the throng who surrounded Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion, to extend their congratulations upon his legal victory over Tim Mara, sports promoter, who had sued him for $500,000. The former ring star was said to be near collapse when the verdict was brought in.

GETTING READY FOR OLYMPICS

Elaborate Stands To Be Built For Winter Games at Lake Placid.

COST HALF MILLION.

(Special to The Examiner, Copyright 1930)

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (SNS).—It will cost half a million dollars to provide all the facilities needed for the winter sports of the Olympic games at Lake Placid in February, 1932.

Although the championship events are more than a year away there is great activity in the picturesque New York town.

The sports events will be run over a period of ten days and it is expected 8,000 spectators will be on hand each day, making a total of 80,000 for the entire program. An admission has not been decided upon but it would be necessary to charge each spectator around $10 a day to get back the money to be invested. But this is not the plan. The money will be raised regardless of the gate receipts. The state and the resort town will share the expense.

One stadium being erected will seat 4,000 persons and provide standing room for as many more. Stands on the hillsides for the ski jumps and bob sled races will seat 5,000 persons.

It is estimated there will be 600 contestants and perhaps 150 officials. In addition it is expected 6,000 spectators will be cared for in the resort hotels.

The championship program will get under way February 4 with events morning, afternoon and evening. Hockey games will be played each evening.

Many of the contestants will be on hand from three to five weeks for preliminary training.

TORONTO JUNIORS WIN S.P.A. GAMES

Canoe Club Beats St. Michael's While U. of T. Wins From Danforth.

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—The two "Big Four" representatives, Toronto Canoe Club and the U. of T. Juniors, advanced to the second round of the S.P.A. series when they scored victories over St. Michael's College and Danforth Juniors, respectively, in a hockey double-header at the Arena Gardens last night.

In the first game of the evening the local Paddlers showed a decided superiority over their rivals, and came out on top by a 7 to 2 score, while the second contest provided plenty of action with the University boys coming from behind in the second period to score three goals and gain victory, 3 to 1.

HUNT UNDER WAY FOR OTTAWA LAD

Commissioner of Taxation's Son Been Missing Since November 7.

RIVER SHORE SEARCHED.

OTTAWA, Ont., November 20 (C.P.). — The Ontario shore of the Ottawa River in the immediate vicinity of the Capital is being combed ot-day for trace of Lloyd Walters, 21-year-old son of the Dominion Commissioner of Taxation, Chester Walters, who disappeared on November 7. The Quebec shore of the river was put under a minute search yesterday by police and a half hundred members of the Ottawa Service Club, to which the father of the missing youth belongs, but the hunt was fruitless.

Lloyd Walters was last seen in Hull, Que., following a visit to that city in company with a number of young chums. He refused to accompany his friends when they left for home.

Inoculation Victims Have Chance Of Life

MEDELLIN, Colombia, Nov. 19.—(OP)—Medical authorities had high hopes to-day of saving the lives of thirty-four children identally inoculated with diptheria germs instead of anti-toxin. Previous inoculation with anti-toxin may have granted sufficient immunity to prevent their deaths.

It was established to-day that fifteen children who received the improper inoculation were dead, instead of sixteen as was previously stated. Antonio Pena of the National Labratoryof Hygiene has come here form Bogota to direct efforts to repair the error.

KNOCKED DOWN BY FREIGHT

PARRY SOUND, Ont., Nov. 19 (C.P.)—Mrs. J. A. Dwyer, wife of a prominent local business man, was knocked down at a level crossing by a freight train early to-day and sustained a fractured skull, spinal injuries and a broken leg. Little hope is held out for her recovery.

BATTLE OF COACHES FEATURE QUEEN'S-TIGERS SEMI-FINAL

Harry Batstone, Queen's Coach, an Old Pupil of Mike Rodden.

(Special to The Examiner—Copyright 1930)

HAMILTON, Nov. 20—Can nothing stop the mighty Tigers of Hamilton? Or will these ferocious Rodden-trained jungle cats from under the "Mountain" sweep all before them and march and once again be the lords of Rugby in Canada?

A Hamiltonian could answer that question in one word—yes. But there are others who are not so confident. The Tigers are very eccentric. This year, they took a trip through Western Canada, and piled up some 200 points in seven games. In their first league game this year, they swamped the Senators from Ottawa. Then they promptly stepped down to Montreal, where the Winged-Wheelers held them to a tie—and this after the "French" boys had taken a rap from Argos, of Toronto.

Things looked ripe for the latter, until they played in Hamilton where the Tigers made them look like a school team. But Argo persisted, and when the Tigers, last week, played their last League game with Argos for the Big Four Championship, some 17,000 fans turned out to see if Tigers could be beaten. And they almost were—but that tie-game is now on a guilded page of Canadian Rugby History.

Saturday's first C.R.U. Eastern semi-final finds Tigers taking on the Collegians from Queen's. And what a battle it's going to be! A battle of coaches. Years ago, when the peer of all backfield men in Canada, Harry "Red" Batstone was playing for Argos, Mike Rodden was his coach. That was in the days of the famous Batstone-Conacher duo. Now that "Red" is a coach one can see the value of Mike's early coaching—for Batstone has used many of Mike's old tricks. That is why Queen's will have a better chance against Tigers than any other team in Canada, because they have a coach who is just as canny, just as cool as the peerless Mike. And Harry knows what Mike is going to do next which is something a lot of coaches don't know.

Of course, the Queen's line doesn't look as good as Tigers; they haven't a plunger to compare with such man-mountains as Sprague and Timmis, but in Carter and Gilmore, they have a backfield that's just a little trickier, a little faster, though not any steadier, than "Beano" Wright and Co.

Taking all in all, Tigers should, of course, win. But Queen's have a better chance of taking them than any other Canadian team—save perhaps these surprising Rough-Riders from Regina.

If Tigers pass Queen's they should encounter little difficulty against Balmy Beach, who were almost eliminated by Tigers second team in the O.R.F.U. But wait until the Riders come East.

Of course, every year the East plays the West, there is always a lot of ballyhoo about what the West is going to do, and then they never do it. But things look a bit different this year.

When Tigers went West, Regina was the last city they played in. Whether this was a strategic move or not, is not known. But at any rate, the Riders held the crippled Tigers to about an 18-2 score. The Jungle Cats claimed they couldn't pile up a score because of injuries, but they have been suffering injuries all year.

But Regina, when they played Tigers, were a green team. A number of their players were just out of the junior ranks. Since that game, Al Ritchie, the Rodden of the West, has put the boys through the ropes, until now they know what it's all about. True, they just managed to squeeze out victories from Calgary and Vancouver. But these two teams are no weaklings either.

It looks like the best east-west battle for many years, and the east, as well as the west, are hoping and praying that the Riders can come down and knock off the Tigers—that is, the east, with the exception of this city of Hamilton.

REV. S. A. MARTIN IS TOURING THE EAST

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—Rev. Samuel Angus Martin, the man who built the first church on the townsite at Churchill, has come out to more settled parts for a few weeks and will tour Ontario for the next fortnight in behalf of frontier needs. His first speaking engagement was at Campbellford yesterday and his second at Elizabethville, near Canton, to-day. He will be at Belleville and Oshawa on Sunday and at Beaverton, Wooler, Smithfield, Hilton, Madoc and Brighton next week.

When broadcasting from a supper of 1,200 men in Toronto a year ago, "Sam" Martin predicted that he would be at Churchill to welcome the first regular passenger train over the Hudson Bay Railway to the port. He had the church building, largely the work of his own hands, completed in June, 1929, before the town plot was surveyed. This summer he served the 1,200 men of the construction gangs on the harbor, docks, terminals and railways, coming out when the season ended this month. This will be his fourth winter as missionary along the railway.

Rev. George A. Williams of Formosa, who has arranged Mr. Martin's itinerary, reports a keen interest in his coming to the Bay of Quinte Conference to tell of the makers of Canada's newest frontier.

Battle to Two-all Tie After Ten Minutes of Overtime Play.

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—St. Michael's College and Junior S.P.S. battled to a two-all ten minutes overtime tie in their Mulock Cup football final at Varsity Stadium yesterday afternoon. S.P.S. gained a two point lead early in the game only to have the Celts even the count in the last session and the teams went through the two five minutes of extra play unable to break the deadlock.

Loughran Is Favorite To Win From Levinsky

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Tommy Loughran's impressive training performances have made him a 2 to 1 favorite to defeat King Levinsky, Chicago slugger, in their 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium on Friday. Loughran retired undefeated light-heavyweight champion, today denied reports that he would ask the Illinois Athletic Commission to take special care in the selection of officials for the bout.

"I don't know whether the Slattery-Levinsky decision was a gift to Levinsky or not," Loughran said, "But I've always found officials anxious to be fair. If they do make a mistake it usually is an honest one and I see no reason to ask the commission for 'protection'."

RODDEN MAKES MANY CHANGES WITH BENGALS

Timmins, Cox and Denman Will Be Listed Among Absentees on Saturday.

Changes Made By Tiger Coach Indicate "Cats" Will Present Fairly Strong Front.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 20.—(By the Canadian Press)—Although Coach Mike Rodden of Hamilton Tigers, interprovincial champions, has but 15 players to call on for service in the Eastern Canada final against Queen's University, Intercollegegiate titleholders at Toronto on Saturday, he has reorganized the team in a fashion indicating the Bengals will present a fairly strong front.

The drastic changes decided on by Coach Rodden on account of injuries to three of his stars, include the switching of Glen Small from flying wing to middle Jimmy Wright, alternate outside wing to snapback, and Chapple and Clark to the inside wing positions.

Among Absentees.

Brian Timmis, rated the best middle in Canada, Ernie Cox, regular snapback and Alex Denman, husky lineman, are reported in bad shape as the result of injuries in last Saturday's game against Toronto Argonauts. Timmis and Cox are practically certain to be absentees, while Denman is considered an unlikely starter.

While the present holders of the Dominion Title, are badly wrecked through injuries and the long campaign they have played through, the Tricolor will field their strongest team.

Both Queens and Tigers held stiff workouts yesterday. The Tricolor drilled against their intermediate team. Players of the latter squad dressed in Tiger sweaters and gave their seniors a thorough workout, which will be the final one before the game.

It will be the fifth meeting of the teams in Canadian rugby union playdowns. In 1923 and again in 1924 the Tricolor won by fairly comfortable margins, but in 1927 and 1929 the Tigers gained revenge by beating the Kingstonians fairly easily.

A large contingent of supporters will accompany both teams to this city. Queen's expected to have about 2000 fans cheering them on, while Tigers will have more than double that number, as the 7,000 seats which went on sale in Hamilton are being purchased at a rapid rate.

Bowling Alley Gossip

By Pin Boy

Low scores were the rule rather than the exception this week in the weekly roll of the Westclox League and more than one of the shops' heavy hitters forgot to comment on their own ability on the polished aisles at work next day.

—O—

Jake Beckerman's Trembling Trundlers put the skids under "Spider" Martin's team to win two games and lose the third by only 4 pins in a real throaty battle. It looks very much as if Jakie's latent generosity exerted itself in the game which his team lost, but this can't be proved and anyways "Spider's" team intends to remain in the league.

—O—

TWO GAME WIN

Ab. Delahaye's quintette of spillers took two games from Wyatt despite the fact that they had only four men, and lost the third game by very few pins. "We won with only four men", was the winning captain's comment on the battle which is only his modest way of stating that he has the best team in the league.

—O—

Despite the fact that Tommy Cupoli was still recuperating from the effects of a Neapolitan banquet in Toronto on Saturday night, he was able to pilot his team to a one game win over Ainslie's sluggers who crashed the pins in winning style to win the big half of the argument Tommy's contribution was a triple of 719 which was high for the night, while K. Robinson led the winners to victory with scores of 206-255-264.

Earl Eames and his tribe of top-notchers converted the usually brilliant Wise team into an aggregation of "also rans" winning three games. This reverse will probably result in a decisive come-back by the losers next week.

TOO MUCH HEAD PIN

Harry Baptie's team went head pin crazy, losing two games to Goodson's crew who were handicapped somewhat by their lead-off man who came through with a single of 97. Goodson picked off 707 pins to lead his team while Simmons was next in line with a single of 247.

—O—

Tommy Cupoli and a team of his countrymen journeyed to Toronto to engage a team representing the Circolo Columbo (Columbus circle) club on their own alleys on Saturday last. This battle was the final in a home and home series, the Torontonians having been defeated here a week ago

NOVEL CONTEST

A unique display in Wainman's jewelery store window, consisting of a faithful reproduction in miniature of the Hydraulic Life Locks is attracting considerable attention this week. The model, designed and built by C. T. Watson, is being used in connection with a novel competition, in which all customers are entitled to participate.

The rules of the contest call for an estimate of the number and the cash value of a number of gold-plated coppers and a few nickel pieces, with which the model is liberally studded.

ALL TEAMS IN E. P. L. WILL HAVE SHARE IN THE PLAY-OFF RECEIPTS ACCORDING TO NEW LOOP POLICY

PROMISE TEAM NEXT YEAR.

A fairer division of gate receipts in the championship series of the East Peterborough League by which all teams in the league will get a share is the policy that must be adopted next summer. Charlie Curtis, secretary and the man mostly responsible for the past success of the E.P.L., told the Cognawaga ball club at their banquet last evening in Austin's Dining Rooms. As it was in the past season, stated Mr. Curtis, one or two teams benefited by the playoffs and the other teams who aided in the competition all season were left with very little to carry on.

The Cognawagas did not win a championship last summer as they had in several previous seasons, but that did not detract from the success of their banquet. Baseball was the chief topic of every speaker and it was promised that the Cogs would be back in the E.P.L. next year, carrying on the tradition for clean sportsmanship attained by the club.

William McLaren, for ten years superintendent of the Cognawaga Athletic Club, was a most worthy chairman of the banquet and his ready wit helped much to the spirit of the occasion.

Best in Province

Bill Kay, district representative of the O.B.A.A., Dorsey Davis, president of the E.P.L. and former manager of the Cogs, and Charlie Curtis all spoke of the work and needs of the E.P.L. Bill Kay referred to it as the best intermediate league in the province.

The league's umpires, Alex Kay and Edgar LeBarr, were honored guests and each was unstinted in his praise of the sportsmanship of the Cogs.

Speaking for the club, Bob Ross, Al Davis, president of the club, and Fred Cripps, manager of this summer's team, stated that the Cogs would be back again next summer.

To complete the evening, Fred Cripps showed moving pictures taken at Bethany and Exhibition Park of members of the Cog's team in action.

BAILEY NOTIFIED OF TICKET DRAW

TWELVE IN LONDON.

G. B. Bailey, 339 Downie street, still has received no definite word of just how much of the $3,250,000 to be split in the Manchester November Handicap he is likely to win with his horse Sans Espoir. He received a telegram from the race officials at Dublin informing that he was among the seventy-eight who had drawn winning tickets and will share in the the huge fortune.

Meanwhile he remains calm and non-committal about his hopes for a big share of the millions and he hasn't let his luck interfere with his work as timekeeper for the T. A. Brown Construction Company.

The race will be run on Saturday, and an Irishman holds a ticket on the favorite in the race. James O'Leary, of Cork, drew Saracen, whose latest odds are 7 to 1. Twelve tickets went to London, England, although only four of the horses are still in the race. A waitress, a butcher boy and a porter are among the Londoners to whom the handicap may mean ease and comfort for the rest of their lives.

Providence Defeats New Haven Eagles 6-1

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Nov. 20.—The Rhode Island Reds won their first home game in defence of their Canadian-American League championship here last night, when they defeated the New Haven Eagles 6 to 1. The Reds started slowly, scoring only one goal in the first period, but they made three in the second and two more in the third.

New Haven's only goal was scored by Billy Boucher in the second period. But Cook, brother of Bill and Bun of the Rangers, starred with three goals and an assist.

HAMILTON DELTA WILL PLAY HERE

Rugby Play-off With P.C.I. Will Be Staged in James Stevenson Park on Saturday.

GAME STARTS 2 O'CLOCK.

The Garnet and Grey Rugby squad will be at full strength for the big clash here on Saturday afternoon with the Hamilton Delta Collegiate's hefty aggregation in a sudden-death game for the right to continue on into the Ontario Interscholastic final round.

Definite arrangements to bring the Hamilton champs here on Saturday were completed late last night. Up until that time there was some chance that the game might not be played on a Peterborough gridiron, because of the heavy financial burden incurred by P.C.I. in guaranteeing the expenses asked for by Hamilton for the trip. In order to give the home fans an opportunity to see the game P.C.I. has taken over full burden of paying Hamilton's expenses.

Coach Legon's team will be at full strength for the big game. They have been through several heavy practices this week, and showed their best ability of the season. They are missing no opportunities to stiffen their defence or add more dash to their offensive plays.

CAR SALESMEN ARE WINNERS FIRST STRUGGLE

PLAY NICE CAGE GAME.

Cooper's De Laval Quintette Easily Defeats Canadian Department Stores 30-13.

City League Basketball League got away to a good start last night on the "Y" gym. Four teams were seen in action. Chevrolet Sales took the first game from Graftons.

The second game had the appearance of a walk-away for Cooper's De Laval team against a team representing the Canadian Departmental Stores. The score was 30-13. It was a big night for the sons of Abraham, Chesler, Swartz and Levine were the big point getters for their respective teams. MacDonald was also prominent for Grafton's, although his play was somewhat marred by three personal fouls. Arnold Reynolds, another P.C.I. stalwart, had to be banished from the game. Laing showed up good for the Chevrolet team.

The two teams in the second game were all husky boys but a little green. Levine with 14 points and Palmer with 11 points were the big guns for De Laval. The goals were divided among the forwards on the C. D. S. team.

Teams:

Graftons (18)—M. Swartz, L. Chesler, H. MacDonald, A. Ward, Armstrong, R. Clark.

Chevrolet Sales (22))—B. Lang, C. McGee, G. Broadley, A. Reynolds, J Ward, V. Reynolds.

TRENT RIVER, Nov. 20.—(Examiner Correspondence)—Miss Betty Ormiston was chosen as the winner of the latest the series of the oratorical contests of West Seymour held at Trent River School on Friday night, with Alexander Brown and Jim Inkster second and third respectively.

Miss Ormiston chose as her subject, "Going to Market," while Jim Inkster chose, "The Creek," and the story of an automobile tire.

Harold B. Wood was chairman for the evening and the judges were Earl Fairman, of Connolly's school and Mr. Todd, of West's school.

The program opened with a chorus by the school, "My Own Canadian Home," and the chairman welcomed the parents and friends of the pupils and explained the purpose of the public speaking contests and that the prizes were donated by the Women's Institute of West Seymour.

The addresses were given as follows: "The Creek," Alexander Brown; "The tenant in our orchard, "Cyril Chaplin; story of an automobile tie, Jim Inkster; "Going to Market," Betty Ormiston; "Tenants in our Orchard," Clayton Revoir; "My Homework," Albert Tyler; story of an automobile tire, George Wanamaker.

Two pupils, Ethel Shearer and Phyllis Brown, not eligible for the contest, spoke on Thanksgiving and Birkenhead, and the play "Uplift of Buggingsville Society" was repeated and Mrs. Gordon Shearer, on behalf of the Women's Institute presented Mr. Umphrey teacher, with a cheque for school prize money for 3rd place for flowers at the school fair.

Mrs. Jack Bolander, of Toronto and formerly Miss Jennie Brown, an ex-pupil spoke for a short while as did Mrs. Howard Clarke, president of the Institute.

A song entitled, "That Darling Black Moustache," was given in costume Mr. Todd congratulated the winners and H. B. Wood referred to the good work of the Institute in placing a first aid cabinet in the school.

The winners from Trent River school have to compete in the semi-finals at Campbellford, on November 27.

A BEDTIME STORY

by Howard R Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S BLOW UP.

"There it is! See it!" whispered the Bob Cat to Red Fox, Fuzzy Fox and the Woozie Wolf, who, with the stubby-tailed Bad Chap, were slinking around close to Uncle Wiggily's bungalow.

"What is it?" growled Red Fox, but in a sort of whisper for all the animals were keeping as quiet as they could.

"There's the funny new sign Uncle Wiggily put up after he splattered some red paint on my nose!" mewed the Bob Cat. "I was hiding in the bushes watching him. But it's such a funny sign I thought I'd better tell you boys and see what we had better do."

"Hum! It is a queer sign all right," growled the Woozie Wolf. "Not at all like the other signs."

"Indeed it isn't," agreed Red Fox. "The other signs told us to Keep Out."

"And we didn't! Ha! Ha! we didn't!" chuckled Fuzzy Fox. "We just went in, as if no sign was there and we tramped all over the garden."

"No, but we gave Uncle Wiggily a good scare, skulking around after dark and leaving paw marks on the ground," said the Woozie Wolf.

"And we showed him we didn't care for his old signs," spoke Fuzzy Fox. "How about it, Cousin?" he asked, poking Red Fox in the ribs.

"Ouch! You're right!" grunted Red Fox. "But this sign is different. What had we better do? It says to come in and have a cup of tea."

"I don't care much for tea," spoke the Bob Cat.

"Nor I," added Fuzzy Fox.

"But I would like to go in there and get some nibbles off Uncle Wiggily," whispered Red Fox.

"So would I," added the Woozie Wolf. "Though I don't see why he should invite us. He never did it before. I think it's a trick and I don't like tricks. I say let's go away."

"I say let's go in to show him we don't care any more for this sign than we did for the others," spoke the Bob Cat. "I'm hungry!"

"So am I!" growled Red Fox. "And I don't see anything that looks like a trick; do you, Cousin?"

"No, I don't," answered Fuzzy Fox. "I just see a big pile of leaves in the moonlight."

"Then let's go in and trample on his old garden and give him a big scare!" whispered the Bob Cat. "And maybe he'll be so frightened that he'll jump out of the window and we can catch him."

"No such luck!" growled the Woozie Wolf. "It's a trick, I tell you."

"Then aren't you coming in?" asked Red Fox.

"Oh, yes, I'll come in. But you'll see what will happen," the Wolf said. "Uncle Wiggily is too smart for us."

All this while Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Twistytail, waiting in the kitchen, were listening to the whisperings of the Bad Chaps. And they saw their slinking shadows back of the bushes at the end of the garden. Under the pile of leaves, as I told you in the story last night, Uncle Wiggily had hidden a big, red toy balloon, partly blown up. Fast to the balloon was a long, rubber tube, the other end being held by the rabbit in the kitchen.

"As soon as they come near the pile of leaves there'll be a grand blow up!" whispered Uncle Wiggily to his friend, the pig.

"You said it!" grunted Mr. Twistytail.

The Bad Chaps slunk out from behind the bushes and began coming into Uncle Wiggily's yard and garden. They were so impolite as to stick out their tongues at the funny red sign, inviting them to tea. (Of course Uncle Wiggily didn't really mean that.)

Soon the four Bad Chaps were near the pile of leaves under which was hidden the big balloon.

"Blow now!" whispered Mr. Twistytail to the rabbit.

Uncle Wiggily put the end of the rubber tube in his mouth and puffed out his cheeks. He blew and he blew and he blew, like a Boy Scout playing the bugle. The leaves in the pile began to shiver and shake as the balloon under them swelled up more and more.

"See! Nothing has happened!" whispered the Bob Cat.

All of a sudden, with a noise like a clap of thunder, Uncle Wiggily set off his blow up. The balloon burst. Up in the air went a shower of leaves. Up in the air were tossed the four Bad Chaps, and when they came down, blippity bloppity, they were so sore and bruised that away they ran out of the bunny's garden.

"I told you something would happen!" howled the Woozie Wolf.

"After this I'll believe in signs!" mewed the limping Bob Cat.

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny and fat pig.

GAMELESS ONTARIO HUNTERS SEEK NEW DEER VALHALLA

Only a Few Partridges and Rabbits Discovered in Nipissing Area.

WOLVES KILL BUCK

Special to Examiner, Copyright 1930.)

DONALD'S BAY, District of Nipissing, Ont., Nov. 20.—Our friend, the fur hunter, paddled in recently to tell us that he had found a four-year-old buck in the alders at the foot of Pole's Lake that morning. The animal, believed to have been wounded by some hunter had been torn down by a couple of wolves, and eaten. Pole's Lake is on the Algonquin Park boundary.

A two-year-old bear is in the vicinity and has been stripping the bark off the dry cedars for his den. The bears, like all other game, are mighty scarce here abouts. And the hunting conditions are real bad. The snow lasted a day; there has been no rain, and the heavy frosts have made still hunting impossible. On the top of that has been the severe winds which drove the few deer out of the district.

In the past few days we have seen but a few partridge and rabbits, and nothing else in the way of game. Birds have been fairly plentiful. The tree sparrows, pine grosbeaks, blue jays, juncos, but not a sign of a Canada jay. Remember the time when a wisp of smoke or the crack of a rifle would bring a pair of these lovely birds seemingly out of nowhere. What has become of them?

Moose tracks were found recently, but they were old. A large bull.

Sunday was visiting day. A Killaloe party, hunting in Bonnechere Bay, had not had a shot at a deer, although they have good dogs.

All Using Dogs.

Across the lake a Madawaska-Ottawa party secured a nice buck recently. The Stratford gang had done well so far and will likely get their "count" long before their time is up. They do all their hunting with dogs.

One of the last lumber camps used by the McLachlins of Arnprior burned down on Saturday night. It was one of the old scoop-roofed shanties with stone caboose in the centre and has not been used for years. It was probably built half a century ago and not a nail was used anywhere in its construction.

Hunting conditions and lack of game hereabouts have become so bad that we have decided to move. Our next address may be Botth's Dam on the Opeongo river, but that may not be our ultimate destination. Apparently the game is not in the vicinity of Ontario's game sanctuary, Algonquin Park, and we are going elsewhere in search of the deers' Valhallaor whatever they call the place where the deer are.

Yes, we are going. The stuff is packed and the canoe is ready. We have decided not to support the Ferguson government again unless that administration will guarantee next year, noiseless license buttons and white deer for still hunting.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT

"What can I get for Ann's birthday?" sighed Mary. "If I could only think of something different!" Then she remembered having read about Long Distance telephoning. "Now that's an idea! I know Ann would appreciate something personal—like that. I'll call her right away!" P.S.—Mary enjoyed it too.—(Advt.)

CHICKEN SUPPER IS MUCH ENJOYED

Four Hundred People Attend Affair Held in St. Andrew's Church Hall.

The four hundred people who attended the annual fowl supper of St. Andrew's Church last night, had one of the best meals of their experience. Everything was home-made, and everything was piping hot. Fowl and gravy and all the accessories of a splendid repast, were very plentiful and the service was excellent. In charge of the ladies of the church, with Mrs. F. L. Robinson as general convenor, assisted by Mrs. V. S. Foster and Mrs. V. Hamilton, and a large corps of ladies who helped in every way, the arrangements were flawless, from start to finish. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. T. H. Gillespite, assisted by Mrs. D. F. Drummond, who did some fine work in the arrangement of the hall where the program was rendered, and of the tables, very bright and attractive with long runners of red and gold paper, crimson candles and red poppies in vases of black satin glass.

Mrs. C. V. McLea nand Mrs. F. H. Dearborn were in charge of the tables, and Mrs. L. E. Nelson had charge of an excellent program which finished the evening's entertainment, and was given in the upper hall of the Sunday School auditorium, with the Rev Dr. McLean as chairman. During the supper hour, music was provided by a radio kindly loaned by the Heintzman Company.

G. A. Gillespie and Alpine MacNab sold tickets and E. Reid collected them.

The program, which was prefaced by a brief speech of congratulation to the ladies and thanks to all who had patronized the supper, voiced by Dr. McLean, included readings by Mrs. Hazel Davidson McClelland; piano solos by Mary McPherson and Bob Maybee; readings by Miss Helen Ross; songs by Mrs. Ford Turner, and violin selections by Stewart Dawson.

Football is such a rage in England this winter that dinner dishes are being made in the forms of players and footballs.

THE RETURN OF TARZAN No. 58 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

At sunset they buried William Cecil Clayton beside the jungle graves of his uncle and his aunt, the former Lord and Lady Greystoke. And it was at Tarzan's request that three volleys were fired over the last resting-place of "a brave man, who met his death bravely." Jane's father, who in his younger days had been ordained a minister, conducted the simple services.

About the grave, with bowed heads, stood as strange a company of mourners as ever the sun's last rays beamed upon. There were French officers and sailors, Englishmen and Americans, a score of savage African braves, and the towering figure of Tarzan of the Apes. It was this scene that Lord Tennington and "Thuran" beheld as they came through the jungle.

"Who is that, I wonder?" exclaimed Tennington to "Monsieur Thuran." The little company were walking slowly toward the camp now, Tarzan talking with the captain of the cruiser. As "Thuran" raised his eyes at the question, and saw the lithe, brown giant, he staggered and went white. It seemed impossible to him, yet there stood the object of his long hatred, Tarzan himself.

The ape-man was asking the captain to delay the sailing of the cruiser a couple of days while he went inland to fetch "his belongings," and the officer gladly granted the favor. At this moment a yell came from the jungle. There was a flash of fire, the report of a gun, and a bullet intended for Tarzan's heart whizzed through the air.

MOTHER AND BABY KILLED AT CROSSING

Stobie, Forlong To Pay 25c On Dollar

CLAIMS REACHING $387,617 TOTAL BEEN ACCEPTED

Intimated That Liquidators Have $164,900 on Deposit at Present.

PETITION GRANTED.

Judgment Orders Sufficient Funds Held to Pay Future Claims.

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 21. — (CP) — Liquidators of the bankrupt firm of Stobie, Forlong and Co., Ltd., stock brokers, were authorized to make an initial payment of 25c of the dollar to creditors of the company, according to a judgment of Mr. Justice Boyer in the practice court here today.

$164,900 On Deposit

In a petition before the Court by Stanley E. Siscoe, a creditor, it was intimated that the liquidators at the present time have an amount of $164,900 on deposit in the bank, in connection with the winding up of the bankrupt firm.

Already claims have been accepted by the liquidators to an amount of $303,103.76 while claims for $78,118.37 have not been admitted and other claims on $6,395.32 are still to be filed.

As the total of known claims amounted to $387,617.45 the available cash on hand would be more than sufficient for an interim division of 25 cents on the dollar, providing even that all claims were finally admitted, it was submitted. The petition was granted by the court and authority given the liquidators to pay the 25 per cent dividend on claims already proven and to hold sufficient funds to make a similar payment on claims to be proved in the future.

RED BATTALIONS MEETING.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—(C.P.) —Berlin despatches to the Daily Express carry reports that two battalions of the Red army mutinied while engaged in winter manoeuvres at Lamallowo, a village ten miles from Moscow.

The reports add that the men killed some of thier officers, but ultimately were subjugated by the Ogpu (secret police) after a fierce battle, in which many soldiers were killed or wounded.

It was added that 700 arrests had since been made in the Red capital.

220 UNEMPLOYED ARE GIVEN WORK

More Than Thirty Were Added to City's Relief Program To-day.

SINGLE MEN TAKEN ON.

More than thirty unemployed men were added to the city's payroll this morning when another gang was set to work laying storm drains under the city's unemployment relief policy. This brings the total up to about 220 and has made a big hole in the ranks of the city's unemployed.

For the first time single men were given jobs, some twenty of them being handed picks and shovels. However, these single men all have dependents, either mothers or younger brothers and sisters.

The scheme of keeping the gangs working week about is being carried out so that the largest number of men possible will benefit from the work. Mild weather has already the work to proceed without interruption and great way is being made on the drains. If the good weather continues the work will be completed around the New Year.

Brewery is Fined $5,000 and Costs

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 21 (C.P.). —Walkerville Brewery was to-day fined $5,000 and costs on a charge of keeping liquor for sale. Beer, valued at over $2,000, seized when Provincial police under Inspector Sidney Oliver visited the plant, was not ordered confiscated but is held pending a ruling from the Liquor Control Board. Magistrate D. M. Brodie heard the case.

PLANS ARE LAID TO HELP FARMER

Hon. T. L. Kennedy Announces That Gov't is Willing to Share Cost.

FIVE POINTS OUTLINED.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 20.—(C.P.) —A program of agricultural expansion and development based on the willingness of the Dominion government to pay a share of the cost was announced by Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario here. The program is the most ambitious in the history of the province, it is claimed.

The chief points in the Government's program as enumerated by Col. Kennedy were:

2—Cut down by 10 per cent. the annual field crop production in Ontario.

3—Reduce cost of manufacturing field crops into dairy products and meat by more skilful feeding and balanced rations.

4—Extension of agricultural educational training throughout Ontario and co-operation of county councils in spreading information to farmers.

5—Erection of cold storage plants in various parts of the province for the purpose of storing produce and fruit and creating an orderly market as well as improving the quality of the products.

Asked if his program was founded on an early resumption of Federal grants to the provinces for agriculture which were cut off in 1924, Mr. Kennedy did not wish to make any statement on the matter of Federal grants.

INDIA'S CONSTITUTION MUST WORK AND EVOLVE STATES MACDONALD

Unless It Does Difficulties Will Not Be Solved Parley Delegates Told.

COMMITTEES TAKE HOLD.

(By George Hambleton, C. P. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald today laid down two essentials for India's proposed new federal constitution. They were:

1—It must work.

2—It must evolve.

There was no use producing a constitution that would not work, he said, in concluding the first general debate of the Round-Table Conference on India. A constitution that would not work "will not get you out of your difficulties, and it will not get us out of ours," he said.

"You are not here," he continued, to the Indian statesmen and Princes and British leaders, "to produce a static constitution that your grandsons and your great-grandsons and your great-great-great-grandsons will worship as though it were one of your sacred inheritances. Therefore the constitution must work and it must evolve."

India's constitution, he went on, "must be a continuing thing, and in its evolving Indian opinion and Indian experience must be the most important initiating power."

Activities Adjourned

With the Prime Minister's speech the activities of the conference were adjourned over the week-end.

The Federal Relations Committee, which is to endeavor to formulate a Federal constitution for India, has been summoned for a provisional

Perri Fyles Defence In Suit For $25,000

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 21 (C.P.)—Rocco Perri, self-styled King of Bootleggers to-day filed defense in the action started against him by Hatch McGuinass of Toronto to collect the sum of $25,000, alleged to be owing on a note.

"I say that if I did execute a note in favor of the plaintiffs, I am not liable to the plaintiffs as the consideration for which the note was given was illegal by statute," Perri contends. "And in any event, illegal, in that the note was given for whisky purchased in Ontario in contravention of the provisions of the Customs Act of Canada and also the Ontario Temperance Act and was further in any event void and unenforcable under the common law."

NOT THINKING OF LIQUIDATING

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., Nov. 21 (C.P.)—Unless the lending banks cease their support, the Canadian Wheat Pool is not going into liquidation, stated Colin H. Burnell, President of the Manitoba Wheat Pool, in an address last night. "I don't think the banks will forsake the Pool—we're all on the same raft," he added, speaking to the convention of United Farmers of Manitoba.

THREE CHILDREN DROWN IN RIVER

Lad Crashes Through Ice—Two Chums Go to Rescue and All Perish.

SISTER REACHES SHORE.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 21 (C.P.)—Three children were drowned in the Red River at Stamdolph, Man., 14 miles south of here late Thursday afternoon, the Provincial Police were advised to-day. A fourth managed to reach shore after a terrific struggle.

The dead: Jacques Champagne, 10; Lorenzo Tougas, 8; Lionel Tougas, 10.

The two Tougas boys lost their lives in an attempt to save young Jacques, while Gratios Tougas, 11-year-old sister of the two heroic victims, managed to struggle to shore through the broken ice after she had tried to rescue her brothers.

While sleigh-riding on the river, Jacques Champagne broke through the ice and the Tougas children rushed to his assistance, only to have the ice break under their weight.

Provincial Police were dragging for the bodies to-day.

MONTREAL PLANS GREAT RECEPTION FOR CAPT. E. BOYD

ACCOMPANIED BY CONNOR.

Planes Will Open Welcome By Swooping Over Liner on Way Up River.

Captain J. Erroll Boyd and Lieut. Harry P. Connor, famous crew of the Bellanca monoplane Columbia on her second trans-Atlantic flight, will be fittingly welcomed back to Montreal, starting point of their successful ocean crossing, when the Duchess of Bedford reaches Montreal this afternoon.

A light fog blanketted the St. Lawrence this morning as the liner steamed up the river to Montreal with the airmen and the famous old plane aboard. The ship passed Three Rivers at 9.05 o'clock, and is due here about three o'clock this afternoon.

Montreal will start its official welcome to the Canadian airman and his United States confrere long before the liner reaches the harbor.

Three Planes to Give Salute

Three Moth planes of the Montreal Light Airplane Club, flown by John M. McConnell, Marshall Foss and John C. Webster, Directors of the Club, will fly down the river in V-formation to welcome the fliers back on behalf of Canadian aviation. Flying low over the Duchess at the lower end of the Island of Montreal the three little planes will dive in formation, scattering like a rocket, in three directions, over the masts of the vessel, in aerial salute, known as the "Prince of Wales plumes." Then they will circle over the vessel as it steams up to the port of Montreal.

Mayor Camillien Houde will also fly down with D. M. Martin, President of Bellanca Aircraft of Canada, while newspapermen and friends of Boyd will occupy another ship.

Mayor Houde will be landed before the Duchess docks and driven to the pier to greet the fliers aboard the liner. Also on the reception committee will be J. H. Rainville, chairman of the Montreal Harbor Commission, and members of Service Clubs and representatives of the Montreal Light Airplane Club.

CURZON AFFAIR IS CLEARED UP

Resignation Followed Insistence on Policy Sure to Cause Trouble With Russia.

LONDON, Nov. 21 (By Thos. T. Champion, C.P. Staff Correspondent). —The silence of a quarter of a century was broken last night when Lord Midleton, Secretary of State for India from 1903 to 1905, revealed the circumstances surrounding the withdrawal of Lord Curzon from the Vice-Royal post in India, in 1905, after less than a year of his second term.

Most historical authorities record that Lord Curzon had an unfortunate controversy with Lord Kitchener over the status of the military member of the Executive Council.

Lord Midleton dispelled this in a speech at Guildsford. Lord Curzon was withdrawn, he said, because of his insistence on a policy which in the opinion of His Majesty's Government, would have caused trouble with Russia and Afghanistan. Lord Curzon desired to conduct Indian foreign policy without regard to the possible effects on the whole Empire, and considered it necessary to advise operations in Tibet which would have greatly disturbed Russia and Afghanistan, Lord Midleton went on.

The Cabinet was unanimously unprepared to follow the representations which Lord Curzon desired to make, and consequently the Viceroy resigned.

More than twenty young men at Ashington, England, have formed a bachelor's club and pledged themselves to renounce feminine companionship.

Britain Lays Plans For Gigantic Liner

LONDON, Nov. 21. —(C.P.)— Specifications for a 73,000-ton liner which will challenge the Germans for supremacy in North Atlantic traffic were revealed today by W. R. Smith, Pallamentary secretary of the Board of Trade.

M. Smith addressed the House of Commons in behalf of the Cunard Insurance Bill and told of the projected liner.

The vessel, he said, would be 1,018 feet long and would cost approximately $22,500,000.

PRAIRIE LEADERS HAVE 3 REQUESTS

Urge Federal Gov't to Set Up Stabilization Board Similar to U. S. Body.

BENNETT TO RECONSIDER.

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 21 (C.P.)—The Gazette to-day, in a despatch dated yesterday at Ottawa, states that the proposals which the Prairie Premiers brought East in their efforts to solve the wheat problem, and which they recently presented to the Federal authorities in Ottawa, were as follows:—

"1.—They request that the Federal Government peg the price of wheat at 70 cents a bushel.

"2.—That the Federal Government guarantee the banks against loss on account of the Wheat Pool.

"3.—That the Federal Government establish a stabilization board similar to the Stabilization Corporation of the United States."

The despatch further states that the Acting Prime Minister, Sir George Perley, after cabled communications with Premier Bennett, turned down the proposals, but that after the Western Premiers, Brownlee of Alberta, Anderson of Saskatchewan and Bracken of Manitoba, personally appealed to the Prime Minister, Mr. Bennett had agreed to reconsider the proposals.

NURSE ENTERS FINAL BATTLE FOR HER LIFE

Goes to Sleep First Time in 70 Days Without Artificial Respirator.

SHUDDERS WITH FEAR.

Young Paralysis Victim Frightened She Will Never Awaken.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (CP)—Frances McGann has entered the last stage of her grim battle for life. The epilogue is taking place in a gray room in St. Luke's Hospital. It might be called "the fight with fear."

For 70 days, a mechanical respirator has kept the 25 year old student nurse alive, taking the place of lungs paralyzed by infantile paralysis. Now the doctors have told her she can live without the respirator.

The months of dependency upon the machine have made her think she will die unless it does her breathing for her. Imagination says the physicians—but imagination that sends the girl into a shuddering, pitiful paroxysm of fear.

Fear and Hope

In the dim room, the young nurse lies and thinks with alternate fear and hope of the thing that has kept her alive. The respirator looks more ominous than reassuring. At night it could give the imaginative a vision of a ten-foot silver gray fish on six legs, sucking air through its round mouth, snoring rythmically.

With dark comes the real tussle.

She had been out of the respirator many times during the daylight—as long as 17 hours at a stretch—and she gamely works to better each preceding record. But being outside when awake is one thing, sleeping out is another. At first she said she would not do it. But the doctors said she must if she is ever to win her freedom and she agreed to try—and went to sleep, succumbing to weariness, on the bed.

KING CAROL ILL

BUCHAREST, Rumania, November 21 (C.P.). — King Carol is slightly ill, but is continuing with his tasks of state. He had a chilli yesterday but insisted upon granting audiences to various callers.

U.F. OF MANITOBA FAVOR BALLOTING ON PERFECT POOL

Request Legislation to Take Vote on Question Before Spring.

NO SPECIFIED MAJORITY.

Would Set Up One Organization Controlled By Growers to Handle Manitoba Grain.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., November 21 (C.P.). — Legislation to enable a grain growers' ballot before spring on the 100 per cent. pooling principle was requested to-day by United Farmers of Manitoba. If the plebiscite favors the plan, the convention asks enactment next session to set up one organization controlled by growers themselves to handle all Manitoba grain.

No specified majority was mentioned as necessary to qualify the growers as in favor of the proposal. The decision to ask legislation to permit a plebiscite was made only after long discussion during which several delegates contended that the principle involved compulsion rather than co-operation.

Burnell Favors Project

The 100 per cent. pool was brought before the convention in striking terms last night by Colin H. Burnell, president of the Manitoba Wheat Pool. Manitoba pool delegates recently voted to set an educational program on the plan into operation with a ballot at a later date. Mr. Burnell say the 100 per cent. pool as a possible outcome of the difficulties of the great Prairie wheat selling bodies.

Compared to Samson.

"If the pool went down to-day, farmers of the West would rise up as a man and demand a 100 per cent. pool," forecast Mr. Burnell, comparing the power of the Western farmer to that of Samson pulling down the pillars of the temple in an exhibit of dying strength. He said he would give his full supplement to the plan, if he thought it desirable to farmers of Manitoba.

The outright stand of the Manitoba pool leader in favor of the proposal marks the first time a pool president has been so favorable to the plan. A. J. McPhail, president of the Saskatchewan body, was stated to be opposed to the so-called "compulsory pool" until members of the Saskatchewan body voted overwhelmingly in its favor. Henry Wisewood, veteran president of the Alberta pool, has made statements emphatically opposed to the plan.

DID WOMAN DIE IN R-101 CRASH

London Review Claims Well-known Air Woman Been Missing Since Tragedy.

NO NAME MENTIONED.

LONDON, Nov. 21 (C.P.). — The rumor that a woman passenger rode to her death in the crash of the dirigible R-101 was revived to-day by the Saturday Review, which linked that rumor with another concerning the disappearance of a "well-known air woman."

"Was there a woman passenger in the ill-fated R-101?" the publication asked. "The French press certainly said there was at the time of the disaster, and visitors to the scene of the tragedy were shown a woman's hand-bag which it was said was found in the wreckage.

"Now comes another rumor that a well-known air woman has been missing from her home since the day the R-101 sailed, and nothing has been heard of her since. After all, if there was a woman on board, why conceal it?"

No rumor concerning a "well-known air woman" has gained general currency here, and it was not clear to whom the Saturday Review referred.

Automobile is Hit By Freight Train At Level Crossing

Father and Three Other Children Are Rushed to Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay—Mother and Bay Were Killed Instantly.

ACCIDENT OCCURRED AT GRASS HILL STATION— DAYNES FAMILY WERE TRAVELLING TO LINDSAY

Three Children Who Survived Never Lost Consciousness But Bled Badly — Little Hope is Held For the Life of the Father.

LINDSAY, Ont., November 21 (Examiner Correspondence and C.P.). — When the car in which they were making a trip from Eldon, Ont., to Lindsay was driven across the tracks directly in front of an oncoming freight train, Mrs. Edward Daynes, of Eldon, and her infant baby were instantly killed, Mr. Daynes was knocked unconscious and was rushed to the Ross Memorial Hospital here with unascertained injuries, and three other young children were injured. The accident occurred at a level crossing at Grass Hill, 11 miles northwest of here, at 10.35 a.m.

Railway officials say they cannot understand how the accident happened, as there is a clear view of the track at this point. They stated that the car was driven across the track and that the train ran into it, completely demolishing the car and scattering its occupants along the right of way.

The three children who survived the accident were still conscious, although bleeding considerably, but it was a long time before they could tell who they were. The survivors were brought to Lindsay and rushed to the hospital.

The train was an extra C.N.R. freight going west en route from Lindsay to Tiffin, it was in charge of Conductor Albert Gassien and Engineer Wallace Craighead, both of Lindsay.

Coroner F. A. Logan and the Provincial Police who investigated the accident decided to conduct an inquest.

It is understood that Mr. Daynes was driving the car and that Mrs. Daynes was sitting in the front seat with him with the infant in her arms. The three children who survived were thought to be sitting in the back seat.

BANDIT SHOOTS HAMILTON MAN

Victim Gets Bullet in Arm When Answering Cab Driver's Calls For Aid.

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 21 (C.P.)—After a daring attempt to capture an armed gunman, Clement Honeyset was in the city hospital to-day nursing a bullet wound in his arm.

Early this morning, Harry Burt, taxi driver was approached by a colored man on the street, who ordered him to drive to Caroline and Barton streets. When they reached a dark spot the passenger ordered the driver to throw up his hands. Burt turned around to look down a muzzle of a gun. Instead of stopping he drove ahead in spite of threats of the bandit till he saw two men walking along the sidewalk. He stopped the car beside them and shouted for help. Honeyset, who was returning from work at the C.N.R., hurled his lunch pail at the bandit, who fired in return, and fled.

The bullet struck Honeyset in the arm and he was removed to the hospital. The gunman escaped.

PETERBORO HUNT CLUB RETURNS WITH ITS FULL QUOTA OF DEER

DEER NOT SO PLENTIFUL.

A pole of 14 fine deer was brought into this city on Wednesday afternoon by the members of the Peterborough Hunt Club who were returning from their two weeks hunting trip on the Pickerill river in the Pakesley district. The hunt one of the best in the history of the club was not favored with ideal weather for the keeping of venison after the kill, but the club had very little difficulty in seasoning it string.

Each member bagged his deer and the two cooks got time enough off from their culinary arts to secure theirs also. Every member of the club was loud in his praise of the way everything was handled and of the success of the hunt. Dr. Meehan of Pittsburg who was hunting for his first time got the finest buck shot on the second day out and the quota was well near reaching completion at the end of the first week.

Although the deer were probably not as plentiful as in former years the members of the party were of opinion that this was not due to too much hunting, but much rather to the inroads which the wolves are making. Never before, have the wolves been heard of in the Pakesley district, but this year they were heart at night and seen in the day time. Every member thought that the government ought to do something to stop the great ravages which the wolves are making on the deer in Ontario.

The story is told by several of the members that after one long night session in the club shanty, when the members took to the runways the next day, the congenial doctor from Collingwood suddenly grew very sleepy and it was not long until he was fast asleep. Several hours went by and other member came along. They heard something that sounded like a bear in the bushes, but on investigation it was the doctor fast asleep.

The members of the part were George Robertso (Captain) Dr. Meehan, Pittsburg, F. Taylor, Wallace Harvey, Cloy Taylor, Wallace Evans, Ralph Godfrey, George Paudash, Harry Keslick, Steve Fisher, Cobourg, Alex Fisher and Dr. Irwin, of Collingwood; Robert Jones and Fred Dobson. One member of the club was greatly missed in the person of Mark Bredin, who was unable to go on account of business.

Two Prairie Heads Pay New York Visit

NEW YORK, N.Y., Nov. 21 (C.P.)—The Premiers of Manitoba and Alberta, who have been in Eastern Canada interviewing bankers and Dominion Government officials with a view to a solution of the Canadian wheat problem, to-day paid an unexpected visit to New York.

Premier John Backen, Manitoba, and Premier J. J. E. Brownlee, Alberta, were registered to-day at a downtown hotel. Efforts to get in touch with them failed and no indication of the purpose of their visit was given in any quarter.

In financial circles it was considered possible the Western Canadian Premiers had come to New York to interview American bankers.

B. C. SHINGLE MILL IS RAZED BY FIRE

Vancouver and Burnaby Firemen Fight For Hours in Vain.

LARGEST PLANT IN WORLD.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Nov. 21 (C.P.).—The shingle mills of Bloedel, Stewart and Welch, Ltd., largest in the world, were almost totally destroyed by a fire of unknown origin late last night.

Fire apparatus from Vancouver and Burnaby was summoned to check the blaze. Scores of firemen, assisted by hundreds of civilians, for hours fought a losing battle against the flames.

The blaze totally destroyed several huge drying kilnes and their highly inflammable contents. Heat from the soaring flames was so intense that the fire fighters were repeatedly driven back.

The mills had been operating 24 hours a day up to the time of the outbreak.

More than 22,000,000 bunches of bananas were exported from Honduras in the last 12 months.

PARLEY RESULTS GREAT SUCCESS STATES GUTHRIE

Complete Agreement Reached Upon All Except Economic Questions.

REVIEWS CONFERENCE.

Claims Bennett Took Care to Protect Provinces' Rights in B.N.A. Act Question.

QUEBEC, Que., Nov. 21 (By Frank Flaherty, C.P. Staff Writer).—Generally speaking, the Imperial Conference was a great success, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, and the first of the Canadian delegates to return from the conference, stated here last night. On all questions except economic questions, complete agreement was reached and on this, real progress was made and a decision to continue consideration of it at Ottawa next year was reached.

Conference Reviewed

When approached by newspapermen on board the Empress of Australia as the ship steamed up the St. Lawrence, Mr. Guthrie gave a comprehensive review on the work of the conference. The two chief questions discussed were constitutional and economic matters.

On the constitutional side interest was centered in certain matters which had been left over from the 1926 conference at which the doctrine of equality of status had been defined and on the economic side in the proposals of Premier R. B. Bennett of Empire tariff preferences.

The questions left over from 1926, Mr. Guthrie explained, related to the Colonial Laws Validity Act, the Merchant Shipping Act, and the Naturalization of Aliens Act, all statutes of the Parliament of Great Britain which up till then had been in force in all the Dominions. The 1926 conference appointed a sub-committee to consider and report on the effect of British statutes on Dominion legislation. The report of the committee was adopted by the Parliament of Canada and the recent conference had to deal with a number of questions arising out of the report.

Amendments Involved

While on a great majority of the points an unanimous report was agreed upon. Some of those passed upon involve amendments to the constitutional acts under which the various Dominions now carry one. Premier Bennett, Mr. Guthrie added, had received a number of protests from Provincial Governments against any amendment to the British North America Act without consultation with the Provinces. Protests came from Ontario, Quebec, British Columbia, and one or two other Provinces.

Mr. Bennett took care to protect the rights of the Provinces, and in order to obviate this difficulty the conference decided to draft a tentative statute which carries out all the suggested amendments. This will have to be passed by the British Parliament but first all the Dominions will have to agree. The date for final approval is fixed as September 1, 1931.

BOWLING ALLEY ROBBED OF $250

Two Armed Bandits Make Successful Raid on Toronto Establishment.

MANAGER CHECKING CASH.

TORONTO, Ont., November 21 (C.P.). — Holding up the largest bowling alley in the city late last night, three armed robbers succeeded in rifling the cash register of $250 and making their escape.

Earl Langford, general manager, was checking up with two floor managers just prior to closing time when the thugs appeared. "Stick 'em up and be quick about it," the leader commanded. "I'm not fooling."

The trio then ordered the managers and alley employees to walk to the centre of the room where one man covered them while the other pair scooped up the cash.

NEW WHARF AT BIRDSALL

Through the influence of Dr. Embury, M.P., a new wharf will be erected at Birdsall's Landing, Rice Lake, this Fall. For years a new wharf has been needed badly at this point, but until now the government refused to consider its construction.

ONTARIO LEADER UNDECIDED ABOUT POST AT LONDON

Ferguson Tells Press He Has Been Asked, in Fact Urged, to Take Office.

ARRIVES IN QUEBEC.

QUEBEC, Que., Nov. 20—(By Frank Flaherty, C. P. Staff Writer)—Still debating in his own mind whether he will accept the post of Canadian High Commissioner in London, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Prime Minister of Ontario returned to Canada last night. Mr. Ferguson told newspapermen who met him on the Empress of Australia that he had been "asked and in fact urged" to accept the post but as yet had come to no decision.

Repeated reports have been circulated to the effect that Mr. Ferguson would shortly resign the Premiership of Ontario and go to London. His statement leaves the matter still in doubt.

Accompanied by Mrs. Ferguson the Ontaro Premier has been in England since early in October. He came back looking the picture of health and both he and his wife declared they had had a pleasant trip. During their stay in London they attended the opening of Ontario House, the Province's new headquarters in London and took part in many of the social functions held in connection with the Imperial Conference.

Meets Cancer Authorities

During his stay in London he conferred with a number of authorities on cancer in connection with the proposed establishment of a radium institute in Ontario.

The Premier said he had collected a good deal of information which he would have to lay before the members of his Government before he could make a statement. He had learned, he said, that the public had come to expect too much from the radium treatment of the disease. leading scientists had found certain types of the disease responded to the treatment but the cure was not effective in all cases.

Asked about the recent cases of deportation of epileptics from Ontario institutions, Mr. Ferguson said the authorities had apparently been unfortunate in the cases they selected at first. It looked as if they had started with the cases which had been on their books longest and deported some who had been in the country a long time.

In his opinion the problem was one requiring the exercise of good judgment. There were several hundred persons in Ontario institutions who had entered Canada illegally and maintaining them was a heavy expense to the Province.

CHARGES OF THEFT ARE PREFERRED TO BE HEARD AT JANUARY ASSIZES; ALBERTA ACTION SURPRISES PRICE

CASE IS EXPLAINED.

Fresh Action Decided on Rather Than Appeal Against $250,000 Fine.

CASE IS EXPLAINED.

Ontario Plans Thrown Out By Move of Western Province Attorney General Says.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 21—(CP) — Fresh actions will be started by the Ontario Government against I. W. C. Solloway and Harvey Mills, heads of the one time Dominion-wide mining brokerage form of that name, who recently pleaded guilty to "gaming in stocks" and were fined $200,000 and $50,000, respectively.

Announcement of renewed prosecutions on charges of theft and conspiracy to commit theft against the brokers was made last night by Attorney-General W. H. Price, who expressed surprise that the Alberta Government had withdrawn its appeal against the sentence imposed on Solloway and Mills in the Western Province.

Mr. Price stated the charges against the brokers will be ready for hearing at the assizes here in January. When the two brokers emerge from prison in Lethbridge Alta., they will face Ontario warrants for their re-arrest.

Price Outlines Situation

In a lengthy statement outlining the Ontario Government's position, Mr. Price attributes the failure of the Alberta authorities to proceed with their appeal for the position in which his Government found itself, of not having had the Solloway, Mills case placed fully before the courts in all its phases. If the Crown had been told, he declares, that Alberta would not go on with the appeal, Ontario would have urroceeded with the conspiracy charges which were dropped when the Ontario Court appeared to consider that the conspiracy charges which had been preferred against the brokers here were the same charges which had been tried in Alberta and that the brokers should not be tried twice for one offence.

Continuing the Attorney General says the Crown had to consider whether it would be advisable to appeal such a ruling and delay the trial of this case or rely on the Crown in the Province of Alberta going on with its appeal. It decided to rely on Alberta prosecuting the appeal.

In his statement Mr. Price said this course has been considered preferable to appealing from the decision on the bucketing charge on which Solloway and Mills pleaded guilty. It is very rare, he continues, for the Crown to appeal against a sentence where there has been a plea of guilty and thus no evidence taken.

BAN ON PARROTS HAS BEEN LIFTED

Psittacosis Scare Quietens Down Making Ban Unnecessary.

AGENTS ARE INFORMED.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 21 (C.P.)—Love birds may be imported into Canada, so also may parrots, parrakeets, cockatoos, macaws, lories and lorikeets. The ban placed on their importation some months ago has been removed.

Love birds, as might be expected from their name, sometimes make people sick. The same is the case with parrots and the other pets mentioned above. They are subject to a disease termed psittacosis and they are likely to give it to humans. The mortality is very high among humans who contract it.

Some time ago a number of cases were reported from Europe. Officials of the Agriculture Department became alarmed and put a ban on birds subject to such an ailment. Since that, however, the disease seems to have disappeared. A circular informing Customs collectors of the removal of the ban went forward today.

NOTED DEBATERS SWAY AUDIENCE

Massey Hall Packed to Hear Clarence Darrow and Rabbi M. Brickner.

ISSUE, "MAN IS A MACHINE."

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 21.—(C.P.)—More than 3,000 persons packed Massey Hall here last night and heard the arguments of two of the greatest disciples of widely divergent opinions debating the issue: "Man is a Machine." Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer of Chicago, and Rabbi M. Brickner, Cleveland, were the leading figures in the debate, but at the end of an hours' oratory neither claimed nor was offered victory.

Darrow was accused by his opponent of altruism and humanitarianism, and therefore possessed of a soul which he denied to mankind. Rabbi Brickner said the Chicago lawyer had travelled as much as 2,000 miles at his own expense and without fees to help some one from injustice.

Darrow admitted this but claimed it was because he was sympathetic and an imaginative slob. "It would pain me to believe I have a soul," he declared.

War Is Necessary To Clean Up Moscow

WINDSOR, Nov. 21 (C.P.)—"War should be non-existent, but before that I would have one war—to clean up Moscow."

This terse statement was one of the features of an address by Colonel the Hon. Harry Cockshutt, at a meeting of the Border Chamber of Commerce. He declared that the situation in Soviet Russia was worse than death itself. He could not understand why the Governments of the world allowed such conditions to exist or "Why these parasites filled with the filth of Moscow are permitted to send their literature out to other countries."

INCREASE ON COAL TARIFF

HALIFAX, Nov. 21.—Either an increase in the coal tariff or a winter rail rate low enough for the trade to absorb the coal should be given to the collieries of Nova Scotia, it is contended, in the Province of Nova Scotia Department of Information Newsgram. It is claimed that competition is severe in the St. Lawrence ports market, and chiefly from the United States excess production coal.

PARTY COHORTS LAUD FERGUSON

Proper Man to Fill Important Office at London Says Price.

HAVE GOV'T BACKING.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 21 (C.P.).—Many sincere tributes by party lieutenants were paid to Premier G. H. Ferguson last night as the result of newspaper despatches of the last few days which many believe confirm the appointment of Ontario's Premier to the post of Canada's High Commissioner to London.

In an interview yesterday Premier Ferguson, on his arrival at Quebec, was reported to have intimated his decision as to accepting the offer would be based on the opinions of his political friends. It is learned the first place he will seek such opinions upon his return will be at a meeting of the Provincial Cabinet.

Attorney-General W. H. Price declared in an interview that a man of Mr. Ferguson's type "will always be mentioned for leading positions. Mr. Bennett has realized how important it is to have a man of Mr. Ferguson's capabilities and magnetism to represent Canada at the seat of the Empire. Especially is this so at such a critical time in our history. Personally I would hate to see him go to London. I have been close to him in many a fight, and know he is a great leader. Whatever he makes up his mind to do will have, I am confident the united support of his Government and party."

CASE DISMISSED ON SUDBURY REDS

SECOND STAGE PENDING.

SUDBURY, Ont., Nov. 21.—Following the hearing of evidence in the cases of Martin Parker, James Parker, Harry Thozuk, Hall Hakkila, Dick Evenshen and Metro Hobyschuck, charged with forming an unlawful assembly, following the melee here on November 5th, when police broke up an "unemployment" parade, Magistrate J. H. McKeesock dismissed the charges against the six men. The case rested chiefly on whether or not the accused had formed such an assembly as to provoke other people to disturb the peace tumultously and practically the only Crown evidence on this point was the statement of Chief Louden that various men had come to him stating that if the police did not put a stop to Communist agitation, private individuals would. Following the dismissal of the charge of unlawful assembly, charges of forming part of a parade without first informing the Police Chief of their intention, contrary to a Police Commission by-law, were preferred against the six men, but at the request of their counsel, J. M. Cooper, the hearing was remanded one day. A charge against Harry Thozuk of assaulting Inspector Pyle while in the discharge of his duty, was also remanded one day. Each of the six accused was allowed out on $50 cash bail.

Sunshine Vitamin, Too

And now Muffets bring you not only the three vitamins which nature puts into whole wheat, but a fourth vitamin besides. By irradiation with ultra violet rays, Muffets are imbued with Vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin, which scientists say is so necessary to health. Each Muffet you eat provides vitamin health benefit equal to 20 minutes' exposure to noonday summer sun or three hours of winter sunshine.

Everybody old or young benefits greatly from this "sun" vitamin. It helps build strong straight bones... sound hard teeth... and restores wastage of teeth and bone in men and women. If an ample supply is denied, lowered vitality may result, health authorities tell us. In fall and winter ultra violet rays of the sun are only 1/9th as strong as in the summer. So here's your chance to give your children . . . to get for yourself at any meal . . . an added amount of Vitamin "D." Serve Muffets now, when days are shortening and keep the good health you got from summer sunshine.

Health Facts About Muffets

1 For growth—The proteins in Muffets are far more efficient than the proteins of ordinary fine cereals.
2 For bones and teeth—3 times as much phosphorus in Muffets as in white flour. 20% more lime than in ordinary whole wheat bread!
3 For your blood—3 times as much iron in Muffets as in cornmeal or rice.
4 For well-being—Roughage—in the exact proportion intended by nature is in every Muffet.
5 Vitamins—4 important vitamins, one being the new "Sunshine" vitamin never before obtainable in cereal . . . the vitamin that helps you to use the lime in your food.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, November 21 — Fast regaining lost ground, when prices dipped as much as 8 cents a bushel on Tuesday, the Winnipeg wheat market rallied to close with gains of 1¾c to 2¼c a bushel yesterday.

Active trade held throughout the day, with Continental buyers in the pit in the early trading, and Southern interests taking good offerings late in the session. Other factors contributing to the high price level were reports of rust in the Argentine, firm Liverpool cables, and reports of renewed interest on the part of overseas buyers.

Offerings in the pit were at times quite liberal, especially on the bulges, but buyers were invariably on the spot to take the slack out of the market. The source of the selling was difficult to trace.

MONTREAL, Nov. 21.—Prices were unchanged in quiet trading on the produce and dairy market here yesterday.

On the butter market Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized creamery was quoted at 29¼c to 29½c a pound. Solids were 33c and prints 34c a pound, to retailers. Receipts were 85 boxes.

Ontario cheese was 13¼c and Quebec 12¾c, with receipts totalling, 1,506 boxes.

Egg receipts were 446 cases and prices were unchanged.

New Brunswick Green Mountains were quoted at 90c per 80-lb. bag, ex-track, on the potato market.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Sudden brisk purchasing, together with sharply higher prices, gave the corn trade a star role yesterday. Quick broadening out which was witnessed in the volume of corn market transactions went hand-in-hand with news that Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board advocated 12½ cents a bushel increase of the United States import duty on corn. Besides, rough weather now overspreading the corn belt was unfavorable for completion of husking as well as for the movement of the new corn crop into distributing centers.

Closing quotations on corn were buoyant at virtually the day's topmost level, 2½c to 3¼c a bushel higher than Wednesday's finish. Wheat closed unsettled at ⅛ to 1⅜c net advance oats, ⅝ to 1¼c up, up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 7 cents.

AN INTERESTING MAP

A very interesting map of Canada in colours on a scale of one hundred miles to the inch, that indicates the country's resources, main railways, forests and agricultural areas, has been issued by the National Development Bureau, Department of the Interior at Ottawa.

The map affords a comprehensive idea of the location of Canada's mines; water power, developed and undeveloped; fisheries; various types of farming, and other outstanding resources. It is of such convenient size as to be suitable for ready reference, and should prove of value to educationists, business men, and, in fact, to all those who are connected with, or interested in the development of Canada's resources.

THE POSTMASTER GENERAL'S WARNING

The advice of Hon. Arthur Sauve, Postmaster-General, to members of Parliament to be extremely careful in preferring charges of political partizanship against persons holding Federal appointments should not be overlooked.

Under the rules, Mr. Sauve explains, if a member of Parliament asks for the dismissal of a Postmaster and if he assumes responsibility for the same, the Postmaster General has no other course than to grant the dismissal. And adds, "I enjoin upon the members to excercise great prudence in such cases and to refrain from lightly subscribing to very serious responsibilty."

That is timely and important advice.

For the postmaster or other civil servant who is foolish enough to jeopardize his position by acting in a partizan manner in election campaigns or at any other time there will be little sympathy.

The civil servant who plays politics does so with his eyes open and must be prepared to be dealt with on a political basis.

But that being so the guilt of the offender in this regard should be clearly established before action is taken and when the verdict rests with the member of parliament, he should satisfy himself beyond the shadow of a doubt that partizanship has been shown before he takes the responsibility of asking for a dismissal

Mr. Sauve does well to warn members that "great prudence should be exercises in such cases."

SNAP JUDGMENT A MISTAKE

The City Council the other night quite properly decided to table without action a resolution from the Hamilton Council, urging the Dominion Goverment to establish a system of unemployment insurance.

There is too much involved in the suggested policy for snap judgment to be exercised and The Examiner was surprised to note that the Toronto City Council with apparently no discussion on the subject voted in favor of co-operating with the Hamilton Council in petitioning the Federal Government to put into force a system of this nature.

Matter of such great importance as this cannot be decided in five minutes. The council that endorses a plan of this magnitude without giving a thought to the possible consequences it certainly has not a proper appreciation of its responsibilities.

It may be that some system of unemployment insurance may eventually be considered a necessity in this country but there is nothing at present to indicate anything like unanimity of opinion on this question, and the whole problem presents so many combinations and entails such tremendous responsibilites that it is farcical for any municipal body to calmly pass a resolution in favor of a policy that cannot possibly have been given any thought by those who voted for it.

Peterborough's Council has done the wise and sensible thing in declining to be stampeded into hasty action on a problem so perplexing in its nature.

TEACHING THE YOUNG FARMERS

The presence of some five hundred young country boys from all parts of the Province at the Royal Winter Fair as guests of the Ontario Goverment is an event that should bring useful results.

As the Globe points out these youths "will return home with aroused enthusiasm for their life-work and a realization that farming is taking its place as an occupation requiring expert skill, close study and intelligent administration."

Many farmers have suffered because of their unwillingness to follow the advice of what they were pleased to call "arm chair" farmers.

It was difficult for them to realize that the methods of yesterday would not suffice to-day and more difficult to appreciate the fact that men who made a scientific study of agriculture were in a position to help farmers generally to better their lot.

Fortunately there is a change coming over the situation and it will be hastened by what these half a thousand young farmers see for themselves at the Royal Winter Fair, where they have an unusual opportunity of estimating the practical value of scientific farming and of arriving at the conclusion that the man who is not satisfied with the old methods but who utilizes the experience of all experimental farms and the advice of all Government experts, is the man who is making a real success out of farming.

Scientific knowledge has a place and a big place in agriculture, since the Royal Winter Fair demonstrates that fact to everybody who keeps his eyes open when visiting the annual event.

"OLD MAID" AND "SPINSTER."

In the midst of pressing matters of national importance, old London pauses for the moment and listens to a discussion of such words as "old maid" and "spinster."

It came in this way: Miss Isabel MacDonald, daughter of the Prime Minister, was addressing a gathering of the Unmarried Women's Exhibition in London, and in the course of her remarks stated that she had a preference for the term "bachelor girl." That "old maid" term she did not like at all, neither did she consider it necessary to marry in order to live a happy and useful life.

Then Dame Louise McIlory, a physician of some note, came along with the idea that "spinster" was a "good old-fashioned English word, much preferable to the modern term of bachelor girl."

So there you are. One can have no quarrel with those who desire to battle against that phrase "old maid." There is nothing particularly beautiful about it, and if ladies desire to go in and sock the thing on the proboscis we'd be inclined to stand by and rake a bit of cheering.

Although Dame Louise has a liking for that fine old word "spinster," we can see nothing splendid about it. We don't like the sound of it; it bears within it no suggestion of romance. Without taking the trouble to do any spade work in the history of words, let us put the halter on this one and take it away. True, it appears in our voters' lists, but they are drab records anyhow. No objection will be raised at all if the ladies take the words "old maid" and "spinster," and toss them overboard where the water is deep.

But turn for the moment to another phrase suggested by this discussion—"my husband." Ah, yes, that is choicer language. The ladies in London who spend time weighing words by which to beautifully and adequately designate the state of those unwed, should look well upon those two words, "my husband."

They indicate a pride of possession, a peace of mind, an anchorage in this troubled world that can hardly be brought within the compass of any other phrase.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

WAR CLOUDS.

The Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen was characteristically vigorous and outspoken in his Armistice eve address to a good-will congress of the World Alliance for International Friendship, meeting in Washington. The former Canadian Premier admits that some progress has been made since 1918—the League of Nations, the provisions of the Treaty of Versailles, the Four-Power Pacific convention, the Locarno treaties, the Briand-Kellogg Pact for the renunciation of war, and so on—but accompanying their procession across the panorama of history we also find the remorseless growth of armaments, more colossal, more destructive, than the world has ever known.

* * * *

Here are some of the striking sentences from Mr Meighen's masterly effort:

"Civilization must end war or war will end civilization."

"War has lost its efficacy; it can only bring defeat and despair for both conquered and conquerors."

"The policy of the governments is dominated by fear."

"There has to be found a substitute for armaments, something else that will bring security not only to one but to all."

"The one supremely important task before our world to-day is to bring about an organization against war . . . and such an organization cannot be brought about without the United States . . . I despair of finding a substitute for armaments except in a universal association of nations."

"The hand of force to hold in check an offender (whether an individual or a nation) is the very essence of the social contract; it is the principle by which the integrity of a nation is assured and the reign of law sustained."

How shockingly true these things are! The lessons that should have been learned in the years 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917 and 1918 have, in many cases, gone unheeded. A world loaded down with the sorrow and suffering of the last great conflict, still thinks in terms of ships and guns and bombs and poison gases. While taxpayers struggle under the intolerable burden of meeting the last bill, the governments of the world are heaping up another. Millions are being paid out for armament of various kinds. People are talking glibly about "the next war." Only yesterday the Star carried a special article by Admiral Hugh Rodman, U.S.N., retired, in which he discussed preparations along this line. His opening words were: "The next war will be a war of science. Powerful, scientific death-dealing devices, even more deadly than those used in the World War, will be introduced in the next conflict. Nation will be aligned against nation in a fight to the death, each using poisonous gases and destructive weapons of which the public know nothing at present—weapons that have been developed secretly by the military authorities of the various countries." Admiral Rodman does not name the nations to be involved in this next war, but he does claim that the greatest menace to peace on earth to-day is a chaotic and belligerent Russia and Russia's attempts, by fair means or foul, to force other nations to fall in with her and adopt her policies. He adds, too, that "war can only be eliminated by educating the masses to avoid it."

Something of a problem arises here. How are the masses to be educated toward the avoidance of war unless their government leaders will take the initiative and do the educating? How can the masses, without direct authority and without official spokesman, accomplish much when the elected heads of the various countries persist in going along in the same old way, clinging to the fallacious theory that the only way to avoid war is to be prepared for war? Surely the unsoundness of this idea has been strikingly shown. Yet we persist in it.

Premier MacDonald of Great Britain was frank in his speech at the lord mayor's dinner in London Monday night. Pleading for disarmament, he questioned that the world has learned much since the Great War. "The Old Adam," the Prime Minister remarked, "is still rampant. Words are used which make us doubt how much the world has learned by the bitter, tragic experience of 1914 to 1918. Great Britain, while perfectly prepared to lead the way, looks behind at the same time as she looks before her, and wants to know how the other nations are following her, because she cannot allow herself to be isolated in the steps she is taking to secure peace."—Border Cities Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT

It must have cost the Mail and Empire a fairly heavy sum to have Premier Ferguson tell them nothing yesterday.

When Mr. Bennett gets through talking trade with the French government he will find plenty of tough problems for him here at home.

Manitoba farmers want Churchill made a free port for British goods. At least the suggestion has the merit of being original.

Credit Sault Ste. Marie with a brand new wolf story. This time a flashlight put the prowler to flight.

According to Hon. Arthur Sauve thousands of people are looking for government jobs. In that case the Civil Service Commission must be decidedly useful to the politicians as a buffer.

THE SILVER HAWK

By WILLIAM BYRON MOWERY

"Wherever I am, there Carter-Snowdon will believe Aurore is. They've been closing in upon her for three weeks, and my being here hasn't stopped that. But I'll draw the hunt two thousand miles away from her! They'll be looking for her clear across the continent from where she really is!"

When the morning sun was just touching the lofty dolomites of old Titan Major, the Silver Hawk came in out of the west and sank to a throttled rumble in the glide, and looking down at his island, Dorn saw Kansas' plane at anchor on the lake and knew his partner had unluckily come to visit him.

At the landing Kansas inquired: 'Where've you been, Jim? I was beginning to think—anything happen?"

Dorn shook his head: he knew that Kansas meant any trouble from the enemy. He explained: "Aurore was with me yesterday. It was late at night when we got back. I took a roundabout trail here."

They walked on up to the tent; and with Kansas sitting on the cot-end brewing coffee for his partner, Dorn told him the whole story of Aurore's coming to him, of his Edmonton trip, of Carter-Snowdon's closing in upon Aurore ever since. And then he told Kansas, in a man's plain words, what had happened last night between Aurore and himself.

He added, in a strange voice which made Kansas glance away, out the flapfront: "Aurore told me you said you'd look out for her. You'll do that, won't you, Kansas? This morning we'll rake my things together and fly these planes back over to Eagle Nest. I'm giving you the Silver Hawk. It's fast, and carries a machine gun."

Kansas ground a cigarette under his heel and swore: "Jim, that big-barrelled plutegewump, hounding a girl with his breeds and planes and hired snoopers . . . that day you knocked him down, if it'd been me, I'd kicked his face off If it wasn't for hurting Aurore, I'd tel. some people what I know and they'dl fight him off his feet, they'd make a beautiful hash out of him —"

"What you know?" Dorn interrupted. It was his first intimation that Aurore had told Kansas anything about herself. He demanded: "They—who?"

Kansas thought for a moment. He said: "I don't believe Aurore would mind my telling this; you maybe know most of it already. She told me a little about it; and after I got back to Eagle Nest . . . Burton there, he's posted on all the political manoeuvres of the province—his dad's in the Legislature; that's how Burt got this cartographing job—I pumped him and found out the rest of it. Did you know that Carter-Snowdon's running for election down in the Koot'nys?"

"Yes. East Kootenay." Dorn had learned that in his hunt for facts about Carter-Snowdon; he had attached little importance to a political contest in a minor riding, but now his interest quickened as Kansas went on:

'Do you know any details about his campaign, Jim—I mean, what don't come out in newspapers? Here's what Burt says. He says Carter-Snowdon isn't only running for election himself, but he's supplying the money for other candidates, he's leading a powerful faction, he's trying to sweep his men, with himself of course at the head, into power. If he wins he'll be boss of the whole works."

There, in his partner's words, Dorn suddenly had the explanation of one riddle at least. All along he had felt, though with no substantial reason, that something besides the personal element was bound up with Carter-Snowdon's hunt for Aurore, and now he knew that in some way she was connected with this political battle between warring factions. He concluded: "From the money and time he's spent, from his crazed desire to get her, she must hold some power over him I know nothing about." He was groping to reason out what that power could be, when Kansas spoke again:

"Burt says he's running on a Damn-Yank' platform. He says that when a politician up here hasn't any other planks to stand on or wants to befog the real issues, he begins beating the big boomberoo about the damn' Yanks. Goes around barking at the States. Pulls that old, worn-out annexation' bogey out of the bandbox. And it gets votes—it gets votes! Lord, if we didn't have some things down there as bad or worse, I wouldn't believe it——"

Dorn interrupted: "What's this battle about; what's the real issues? Does Burton know any personal details?"

"He says the real issue, which Carter-Snowdon's camp wants to befog, is the question of conservation. This reform faction that's fighting him, they want to make the big timber companies cut their limits cleaner, dispose of slash, re-forestate, help bear the fire-prevention cost—and not just gut the country till a man can't live in it. Same principle applies to mines, fisheries, all the natural resources."

To Dorn those issues were a vivid reality. He had flown over the fire-swept, mine-gutted districts down near the border. He had watched that desolation creeping steadily northward till it threatened to seize and deflower this beautiful wilderness north of the Canadian National. Unless wise leadership intervened, it was only a question of time till the most magnificent forests on the continent would vanish.

He said: 'I understand. That fight's been brewing ever since I was born. Up here we've got the benefit of your example down there, Kansas: we're waking up before it's all gone. God help 'em plough Carter-Snowdon under in that fight!"

Still groping to explain Aurore's connection with this battle, he swung back to a remark Kansas had made a few minutes ago; and he asked: 'You said you knew a thing to sweep Carter-Snowdon off his feet. You said, If it wasn't for hurting Aurore." Kansas, she told you something—about herself. She would never speak of it to me. She had reasons, a girl's reasons, for that. But she told Bergelot; and she'd tell you a hundred times quicker because you're my partner and you're the one to look out for her now. Kansas, what did Aurore tell you?"

Since the evening when he dived nown upon that wilderness lake and sat all night talking with Aurore McNain, Kansas had expected and dreaded this question from Jim Dorn, and had debated how he would answer it when it came. He did not reply at once; he looked away, through the flap-front, staring at the slope of Titan Major where a dozen small snow-slides were loosening under the morning sun and slowly converging into a huge central coulor.

He remembered how he had dropped down to her island out of mere curiosity and gone ashore and met Aurore, and the start he gave her when he related seeing her that night when she got off the Transcontinental and eluded him in the cedar shadows. He remembered his supper with Aurore: how he had looked across a bouquet of flowers at her brown eyes, and listened to her golden voice, and told himself that Jim Dorn was lucky among men, and wondered whether there were any more like Aurore where she came from. Then the tragedy crept in, during their long talk on the jutting boulder when the moon was white on Aurore's face and the tree toads were croaking; when Aurore, lonely and distracted, had turned to the partner of the man she loved and bared all her trouble; and they had talked about Jim Dorn till the morning sun was afire on the high mesa.

To Kansas it was a tragic irony that Jim Dorn, of all men, should fall upon this evil luck. He had thought: "I'd deserve something like this: the way I've gallivanted around, it'd be just what's coming to me. But Jim . . ." More sternly than any man he had ever known, Dorn always had held certain ideals precious. It had never been his habit to take week-end larks in the city. Now Kansas knew that he had met the girl he must have been waiting for; he knew Dorn loved Aurore McNain with all the passion of his profound and silent nature. Dorn had spoken her name with reverence. There had been a strange, mystical note in his words about Aurore—as though for him she were clothed in fragrance and purity, in the mysteries and elusive wildness of nature.

At the time, Kansas had thought it the best for Jim Dorn to tell him nothing, and he had said so to Aurore; but that was his first instinctive and natural reaction to a job he shrank from, and since then he had debated whether it was better to let Dorn go on indefinitely in this suspense which must be agonizing, or have the worst of it over with at a stroke. Now this morning two new factors had sprung up, and they decided the debate. One of them was Dorn's resolve to go away about that Kansas was thinking: "He can go away, he can think he's given Aurore up; but he never will—not till he knows definitely." The other was his promise to Aurore—not to tell Dorn the truth until such time as Dorn would not be coming back to her again, for she never wanted to face him after he knew. That time had come now.

Kansas said: "Jim, she told me." He tried to keep his voice steady. 'She told me the whole thing . . . about her four years Outside, about Carter-Snowdon, about his political battle, about her marriage——"

"Her marriage!" Dorn was on his feet, all his mountain-born deliberateness swept away by those cataclysmic words. "Her marriage . . . Aurore . . Married . . ."

What To-day Means To You

"SCORPIO."

The best hours for you, if November 21st is your birthday, are from noon to 3 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 9 p.m. to midnight.

This date is favorable for putting into practise those changes which you have for some time meditated, but which excessive caution has deterred you from making. The day may mark the beginning of a new and successful era in your life.

Children born on this November 21st will, as soon as they are able, become great readers and careful students. The ordinary pastimes of childhood will pass them by unheeded, and their acquisitiveness of knowledge will be very marked. They will not, however, in after years, be able to capitalize to the "Nth" degree, their vast store of intelligence.

You always live in the sunshine, and your optimism never fails you. Regardless of the blows that Fate has in store for you—and she has quite a number—you are always persuaded that something worthwhile awaits you "just around the corner." You are not satisfied, however, to think that the good fortune which you are persuaded will be yours will materialize, unless you help. You are a consistent and persistent worker, bring intelligence and thought to bear on your efforts, and are tolerant of and patient with others and their viewpoint. You are not a "know-it-all" and often derive help and assistance from friends and associates.

In your home life, you are a cheery sort of individual, and it is impossible to be down-hearted or sad when you are around. You are entirely free from moods or temper. You are level-headed have poise, and a disposition that can be fitly described as enviable and equable.

As a friend, you are quixotically loyal and at no time has anyone had reason to regret the confidence placed in you. Your personality, although not immediately compelling, exerts its influence after a brief contact. You look for the good, not the bad, in people, and those with whom you deal show you the best that is in them. A happy and eventful life is promised you.

THE SINGLE TAX SYSTEM

Editor, Examiner:—

City Clerk Armstrong's arraignment of single tax before the Rotary Club the other evening is interesting. The writer of this letter does not claim to be an authority on single tax, more properly termed taxation of land values, nor does he intend to criticise Mr. Armstrong's statements. Therefore he does not deem it necessary to sign his name. He would like, however, to ask one or two questions, which he would leave to Mr. Armstrong, or any other interested party to answer.

Single tax advocates claim that land was provided by Providence for the use of all the people, and that no individual is entitled to private ownership of it. Economically, land included not only agricultural and urban land as we commonly think of it, but all natural resources, such as water powers, forests, oil and mineral lands, etc. Will anybody say that Providence when he placed the vast stores of crude oil in the earth, intended it for the use of the people, or merely to make a billionaire of Mr. John D. Rockefeller, compelling all users of this gift of nature to pay tribute to an individual for the privilege of using that gift. Similarly did Providence place the stores of iron in the earth to make Mr. Andrew Carnegie wealthy at the expense of the millions who directly and indirectly make use of steel in their daily lives?

Again let us make a supposition. We will suppose that at a certain cross road a little community springs up. A town site is laid out and lots are valued at $50.00 each. Mr. X. owns a corner lot, vacant. Across the street the Government erects a post office. A bank is built on the opposite corner, a community hall on the third corner. Houses are springing up all round. Sidewalks, sewers, and water mains are laid. A representative of a big business firm comes to town looking for a site for a business establishment. He sees Mr. X's corner lot, and says: "there is just what we want." He looks up Mr. X and asks the price. Mr. X replies "1000.00." in other words the lot has increased in value from $50.00 to $1,000.00. Mr. X has not spent a dollar on it. How then was the value created. Obviously by the community. Who then has a moral right to the increase, the owner or the community who created the value. Suppose the town council says:—"We will just put a tax on the value of all vacant lots in this town commensurate with the value the community has created." How much longer would Mr. X and other owners of vacant lands hold them for speculation? Not any longer than it would take to dispose of them to some one who would use them to erect homes, stores, and other utilities.

Thanking you Mr. Editor.

Macaulay Advises New Toronto Jail

TORONTO, Ont., November 20 (C.P.). — In a letter to Mayor Bert Wemp, Hon. Leopold Macaulay, Provincial Secretary, says that the city and government authorities are agreed that the present Don Jail cannot be repaired, and that a new structure must be erected.

This letter was received after Mr. Macaulay and others inspected the local jail. The reasons given for the construction of a new building are lack of space, inadequate plumbing, also inadequate methods for cooking.

German Federal Railways have installed a new system for cleaning passenger cars by which the coaches are run into huge air-tight cylinders into which is pumped a strongly disinfectant gas to kill all germs.

Pavilion Sold

Whitehall Gardens Pavilion, owned by John Sedgwick has been sold to Miss Terry, of Beamsville, who is proprietress of Honeymoon Huts, situated between Grimsby and Beamsville. Miss Terry plans to have extensive alterations on the grounds where the pavilion stands. Work will be commenced in the spring of tearing down the large building and using the material for the erection of two cottages, a restaurant and gasoline station.

Mr. Johnston and family, of Grimsby have leased Frank Brewer's residence for five years, taking possession next March. Mr. Johnston is employed with Miss Terry at the Honeymoon Huts near Beamsville and will occupy a similar position under her management here.

WEALTH OF IRON LIES UNTOUCHED

MAKE PROVINCE PROSPER.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 21 (C.P.) — Older Ontario has more to gain from the extended use of New Ontario's vast iron wealth than the North Country itself, declared James W. Curran, publisher of The Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Star, before the Toronto Rotary Club to-day. Mr. Curran predicted a big prosperous future for the province in the development of the iron ore resources. The day was at hand, he said, when Ontario's iron would pour wealth into the Province.

Mr. Curran pointed out that for several years Canada had been importing an average of between $300,000,000 and $400,000,000 worth of iron and its products and estimated the country had been losing $160,000,000 yearly in wages to Canadians. At present not a pound of iron ore was being mined in Canada, he said. Yet Ontario ore was more accessible to United States plants than that of their own fields. Algoma had enough iron ore already in sight to last for many years and there were infinite water powers also coal possibilities.

"What we want in Canada is American capital—not goods," Mr. Curran said. "We have to have it. It is probably available on favorable terms. And when it comes there is no area so handy for transportation of iron to Lake parts as Algoma. At present eBthlehem Steel is importing ore from Chile and Cuba."

FARM LOAN BOARD MAY BE CALLED ON

Would Enlarge Operations to Include All in Need of Immediate Aid.

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.— (C.P.)— A partial solution of the difficult problem of tiding over the wheat-farming population of the Western Prairies appears to be at hand. One proposal which is being considered is an enlargement of operations of the Farm Loan Board to include all those who are in desperate need of immediate assistance. The Farm Loan Board operates in British Columbia, Alberta, Manitoba, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, but not in Saskatchewan and Ontario, where there are Provincial Boards acting in the same capacity as the Federal body.

The extension of the operations of the Farm Loan Board which is under consideration is to empower the Board, if deemed necessary, to take over all mortgages from the loan companies. These are usually given from five to seven years, and at a higher interest than the Government charges.

The Farm Loan Board could convert them into long term mortgages, and thus relieve the situation very much.

SEVERAL GAINS ARE RECORDED

Advance Resumed at New York To-day Following Early Morning Recessions.

TRADING PROFESSIONAL.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (C.P.)—The stock market again crept back to the best levels of the recovery to-day, after shying away yesterday.

The selling which appeared in the last hour of the previous session was carried over into to-day's early trading, causing further recessions of a point or two, but it was soon completed, and the advance resumed. Trading was dull, but shares advanced more rapidly than they had declined, and numerous gains of 1 to 6 points were recorded.

Most of the trading appeared to be professional, and strength of some of the specialties suggested resumption of pool activity.

Winnipeg Review

Wheat market opened steady with prices declining fractionally during the first period, but around mid-session the market turned decidedly strong with prices climbing to 2⅜c to 3⅛c over Wednesday night's close, the cash month being the weakest and the July the strongest of the four contract months. The upturn was brought about by some good buying that was credited to Chicago and New York interests, and was understood to be mostly on spreads, there being no evidence of export business overnight beyond an odd load here and there.

The Chicago market was also stronger, with their May holding steady at around 77¼, or at a premium of about 11 cents over Winnipeg May. Another bullish item yesterday was a report issued by the ministry of agriculture in Argentine stating that because of rust two million tons of wheat had been lost on this crop. A despatch from Ottawa to Winnipeg was to the effect that reorganization of the central selling agency of the wheat pools is a development expected within the next two weeks, and that Premier Brownlee will take charge. Its probable reorganization will involve liquidation proceedings on the part of the central selling agency, distinct from the three prairie pools. The three western provinces are reported to be involved to the extent of around $20,000,000 or more, Saskatchewan carrying the largest part of the loss, and the government of that province is expected, in order to protect itself, to step in and operate the pool elevators for the benefit of the farmers, until the situation becomes straightened out.

Liverpool closed ¼ to 1 penny higher, higher than earlier in the day, and Buenos Aires was ¼ to ⅝ down at midday.

Coarse Grains — Except for some small lots of rye worked for export and a few cars of low-grade oats to eastern Canada, the coarse grain markets were rather quiet. There was not much pressure and the strength shown in wheat gave these markets a firmer tone. What selling was going on was believed to be coming from the pool.

Liverpool due ⅛ to ¼ higher based on Winnipeg.

JOPLING PARTY GETS FULL QUOTA

Deer Found To Be Getting Scarce Even in Pakesley District.

FAVOR CLOSED SEASON.

Deer are getting scarce even in the Packesley district, hat former paradies for hunters, reports Fred Jopling, who returned on Wednesday night with his party and a string of a dozen large dere' While the deer are still plentiful in Packsley as compared with dis tricts further south, admitted Mr. Jopl ing, still there is only one deer now to every twenty in years past.

Discussing the varied suggested plans for recuperatin Ontario?s stock of deer, Mr. Jopling favored a closed season for one or even two years rather than the buck law, which permits hunters to shoot only bucks. This is also the opinion of ali members of the Jopling party and the Payne party of Lakefield. Both parties seriously discussed the deer scarcity together while returning home on the train. It was pointed out that the buck law would prove useless since it often difficult a spike-horn buck from a doe and many hunters in their anxiety to shoot would be bound to bring down does.

The northern woods are fairly alive With partridge declared Mr. Jolping, who watched them feed within thirty feet of him in the bush.

The hunt was one of the best on record although the hunters were forced to roam further afield than formerly. Old hunters in the party claimed that it added to the thill of the chase to have to work harder for their bag.

The deer in the Packsley district had a rather easy season as compared with last year. Only half as many hunters were in the district stated Mr. Jopling. The Jopling party secured their full quota of thirteen deer, the average weight being 138 pounds. The warm weather would seem to make it difficult to keep the venison, but the Jopling party encountered no difficulties, and returned with their venison in first class condition.

On the return trip in a special coach the Jopling brigade met with the Payne party of Lakefield. Songs, jokes and speeches livened the hours and the hunters swapped experiences. The Payne quartet added much vocal harmony to the gathering.

"Shiner" Johnston proved one of the liveliest spirits in camp and his rifle "sweetlips" did its share in adding to the quota of deer.

The party consisted of: J. L. Alcorn and G. D. Smith, both of Youngstown, Ohio; S. T. Newman, Playmyra, N.Y.; J. I. Nasmith, Tonawanda, Pa., 'Shiner' Johnston, H. Gross and Fred Dobson, of Peterborough; W. J. Telford, W. B. Telford, W. Jopling, F. Jopling, Sandy McManus, of Bridgenorth and J. S. Taylor of Cobourg.

Port Hope Watchman Suicides On Yacht

PORT HOPE, Ont., November 21 (C.P.). — Charles Hulks, believed to be of Toronto, night watchman on the yacht Condor which is wintering here, was found with a bullet wound through his head to-day. Hulks' body was found sitting erect in a chair on board the yacht by George Taylor, who was delivering a consignmen of groceries to the boat.

Chief of Police Thomas Murphy, Dr. W. R. Tucker, and Coroner Dr. R. McDerment investigated and found that Hulks had apparently placed the muzzle of a revolver in his mouth and fired.

WEIR'S PROGRAM DRAWS ATTACK

G. F. Sterling Claims Increasing Production Will Accentuate Difficulties.

SALES NEEDED.

SASKATOON, Sask., November 21 (C.P.). — "The program Mr. Weir offers is a simple one of increasing production and therefore accentuating our difficulties," stated G. F. Sterling, publicity director of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, commenting on the agriculture program revealed on Wednesday by Hon. Robert Weir, the Dominion Minister of Agriculture. Mr. Sterling maintained the Government should concentrate on selling goods, not producing them.

Other officials of the farm body also criticized Mr. Weir's program. They pointed out that the standard of agricultural products was high, and no further action was needed to raise that standard.

Mr. Weir came in for criticism for not requesting farm organizations to attend the agricuutural conference at Ottawa between Federal and Provincial agricuutural officials. The farm body officials declared that "we feel sorry that Mr. Weir decided not to include the wives of the ministers at the conference as we feel sure that any half-dozen women would have been able to work out a better policy to bolster Canada's chief industry."

700 POUNDS HEROIN SEIZED.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 21 (C.P.).—Customs authorities to-day seized 700 pounds of heroin concealed in a shipment of wax aboard the Italian steamer Cracovia.

The contraband, valued at upwards of $1,000,000 Mexican dollars, was destined to be smuggled into Shanghai, officers said. This seizure was the third within the last ten days, during which narcotics valued at upwards of $2,000,000 Mexican dollars have been confiscated from Italian vessels.

INDIA CONSTITUTION

meeting on Monday afternoon. Some of the main questions before this important committee are:

1—The nature of the component units which are to be fitted into the scheme of Federation.

2—The nature of the central according structure.

3—Relations of the central structure to the Provinces.

4—The relations of the central structure to the Indian States.

6—The subjects with which the centra structure will deal and in general. Its powers, functions and responsibilities.

This committee consists of 32 members, representative of the British delegation, British India and the Indian Native States. It has before it a long and arduous task.

Minorities Given Hope.

Prime Minister MacDonald told the Indian minorities spokesmen that the case they had presented had not fallen on deaf ears.

His own contribution to the architecture of an Indian constitution, he said, would concern India as a flexible federation which meets your historical inheritance so far as it is worthy to be carried into the future."

"Between this meeting and the end of our conference," said the Prime Minister, "remains the task of thinking, considering and pondering on the problems before us. I leave the chair now as this plenary session may resolve into committees. In the work of those committees you have the best will not only of His Majjesty's Government, but of the British Parliament.

"We hope to be able at our final meetings to achieve an agreement which will send you back to India happy, powerful men, able to face your difficulties so that we may both go our various ways, strengthened in the desire to co-operate."

HASTINGS COUPLE CELEBRATES GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

MAKE PRESENTATION.

HASTINGS, Nov. 21.—(Examiner Correspondence)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Huycke of "Sunny Brae" were at home to their friends on Friday evening, it being the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

Fifty years ago Miss Jane Elizabeth Berry, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Berry of Warkworth became the bride of Charles C. Huycke, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Huycke of Hastings. The late Rev. E. C. Cragg officiated.

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Huycke took up residence on the Huycke homestead, "Sunny Brae" in Percy township where Mr. Huycke was born, where they have resided since.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the presence of four who were present on the fifty years ago of their marriage. Mrs. P. C. Watt of Winnipeg, a daughter, was unable to be present which was very much regretted.

The residence was very prettily decorated in gold and white as was the table with a large wedding cake and two bouquets of yellow 'mums, there was also a profusion of flowers throughout the house. Mrs. W. Huycke of Orland presided over the table and poured tea and coffee. Mrs. F. M. Somerville of Peterborough cut the ice, these ladies were ably assisted at the tables by the Misses Carrie Doxsee, Pansy Runnels, Mae Huycke and Winnie Huycke. Miss Peggy Gould of Havelock, granddaughter of the honored couple opened the door to the guests.

Miss Jocelyn Berry of Toronto, niece of the bride sang several numbers which were much appreciated. Rev. H. J. Bell, M.A., B.D., pastor of Trinity United church which Mr. and Mrs. Huycke and family attend gave a short address. Addresses were also given by Rev. D. A. Thomson, B.D. and Dr. J. B. Berry of Toronto, brother of the bride. Dr. Berry spent some little time in reminiscences and compared times of fifty years ago with those of the present.

Numerous gifts were received including flowers and a substantial sum in gold.

Guests from out-of-town included Dr. J. B. Berry, Miss Jocelyn Berry, Mrs. W. H. Berry, and Miss Berry of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Somerville and Miss M. Stewart of Peterborough; Mrs. R. J. Doke of Toronto; Mrs. George Hetherington of Millbrook; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Gould, Peggy and Bert Gould of Havelock; Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. F. Huycke, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Huycke and Mrs. Ewart Huycke of Warkworth; Mr. and Mrs. Morley Scott of Picton.

SUGGESTS APPEALING OF SCARBORO FINES

'Speed Trap' Fines Already Made Might Be Appealed Solicitor Says.

The Peterborough Automobile Club local representatives of the Ontario Motor League, have received further word from the League's legal representatives with regard to the suggestion that fines imposed upon Peterborough motorists for proceeding through Scarboro township at a speed greater than 20 miles per hour, be refunded.

The opinion of the League's solicitors is, however, that the only recourse with respect to the people of Peterborough who have been fined under this by-law is an appeal, and that an action will not lie for a recovery of the fines. They have reason to believe that Scarboro township is having the by-law approved as it now stands, and in that event motorists will be obliged to be more careful in East York.

In suburbs of large cities in some instances the speed limit is reduced to 20 miles per hour. The same situation exists not only in east York but in West York, Mimico, and New Toronto, where people honestly believe the speed limit is thirty-five miles per hour when as a matter of fact it is twenty.

In York County Police Court the othe, day there were fines imposed upon two Peterborough people for the same offence and in the same district. The time for appealin these or any other conviction for the same offence is ten days.

ALEXANDER IS FREE ON CRIMINAL COUNT

At First Trial Mining Employee Was Sentenced to One Year.

After only ten minutes of deliberation by the jury of the criminal assizes at Quebec recently, a verdict of not guilty was returned in the case of G. H. Alexander, former employee of the Horne Copper Corporation, a subsidiary of the Noranda Mines. Alexander was charged with theft, corruption of employees and conspiracy.

At first trial, held at Amos, Abitibi, last year, Alexander was condemned to a one-year term in jail for the same offences but had appealed and secured a new trial. Alexander conducted his own defence.

THREE-ACT COMEDY IS WELL RECEIVED

Cheerful Workers' Bible Class of St. James' Presents Play.

That "Roses" do not always typify real happiness was revealed last night in a bright and sparkling three-act comedy drama, "Rose Lawn," presented by the Cheerful Workers' Bible Class of St. James' United Church.

A large and appreciative audience greeted the players at each curtain with hearty and continued applause.

The unraveling of the mystery of the old mansion, "Rose Lawn," provided an enthralling plot with many pathetic scenes, relieved by skilful touches of humor. An extremely well-balanced cast held the attention from start to finish, enacting their difficult roles with admirable ease.

There is a closed-up east wing at Rose Lawn connected with a tragic secret in the past of the haughty Mrs. Trescott and finally with that of Adele, the unwelcome young actress wife of her adored and jealously guarded son, Martin.

Mrs. Trescott has engaged a detective to learn all he can of Adele's past, in the hope of belittling her in Martin's eyes, but she finds with dismay that it rebounds upon herself when the secrets of the past are divulged.

The rather aggressive Mrs. Gaskill was exceeding well played by Mrs. A. Williams, while her shadow, Mrs. Bates, was splendidly portrayed by Mrs. R. Beatty. They are caught in the act by Mazie Todd, a Rocky Falls belle, and her friend, Dick Butterworth, son of the county judge. These parts were cleverly enacted by Mrs. Vinnels and Arthur Van Ness.

Mrs. Harold McMahon made a charming bride and with a somewhat pathetic appeal won the sympathy of her audience at the very beginning. Playing opposite to her was Mr. J. Brandt, whose acting and deportment were excellent in the part of the adoring young bridegroom, who defies his mother's insinuations.

With just the right touch of dignified reserve and hauteur, Mrs. Henry Turner gave a perfect representation of motherly love and coidness of heart.

As a foil to her hardness is the kindly white-haired Judge Butterworth, an old friend of the Trescott family. Mr. Henry Turner was all that could be desired in this role.

Mr. J. Huggins made a most convincing and shrewd detective, William Larkins, who helps to hasten the denouement of the plot.

The honors of the piece in a comedy way were shared by Mrs. Gaskill, Mrs. Bates, and by Mrs. Ross Payne, the latter giving so splendid and realistic a rendition of the old family servant, Lutey Ann. Her oft recurring "Who me?" evoked great merriment and served as a fitting conclusion to the story of Rose Lawn, in which she had played so large a part as girl and woman.

The scenery and costuming added greatly to the effectiveness of the play. Great credit is also due to the director, Henry Turner, for his untiring efforts toward the success of this production.

As a prelude and between acts very fine music was provided by St. James Sunday School orchestra, conducted by Clifford Russeau, and accompanied by Miss Olive Prest, A.T.C.M.

Friends of the Cheerful Workers' Class will be pleased to know that a repeat performance of Rose Lawn will be given to-night in St. James S. S. hall.

BOOK RECEIVES MUCH CRITICISM

Miss Marjorie Harrison Writes Book on Canadian Conditions For Britain.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 21. (CP)—Miss Marjorie Harrison, whose book "Go West—Go Wise" aroused much critiicism for its picture of the dominion, addressed the Canadian Women's Press Club here the other day and said the object of her book was to give a true picture of conditions in Canada. She asked the audience to remember it was written for Britain, not for Canada. She felt England was shortsighted in not seeing the possibilities of Canada.

"There is a great future before Canada, I believe, and if England does not send the right type of immigrants in 50 years from now the people of Canada will not have the sam filial feeling they now have" said the young British journalist, who explained that she came out at the request of Lord Beaverbrook to write a series of articles. She was free only to an extent—that of showing only the best side of Canada. Her chief did not like her articles so she wrote the book, she said.

Miss Harrison admitted that she she may be wrong, but that what she had written was the honest impression of an Englishwoman turned loose in Canada for three months. She "deliberately avoided officials, who are always guarded in what they say" and tried to get first hand information by going among the people. The two chapters on maternal mortality were written after the very terrible report of 1928 issued at Ottawa.

Of 37 stags killed in the recent hunt near Glasgow, Scotland, by the Hon. Francis Curzon and party, 16 were bagged by Mrs. Curzon.

JACKSON APPEARS ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Alleged to be the proprietor of a blind pig, Harry Jackson appeared before Police Magistrate Langley this morning charged with keeping liquor for sale. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded on $2,000 bail until next Thursday. He was charged as a third offender which carries a penalty of not less than six months.

Police raided Jackson's home at 1001 Water street last night arrested three Millbrook men found drinking there and located a cache of three cases of vendor's beer. Act Detective Bill Piercy and Constable Joe Wheeler made the descent on Jackson's establishment, the popularly called "Riverview Cabaret."

After arresting Jackson and his three alleged customers, the police began the search for liquor. Walls and floors were carefully tapped, and the beer was finally found beneath the floor in an upstairs room A section of the floor was fitted so that it could be easily lifted to allow access to the beverages.

A. E. Elliott appeared for Jackson, who on February 7, 1928, was found guilty of keeping liquor for sale and on August 13, 1929, of having liquor in his possession without a permit.

The three Millbrook men pleaded guilty to consuming liquor illegally and each was taxed $10 fine. Two local men pleaded guilty to being drunk last night on George street and were fined $10 each.

Goalkeeper Abbie Cox Is Loaned To Pittsburg

Cox is expected to make his debut on the Pittsburg ice when the Bulldogs play there on Tuesday evening evening next. He had been drafted by the Montreal Maroons or the showing he made here, but was left unemployed when "Flat" Welsh got the Montreal job, and Clint Benedict was sent here.

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 21 — Abbie Cox, custodian for the Windsor Bulldogs of the International Hockey League for the past two years and a member of the championship team in the 1928-29 season, left to-day for Pittsburg, to take over the goaltending duties of the Yellow Jackets. He goes to Pittsburg on loan and remains the property of the Windsor organization.

Victoria Deputation Will Visit Michigan

LINDSAY, Nov. 21. (Special to The Examiner)—Victoria County Council will send a deputation to Wayne County, Michigan to inspect the method of road building adopted in that county and take advantage of the data available in the engineering headquarters relative to experiments with types of roads and system of building. The committee will comprise County Engineer Wilford and County Clerk Weldon.

Wayne County, Mich., is famed for its white roads, which are of concrete construction. Some years ago a deputation from Lindsay visited the State to look into this type of pavement and gathered information relative to the cost of construction. This was before Lindsay adopted a paving program. The committee was very favorably impressed with the type of road but it was also learned that if similar pavement was laid in Lindsay according to Wayne County specifications, it would cost more than those of asphaltic construction. The soil formation in Wayne County was more than those of asphaltic construction. The soil formation in Wayne County was more suited to that type of pavement than the soil in this section. The town finally adopted the asphaltic concrete type and has adhered to it ever since.

SOUTH AFRICA ON PROGRESSIVE WAY

Governor-General Says Union Pluckily Faces Difficulties in Way to Success.

BLOEMFONTEIM, South Africa, Nov. 21.—(By the Canadian Press)—"Looking over the years," said the Earl of Athlone, Governor-General of the Union of South Africa, in the course of a farewell speech at a party garden given in honor of his excellency and Princess Alice here, 'I have always conjured up an impression of a struggle in South Africa against difficulties, a struggle well sustained and pluckily fought; of progress, sur if slow; of a gradual realization that farming requires brains as well as muscle, science as well as tradition."

The Governor-General touched on the gradually developing industrial life of the Union and the problems to which it gave rise, and then continued:

In this country of complex problems which are inherent in our composition and inseparable from our history, we have special need in this period of readjustment of steady hands, of sympathetic hearts and a wise and enlightened outlook. During the last few years despite some difficulties, despite occasional setbacks, the spirit of mutual understanding and tolerance, the ideal of real community of purpose, the identity o outlook so essential to a true and wide patriotism—these have developed with slow, but sure increase among the population of the Union."

The Governor-General assured the gathering that Princess Alice and himself, as far as was humanly possible, had been happy in South Africa—happy in their surroundings, happy in their associations, and happy in the unfailing kindness with which they had always been received.

WITH THE FISHING FLEETS OF NOVA SCOTIA

The Bluenose fishermen of Nova Scotia have won a world-wide reputation as intrepid sailors of the salt waters, and their skill and courage and their storm-beaten schooners have been preserved to posterity in some of the finest of American literature. A typical fishing harbour of Nova Scotia is shown in the upper picture. Lunenburg boats have always been foremost among the fishing fleets and in the foreground can be seen schooners in various stages of construction, while anchored in the background are a number of the ships waiting to leave for the banks. At the bottom is a scene reminiscent of the old world, but one not unusual in the Nova Scotia fishing towns. It shows an ox team bringing a catch of cod fish from a schooner upon its arrival in port.

MOTORING NEWS

Too many accidents are caused through ignorance of road rules. Most people understand that when one car overtakes another, the car behind (if it desires to pass) does so to the left. But many drivers do not heed the rule not to pull over to the right until entirely clear of and past the other car. If passing a street-car one keeps to the right always, and if one overtakes a street-car which has stopped for passengers, one must wait some eight or ten feet back until the door closes and the car moves on. Slow moving vehicles should always keep to the extreme right, so that faster moving cars pass them easily. Never pass a car on a hill. Do not presume too much when you have the right of way. Perhaps the other driver thinks he has it, too. Keep your car clear of hydrants. And because it is a gentlemanly thing to do, dim your headlights when approaching another car on the road.

One person in every eight in Canada owns a motor car. The same ratio exists in New Zealand. The United States leads the world in the number of cars in operation, having 26,501,000 cars, or one for every five in the country. Canada has 1,168,000 cars in use, as compared with 173,000 in New Zealand. Which reminds the writer that despite reports that there isn't a motor car in Bermuda, he found six motor trucks there, all owned by the Government, and all used for road operations.

Montreal has adopted traffic rules for pedestrians as well as automobiles. "Speed up progress—keep to the right" is the slogan adopted.

Three men were driving toward Montreal last week in the front seat of a roadster. A Montreal policeman stopped them and ordered one of the passengers to seat himself in the rumble seat. The order was promptly obeyed. Later it was found that the law had been misinterpreted. Several interpret the law to mean merely that the seat must not be overcrowded. If the seat is wide enough and the occupants not too large, there is no legal bar to two passengers and the driver in the front seat. The Ontario regulation is on approximately the same lines as that. Toronto policemen have been instructed to warn motorists not to overcrowd their car, and several cases of overcrowding have been brought to court recently.

There are no signs of business depression at the Ontario Motor League, according to W. G. Robertson, general secretary. Mr. Robertson said that the league had received more membership fees during the past year than in any previous year. He stated that the use of motor-cars is on the increase, and that gasoline sales are higher than ever before. The league has provided more legal and road service than ever before, and the organization is going ahead by leaps and bounds.

Dr. P. E. Doolittle, recently elected president of the Canadian Automobile Association for twelfth consecutive term, has returned to Toronto. Dr. Doolittle, at the Vancouver conference, said: "On this occasion it gives me very great pleasure to announce that the long battle, first for recognition of the need of, and then for the constructive efforts to accomplish the completion of the trans-Canada highway is now, apparently, within easy reach of completion."

W. Rees Jeffreys, former chairman of the British Road Board, has been visiting Canada, bringing felicitations of the Royal Automobile Club of Great Britain to officials of the Ontario Motor League. He gave it as his opinion that the main inter-urban arterial roadways of Canada should be widened and that action should be taken to secure the requisite land for prospective widenings before the erection of buildings made the cost of such acquisition excessive.

D. Merry and V. Dynes, of Oakville, recently made a record run from Toronto to Vancouver in 96 hours, 15 minutes. They travelled in a Dunlop equipped Ford coupe.

Montreal during the first six months of this year had 164 motor fatalities. Toronto during the first nine months had just 38 motor fatalities. Toronto has roughly fifty per cent. more motor vehicles than Montreal.

Plans for road communication in Algonquin Park are being made and several suggested routes are under consideration. Hon. William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests for Ontario, stated that the purpose of the roads would be to link up the various places and the headquarters on Cache Lake.

While waiting for the decision of city authorities as to whether they are eligible, many girls in Birmingham, England, are training as auto drivers so they may apply for taxi-drivers' licenses.

She had just arrived for a little visit with Tom's mother when the horrible doubt struck her — had she, or had she not remembered to turn off the electric iron? It might have started a fire and ruined the apartment. And she was a hundred miles away.

She picked up the telephone. In two minutes she was speaking to the janitor. In three minutes more he had investigated and told her everything was all right.

How easy to find out! And what a relief to be sure! To her it was worth many times the small cost of the telephone call.

COBOURG PRESBYTERY LAYMEN OF UNITED CHURCH GATHER AT BANQUET IN CAMPBELLFORD

Work of Missionary and Maintenance Department Ably Outlined.

WORK IN GREAT NORTHWEST

Dr. Armstrong, Toronto, Rev. S. A. Martin of Fort Churchill, Speakers.

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 21.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—Facts about the Foreign and Home Missions of the United Church were ably presented to the laymen of the Presbytery of Cobourg at a banquet given by the ladies of St. Johns' United Church, Campbellford, on Wednesday evening, when the work of the missionary and maintenance department was gone into and explained, relative to the situation that exists in the Church today.

The pastor of the church, Rev. R. C. Tait, welcomed the guests, who numbered over one hundred and came from all parts of the Presbytery, after which the chair was handed over to Col. J. Odell of Cobourg. The guest speakers of the evening were the Rev. A. E. Armstrong, M.A., D.D., of Toronto, Secertary of the Foreign Missions Board, who presented the needs of the overseas missions, and the Rev. S. A. Martin of Fort Churchill, who handled the home mission aspect, telling of his work in the great northwest.

Dr. Armstrong commenced by stating that there was no difference between the foreign and home missions if viewed in the light of Christ, for in God's sight there is no east or west, but that they were just two phases of the same labor and were divided to enable a better handling of the situation.

He spoke of the oft heard comment that people did not believe in foreign missions and wondered if they had ever stopped to think what Christ or Paul thought of them and why they differed with these two great leaders. "I thrill with pride when I think of the great work of the United Church," the speaker said and went on to state that it was a work upon which the sun never sets. This had not been the case with either of the three great churches before union, but it was the case now.

Dr. Armstrong asked that his hearers think of the missionaries, for he wanted to speak for them that evening. They were the very salt of the earth and the select of the church, he said, yet they were getting discouraged and were wondering if the United Church was going to let them down. This had been expressed in letters from the missionary fields, the speaker said, and he thought that perhaps the reason of this situation was that the people of the church were not gripped by foreign missions.

"Are we to tyrand raise a maximum of money on a minimum of motive," Dr. Armstrong asked, and went on to state that he felt if he looked forward twenty-five years that the future of the church was as bright as promised the God, that he was not afraid of the future, but that he was concerned with the present.

Mission Fields Cut.

He pointed out that in the past three years there had been an annual cut in the expenditure of the M. and M. fund and that for the current year the receipts for that fund were $300,000 less. This had resulted in the closing up of much of the work that should be done, and the inability to open up new fields. As an example of this fact he stated that there were 148 fewer missionary fields now than two and a half years ago, despite the fact that over a half million more people had come into the country in that time.

Of the missionaries themselves Dr. Armstrong said that they were men and women who were full of self sacrifice and service. They were giving all they had to give to the work of the church, and demanded to know what the church was going to do for them. "Are we going to break their hearts by cutting their salaries, by admitting failure to carry on?" he asked.

The moral of all this was, in the speaker's opinion, that the allocation would have to be raised this year. He thought that a little more conchurch members and declared that viction was needed on the part of everyone should take as their text that motto that had been found on the wall of a church in China, "O Lord, revive Thy church, beginning with me."

The Rev. Martin, in presenting the needs of the home missions, gave a very graphic description of his work in the Fort Churchill area and his experiences in the north west as a missionary. He described the rapid growth of the country in the course of the last three years and the building of the railways linking up the north with the centres to the south.

Of the hospitals in the west he said that the church had nine and that they had registered 18,000 in and out patients in the past year. This was an average of 500 a week and a little over 70 a day. This work was carried on among the strangers and friendless and he appealed to the people of Ontario to open their purse strings and help as they had done in the past.

Mr. Martin said that he had often been asked why people go to the north. He pointed out that it had been asked in the past why they went to Manitoba, and yet the people who had gone there in the early days, many of them being of old Ontario stock, had made good and made the province what it was today and had helped in its remarkable growth. Somebody had to go, somebody had to pay the price.

Dated Far Back.

Of the northern part of the province, the speaker said that it was often thought of as a new country, yet he pointed out that it had a history that went back into the past, as far back as 1600 and the days of Henry Hudson, Monk in 1619, John Sutherland in 1614, Gillham in 1668 and the men who had travelled the Nelson River in 1670, all these were part of the history of the country, "yet it will have another the speaker said, for it had not reached its full growth yet."

It was the restlessness of humanity and the call of the north that had called the settlers and which was calling them now. There were new paths to be trod and the call of a new adventure, this was the explanation of the settling of the north.

Northern Development.

Mr. Martin also spoke of the part that aviation, the wireless and the wireless-telephone had played in the development of the north country in eliminating distances and establishing quick contact. He outlined the building of the Flin Flon Railway and the work that had been undertaken by two missionaries who had been sent out by the United Church, and with canoe and tent had followed the construction as it proceeded north. He spoke of his own work among the men of that country and the splendid response that the men had made to the work of the missionaries, of the building of the churches and finally of the establishment at Fort Churchill and the building of the church there, a place in which the congregation was entirely male, there being no women there.

"The work of the home mission is no child's play, the speaker declared, for where men go there the church follows", and concluded by stating that if the United Church was not to fail this work must be continued.

In introducing the speakers and in the capacity of chairman Col. Odell made an appeal to the gathering to be one hundred per cent efficient in their Christian efforts. He thought that there was too much shifting of responsibility from the pew to the pulpit. The pew was the church and it was the responsibility of every layman to see that he did his utmost. The greatness of any undertaking declared the speaker, brings greater responsibility and if the United Church was the greatest church in the country, it had the greatest responsibility and should measure up to it. It could only do this when the members of the pew learned what the church is doing on her different fields, and with this realization, do more to increase efficiency.

Other speakers were the Rev. G. A. Williams, former missionary of the United Church, Rev. J. F. Lams and A. E. Denike of Havelock. A vote of thanks to the ladies of St. John's Church for providing the splendid banquet was moved by Rev. D. R. Clare and seconded by Rev. F. G. MacTavish, to which Mrs. W. H. Ashton replied.

Contributing to the musical portion of the program was community singing lead by A. Hazel, and two selections by the Ionic Quartette of Campbellford, comprised of Major J. M. Bygott, Dr. H. O. Richardson, W. Henson and A. Hazel, with E. O. Dolman at the piano.

An interesting feature of the evening was the playing of a phonograph record which brought to the assembly messages from the Rev. Dr. P. Brice, secretary of the Missionary and Maintenance Fund, and Rev. Dr. Oliver, Moderator of the General Assembly.

REV. DAVID WREN SPECIAL SPEAKER

Laymen's Banquet Held in Keene United Church on Monday Last.

KEENE, Nov. 21 (Examiner Correspondence)—Rev. David Wren, of Trinity United Church, Peterborough was the special speaker at the Laymen's Banquet held at Keene United Church on Monday evening, and chose for his subject, "The Spiritual Message of the United Church of Canada."

R. F. Downey, President and Dr. J. E. Middleton, secretary of the Lay Association of the Peterborough Presbytery spoke on the value of the Lay Association in the life of the church and how lay men could assist in the church.

Miss Alma Blanchard, soloist and Miss M. Cox, pianist, contributed to the program and were favorably received.

A banquet was served at 6.30 p.m. in the church basement by the ladies of the W.M.S. Following the program a hearty vote of thanks to the speakers and artists was moved by David Armstrong and seconded by John Henderson.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL FAVORS TOWN PLANNING

RECOMMENDS CIVIC COMMISSION TO PLAN FOR BIGGER PETERBORO

Mrs. W. R. Blackwell Addresses the Local Council of Women.

TOWN PLANNING.

Arising out of an address given by Mrs. W. R. L. Blackwell to members of the Local Council of Women when she spoke on "Town Planning" to them at their regular meeting yesterday afternoon in the green room of the Young Women's Christian Association, the meeting decided to ask the City Council to take some action in the work being carried on in the southern outskirts of the city, to see that it conforms to the necessary requirements in the matter of laying out residential blocks and roads, so as to avoid useless expense later on, when this section is taken into the city and the streets and roads are found to be non-conformable to city requirements. The ladies also added a rider to the effect that a Civic Commission be appointed to look after these matters.

The second speaker of the afternoon was Miss Pavla Molnarova, of Prague, whose address was also teeming with interest.

Mrs. Blackwell gave a very concise and interesting address that occupied a space of only a quarter of an hour but covered the ground thoroughly and in a manner that brought to the attention of her hearers an unfamiliar subject and gave it a comfortable and intelligible outline. She referred to the interest in town planning being taken by the world at large and the manner in which it is being considered by various Canadian cities. Vancouver, for instance, has taken as its motto in this regard, the words of a builder who lived forty-four years before Christ:

"We must make plans. He who looks not before, finds himself behind."

The financial cost of such planning is considerable but the city of St Louis, Missouri, has discovered that the increase in sales values and rentals has already fully justified the large expense incurred in widening one of its main city blocks.

Mrs. Blackwell divided her address into several sections. She described the method of zoning in connection with town planning, which tends to stabilize property values and which aims to have a district for each civic purpose. Working peoples' residences will be near employment centers, and produce markets will be close to factories and shipping facilities.

Housing is important; the problem that deals with plenty of space and light, fire protection and ventilation, and avoids overcrowding.

The health element in town planning means public health efforts, and service is the placing of hospitals, parks, libraries, fire and police stations in certain areas and looks after the matter of electric light service and sewage disposal.

Mrs. Blackwell here referred to the section in the south end of the city which is rapidly being built up, where the blocks are bing constructed too long and where the county roads are not similar to city roads. This, she said, will make for great expense later on, when this section is included in the city boundaries.

There there is the transportation problem, in laying out streets that are wide enough to avoid traffic congestion and in the by-passing of traffic that is not intended for the city.

There is also the question of diagonal thoroughfares and the selection of cheap natural sites for parks, drives, exhibition grounds and playgrounds.

Little Lake Driveway

Mrs. Blackwell spoke of the two sides of Little Lake which afford an admirable natural driveway which might be extended as far as the Golf Links, and also went on to enumerate other items in Town Planning, such as the proper laying of curbs and gutters the proper care of shade trees, and the matter of cleanliness and upkeep, in striving to give a city a well-groomed appearance. Her pithy address was concluded by the quotation from an Examiner editorial of last year, which she regarded as sizing the whole situation up in good terms.

Mrs. C. H. Edwards, president of the Local Council, extended thanks to Mrs. Blackwell for her very interesting talk, and introduced the second speaker of the afternoon, Miss Pavla Molnarova of Prague, Czecho-Slovakia, a Y.W.C.A. worker from that far-away land who is making a brief visit to the Dominion, and who gave her hearers some insight into the government and customs of that very new republic that [illegible] in the center of Europe.

Twelve years old as a republic, still subject to the growing pains of youth, Czecho-Slovakia has behind it a history of a thousand years and more of monarchial rule. In the soft, wistful voice of this daughter of an unfamiliar region, the listeners had an opportunity to visualize some of its problems and its victories. Miss Molnarova's friendly, pleasant demeanor, her eagerness to impart some of her own views to her hearers and her command of eloquent, beautiful English, made her talk outstandingly interesting.

She sketched for her listeners the progress of her country from the days, in the sixth century, when the western Slavs settled in what is now Czecho-Slovakia, down through the great Moravian empire and the incursions of the Magyar tribes, and the thousand years of rule by the Hungarian dynasty of what is now known as Slovakia. Bohemia, Moravia and Silesia kept their independence, but finally came under the rule of the German Hapsburgs, until the Great War ended the whole matter and gave to the little country its republican independence.

In 1929, Czecho-Slovakia celebrated the millenium of that early Christian prince, Vaclav, whom we know as Good King Wenceslas, immortalized in Christmas song and story.

In the 15th century came Jan Hus (John Huss), the great political and national reformer, whose statue bears the inscription, "Love each other and grant truth to everybody." He was one of the first rectors of the first university, established in 1348, and in 1415, he was burned at the stake, because his advanced ideas did not conform with the times. His followers, known as "Warriors of God" boasted that they were never defeated on the open battle-field.

In the 17th century, the doctrine of co-education was preached by Comenius, the last bishop of the Unity of Moravian and Bohemian Brethren, a creed which formed the germ of the Moravian Church. Comenius (this is the Latin form of his name) said that there was no reason why women should be excluded from higher learning, as they were created in the image of God as well as men, and that they were just as able to act as doctors and prophetesses and were often used by God to give warnings of punishment.

Czech Revival in Prophecy

President Thomas Masaryk of Czecho-Slovakia takes the Bible and the writings of Comenius as his constant companions, and refers often to the wonderful prophecy of the latter, written three hundred years ago, in exile in Holland, when he said: "I believe that, after God's wrath will have passed away, the government of affairs will again return into your hands, old Czech nation!"

It was through the work of this Masaryk that the republic finally achieved its independence, and the

Melchett Tells Jews To Oppose Laborite

LONDON, November 21 (C.P.).—The Jewish electors of Whitechapel, now in the throes of a by-election campaign, were yesterday urged by Lord Melchett, the great industrialist, "not to cast a single vote for a representative of the Labor Party, whose Government has shown, in manifold ways, its ill-will toward our national movement.

"This is the moment," declared Lord Melchett, in a message supporting the Conservative candidate, T. L. E. B. Guinness, "for us to show world-wide Jewry that British Jewry stands solid against any curtailment of its rights, or any attempts to beguile it with empty phrases into a surrender of the birthright of the Jewish people."

M. M. MACBRIDE FOUND GUILTY

Traffic Supervisor Fined For Assaulting a Police Officer.

DUTY FALLS ON POLIICE.

BRANTFORD, Nov. 21.—His Honour Judge A. D. Hardy convicted M. M. MacBride, Ontario Supervisor of Highway Traffic, for the assault of a police officer, Sergeant Steven Cara, while the latter was on duty. The Supervisor pleaded not guilty, and was given a fine of $10, or in default of payment ten days in jail.

"I am not concerned much about the conflict of authority between the defandant and the police. The Legislature has not seen fit to define with any particularity the duties of the Supervisor of Traffic.

'I do not consider that this conflict of authority is the substance of the case. The question here is: Was an assault committed? An assault may be committed by a gesture. It is not necessary to inflict a blow. The evidence here, to my mind is against the accused. Four witnesses, at least, speak pretty clearly as to a severe blow being aimed at Sergeant Cara. Fortunately, it missed him.

Duty Falls on Police

"I think I shall have to find that Sergeant Cara was engaged in the discharge of his duty on the night in question. Mr. MacBride may have been engaged in the question of his duty as he saw it. However, the police are in charge of such cases all over the Province. An individual supervisor cannot be expected to be everywhere. Consequently it develops upon the police to look after such unfortunate happenings.

"I shall have to find, on the evidence, which is ample, that a blow was aimed at the police officer. Even the Minister of Highways himself could not undertake to aim a blow at a police officer. I shall have to register a conviction, and I bear in mind that in the confusion and disorder of the occurrence, which seems to have been somewhat prolonged, Mr. MacBride does seem to have been the chief sufferer. I have given him the benefit of the doubt all I can".

When arraigned, Mr. MacBride pleaded not guilty. The charge followed a rumpus at the Canadian National Railways subway here on Oct. 12 last, when the defendant and Sergeant Cara of the city police force became involved in an argument, which culminated, it is alleged, in Mr MacBride "making a pass" at the Sergeant, whereupon the police officer and a constable grappled with the traffic supervisor.

DEBT PAYMENTS MAY BE HALTED

Germany May Be Forced to Declare a Moratorium Says Curtius.

CORES EUROPE'S ACTIONS.

BERLIN, Nov. 21 (C.P.)—Foreign Minister Julius Curtis chose an opportune moment last night, after the Reichsrat had passed virtually all legislation connected with the Government's financial program, to tell the nation and the world that Germany may be compelled to invoke the safeguard measures of the Young Plan, now that she has proved she has done all that is possible to fulfil her international obligations.

These safeguard measures refer to a moratorium, and the convocation of a special advisory committee to bring about alleviations permissible under the plan, and the Foreign Minister's speech, constituted Germany's first official intimation that she is likely to invoke her right under the plan to declare a moratorium.

At the same time he expressed sharp criticism of Europe's sluggish attitude toward disarmament, and, in connection with a recent speech on that issue by Premier Tardieu of France, he declared that Germany will demand an early disarmament conference, "where each nation must show its colors and its real intentions."

Insurance To Wait Taking of 1931 Census

TORONTO, Ont., November 21 (C.P.). — The Dominion Government awaits the completion of the 1931 census before it will apply itself to the question of national unemployment insurance, Senator Gideon Robertson, Federal Minister of Labor, intimated last night in an address to the Ontario Community Welfare Council.

Senator Robertson said from seven to ten of the questions to be asked of all citizens in the census next June will deal with employment and unemployment. It was hoped, he said, in this way to gain a complete picture of the situation at a more normal season of the year than now.

Senator Robertson believed that with the end of Soviet Russia's attempt to disorganize the markets of the world, economic conditions would begin improving almost overnight.

WEIR SAYS AGRICULTURAL POLICY IS NOT OUTCOME OF CONFERENCE

FAVORS FARMING SCHOOL.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 21.—"The items of policy formulated Wednesday night at the Royal Winter Fair banquet and grouped together as the Dominion Agricultural policy, are not the outcome of the two days deliberation with the Provincial Ministers of Agriculture," said Hon. Robert Weir, in an interview with the Canadian Press, Thursday afternoon. The impression had been created the Minister said, that the new policy had been evolved during the conversations," while in point of fact the conference had been called for the purpose of discussing agriculture's administrative problems and securing the co-operation and full use of Government machinery, already created to extend to the farmer any ideas which were thought beneficial with least delay and lowest possible cost."

On Educational Lines

The conversations proceeded along educational lines, the Minister added. The value and use of experimental farms, farming schools with training in breeding, inoculation of animals, correct feeding, etc., creation of real interest in finer points of scientific farming, were some of the other topics discussed.

He had a particularly strong word to say for the farming school not the agricultural college, but, "the rural farming school, where the young farmer might obtain during the winter months practical knowledge of everyday farming problems. The students once out of the school, thought the Minister, would then have a centre where the difficulties of their particular farming area might be examined and studied.

Hon. Mr. Weir will remain in Toronto till the end of the Royal Winter Fair.

WILLIAM HOOEY AWARDED PRIZE

VISIT ZION LEAGUE.

PETHERICK'S CORNERS, Nov. 21 (Examiner Corespondence)—Sentinel Hall was crowded to the doors on Monday evening when the young people of Tabernacle Church, English Line, paid a visit to Zion League. The visitors provided the program with Ernest Craighead in the chair.

The opening feature was the renewal of the Junior Oratical contest of S.S. No. 5 held in Hoard's Church on Friday evening when three contestants, William Hoey, Owen Hoey and Ilene Third were tied for first place and the contest on Monday evening proved very interesting. There were about ninety visitors present and almost an equal number of local League members.

The judges were Mrs. Charles Malcolm and Messrs. Umphrey and Fairman, teachers at Trent River and Connolly's schools. Following their decision each of the judges paid much credit to the youthful orators for the excellence of their work and pronounced the winner to be William Hoey whose subject was the automobile tire. Second place was taken by Ilene Third with her topic, going to market and Owen Hoey Jr., gave a splendid oration on the creek but was disqualified for not following his subject closely enough.

The visiting League presented a program, consisting of vocal solos, Mrs. Harry Grills, reading, Miss Thelma Stallery; vocal duet, Messrs. Donison and Morrison; Hawaian music, Misses Ruth Tinney, Bessie Grills and Earl Godden; reading, Miss Mildred Curtiss; comic chorus, School days by older boys and girls; piano duet, Misses Ruth and Verna Tinney and sacred pantomime, The Pearly Gates was a very beautiful thing and exceedingly well done. Musical selections by the Line orchestra were followed by a series of contests under the direction of Miss Edna Diamond.

Thomas Fry, president of the local League expressed his appreciation to the visitors for the program. Lunch was served by the members of the local society.

Rev. Williams Speaks

The Rev. George Williams, former missionary at Formosa and now working in connection with the United Church Missionary and Maintenance Fund in the Hamilton and Bay of Quinte Conference, was the speaker at Zion on Sunday evening.

Mr. Williams has always been popular with the people here especially the younger ones who have been associated with him in young people's work since his return from the mission field. His message on Sunday evening was as usual, full of inspiration giving a real insight into the great work of the missionary in the far East.

SERVICE IS HELD HASTINGS CHURCH

Members at Upper Canada Bible Society Gather at Service.

HASTINGS, Nov. 21 (Examiner Correspondence)—Following the annual meeting of the Local Branch of the Upper Canadian Bible Society, which was held at 2 o'clock on Thursday, November 13 in the office of Messrs. H. M. Fowlds and Son. The annual service was held according to order in Trinity United Church, Hastings, on Monday evening, November 17.

At this service the three Protestant bodies of the village joined in worship. The hymns used were—"O God our help in ages past," "Holy Bible: Book Divine," and "O Word of God Incarnate." Rev. D. A. Thomson offered prayer and the scripture reading was taken by Rev. H. F. Battersby. These reverend gentlemen and Rev. H. J. Bell pastor of the church, addressed the assembly, dealing with various phases of the work of the Bible Society,—the number of languages into which the Bible has been translated (630 throughout the world and 110 in Canada alone), its widespread influence and power in China, India and the far North of our own country, and the paramount need of Bibles in carrying on the work of Redemption, and fortifying the world against evil forms of Communism and Bolshevism.

A feature of the service was the approval of a letter of condolence sent by the Local Branch to the family of the late W. P. Plant, who had served the society in the capacity of local secretary for many years. In his place R. C. Doxsee was appointed to undertake the duties of the secretary's office.

The work of the society is of the noblest and worthiest kind, as it makes translations of the Bible into all known languages and is continually adding new translations as new languages of obscure tribes are discovered. These, and the English Bible are printed without note or comment and issued usually at less than cost, twelve million copies being distributed last year throughout the world.

You'll like its slenderizing lines. The pointed treatment of the gored skirt emphasizes the smart quaint basque bodice. The partial belt arrangement does much toward concealing hip breadth. The open V-neckline with pointed collar is particularly becoming.

It's easily made!

It's very attractive to have one's house frock agree with the kitchen color scheme.

Men's striped cotton shirting, tiny gingham checks, pin-dotted broadcloth and tweed-like cottons make up lovely in this model.

HEAVEN.

Sometimes I think that Heaven is not
An ever-fair and joyous spot
Where seraphim and cherubim
Lift golden notes in tender hymn,
A spot as radiant as day
But, oh, so very far away!

I think sometimes, that Heaven, instead,
Rests close about a child's fair head,
Or in the thoughts love joys to send
Around the pathway of a friend.

Sometimes I feel Heaven is as near
As is the hand of one most dear,
In which I gladly lay my own
To go down ways unknown or known
With no regret or questioning.
So long as to that hand I cling.
And Heaven, I am sure,
Is in each soul whose thoughts are pure.

MRS. E. C. PRENTICE ENTERTAINS W.I.

Report Read on Recent Successful Rummage Sale Held By Roseneath Society.

MARMORA, Nov. 21 (Examiner Correspondence)—Mrs. E. C. Prentice was hostess to the members of the Women's Institute for the regular meeting held at her home on Thursday when there were thirty-five members present. Mrs. H. W. Sabine, the president presided for the meeting.

The roll call was a thanksgiving thought. A report was given of the recent successful rummage sale, and also a report of a family in distressed circumstances and it was decided to assist in the matter of clothing.

Another decision arrived at was the sending of a bale as last year to Frederickhouse near Cochrane.

This week the annual seventy-five dollar grant will be made to the library. Mrs. H. R. Haacke was appointed delegate to the convention at Belleville.

The program was in charge of Mrs. W. E. Gould and Mrs. W. Pack and consisted of pianoforte duet by Misses Grace Prentice and Olive Airhart, current events by Mrs. F. N. Marett, paper on Thanksgiving by Miss Porter; piano solo by Miss O'Neill, principal of the local Continuation School and a reading on Armistice by Clifford Spry.

A cake contest was won by Miss M. Brown while the consolation prize went to Mrs. James Gordenier. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting. The next meeting will be held at the home of the secretary, Mrs. F. R. Wells.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

ANOTHER USE OF THE BILE.

You read frequently about ulcer of the stomach, but as a matter of fact ulcer occurs more frequently in the first part of small intestine, that is the part into which the stomach pours its contents.

Now, as ulcer has been thought to be due to irritation, to infection from nose, throat, and sinuses, and other causes, it does seem strange that there should be more cases of ulcer occurring just beyond the stomach when the food has been so softened by the stomach juice.

Research men are working on this problem and Dr. G. Loewy, Paris, is of the opinion that the bile, or rather the lack of bile, which should be poured into small intestine from liver and gall-bladder just at the place where these intestinal ulcers occur, may be the cause of the ulcer.

By preventing bile going into the intestine at this regular point, he was able to set up severe irritation and in one case an ulcer within a few weeks.

As you know, I often speak about the liver and about the value of bile to the system.

It has long been known that the bile, by breaking up the fats, enables the intestine to absorb them and thus they finally reach the blood.

It has long been known also that little organisms that would otherwise be harmful to the body, are rendered harmless by the bile. The bile is thus a natural antiseptic.

And another important thing is the ability of the bile to make the intestine move its contents along. This naturally prevents constipation and the absorption of waste matter into the blood. The bile is thus a natural purgative.

And now we have Dr. Loewy's suggestion that a natural regular flow of bile into small intestine might be one means of preventing intestinal ulcer.

And the way to secure a good flow of bile, you will remember, is by not overeating and thus giving the liver too much work to do, and also by bending and breathing exercises which squeeze the liver and also the gall-bladder and send the bile into the intestine.

Surely it is worth this much thought on your part to get all the benefits of a good bile flow, and avoid the possibility of an ulcer.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

What is the cause of happines in our homes?

• • • • • • •

There are many reasons, of course. I don't know whether you have ever thought of it or not, but knowing the value of life is one of the secrets of contentment and happiness.

• • • • • • •

To be constantly knocked about in one's mental realm by a great array of unassorted thoughts, each of which seems to be of equal importance, brings about a state of mental confusion.

• • • • • • •

It is then impossible to reach a state of contentment when one is so blown about by the whirlwind of indecision.

• • • • • • •

One has to learn what is the most worthwhile matter to dwell upon and what must be thrown aside and considered worthless. Don't fret and worry.

• • • • • • •

To dwell upon matters that are entirely trivial and insignificant is a waste of mental energy and this energy is of inestimable value.

• • • • • • •

It is force and power that makes masters of industry and is a home-maker's treasure. It keeps the wheels of manual labor working efficiently.

• • • • • • •

To store this energy one must know how to value his mind. That is essentially important. One cannot fritter her thoughts away on petty things.

• • • • • • •

If one does little time is left for the more important things handled rightly, make for success and contentment and that is what we all should strive for.

• • • • • • •

Among the worthless things that clutter the mind is too much concern about what one's friends are doing. If a woman is letting the thoughts be filled with trivial matters of this sort, and talks about them, a woman becomes a gossip.

• • • • • • •

To be constantly thinking of "and she said" with the gaps between filled with repetitions of second hand conversation lessen's one grasp on what is important.

• • • • • • •

Unless a person can be of help to a friend in trouble or enter into her pleasures, it is a mistake to get too much involved in the events of her life because this frequently means neglect of matters of vital importance in her own life.

• • • • • • •

There is a friendly interest in whatever is of moment to those one knows, that is apart from this recounting of other people's affairs.

• • • • • • •

If you would be content and happy, learn to centre your thoughts on subjects that will bring results that you desire. It may be that you want money for something.

• • • • • • •

Spend your time in planning how to get it, and not in worrying because you have not got it.

• • • • • • •

Learn to think of health and prosperity and the fine traits of your friends, the ways in which you can help those nearest and dearest to you and those who are passing through deep waters.

WAGES AND WORK SOURCE OF DANGER

Alfred Wall, Secretary of London Trades Council Comments on Girls' Wages.

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 21. (CP)—"Conditions of work and the number of hours worked are terrible and the wages paid—to young girls especially—are a real source of danger" said Alfred Wall, secretary of the London Trades Council, commenting on the efforts of four moving picture unions to organize into one group of unions every type of moving-picture theatre employe. "I have had instances brought to me where girls work for about 50 hours a week for 12 or 14 shillings ($3 or $3.50)" he said.

document declaring the same was signed in Philadelphia on the 26th of October 1918, two days before it was known in his country. So after three hundred years of oppression and a thousand years of disunion between the Czechs, living under German rule, and the Slovaks under the Magyars, the reunion finally took place. To implement its desires, a department called the Ministry of Unification is now in existence in the young republic, aiming to modify old laws to fit modern circumstances.

Miss Molnarova outlined the very modern type of constitution, with its House of deputies, 14 of whose 300 members are women, its Senate, with 3 women out of 150, its equal suffrage which gives every woman of twenty-one years and over, "the right and duty of voting", and its opening of every profession, even that of theology, to women. In Moravia, Silesia and Bohemia, said the speaker, higher education is general, but Slovakia and Ruthenia are not as fortunate, but the republic has now 14,000 primary schools, 360 high schools, 65 Normal Schools and four universities.

There is progressive social legislation, with the eight-hour working day and compulsory insurance against accident, sickness and old age; there are 700 chapters of the Red Cross in the country and 400,000 members in an energetic Junior Red Cross, headed by the president's daughter, Miss Alice Masaryk, whose mother, a Brooklyn girl, acted as the constant inspiration, up to the time of her death, seven years ago, for President Masaryk. To this woman the republic gives the credit, through its women, for the advanced viewpoint towards womankind in general, held by the president.

Y. W. Foreign Activities

Speaking of the work of the Y.W.C.A. in Czecho-Slovakia, Miss Molnarova spoke of the group of American women who came over after the war and remained for three years, establishing the association in her country, first in the two capitals of Prague and Bratislava, and later expanding throughout the entire country.

The activities of the Y.W.C.A. include several that are unknown to this side of the ocean. There they have a Social Service section which is separate from the general portion. Girls taken in there first undergo a physical examination, and then are put to work as domestic servants outside or given work in the association's laundry and workshops, where linens, underwear, curtains and dresses are made. A desire of the Y.W. there is to establish a school for maid servants.

On the third flats of the establishments are homes where the poorly-paid girl apprentices in tailoring and book-binding shops are housed and supervised by a "Little Mother."

The organization also does its best to protect the wonderful embroidery makers from the unscrupulous agents who try to buy their work for small amounts and then retail it at fabulous prices.

And they organize group excursions in summer months to other countries of Europe, to promote friendships and cordial relations. These are properly supervised.

At the close of her interesting address, Miss Molnarova was sincerely thanked by Mrs. Edwards, who commented on her command of fine English.

During the brief business session which preceded the two addresses, Mrs. M. Henry reported on the visit of the rperesentatives to the City Council, to ask them to hire local men on construction work. Mrs. Henry also reported that the idea of a soup kitchen was frowned on when brought up by the delegation.

It was decided to have no December meeting, as the date conflicts with the busy Christmas season, and to hold the next regular meeting in January.

CATTLE AWARDS WIDELY DIVIDED

Grand and Senior Holstein Championships Go to New Brunswick Breeder.

U. S. JERSEYS WIN.

TORONTO, Ont., November 21 (C. P.). — With the four main breeds of dairy cattle in the ring at the Coliseum, and market cattle and sheep being judged in the smaller arenas in the same building, while the official arbiters were concluding their labors on seeds in another quarter, the Royal Winter Fair settled into a faster stride in the agricultural sense to-day.

The Holstein judging so far has proved a national event, with prize-winners scattered from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic. New Brunswick, through the herd of W. L. McCarthy, of Lonsdale Farms, Sussex, supplied the grand and senior champion bull in Abbekerk Sylvius Lad, one of the best known animals in the Dominion. Junior champion went to Stevenson Farms, of Alliston, Ontario, a new exhibitor, on Montvic Wabst Rag Apple.

Quebec and Ontario divided the male Ayrshire championships. Credholme Farms, Streetsville, Ontario, had senior and grand on Syke Stamp Imp. While Waldo W. Skinner, of Senneville, Que., had the junior award on Bois de la Roche Radiant. Reserve senior and reserve grand went to J. H. Black, Lachute, Que., on Dunlop Reflection imp. The reserve junior ribbon was carried off by Glen Campbell Farms, of Dundas, Ontario, on Auchenbrain Golden Morn.

An international flavor was added when the Jerseys entered the ring. The Oaklands, Ann Arbor, Michigan a strong contender in other years lived up to their reputation and carried off junior and grand championships on their young bull Foremost. The senior award went to Wilford Duffy, of Newmarket, Ontario, on Imperial Double Chance. This animal and Fleming was also given the reserve grand ribbon. Reserve senior went to Innes & Fleming of Woodstock, Ontario, on Sunnybrae Jerseyman, and reserve junior James Bagg & Son of Edgeley, Ontario.

As far as championships were concerned in the Guernsey classes it was a clean sweep for Nova Scotia.

NORTH AMERICA'S POSITION MUCH ENVIED BY EUROPEANS

Canada Has Raised Nine and Half Billion Dollars Worth of Wheat Since Beginning of Century.

SAYS GREAT ECONOMIST.

(Special to The Examiner—Copyright, 1930)

TORONTO, Nov. 20—"There is no gainsaying the fact that mass production and its corollary industrial efficiency have been the foundations of North America's high standard of living which while despised, was greatly envied by Europe and which during the past few years has been so zealously emulated by the Europeans in order to raise their own standard of living, says E. F. Braham, noted economist, now residing in Toronto, in an interview to-day.

"Although our industries have maintained a high status," he continued, "agriculture's pace towards modernity leaves much to be desired despite the circumstance that arming is considered the mainstay of Canada. Since the beginning of this century, Canada has raised wheat to the value of 9½ billion dollars, two-thirds of the sum having been obtained by sales to foreign countries. Incidentally it may be added that these six billion dollars have been a permanent increase in the wealth of the country and in the light of the trend towards modern farm equipment by other wheat producing countries, can we afford to turn a blind eye to the handwriting upon the wall?

"This is the machine age. For the first time the world has attained a sublime civilization when human labor can be so greatly limited, drudgery overcome and mechanical power instead, made its slave. Machinery was invented to give man an eminently economical and efficient method of production. It is more reliable, it is more efficient, it is time saving and because of these attributes it is the medium for reducing costs."

Mr. Brayham believes that Canadian farmers are gradually beginning to look upon their business as one complete unit. "They have been rudely awakened to this fact because of competition by contemporaries who have advanced in this machine age to such an extent that they are able to place their products in the world's market at a price which is astounding.

Mr. Brayham does not think that nearly enough thoughts have been reflected upon the more important elements which would help to decrease the cost and increase the output per farm. "It is generally conceded," he says, "that on the lesser mechanized farms on the Canadian Prairies, the cost of producing wheat is in the neighborhood of 80 cents per bushel. On the other hand we are informed that the cost of producing the same commodity in Kansas, has been cut down to 45 or even 35 cents per bushel. The potentialities of modern mechanical appliances on the farm are staggering."

He attributes the present depression to scarcity of gold, abundant stocks of commodities, and Stock Exchange inflation but claims that the most potent potion which has induced this retrogression in wealth has been the failure of mankind to envisage the possibilities of machinery for the benefit of civilization.

Advocates Machinery

"The Canadian farmer has not, to the fullest extent, embraced the advantages offered by this machine age," he says. "His tendency towards mechanical adoption has perforce, been half-hearted. For instance when a farmer uses a tractor for cultivating, it also behooves him to adopt powered machinery for harvesting and threshing, otherwise it will prove to be a case of "loosing on the round-abouts what he gains on the swings," or verily be caught between the upper and nether millstones with its inevitable results. Moreover it is necessary that each farmer produce what his soil, climate topography and local of industries be according to comparative advantages. Similarly, I might add Toronto is the industrial centre of Canada, not because it possesses very fertile soil, but by virtue of it being conveniently situated for obtainnig raw commodities and shipping finished products. Thus it will be found that while some of our Western farmers might be admirably suited for mixed farming, others are suited only for grains."

Considerable difficulty has hitherto been experienced by Canadian farming fraternity in connection with obtaining suitable machinery in order to effect the necessary changes towards modern agriculture methods, says Mr. Brayham. "The crux, however, has not been due to the lack of efficient Canadian machinery but is attributable to the fact that while there are numerous farmers who would like to utilize modern machinery, they are unhappily handicapped, financially. In this respect the song has been the procurance of credit from bankers for this perfectly necessary and legitimate purpose. It is known that bankers on this continent are not generally inclined to advance credit for the purpose of purchasing machinery.

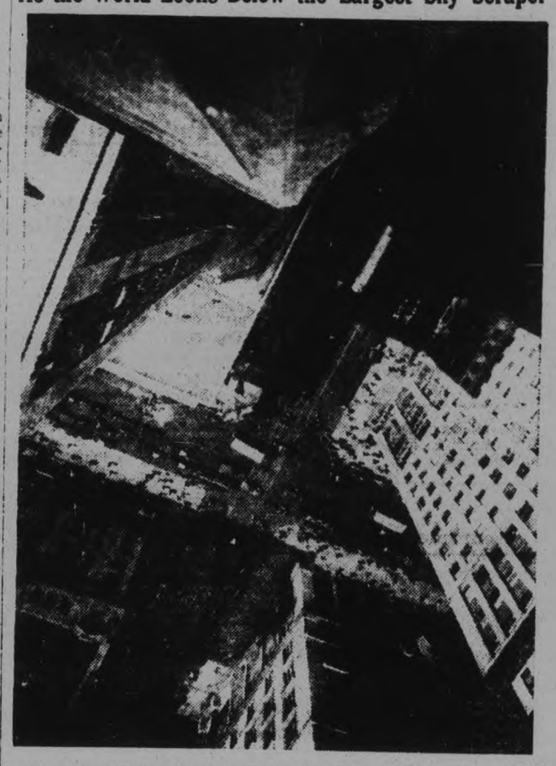
25 Per Cent. Loss.

"The Canadian banks have hitherto rendered yeomen service to our Western farmers in the way of financing the puchases of farms and cattle, but what is desirable now is a more susceptible attitude towards the consideration, that modern machinery on a farm ranks equally as productive assets."

Mr. Brayham concluded the interview with a rather startling remark. "It will soon be generally known," he said, "that over 25 percent of the officially estimated current year's crop has been totally lost to Canada owing to the early arrival of wintry weather in the prairies. Needless to say modern farm machinery would have altogether avoided this calamity. Apart from its potential value, the harvested crop had been bound and stooked which means that the farmers were actually out of pocket. The vagaries of our Western climate is too well known to need rehersal and it is propitious here to relate that by using the Combine harvester-thresher the farmer not only prepares his wheat for marketing at one operation, but does it with a great saving in costs.

"Rather than subsidize our farmers, it would seem the better part of wisdom that official guarantee be placed on their notes created for the purpose of effecting modernization and have these accepted as vehicles for credit; thus paving a more efficacious course on to the troublous road to agricultural success in preference to either directly aiding the farmer or alternately direcint fruitless efforts to defect the stubborn laws of supply and demand.

As the World Looks Below the Largest Sky Scraper



The above picture was taken from the thirtieth floor of the Empire State building in New York, which is now being constructed by Starrett Brothers and Eken. This giant in tall buildings occupies the site formerly covered by the famous Wardorf-Astoria Hotel, which was the stopping place of most of the crowned heads of Europe. When completed the Empire State building will be 1,250 feet high, making it the tallest building in the world. The offices will be confined to eighty-five storeys, but on top of these will be a mooring mast for dirigibles 205 feet in height. Far below can be seen the intersection of Fifth Avenue and 34th Street. Construction will be completed within one year.

KIWANIS HEARS Y.W.C.A. LEADER

Miss Paula Molnarova, of Czecho-Slovakia Addresses Service Club.

SHORTLY RETURNING.

"I shall carry back from this city and your great country, some of the most beautiful memories of my whole life" was one of the concluding sentences in a remarkably fine address delivered to members of the Kiwanis Club at their noon luncheon at the Empress Hotel to-day.

The speaker Miss Paula Molnarova, is a prominent subject of the little republic of Czecho-Slovakia, and is identified with the work of the YW.C.A. She was accompanied by Miss Leta Brownscombe, general secretary of the "Y", in this city.

In introducing Miss Molnarova past-president J. J. Craig, said she had held many important positions in her country, having had the duty of transplanting political and foreign news from other countries. A few years ago at the request of the President of Czecho-Slovakia a commission visited that country to study social conditions and commenced the organization of the Y.M. and Y.W.C. Associations. It was at this time that the speaker resigned her position in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and became identified with the work of the Y.W.C.A.

She will shortly be returning to her country after one year's study in New York, where she will further the work on the National Committee. She has taken a language study course at Oxford University and also in Switzerland, and is the first woman of Czecho-Slovakia to win the Dow scholarship.

Speaks Perfect English

She spoke at length on the social [illegible] the political constitution of her country which attained its independance in 1918 after over 300 years' oppression under the regime of the Austrian dynasty.

The speaker was not unmindful of the invaluable benefit, in the fostering of international goodwill, which the service clubs such as Rotary, Kiwanis and the "Y" organizations are playing in the world, and spoke with a keen sympathy and understanding of the part which America has played in the destiny of her country.

She likened President Masaryk to President Lincoln, in so much as he had risen to political fame from the humble surroundings of a coachman's lodge.

President Carl Browne reminded the members that next Friday will be given over to the annual elections, and that in the afternoon and evening concerts will be given in the Collegiate auditorium by the children from H. M. Savoy Chapel Choir.

J. A. O'Brien officiated at the induction and installation of a new members to the club in the person of L. J. Pettit, a member of the teaching staff at the Collegiate and Vocational Institute, who was described by the president as a "Knight of the Duster and Chalk".

Among the guests present was Herb Bassett, past-president of Galt Kiwanis Club.

A.Y.P.A. HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

H. C. Soward of Toronto, is Guest Speaker at Association Banquet.

SUCCESSFUL EVENT.

With representation from Lindsay, Millbrook, Lakefield, Omemee and St. John's, St. Luke's, St. George's and All Saints, Peterborough, the Peterborough District Council of the Anglican Young People's Association scored another successful event on Wednesday evening when their annual banquet was held in St. Luke's Parish Hall with an attendance of 134.

Mr. Bonniville, president of Millbrook A.Y.P.A. proposed the toast to the church which was responded to by Rev. E. R. James of St. John's, Peterborough. Rev. G. Bousefield welcomed the visitors on behalf of the parish. E. V. Morphet gave two pleasing popular songs. J. Morley of All Saints', Peterborough proposed the toast to the A. Y. P. A. to which Miss Stella Graham gave the response. H. E. Soward, past president of the Toronto local council of the A.Y.P.A. and vice president of the Dominion Association chose "Budgeting" as his topic, and stressed the importance of budgeting spare time to develop one's self physically, mentally, spiritually and socially. His address was full of interest with many practical suggestions which should prove beneficial to individuals and branches. Horace Hill of Omemee voiced the appreciation of the Local Council for the visit and address of the speaker, and Miss Blanche Graham, life member of Peterborough District Council thanked the members of St. Luke's for their hospitality and splendid banquet.

Clergymen present were, Rev. J. L. Hughes, St. George's, Peterborough, Chaplain of the District Council, Rev. G. Bousefield, St. Luke's; Rev. E. R. James, St. John's and Rev. W. J. Creighton, Lakefield, and Rev. H. F. Battersby of Hastings.

AMATEUR FLYING STEADILY GROWS

LONDON, Nov. 21 (By The Canadian Press).—Steadily the light aeroplane movement in Great Britain gains ever a more important place in the life of the country. Gone are the days when the ownership of a private aeroplane marked out a man as one apart from his fellows, an adventurer.

The world is now accustomed to the accomplishment of high-speed long distance flights in British light planes. But there are other fine achievements accomplished by skilful amateurs with comparatively little knowledge of air navigation. Men like F. C. Chichester, women like Miss Amy Johnson, have demonstrated how easy it is to fly a modern light aircraft across the world.

Nearer home, in less spectacular fashion, owner-pilots are using their efficient air vehicles for business and holiday tours. One holidaymaker set out to tour Spain and part of North Africa. He troubled little about landing grounds; any fair-sized field with a moderately good surface became temporarily his aerodrome when he wished to alight for lodging or fuel. Many Spanish country folk remember the small aeroplane that landed by the road-side during the late summer and the Englishman who asked in crude Spanish, helped out by gestures, where he might get a fill-up of petrol.

In Great Britain itself the number of privately-owned aircraft and of qualified private flyers mounts without interruption. At one of the 24 flying clubs in the country no fewer than 51 members were trained for the pilot's "A" license in a period of three months ended Oct. 31. This brought the club roll of licensed pilot members up to 169.

Pupils from every part of the world are being taught to fly there. Among the members of the club are represented 16 different nationalities, including Indians, Canadians, Australians, Spanards, Americans, New Zealanders, Argentines, Italians, Frenchmen and Japanese and Germans.

A dog park has been opened on the roof of a London theatre.

Leafs Tie Amerks While Canadiens Beat Maroons

TEAMS FAIL TO SCORE IN DULL HOCKEY DUEL

Repetition of Opening Game Played in Madison Square Garden.

GRANT IN THE NETS.

Canadiens Drub Intra-City Rivals 7-1—Fourth Loss For Maroons.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The New York Americans and Toronto Maple Leafs played their second goalless tie of the new National Hockey League season last night, skating through 70 minutes of dull hockey without a goal or anything close to it.

The deadlock was just enough to enable the Leafs to hold their place at the top of the league standing, as the one point gave them a total of six.

Although there were spots of lively action and occasional flashes of the best passing seen in New York this season, neither team displayed enough form to earn a goal. The play was about even from start to finish, the team displaying equal strength and making about the same number of mistakes. Toronto "kid" forward line —Primeau, Conacher and Jackson — did the best work on the attack.

Both teams were guilty of frequent offsides at the blue line and of inaccurate shooting when they did get a chance at the goal.

Caution also marked the play on both sides and not a chance was taken, even in the closing minutes of the overtime period.

Youngsters' Passing Good

Patterson drew a penalty almost as soon as the game started, and the Americans ragged while Clancy made a frenzied attempt to get the rubber. Alternating attempts to work passings plays failed in the next few minutes, until a penalty to Dutton gave Toronto's attack its first real opening Brydge and Simpson effectively halted the charge of the "kid" line.

The Toronto youngsters showed the best passing seen here so far, and gave Worters a few tough ones to stop. The duel of the Leaf regulars against New York's new second line produced a fine burst of speed, until Carson drew a penalty for a cross-check. Ragging brought a dull moment as the Leaf forwards were offside nearly every time they attacked.

Worters got a nasty crack as he broke up a Leaf attack that came close to a score, but he was able to continue and make another fine stop a moment later. Bailey led the assault, teamed with Primeau and Jackson, and got right in on the net. The Americans got clear of the Toronto defenders and the Leafs succeeded only once. Then Dutton broke up the attack at the cost of a tripping penalty. Jackson followed him and the period ended without further action.

MONTREAL, November 21.—Montreal Canadiens last night thoroughly and convincingly trounced their intra-City rivals, Maroons, in the first National Hockey League clash between the arch-rivals this season. Canadiens scored seven clean-cut, clever goals, while Maroons replied with but one, which incidentally was their only score in four games.

The game was as one-sided as the score suggested. From goal out, the red-shirted Habitants showed far more hockey ability than Maroons. Two of the goals stood out as classics of the ice sport, and in both Howie Morenz supplied the finishing touch to perfect three-men combination plays. Pete Lepine scured two goals on long sorties before he was banged down by Stewart in the second period and removed from the game. Gagnon, Mondou, and Larochelle each tallied once.

Maroons' first goal of the season came, not from their former heavy sharpshooters, but from McVicar, formerly of Providence, aided by Johnny Gallagher. "Flat" Walsh guarded the goal for Maroons for two periods, and was relieved by Davie Kerr, who let in one tally in the last period.

Former Ring Official Dies in Lodging House

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(CP)—The body of a man identified as Johnny Gallagher, referee at the Dempsey-Firpo heavyweight battle in 1923, lay in the morgue today—a victim of puzzling circumstances.

The man died yesterday of an internal hemorrhage at a lodging house and was identified by callers at the morgue as the former boxing official. The lodging house clerk, Jack Anchell, said the man was brought in Tuesday night and registered by a companion who said he had been struck by an automobile.

The fight that Gallagher refereed caused considerable controversy because of the incident in which Dempsey was knocked out of the ring by the "Wild Bull of the Pampas" and was assisted back by ringside spectators

CALEDONIANS HOLD BANQUET

Club Members, Wives and Friends Enjoy an Excellent Night of Enjoyment.

MANY SPEAKERS.

As a fitting climax to the soccer activities of the Caledonian Football Club during the season just finished, they met in a social capacity last evening in the Paragon Hall, when nearly fifty members, wives and friends sat down to supper.

Throughout the evening speeches were delivered by the president of the Caledonian Football Club, Robert Gilmour, who gave an excellent account of the team's achievements. He was ably substantiated by the vice-president, George Low, in a brief address. But the record in brevity was accomplished by Alexander Anderson when he stood up and replied, "I am too full to say anything."

Speaking on behalf of the Peterborough and District Football Association, Vincent Stewart, he president, complimented them in manner that they had played the game and always found them real sports with the interest of recreation at heart.

In introducing the press representative, the chairman thanked The Examiner for the manner in which he had recorded the gams in a fair and sporthmanlike manner. The reply elicited the accomplishments of the old Caledonians and reminiscences of the sport in general.

During the latter part of the program the company accommodated themselves to the strains of Robert Gilmour on the accordion and George Low on drums. W. Dougal acted as acrompanist and played for the quadrilles, the eightsome reels, and the Highland fling. William Crisp acted as M.C. The customary Scots touch concluded the banquet with the company singing "Auld Lang Syne."

OTTAWA BREAKS DETROIT STREAK

LAMB SCORES ONLY GOAL.

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—The heretofore unsullied slate of Detroit's National Hockey League entry had a 1—0 defeat registered upon it when the Falcons invaded the home ice of Ottawa Senators last night. A goal in the second minute of play from the stick of the Senator centre, Joe Lamb, marked the margin of victory and also the slim edge the homesters had on the play.

While the match was ruggedly fought with both teams applying the body and often concentrating more on the opposing man than the puck, early season form was noticeable in the weak attempts at combination play. Goalward rushes were largely restricted to solo attempts, and tight defensive wall in front of either goal took care of them.

Both goalkeepers turned in three-star performances. "Dolly" Dolson had no chance to save on Lamb's victory-bearing shot in the opening minutes. The centre man cleaved through the Detroit rearguards for a high shot which Dolson turned back, but he fell in cleaning and Lamb raced through to scoop the rebound into the net.

Arrangements have been made to hold this meeting in the Woodman of the World Hall, at eight fifteen to-morrow night (Saturday).

All soccer fans and the local representatives of the teams are requested to accommodate themselves so as to hear this interesting discourse.

CHICAGO HAWKS DEFEAT BRUINS

Hitchman is Serving One of Three Penalties When Goal is Scored.

IS ROUGH CONTEST.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—The Chicago Black Hawks outroughed and outskated the Boston Bruins to gain a 1 to 0 victory in a National League match last night in the Stadium.

The Black Hawks were a little the better almost all the way, but only in the second period, while Lionel Hitchman was serving out a penalty, could they smash through for a score. March, Somers and Arbour contrived to break through the Bruin defense and Somers passed to March for the score.

"Cooney" Weiland, "Dit" Clapper and "Dutch" Gainor, the big three of the Bruins, banged away at "Chuck" Gardiner in the final period, but failed to beat the Hawk goalkeeper, who played one of his sensational games. Seventeen penalties were called, with Hitchman leading the list with three, all in the second period.

LONDON LOSES FIRST GAME 3-2

4TH WIN FOR HERD.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 21.—Jess Spring, Olympic defense man, caromed a shot off Goalkeeper Stuart's skate with 15 seconds to go in the second overtime period last night, to give Detroit a hard fought 3 to 2 victory over the London Tecumsehs in an International Hockey League game. It was the first defeat for the Tecumsehs this season.

London took an early lead, scoring both their goals before the Olympics came to life and formulated a workable offensive.

Goal number one came of a fine solo performance by Grosvenor, London centre. Rennikka made it two to nothing midway in the second period, when he took a pass from Goldsworthy to beat Venne.

Herberts and Murray scored on timely assists from Newman to put the Olympics on even terms. Spring proved the opportunist in the overtime session for the winning tally.

4TH WIN FOR BISONS

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 21—Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets lost their fourth straight game, with no victories as yet gracing their record, as the Buffalo Bisons made their season's debut at Duquense Garden last night. The score was 3 to 2, and it was the fourth consecutive win, with no losses, for the visitors.

With "Duke" McCurry, former Pirate, in the line-up, the local skaters put up a desperate but vain battle to break into the win column. The presence of the ex-National Leaguer on the ice seemingly inspired the local lads and in spite of their setback the local skaters put up a splendid exhibition. The Jackets were first to dent the cords of the Buffalo net. In their previous contests, the Bisons while holding their foes goalless, piled up 10 goals, which speaks for their offensive power.

The Bisons tallied a goal in each of the three periods. Roter Roth, a substitute wing, snared two, and Lloyd Gross, another wing, corralled the other. "Spiff" Gregg and Sam Proudlock gained the locals markers.

The locals trailed throughout, and only for a short time in the last frame were they in arrears more than a single point.

Boston Tigers Defeated By Philadelphia Arrows

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 21.—The Philadelphia Arrows won their first victory of the season last night in the Canadian-American Hockey League compaign by defeating the Boston Tigers 2—1.

The contest was fast and rough, the final period being marked by a fistic encounter between Lyons and Buckles which brought each of them a major penalty.

Boyd saved the Tigers from a shut-out by taking a rebound from the net in the second period and sliding it past Roberts.

ANNUAL MEETING WILL BE HELD AT STIRLING ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Six Clubs Will Likely Compete in Independent Loop This Winter.

FIELDING JUNIORS ALSO.

The annual meeting of the Trent Valley Hockey League will be held at Stirling next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Notices have been sent out to the constituent clubs — Campbellford, Tweed, Marmora, Madoc, and Stirling, and also to Norwood. Alexander Kempt, manager of the Norwood teams last winter, informs The Examiner that his club will be represented at the Trent Valley League meeting, and will apply for membership. This means that they would transfer their Intermediate team of last winter to the Trent group, and retain their Junior O H A franchise This is the arrangement the Norwood fans are favoring for the coming season.

"With Campbellford coming in to the Junior O.H.A. district this winter, they may be included in a group with Lakefield, Peterborough and Norwood," Mr. Kempt said. "This would make a compact group."

LILAC BUDS IN NOVEMBER

Not merely dandelions and mosquitoes are being fooled into unseasonable activity by this mild November weather. Mrs. Cassie, 575 Aylmer street, whose husband was in Port Hope yesterday, picked several buds from a lilac bush. She brought several twigs from the bush into The Examiner office and sure enough there are buds on them. Fat, green little buds that prove that this bush is preparing for Spring rather than Winter.

Lilac bushes in Peterborough have buds too, states J. A. Devell, veterinary surgeon, who sent The Examiner some dandelion blooms on Tuesday.

SQUAD COMPLETELY RECOVERED FROM BATTLE WITH BELLEVILLE

Boys Hard at Work Polishing Up Line Plays and Perfecting Their Interference.

WILL BE HARD STRUGGLE.

The P.C.I. Senior Rugby squad has been practising faithfully all week in preparation for their struggle with Delta Collegiate here Saturday, and the entire outfit is in excellent condition.

In their recent play-off series with Belleville, in which the Garnet and Grey team carried off the Neal Trophy for the third year in succession, the boys received a lot of punishment, and Coach Legon showed fine judgment in allowing them nearly a week's lay-off prior to grooming them for the Delta game.

Boys Hard at Work

The boys are all in fine shape again and they have been drilling hard since Tuesday, polishing up on their line plays and perfecting their interference.

The Hamilton Delta outfit comes here with a far-famed reputation. For the past two seasons they have been champions of the Province and although severely weakened by the loss of many of last year's squad, they still present a very strong line-up.

Their main threat lies in their back division where young Bob Isbister handles the kicking. This youth kicks them high and far and has accounted for many of their points this year. They are strictly a line plunging aggregation and will undoubtedly count on their plungers for big gains.

Delta will naturally enter the contest as favorites as they have shown their strength when they defeated the clever St. Michael's College team but the lighter and speedy P.C.I. team will not let the visitors' reputation bother them in the least, and will give all they have from the first whistle.

Fans that have followed the local team this fall have been impressed by the fighting spirit the boys show in every game. They play with the same zip and snap, whether ahead or behind, and the Mountain City clan are due for a big surprise if they fail to take the P.C.I. threat seriously.

Regulars in Action

The locals will have all their regulars in action Saturday, with Ward and Wagar at outside; "Army" Armstrong and Ab. Lord at middle, and Clayton and Waddell at inside positions.

Howie Macdonald will be at his regular post at centre, and Wilf Preston will call the plays from quarter.

Joe Dunkerley and Doug. Fraser will look after the flying wing assignments and Gordie Young and Jack Richardson will make up the backfield.

These will be reinforced by Grant Breckenridge, Sloane, Mackey, Reynolds, Robinson, Dinneson and Mesley.

The local Collegiate Athletic Association is under a severe financial burden by bringing the Delta team to the city but, realizing that the rugby fans appreciate the efforts of the team, have spared nothing that the citizens of the city, who have so generously supported the boys, may see the Interscholastic semi-final contest played on a Peterborough gridiron.

Fans are asked to note the change in time for the game. The kick-off is called for 2.00 p.m. sharp, at James Stevenson Park.

McLarnin Favored To Defeat Petrolle

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The Indian sign of the under-dog, a powerful influence in recent matches in Madison Square Gardens, will hang over Vancouver's Jimmy McLarnin to-night in the belting Irishman's ten-round bout with Billy Petrolle, "Fargo Express," now boxing out of Duluth.

"Kid" Chocolate, the battling bonbon, went to the post a favorite over Fidel Labarba, dogged young Pacific Coast featherweight, and wound up running second, to the great disgust of the boxing fans. Then a few days later Al Singer, the lightweight champion, carried his crown into the same ring with Tony Canzoneri and lost in a single round. Now McLarnin is favored to beat Petrolle and the superstitious are shaking their heads.

AT THE CAPITOL

"THE BIG HOUSE"

"If there is any yellow streak in a man, prison will bring it out."

The warden spoke to No. 48642, when he went to the "big house," as the crook world terms the penitentiary, to serve a ten year sentence for running down a man while drunk, on New Year's Eve. And prison disclosed the yellow streak in Kent. Robert Montgomery, has the craven part in this picture, just as he has in other productions. It must become rather tiresome to the good-looking boy to be always a weakling, but he does it well.

Wallace Beery has the honors in this picture, although Chester Morris, with his hard mouth and boyish eyes, gives a great portrayal as Morgan, the thief and jail bird who gets away in a coffin from the prison morgue, impersonating a corpse, and then comes back to act as hero in the big finale.

But Beery holds the limelight. The big, fat, porcine creature who formerly held the place of honor as Gloria Swanson's husband, long before she met and married and divorced her Marquis, has the spotlight throughout. Beery's name has been associated with comedy of a crude type, since he starred in "Behind the Front," but he proves in this picture just how good a bad man he can be. There is something terribly realistic about his delineation of the killer, "Butch" Smith, who engineers a futile jail break and then pays with his life, after his stolen machine gun has ripped the life from many an unfortunate.

The jail break is a terrifically grim and real bit. It is colored by the remembrance that this is not play-acting of a dream, but a reconstruction of something that was awfully real in the prisons of the United States, throughout the most of last year. Just so must the convicts have looked when they revolted in Dannemora and Auburn.

The picture is notable and powerful entertainment, with a splendidly cast group of actors. It shows to a detail the harshness of prison life and punishment and the manner in which these criminals are treated. Possibly the audience will forget that they are criminals and killers and that the outbreaks of last year were dictated, not so much in revolt against prison conditions, as in a desire to get out and share in the spoils of the racketeers.—Jeanette.

AMERICANS TIE WITH SENATORS FOR 2ND PLACE

Last Night's Results Changes Standings in National Hockey League.

MAROONS STILL ON "OUTS."

Joe Lamb and Hal March Scorers in Two Close Struggles.

TORONTO, Nov. 21 (By The Canadian Press).—Another goalless match between Toronto and New York Americans, Montreal Canadiens sweeping triumph over their fellow-townsmen, the Maroons, and defeat of the powerful Boston and Detroit teams by Chicago and Ottawa, respectively, were the highlights of last night's schedule in the National hockey league.

The Maple Leafs retained their lead in the Canadian group, but Ottawa's clever young team advanced to a tie with Americans in second place by reason of their hard-earned win over Detroit. Canadiens also crept up in the standing but Maroons are still faced with a goose egg in the win column after four games.

The situation in the American group remains unchanged with Detroit, Boston and New York Rangers deadlocked at the top. Chicago, however, moved up to within a point of the leaders.

On paper, Montreal Maroons look like a formidable aggregation, but on the ice it's a different story. Their intra-city rivals, the Flying Frenchmen, handed them the worst beating they have suffered in a long time. The final score was seven to one and could have been more one-sided had the Habitants been so minded. The winners outscored their opponents two to one in the opening session and then hammered four goals past "Flat" Walsh, Maroon goalkeeper, in the middle frame, to put the result beyond doubt. Canadiens notched their seventh tally in the last 20 minutes.

Howie Morenz, dazzling centre-ice star of the winning team, kept up his spactacular playing by scoring two goals and assisting with a third. Pete Lepine, alternate centre, also rapped in two goals, but was cut down by a Maroon player in the second period and forced to retire.

Ottawa's sparkling victory over the hitherto undefeated Falcons of Detroit was the result of a clever bit of hockey by Joe Lamb. He shot first from outside the husky Falcon defence pair of Reg. Noble and Harvey Rockburn. The puck rebounded out and Lamb darted through to snap the disk over Goalkeeper Dolson's prostrate body. It was a pretty play and gave the Senators victory as no further scoring occurred.

Not Unexpected.

Chicago's one to nothing victory over the National League champions was not unexpected. Windy City supporters have maintained the team is superior to that of last year, which was good enough to wallop the Bruising Bruins quite frequently. With three sets of fast, hard hitting forwards, backed by a rugged defence duo and brilliant goalkeeping, the Blackhawks seemed destined to get somewhere.

Last night the worth of Lionel Hitchman as defence man was clearly illustrated. He drew three penalties in the second period, and while this unassuming but really brilliant player was off, Art Somers placed down a perfect pass to young Hal March, and the Regina boy made no mistake by lashing the puck into the net for the only goal of the game.

When the foreman of the jury was asked at London Sessions for the jury's verdict in a recent case, "We plead not guilty, my lord."

RAY BOADWAY NOMINATED FOR FLYING WING

HALF LINE INTACT.

TORONTO, Nov. 21 (By The Canadian Press).—The stage is all set for the Eastern Canada football semi-annual to be played here on Saturday at Varsity stadium. The opposing teams, Queen's University, monarchs of the Intercollegiate union, and Hamilton Tigers, winners of the "Big Four" crown, have completed their training for the struggle.

Coach Mike Rodden has whipped his crippled Yellow and Black machine into a fighting unit and despite the absence of Brian Timmis, rated Canada's greatest middle, and Ernie Cox, snapback, who has proved one of the main cogs in the Tiger line during its victorious campaigns in recent years, the Jungle Kings threaten to crush the Kingston threat and qualify to meet Toronto Balmy Beach in the final.

Ray Boadway has been showing splendid form in the Bengal workouts and has been nominated by Coach Rodden for the flying wing position. This job has been vacated by Glen Small who will endeavor to fill the hole at middle wing through Timmis' absence. Jimmy Wright has performed so well at snap that the Tiger mentor will start him, although there is a possible chance Cox may enter the tussle if needed.

Judging by the style of play adopted in the Bengal workouts, Coach Rodden will depend largely on the crushing work of his line to carry the squad to victory. He reasons that if the Hamilton plungers can break through to hurry Howard Carter's kicks, much of the tricolor's offensive strength will be sapped. Special attention will be made to take Queen's brilliant end players out of the play as much as possible, as it realized they are a real threat.

Half Line Intact.

The Tiger half line will be unchanged. Beano Wright will shoulder the kicking duties, while Bert Gibb and Timmy Languay will aid him on the backfield.

Coach Harry Batstone expressed satisfaction at the performance of his team following their final drill. He expressed the belief his team would play in the same fashion as they did when eliminating University of Toronto from the college race.

The tricolor will be at full strength as Bob Elliott, who has been on the injured list most of the season, has recovered and worked out with the team. It is apparent Coach Batstone will depend on the powerful punting of Carter to offset the Tiger gains through the line. The last two workouts have seen the Queen's mentor endeavoring to improve the kicking formation in an effort to secure the best possible protection for the tricolor ace.

In addition to the senior playdown, five other play-off games will be fought on Saturday. At Sarnia the Ontario Rugby Football Union intermediate championship series will start when Oshawa Blue Devils play the Wanderers of that city.

Four junior teams swing in action in the O.R.F.U., semi-finals. At Hamilton, the Grads of the Mountain City entertain Woodstock, while at Toronto, Argonauts and Manning Athletic Club clash at Hampden Park.

University of Toronto juniors journey to Montreal to-day where they meet Montreal Amateur Athletic Association in the Canadian Rugby Union playdown on Saturday.

PRINCE PRAISES EXPLORERS' WORK

"Unfortunately I am Not a Great Scientist," Prince of Wales Confesses.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—(By the Canadian Press)—The Prince of Wales dined with famous explorers and travellers when he presided at the centenary dinner of the Royal Geographical Society.

After referring to the history of the society, he said:

'In these days of conducted tours to the sources of the Nile and journeys in the great comfort of wagons-lits to Jerusalem and flight over the most inaccessible parts of the Dark Continent, when hardly any of the important part of the earth's surface remains unmapped, it is strange to think of the time when large stretches of territory were completely blank.

'I have travelled a great deal under the most comfortable conditions possible, and I have also flown for a considerable number of miles. I have had at times a number of flights off the beaten track. The more fortunate ones among us who have been in the more remote parts of the world on various explorations—scientific, sporting or photographic—have had the opportunity of straying off the beaten track for a few days or a few weeks, and we have been able to understand a little of what the great explorers of the past have had to endure. In the colloquial phrase, we take off our hats to them.

'It may divide exploration into two categories. There is exploration for scientific reasons. Unfortunately, I am not a great scientist, but I know the wonderful work that has been done. Exploration also has a great practical value, and there have been great regions that we as Britishers and also foreign countries have been able to develop and thus to provide opportunities for people who would not have had them if explorers had stayed at home."

A SIMPLE STEP TOWARDS HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a Daily Essential and Millions Know Its Effectiveness in Relief of Constipation

Perhaps the one simple thing you are not doing to guarantee permanent health is having sufficient roughage in your food. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is roughage. It is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or the purchase price will be refunded. Two tablespoons daily (in serious cases, with each meal) is the proper amount.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also helps you to health in other ways. It is rich in iron, practically all of which goes into the blood, bringing red, healthy color to the complexion. It helps prevent anemia. Be sure to include it in reducing diets.

Many eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with cream or milk added. It is a delicious addition to cereals, fruits and soups. In cooked foods, such as bran muffins, it is just as effective in the relief of constipation. Recommended by doctors. Ask your grocer for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. A BEDTIME STORY

UNCLE WIGGILY AND JACKIE'S ROPE.

When Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, the puppy dog boys, went past Uncle Wiggily's bungalow one morning, on their way to school, they saw the rabbit gentleman out in the yard with a rope in his paws.

"Oh, look, Peetie" barked Jackie, "I guess Uncle Wiggily is going to put up a tight rope and walk on it like the monkey in the circus."

"I think he's going to play Wild West and lasso Nurse Jane," said Peetie. "Let's stay and watch him."

"No we can't now, whined Jackie. 'We have to go to school. But after school we'll come back here and I'll walk the tight rope myself."

"Pooh! You never can!" barked Peetie.

"I can so!" answered Jackie. "Didn't I almost do it the time you and I ran away and joined the circus? Didn't I?"

"Well, maybe," said Peetie. This was a long, long time ago when the puppies were very small.

Away the dogs and rabbit ran.

"I'll show you how to walk a tight rope!" bragged Jackie as he and his brother watched Uncle Wiggily in his bungalow yard.

"And I'll show you how to lasso if he lets me take that rope after he gets through playing Wild West," said Peetie.

"Who's playing Wild West?" asked another voice and along Hopped Baby Bunty, also on her way to the Hollow Stump School where the Lady Mouse Teacher was waiting for the animal children. "Who's playing Wild West?"

"Uncle Wiggily is going to, or else he's going to put up a tight rope," said Jackie, pointing to the rabbit gentleman. 'Look, Bunty!"

'Ha!Ho! Ho!Ha! Oh, how funny!" laughed the little orphan rabbit "How silly! Why, Uncle Wiggily is just putting up the clothes line for Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy. I heard her ask him. This is wash day!"

'Oh, that's so! This is Monday!" barked Jackie, looking rather ashamed of himself.

'Anyhow," went on Peetie, maybe after the clothes are dried, Uncle Wiggily will let me take the line to make a lasso."

'And maybe he'll let me walk tight rope in a circus," whined Jackie.

'Oh, come on to school!" called Bunty, and away the dogs and little orphan rabbit girl ran, over the fields and through the woods.

When the children came home from school in the afternoon, Jackie and Peetie ran fast to get to Uncle Wiggily's bungalow. There was the clothes line stretched around the four posts, but no sheets, pillow cases or stockings were hanging up, for Nurse Jane had taken them all down after they were dry.

"Hurray!" barked Jackie. "Now you'll see me walk the tight rope!"

'And after you do that I'll make a lasso and play Wild West!" cried Peetie.

'Go on! Let's see you do it!" called Sammie Littletail, a rabbit boy.

Jackie dropped his books and ran toward the clothes line which was something like a circus tight rope. But he soon saw that he was going to have trouble getting up on it, for the line was away above his head.

"In a circus," said the little dog. "They have a ladder for the monkey to climb up from the ground so he can get on the tight rope. I can walk that rope all right if I can only get on it.

'Here, Sammie, you stand on my back," called Peetie, "and Jackie can stand on your back and that will make him high, as if he climbed a ladder and he can reach the rope and walk it—maybe."

"No maybe about it! I'll walk it!" said Jackie.

So the rabbit boy got on Peetie's back and when Jackie had scrambled up on Sammie's back he found he could reach the clothes line. He put two paws over the tight rope, pulled his other paws up and, for a moment, he really stood on the thin line and was ready to walk.

"Here I go! Watch me!" barked Jackie. He started off, took one step, with all the other animals boys and girls from school watching, and then, all of a sudden, something happened. The clothes line wiggled, Jackie "jiggled" as he said afterward, and he began to fall.

"Oh, catch me! Catch me!" he cried, clinging with just his front paws to the line and dangling high in the air. "Catch me!"

Luckily Uncle Wiggily came out of the bungalow just then. He ran into the yard and pushed under Jackie the basket of clean clothes Nurse Jane had taken from the line.

'Let go, Jackie, and fall on the clothes!" cried Uncle Wiggily. So the puppy dog did this and down he came on top of a pile of sheets and pillow cases just as the circus man falls into a bouncy net. So the act ended without Jackie being hurt, though his paws dirtied a clean sheet. But Nurse Jane said she would wash it again.

"I guess I can't walk a tight rope," Jackie whined as he jumped out of the basket. And he didn't try again in a long time

RHODESIA TO JOIN AS SINGLE ENTITY

Northern and Southern Rhodesia Nearing Amalgamation Since Conference.

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia, Nov. 21.—(By the Canadian Press)—Will the two Rhodesias unite? This important question probably will be settled in the near future in the affirmative, as the recent Victoria Falls Conference between the delegates of Southern and Northern Rhodesia indicated a drawing-near of the two Rhodesias in the direction of amalgamation. The question was raised by the delegates from Northern Rhodesia and an amicable discussion followed. There was a general agreement among the delegates of Southern Rhodesia and practical agreement among the Northern Rhodesia delegates, but two of the latter thought it would be unwise to pass a resolution on the question. To this the Southern delegates agreed. The importance of the decision arrived at cannot be overrated, according to representative men of the Rhodesias.

"The Victoria Falls Conference has had the effect of reducing the whole question of amalgamation to practical politics," says G. M. Huggins, M.L.A., for Salisbury North. "It has cleared the air of a great deal of controversial matter, and I feel, after having attended the Conference as one of the representatives of Southern Rhodesia, that within 18 months we may have a united Rhodesia." Mr. Huggins says the Conference has succeeded in clearly demonstrating that serious opposition to amalgamation has disappeared.

Curiously enough, however, unanimity on the question of amalgamation was not attained until after the Conference according to Mr. Huggins. The explanation of this is that private conversation among the representatives was more effective in getting a firmer grasp of the essentials of the question. The Conference, Mr. Huggins says, did not concern itself with details of the proposed amalgamation such as that of determining the site of the new capital, etc., these matters being left for officials to report upon. What the Conference had dealt with, and very effectively, in Mr. Huggins' opinion, was the principle of uniting Southern Rhodesia with Northern Rhodesia, and with a constitution on the lines of that of Southern Rhodesia.

Western Ontario Wins In Cheese At The Royal

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 20 (C.P.)—Ontario in general and Western Ontario in particular made a clean-up in the cheese judging at the Royal Winter Fair here to-day. Sweepstakes for the highest scoring cheese in any section went to C. H. Harrison, of Burgessville, Ont., with a total of 96.30 points out of a possible but not probable hundred.

This cheese headed the large size, October white class. The sweepstake prize for the exhibitor scoring the highest number of points in all commercial classes went to the well-known exhibitor, Garnet Bain of Lake Side, who ran up a total of 565.5 points.

Manila, P.I., has started a $1,000,000 city-improvement campaign.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

'Y' LEADER FROM CZECHO-SLOVAKIA ADDRESSES YOUNG LADIES' CLUB

Speaker Gives Her Hearers a Brief Sketch of Her Native Land.

TRAVELLING SECRETARY.

"A position of great importance will soon be offered to you."

Miss Pavla Molnarova came all the way from Prague, capital of Czecho-Slovakia, to have her fortune told in the above words, and she is going back before the New Year breaks over the world to have it implemented.

At least, the little slip that nestled inside a rose-pink horseshoe on the supper table in the Domestic Science room of the Young Women's Christian Association last night, told this charming lady from over the seas that such was the case, and she knows that when she goes back to her home land, she will be appointed as the first travelling secretary of the Y.W.C.A. in Czecho-Slovakia. That is the position of importance that she is looking forward to. She smiled as she read the little slip last night.

The girls of the Thursday Night Supper Club at the "Y" listened with intent interest to Miss Molnarova last night. And, by the way, that "ova" at the end of her name is simply a sign, in her own land, that she is a "Miss", just as Mary Smith in that far-off little republic would be called "Smithova," and the title of "Miss", as we know it, is "Slecna" in Czecho-Slovakian, and it is pronounced "Sletchna."

Miss Molnarova, who received her education in the universities at Vienna and Bohemia, at Oxford and Geneva, won the Dow International scholarship last year. This is given annualy by the Y.W.C.A. in the United States to some foreign woman who has been active in Y.W.C.A. work, and includes courses at Columbia University, the Teachers' College and the Union Theological Seminary, also administrative 'Y' courses.

After the war, having a knowledge of the German, French and English languages, she acted in an editorial capacity on a semi-official daily paper, to translate political news from Czech into French and later performed similar work for the Minister of Foreign Affairs. Later, she was associated with the Czecho-Slovakian Red Cross, and was for five years editor of the Junior Red Cross magazine. Except for a brief stay here in February of this year, this fortnight's visit to Canada is her first glimpse of the Dominion. She sails for her home in the Old Land, next month, and will there assume her duties as the first travelling secretary of the 'Y' in Czecho-Slovakia.

"We are seven" was the watchward of Miss Molnarova's family. Her father, whose father and grandfather were Protestant ministers in her country, was a member of the highest Protestant Council in Czecho-Slovakia. Two of the members are required to be theologians and two doctors of law. Her father represented the latter category in the Council, which was the superior ecclesiastical administrative body of the Protestant Church under the old regime.

One brother is an electrical engineer, making radio his specialty, and another is a bank official and captain in the Army reserve force. Miss Molnarova lives in Prague with two sisters, one who is head of the Nursing department of the Red Cross, and winner of the scholarship to Bedford College, in London, England, and the other an official in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs at Prague. Miss Molnarova, was born in North Bohemia and lived for many years in Vienna.

The city of Pra-hah.

Prague, as we call it, is termed "Pra-hah" by its people. "There they dress just about as you do here. We have the same fashions, that perhaps come more quickly to us from Paris." It has three hundred palaces, residences of the old aristocracy that is now but a memory to this democratic little republic, twelve years young, but over a thousand years old in its history and traditions. One section of the city is medieval, but the other is modern, with straight-line houses and flat roofs, and a beautiful monument to that old Saint Vaclav, the "Good King Wenceslas" of famous memory.

She told her listeners of Bata, the famous manufacturer of shoes, and his little factory city; of the cheap aeroplane travel which makes an aerial trip cost only as much as a second-class train fare; of the Y.W.C.A. seamstresses who make trousseaux of varying costs, in four different qualities, complete with linens and curtains and clothing for the bride; of the peasant women who whitewash the outside and inside of their houses, painting a deep band of gay color on the exterior, near the ground, and adorning the interior with many beautiful floral and bird motifs. These adornments vary with the districts in which the women live and an ethnologist professes that they bear a strong resemblance to ancient Egyptian motifs of the same type.

But the tendency of an industrialized age is to make these women forget their natural arts and one of the endeavors of the Y.W.C.A. is to persuade them to continue with these things, in their painting, their embroideries and their pottery.

Aided by illustrations, Miss Molnarova gave her listeners some idea of the gaily colored dresses of the women of her land, with their bright ribbons, their stiff gold and silver embroideries, their bobbin laces and their many aprons. They pleat their skirts by hand and then confine them under wooden boards for three days, after which the pleats remain forever.

Eighteen Day Diet.

The eighteen day diet would probably find no favor among her countrywomen, as the speaker declared they loved to look stout and wore many, many petticoats under their pleated skirts. The prevailing motif in their embroideries is a round object, and in Protestant countries the chalice is used as a motif also. In Catholic regions, the colors are gayer.

She told her audience a little of the history of her land, which has been likened humorously to a tadpole, with the old kingdom of Bohemia as the head, the provinces of Moravia, Silesia and Slovakia as the body, and Rutherina as the tail. Pointing east and west, it takes two days and a night to traverse its length, but only six hours for its breadth. It contains fourteen millions of people, seventy-five per cent, of whom are Roman Catholics, and a million belong to the seceding Catholic group which broke away from its old allegiance recently, when its proposal to the Pope for the right of its priests to marry and for services in the national language, was refused.

Miss Molnarova spoke of President Masaryk, whose love for his dead American wife, Charlotte Garrigue, is such that he uses her last name as his middle name at all times.

She brought with her little book illustrative of national fetes and customs. Santa Claus does not come at Christmas time to the children of Czecho-Slovakia, but rather on December 6th, and the "Little Jesus" distributed gifts on his own natal day.

On this day too, the boys go about, placing the initials of the three Wise Men on the doorways. Then there is the Lenten masquerade and the burning of the straw witch, as a symbol of winter. And the hiding of the Easter eggs by the girls, while the boys whip them lightly in fun with willow twigs until they reveal the hiding place. And the offerings by the swains of gingerbread hearts to their sweethearts at the fair. And the Thanksgiving days, which alternate according to the harvest, when a goose is always on the table, and little tarts with jam on the top in a round shape.

Miss Molnarova, who leaves the city on Saturday, pleased the girls immensely by her very friendly, sweet manner and her splendid command of English. Her voice is low and sweet and she speaks with charming unaffectedness and simplicity. The thanks of the girls was extended by Miss Mamie Grose, at the conclusion of a bright repast presided over by Miss D. Sherin and featured by decorations in pink, with tiny pink horseshoes enclosing a little fortune for each guest.

THE RETURN OF TARZAN No. 58 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Over Taran's head the shot whirred harmlessly. Before his concealed enemy could fire again, the ape-man had wrested the firearm from him and dragged forth the struggling figure. It was Rokoff, the Russian, alias "Monsieur Thuran." Jane pleaded with Taran to leave the wretch to the laws of France, and so the sailors carried him in irons aboard the cruiser.

But first he was searched and, to Tarzan's delight, the stolen papers were found. A moment later after this excitement had died down, Jane introduced Tarzan to Tennington. "John Clayton, Lord Greystoke, my lord," she said. It required many repetitions of the ape-man's stranze story to convince Lord Tennington that they were not all quite mad.

Late the next afternoon Tarzan and his warriors returned with the first load of his "belongings." When the party saw the ancient ingots of virgin gold, they swarmed about the ape-man with a thousand questions. But Tarzan smilingly refused to give them the slightest clue as to the source of his immense treasure, adding: "There are a thousand that I left oehe

When they had stored this aboard the cruiser, the captain said he felt like the commander of an old-time Spanish galleon returning from the treasure cities of the Aztecs. "I don't know what minute my crew will cut my throat and take over the ship," he laughed. But Taran valued the gold as nothing, compared to the golden-haired girl he had rescued from the golden city.

Glorious Devon Wins Manchester Handicap

VANCOUVER MAN IS TICKET HOLDER ON SECOND HORSE

Winner Carries Over Million Dollars as Prize Money in Sweepstakes.

CALIGNY II SECOND.

MANCHESTER, England, November 22 (C.P.). — Glorious Devon won the Manchester November Handicap to-day, carrying with him more than one million dollars as first prize in the Dublin Hospital Sweepstakes.

Caligny II, whose ticket was drawn by A. P. Dawe, of West Vancouver, finished second. Second prize amounts to $409,520.

Nestorian finished third, carrying with him a prize of $204,565. Twenty-eight horses ran in the race on which sweepstakes prizes of more than $2,500,000 were carried.

FIRST PRIZE SPLIT 3 WAYS.

BELFAST, Nov. 22 —(C.P.)—Matt Prescott, an official in the Ulster Ministry of Agriculture, and two Belfast barkeepers, with whom he went shares, to-day won the first prize of $1,023,820 in the Dublin Hospital Sweepstakes.

Mrs. Thomson, winner of third prize, and the fortune that went with it, is a widow who has lived in the little village of Worksop, England, for twenty-seven years.

Bailey Gets $2,600

A small portion of the $3,250,000 split in the Manchester Handicap came to Peterborough. G. B. Bailey, 339 Downie street, was one of seventy-eight to draw one of the winning tickets for the big fortune. His horse, Sans Espoir was drawn from the race, but still Bailey will be enriched by $2 600 as his share of the more than three millions.

He is a young man, unmarried, and is employed as timekeeper with the T. A. Brown Construction Company here. He did not seem excited, even when there was some prospect of him winning a million dollars, and when it was announced that his prize would be $2,600 in cold cash his customary tranquility was not disturbed. He would not say what he intended to do with the money; in fact he wouldn't say very much of anything.

400 WILD HORSES SENT TO CANNERY

WORTH HALF CENT A POUND.

OLIVER, B.C., Nov 22 (C.P.)—With war whoops and with cayuses plunging and rearing, a large band of Indians under the command of Chief Narcisse Baptiste of the Inkaneep Reserve, descended on this peaceful community, driving before them four hundred wild horses. The animals were loaded in twenty stock cars at Okagan Falls and will comprise a special train over the Kettle Valley Line, destined to Coutts, Alta., from where they will be taken to a horse meat cannery in Montana.

Indian cowboys scoured the hills east of here for several days, rounding up the wild horses. An edict had been issued by Government authorities that unless the horses were got rid of Government officials would destroy them. They have become a menace to the cattle ranges, eating up all the grass.

The price paid the Indians for the horses is said to be one-half a cent a pound, or about $5 per animal.

DO-X May Cross Via South Atlantic

LISBON, Nov. 22 (C.P.).—Dr. Maurice Dornier, brother of the inventor of the DO-X, giant German seaplane, told air officials to-day that because of adverse weather conditions on the North Atlantic, the DO-X might try to reach Brazil by way of Cape Verde Islands and Fernando Noronha.

Claim Home Brew Made in Prison

REGINA, Nov. 22 (C.P.) — Allegations of bootlegging and manufacturing of home brew at the Regina Provincial Jail during the administration of Thomas Hayes as Warden, were made yesterday by one Thomas "Smoky" Johnson before the Royal Commission investigating maladministration charges against the old political regime in Saskatchewan.

The Johnson "declarations" are expected to conclude the commission's investigation.

TRIAL BY JURY NOW PERMITTED IN DIVORCE CASES

Judges of Supreme Court of Ontario Make Three Major Changes.

ISSUE DECREE NISI.

Not Made Absolute For 6 Months—Attorney-General No Longer Defendant in All Actions.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 22 (C.P.) — Three major changes in the conduct of divorce actions were made in the revised rules of procedure passed by the judges of the Supreme Court of Ontario in conference at Osgoode Hall here.

Trial of the action by a jury is the outstanding innovation in the new rules, either party having the right to serve jury notice on the other. At the same time, however, the trial judge may at his discretion decide on non-jury trial when all parties concerned consent.

Issue Decree Nisi

The Attorney-General is no longer a defendant to every action. Instead the trial judge issues a decree nisi which is not made absolute for six months, to give time for the Attorney-General or any other to intervene and show cause for the decree not being made absolute.

The rule concerning the solicitor's affidavit, in which he swore to his belief in the truth of the plaintiff's statements, is deleted. This rule had met with considerable opposition from members of the profession.

Notwithstanding this revision and interpolations, the rules are still thought to leave the questions of alimony and custody of children in doubt as well as the relevance of the Shaw amendment of 1925, which would eliminate any double standard in reasons for judgment.

WESTCLOX PLANT MOST COMPLETE IN EVERY DETAIL

Group of The Examiner Employees is Taken Through Local Factory.

PETERBORO-MADE PRODUCT.

Genuine Admiration and Amazement Expressed at Conclusion of Trip.

Who not having seen watches and clocks in the process of manufacture, could realise the hundreds of delicate and intricate operations, performed by hand and machinery, which go to make up the finished article from which the world demands unerring perfection? Certainly not the little group of Examiner employees and their chief, who were permitted to take a tour of the Western Clock Company's factory on Friday afternoon, through the courtesy of J. H. Vernor, general manager! The whole process, unfolded in progressive stages, left them all in a state of genuine admiration and amazement, at the completeness of the plant and the dexterity of the various operators.

Turning left at the main doors on the ground floor the party was conducted through the stock room, wherein are stored all manner of dies and tools used on the massive blanking presses in the adjoining department.

The steady dull-sounding thud of the presses, intimated that here several more alarm clocks and watches in embryo, which are soon to find a place at the 'world's bedside'.

Long strips of metal, in sheet form fed into the maws of these gigantic presses, were being stamped out into shapes roughly conforming to the design of the finished clock or watch cases. Behind each stroke of the machines was represented a pressure of several hundred tons.

On the particular machine busy on the manufacture of alarm clock cases, it was stated that 30 are drawn each minute.

Throughout the plant, which is unique in it's lighting system, all the machines are equipped with special safety devices, which make it imperative for each operator to have both hands out of danger and employed in releasing the mechanism. Such devices, besides being of inestimable benefit in the elimination of accidents, actually speed up the production.

A visit to the lacquering department disclosed girls industriously applying artistic tints to alarm clock cases, through the medium of compressed air sprayers. For the new pearl tone tint, which is finding so much favour, each case goes through four operations. Believe it or not.

ALEX DARLING OPENS NEW FIELD IN COMMERCIAL PHOTOGRAPHY

Large Generator Not Yet Constructed By C.G.E. is Photographed.

UNIQUE ACHIEVEMENT.

Commercial photography has its tricks and victories, too, although the opportunities for ingenuity and exceptional skill with a camera, and the accruing glory, more generally befall the daring and resourceful artists of the motion picture lot.

In the local commercial field, Alex Darling of The Roy Studio recently made a photograph for the Canadian General Electric Company of a big electric generator that has not yet been constructed, and which at present exists only in the minds and plans of the engineer who designed it. For all practical purposes this photograph, or rather series of them, is as true a pictorial representation of the C.G.E. machine in its final form and appearance, as if it were taken when the machine is eventually set up and developing electricity in the new power plant of the Beauharnois Light, Heat and Power Company on the St. Lawrence River.

40 Feet in Diameter

This genator will be forty feet in its outside diameter, and will be erected with its axis vertical. Its armature and revolving field will be laid in a horizontal plane, and the generator will ultimately be securely embedded in the concrete floor of the Beauharnois power house. The mooring of this machine must needs be secure for it weighs more than

Aged Man Suicides Under Moving Train

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 22 (C.P.). —Leaping under the wheels of a moving passenger coach and placing his head on the rails in the Canadian Pacific yards a short distance east of English Street at 11.17 o'clock, a man identified as William Ward, aged about 70 years, who resided at the home of W. G. Jeffries, committed suicide, while a yard foreman, who had twice pulled him to safety, was forced to stand aside and watch the man killed.

EATON STORES ARE OPEN UNTIL 9.30 P.M. SATURDAY

As a further extension of service to the shopping public, the Canadian Department Stores will keep open for business until 9.30 on Saturday evenings, until further notice.

The news will come as welcome intelligence to a large percentage of the population, as it will permit them to make a leisurely and discriminating choice of the many bargains in high-class merchandise which these stores are showing continually.

With the approach of the Christmas shopping period also, the volume of customers will be considerably swelled, thus the new closing hour will react to the benefit of the store employees.

THREE MEMBERS ARE ELECTED TO SCHOOL BOARD

One of Liveliest Nomination Meetings in Town History Held in Lindsay.

MUCH HECKLING.

S. Alcorn, a Retired Banker, to Oppose Stewart For Mayoralty.

LINDSAY, Ont., Nov. 22 (Special to The Examiner).—One of the liveliest nomination meetings in the history of the town was held last night in the Town Hall to nominate candidates for the different departments of the municipal government. The hall was packed to suffocation and many were turned away. During the past few weeks nothing was talked of but the coming municipal contest. Private meetings were held by certain elements in the community for the purpose of preparing slates, while street corner debates on matters municipal were ordinary occurrences.

There was a tendency to heckle and interrupt at last night's meeting both the members of the retiring council as well as the aspirants for municipal honors. Some sixty-seven candidates were nominated during the evening. Three members of the school board were elected by acclamation: Messrs. R. Lamb, Ernie Anderson and W. J. Carlisle. S. Alcorn, a retired banker, threw his hat into the ring i nopposition to Mayor Stewart, who is seeking a second term. The elections will be held on Monday, December 1.

GREAT LANDSLIDE WRECKS TRAIN

12 PASSENGERS HURT.

NANATIS France, Nov. 22. (CP)—A landslide not unlike that on the Fourviere Hill at Llyons last week was what caused the wreck in which 12 passengers were injured last night.

It was believed at first that heavy rains had undermined the tracks but engineers said to-day that a hill along the right of way crumbled as the train passed, sweeping the locomotive and two passenger coaches into the River Loire.

Railroad officials had anticipated just such an accident, but the guard stationed at the foot of the hill was buried in the landslide before the could warn the train. He was rescued.

PORT VENDRES, France, Nov. 22.—(CP)—A number of ships, hobbled by fog, are searching the sea hereabout for traces of a Barcelona-Marseilles Italian airplane which has been missing since early yesterday morning.

The plane, which was in mail and passenger service, carried a crew of five and two passengers, it left Barcelona yesterday morning but was not sighted after passing Cape de Crus. At 9:40 a.m. a fishing smack arriving at Port Vendres reported hearing the sound of motors overhead at noon yesterday thirty miles off Cap Luc. OUTWEIGHED ALONG THE LINE COLLEGIATE SQUAD PUTS UP GREAT BATTLE IN RUGBY GAME

At End of First Quarter Locals Were Leading Ten to Five.

BIG CROWD SEES GAME.

Hamilton Gained Lead in Second Quarter With Nice Touchdown.

Peterborough's Collegiate gallant Garnet and Grey rugby team was eliminated from Ontario Intercholastic O.R.F.U. race at James Stevenson Park this afternoon, losing to Hamilton Delta Collegiate by 24 points to 11.

The light P.C.I. squad pitted against the heavy Delta team, champions of Hamilton and conquerors of St. Michael's, battled their way courageously. Nervousness was noticeable in P.C.I.'s play at the start but they quickly overcame it. They gave a sterling display and although beaten by a stronger team, earned plaudits by their brilliant and tenacious efforts.

A large crowd lined the gridiron at James Stevenson Park to watch P. C. I.'s gallant team clash with the strong Hamilton Delta Collegiate squad. Delta fielded a team of huskies that outweighed the Garnet and Grey all along the line, but P. C. I. are pinned their hopes on trick plays, speed and aggressiveness.

A westerly wind blew three-quarterly across the field, giving the team with the wind at their backs a considerable advantage in an aerial attack.

Both squads were at full strength for the fray.

Hamilton Delta.—Mack, Downs, Hutton, Elliott, Irwin, Overnesser, Dunn, Reid.

Referee.—Hall De Gruchy of Toronto.

Umpire—Lindsay, of Peterborough.

Delta kicked off with P.C.I. having the wind advantage. Young allowed the kick-off to get away from him, Hamilton regaining the ball on P.C.I.'s 30-yard line. It was stage fright that caused Young to drop the ball, since no one tackled him as he was running it back. From there the Hamiltons plunged on straight down for a touchdown. Delta, 5.

After the kick-off Hamilton dropped the ball, and P.C.I. gained possession on Hamilton's 35-yard line. They made gains, and were in a fair way for a major score when nervousness caused them to fumble. Isbister's kick was short, Preston nabbing it at centre. P.C.I. launched several big gain extends with snappy passing. Dunkerly slipped through the line for a big fifteen-yard run and a touchdown. This tied the score, both tries being accomplished in the first five minutes of the game.

To start P.C.I. off another attack Young reeled off a gain of 20 yards. Plunges by Preston and Armstrong took play to Hamilton's 25-yard line. Young's attempted field goal was wide. P.C.I. held Hamilton for three downs and gained possession on Hamilton's 20-yard line. Young tore around the end and was downed only 8 yards from the touch line. Young crashed through centre on a trick play for another touchdown.

The score: P.C.I. 10, Delta 5.

P.C.I. failed to gain but Armstrong booted to Hamilton's 40-yard line. Hamilton unloosened a steamroller attack that gained them yards three times, and then Isbister lifted a gigantic boot for a rouge. P.C.I. 10, Delta 6.

Dunkerly was knocked out by a high tackle, but stayed in the game. Armstrong's beautiful kick put play again deep in Hamilton's territory.

Quarter time came with Hamilton in possession on their own 15-yard line.

TIGERS DEFEAT QUEEN'S 8-3

BITTER STRUGGLE.

VARSITY STADIUM, Toronto, Nov. 22. (CP)—Two of Eastern Canada's best clashed here this afternoon in the first of the Canadian Rugby Union playdowns and the right to meet Balmy Beach, Ontario Rugby football senior champions in the Eastern Canada final.

The opponents, Hamilton Tigers, "Big Four" champions, and Queen's University, Intercollegiate Union titleholders, found ideal football conditions prevailing when they trotted out on the gridiron for a preliminary workout.

A sharp westerly wind added an invigorating touch to the atmosphere and brought out fans in fur coats and other heavy winter apparel. The wind, however, should not affect the play of either team, blowing straight across the field.

Queens at full strength and full of confidence, appeared on the field in bright uniforms. The crowd was late in arriving. Just at same time, hundreds of Tiger supporters, gaily bedecked with yellow and black ribbons and mums, arrived on the field and occupied blocks in the stands and bleachers.

Tri-color supporters were scattered throughout the oval, but there were a large number present sporting the familiar, red, yellow and blue.

There were about 10,000 fans in the stands when the teams lined up.

First Quarter

Tigers won the toss and Carter kicked off to Wright, who returned to Gilmore on Queen's 50.

Following a kicking exchange Queen's broke through to block Wright's kick and got possession on Tiger's 25. Gilmore tried a drop but Tigers blocked the kick.

Queen's kept possession after the blocked kick and Gilmore tried another placement after the yardsticks had been moved by gains through the line. Gilmore's effort was wide, but went to the deadline for a single and the first point of the game.

Queen's continued to hold the upper hand and the penalties for offside to

WEIR PROMISES FURTHER HELP

Will Leave No Stone Unturned Till Agricultural Research Department Started.

MACHINERY IN EXISTENCE.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 22. (CP)—"We will leave no stone unturned to create a Department of Agricultural research" said Hon. Robert Weir Minister of Agriculture for Canada, in an address to the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists last night.

"We farmers" said Mr. Weir, "expect you fieldmen to get from scientists the solution of our problems and put that solution into our language and bring to us. For you to do this with any degree of efficiency, you must have the confidence of the farmer."

Mr. Weir stated the machinery was in existence through district representatives and other instruments whereby this information can be disseminated in an understandable form to the farmers.

"This brings before us another point" proceeded Mr. Weir, "that having this machinery brought into being that can do the work I have outlined and at the same time bring back to our scientists new problems to solve it is very essential, to make use of it to the full and prevent wastage. We will leave no stone unturned to create a department of agricultural research in the truest sense of the term that will give this other machinery as quickly as possible and as accurately as possible these new ideas and solutions that are in turn their instruments."

"I realize here that I may be treading on dangerous ground" continued Mr. Weir. "That there are those who believe that to prevent overlapping all research work should be done in one National Research Institute, as, might I say, pure research.

"However, I believe in spite of this, we realize in the realm of research work in agriculture that it will chiefly be to the gain of this research work if the man carrying out the research work has a background of the farm" stated the minister.

The lighter Resolute and two tugs, the L. C. Sabin and the Alabama, of the Thompson Towing and Wrecking Company, were sent to the stranded vessel. The captain of the steamer John Ericson, passing upbound yesterday through the locks, said when he passed the spot where the Clarke was he could barely make out the boat. He said that he could see a barge or a tug standing alongside the bessel. The captain said that side the vessel. The captain said that far as he could make out. The Ericson passed by Sweets Point early yesterday. The E. A. S. Clarke is 540 feet long with a 56-foot beam and of 5,750 gross tonnage.

Stormy weather appears ahead for vessels in this vicinity, according to warnings issue here. Northwest storm warnings are being hoisted at Whitefish Point and southwest storm warnings are being displayed at the United States Weather Bureau station. STORY TOLD POLICE.

WINDSOR, Nov. 22 (C.P.)—Instead of being in the United States to-day as he expected to, Charles Dedecker is minus $170 and feeling the effects of a plunge in the Detroit River.

Dedecker, a Belgian, has been in Canada since January last and arrived in Windsor yesterday from Montreal. He wanted to get to friends in Chicago and struck up an acquaintance with a chap in a pool room. Through him, he made arrangements to be taken across the river last night. He paid $150.00 for the trip. Instead of going across the river, the two men who were conducting the tour put the rowboat into a slip dock, took $170 away from Dedecker, he says, at the point of a revolver and then threw him into the river. The men landed the boat and ran away. Dedecker managed to get ashore and was taken to the Sandwich police station, where he told his story and was given dry clothes.

ONTARIO NEEDS PREMIER HOME

Party Followers Claim it Would Be Blow if Ferguson Went to London.

HAS QUALIFICATIONS.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov 22. —(CP)—Prominent Conservatives of Ontario while agreeing Premier G. Howard Ferguson is highly capable of filling the post of Canadian High Commissioner in London, have expressed the belief that the Ontario Conservative leader would do a greater service to Ontario and the Dominion by remaining at his present post.

"His record shows he can fill any position that requires in addition to ability, initiative and good judgment," said Hon. W. H. Price, Attorney-General for Ontario. "Personally I would hate to see him go to London."

Dr. James Moore, former president of the Ontario south Conservative Association felt Mr. Ferguson has "bigger work to do right here in the Province. If Premier Ferguson accepts the post in London it will be the sorriest thing that could happen to the Province of Ontario," he said.

In the opinion of Garrett Tyrrill, secretary of the Toronto Conservative Association, the Province can ill afford to lost Mr. Ferguson. Other Conservative leaders expressed similar opinions though granting he would be a success as high commissioner.

The problem is to add together all of the numbers shown above. Each figure is clearly indicated, and they run from two to nine; the nines have a curved stem; the nines a straight stem; all are single numbers, there are no combinations; add them as if each figure stood one above the other in a single column. Every figure in the picture is complete. If in doubt about any of the figures, send in the chart with a figure marked, to the contest department, which will gladly tell you what it is.

LET me make a confession! And, if it be true that an honest confession is good for the soul, I ought to feel better in a moment or two.

I confess that it is hard for me to say no to a woman or to a child. When it comes to saying no to a mere man I can do it without any difficulty; and when I have spoken he is not left in any doubt as to my meaning. He knows that "I don't mean maybe." But when the person is a woman or a baarn, the case takes on an entirely different complexion.

There are those who say that when a woman or a child is normal they are just naturally inquisitive. Bachelors may be in a state of blissful ignorance regarding such matters, but with married men the case is different.

Let a married man stay out beyond the time when the cat and the milk bottles are put out for the night—without first having told his wife where he is going and when he is likely to get home again—and he will get what he richly deserves—the matrimonial third degree!

I care not how clever a lawyer may be, no lawyer can equal a woman at cross-examination when the person in the witness-box is a time-forgetting, family-forsaking and wife-neglecting husband.

With men the case is entirely different! Men are not inquisitive (!) Their wives or sisters can stay out all night without causing the slightest concern to the man. He will go to bed and sleep the sleep of the ignorant and the indifferent. And if the woman should get home in time for breakfast he will say, "Good morning, dear! You look lovely! I hope you had a glorious time and lost nothing but your sleep. Please don't trouble to explain what kept you away—it is not any of my business anyway. Put a card on the handle of the front door saying 'Don't disturb,' silence the telephone bell, put yourself to bed and preserve that schoolgirl complexion."

WHO IS JOHN PLANE?

Within the past few days several members of this community, all of them being women, have tried to find out from me who John Plane is.

When I told John, he warned me to be careful and not disclose his identity. He said, "Let them ask what they will, and let them think what they will, but don't give anything away that would let them know who I am."

"Never fear!" I said, "remember where I was born, and in this matter be comforted by the knowledge that I am going to run true to form."

"John," I said, "we have often wondered whether many or any read the stuff we have the temerity to put in cold type! Well, I am sure you will be interested to learn that some very flattering compliments have come our way recently. That little talk we had on giving us the flowers when we are here to see and appreciate them has stirred things up a bit. I hope it will do good to a great many people who ought to get more encouragement than is usually handed out to them."

A LEGAL LIGHT.

The other night I was greeted by one of the leading legal lights in our city. He is a man with a fine presence and a glorious speaking voice. I have listened to him more than once with pleasure and with profit. Indeed I could listen with pleasure to him even though he were only reciting some classic like "Old Mother Hubbard."

"I was glad that it was dark when he spoke to me—for then he could not see my blushes. What he said then must not be repeated here. John, if you had been with me I am sure you would have had pleasant dreams that night. I think I went on my way feeling an inch or two taller.

"John, there is one thing about American congregations that might well be copied by Canadians, because of the amount of good that it would do to both the pulpit and the pew. At the close of the service a large proportion of the American congregation will come forward and greet the minister, expressing appreciation for help received—and it is a poor sermon that does not have something in it to help somebody!—but in Canada we leave the minister severely alone and keep far enough away from him to convey the suggestion that he might have small-pox or some other terrible disease! Let's mend our ways and hand him the flowers while he is alive. It will have a reflex action for good."

A PHILOSOPHER.

Sam Jones, on one glorious occasion, when treating a great assembly to a medley of philosophy, facts and fun, said:

"Philosophy furnishes to us the rules by which we do the best possible thing, in the best possible way, at the best possible time. The man who knows just what to do, and when to do, and then how to do the best thing to be done, is a philosopher!" Then, with a twinkle in those deep-set eyes of his, he added, "Of course, that sort of a fellow would feel lonesome in a crowd. That was a description of a philosopher."

Judged by that description I know that John Plane is a philosopher. And it is far more important to know what a man is than to know who he is. The latter has mostly to do with a label, while the former has to do with the life!

NO NEED FOR PESSIMISM.

When I saw John Plane last he said that some of the church papers gave him a fit of the blues. They all seemed so pessimistic! You might be pardoned for thinking — after a reading of some of the material which appears in religious periodicals—that not only the world but also the Church is going helter-skelter to the devil! It is quite freely stated that the Church has lost, and that her message fails to grip men's hearts.

There is no need for pessimism, however, although the most optimistic recognize a great challenge in the present situation.

One source of weakness in some preaching to-day is the substitution of philosophical speculations and moral theorizings for the preaching of Jesus Christ and Him crucified.

The great fundamental need of men is deliverance from the penalty and power of sin. Sin is not an unreality. Its awful ravages in human experience are too painfully manifest. No program which deals with mere externals will meet this dire need. Satisfaction can only be obtained through the redemptive work of Jesus Christ. The preaching of the Cross is God's dynamic by which many of the hardest hearts are broken, emotions stirred, and wills surrendered to the highest ends. History reveals that the mightiest conquests of the Church have centred in the preaching of the Cross. In these days of change and unrest love still has a supreme appeal. The Cross reveals the majesty of divine love. It shows us God in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself.

CANCELLED AND NAILED

Among the Orientals there is a beautiful custom that tells the story of Christ's atonement on the Cross very clearly.

When a debt has to be settled, either by full payment or forgiveness, it is the custom for the creditor to take the cancelled bond and nail it over the door of him that owed it, that all passers-by might see that it was paid.

O, blessed story of our remission! There is the Cross, behind which a bankrupt world lies in hopeless debt to the law. See Jesus, our Surety, coming forth with a long list of our indebtedness in His hand. He lifts it up where God and angels and men may see it, and then as the nail goes through His hand, it goes through the bond of our transgressions to cancel it, for ever blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us. "He took it out of the way, nailing it to His cross," Col. 2:14.

Why doesn't the Church, through those who have been called to be witnesses, say:

O, sinner! you cannot wash out your sins by tears, or atone for them by good works, but come see Jesus at Calvary, and see God turning His eyes to the same cross at which you are looking, and saying: "I, even I, am He that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins."

COMFORTED TO COMFORT.

It was my privilege to know the late Dr. Jowett, that prince of preachers, and from him I once got what I now relate.

On one occasion he was present at a meeting in New York, when one of the speakers, a great scholar and a brave and chivalrous gentleman, referred to the great sacrifices made by the British in defence of their holy cause. This man referred to the mother of one of his own students, whose son had been killed, and he told how he visited her in her sorrow.

"But," he said, in a sort of parenthesis, "I wasn't able to comfort her much, for I had not then lost my own boys!"

It was the unveiling, not only of the speaker's own heart, and his own springs of consolation, but it was also the unveiling of the heart of the apostle Paul, and of Paul when he was writing the words, "Who comforteth us in all our afflictions that we may be able to comfort."

TRAVELLING DARK ROADS.

The apostle had travelled over hard and disappointing roads. Again and again his purposes seemed to be defeated. He had long spells of apparently wasted seasons. He was afflicted in body, and mind, and soul! And yet, on those dark roads he began to make bright discoveries. Perhaps the discovery was a new interpretation of yesterday. Yesterday disclosed itself in a revelation of unsuspected significance. The looking back brought him a secret of divine providence. He found new honey in an old hive! Sometimes the new discovery is some new apprehension of the Divine Presence. "He appeared unto them in another form" as they journeyed to Emmaus. The two disciples were treading a very dark and sorrowful road. Their light had gone out in Jerusalem. The grim cross on their sky-line was the symbol of their slaughtered hopes. And now the Lord, whom they had seemingly lost, appeared to them in another and unfamiliar form. And we know the fruit of the Companionship. There was the opening word! There was the burning heart! And there was the new assurance! "They knew Him."

SOME NEW DISCOVERY.

Perhaps the new discovery is some hitherto unnoticed promise stretching out its hand from the mist-hidden and unknown morrow—a strong, generous, friendly hand. Or perhaps it is some contemplation of the Lord which is the minister of comfort, not merely a minister of soothing, but also of strength, of bread as well as rest. The divine comfort may come to the afflicted soul in one of a hundred different ways, but in every way it becomes endowed with the treasures of darkness.

And this comfort is purposed to make us comforters. We are comforted in order that we may comfort others. That is the Christian issue. The water which we discover in our souls as a well is to spring up and overflow in rivers of ministering grace. The comforted disciple is to be a comforting apostle. Indeed, the comfort which is not shared loses its strength. There are some things which have to be kept or locked up if their sweetness is to be preserved. But it is not so with the divine comfort. It turns sour unless it is opened out in bounteous ministry. Every gift of God is sealed with obligation. Every spiritual experience is a call to corresponding service. "That which ye hear in the ear, proclaim upon the housetops." "Go ye out in the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

May these chips and shavings bring a little warmth and good cheer to all who read this page.

Sincerely yours,

Allan Fairbairn.

The Hour Of Prayer

DEAR LORD, we all must follow Thee along the lonely way, and in the silent wilderness be arbiter of fate. But we lose heart and strength, and often stop to play with beasts that grovel at our feet while angels wait our lifted eyes. Teach Thou our hands to war, our souls to win, that we may make a heaven of hell, may wrest some blessing from each curse, and to the struggling hosts of good give all the aid our wills can bring to make their conquest sure.

This we ask in the name of our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Search and See

I thought, and prayed, and wondered as I thought,
Might I not have, like those of long ago,
Some glimpse, as in a sudden sunbeam caught,
Of Christ, the Master, passing to and fro?
And as I prayed, it seemed the vision came.
The Master looked upon me, grave and sweet;
And I, in mingled ravishment and shame,
Bent my bold eyes, all lowly, to His feet.
"And would'st thou see me?" graciously He said;
"Thou hast the picture; thou mayst always see;
Search thou the Scriptures thou hast always read,
For they are they that testify of me."

HOW ABOUT IT ?

ALL high happiness has in it some element of love; all love contains a desire for peace. One immediate effect of new happiness is to make us turn toward the past with a wish to straighten out its difficulties, heal its breaches and forgive its wrongs.

Italian Proverbs

The Proverbs of a nation are not only an epitome of its wisdom, but crystallise for us much of its national temperament and popular habits of thought.

How To Read

I do not know half a dozen people in the world who can read. They go on so slowly, or if they make speed they miss pages. You can train your eyes in such a way that almost at a glance they will take in a printed page, and this will give ample leisure for reading everything.

HANDFULS OF PURPOSE

"Jacob took the stone he had for his pillow, and set it up for a pillar."—Gen. 28:18.

• • •

THE son of Abraham and of Isaac was not altogether reprobate. Blood and breeding were bound to tell. There was no rebellious whine on that first night away from home. Before he laid him down, Jacob himself raised the ladder that the angels travelled while he slept, a ladder of contentment, a ladder of thanksgiving, a ladder of confident faith in the Ever-Kind. Ere he slept he had converted a stone into a pillow, so 'twas easy when he waked to lay the foundation of a temple. He sensed the obligation of his comfort; he followed the logic of Providence; he gave to others what he had found, gave it enriched with his own experience and enobled with his own touch. The rare man sees sermons in stones, but for the multitude he must replace the cairn with a cathedral.

Guilt Of The Crucifixon

OH, brethren! the actual murderers are not the worst criminals, though their deed be the worst, considered in the light of itself. Those Roman soldiers who nailed His hands to the cross, and went back to their barracks that night, quite comfortable and unconscious that they had been doing anything but their routine duty, were innocent and white-handed compared with the men and women among us who with the additional evidence of the cross, and the empty grave, and the throne in the heavens, and the Christian Church, still stand aloof and say, "We see no beauty in Him that we should desire Him." Take care lest your attitude to Jesus Christ bring the level of your criminality close up to that high-water mark, or carry it even beyond it, for it is possible to "crucify the Son of God afresh," and they who do so have the greater guilt.

Love Never Faileth

IT never goes out of fashion. It is never cast aside like an antiquated robe. It is fit and beautiful in every time and season. It adds some light to the light of childhood. It adorns life's prime. It beautifies old age. It is a lovely garment that moth and rust can never consume and that death itself can never destroy. We may take it with us through "the valley of the shadow," and we may wear it on the resurrection morning. It is always in fashion. "Love never faileth."

—Dr. Jowett.

FURTHER PROSECUTIONS.

While many people will agree with the Globe that Hon. W. H. Price has had to be "prodded" into doing his duty, there will be general satisfaction over the announcement that the Attorney-General has decided to lay new charges against Messrs. Solloway and Mills, who are to face trial on charges of conspiracy and of conspiracy to commit theft.

There is nothing vindictive in the feeling that is now being expressed throughout the Province that it would have been a serious miscarriage of justice had the wealthy brokers who pleaded guilty on grave charges been allowed to escape with a fine while others convicted of the same offenses were punished by being sentenced to the penitentiary.

The Attorney-General has issued a long statement in explanation of his decision not to appeal against the sentence imposed in the Solloway and Mills cases and of his reasons for preferring to press new charges.

It may, or may not convince those who have been charging Mr. Price with being derelict in his duty, but the majority of people are not concerned so much over the course to be followed as they are with knowing that action is being taken to vindicate the prestige of law enforcement in this Province and to ensure something like uniform treatment for all those accused of similar offences.

THAT LONDON APPOINTMENT.

On the theory that where there is so much smoke there must be some fire, it is rather generally believed that Premier Ferguson will accept the appointment that has been offered him and become the Canadian High Commissioner in London, although he himself has made no definite statement as to his intentions.

There is a wide difference of opinion as to whether or not Ontario's Premier should abandon his responsible duties in this Province to accept the London post that is being urged upon him.

If, of course, Mr. Ferguson believes that his long public service in Ontario entitles him to a position of less strenuous activity and looks upon the task of representing Canada in the Old Country in such a light, there can be no logical objection to his going to London.

But if, on the other hand, he is endeavoring to decide in which capacity he can be of most service to his home Province, there are many people who believe the Premier can be of more value to his fellow Canadians by remaining on the job in Ontario than transferring his energy, enthusiasm and administrative ability to a position where after all there is much less scope for such qualities.

Politics in Ontario, even his political foes will readily admit, would be decidedly drab with the personality of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson removed from the field.

His departure would be a loss to Ontario in more ways than one.

BUY AT HOME.

Mayor Denne's appeal to Peterborough citizens to confine their buying to Peterborough firms is something that should not be lightly disregarded.

No matter what economic conditions may prevail the wisdom of home buying should be readily apparent, and at a time like this when the strain of a period of depression is being felt, failure of the home consumer to come to the rescue of the home producer, manufacturer or retailer, as the case may be, is a suicidal policy.

So far as is possible Peterborough people should seek to buy articles that are produced or made in Peterborough, and they should patronize Peterborough stores for the things they require.

Every dollar sent out of town for commodities that could be purchased here is a dollar's worth of buying power shifted out of this community, is a dollar taken out of useful circulation here, and as a dead loss so far as holding business or industry in Peterborough is concerned.

There is no reason for buying out of town in a period like this—or at any other time for that matter—there is no sense in it and certainly there is no profit in it in the long run.

Price and quality conditions here stand comparison with those anywhere, there is the added advantage of dealing with people you know, and more important of all, the money spent at home keeps the wheels of business and of industry going.

Buy in Peterborough and you will be materially aiding the return of prosperity.

A FINE INDUSTRY.

At a time like this when manufacturing is more or less curtailed because of economic conditions, Peterborough has every reason to be thankful for such industries as the Western Clock Company whose splendid plant continues to operate at almost boom-time capacity and to give employment to some 225 local workers.

Far too few Peterborough citizens have taken enough interest in this fine industry to inspect the company's most modern plant, which in point of lighting, ventilation, safety devices and the general comfort of its working conditions should be one of the city's show-places.

Few factory buildings in this country equal the Western Clock plant either in the efficiency with which it operates or in the care that has been taken in every direction to ensure both the comfort and the safety of its employees.

It was indeed a fortunate day for Peterborough when this progressive concern decided to establish its Canadian branch here, and its rapid growth from a room or two in the Barrie building with a handful of employees to the present most completely equipped and intelligently designed plant forms one of the romances of Peterborough's business history.

The Western Clock Company is almost entirely staffed by Peterborough workers, who have been trained in their work here, and it is worthy of note, too, that the lion's share of all the parts entering into the manufacture of the Westclox brand of watches and alarm clocks are made in Peterborough.

Is the 1931 census going to find Premier Ferguson missing from Canada?

PREJUDICE TO FINGERPRINTING.

The suggestion has been made in Toronto that men who drive taxi-cabs there should be fingerprinted when taking out their license for the year. Of course, there is objection to that. The Peterborough Examiner voices it as follows:

"Fingerprinting is a process reserved for criminals, and to ask citizens whose record is free of crime to submit to such an operation is an insult."

As we look at things to-day, it must be admitted there is considerable force to the argument of The Examiner. The reason is that fingerprinting has been left in the hands of the police, and it has usually to do with individuals wanted by the authorities.

There is no particular reason why fingerprinting should be left in this condition. The time will come when it will be looked upon as a scientific method of identification, the most accurate that can be devised.

How many weeks go by without there being a story in the papers about some unidentified man being killed, or being found on the side of the road? There are frequently cases where people suffer from amnesia; it is difficult to identify them or find relatives. We dare say that with a national system of fingerprinting, under the direction of a department at Ottawa, there would hardly ever be such a case occur.

Also it would put an end to people traveling under various names for any length of time, because suspicion could readily be followed by detection.

The method of taking fingerprints is simple enough, and once taken, the identity of that person can be readily established on a moment's notice due to the method of classification employed.

All this may be a little ahead of the time yet, but it will come. The objection to the plan arises from the fact that fingerprinting has been left entirely in the hands of the police. Some day it will be used and operated by the Bureau of Identification at Ottawa, and we will then realize what a remarkable thing we have brought to pass.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

MR. WEIR'S CAREER.

When so much is being said about the unenviable plight of the farmers, it is refreshing, says the Brockville Recorder and Times, to read about one farmer who, starting with only $1,300 eight years ago, has achieved a degree of success so astounding that it has not only made him wealthy but, in addition, has achieved for him a Cabinet seat in the Dominion Government. The Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, is that man, and his story, as related in the current number of MacLean's Magazine, shows what can be accomplished when a highly trained mind is directed upon the problems of farming. Says M. Grattan O'Leary, author of the article:

"In 1921, Weir, overworking, broke down in health. The doctors told him he must give up his white-collar job, he had been an actuary for an insurance company and later a school inspector—and get out into the open—farm or ranch. Weir, then forty years of age, abandoned the career for which he had prepared himself, got together $1,300, bought a weedy quarter section in Northern Saskatchewan in the triangle formed by the Saskatchewan and Carrot Rivers, began life anew.

"Eight years of farming have brought him astonishing success. To-day he is a wealthy agriculturist. The original quarter section of 160 acres has grown to Hereford Park, a farm of 1,120 acres, and the Weir stock carries off blue ribbons in Western Canada's fairs. The Weir horses taken down the money on a score of race tracks. Weir applied to agriculture the trained mind of the actuary, of the scientist. By study, by mastery of the science of agriculture and live-stock breeding, he turned his acres into a farm laboratory—a laboratory which brings him large dividends in years when farming is unprofitable.

"Agriculture in 1921-22 was passing through one of its worst depressions; pure-bred horses, supposed to be giving way on western farms to combines and tractors, could be bought at bottom prices. Weir bought them, proved that they are as hardy as scrub horses, made them yield him rich profits. Last spring, for example, he plowed 230 acres with a pure-bred four-horse team, then won blue ribbons with three of them at Edmonton, Calgary and Saskatoon. In 1922 he bought a pure-bred mare for $225. In 1929 her progeny won $3,000 in cash prizes on the fair circuits. Two of Weir's geldings were unbeaten on the tracks.

"His farm is unique—unique for the West. He owns registered Plymouth Rocks, Shropshire sheep, Berkshire swine. They told him that Shropshire sheep would not thrive in Northern Saskatchewan. Weir proved they were wrong. He increased his original flock to 100 head and made them net him a fat dividend cheque annually. And so with Berkshire swine.

"Weir has been a breaker of agricultural images, of precedents. He has produced Gopher oats so promising that experts believe it will supplant the well-known Banner variety. He has evolved a yellow-flowered alfalfa so hardy and thick-cropped that it may end the reign of sweet clover. He is, in short, the sort of successful western farmer who can make a good profit with wheat at a dollar or less, with beef at six cents; the kind who has won success and held it when the prairies were feeling the hardest pinch within a decade. There are those who point to Hereford Park as a model farm, as the answer to many problems which beset western agriculture to-day.

"What contribution will such a man make to the ills of Canadian agriculture? Thus far, at this time of writing, he has given no statement of policy, revealed no plan of campaign. He has, however, shown something of his vigor. Within a week of accepting office he attacked the problem of opening the British market to Canadian cattle. He went after a $15 ocean rate; is said to have got it. For the first time in three years, at all events, Canadian cattle moved through Atlantic ports for the British markets. Weir aims to ship 15,000 head this year."

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Surprise is expressed by the Globe at the few members of Parliament who have voiced their views on a fixed price for wheat. But how can the rank and file know what it thinks until the leaders have given them a cue.

The growing unfavorable trade balance with Russia is a matter that should worry the British Government, but judging from Mr. Snowden's speeches apparently doesn't.

Ontario leads the Dominion in the number of radio licenses issued. Another proof that this is the banner Province of the Dominion.

Even the possibilities of better trade arrangements with France do not justify Mr. Bennett's remaining any longer in Europe. With conditions in Canada as they are, he is needed at home.

News of Our Own Village

Your scribe aint had nothing from village hunters as yet, but a few tall stories which can't be cashed in at meal times, we hasten to add.

This was vegetable and fish week in the village, but so far the stores aint hadda put on a extra staff of clerks to take care of the rush, according to reports collected by your bustlin' scribe.

Ernie Mason's grocery stores was bust into twice this week, once by a horseless carriage and once by a bandit, but otherwise business is about as usual.

A bunch of students from Queen's, Kingston, east of here, bussed into the village Wed. to give the new buildings at the edison works the once over. Interviewed by your scribe they finally admitted Queen's has a good football team this season.

Reports from east of us says Doc Embury has got a new wharf lined up for Birdsall's but don't say whether they expect boats or seaplanes to use the same.

The Edison works had open house for the villagers Sat. afternoon, but your scribe aint been able to learn as yet who poured the tea and who cut the ices for the same.

Charlie Lacheur, our capable postmaster, has had a piece in the papers warning folks to hustle up their Christmas mail which makes it look like it won't be long now.

Cubby Hagerman, our dashing delicatessener, says that if the Govt. at Ottawa, east of here, fixes the price of wheat it oughta do the same for hot dogs and spare ribs, which is a reasonable request, say we.

Ike McNabb is in Chicago, west of here, attending a Kiwanis convention in that town, but no uneasiness is felt, owing to Ike wearing a bullet proof vest and promising to walk in the middle of the road after dark.

A horseshoe tournament is billed for Lakefield, north of us, next week, another evidence that Doc Kennedy's town simply can't be kept off of the sporting map.

Sandy MacTavish is so busy these days trying to count the coins in a jeweller's window he can't figger out how he's to get in on the free biscuits a Main St. grocer advertised to be give away.

A peddler tried to sell Sir Henry Drayton's filling station in the village one of them "Do your Christmas shopping early" and he oughta be outa hospital any day now.

SECTION MEN LAYING HEAVY STEEL RAILS

HAVELOCK, Nov. 22 (Examiner Correspondence).—An extra gang of two hundred and fifty men employed laying new steel between Havelock and Sharbot Lake, is rushing the work forward at the rate of four miles per day. This 100-pound steel is replacing the old tracks of 85-pound steel, to take care of the added weight of the new engines which are now being used over this division. The new type engines are known as the P.1 and the M.3 models. They haul a load of three thousand tons, and as a result of the innovation two trains carry the tonnage formerly carried by three and even four engines. All trains travelling over this division at present have slow orders over the area where men are at work, and so there is no change in schedule, and all trains are running as usual. It is expected that the work will be completed by the end of the present week, or early next week.

TRENT RIVER

A meeting of the stockholders and patrons of Woodlands Cheese and Butter Company will be held in the factory on Tuesday, December 2, 1930, at 1.30, for the transaction of general business.

Considerable blasting is being done on the Athletic Park Grounds to remove the large stones.

Mr. Melville Wight has been back to the north country deer hunting with Messrs. Frank and Ross Pollock at Trout Lake.

Citizens Invited To Inspect Windows

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—As a means of familiarizing themselves with the wide choice of Ontario grown products available in Peterborough retail grocery, fruit and meat stores, citizens are invited to inspect the windows of the various stores entered in the window dressing competition extending over this week-end. A list of the entrants is being published in The Examiner.

The lesson to be taken from the display this week of Ontario-grown farm products and produce is that we should buy them for the very good reason that increased purchasing of these will result in increased buying power among the farmers of the county, which will be followed by better business for Peterborough merchants and increased orders for Peterborough and Ontario factories; in short, more work, and more money in circulation.

The Provincial Department of Agriculture, in sponsoring this window dressing competition throughout the Province, is doing a worthwhile publicity and educational work. Peterborough merchants have responded in large numbers by dressing their windows and featuring the Ontario-grown products and produce. It remains for Peterborough city and county residents to do their part by buying the Ontario-grown article in the future.

Sincerely,

JAMES DUTTON, President,
Peterborough Chamber of Commerce.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

THE SILVER HAWK

By WILLIAM BYRON MOWERY

Kansas repeated: "Aurore—she's married, Jim." He dared not look at Dorn. For half a minute he had been hearing across the lake a sibilant rushing hiss that gradually swelled into cannon thunder; and now with unseeing eyes he watcheda stupendous avalanche careend down the mile-long couloir, demolishing and burying a drogue of noble pine. But he did not consciously see it or hear the crackling thunder or feel the ground trembing beneath his feet. Desperately, he forced out the words: "Jim, I've got to tell you. Jim, you've got to know. She—Aurore—she's Carter-Snowdon's wife."

CHAPTER XXIX
THE DARK HOUR

Dorn merely stared hard at Kasass for a little space. Then he laughed jarringly. He said:

"You've made a crzy mistake there! You're guessing!"

"But I told you the truth."

"It's a damnable lie!"

"But I tell you she's Carter-Snowdon's——"

"Don't say that again!"

"But she told me; Aurore told me."

"What? She told you? Aurore told you that?" The first small anguish of doubt stabbed Dorn like the prick of cold steel in the heart. He had simply spurned the words; he had laughed at them as infamous; but he did not laugh now. He repeated harshly: "It's a lie, it isn't so, it can't be so!"

"Jim, you can't beat down the truth with words."

Dorn fumbled for reasons which would bolster up his denial. There were reasons . . . he tried to think; he was a little dazed. He said: "It would have been in all the papers, I hunted through dozens of them, it wasn't mentioned——"

Kansas attempted to check him: "But it wasn't announced, it wasn't given to the public; Aurore and Carter-Snowdon, they kept it!——"

Dorn brushed aside the interruption; he had laid hold of an irrefutable reason now; he lifted it confidently to smash the lie:

"Carter-Snowdon's married! Don't you remember—that batch of papers—we were at Aleppo? You read it yourself! She was some Eastern girl not Aurore——"

He stopped, for he saw that this smashing argument did not stagger Kansas at all. Kansas banged a fist on the table; and what he said annihilated Dorn's last defence.

"Jim, you've got to listen. You're right in part—an Eastern girl—three summers ago—married her to make political capital. He was trying to crawl into politics then. But that was three summers ago. Since then her dad went down and out—some customs scandal. And Carter-Snowdon shoved her aside. Divorced her. A year ago This spring he married Aurore."

A silence fell then. Moments after his crushing statement, Kansas looked up again; and watching his partner's drawn face he knew that although Dorn had accepted the fact of Aurore's being Carter-Snowdon's wife, still he was fighting doggedly against the implications of it.

Dorn said slowly: "It's true; she told you; it must be true. You've—you've convinced me, Kansas, of her marriage, but you haven't explained it. It was never her own act. You barely know her; if you knew her as I do, you'd say it wasn't her own act. Her mother—"

"Hadn't anything to do with this; her mother didn't force or even influence her in this," Kansas felt compelled to say. "Aurore told me that. I asked."

"Then she had some reason—some cause."

Kansas knew he was trying to say that Aurore might have married from some motive near akin to self-sacrifice. He refuted: "Jim, she married him for his money and power and social rank. Those are her words, not mine. Don't try to make out any worthier motives than that. He was a good catch; she took him——"

Dorn interrupted, unhearing: "You said they didn't announce it—a secret affair." His eyes lit up hopefully. "Then it wasn't a real marriage at all; it was just a nominal arrangement——"

Kansas said brutally: "Jim, look here. Aurore is his wife. She married him because he was a good catch. And that marriage was—real. She explained to me why it was informal, wasn't announced; she said something about this political campaign on his hands; I think she said he couldn't spare time then for all the social obligations and a long honeymoon. Just for the brief ceremony and a short honeymoon to themselves. Now do you understand?"

Dorn turned away from him at that, and Kansas knew better than to attempt any sympathy. This was "the worst of it" for Dorn—this present hour; and no man could help him through it. It was the blackest hour of his life; it was the valley of shadows which he must go down into before he could ever have peace of soul again.

Kansas went out of the tent and leaned against a tree and lit cigarettes. He thought: "I wonder what Jim will do now. I wonder if he'll try still to fight, to keep her from that big brute——"

From what Aurore had freely told him and what he had pumped from Burton, he quite well understood why Carter-Snowdon was so desperately searching for his wife. His first marriage and subsequent divoce had left a bad odour already. In the Kootenay riding where he was standing for election now, the Anglican element with its stern ideas about moral rectitude was particularly strong; and in the province generally there was a certain sturdy moral consciousness which demanded personal purity of its leaders. If the reform faction and hostile peers ever heard a whisper of this separation, they would revive the old scandal and crop up this new one; and whether Carter-Snowdon was right or wrong in his trouble with his second wife, it was just the sort of thing, coming on election eve, to turn the scales of that bitter fight and crushingly defeat him.

Kansas laid the keen guess: "He wants to capture Aurore, take her maybe to one of his mountain lodges, and keep this hushed up till after the election at least."

With an outsider's clear vision Kansas could understand Carter-Snowdon, and he could understand the delicate and honourable motives which had actuated Dorn throughout; but Carter-Snowdon's wife, Aurore, he could not fathom. What was a man to believe about her? She had married for money and social rank—certainly no very idealistic reasons; but that fact squarely clashed with her idealism toward Jim Dorn. How could a man reconcile such an act with her sending Dorn away, with the sincerity and high principles which she had betrayed during that all-night talk on the jutting boulder? It occurred to Kansas that perhaps the birth of love in Aurore, of a deep and fundamental passion, had changed her profoundly and had brought out nobility. That would explain much, but not all; it would certainly not explain her flight, for she had broken with Carter-Snowdon before she even knew there was such a man as Jim Dorn.

Kansas knew that Dorn still defended her and had faith in her. Not all the ugly facts of her marriage had been able to swerve him. Kansas could hear him saying, with dogged, stubborn faith: "You have convinced me of her marriage, but you haven't explained it." Kansas thought: "She may be a girl of sudden caprices. Jim may be blind with the proverbial blindness. But whatever the truth about her, I've got to look out for Jim. I've got to see him through this, one way or other."

In a little while he heard a stir in the tent, and went back in, and found Dorn getting his things together to leave Titan Pass. Very cold and self-possessed, Dorn was quietly packing the little steamer trunk which contained all his belongings. Kansas was amazed at the man's steel.

Dorn said in a steady voice: "I've got to go over to the station before we fly east. While I'm gone, if you'll be getting this stuff ready——"

He looked up as he spoke. He had come through his hour with head up, with his purpose unshaken, but Kansas was cut to the quick by his haggard face. Dorn appeared ten years older than he had been a few minutes ago. How any man could keep his voice steady and gentle with that torture on his features.

Kansas burst out: "Dorn, listen to me. Let's go up and get Aurore. I'll fly you down across the Border where she'll be safe. I'll stick on the job here and can stake you till you're squared around on some new work."

Dorn winced at Kansa's resurrecting a hope which he had buried deep in this last hour. He said patiently: "Aurore wouldn't go. I wouldn's ask her to."

"But I think—if you like each other—I think that's a senseless attitude."

"Do you? Then any moral scruple is senseless, and we ought to adopt the 'ethics' of this Joe Yoroslaf. Then a man's philosophy should be to take what he wants and not feel bound to any restraint. You don't mean what you say; you live by scruples yourself. If you didn't, you'd stay clear of this fight. But you and I've been partners, and you feel obligations; and just now you offered to do something which migh tlanc you in the pen for several years. That's 'senseless,' out of you!"

Kansas argued: "Since you mention moral right, don't you think you've got a better moral right to Aurore than he has? He's got nothing but a legal right. Just what are those scruples? I want reasons—definite reasons—why you won't do what I said."

Dorn felt the utter impossibility of making clear, to one who did not know Aurore, those idealistic motives which had actuated her in asking him never to see her again and in telling him that story there at the Lost River vedette. In the light of Kansas' revelations he himself understood those motives now. Aurore would never come to him because she had been wife to another man; because the ideal was shattered and forever impossible. From the thoughts that scourged him Dorn knew what this realization must mean to Aurore herself. Recoiling from discussing this, even with Kansas, he came down to conventional reasons.

"Aurore can't get a divorce. From what she told you, she hasn't any grounds. And Carter-Snowdon"—Dorn was remembering the man's jealous rage—"he'd never release her."

"She can get a divorce in one of the mills down there without any grounds."

"Aurore never would. You don't understand: she wouldn't get a divorce if she could; she intends to accept the consequences of her marriage. All along—I didn't know it till just now—but that's what Aurore has been telling me. She'll never try to escape one wrong act by committing another. And she won't do anything that'll injure Carter-Snowdon. Her very first thought, when I took her north, was to send him a telegram pledging her silence."

Dorn stumbled a moment, then he added evenly, cold-bloodedly: "She may have other reasons. For all you or I know she may bear him a child."

Kansas started. "I wouldn't have—said that, Jim!"

"You wanted reasons; don't flinch when I give you a few!"

"But what do you intend to do? Aurore'll never go away with you, because she's his wife. You don't dare—dare shove him out of the road; that'd look like murder—murder so you could have her. And he can't find her——"

Dorn said, unsmilingly: "You mean it's a checkmate for us all. That's what it is." He added, in a solemn pronouncement: "I've thought out what has to be done. She's his wife, Kansas. She's his wife, and I'll never touch her. But she's mistress of her own body and soul, and neither shall he touch her unless she wants him to."

What To-day Means To You

"SCORPIO"

If November 22nd is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from noon to 2:30 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. There is only one danger period—from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Planetary influences on this date are rather negative, and its events are likely to be humdrum. In the evening, however, there is a decided assurence of romance; very propitious for those "in love."

A child born on this November 22nd promises to be ambitious, shrewd and far-sighted, and will have the confidence of his associates. These traits will be visible during youth and, given the proper environment, its ultimate success is assured.

No one can produce great things who is not thoroughly sincere with himself or herself. This explains, in very few words, why your life has not been the success which you, and everyone else, anticipated. You will not look yourself squarely in the face, and you attempt, at all times, to "pass the buck," or create alibis for your failures or errors. You attribute all your lack of success to the faults of others, or bemoan your bad luck. You never admit the sole authorship of your own mistakes.

You are exceptionally gifted. You have read a great deal, and assisted by a good memory, remember what you have read. You have valuable ideas, but are often too indifferent to put them to the test. You are a spasmodic worker, although it must be admitted that when you do settle down to it—altogether too infrequently—you can accomplish much in a short time. You lose much by trying to put things over, rather than by pushing them through.

You are a poor judge of character, and are thereby often "let down." You are a law to yourself and rarely, if ever, take, or ask for, advice. You fortunately do not air your troubles in the home, and within its walls you are seen at your best. The emotional side of your character is very strong, and you are not afraid or ashamed to show affection and love.

"Sagittarius"

If November 23rd is your birthday, the scene hours for you will be from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. The periods during which care should be exercised are from 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and from 9:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

Astrological indications are not altogether satisfying on this date. They foretell a loss, or an injury, and a disturbance of a relationship that has hitherto been productive of much happiness. In the evening, better conditions are augured.

A child born on this November 23rd will have an affectionate nature, requiring much love and giving much in return. It will be very popular at school, and its merry, congenial personality will ensure for it hosts of friends all through life.

You often say to yourself "why have I not done better for myself?" The reason is that you, as everyone should, look before you leap, but when you mean leaping, you look too long. You do not possess the ability to grasp quickly opportunity when it knocks on your door; you keep the door too long a time on the chain, and when you throw it open, opportunity has passed you by.

You are very slow and methodical in all your ways. Not receptive of new ideas or enamored of new ways, you can never make a big loss. On the other hand, you will never achieve a big success. You are conscientious, straightforward, and meticulously industrious. You are so often absorbed in the small details of an enterprise that you overlook its main and principal objects.

In the home and family circle, you are called "dependable" but never brilliant. Your friends rely on you for comfort and counsel, and are never disappointed. They invariably take the unction of the former to their souls, whilst disregarding the latter. Once you have made up your mind—and this process takes a long time—you never change. You hang on to your convictions with the air of a fanatic and the spirit of the old-time martyrs. You are not fitted for the role of a leader. You can, however, fill a secondary position with credit and advantage to yourself and benefit to those in control.

$1,000,000 LIQUOR HAUL.

BOSTON, Nov. 21 (C.P.).—Liquor valued at a million dollars, one of the largest seizures in the history of prohibition enforcement, was in the hands of Government agents to-day. This estimate of the value of cargoes of two liquor laden barges was given at the office of Captain William Munier, eastern division, commander of the coastguard.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND BRIEFS

A SPECIAL SERVICE TO THE EXAMINER

Officials of Canadian Life Insurance Co's gathered here yesterday for the annual general meeting of their association and were presented with reports showing the progress made in past years. The membership roll of the Canadian Life Insurance officers Association, now comprises forty four companies with assets of $1,815,618,087 and business in force amounting to $9,179,916,944 as at December 31, 1929, progress made by the associations members is indicated by a table showing business in force in Canada at the end of 1925, of $5,084,592,308; to have grown to $6,111,197,535 by the end of 1926; to $6,889,054,911 by the end of 1927; to $8,022,615,514 at the end of 1928 and to $9,179,916,944 by the end of 1929 total assets have also increased proportionally, total value in 1925, was $1,045,890,045; in 1926, $1,227,240,189; in 1927, $1,396,885,080; in 1928, $1,610,401,589 and in 1929, $1,815,618,087.

New Secord Policy.

Officials of Laura Secord Candy Shops, Limited, are considering another progressive step to keep their stockholders fully informed of developments throughout the fiscal year and in the future intend to publish quarterly reports. Ever since the securities of this company were first offered to the public officials have made it a point to see that shareholders were advised on monthly sales figures and this has always proven a good indication of the company's earnings. It is now proposed to go further and not only publish sales, but to publish a profit and loss statement for each quarter and possibly balance sheet figures. Laura Secord ended their fiscal year on September 30, last, and the company is now well into first quarter of the new year and it is understood the first quarterly figures to be presented will be for the first three months of 1930-1931 fiscal year. Earnings at the moment are said to be entirely satisfactory and to compare quite favorably with the corresponding months of 1930, the company in that year maintaining profit practically on the same basis as in the prosperous 1928-29. Officials in deciding to publish periodical statements of earnings are keeping abreast of the times in taking shareholders fully into their confidence. The example of this company could be followed to advantage by many other Canadian corporations having securities in the hands of the public and who are in the habit of only publishing an annual financial statement and that some time after the end of the fiscal year.

Walker Report.

At a meeting of the board of directors of Hiram Walker Gooderham and Worts, Limited, preceding the annual general meeting of shareholders to-day the regular quarterly dividend of 24 cents share was declared, payable December 15, to stockholders of record November 26. The action of board in declaring the regular disbursement confirms the opinion previously expressed here that shareholders would receive the regular distribution and sets at rest a lot of gossip heard in the past. The dividend will mean the distribution of cash approximately $650,000 and should the company maintain the annual rate of $1 a share in the present period, the yield will be over 14 per cent.

Directors of the Canadian National Corporation, Limited, have declared the second dividend of $1, a share for 1930, bringing total cash dividend of 20 per cent and cash distribution of $1 per share in 1929. Canadian National is a Canadian company operating in Colombia and having its head office at Woodstock, Ontario, and general offices in Toronto. There are outstanding $2,500,000 shares of no par value a number of which are held in Canada by stockholders and a portion of the $5,000,000 disbursed in 1920, will find its way into the pockets of Canadian investors. Thursday the turnover on Toronto Stock Exchange approximated 11,000 shares. At the rate stocks were being traded the first couple of hours this morning. Volume would be even less to-day. Walkers was the most active issue on the board some speculative interest being aroused due to the annual meeting to-day and the fact the directors this morning announced the usual quarterly dividend. Elsewhere the list was dead. The stocks usually regarded as pivotal issues showed only three and four transactions. Under the circumstances the minor price fluctuations could be disregarded.

POOL LEADERS ISSUE APPEAL TO ALL CANADA

Claims West Faced With Most Serious Crisis in History.

EFFECT DOMINION-WIDE.

Solution of Wheat Question Be an Act of Unparalleled Economic Statesmanship.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 22 (C.P.)—Problems facing the agriculturists of the Western Prairies to-day, with resultant drastic decrease in the purchasing power of the producer, have become national in scope, and until overcome and prosperity returns must be of vital interest to every Province and citizen of the Dominion, is the conclusion of the Statistics and Research Department of the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited, the central selling agency of the Western pools. This department, in a carefully prepared statement, presents facts and statistics covering the abnormal decrease in the price of farm products, and the accompanying decline in the purchasing power of the farmers.

All Affected.

The plea is made that all affected—every one in Canada, east and west, the merchant, the manufacturer, the banker—unite in a national effort to stem the tide that threatens the West—the most serious crisis in its history, and the economic prosperity of the Dominion as a whole. The statement says:

"The problem is big enough to engage the undivided attention of our national leaders, and its solution would be an act of economic statesmanship unparalleled in the history of Canada.

"The short crop of 1929, with its delayed marketing, coupled with the depressed values of wheat in 1930, with prices of the cereal sliced in two, has, in part, brought about the crisis, and to-day there is a general lack of stability in the wheat-producing industry of Western Canada, reflected in the Dominion's trade, both domestic and foreign.

LIGHT DECLINE ON WALL STREET

WEEK-END LIQUIDATIONS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (C.P.).—The stock market backed up a little in the face of a quiet week-end liquidation to-day.

The market was dull and bears cautious. Leading shares suffered few losses of much more than a point, although some of the higher-priced issues declined about 2 to 4. Sales totalled only about 1,000,000 shares, but the closing tone was heavy.

RUSSIANS STILL SHIPPING WHEAT

Cargoes of 6,400,000 Bushels on Way to England With Others Pending.

INTENSIFIED DEPRESSION.

LONDON, November 22 (C. P. Cable). — The Daily Telegraph to-day states a further shipment of 800,000 quarters of wheat—a quarter is a heaped measure of eight bushels—is en route to England from Soviet Russia, following a shipment of 1,000,000 quarters from that country last week. Other cargoes of Russian wheat will be despatched to England up to the setting in of winter, the newspaper states.

It is learned in the city Soviet Russia is exporting much larger quantities of wheat than was ever thought possible, and selling the shipments regardless of cost on the British market.

Russian wheat has been offered at Liverpool at one pound sterling per quarter, but one authority on grain marketing emphasizes that Russia has not caused the present depression, but by entering the market as she has done has merely intensified it.

CANADA BACKS HOLLAND'S PROPOSAL

GENEVA, Nov. 22 (C.P.)—Canada to-day came to the support of a proposal by Holland made before the Preparatory Disarmament Commission, that full exchange of information regarding war materials was essential to the success of any disarmament treaty.

Dr. W. A. Riddell, Canadian delegate to the Commission, was supported in his view by Hugh S. Gibson, United States representative.

FEW BUYERS ON LOCAL MARKET

While Produce is in Plentiful Supply in Upstairs Section.

WIDE PRICE RANGE.

An overflow market in the basket section was registered this morning, while the open market had only a small quota of buyers and produce. Above stairs, the tables groaned with the weight of fowl, dairy supplies and miscellaneous offerings. At twelve o'clock, there was plenty to supply the ordinary Saturday market and the women faced the task of taking most of their stuff home with them.

As might be explained, there was a wide range of prices. Eggs, in particular, showed a bewildering variety. One vendor who had brought in twenty-six dozen and still had a large supply left at a late hour, offered the balance at 28 cents a dozen, while directly opposite was a vendor asking 60 cents for her fresh extras. The general price seemed to be around 40 to 45 cents a dozen.

Fowl, too, had its variations. While good-looking young chickens might be bought as low as 20 cents a pound, one saleslady persisted in sticking to her original quotation of 30 cents a pound. But, as the lower prices still left plenty of chickens unsold, she kept her fowl, probably to take home. Crate-fed birds were 23 cents a pound.

Butter had a range of 30 to 35 cents a pound, with plenty of it unsold. The closing in of some of the cheese factories on the amount of whole milk purchased has thrown a considerable quantity of butter on the open market, was the opinion of one woman who is well versed in such conditions.

Ducks were 30 cents a pound, and geese were offered from 22 to 25 cents. Turkeys were 34 and 35 cents as a general quotation, with one large bird offered at 32 cents a pound.

Check by jowl with yellow-fleshed and yellow-legged hens of the ordinary type were the dark-fleshed, black-legged Black Minorcas, whose owner offered them at 22 cents a pound and declared they were similar to young turkeys, in the eating.

English crumpets were a novelty on the market, in the basket section. They were 25 cents a dozen. Little pork and veal pies were a nickel apiece and head cheese was 20 cents a pound. Everlastings, or straw flowers, those brightly colored, papery things that last a winter through, with dried gypsophila to set them off, were priced at 20 to 45 cents a bunch.

On the open market, potatoes were $1 a bag. Fresh water herring sold at six for a quarter. An Indian from a nearby reserve, a tiny cerise feather in his dark hat-band, sold axe-helves at half a dollar each.

Apples were plentiful. Bushel hampers of Tolman Sweets were $1.75; Mann apples, something like Greenings, were $4 a barrel, Spies were $6.50, Russets 50 cents a peck and good-looking McIntosh Reds 55 cents a peck.

Pork was priced at 17 and 19 cents a pound, for front and hind sections. Lamb of varying qualities and prices, with three vendors giving three quotations, 16 and 20, 18 and 20 and 17 and 20 cents a pound. Mutton was 15 cents a pound.

PRICES STRENGTHEN ON WINNIPEG MART

Advance Influenced By Strong Liverpool Cables and Good Investment Buying.

WINNIPEG, Man., November 22 (C.P.). — On the road to higher ground, the wheat market to-day continued its climb from the record low marks of five days ago when it broke eight cents.

Influenced by exceptionally strong Liverpool cables and a good class of investment buying the opening prices were 2 to 2¼ cents higher, and the values were holding steady at the initial level half an hour later.

November started at 65, December 64 to 64¼, May 68½ to 69¼, and July 70¾ to 71.

Coarse grains followed, all on the upswing, barley and rye leading the way with substantial advances.

TIGERS DEFEAT

Tigers enabled Gilmore to try another placement, which was wide, and Gibb ran it out.

Queen's broke through to block another of Wright's punts after a poor snap out; Tigers luckily recovering on their 30. Sprague and Small combined to give Tigers their first gain through the line. Leadley followed it up with a 15-yard run around Queen's short end. The students then held their line, and Wright was forced to kick to Queen's 25-yard line.

Mungovan moved the yardsticks for Queen's on a straight line plunge. Carter then kicked to Languay, who ran it back 20. Trying for visiting point before the quarter ended, Wright kicked on the first down but Carter, after fumbling, recovered on his ten-yard line.

First quarter—Queen's 1; Tigers 0.

Second Quarter.

Queen's started the second quarter with the ball in their possession on their ten-yard line and the wind at their backs. Carter kicked to centre on the second down, apparently intending to launch an aerial attack.

Tigers made the first down, and Wright then kicked to Gilmore, who stopped into touch in goal while making the catch, giving Tigers the tieing point.

Stuart crashed through the famed Bengal line to smother Wright before he could punt on the third down. Queen's got possession, and after two plunges Carter kicked to Tigers. Boadway then plunged for yards to carry play away from the Hamilton goal line. Queen's forced the play again near the Tigers' goal-line, but Boadway and Clarke moved the yardsticks twice, to carry play out of danger.

For the fourth time, the students broke through to block Wright's kick, McKelvey recovering.

Carter kicked on the second down to Languay, who tossed into touch in goal while trying to run the ball out. This point put the Tricolor in the lead for the second time.

The half-time whistle blew as Languay took Carter's kick and ran it back 18 yards to his 45.

Half-time score: Queen's 2, Tigers 1.

THIRD QUARTER.

Wright kicked off to Gilmore to start the third quarter, and the Queen's half ran the ball back 15 yards. The students blocked Wright's kick and Gourlay recovered to give Queen's possession on Tigers' 45. Carter kicked a high one to Languay, who was tackled high and the Tiger player lashed out, with his fists. No penalty resulted.

Leadley kicked to Gilmore and on the first down Caldwell and Gilmore combined on an end run to move the yardsticks. Gilmore tried a placement from the Tiger's 35, but his kick was short.

Tigers commenced to show fight and gained yards on two smashing plunges. Sprague then made six to put the ball on Queen's 50, from where Wright kicked to Carter on Queen's 25. Carter kicked on the second down to Leadley, who was not given yards and the students were penalized. Leadley kicked to Carter on Queen's three yard line. The Kingston punter hoofed the pigskin on the second down to centre. Tigers made yards on three plunges as the quarter ended.

Queen's 2, Tigers 1.

Tigers Get Touchdown.

Play started in the final quarter on Queen's 40-yard line, and on the first play of the game Sprague broke through the Queen's line to gallop 40 yards and lunge over for a touchdown which Leadlay converted, to put Tigers in front seven to two. McKelvey received the first penalty of the game for a high tackle. Tigers were penalized 15 for an offside, and Leadlay kicked to Carter, who returned the ball, and it rolled over the Hamilton goal line. Leadlay conceded a rouge for Queen's third point. Queen's tried a fake kick formation but gained nothing. Carter then hoisted the ball to Leadlay, who ran it back 20. Boadway followed this gain with a 25-yard run through Queen's centre.

Leadley then kicked into touch in goal for Tigers' eighth point. Carter commenced hoisting the pigskin more powerful than ever and though he gained yards each time Tigers held on stubbornly and played splendid defensive football. Game over.

Tigers 8 Queen's 3.

Hamilton Scores.

Isbister booted past centre. Play remained at centre when Armstrong's kick went out. Isbister tossed a forward pass for 30 yards and Farnworth ran twenty yards for a touchdown, making the score Hamilton 11, P.C.I. 10.

After the kick-off Hamilton were called back ten yards for interference. Isbister lifted a lofty boot to P.C.I.'s 10 yards line.

Armstrong kicked on the first down to centre. Isbister's kick went out at P.C.I. 10-yard line. Richardson's forward pass was intercepted by Farnworth, but P.C.I. was handed back the ball and given ten yards for offside by Delta on the play. Armstrong booted to centre.

A pass by a Hamilton half was wide and Preston nabbed the loose ball on his own 20 yards line. Armstrong's kick was muffed and Dinesen fell on the ball. Richardson whipped a forward pass to Wagar for 25 yards gain. It was a beauty and Wagar grabbed it like a shortstop. Armstrongs kick was short against the wind to Hamilton's 40-yard line. Hamilton plunged for yards.

Isbister raised a 60 yard punt behind P.C.I.'s touch line but Young took the ball on the run and ran it out. P.C.I.'s attempted forward was intercepted but P.C.I. regained possession on the same play when the catcher fumbled. Two forward passes failed and Armstrong kicked to centre.

Hamilton made gains and regained an attempted field goal five yards out from P.C.I.'s touch lin. Delta was playing for a score as the half-time whistle sounded.

Half-time score—P.C.I. 10, Delta 11.

Play stayed at centre at the start of the second half. Armstrong booted past the Hamilton touchline, but Isbister ran it out. Welch broke through centre for a forty-yard gain, not being grassed until he had passed centre. Hamilton plunged for yards twice and Isbister booted for a rouge. Delta 12.

P.C.I. attempted a forward pass which Farnworth intercepted, putting P.C.I. again on the defensive. Hamilton fumbled, the Garnet and Grey getting the ball.

Armstrong plunged and then booted to centre.

Keeping up the hammering plunges, Hamilton gained yards twice. P.C.I. were hanging like leeches to their heavy opponents. Isbister attempted a field goal, which went wide of the posts, Young running it out through a host of tacklers to P.C.I.'s 20 yard line. Armstrong booted play again back to centre.

Hamilton returned with another rushing attack in their efforts to rip holes in that steely P.C.I. line. P.C.I. held, and Isbister's boot went out at P.C.I.'s 15-yard line.

Two P.C.I. plays were held and then Armstrong selected for a fake kick, but was downed, Hamilton getting the ball on P.C.I.'s 20-yard line.

Fighting every inch of the way, the Garnet and Grey was forced back upon their touchline, and Zvonkin, Delta's 190-pound line crusher, slammed through for a touchdown. Delta's score, 17.

On a fake play, Richardson went through centre for 10 yards from his own 40-yard line. Young added a gain to close the third quarter.

Fourth Quarter

P.C.I. opened the game wide in their gallant effort to turn in a win. The halves began passing the ball. Armstrong booted for a rouge, making P.C.I. 11.

Isbister's punt dropped behind Young, but he swooped back and recovered it on his own 10-yard line, reeling off ten yards before being hauled down.

Armstrong plunged for eight yards and P.C.I. made yards. Armstrong's kick rolled out at centre.

Isbister punted for another rouge. Delta 18.

Richardson and Armstrong plunged for yards. Armstrong's kick went across the field and out at centre. The wind was playing pranks with his kicks.

Isbister booted and Young ran it out to P.C.I.'s 8 yard line. P.C.I. plunged for yards. Young wriggled his way through for another twelve yard gain.

Armstrong kicked to centre. Isbister booted to Young on P.C.I.'s ten-yard line.

After Armstrong's kick, Isbister kicked for another rouge. Delta, 19.

P.C.I.'s attempted forward pass was intercepted. Hibbans' bucked around the short end for a touchdown. Delta, 24.

Two Great Naval Amphibians Head Into B. C. Wilds For Capt. Burke.

DELAYED BY STORMS.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 22.—(CP)—A new aerial dash into Northern British Columbia, where wintry storms have frustrated determined efforts to rescue Capt. E. J. A. WHAT WOULD WE DO WITHOUT YOU DAD?

You love those youngsters of yours, don't you, dad? Just as long as you live you're going to care for them—see that they are well fed, well clothed, have a comfortable home and good schooling. Even if you can't make them rich, you can keep them from being poor.

But what would they do without you, dad?

HAVELOCK, Nov. 22.—A bold bad burglar operating with a flashlight on one of the windows in a downtown confectionery store was the thought of some passers-by Thursday evening. CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Rising prices for wheat went hand-in-hand yesterday with reports that the volume of domestic flour trade had broadened. Persistent rumors of a revolt in Russia received more or less notice also, as well as talk of cancelling of Black Sea grain vessel charters, suggesting curtailment of wheat shipments from Russia. A fresh advance of 2c in prices that United States Government-sponsored agencies were bidding for some Chicago wheat future deliveries counted further as a market stimulus.

After an advance to nearly 6 cents above low prices current here Nov. 10, the Chicago wheat market closed unsettled ¾ to 1c higher than Thursday's finish, but fractionally below yesterday's best figures. Corn closed ⅝c to 1⅛c up, with oats showing 1¼ to 2c advance, and provisions unchanged to 7c lower.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Nov. 22—Butter prices to retailers were reduced 1 cent on the dairy market here yesterday. They were advanced the same amount a week ago. New Zealand butter was still at the high levvel, but the reduction was made in the more active Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized creamery stock. Solids were 32c and 33c a pound, respectively, and prints were 33c and 34c. Wholesale prices of Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized creamery were 29½c to 29½ c a pound, with receipts totalling 78 boxes.

The cheese market was unchanged. Ontario being 13¼c and Quebec 12¾c a pound. Receipts were 386 boxes.

On the egg market, fresh supplies were scarce, and prices unchanged. Receipts were 868 cases, of which 600 cases were American passing through here for export.

New Brunswick Green Mountains were 90c per 80-pound bag on the potato market.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, November 22. — Winnipeg wheat, along with coarse grains, continued the upward trend yesterday, closing ¾ to 1⅛ cents above Thursday's final quotes.

Firm markets at Liverpool and Buenos Aires and a resumption of investment and export buying accounted largely for the higher price levels. Gains were held throughout the session with the high points made in the last half-hour when values stood at 1 to 1½ cents over the previous close.

Selling pressure at times was quite heavy with liquidation of futures credited to large interests and some hedging coming from elevator companies. The buying orders, however, predominated and the market was able to record an advance for the third successive day. Houses with seaboard connection were buyers throughout the day.

Cash wheat and coarse grains followed wheat futures advance, but trade was only in moderate proportion.

A MOTHER'S ANXIETY

About Her Delicate Daughter.

"She seems to be fading away," said an anxious mother recently about her daughter. Thousands of mothers could say the same thing. Their daughters endure a trying life robbed of all vitality and brightness. Their cheeks are pale; their eyes dull; their step languid and every movement tells of shattered health. If neglected their suffering grows more acute till decline sets in.

If your daughter complains of weariness; pains in the side; weakness; headache or backache; her appetite is uncertain and her spirits low—anaemia is the cause. She needs new blood. Give her Dr. Williams Pink Pills at once for these pills actually renew and enrich the blood. They make sickly girls well and happy; improve the appetite and bring back all the charm and brightness of perfect health.

Dr. Williams Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NEW WORLD GENIUS NOTED BY NOVELIST

Tendency to Impose Old World Standards Deplored By Morely Callaghan.

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 22—The need on the part of North Americans to discover America was stressed by Morley Callaghan, Canadian novelist, addressing the Canadian Club lately.

Tracing the history of various prediscoveries of America he pointed out that the quest of gold and the imposition of old world standards had always dominated in these discoveries, at least until the arrival of Champlain in this province.

Champlain had given his imagination and his soul to the new world. It would have been well for the new world if those who succeeded him, those who dwell here to-day, could give themselves to the New World as he did, to appreciate the standards, the ideals, the beauties of the new world as he did. But everywhere one found the inspiration, the impulse to impose on the new world the standards of the old. There was even a notable tendency in some quarters to encourage immigrants from all parts of the world to conserve the traditions customs and ideals of their native land and make of the New World a sort of mosaic of old world practices, Mr. Callaghan said.

There was a genius which belonged exclusively to the New World and it was of great importance that its dwellers should try to catch a glimpse of that genius, not to try to impose on it the civilization of the old world.

For example, nothing seemed to him so incongruous as the erection of a Gothic cathedral in New York, the speaker said. On the other hand, little though Americans or Canadians realized it, there was something in the huge office buildings being erected on this side of the Atlantic which spoke peculiarly of the New World character. They belonged to the western shores of the Atlantic and were the foundations of a western type of architecture which would ultimately come to be as Specifically American as the Gothic was European.

Let no one be frightened by the charges of vulgarity or the commonplace in connection with such a tendency, he added. The Elizabethans were charged with being vulgar in their writing, with employing the local vernacular, and even slang in their writings, yet by so doing they enriched their language to such a point as to create the finest period of the whole English literature.

It was important that the literary, the artistic and even the commercial and industrial sections of the New World population strive to rediscover the soul and genius of America, rather than persist in trying to impose upon it the standards and traditions of the Old World, he concluded.

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up a stubborn, lingering cough. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs little, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that follow severe cold epidemics.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16 oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Thus you make 16 ounces of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe and heal the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of distressing coughs, chest colds, and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

DOUBLE BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY IS CELBRATED IN MILLBROOK

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. E. Gillott Capable Hosts at Jolly Social Affair.

PRESENTATION MADE.

MILLBROOK, Nov. 22. (Examiner Correspondence).—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. E. Gillott entertained at a delightful social gathering at their home, corner Centre and Union streets, on Wednesday evening, November 19, the event having a double significance since it was in honor of Mr. Gillott's birthday anniversary, and also intended to mark the birthday occasion of Miss Grace Irwin, of Peterborough, a niece of Mrs. Gillott's, the latter, however, not actually reaching her seventeenth milestone until the following day.

The host and hostess extended warm greeting to thirty or more guests, a number of relatives and friends from Peterborough, the large rooms of their comfortable home being most attractive with softly-shaded lights, flowering house plants and an atmosphere that breathed welcome and hearty goodwill in keeping with the happy occasion.

Dancing for the younger folk, with four or five tables of cards for those older in years, filled the hours happily, the prize winners at the card games being I. M. Nattress, for first place, with F. W. Pendrie taking the consolation.

Shortly before the supper hour a pleasant surprise was prepared for Mr. Gillott when, on behalf of a number of the men present among the guests T. G. Harkness presented him with a handsome, gold-headed cane, as a token of good-fellowship and best wishes in connection with his birthday. C. E. Burnham read the address, little Peggy Howe, of Toronto, bringing to Mrs. Gillott a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums.

Taken completely by surprise, Mr. Gillott, on behalf of his wife and himself, expressed their gratitude in a few brief sentences, and all joined in singing, "For They Are Jolly, Good Fellows." Adjournment to the dining-room, which almost immediately followed, brought many exclamations of delight as the guests were seated about the lovely tables, the larger one having a color scheme of pink and white, carried out in the table covering, the big, partly-closed rose in its centre which held the handsome, three-storey birthday cake, with its quota of candles marking the milestones in the life of the host; the dainty rose containers for almonds and candy at each guest's place; the candles in silver holder, and the streamers from the rose-shaded lights overhead to the four corners of the hospitable board.

Special Table

Miss Grace Irwin's birthday table was done in shades of gold and white, a big golden chrysanthemum half hiding the lovely birthday cake in the centre, the other details being similar to those at the table were the adult guests were seated, 'mums taking the place of the roses.

A ceremony that held in it both delight and surprise preceded the lighting of the candles on each of the birthday cakes, and the insertion of the knives, these pleasant duties falling to the guest of honor in each case. The rosebud, through the 'magic' of ribbons gently pulled by two guests on either side of the table, opened into full bloom disclosing the delicious confection which had been hidden in its heart, while at Miss Irwin's table, the big golden 'mum, in response to the soft drawing of the attached streamers, moved quietly ceilingward, encircling the light as a most attractivve fixture.

It was long past the midnight hour when the happy gathering broke up, final adieus were spoken, and the guests left for their several homes. Mr. and Mrs. George Irwin, of Peterborough, the birthday of whose daughter, Miss Grace, was so charmingly remembered, were among the guests of the evening.

PETERBORO LIFE UNDERWRITERS HEAR ADDRESS FROM W. D. BURDEN

Remoulding Our Ideals is Subject of Splendid Address.

HIGHER BUSINESS LEVEL.

A very successful banquet was held last night by the Peterborough Life Underwriters' Association in the club dining-room of the Empress Hotel. At the close of the meal D. M. Bissell introduced the out of town visitors—Mr. Hewitson of the London Life, Mr. Melling of the same company in Lindsay, Mr. Brown of the North American Life, and Mr. Reynolds of the Imperial Life. Mr. Bissell then called on J. J. Allen to introduce the guest speaker of the evening, W. D. Burden, manager of the Canada Life in Ottawa and assistant branch manager for Eastern Ontario.

Mr. Burden entitled his address "Remoulding our Ideals." The speaker first expressed his great pleasure in meeting the underwriters of this city, and commented on the reference contained in the introduction of Mr. Allen regarding Mr. Burden's early life in Oshawa.

"The mark of salesmanship," said Mr. Burden, "is the increased capacity for work, and hence an increase in the accounts." We pass through life very quickly, but whether our days are to be long or whether they are to be few, we must make a good foundation. Another gentleman had been asked to address the meeting this week but had declined; then Mr. Burden laughingly remarked that "a Burden in the hand is worth two in the bush." Thus we must grasp at every opportunity that may present itself to us, and therefore prepare ourselves for our line of salesmanship.

The Dreams of An Underwriter.

"You know," said Mr. Burden, raising his eyes to the ceiling, "that I'm a bit of a dreamer. I often dream of the time when we shall be the true benefactors of mankind, when we shall recline in office seats in the top of a skyscraper—'The Canadian Underwriters' Building'—when in the morning we have only a few interviews of souls seeking insurance, and in the afternoon we recuperate from the effects of lunch on the golf course or 'The Charming Ladies' Union.' But to do this we must gain satisfaction through service." Mr. Burden then pointed out the similarity between the subject of salesmanship and that of remoulding our ideals. The famous wit, Clancy de Leu, showed that there is a similarity between any two things. To prove this, the speaker said there existed a likeness between a bath tub and a Ford car—everyone wants one but do not wish to be seen in one.

Reaching towards the ideal is the striving towards the far goal of perfection. Where does the public interest lie? A man may ask, How does life insurance improve my life? Insurance must come to signify the revolutionized economics of mankind, and thus make it alluring to people. And this is not to be done by an overdose of statistics. Mr. Burden recounted a story of Dr. Leacock, where a happy family was seated around a fireplace in anticipation of their Christmas dinner. The meal was embodied in a small tablet which, when placed in water would expand to a 350-pound dinner consisting of turkey, vegetables, pudding, etc. Before his parents realized what had happened the little son took up the pill and swallowed it. He began to expand rapidly; everyone put their hands to their ears; there was a terrific explosion. Similarly to many statistics and dividend promises end in a "bang."

Remoulding Idea of Life Insurance.

The public rely on the underwriters; insurance is doing wonderful things for the human race, but the agents must fulfill their pledges to the public. Happily we are moving from the time when people were duped by marvellous promises, false conditions, and the wrong policy for their particular requirements. This institution has swept away these evils by the choice of representatives who are honest and far-seeing men. A young man joined an insurance agency in New York City. He had industry, ambition, thrift, a good appearance, a college education, and all the marks of a fine young salesman. He worked for three weeks, but in the end was discouraged—he had good interviews but negligible results. He had selected one attractive policy and had attained "a good line on it." However, the real means to success is the presentation of a particular kind of policy to each particular need of the individual. Each problem has a different solution; an agent must not be led away by the glint of large money in a certain policy. We must pick a star and follow through to the objective through service.

There is a large succession of opportunities to-day, but these existed with equal force fifty years ago. What must be done now is the breaking down of the ever heightening barriers of sales resistance. One agent sold an attorney a policy for $25,000, and was very happy about the deal. But another agent came and went into the attorney's needs and family circumstances, pointing out his necessities. As a result, the underwriter was asked to write out insurance for $180,000, and the attorney was more pleased over his second policy than over his first. The former agent had spoken of dividends, etc., while the latter had gone into real needs and financial position; and each underwriter received according to his deserts. Keen apperception and quiet deliberation is required in every case of approach.

In summing up, Mr. Burden stressed the importance of showing the public the value of life insurance. Personal remuneration must be swept aside for family needs—a working towards the ideal. Men who exercise this discipline reap the largest reward in the end. The taking of opportunities is a sacred pledge. We owe much to those who established the institution of insurance in the face of great adversity, and it is in honor of these pioneers that we are gathered here to-night, continued the speaker. "Much yet remains to be done, but the cleansing fires of true service are sweeping on." There are many factors which exemplify this: the Uniform Insurance Acts in most provinces, the presence of justice and knowledge in the world. Co-operation is the one remaining necessity. Mr. Burden then concluded his speech by quoting a poem of Edward Guest, entitled "Team Work":

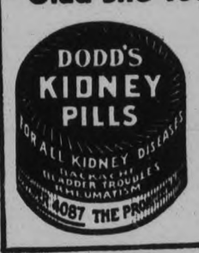
It's all very well to have courage and skill
And it's fine to be counted a star.
But the single deed with its touch of thrill
Doesn't tell us the man you are;
For there's no lone hand in the game we play.
We must work to a bigger scheme,
And the thing that counts in the world to-day
Is, How do you pull with the team?

They may sound your praise and call you great,
They may single you out for fame,
But you must work with your running mate
Or you'll never win the game;
Oh, never the work of life is done
By the man with a selfish dream.
For the battle is lost or the battle is won
By the spirit of the team.

Messrs. Bissell and McClelland closed with words of deep appreciation and indebtedness to the speaker for his elevating remarks. Everyone then stood and, led by Mr. Burden, "The King" brought the banquet to a close.

Glad She Took Neighbour's Advice

Dodd's Kidney Pills Helped Aching Back



"I had such a terrible lame back that I could hardly straighten myself up," writes Mrs. Stanley Jackson, Plainfield, Ont. "I was advised by a neighbour to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I did, and was greatly relieved, so now I recommend them to all my friends."

It is statements like this that have made Dodd's Kidney Pills a household remedy all over Canada. For more than a third of a century people have been telling each other of the benefits received from Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are purely and simply a kidney remedy. If your kidneys trouble you, take Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are the remedy you need. 949

Discoverer Of Moirs

JAS. W. MOIR,
Chairman of the Board of Directors, Moirs, Limited, and discoverer of the famous Moir formulas.

CANADA'S OLDEST CHOCOLATE FIRM HAS BEEN CENTURY IN BUSINESS

Moirs Limited Started in Small Way in Halifax 100 Years Ago.

FIRST A BAKERY.

HALIFAX, N.S., Nov. 22—Preparations are under way in the old seaboard town to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of a business that started on a kitchen range in 1830, boasts in 1930 one of the model manufacturing plants of the Dominion and gives steady employment to over 1200 Haligonians.

Now the leading manufacturing concern and industrial show place of Halifax, the history of Moirs Limited, who make fine chocolates on the slopes of Citadel Hill, goes back to the days when British men o' war furled their sails in Halifax Harbor, when 3,000 foot troops were quartered in the forts about the town, and when the only connection with Upper Canada was by stage coach and sailing ship.

In the days when the Parade was gay with the red coats of British infantry, the first of the Moirs arrived in Halifax to serve in His Majesty's Dockyard as a naval armorer and gunnery expert. So long ago is it that little is known of Alexander Moir, save that he arrived, settled down and married.

Story Begins in 1830.

The present great industry which caters to the world's sweet tooth had a modest start. What fortunes or misforunes caused its beginnings are now unknown. It is know that Mrs. Benjamin baked excellent bread and that her rich ginger cake was held in high favor. Benjamin, if one interprets the early legend correctly, was a restless experimenting sort of fellow, always keen to see what lay around the corner and never reluctant to take a chance.

At twelve years of age his son, William C. Moir, went to work and helped his mother until she was able to retire. Under fifty years of William's management, Moirs assumed the proportions of an industry, supplying the army and navy with bread on contract, ships with the famous pilot bread that lasted years, and the Maritime market with cake and fancy biscuits.

Colorful Character.

For more than half a century William C. Moir was one of the most colorful characters of the Halifax scene. A small, thin man with a down-easter beard and a high raspy voice, his accomplishments and force of personality were entirely belied by his appearance. Of him Sir Charles Tupper once said: "You're all right, Moir, but you're away ahead of your time."

The remark had point. Moir erected the first grain elevator in the Maritimes. He was one of the principal promoters of a barge canal that was to connect Halifax with the Bay of Fundy across Nova Scotia.

He was among the first Canadians to anticipate modern mass production by manufacturing all the raw materials that went into his finished product. He once bought 16,000 acres of land along the shores of Bedford Basin in the belief that it would become valuable as residential sites. It has, but not until the last few years.

Razed By Fire Six Times

During his lifetime Moir saw his plants razed by fire no less than six times and each time exploited disaster by building bigger and more adequate structures to house his enterprises.

In 1876 the third generation of Moirs entered the business and the firm name was changed to Moir, Son & Co. William Moir had four sons of whom three joined him in the business, two as bakers, and the eldest, James as a confectioner. Returning from school at the age of 21, James brought home with him from the States, the observation that cakes and candies often went hand in hand. His brothers were at hand to look after the cake and bread business and James proposed to create a department of his own.

Playing with new ideas had always been a Moir trait but James combined with it the other Moir traits of thoroughness, an intense desire to produce the best and an enthusiastic willingness to experiment. For the first few years lines of staple hard candies were alone produced for James felt that he preferred to get his education with relatively inexpensive materials.

Then came the time when he discovered that the most profits were to be made from high-grade chocolates. He turned his attention to a new field of experiment which was to lead him on a quest that lasted twenty years and at its end developed the chocolate formula which helped establish Moir agencies in the West Indies, Central and South America, South Africa and New Zealand.

Any other firm would have undoubtedly borrowed, or stolen, an expert chocolate mixer who already knew the business. James preferred to find things out for himself with the help of his chief assistant, L. E. Covey, the present supervisor of the chocolate department and a Moir employee for 53 years.

Mysteries of Cocoa Bean.

Together these two men discovered the mysteries of the cocoa bean and what to expect from those which came from South America and those that came from Ceylon. When new machinery was needed—and it seems that new machinery was always being added—James went off to the States and returned with new ideas gleaned by perpetual questioning of men who knew more than he did.

In the middle nineties William C. Moir the elder died and left the boys to carry on with James at the head. The change necessitated his devoting his attention to the business as a whole, and leaving in other hands the work of seeking the perfect formula, but his Jason's quest remained the obsession it had always been to him.

FEATHER PICTURES OF GREAT BEAUTY

Unusual Exhibit at McGill Library Comes From Very Old Italian Book.

MONTREAL, Nov. 22—The unusual and beautiful display of feather pictures, now on view in the exhibition gallery of McGill University Library, presents a collection of special attraction. Taken entirely from the old Italian "feather book," which belongs to the library, the pictures mostly of birds are made entirely of feathers chosen with minute care and laid in place with extraordinary skill. The fine colorings and splendid representations of animals and humans offer a type of work which is as interesting as it is out of the ordinary.

The feather book, an ancient and firmly bound volume, was purchased in London by the McGill University Library in 1923. Beyond the curious title page which shows that it was made in 1618 by Dionisio Minaggio, gardener to the Governor of Milan, little is known of its history and how it came from Italy to England is a mystery.

Each picture was made with infinite patience and extraordinary skill from birds' feathers. In some the beaks and claws were included. The feathers were pasted on heavy paper which was then mounted on the pages of a folio volume. For convenience in exhibiting the pages were taken apart and framed but the original cover is on exhibit with them. There are 156 pictures of which 112 are birds. The others represent old scenes of men hunting, fishing, hawking, ship making, knife-grinding, even tooth-pulling, and the characters are the familiar type of figure found in the Commedia dell'Arte.

No volume like this is to be found, so far as is known, in the British Museum or South Kensington or in any other library known to English experts at the time of its purchase. It is of interest, not merely as a curiosity, but because it gives contemporary information regarding costumes and musical instruments and also because it contains in an excellent state of preservation what are probably the oldest bird-skins in existence. As it also raises questions of bird distribution, coloration and variation it is an ornithological document of greatest importance.

"Somebody to see you!"

IF EVERYBODY with something to interest you should come and ring your bell, what a nuisance it would be! Think of the swarming, jostling crowd, the stamping of feet on your porch and carpets!

Every day we know of many callers who come to see you. They never jangle the bell—they don't take up your whole day trying to get your attention. Instead, they do it in a way that is most considerate of your privacy and your convenience. They advertise in your newspaper!

In this way you have only to listen to those you know at a glance have something that interests you. They make it short, too, so you can gather quickly just what you want to know. You can receive and hear them all without noise or confusion in comparatively few minutes.

In fairness to yourself look over all the advertisements. The smallest and the largest—you never can be sure which one will tell something you really want to know.

ALEX DARLING OPENS NEW FIELD

1,000,000 pounds, and its field develops tremendous rotary force.

The design of the heavy outer frame of the generator calls for eighteen openings or panels to provide for the escape of cooling air, and it is proposed to set into these panels grilling or grill work that would allow the emission of the air and also contribute an enhancing decorative touch to the necessarily heavy and solid lines of the machine.

The C. G. E. Company planned three optional designs of grilling for the Beauharnois engineers to choose from; but they also asked for photographic or other pictorial representations of models to assist them in their selection.

So, Mr. Darling made a composite picture of it, accomplishing perfectly the idea of Mr. B. L. Barnes of the C. G. E. engineering staff. Mr. Barnes had a full size, heavy cardboard model made of a segment of the outer circumference of the machine, with one of the identical eighteen panels occupying the center of this film set. The replica was eight feet high, and approximately one-eighteenth of the circumference, and it also included a corresponding section of the top cover of the generator.

Then a circle, forty feet in diameter, was marked off on the floor of the new building at the C. G. E. plant. The model segment was placed on this line, and the model sector of the top covering was naturally attached to the upper edge of the segment of the circumference, and its narrower end was nailed to a pivot on a tripod at the center of the big circle.

Took Series of Still Pictures

The cardboard panel was then moved around its semi-circular arc, all that would be visible to an observer on the floor, and Mr. Darling took a series of still pictures in its positions as it was moved before him.

Three series of photographs were taken, showing the three designs of grilling or grill work that would allow took seven pictures in each group. The rest of his work was done in The Roy Studio. To make a composite picture of the generator with one of its designs of grill work, Mr. Darling pieced his seven individual photographs together on a white cardboard background, showing the panels as they will be in the completed machine.

Imagine a big bass drum before you on a table with its percussion or business side down. You can see only the half of the curving side that faces you. So in Mr. Darling's composite photograph, one of the panels of the machine is directly in front of the camera and the others recede around the half-circle just as the model panel had been moved and photographed at the factory. The top cover, fitted together just as smoothly and naturally, and retouching added an ornamental electric lamp over the axis of the generator.

Finally, Mr. Darling photographed his composite photograph and had the satisfaction of presenting to Mr. Barnes a graphic realization of his idea of how he might meet the wishes of the Beauharnois people.

Mr. Barnes expressed himself as highly pleased with the three photographs which Mr. Darling achieved, their collaboration produced a set of commercial photographs that are believed to be unique, and Mr. Darling's expert camera and art work was the determining factor in this unusual and notable studio success.

Nearby in a separate department a battery of automatic screw cutting machines, apparently running with the minimum amount of supervision, were seen manufacturing case heads, turning them out at amazing speed in seven operations, from lengthy rods of brass. Three machines of the battery, recently installed, were operating at the rate of 5,000 r.p.m., the remainde, were somewhat slower.

In the nickle-plating department the party found themselves in a large room 80 feet wide, which is remarkable in its construction, in so much as it has no supporting pillars between ceiling and roof.

Fumes from the large acid tanks are carried down through the floor, and thus expelled from the building by one of the largest methods of ventilation. Several tumbling barrels were seen in motion in this room, where the cases are further prepared after coming from the buffing room to be nickle plated.

Some time was spent in the up to date machine shop, and around test benches were various parts of the mechanism were under rigid test. Of particular interest was the delicate operation of testing balance wheels and hair springs.

In the assembly department clocks were being assembled at the rate of 225-230 per day. The works, before being placed in the cases are run under test, and in the case of watch mechanism are run in three posi-

ARTICLES OF INTEREST TO THE FARMER

SOME POINTERS ON PROPER WAY TO RAISE GEESE

Sixty to the Acre May be Pastured on Marshy Ground —Grass Necessary.

LITTLE ATTENTION NEEDED

Feed Slightly Moist Mash But Never Have It Sloppy.

(By R. L. Chamberlin)

Geese may be successfully raised in almost any locality where they can have a plentiful supply of green food. The conditions required are very different from those of ducks. Geese are usually raised in comparatively small flocks. The fact that geese require very much more room than ducks has kept the business in the hands of farmers who go into it in farms which have fields not suitable for poultry or cultivation, on account of springs or streams, but which make good pasture for geese, and, if such fields are used for geese, they can be made to return a good profit.

Somewhat low, springy or marshy land may be used to good advantage, if some part is comparatively very high and dry. Geese may be pastured at the rate of 60 to the acre on marshy land where there is a growth of grass vigorous enough to provide a plentiful supply of green food and sufficient depth of water in pools to permit them to swim about. It is never advisable to allow a large number of geese their freedom over an entire farm. A few geese will not prove objectionable, but if a large number is allowed to roam at will over pasture lands, cattle will not care to graze in the same field.

Need Little Care

Geese do not require a great deal of attention; after the young are two weeks or so old, they are able to care for themselves largely, if a good range is given. The food is largely grass, although insects and other low forms of animal life are eaten and essential. The most common breeds are Toulouse, African, Embden, Chinese, Canada (or wild) and Egyptian.

Geese do not require elaborate houses, but they need shelter that will protect them from heavy rain, snow, cold winds and dampness. Almost any kind of shelter that will protect them from the weather, to some extent, will answer. Low open front sheds are often used with satisfaction. Particular care should be taken to see that the interior of the house will remain dry practically all the time. While geese like water for swimming, and can run in rain or snow all day, they should have dry places to sleep in or they will contract rheumatism in their feet and legs and become very much disabled. The floors in the house for geese should preferably be of earth. This should be covered at all times with a layer of straw. The straw should be pitched out into the sun occasionally and thoroughly forked over, so it will dry well. The straw may be replaced if it is still fit for use; if not, fresh straw should be placed in the house. But very few articles of equipment are required in or about houses for geese, the only absolutely necessary articles being tubs for drinking water and feed troughs.

To secure the best results in breeding, the females should not be mated until they are two years old or older, and the ganders should be mated when from one to five years of age. Ganders less than one year old will be more satisfactory than the females of the same age, but it is not advisable to mate them at this early age. But little success will be obtained from mating female geese less than two years of age. Well proportioned geese of medium size make better breeders than those of extra large size. Geese that are smaller than the average run of birds of the variety should never be used for breeding purposes.

The number of geese that should be permitted to mate with a gander varies somewhat with the purpose for which the offspring are intended. When the geese are bred for the purpose of exhibition, they should be mated only in pairs, and kept in mating yards until it is certain they are mated. When geese are bred for market, the females and males may run in large flocks from the beginning provided the proportion of one male to three or four females is maintained. If allowed their own will, all varieties of geese, except the Canadian, will mate in the proportion of one male to three or five females. Rarely if ever will the Canadian geese mate otherwise than in pairs. Exceptions to this rule occur, however, if Canadian geese are mated while confined.

Grazing Birds

Geese are by nature grazing birds, and the greater portion of their living should consist of green food. On account of the absence of a crop, geese, like ducks, should be fed on ground grains in the form of a slightly moist mash, but care must be taken to see that is never sloppy. Geese are not able to obtain much nourishment from whole grains in a dry state. Boiled whole oats mixed with bran until quite dry is a feed that is relished. Cracked corn, oats and barley are frequently fed to geese, but none of them in a whole state is as good for the birds as when in the form of a meal. Grit and oyster shells must always be kept at hand so that the birds will be able to help themselves when they need it. They will eat a considerable quality of both.

During the summer mature geese should be fed once a day all they will eat of a mash composed by measure of three parts of each of cornmeal, bran and ground oats. During the winter this same ration with four parts of steamed clover should be fed night and morning.

In the northern section of the United States most geese will come into production early in February. Geese, unlike ducks, do not just drop their eggs anywhere on the ground. They like to build a nest and take care of their eggs. If the eggs are not taken away from the nest, as soon as a clutch is laid, the goose will take a notion to sit on them, and she will then quit laying. Broodiness in geese should be discouraged in order to get them to lay continuously throughout the season. The eggs can be hatched either in incubators or by hens.—Rural New Yorker.

EXPERT IS INCLINED TO FAVOR PLANTING OF ROSES IN THE FALL

Experiment to be Successful Requires Great Care and Study.

MAKE YOUR OWN CHOICE

This is the question continually asked and variously answered. The more I know about Roses says J. Horace McFarland, in the Flower Garden, or the better acquainted with them I become through experience, the less I feel warranted in having positive opinions or in making didactic statements. My disposition, therefore, in addressing the subject now, is to set out the case on both sides and suggest that the intelligent reader make his own choice, and use what method seems best to him in the delightful adventure of rose-growing.

In England I am sure most of the rose-planting is done in the Fall, and all consider it preferable then to plant. I know nothing about the early maturity of the plants there, but I do know that there is always, or frequently, much difficulty in the United States in getting well-matured plants and in having Jack Frost strip the leaves from them so that they may be safely and conveniently handled between the field and garden. There can be no least doubt, of course, as to the undesirability, and indeed the sheer wrong of shipping such plants with leaves on, for every leaf, from every fraction of its surface, is evaporating water every minute of the time while it can get from nowhere, in the absence of root transpiration after the plants are lifted, than from the inner juices of the plant. That is why first the leaves wilt and then the plants, the result being dangerously depleted if not actually destroyed plants.

The Advantages

But with a reasonable maturity the advantages of fall-planting are easily stated. Under proper conditions of speed in handling, between the nurserymen's field and the customer's garden, the roots can actually start a little business "on their own" before the ground freezes so that no growth can occur. This not only anchors them but prepares them for an early and prosperous spring start. To the claim that they are less safe against frost, I reply that there can be no doubt as to this, but that it is easily met by practicable and reasonable protection. I think that if ground is drawn over the plants for the first six inches above the soil level, they are safe against frost in all but the continuous subzero regions.

Then another danger is averted if the roses are permanently placed in the Fall. It is that of the slow deterioration to which they are undoubtedly subject in the nurseryman's storage. Theoretically, the Roses plowed out in the Fall are kept under cover every minute of the time, free from exposure to sun and wind, until they are actually planted or "heeled in" in the nurseryman's cellar, which it is expected will be kept fairly above freezing all Winter. Practically, I fear that most of the time the plants suffer much more exposure in reaching storage, and considerable exposure or drying out in the cellar, shed or other placed used to carry them over Winter and to make them accessible at all times for shipment.

Another claim of advantage for fall-planting is that there is time to do the work in a more leisurely fashion in the Fall than in the rush of Spring. Further the nurseryman's stocks are then full, and the early buyer has the first and best choice.

From the standpoint, and given the proper conditions, this fall-planting seems very preferable. The conditions, however, must be reasonably favorable, as I have above attempted to set out.

The Disadvantages.

What is the other side of the picture? What are the disadvantages of fall-planting?

The first claim will be that the plants are not ripe, and are frequently dug and handled without leaf-tripping, so that they are seriously weakened before they are shipped. That is, it is not the fall-planting method which is wrong here but the method of fall-planting, or rather of fall plant handling.

Then it is urged that the winter danger is greatly increased and that many plants freeze. I suspect that this is true when the necessary care is not undertaken to protect as above indicated, or in some other way to look out for proper protection. Here again the deficiency relates less to the method of fall-planting than to failures in connection with it.

Quite naturally those who sell the small-root Roses shipped in full leaf must and do say a great deal against fall-planting, because they cannot participate in it. Their little Roses which never do get into the open ground until the customer puts them there would inevitably perish if exposed in their small and tender condition during our cold winter. Sometimes I think that the outcry against fall-planting has been fostered by these gentlemen, who have nothing safe to sell at that time.

Some of the nurserymen who have good outdoor rose-fields and grow good Roses in these fields, are not yet really warmed up about fall-planting because they are not prepared to handle the Roses with sufficient celerity and care in the Fall.

Once before I have urged that a dead-line be set for fall planting. That was a mistake, for it set up a positive date for a variable fact. What I had in mind was to suggest that fall-planting be not delayed until severe freezing had occurred and the ground was in that lumpy condition which follows trying to break it up, with many particles actually frozen together. I certainly do not believe in that kind of fall-planting, which is winter-planting, and not fall-planting at all.

In previous articles I have called attention to the fact that where it was not convenient to plant Roses in the Fall, and where they could be brought from the nurseryman in good condition in the Fall, they might well be carried over in the garden en masse, completely buried in a place where the drainage was perfect, from which they might be exhumed for the earliest possible spring-plan.

I still think this is a good practice, though I will admit that some experience with stock weakened by improper handling before it reached us has been disappointing.

If I could stand up in a row to be questioned, a single hundred of the really acute growers of Roses who constantly confer with me, I would find a large preference for fall-planting because it would be done by those who know how to plant in the Fall as well as in the Spring, and who do better by their Roses, in consequence, than the average garden amateur. The answer to this might be that if careful planting will make Roses prosper in the Fall, then careful planting should be the rule, and the amateur should not limit himself from following a good practice because he has not had the completest experience with it.

I have in this story thought out aloud with complete frankness. It should be observed by any reader. I believe that I still favor fall-planting where it can properly be done. It is essential that careful work be done.

Cattle Doing Well On Late Pasture

Cattle are generally in fair condition in Peterborough County even though they are being left on grass longer than usual. Purchase of sows still continues. Apparently the number kept this year will be above normal, in comparison to about 50% of normal last year. Good poultrymen again feel that egg production is their most profitable line of activity. Present egg prices are encouraging, exceptionally good care and feeding this year.

FEED SCREENINGS HIT LOW PRICES

Domestic Demand Quiet and Shipments Lighter Than in 1929.

ELEVATORS CONGESTED

The Seed Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture report that all classes of screenings from this year's crop are practically identical in quality with the same classes a year ago. Domestic demand has been quiet with shipments considerably lighter than last year.

The light corn crop in the United States, due to the prolonged drought, stimulated the early export to that country of oat scalpings, and later of standard recleaned screenings and other classes of grain screenings.

Since these products of the 1930 crop first offered, the term "oat scalpings" has been replaced with the term "mixed feed oats" and the name "standard recleaned screenings" has been replaced with the term "No. 1 feed screenings."

No. 1 Feed Screenings, suitably ground, compare favorably with good grain meals in mixed feeds. The value of mixed feed oats may be judged from their composition, namely, from 75% to 85% wild oats with varying small proportions of oats, barley, rye, and wheat. This year's production weighs from 34 to 35 lbs. per bushel.

The elevator congestion of last year has been repeated, and No. 1 Feed Screenings, priced at Fort William at $8 and $9 per ton, have been shipped in large quantities to Buffalo where, at $13 to $15 per ton, they are a profitable substitute for corn at 85 cents per bushel or about $30 per ton.

Mixed feed oats, F.O.B. Fort William, have been as low priced as 10 cents per bushel. Storage and other handling and carrying charges would, therefore, soon exceed their present value and considerable quantities will possibly be destroyed in order to make room in the elevators for wheat and other more valuable grains.

KEEP FOUNTAINS FROM FREEZING

Allowing Hens to Go Without Water in Winter Costly to Poultryman.

HEATER TIPS

If poultrymen actually knew what it cost them to allow their hens to go without water for even a short time during winter days, there would be fewer fountains dry or frozen. Over 50% of the hen's body and better than 60% of her product is water. Fountains that are dry for only a few hours are apt to cause constipation. Failure to have water available all the time decreases egg production. Water is the cheapest part of a ration. No one can afford to let it affect the health of the birds or be the limiting factor in egg production.

Too often, poultry raisers find difficulty in keeping the hens supplied with water in winter. During severe weather it is not uncommon to find the fountain coated with ice shortly after they are filled. This may be avoided by equipping the drinking fountains with small heaters. It costs very little to heat the water and may easily mean an extra dozen or more eggs per hen. There also is a decided saving in labor compared to filling the fountains three to four times a day.

A regular 14-quart galvanized pail set in a water stand is inexpensive and very satisfactory. It is easy for the birds to drink the water, little chance for the water fountain to be tipped over and quite simple to equip with a heater. A pail permits the use of an electric light bulb as a heater. To protect the light, insert it in a piece of eaves spout or metal tube, to which a bottom has been soldered. Placing sand in the bottom of the tube will keep it erect when suspended in the fountain. To retain the heat, have a cover over the tube.

Aside from keeping water available, provide a good egg mash. The mash is fully as important as a constant water supply for maximum egg production.

CRATE FEEDING FOR FEW WEEKS ADDS VALUE TO YOUR POULTRY

Agriculture Department Gives Tips on Proper Rations and Feeding.

DON'T OVERFEED AT FIRST

OTTAWA Ont., Nov. 22 (C.P.)—With establishment of government grades, formally known as the Canadian standards for dressed poultry, as the basis on which the leading wholesale buyers have agreed to purchase dressed poultry this year, proper finishing of poultry for market becomes a matter of direct financial interest to farmers and poultrymen. It is now possible through consistent crate feeding over a period ranging from ten days to four weeks depending on the type of bird fed, for the farmer to add from 50 to 75 cents to the cash value of his marketable poultry.

Under Canadian Standards for Dressed Poultry there are two classes, "Milked" and "Selected." The grades under these classes are "Milkfed Special," "Milkfed A," Milkfed B," "Selected Special," "Selected A," "Selected B," "Selected C" and "Selected D."

The average farm flock bird without special finishing may be expected to grade "Selected B." Through proper crate feeding the grade of this bird can be raised into the milkfed class, improving its grade and hence its value from four to six grades. When it is considered the differential between each grade may range from 2 cents to 5 cents more per pound the value of crate feding is at once apparent.

Requirements for the milkfed class as set out in the regulations for the grading and marking of dressed poultry are: All poultry to qualify for the class must show a white color in the deposits of fat. The skin and flesh must be soft in texture showing evidence of the birds having been cratefatted for a sufficient length of time to soften or kill out the muscles.

Tested Rations

Among the rations which have been tested and which are recommended by the Division of Poultry Husbandry of the Dominion Experimental Farms for crate feeding and finishing poultry for market are:

Equal parts of middlings, ground oats and barley; equal parts of middlings, ground oats and ground new potatoes; equal parts of middlings, ground oats and mashed potatoes; equal parts of middlings, ground oats and cornmeal; equal parts of shorts, ground oat groats and ground barley; equal parts of low grade flour, ground barley and ground oats; equal parts of ground whole wheat, ground whole oats and ground whole barley; equal parts of ground barley, ground buckwheat and bran.

A report on milk-feeding poultry issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture says: "Crate-feeding poultry is essentially a practical proposition. The feeding crate should be about 6 feet long, 16 inches wide, 20 inches deep, divided into three compartments through the use of two tight wooden partitions and ends. These are fastened to-gether with light frame stock and the front, back and sides covered with slats. A "V" shaped feeding trough, 2¼ inches inside, is placed in front of the crate about 4 inches from the bottom and 2 inches from the slats on the front of the crate which are placed vertically. Such a crate will hold twelve birds, four in each of the compartments.

"In crate feeding all grain fed should be finely ground and the coarser hulls removed. The dry ingredients should be thoroughly worked together and be mixed to the consistency of a thin porridge through the use of home-made buttermilk, commercial buttermilk powder or semi-solid buttermilk, sour milk or skim-milk.

"When the birds are placed in crates they should be given a purgative in the form of epsom salts, the dosage being at the rate of one pound of epsom salts to each 100 birds.

"Every care should be taken not to overfeed at first. As soon as the birds have become accustomed to the crate they should be fed as much of the porridge mixture as they will clean up readily in twenty minutes. At the end of the feeding period the trough should be thoroughly cleaned.

"The length of time it will pay to feed a bird depends on local conditions. Young cockerels from 5 to 6 months old in good health and vigorous may be fed profitably from four to five weeks, while hens which have passed their second laying season may be well finished in from ten to fourteen days. The leghorn and other lightweight breeds make good broilers but poor roasters, being too nervous to take to crate feeding, while the Barred Plymouth Rocks and similar general purpose breeds make ideal market birds.

"For best results in crate feeding the birds should be in a cool, quiet, well ventilated place such as is afforded by a convenient shed, barn or stable. They should have enough light to see to eat and, what is more important, they should be kept quiet and contented."

Little Red Clover In Hastings County

There is an increase in the number of calves raised in Hastings County this year probably due to the low price of veal. The milk supply is keeping up well and cattle are in very good condition considering the shortage of pasture and after grass. There will be very little red clover seed in this district this year, but there will be an increase in the amount of alfalfa seed, some very good yields being reported. There is a decrease in the fall wheat acreage, but fields are looking well despite the dry weather. Plowing is progressing and will be completed in a few days, except in sections where it has been too dry. Hog prices are encouraging and more sows are being bred. Little pigs are selling at $14 a pair.

One Killed, Four Hurt In Barcelona Riot

BARCELONA, Spain, Nov. 21 (C.P.)—One man was killed and four were injured to-day as rioting broke out anew between striking workmen, the police and a group of strike-breakers.

The clash took place in one of the industrial suburbs where disorders have continued for the past two days despite strike headquarters' orders that a general strike be discontinued.

To-day's riot occurred unexpectedly, as police were escorting the strike-breakers to their places of employment. The rest of the city remained quiet.

WOOL WAREHOUSE IS WELL UNDER WAY

Work Commenced on Weston Structure Destroyed by Fire.

Work is now well underway on a new wool warehouse at Weston, Ontario, for the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers to replace the old building destroyed by fire last August. The new building, which is being erected on the foundation of the old, will be absolutely fireproof and will consist of two stories in place of the three-storey building used before. It is being built in such a way as to allow for expansion across the tracks later on as business necessitates. A considerable saving in handling due to the decreased height will be effected and the new structure will be ready in ample time to handle the wool clip of 1931. The cost of this building has been materially lowered owing to the fact that the basement, including floors and walls of the old building came through the fire undamaged and are being used in the new one.

Settlements for the 1930 clip, based on insurance and wool salvage, are now being made and it is hoped that all will be in the mails some time before Christmas.

C.N.R. BROADCAST.

East and West in both Canada and the United States know Olive Kurth, the Canadian contralto, who will be the soloist during the Canadian National Railways' symphony hour on Sunday, November 23. For a number of years Olive Kurth was an important part of the musical life of Winnipeg, appearing as soloist and teacher, singing in concert and in such oratorios as "The Messiah," "Elijah" and "St. Matthew's Passion," and now she has taken up her work in Vancouver. She was born at St. Mary's, Ontario, and at the age of eleven she attracted the attention of an outstanding vocal teacher for the maturity, richness and purity of her voice. Audiences in New York, Chicago, Minneapolis and Seattle know her almost as well as those in her own country. On Sunday she will sing, among other numbers, a superb aria from the opera "La Gioconda", two German lieder by Brahms; and two modern English songs, "I Have Twelve Oxen" by Ireland, and "Molly-O" by Alexander Rowley.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright.
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet
Or dims the radiant light
No unkind word our lips shall pass
No envy sour the mind,
But each shall seek the common weal
The good of all mankind.

WARSAW

... to be hoped that each Branch ... this district has sent a ... with the conveners of the com... on the eleven main activities of the Women's Institute work.

Sometimes branches do not realize the good some little thing they have done may do if it be known. We all know it is the little things in life that count. All big things are the result of little things. There must be some small nucleus to start with and as in everything else, the little things added together make a goodly pile.

From what our departmental delegates tell us, all districts are apt to fail to report as they should. The conveners want these reports for their aid.

East Peterborough has done a great deal. Not a branch but has been felt for good in the community. Every single branch is worth while, and some have been unique in their work. Apsley lends its energies very much towards the wonderful little Red Cross Hospital. And a car load of these ladies comes all the way to attend the District meetings, over fifty miles last June, and that in a rain. The hospital should have more assistance than it does from the other branches, but they do not hear of it much, consequently it is apt to be forgotten, especially as there are other things pressing.

Young's Point is a recent branch but well organized, some of the members come long distances. When another branch put on a play fifty-fifty there, they took no end of pains to have it go off well and it did. They had a class last winter and expect another soon. They had a sewing contest for the girls which aroused a great deal of interest among the young girls and some splendid work was done.

Warsaw has done a good deal of relief work and bought the old school. A play was put on which netted a good sum towards making payment. True the school was not just the idea', but it was the best that could be done. A class, probably in domestic science will be held this winter in conjunction with a boys' class.

The Lakefied, Sr. and Jr. Branches have aided the House of Refuge, done a good deal of relief work and health work. Keene Jr., is a very large though new Institute which seems to take a particular interest in agriculture. Havelock has a Sr. and Jr. branch and they have decorated and furnished a room in the Town Hall where they hold the meetings.

Belmont has done community work and ever in their minds is the park to which they add something each year. Trent River is a recent organization which is pushing ahead. Norwood has done a great deal of relief work.

Some few branches do not see the need of sending delegates to the convention. Many of the difficulties they encounter might not be so great had a live member attended the convention, brought back a good report and been able to bring up ideas gotten at the convention when needed at the regular or executive meetings.

For a long time East Peterborough had only three branches of which Warsaw was the oldest but they failed to see the good of uniting. It was spoken of, urged by some, Mrs. Henry Clements was the delegate to a convention where the good of branches in a district uniting was especially stressed. She was so in earnest about it that the result, not immediate, was that Belmont and Norwood branches were invited to Warsaw, also Mrs. Chas. McCoun, of Campbellford, and the district as such was organized.

If nothing else it has meant much to have the District Annual meeting and the gatherings of women from the district. Friendships have been formed, where likely the women would otherwise never have met. It does mean work for the executive, and especially for the District secretary. However, her work could be much lessened if each branch secretary would promptly send the report of the meetings.

East Peterboorough as a district has taken health, education, agriculture, relief, Canadian industries and legislation.

Local doctors and the medical health officer have helped the Institutes and know they can depend on the Institute to help when needed.

AT MILLBROOK

A ripple of laughter passed over a well-attended Institute meeting, on one occasion, when the speaker asked, "How many here to-day want to learn how to reduce their waist line?" A score or more of hands went up, and the leader replied: "Well, the recipe is a very simple one: just eat less; it really is not necessary to give up all your favorite dishes, and feed on what is actually distasteful to you. Eat mainly what you like, but reduce the quantity taken, and the girth will gradually lessen."

Eager questions led to the further advice to exercise, beginning simply, and adding daily as the muscles grow used to the new demands upon them. A desire to add to one's gracefulness and suppleness will be satisfied by such exercises as the following. 'Stand erect with feet four inches apart, and with hands stretched high above the head, end upper part of the body as far to the right as possible, then forward, then to the left, backward, thus rotating with the trunk. Do this six times at first, then increase until you try it from fifteen to twenty times daily.

Clasping the hands behind the neck and again going over the rotating process is also helpful, and if you will stretch your hands high above your heads and bend forward, touching the toes without bending the knees, you have another reducing exercise that will help with the waist line."

Aided Institute Gatherings

An invitation to try out what the speaker had just recommended made a decided variation in that Institute gathering, and soon everyone was practically speechless with laughter. Nevertheless more than one member privately decided to make the exercises a part of her daily regime, realizing that only by faithful persistence was she likely to accomplish her earnest wish to be able to wear a smaller dress size at the next call upon her dressmaker, or when buying a readymade garment.

"The calm and controlled woman gest more out of life, and accomplishes more than her nerve-strained sister who is always doing things in a hurry," was the statement in a paper delivered at a branch meeting that provoked both thought and discussion. After some questions had been asked and answered, the members began to see clearly that, in this hurried, strenuous age, when poise and graciousness are growing more and more rare, the person who does her work quietly, really does make more headway than one who is ever in a rush.

"It is apparent that strain is wearing on nerves, and on looks," the speaker declared; "physical strain means nervous and mental strain, and in the end loss of even spiritual balance. If you would cultivate poise, and be a woman whom others find it a pleasure and helpful to greet, take your time; never drive at your work with nervous energy at the topmost pitch; really hurry, as it works up excitement, actually leads to depression as an aftermath, and has been known as a factor driving women to cigarettes, and sometimes drink."

Take Time For Rest

Out of the somewhat heated discussion grew the fact that to take time for short rest periods, even during a busy morning and for only five minutes at a time, restores balance and quiets excited nerves. Lying flat on the back was recommended as 'the doctor's own prescription', because medical men assert that while a man can relax in an easy chair, woman, by her peculiar physical formation, requires actual lying down, stretched out at ease, to accomplish the same end. Having the eyes shielded from the light is another help to frayed nerves and high-pitched emotions; putting aside all though of the work in hand for a brief period, and letting the mind dwell instead in some happy experience, even a good picture, a dear friend, a pleasant social gathering, has a soothing physic effect.

Perhaps the best thing of all, the women averred, was when material things were put in second place to the spiritual, the work demanding attention was better done, and the best personality developed. The 'man of the house', and the children, would notice the difference in mother, and in the very home atmosphere, and if some things remained undone, everyone would be happier and the homemaker, upon whom so much depends in determining even the 'mental twist', and development of the finer things in her family, will have a gracious, richer life because of the direct effort she has made to capture 'a life of poise.'

CAVAN

November is the month in which hot lunches commence in the rural schools.

In Cavan Centre School or S.S. No. 7 the hot lunch has been served for at least ten years, if not more. It is very popular with the parents, many of whom would not like to think of their children sitting down to a cold lunch. Just one hot dish is served each day and with the co-operation of the teacher it makes no extra work for the mothers.

This morning a small girl in our household filled a bottle with milk and went to the cellar for a nice large onion. This was her contribution to the hot dish for the day, which was escolloped potatoes. Her ordinary lunch was already in her dinner pail.

Unfortunately there are still men and women in the country who consider it needless to supply a hot drink for the country child to augment the lunch carried from home. This is all the more serious as statistics will show that the country child is below the city child physically. This is partly owing to the long walk, partly owing to the lack of medical inspection, and the necessary machinery to get defects remedied easily, but a great deal to the cold lunch at noon, hurriedly eaten, without supervision and the lack of a warm drink to promote easy and rapid digestion. Industrial centres realize the economy of the hot lunch, because they get so much better work out of the employee, and school trustees should consider it from this standpoint. The expensive machinery of education is wasted when it operates on a mind listless from hunger or befogged by indigestible food.

Where there is no hot dish served the child should carry hot soup, cocoa or milk. Unfortunately the thermos bottles are heavy and easily broken, so a half-pint perfect seal bottle of milk seems the more practical.

The child must have a substantial course, usually of sandwiches, which are easily carried. The meat, fish, eggs and etc. in these should be finely divided and mildly seasoned and wrapped in wax paper to keep them fresh. If carefully wrapped, with the exclusion of all air, most sandwiches of this kind can be prepared the night before. Egg sandwiches are the exception as they spoil quickly.

Instead of the sandwich, plain bread and a leg of chicken may be carried, each wrapped in waxed paper. A second kind of sandwich of brown bread is desirable made with a salad, chopped nuts or even jelly or jam. The main point being, it must be tasty, seasoned mildly, but well, and must not soak into the bread.

The crisp cakes such as natural cookies and hermits are better than soft, rich cakes. Sponge cakes made with flour, eggs, sugar and flavoring only, are excellent for children. Milk chocolate or butterscotch are additions for the very active child, who needs much fuel food, but you must impress on him that this must only be eaten at the end of the meal, not at recess or coming from school.

A salad in a glass, a fresh fruit celery, are very necessary to give the proper vitamines and the school child must always have his two vegetables at supper, which he otherwise would have for the noon meal. No over-rich food like pastries and chocolate cake should be given except as a rare treat, and better, not at all.

Instead of carrying milk every day, a portion of milk pudding may be carried and perhaps fruit juice to drink, or an extra piece of fruit like an orange, or one of our good Ontario apples. It takes careful thought to keep the child up to weight and color when he walks a long distance to school after an early breakfast. It gets so monotonous unless the mother is clever at varying the lunch. Little pots of sandwich mixtures are a good thing to prepare, ground cheese, ground meat and dressing, pimentos and dressing and etc. make a pleasant variation on hand. The contaiher should be easily carried, and not too heavy. Two serviettes are best, one to use as a table cloth and one as a serviette.

These plain white serviettes can be purchased for a trifle and add to the appearance of the lunch, when spread out.

The more attractive in appearance the lunch can be made, the more appetizing it will be, besides teaching the child cleanly and dainty habits in eating.

MOUNT PLEASANT

The Women's Institute must keep up with the times each year brings changes in the membership.

Too many very young members make a branch top heavy and it is apt to crash into a heap of debris.

But too many old members mean dry rot, and again ruin faces a branch. It is the procession of new members which leavens the group and keeps it rolling onward to fulil its destiny.

The motto of the Women's Institute is "For Home and Country" and no organization in all the world can boast a more noble motto.

There is a source of securing new members and one which often brings besides new blood, a rich experience in this work, even country branches find the occasional stranger who comes with in our gates, ours to seek to make welcome, and to enlist in the great forward movement of the organization. Few branches are too small or in too remote localities for at least a small portion of this kind of work.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

NOT VERY LONG ago we discussed the cleaning of closets and dresser drawers, etc., in preparation to Fall cleaning. Maybe when you finished cleaning the closet you had a great deal more space that you had before, or maybe you just put everything back in the same old place and still have the space all taken up!

• • • • • • •

But there are some new closet furnishings which are among the latest devices for increasing closet space in an exquisite way.

• • • • • • •

It really is amazing the extent to which these accessories add to closet comfort both in accommodating extra articles and in giving it a neat, well appointed appearance

• • • • • • •

Unless one has a carpenter include the fittings in his work when a house is built, the furnishings are portable—and are usually constructed of a material resembling thin wood, although extra heavy cardboard is also used. Of course that is merely a matter of choice.

• • • • • • •

Tiers of drawers can be bought in widths and heights to fit into almost any space. These can be put under shelves or on them, or in inches at side of closet doors.

• • • • • • •

Or if a closet is deep they can line the back of the wall fully or in part.

• • • • • • •

These fittings may be finished to match the color scheme of the bedroom or in a corresponding shade.

• • • • • • •

The amount of light in a closet should be taken into account in considering the color scheme—for instance if the closet is dark—yellow will inflect sunshine, etc.

• • • • • • •

The furnishings are seldom if ever found in dark hues, which indeed are not suited to closets.

• • • • • • •

Small inner closets are well adapted to holding some personal belongings. These like the set of drawers come in all sorts of sizes, widths and heights—most of them have shelves.

• • • • • • •

Shelves are just the thing for shoes while drawers are preferable for stockings. And very narrow, rather high rectagular boxes, with hinged lids or slits in their covers are closet-soiled clothes containers.

• • • • • • •

Of course, these furnishings are but a few of the numerous portable closet furnishings available today but the yare of immense value in simplifying keeping a closet in order.

• • • • • • •

In fact a closet fitted with them has a place for everything and it remains with the occupant of the room to have everything in its place.

• • • • • • •

Fortunately the woman who is handy with tools can make many of the furnishings herself, or if she is not so handy she may be able to persuade her husband or one of her family to make them for her.

• • • • • • •

Remember that heavy cardboard boxes can be the nucleus for some articles and boxes of thin wood such as some from grocers can be converted into closet furnishings.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

STOMACH PAIN FROM AIR IN LARGE INTESTINE.

A great many individuals suffer with pain in the stomach, the pain sometimes shifting down to the region of the appendix.

Naturally they treat themselves or have their doctor treat them for "indigestion", the pain disappearing almost immediately certain drugs are used.

Now pain in the stomach is usually due to some disturbance in the stomach, but very often it is caused by conditions in the other organs, and no amount of "treatment" of the stomach is going to get rid of that pain.

As a matter of fact the liver and gall bladder are responsible for irritation, gas formation and pain in the stomach. When the liver and gall bladder are sluggish in action, due to lack of exercise or to some real ailment, then pain and gas formation in the stomach often follows. The stomach keeps moving its walls in an attempt to get rid of this gas, and this movement against the gas causes pain.

However, one of the most frequent causes of this pain in the stomach is due to gas away down in the large intestine.

The individual eats considerable starchy food—bread, potatoes, pastry—and as he doesn't chew it sufficiently, it goes down to the stomach in such a condition that many of the starch granules do not get broken down, and then pass on through the small intestine unchanged. However when these starch granules reach the large intestine organisms there break open the granules, and this causes the formation of gas.

The pressure of this gas goes back upward through small intestine to stomach and causes its muscular walls to contract, and pain arises.

In proof of this, Drs. F. M. Smith, W. D. Paul and W. M. Fowler, Oowa City, were able to produce this pain in the stomach by putting about a quart of air into the large intestine. Even an ounce of air caused the movements of intestine to go upwards instead of downwards.

The point then is that pain in stomach can often be due to gas in the large intestine due to constipation, to too much starchy food, or other causes.

Foods that you know cause gas formation—onions, cabbage, bread, potatoes, pastry—should be eaten in limited quantities, and always chewed well before being swallowed.

This pain in the stomach often resembles the pain of ulcer.

The lesson would be then to always chew the food well.

SUPPER CLUB HEARS MISS P. MOLNAROVA

Is Soon Returning to Czechoslovakia to Take up Y.W.C.A. Duties.

Concluding an inspirational and instructive address, Miss Pavla Molnarova, who is shortly to return to her native Czechoslovakia to assume the responsibilities as travelling secretary of the Y.W.C.A., delighted members of the Friday Night Supper Club at the Y.M.C.A. with a masterful interpretation of an old hymn, dear and dear to the heart of her people, as she expressed it.

The hymn dates back to the fifteenth century and was sung by the advocates of intellectual and religious freedom. The speaker also displayed her country's flag—a red, white and blue pennant. Its display was greeted with an outburst of applause, a sign of goodwill, which had apparently been fostered by the speaker's very eloquent and striking treatment of her subject.

Her address which followed closely along the lines of her talk to members of the Kiwanis Club at their noon luncheon, was nevertheless stressed from a different angle. It was explained that her speech before the members of the Supper Club constituted her "maiden" speech before a group of boys. With commendable adaptability Miss Molnarova spoke fully of the romantic career of President Dr. Masaryk, a career which should provide inspiration and encouragement to every young man—and young woman, too. "He is a fairy tale in himself," she exclaimed, "and before his personality hatred stops. He is the unifying force of the race."

The speaker was introduced by the president of the club, C. A. Salmonsen, who also tendered her a vote of thanks at the close, which was moved by Alf McKee and seconded by Vern. Armstrong.

Robert Killaly, vice-president, was unanimously nominated to attend the forthcoming "Y" convention at Montreal.

AMOS-ANDY SET CAPITOL RECORD

New Figures For Attendance and Receipts—"All Quiet" Returning.

McCORMACK AT REGENT.

Amos 'n' Andy broke three of the Capitol's records, setting up new figures for attendance, receipts and the week's business. It topped the Coconuts for the biggest business of any one picture.

For next week the program follows:

Monday—Kay Johnson in "Madam Satan."

Tuesday and Wednesday—George Arliss in "Old English."

Thursday and Friday—"With Byrd at the South Pole" and "Dangerous Nan McGrew."

"All Quiet on the Western Front" will be back again at the Capitol December 2 and 3.

The feature picture at the Regent next week is John McCormack in "Song of My Heart". The world famous tenor sings some of the lyrics that have endeared him to music lovers in almost every land.

Next week's attraction at the local houses are of unusually high standard, and extend over a wide range of subjects that should have a general appeal.

WOLHEIM OVERLOOKED

Louella Parsons writes from Hollywood:

No honorable mention was made of Louis Wolheim in "All Quiet on the Western Front" when the prizes were awarded, but it is my personal opinion that, fine as "All Quiet" is from a directorial standpoint, a few of the pats on the shoulder should have gone to Wolheim. His performance is one of the things that made the picture such a classic.

Lewis Milstone knew what he was doing when he turned all other applicants down and stuck to Wolheim. The two Louies have always done pretty well together.

I have been hoping some day one of the film companies would say "We made a mistake in changing the title of a picture." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has done that with Grace Moore's first talkie, originally titled "Jenny Lind," then put on the market as "A Lady's Morals."

Every film writer for months spoke of "Jenny Lind" and an appropriate vehicle it was for Miss Moore. Then, without warning, all the "Jenny Lind" atmosphere was removed and a new name substituted which didn't mean a nickel's worth. Protest after protest came to M.G.M. "Why not let Grace Moore play 'Jenny Lind?'" So when the picture is shown here next week it will be as "Jenny Lind." I hope that other companies will regard this as a precedent. Why change the name of a picture that has had publicity under another title?

SCREEN AND STAGE NOTES

Lita Gray Chaplin's annual accounting of the rearing of Chaplin's two children shows they cost only $6,005 the past year. Previous year was $7,252 and the first year $10,792.

Charlie Chaplin, his "City Lights" completed, is expected to leave Hollywood for New York and London on Dec. 15 for his first extnded vacation in several years. Minus talk, but with sound and music, "City Lights" is now being titled and synchronized and will have its premiere in a Los Angeles theatre on New Year's Eve. The date for its New York showing has not been decided yet.

Ramon Novarro's next English language picture awaits the completion of the Spanish and French versions of "Call of the Flesh." It is an adaptation of "Daybreak," by Dr. Arthur Schnitzler, and is one of the first of the Austrian novelist's stories to be brought to the screen.

Joan Crawford's new film, "Dance Fool, Dance," is to go into production in the immediate future. The story is described as "a catalogue of modern follies." It was written by Aurania Rouveral, author of the successful stage play "Skidding."

The cast of "East Lynne" continues to mount from week to week. Thus far it includes Ann Harding, Clive Brook, O. P. Heggie, Conrad Nagel, Beryl Mercer and Cecilia Loftus. Further disclosures are expected next week.

The gayety and abandon of Vienna before the war form the background for "Viennese Nights," a Technicolor production of the first romance written for the screen by Sigmund Romberg and Oscar Hammerstein 2d. It will have its premiere at the Warner Brothers' Theatre on Nov. 26, replacing "Outward Bound."

Ann Harding will bgein work soon on her next picture, "Rebound," from the stage play by Donald Ogden Stewart.

She is mentioned for the femme lead in an independent to be produced by Bruce Mitchell.

Trial in which S. George Ullman seeks to retire with honor as executor of Rudolph Valentino's estate, and Valentino's brother and sister allege misappropriations, started last week. Ullman's opening testimony was that he ballyhooed the funeral on Broadway to build the value of the estate, hiring 1,500 policeman and 40 press agents for the funeral. He identified drafts of $1,500 and $2,500 for funeral expenses. Checks totalling $22,500 he alloted himself as salary for estate management. Ullman said Valentino died $500,000 in debt, but the estate had been managed to bring $700,000 profit.

NEWS PERSONALITIES

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 22—Rating of West Coast personalities in regard to their news values, as established by cities throughout the country, is not what some might crack it up to be.

Local wire services give Chaplin a clean first, in social and picture activities.

Second in nation-wide news value is Aimee Semple McPherson, the evangelist, and third Clara Bow.

Jack Dempsey is rated fourth, with opinion that he'll be completely out of the picture if he doesn't do "something" within a year.

MUST HAVE CAKE

One of those dumb gags has been worked by Jay Brennan, who blames it upon his sister. It's so long since the dumb gags were laughingly popular a revival could be due.

Jay says a tramp came up to the front door of his sister's house in the country, asking for a piece of cake.

"We have no cake," said the woman, "but you can have bread, butter and coffee."

"Nope," replied the bum, "this is my birthday and I must have cake."

A LONDON OPINION

This is how the motion-picture critic of The London Times analyses his reactions to Eddie Cantor, who made his English screen debut recently in "Whoopee": "Mr. Cantor's humor is thoroughly American. All his jokes are hard and seem to have passed through a machine which has given them a cutting edge. But they are so exquisitely timed that we soon cease to resent their hardness. There is comicality in the contrast between the sharpness of his tongue and the patience which he brings to adversity."

GROUCHO MARX'S OPERATION.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22—Groucho (Julius) Marx was rushed to the Michael Reese Hospital here on Friday night (7) upon his arrival to play the Palace for R-K-O. He was operated on for acute appendicitis.

Zeppo Marx who usually works straight assumed his brother's trick mustache and cutaway and gave a creditable performance Saturday matinee with the public unaware of the missing member. Seemingly it was Zeppo who was absent.

Sudden switch had all three of the performing brothers doing each other's stuff to fill the gap.

Groucho's operation was reported a success with all symptoms under control.

Harpo, Chico and Zeppo will receive the Four Marx Bros'. full salary, $9,000.00, at the R-K-O Palace this week. R-K-O booking office in New York has cancelled the Marxes' next week booking, Cincinnati, and is withholding the following date, Cleveland (22), pending Julius' recovery.

The three Marx boys would not go on at the Palace until determining what their salary would be for the abbreviated turn. New York decided to pay them off in full.

Jobyna Ralston, former star and out of pictures since marrying Richard Arlen three years ago, may return to the screen.

MRS. WM. ALLAN ADDRESSES W.M.S.

Regular Monthly Meeting of Trinity Society Held in Reid Street Hall.

The November meeting of Trinity W.M.S. was held in Reid Street Hall with a splendid attendance. The president, Mrs. S. D. Carver, occupied the chair and the meeting opened by singing the hymn, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," after which the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

A short business session followed at which excellent reports were given by the secretary-treasurer and convenors of committees.

The meeting was then taken over by Mrs. A. R. Hoover's group. The scripture lesson, taken from 1st Peter, 5th chapter, verses 1-11, was read by Mrs. W. G. Graham, who also made a few remarks on the main thought. She emphasized the thought. That what we do to help with God's work should be performed with a real willingness; that we should not have to be coaxed or forced by a cold sense of duty to take our share, especially those who are fitted for leadership. The love of Jesus should so fill our hearts that we could not help doing what we are able for his kingdom.

The second thought brought out was that God's children, especially those in positions of authority should be humble remembering that they are but stewards of God's bounty.

The third point taken up was that we can cast all our care upon Him and if at times our burden seems too heavy, let us not forget to call upon God for help, and in conclusion, she brought out the thought in verse 8. That we must always be on our guard and remain steadfast in faith.

The report of Christian stewardship was given by Mrs. T. Sargeant and Mrs. Blackmore gave a very interesting reading. The speaker of afternoon, Mrs. William Allan of St. Paul's Manse, was introduced by Mrs. Hoover in a very pleasing way. Mrs. Allan's subject was "Stones or Barriers to Progress" and she gave a very inspirational and able address, charming all with her ease and fluency. She based her remarks on a passage of scripture taken from Mark 16 chapter, and 3rd verse, "Who shall roll away the stone?" saying that the stones which we as a local church or as individuals come up against are usually of man's making and as women of ancient times found the stone rolled away, so we as women of this age will usually find that God has rolled away the stone or removed the barrier which hindered our progress.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Allan by Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Blackmore, and extended to her by the president.

A short account of the wonderful work being done by Miss Mabel McGregor, Strangers' secretary in Montreal, was read and a picture of her passed around through the audience.

The meeting closed by repeating the Mizpah benediction in unison.

Tigers to Field Stronger Team Than First Expected

COACH RODDEN MAKES CHANGES IN THE LINE-UP

Ernie Cox and Alex Denman, Veteran Players, May Get Into Game.

TRI-COLOR HAS BIG CHANCE.

Result Will Depend on Queen's Ability to Break Bengal System.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 22.—(CP)—Football supporters from Kingston, sporting the familiar Tri-color ribbons of Queen's University, arrived early in this city today to witness the battle of gridiron warriors at Varsity stadium this afternoon. Queen's, champions of the inter-collegiate union, are pitted against what probably can be rated the most consistent battering ram in Canadian football history—Hamilton Tigers, badly crippled survivors of the "Big Four" race.

While opinion is somewhat divided as to the outcome, the consensus shows critics generally favor Tigers to down the Tri-color and advance into the Eastern Canada final against Toronto Balmy Beach. Tigers have established an enviable record during the season. They played seven exhibition games in Western Canada prior to the opening of the Interprovincial union and won them all. In six contests during the "Big Four" schedule they won four and tied two and outscored the three other teams combined.

According to Coach Mike Rodder, Brian Timmis, injured last Saturday, will not be in uniform today. He is rated as Canada's best middle wing and will be sorely missed. Ernie Cox, veteran snapback, is also on the injured list but may get into the game. Alex Denman, veteran lineman, will start, but will use Bert Gibb, husky half-back at snap, with "Pep" Leadley, taking Gibb's place on the backfield. Glen Small, regular flying wing, will be moved onto Timmis' place, while Ray Boadway, will fill in the flying wing position vacated by Small. Tigers have managed to round up seven substitutes, so the team will not be in such a bad way as was first expected.

Queen's will be at full strength and full of confidence. The Tri-color twelve arrived here yesterday, while hundreds of their supporters poured into the city today.

Coach Harry Batstone declined to comment on the outcome of the game but declared his charges would prove worthy opponents for the Jungle Kings. It would appear chances of a Kingston victory depend on the Tricolor's ability to stop Tiger gains from scrimmage. To do this they must adopt a charging game, smashing through Coach Rodden's splendid interference system before it gets under way. If they are successful in this and Ian Gourley and De Diana, outside wings, play to their real form, the greatest upset in Canadian football may occur. Of course, Howard Carter, Queen's brilliant punter, will have to be at his best also, for opposing him will be Leadley, who has the happy faculty of playing outstanding football against his Alma Mater.

Fifth Meeting

This will be the fifth meeting of the teams in Canadian Rugby Union playdowns during the last seven years. Each team earned a brace of victories and to-day's game will be the rubber.

A crowd of 18,000 or more is expected to pack the stadium for the interesting tussle. Queen's will have a large block of enthusiasts cheering them on, while several thousand are coming from Hamilton by train and automobile.

Minor Rugby

While the Senior game holds the centre of interest in Eastern Canada circles, there are a number of games in the minor series, attracting a fair share of attention.

The Ontario Rugby Football Union intermediate championship series will start at Sarnia, when the Wanderers of that city entertain Oshawa Blue Devils, in the first of home and home games for the title. The second game will be played at Oshawa on Wednesday with the gate receipts being handed over to the unemployed fund of that city. Sarnia trounced the Blue Devils in the intermediate final last season, but meet an improved squad to-day.

Three important junior games are carded. At Montreal the Amateur Athletic Association of that city entertain University of Toronto intercollegiate champions in the first of the C.R.U., playdowns.

In the O.R.F.U. play-offs, Hamilton Collegiate Grads entertain Woodstock, in the first of a home and home series, while at Toronto, Argonauts and Manning Athletic Club of that city, clash in a sudden-death affair for the right to meet Penetang.

The Quebec junior champions will play the Ontario titleholders on the latter's field this year. The winner of this series will then meet Winnipeg Native Sons, Western Canada champions, in the Dominion final.

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, the cash and carry league doings up to to-day. Thurs., sees none other than Mister Connie Smythe's Maple Leaves out in front of their N.H.L. section, which is, what I mean, a considerable improvement over what the Toronto hired men was doing this time last year. You remember, Mac, that a year ago the Leaves was dropping games faster than the price of wheat has been falling, but this season the boys has got away to a flying start. They ain't been scored on in 3 games and has piled themselves up a nice total of 5 points, which would seem to indicate, Mac, that Mister Smythe's talent will have to be figgered for a good chance for the title, although personally, old-timer, I can't see nothing but them Canadiens and the Boston Bruins in the final dash for the old mug. The speed and dash of the Flying Frenchmen and the punch of them Boston boys makes them look like the class of the field, and right now the Leaves look the best of the rest of the gang. Maroons look to be shot, the Senators miss Clancy like the grain pool does last year's prices, and none of the others seem to have anything on the Toronto crew—if they can stand the pace.

The football season is getting ready to fold up without no reason for giving up the idea that Mister Mike Rodden's Tigers is going to cop the Dominion honors once more. The Bengals had 1 real tough time with the Argos last Sat. and come within a ace of being tossed out on their necks, but they weathered the storm and ain't likely to come that close to be licked again this season, in spite of the hospital reports what has a bunch of Tiger stars just one jump ahead of the mortician. What's left should take Queen's, especially since the new sensation, the human step-ladder, Sprague, is ready for the starting gun. A few Charley-horses and such ain't enough handicap to put the Tigers in the discard.

We'll get something of a line on our 2 junior O.H.A. teams next week, Mac, as the St. John's and young Petes is both billed for games in the S.P.A. serious, the Saints against Galt and the Petes with Stratford as their opposition. Both local outfits will trot out some new material for these clashes, and as they're allowed to use 12 men in these pre-season affairs, the games should be useful in seeing just how the boys look in action.

Well, with nothing more to talk about, I'd better stop at this corner. I'll be seeing ya subsequently.

Sportfully yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

PREP. SCHOOL TEAMS LOSE S.P.A. CONTESTS

St. Andrew's Bow to Mimico in First Game While Victorias Beat U.T.S.

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—Mimico and Toronto Victorias emerged victorious in two close games at Arena Gardens last night in the S.P.A. Junior series. The Mimico team scored a last minute victory over St. Andrew's College, while another Prep school sextet, University of Toronto Schools, was forced to accept the short end of a 2 to 1 count from the Victorias. The second game was the better of the two, although both contests were hard fought and the interest of the fans was retained until the end.

The first encounter brought together St. Andrew's College and Mimico Juniors and the latter team was victorious by 4 to 3 in a wild game in which individual rushes were the feature.

Neither team exhibited any good team-play, and it will be a big surprise if Mimico advances any further in the S.P.A. series. Play was ragged for the most part, both teams back-checking all the way, while the majority of the combination plays attempted were not on their mark, or broken up by the opposing team.

MARLBORO' JUNIORS WIN AT BELLEVILLE

Harry Gray Scores Four Goals as "Dukes" Win Exhibition Game 9-5.

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 22.— Toronto Marlboro juniors took the measure of Belleville's revamped squad in the opening exhibition tilt of the season here last night before a fair crowd, by the score of 9 to 5. The Dukes had the edge in the first two periods, but the Barber-Poles came back in the third session and gave the visitors a real tussle, and held them even in the scoring.

The visitors looked all the better in the first period, scoring five to Belleville's lone tally. The second period ended 7 to 3. Hodges, Grey and Good appeared to be the pick of the Dukes and figured in the majority of the scoring. Shill and Morrison showed up well. Grey accounted for four fo the visitors' goals.

TOMMY LOUGHRAN STOPS LEVINSKY

Former Champion Stages Comeback After Taking 'Nine' Count in Second.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Tommy Loughran, boxing wizard from Philadelphia, completely subdued the wild, heavy-swinging King Levinsky, the ex-fish peddler, in their ten round bout in the Chicago stadium last night.

Knocked to the floor for a count of nine in the second round, Loughran, former world's light heavyweight champion, came back with all his amazing boxing skill to defeat Levinsky beyond all question of doubt.

Loughran won nine of the ten rounds, losing only the second.

TIGER EATS 'EM RAW

Supremely confident of their ability to defeat the strong pulling Scullers, Hamilton Tigers faced the only team that looked like a real threat last Saturday. The game decided to which team the "Big Four" title went. There was a little inside story to the game that now can be told. It all started as the result of a little error back in the season of 1927. Prior to that date a young Rugby Player by the name of Ray Boadway started his career with the Toronto Canoe Club Juniors. In 1925 he joined the Argo Seniors but his chief job for the double-blue was benching. In the season of 1927 he didn't even have a chance to show his wares in the last three games. The result was that "Mr. Public Opinion" declared that he had seen the best days of his career and they were not so hot. Almost overnight he became a regular for the Hamilton Tigers. To-day he is rated as one of the best plungers that the game has ever had and is fearless to a marked degree. He has perfected the pivot and has it down to a point that he can almost turn on a dime going at full speed. While he was with the Tigers on their recent tour in the West, he was severely injured at Saskatoon, but he gamely carried on refusing to retire even in the face of adversity. However, mistakes happen even in the best of Rugby Teams and in this case it was Argos loss and Tigers gain.

SURPRISE FOR FANS.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (C.P.) — Billy Petroele, rugged, clouting veterah from the hills of North Dakota, turned in the ultimate in surprises for the boxing faithful last night by hammering Jimmy McLarnin, the clouting Celt, into one of the worst defeats of the Irishman's spectacular career.

A crowd of 12,500, banner strong in these days of unemployment, bounced around in their seats in amazement as Petroele, grantie-chinned and relentless as a maddened bull pup, smashed the class of the welterweights about the ring for ten full rounds, dumped him in the resin twice for counts of nine in the fourth session, and ran away fresh and eager with the unanimous decision at the end of the battle. It was one of the most exciting battles the Garden ever has seen.

Gilbert Genestra, trapped in a barrel of water while performing his "escape artist" act at a vaudeville theatre in Frankfort, Ky., died Nov. 9.— One of Genestra's feats was to have himself locked in the water after announcing that he would escape in two minutes. Nov. 8 he failed to escape. When the stage hand broke in the barrel he appeared lifeless. He was revived but died next morning. None of the vaudeville acts on the same bill knew of his relatives.

LEAFS FACE TOUGH PROBLEM IN THE SENATORS TO-NIGHT

Goalless Record of Toronto Club Will Likely Be Broken This Evening.

AMERKS AT MAROONS.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 22 (C.P.)— Four teams in the National Hockey League encounter the toughest opposition they have met so far in the week-end schedule of five games. Possibilities of a shake-up in the Canadian group standing, however, do not appear outstanding, but the status of teams in the American cup group is certain to undergo considerable revision.

On Saturday night the smooth-playing Ottawa Senators invade the premises of the Toronto Maple Leafs in a game which will probably prove a good test of the merits of the two teams. The Leafs have established somewhat of a record in their first four games, having won two and tied two. They have not yet been scored upon and are the only team in the league with this distinction. The Senators are tied for second place in the Canadian group with New York Americans, one point behind the front running Torontonians. It will be the first time in his career that King Clancey, dynamic defence man of the Leafs, has played against his former team-mates in a league contest.

Amerks at Maroons

At Montreal, the Maroons will endeavor to enter the win column for the first time in five starts, when they entertain one of the strongest defensive machines in the major league, personified by New York Americans. The latter have played five games, losing one and tieing three. They have scored oen goal while only a single counter has been registered against them, so the task Maroons have set themselves appears no easy one, and their goal scoring record of one tally since the season opened is unlikely to be fattened to any noticeable extent.

On Sunday night three games will be played in American terrain, with all five members of the United States group swinging into action. Montreal Canadiens are the only Canadian team to participate, and they meet real opposition in the Blackhawks at Chicago.

Last season the Habitants found the Hawks a difficult obstacle to surmount and the majority of the games between these teams ended in overtime deadlocks. Chicago is undoubtedly improved over last year and seem destined to mount the league ladder at the expense of their speedy opponents.

Detroit, leaders of the American group, with Boston and Rangers, meet the Bruins in the Motor City. Just how good the Falcons are will no doubt be shown in this game. Detroit has already chalked up wins over Rangers and Philadelphia. The Philadelphians have yet to win a game and have been more or less a door mat for the other sextets.

ITALIAN BOXER FROM THE WEST MAKES EX-CHAMPION LOOK BAD

"Young" Stroppa Takes One-way Ticket to Toronto—Has No Money But Licks Glionna.

IS A REAL PROSPECT.

(Special to Examiner, Copyright, 1930.)

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—Bumming his way the thousand odd miles from Winnipeg to Toronto, landing in this town without the wherewithal to buy a ham sandwich, and then stepping into the ring against a former Amateur Boxing Champion of Canada and licking the "daylights" out of him, is the proud record of a little Itzlian boxer by name of "Young" Stroppa.

Stroppa had a quarrel with his family in Winnipeg and decided to make his exit for other parts. He chose Toronto and came here to get a job. After wandering the streets for several days, he at last approached Jack Corcoran, the new boxing promoter in this city.

Jack was at that time arranging for his first show, and was stuck for a man to fight Vince Glionna. He wanted to give the fans a real show with a few knockouts if possible, and apparently figured that Glionna would give Stroppa a smell of the ammonia before many rounds had passed, so he put Stroppa to work.

But the young Italian lad was not to be put away so easily. He had a living to make, so he stepped into the ring to make things interesting for Glionna. The fans were laying heavy odds that the newcomer would hit the canvas mighty quick, for Glionna has only dropped one fight since he turned pro.

And that's just where the fans got fooled. Stroppa stepped into Glionna as though the latter were only a punching bag, and before the ex-amateur champion knew it, the referee had raised young Stroppa's hand as winner. The fans were so astonished that they didn't know whether to cheer Stroppa or razz Glionna. However, the former deserved the victory by a long margin.

Stroppa is now living in hopes of a few more bouts before Christmas, as he has changed his mind about running away from home, and has decided to go back to Winnipeg for Christmas. The fans are going to keep an eye on the young Italian, as he promises to make a real fighter.

MORE COMPLAINTS HEARD ON SERVICE

Local Manufacturer Asks For Change in C.P.R. Train Schedule.

Following complaints from Postmaster Charles Lacheur, respecting the delay in the mail services caused by the revised schedules of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, other similar complaints are being received by the Chamber of Commerce from local manufacturers. The matter has been already brought to the attention of the railway company by the Transportation Committee of the Chamber, and the decision of the officials is at present in abeyance, with the assurance that the question shall receive careful and mature attention.

"Can something not be done to correct the C.P.R. train service out of Peterborough? Mail from Toronto, that we have been in the habit of getting at seven o'clock in the morning from the Post Office, is not now received until nine a.m." Such is the opening paragraph of one of the complaints from a prominent manufacturer here. He goes on to state: "By getting our mail early, we find it possible to get away shipments by express to Toronto and Western points on the 7.35 train, but now that is impossible. In addition, it is impossible to leave here on the afternoon train and take in a theatre, hockey match and similar sport and return the same evening. If something could be done to correct this I feel it would be in the interests of Peterborough," says the letter in conclusion, which is quoted as being representative of the almost unanimous opinion of the matter.

Commenting on the article in The Examiner of Tuesday, November 18, the result of an interview with a representative of the Transportation Committee and Mr. Fulton, assistant general passenger agent of the company at Toronto, F. G. Stinson states that he was sorry if in the remarks he made at the time, he inadvertently conveyed the impression that Mr. Fulton had strenuously opposed the recommendations of the C.P.R. operations department respecting the removal of Train No. 34. Such was not the case, though Mr. Fulton's attitude throughout the interview at Toronto was most sympathetic, he said.

KAYE DON SUCCEEDS ILL-FATED SEAGRAVE

Daring British Auto Race Driver Signs For Harmsworth Trophy Race.

(Special to Examiner, Copyright, 1930.)

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 22.—Kaye Don, daring British automobile race driver, once more is going to follow in the footsteps of the ill-fated Sir Henry Segrave. The young Briton has just been signed as the pilot for Miss England II, with which Sir Hugh Wakefield, British sportsman, is going to challenge next year for the British International trophy, otherwise the Harmsworth Trophy.

Don already has striven, unsuccessfully, to overcome the world's automobile speed mark of 231.36246 miles per hour, set by Sir Henry at Daytonia Beach, on March 11, 1929. Now he is going after the mark set by Sir Henry on Lake Windermere this year in the speed boat Miss England II. That mark is 96.76 miles per hour, the fastest that any water craft has ever gone.

Sir Hugh, who was the sponsor for the Golden Arrow, the strange automobile that Seagrace drove to that phenomenal record, and who also backed the building of Miss England II with which the record at Lake Windermere was made and in which Sir Henry was killed right after setting the mark, has engaged Don with the hope that this young man can bring back to Britain the Harmsworth Cup and also protect the record on water, made by Sir Henry.

CLUBS SENDING DELEGATES TO LOCAL MEETING

Schedule Will Be Divided Into Four Groups of Eleven Teams Each.

PLAN SEASON'S WORK.

Tourney District Will Stretch From Whitby on West to Stirling on East.

The proposal of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club to invite the 21 bowling clubs in the section extending from Whitby on the west to Stirling on the east, to attend a district meeting in Peterborough on Thursday afternoon, November 27, is meeting a hearty response. Three clubs wrote back by return mail expressing their approval of the suggestion. Stirling reported that they would be unable to have representatives present, but that they approved of the proposal to prepare a schedule of local tournaments and that they would abide by any decision reached at the meeting. Lindsay reported that they would have four or five representatives present, and Norwood said they would have a delegate attend.

The games committee of the Peterborough club, under the chairmanship of B. Chesler, is having a busy time preparing plans for next season's bowling so that everything will be ready to start off on a well organized basis at the very beginning of the season. A meeting of the committee was held on Thursday evening in the club house, those present being B. Chesler, J. D. Fitzpatrick, G. F. Cairns, Roy Disney, H. Freeman, Reg. Dyer, Dr. H. J. Long, and H. B. Cowan. It has been decided in connection with the schedule of games to be held at the beginning of next season, that there will be 44 rinks divided into four groups of 11 each. Each rink will play 10 games and the winners of each group will play off in the finals for the four prizes that will be offered. It is intended that this schedule shall be concluded by July 15. It will be followed immediately by a special contest in which the same rinks will compete, but in which the skips and vices will act as leads and seconds, and the seconds and leads as skips and vices.

The rinks will be re-grouped so that they will not play against the same rinks as they did in the first schedule. The games in both series will comprise 16 ends. This second contest will be decided on the basis of wins and highest maximum score up to 18 points. In the case of ties pluses will count. This method of scoring was used in the Loblaw Doubles in Toronto and gave general satisfaction. In this schedule the rinks will again be divided into four groups and five games will be played by each rink, the winners of each group to play off for the final placings. This schedule shall be completed within three weeks so that the doubles schedule may start on August 10.

It is intended to insist that games shall be played according to the schedules. The only reason that will be accepted for postponing games will be rain. Two committee men will be on hand each night to fill up the vacancies on rinks which have at least two members of their rink present. Winners of defaulted games will be allowed a score of 14 points.

Good Fellowship.

Last summer, owing to the large membership, many members did not know each other although in some cases they were playing on the same team and in other cases on opposing teams. Next season, skips will be asked to see that all members of their teams are introduced to each other, and it is expected that a reception committee which has been appointed will adopt additional means of making the members better acquainted.

Placing the Mat.

It was the custom last season to place the mat near the ditch. The games committee has decided that next season the mat shall be placed at least one yard clear from the ditch and that it may be placed a greater distance from the ditch provided that there is at least 75 feet between the mat and the kitchie.

The board of directors has approved of the suggestion of the games committee that a portable blackboard mounted on a stand shall be purchased for use next season. This will be a great convenience.

This week a photograph of the club house and grounds was obtained and it is intended to have cuts made from these for use on the stationery of the club, as it is felt that Peterborough has a club house and grounds of which it can be proud and which will stand advertising.

A reception and entertainment is being arranged for the delegates from out-of-town clubs who attend the meeting in Peterborough next Thursday afternoon and evening.

LEG-WEARY LONDONERS LOSE 3-2 DECISION TO BULLDOGS

'DOGS TIE OLYMPICS.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 22 (C.P.) — Too many games in the first few days of the International Hockey League worked to the disadvantage of the London Tecumsehs last night, when they lost a hard fought contest to the Bulldogs at Windsor, three goals to two.

The Londoners have played more games than any team in the league and were undoubtedly a bit leg weary when they took the ice in the Border City. They put up a courageous battle, but were beaten by a better team on the night's play.

Windsor opened the scoring when Baldy Northcott netted Hinsperger's pass in the first session. "Toots" Holway knotted the count less than four minutes later when Leo Goldworthy fed him a perfect pass. The winners took the lead again in the second frame on Duguid's goal, only to have their stubborn rivals tie the count for the second time when Pete Ralangio scored unassisted. The winning goal was slashed into the London cage late in the period, when Jack Duncan accepted Earl Robinson's pass to tally.

London tried vainly to tie the score a third time during the final frame, but could not beat the veteran Windsor goalkeeper, Clint Benedict.

The victory places Windsor in a tie with Detroit for third place, one point behind the second place Tecumsehs.

Two games are scheduled over the week-end with Buffalo Bisons, league leaders, participating in both. Tonight the Bisons travel to Cleveland to meet the Indians, last season's champions, while on Sunday, they move over to Syracuse to play the Stars. Buffalo are in front of London by three points, and on their record to date, appear likely to increase the margin in these games.

RUGBY SERIES FOR CITY CHAMPIONSHIP

P.C.I. and S.P.S. Intermediates to Hook-up—First Game on Monday.

To settle the intermediate championship for the city, P.C.I. and St. Peter's High School will hook-up in a two game series, with points to count, the first to be played on Monday afternoon at 3.45 in James Stevenson Park. This is the first time that these two teams have ever clashed and while the Garnet and Grey has been in practise practically all season, the S.P.S. are hard at work in preparation for the coming series.

Race Track Owner Succumbs At Fight

Golden had attended the fight along with some friends as the guests of William Dwyer, of the New York American hockey team.

It was during the tense excitement of the fourth round of the fight, when McLarnin was twice floored by Petrolle, that Golden was seized with the heart attack. He fell unconscious, and Dr. W. H. Walker of the New York Athletic Commission, was immediately called. He pronounced Golden dead.

JOE PRIMEAU "OF THE KIDS" COMES INTO HIS OWN

In the past six years, Joe Primeau, center man for Connie Smythe's "Kid Line", has taken more tough knocks and badbreaks than there are feathers on a duck's back, after spending several seasons with St. Mikes and the Dukes in amateur hockey. In the season 1927-28 he got his big chance with the major leagues in a trial with the Leafs but was found to lack experience and was farmed out to Ravinas. The next year he again made a crack at big league company and again it was the same result. This time he was loaned to the London team. By this time the by word in the International Loop was to get Primeau, with the result that they socked Joe with everything but the referee. Last year he made his third crack at a position with the Toronto Club and landed it. Joe is by no means a physical giant although when it comes to stick handling he puts it all over even some of the best of them. On one occasion in New York, last year, when the Leafs were playing the Rangers and Charlie Conacher and Art Duncan were penalized at the same time, the latter drawing a major, Primeau held the puck for the entire two minutes without any Ranger gaining possession of it. When the side was back to full strength and the period ended, Joe fell down exhausted in the dressing room, the other Maple Leaf players gave Joe three rousing cheers for his wonderful work while his team was short handed. That was just a sample of the kind of hockey that Joe had been showing before he had turned pro. However, again this year he is showing that brand of hockey and marvellous stick handling that made him famous as an amateur. With the lightening-like brand that the "Kid Line" has been playing the combination of Lamb, Finnigan and Kilrea of the Senators may find them somewhat difficult to keep up with.

PLANE SPEEDS ARE INCREASED

Efficiency of Air Cooled Motors Heightened By Steam Lined Protective Ring.

GREATER ECONOMY.

LONDON, Nov. 2 (By The Canadian Press) Further changes have produced an aeroplane which is believed to be the fastest craft in the world driven by two radial air-cooled motors. The horsepower has been increased from about 900 horsepower to a maximum of more than 1,200 and resistance to movement through the air offered by these wide radial motors, which resemble giant starfish with their cylinders all radiating from the central crankshaft, is reduced markedly by a magical ring device.

This invention consists simply of a ring of aerofoil shape (shaped in section, that is, like an aeroplane wing) placed round the radial engine at its greatest diameter and smoothed off with carefully arranged cowling into the fuselage, or, in a multi-engined craft, into a streamlined engine "nacelle." The airflow is thus persuaded to flow under the engine installation with much less disturbance than it caused by the naked motor and the result is a large diminution in the power required to overcome the resistance of the motor. Power thus saved may be translated into increased endurance, or greater speed, and economy.

The increase of speed obtained in a twin-engined aeroplane such as the "Sidestrand" by the fitting of this device alone is surprising. This machine in its latest form is subject to strict Air Ministry regulations about the publication of performance details but it may be stated that the rings are responsible for a gain in speed at 20,000 feet of no less than 10 miles an hour. Added to the other important alterations the result is a twin-engined biplane able to fly at very nearly three miles a minute, or faster than all but the latest single-motored day bombers and single seater fighters.

There is romance in this development of the "Sidestrand," aided by the wonderful ring. Two or three years ago the resistance offered by the radial engine seemed an insuperable bar to its future use in high-speed aircraft. Yet the type has many good points for military and civil use and now the equipment, almost childishly simple at first glance, has gone a long way to re-establish the air-cooled motor in the battle of speed with the liquid-cooled power unit.

A BEDTIME STORY

by Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY AND PEETIE'S TRICK.

"Please, Nurse Jane, may I have a piece of your clothes line?" asked Peetie Bow Wow one morning of the muskrat lady housekeeper in Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow.

"Why, Peetie! What in the world are you going to do with a clothes line?" squeaked Nurse Jane, who was sweeping the back steps. "Are you going to turn into a Chinese laundry shop and iron shirts?"

"Oh, no, thank you," Peetie barked in answer. "But I want to do a trick for Uncle Wiggily and I need a piece of rope."

"Are you going to do a trick like Jackie and walk a tight rope?" asked Nurse Jane. She laughed as she remembered how, yesterday, Jackie tried to walk her clothes line tight rope and how the little puppy fell into a basket of clothes that Uncle Wiggily pushed under him just in time.

"Oh, no, I'm not going to do that sort of a trick," whined Peetie. "I want to make a lasso and play Wild West to show Uncle Wiggily how I can catch him or anybody else."

"Well, I suppose that trick will do no harm," squeaked Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "But why aren't you at school, Peetie?"

The wolf stuck his head up.

"It's Election Day and there isn't any school," barked Peetie, with a laugh. "May I get the piece of line now?"

"Yes, but don't take it all," said Nurse Jane. "I shall need it again next wash day."

So Peetie, with his teeth, only bit off part of the clothes line and then, making a loop in it as he had seen the Wild West cowboys in the movies, the little puppy chap went to find his brother or Uncle Wiggily or somebody on whom he could practise lasso throwing.

The first playmate Peetie met was Baby Bunty, the little orphan rabbit girl who lived with Uncle Wiggily.

"What are you going to do, Peetie?" asked Baby Bunty.

"I'm going to do some Wild West lasso tricks," braked Peetie. "Want to see me catch you?"

"Pooh! You can't," laughed Bunty.

"I'll show you!" boasted Peetie. "Look here!" He began to twirl the coils of clothes line about his head, as he had seen done in the moving pictures. Then all of a sudden he tossed the rope toward Bunty, holding one end in his paw. But the loop, instead of settling around Bunty's head, fell at her feet and some distance away.

"Pooh! I knew you couldn't lasso me!" cried the orphan rabbit.

"Well, of course, I ought to be on the back of Billie Wagtail, the goat, for my horse," whined Peetie. "Cowboys, when they lasso, always are on a horse. And they lasso another horse that's running or a wild cow or something like that. Go on, Bunty, be a wild cow, will you?"

"Do you mean you want me to run so you can lasso me better?" asked Bunty.

"Yes, that's it," Peetie answered, coiling the clothes line again. "I didn't do the trick right that time, but I will this. Go on, run!"

So Bunty began to run, making believe she was a wild cow in a show, and Peetie ran after her, pretending he was on the back of Billie Wagtail, the goat boy, for a horse.

"Hi! Yi! Yippity yip!" yelled Peetie, just like a cowboy. He swung the lasso and raced after Bunty and then he threw the loop again, but something went wrong. For just then Aunt Lettie, the nervous, little old goat lady, came around the corner of a tree and the lasso caught her.

"Oh, my dear sake alive and some mush!" bleated Aunt Lettie.

"I'm so sorry!" barked Peetie. "I didn't mean to lasso you!"

"What are you doing, anyhow?" asked the goat lady, while Bunty laughed.

"I'm trying to do a Wild West trick," barked Peetie, coiling his lasso again. "I wanted to show Uncle Wiggily."

"Well, here comes Uncle Wiggily now," said Bunty, and along the woodland path hopped the rabbit gentleman himself.

"Oh, may I try to lasso you?" begged Peetie. "I'm sure I can do it now. Wait a minute."

"Go ahead," said Mr. Longears, smiling. "I'll stand still for you."

Peetie coiled his rope again and threw it at the rabbit. But once more something went wrong. All of a sudden the Wolf, who was hiding behind a stump ready to pop out and catch Uncle Wiggily, all of a sudden the Wolf stuck his head up and Peetie's lasso went right around his neck instead of around Uncle Wiggily's.

"Oh, you've lassoed the Wolf! You've lassoed the Wolf!" cried Baby Bunty. "Good for you, Peetie! That's a fine trick. Come on, everybody, and pull the lasso tight around the Wolf's neck!" So they all pulled, even Uncle Wiggily and Aunt Lettie, until that Bad Chap was so choked that he was glad to run away and not catch anybody. Peetie's trick was good for something after all, wasn't it?

"It all depends on my Health"

Never before in all the world's history has there been such a tremendous strain on the nervous system.

This is the real reason why so many business and professional men are dropping suddenly by the way.

Whether the immediate trouble may be described as weakness of the heart, the stomach or other vital organs, the foundation cause in most cases is lack of nervous energy—the vital force of the human body.

When such symptoms as sleeplessness, headaches, indigestion, tired, depressed feelings warn you of waning nerve force, you can turn to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with every confidence that it will help you to recover strength and vigor.

For the sake of those who depend on you do not delay until you are a physical bankrupt with little hope of recovering your grasp on the responsibilities of life.

LOCAL CHOIR IS MENTIONED IN BULLETIN

Associated Glee Clubs Headquarters Thanks Choristers For Ensign Presentations.

ADORNS WALL OF OFFICE.

The Keynote is Official Bulletin of Associations in America.

The keynote, official bulletin of the Associated Glee Clubs of America, October issue, has just come into the hands of members of Peterborough Male Voice Choir. As has been already mentioned, the local choir is a member of this organization, having joined prior to the massed concert in New York, in May, 1929.

The sixteen pages are teeming with pictures of sportsmen choristers on holiday, and information in connection with male voice choirs throughout the United States, also giving places of honorable mention to Harmony Choir, Toronto, Temple Choir of Ottawa and last, but by no means least, Peterborough Male Voice Choir. The paragraph anent the local chorus reads as follows:

"The Canadian flag which the Peterborough (Can.) Male Voice Choir gave the Association, has been adorning the walls of the New York office ever since. Incidentally, the very useful drag that our secretary seems to enjoy with the superintendent of the building seems to date from the time that Scots-Canadian discovered his ensign on our walls. Once again, Peterborough, we thank you!"

There is much between the lines of the above paragraph—it has given a feeling of pride to at least one sojourner in the land of the Stars and Stripes, when he gazes upon the emblem of his native land; it has given Peterborough an ever-present regard in the minds of Federation officials in New York, that the choir thought enough of that memorable occasion to leave an ensign as a memento of their visit; that the choir sacrificed so much to uphold the honor and name of Peterborough in musical history in order to enter the contest on that 24th day of May, 1929.

The keynote is worthy of perusal, telling of choirs meeting for practice at the beginning of another season, and preparing for annual concerts and tours. In addition there is the odd joke, which gives that little break in the general reading of the sixteen pages. Here is one:

A darky was standing on the corner on a very cold night when a policeman came along and told him to move on.

"Scuse me, boss," the coon wailed, "I got to sing bass in de choir to-morrow morning', and Ise trying to catch cold."

THRILLS THRILLS

A member of the Mendelssohn Male Chorus of Kingston, N.Y., is reported to have so expanded with emotion on the chorus of "The Bells of St. Mary's" that he broke a rib!

What, then, of the emotion of the conductor at such a moment! Will we ever forget the transfiguration of Mark Andrews as,facing the great 4000-voice chorus at Madison Square Garden, he lifted it to Oley Speaks' ecstatic climax, 'It's Morning! It's Morning!"

Mark in writing the president shortly afterward said: "I would not exchange that moment for any year of my life!"

Some of us feel the same way about that great occasion.

In conclusion, the following verse, which might be copied on the local choir concert programs, is used by several choirs across the line:

'May peace, love, health and wealth be yours
Till life is done.
Welcome! Yes, thrice welcome!
We greet you—every one!"
And that's that.

THE RETURN OF TARZAN No. 60 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan of the Apes Did Not Know That Already a Plot Was Being Hatched Against Him. Because of It He Again Went to His Beloved Jungle.

Watch for the New Picture-Story:

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN

The next morning as they prepared to embark upon the cruiser, Tarzan said to Jane: "Wild beasts are supposed to be devoid of sentiment. But nevertheless, I should like to be married in the cabin where I was born, beside the graves of my mother and my father, and surrounded by the savage jungle that has always been my home."

And so beneath the shade of the primeval forest there was a double wedding. For Lord Tennington had won the hand of Jane's friend, the American heiress. Afterwards, as the cruiser got under way, Tarzan immaculate in white, leaned against the rail, a graceful girl beside him. Filled with happiness, the forest-god bent down and kissed his mate upon her lips.

Twenty naked, black warriors, waving war spears above their heads, shouted farewell to their king as he departed on the "great canoe." And Tarzan, waving good-by, said to his wife: "I should hate to think that I am looking upon the jungle for the last time, dear, were it not that I know I am going to a new world of happiness with you forever."

TRUTH VERSUS ERROR

History, the press, and personal observation, give us to believe that those who hold the doctrine of "endless torment", and roll it as a sweet morsel under their tongue, possess to a more or less extent, attributes of cruelty, injustice, and selfishness. They ignore justice, and reason, and the "Word of God", which directly states that the punishment for sin is death. Why, they take this course is not for want of intelligence and ability, but can only be accounted for, by them being deceived by the Devil. The same Evil Spirit dominates men and women's minds so much so, that many after seeing the falsity of this horrible and God-defaming dogma, hold the same still, and continue to preach and teach it. Selfishness, cruelty, and untruthfulness combined is exhibited when these very ones, heartlessly and flippantly consign their fellowmen to "endless torment."

To The Citizens of Peterborough

Ladies and Gentlemen:

May I make a special appeal at this time to all our citizens to "buy at home."

When we buy in Peterborough, we keep money in circulation in Peterborough, and everybody shares in the increased business that is done here. The money we spend out of Peterborough is just so much money lost to Peterborough.

Those who are on salary, our business executives, the members of the professions, our doctors and lawyers, dentists and teachers, and others who may be included in this class, represent a large and important section of our community. Their co-operation as purchasers is a big factor in Peterborough's business, and contributes more than we realize to that prosperity which we all desire and which we all need.

In this trying year Peterborough has rated among the soundest in the whole Dominion. We are all proud of that fact. Let us make a special effort to improve our local condition by making "Peterborough first" our policy and practice. It will bring us a brighter Christmas and a more prosperous New Year.

POLICE ARREST ALLEGED ROBBERS

HOARD'S STATION STORE IS ROBBED BY TWO BROTHERS

Campbellford Police Arrest Lindsay Brothers After Thrilling Chase.

WILL APPEAR TO-DAY.

One Was Found Up to Armpits in Water Under Boathouse on Trent River.

CAMPBELLFORD, November 24 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — After a chase that started at Hoard's Station and continued through the streets of Campbellford, Gordon Lindsay, 19, and Amos Lindsay, 26, both of this district, were caught early this morning by Campbellford police and held on a charge of shopbreaking. The two men will appear before Magistrate G. A. Payne this afternoon. Colonel Boggs, Crown Attorney, will conduct the case for the prosecution.

Capture Full of Thrills

The capture was one full of thrills. The car which the robbers were driving was an old one which was given chase by Chief of Police G. C. Bromley and Constable G. Hardy. After driving into the town, the two robbers headed north on King Street. Con Hardy, in the car in which he was driving was able to draw level with them and headed them off the road, with the result that the two men jumped from the running board of their car and left it to run into the side of a nearby house. Rushing to the banks of the Trent River Amos Lindsay was captured by Chief Bromley, but Gordon Lindsay who was fired upon by the police started into the water and swam under a boat house.

He took refuge there until he was captured by Constable Hardy who found the man up to his armpits in water and cramped with cold.

The robbery at Hoard's Station for which the men were wanted was made at the store of Bert George, sometime between the hours of 11:30 Sunday night and early this morning. Entry was gained to the store by removing two panes of glass from the lower portion of the back window.

The two Lindsays had their car loaded with a variety of goods including tobacco, overalls, bread, baking powder, tea, lard, salt, shoes, golves, salmon, cigarettes and tools, valued at $45.62. There were also two tires in the car, whose ownership is undetermined.

Communications with Montreal confirmed the story, and Inspector of Detectives Fecault and Detective-Sergeant Therrien of Montreal arrived here this morning to escort Demitrovich back to Montreal where he will face a charge of murder.

The Montreal officers will also take back with them, Frank Mosco, aged 23, who is wanted in Montreal on a hold-up charge. Mosco was arrested in "Little Italy," Copperclffe, on Saturday by Chief Ramesbotton and Sergeant Moyer of the Copperclffe Police force who recognized him from circulars and photographs issued by the Montreal Police Department.

SWEATED LABOR WAS NEVER USED SAYS HAILSHAM

Former Lord High Chancellor Defends Addresses Given By Premier Bennett.

QUOTES SPEECH.

Manchester Guardian Takes Premier to Task in Regards Statement Out Working Conditions.

LONDON, Nov. 24. —(CP)— Lord Hailsham, former Lord High Chancellor, declares the Manchester Guardian's report of the Empire Parliamentary Association's meeting, in which it charged Premier R. B. Bennett, of Canada with accusing Lancashire manufacturers of "sweated labor" conditions, was misleading and untrue.

Lord Hailsham makes this statement in a letter which the Guardian itself, publishes today. The former Lord Chancellor was present at the private meeting when Premier Bennett spoke. He declares he has a very clear recollection of what took place, and has also checked shorthand notes, he took at the time.

Misleading and Untrue

Lord Hailsham, declaring he has no hesitation in characterizing The Guardian's report of Premier Bennett as misleading and untrue, gives lengthy quotations from Premier Bennett's words. The term "sweated labor" does not appear, but in an earlier passage Premier Bennett said, "You have cotton mills and so have we. We have as good machines and as good workmen, and if we have imposed duties against your textiles it is because we pay nearly twice the wages paid to Lancashire people.

"Now there are the facts and you cannot in the nature of things expect that the textile business of Lancashire is to be allowed to destroy the textile business of Canada," Premier Bennett said, according to Lord Hailsham.

Are Canadian Wages High

The Guardian commented as follows: Can Premier Bennett be surprised if his hearers should have interpreted his meaning as being that the cheaper labor in Lancashire was the cause of the Canadian tariff? "Will Mr. Bennett and his backers give chapter and verse of the assertion that Canadian wages are "nearly twice" those of Lancashire, and will they enquire whether, in actual facts the hours and normal working conditions of Lancashire workers are not superior to those in Canadian mills. Whose extinction he fears? He could gladly spare exalted rhetoric about the Empire and the motherland for some more practical reasoning.

"This country has really been a little too kind to Mr. Bennett," The Guardian concluded.

ROTARY LEARNS MODERN STORY OF THE ATOMS

Rotarian V. R. Henry Tells of Great Advance Made By Science in Recent Years.

INTERESTING ADDRESS.

Club Sees a Living Example of What Rotary Crippled Children's Work Can Do.

That scientific discoveries were responsible for the great advance made by the world in the last thirty years and that a new conception of the structure of atoms had opened the road to such twentieth century wonders as our present day radio broadcasting, television and many associated possibilities of the photo-electric cell, the manufacture of synethetic products, etc., was the statement of Rotarian V. R. Henry, in a most interesting address before the Peterborough Rotary Club to-day.

Rotarian Henry, who was introduced by Rotarian Dr. M. A. Morrison, dealt mainly with development in what is now called classical physics which, he said, was born in the 17th century when men ceased to be content with speculations based on mere natural observations of daily experience, and began making experiments, so as to find order, uniformity and law where there appeared to be only a mass of unrelated events. 26 DAYS REMAIN UNTIL CHRISTMAS

Santa Claus Will Arrive Soon Canadian Department Store Announces.

POSSIBLY SATURDAY.

Potential Christmas shoppers are reminded that only 26 more shopping days remain before Christmas Day; to them it means a hectic period of preparation and choosing gifts, while to the large number of children it signalizes the annual visit of Father Christmas with his huge stock of toys and good things, for those deserving of them.

It is rumoured, that Santa Claus, is coming to Peterborough on Saturday morning next where he will take up his winter headquarters at the Canadian Department Store. Already elaborate preparations are being made for the reception of this cheery old gentleman, and he will doubtless be given a great welcome by the children when he makes his appearance.

Children are advised to watch the Canadian Department Store advertisements carefully this week, as an official announcement as to the time of Santa Claus' arrival will be made, together with a program of the reception to his honor to which every child is cordially invtied.

BENNETT DINES WITH TARDIEU

Several Tariff Questions Discussed By Canadian and French Premiers.

STATESMEN PRESENT.

PARIS, Nov. 24 (C.P. Cable). Premier R. B. Bennett of Canada, the guest of honor, met Premier Andre Tardieu of France to-day at the luncheon arranged by M. Fougege, Deputy President of the Chamber for Economic Expansion. Among other guests were M. Flandin, Minister of Commerce, and Fernand Davis, Minister of Azriculture, as well as Hon. Phillippe Roy, Canadian Minister to Paris.

The luncheon was not ostensibly a business affair, but various outstanding questions connected with tariffs were talked of.

To-morrow Premier Bennett will be entertained by Hon. Mr. Roy at luncheon, and in the evening will be guest of honor at a dinner tendered by the Minister of Commerce.

On Wednesday Premier Bennett will go to Amiens to visit the battlefields.

Seven City Workmen Are Laid Off On New Highway Construction Job

Seven city men employed by the Brennan Construction Company on the new highway east of Downer's Corners were laid off on Saturday night. At least four of them are married men, and the whole group have been working on the road since its construction was begun.

The Examiner is informed that about twenty-five men have been on the Brennan pay-roll since the job was started, and approximately half of them have been residents of the city. Under this arrangement it was felt that the city men were receiving fair consideration in the allotment of work as between rural and urban applicants, but it is stated that in Saturday's dismissals the entire group of seven men are from the city and none from the townships.

A week ago it was understood as a result of a conference between T. P. Lancaster and J. F. Strickland, county and city members of the Provincial Government, that residents of the city would be given an equal share of the highway jobs, but Saturday's experience seems to be a negation of this equitable agreement. Mr. Lancaste' and Mr. Strickland are reported to be meeting again this afternoon to consider a protest which the city men registered with their representative, Mr. Strickland.

SEVERAL THOUSAND CITIZENS SEE CANADIAN GEN. ELECTRIC PLANT

Steady Stream of Visitors Passed Through Gates on Saturday Afternoon.

VISIT WELL PLANNED.

Over five thousand people, roughly a quarter of Peterborough's population accepted the invitation extended by E. G. Patterson, works manager to tour the vast plant of the Canadian General Electric Company on Saturday afternoon. So constant was the steady stream of visitors that the gates remained open long past the allotted time, while two of the company's employees kept a check on each person with the aid of automatic counters.

For several blocks in the vicinity of the plant, long lines of cars parked along the curb, gave the casual observer some idea of the vast throng who were wending their way in and out the various departments within the building. By actual count there were 336 cars parked immediately in front of the plant at 3:20 p.m.

Nothing had been left undone to allow the visitors the free run of the ground floor, and 250 guides were stationed at vantage points to keep the wondering throng on a steady progressive move.

The guides were composed of members of the Foreman's Association, the works Fire Brigade and the Safety Committee and all supervisors, under the leadership of Alderman Robert Cotton, chairman of the entertainment committee, who was assisted by H. A. Cranfield, E. Hurtubise, S. O. Shields, W. F. Rose, C. D. Heath and F. Huppe.

SOUTHEY, Sask., Nov. 24 (C.P.) — The Farmers' National Union of Canada, a new-formed organization in Saskatchewan, has decided to enter the political field in an attempt to bring about a change in agriculture that will permit farmers to be guaranteed the cost of production. The platform of the new organization was launched here at meetings held Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons during which twelve provisional directors for the Province were chosen.

Officials explained that the main idea of the organization was to secure for the farmers of Saskatchewan conditions whereby payments of debts and interest will be stopped until the farmer receives for his products the cost of production.

UNITED STATES MAY PLACE BAR ON IMMIGRANTS

Canadians May Be Prohibited From Entering U. S. For Period of Two Years.

AFTER JULY 1 NEXT.

Bill Sponsored By Senator Reed Because of Unemployment Conditions.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 24 (C.P.)—After July 1 next, Canadians may be debarred from entering the United States as immigrants for a period of two years. A rapid canvass of the House and Senate this morning indicated the distinct probability of passage at the session of Congress, beginning next Monday, of Senator David A. Reed's resolution to prohibit immigration because of unemployment conditions.

The resolution would bar all immigrants except relatives of persons already resident in the United States. Visitors, business men and students would not be kept out, but all those intending permanent residence would have to wait for two years. The Senator expects passage in the Senate almost unanimously and the restructionists in the House are expected to fight for the privilege of introducing the resolution.

Opposition will probably come from the State Department, but with popular sentiment aroused by the present serious unemployment situation, the administration is not expected to put up much of a fight.

BRITAIN TO ADOPT BENNETT POLICY FERGUSON SAYS

Premier Bennett Gave Splendid Leadership to Other Dominions Declares Ontario's Premier.

ELECTION IS COMING.

British People Are Anxious For Closer Relations With Dominions.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 24 (C.P.) — Great Britain's adoption of Premier R. B. Bennett's reciprocal preferences within the Empire policy is assured, in the opinion of Premier G. H. Ferguson, who arrived home Saturday following a visit to the Mother Country, where he officiated at the opening of the new Ontario Government Building in London. Mr. Ferguson forecast an early election in England with the issue based on Premier Bennet's preference policy.

Mr. Ferguson declined to comment regarding whether he would accept the post of Canada's High Commissioner in London, which he has admitted was offered him by Premier Bennett.

Amplifying his comment on the situation in England, the Ontario Premier said that in defining his policy for Canada, Mr. Bennett has been placed in the position "of defining the policy for all the Dominions in the Empire. His straightforward presentation of the case has aroused such interest in the Old Country that scores of people came and told me that never before had there been a manifestation of such keen watchfulness over an economic issue."

Proceeding, Mr. Ferguson said, "Mr. Bennett has given leadership to the cause of Empire preferences and closer economic relationship. This is the outstanding impression I have gained from the deliberations of the Imperial Conference. The policies enunciated by Mr. Bennett met with the approval of the representatives of the other Dominions, and when the Prime Minister of Canada spoke, he voiced the opinions of his brother Prime Ministers."

Thief Snatches Bag From Theatre Cashier

CALGARY, Alta., Nov. 24 (C.P.).—A bag containing $1,500 was snatched from the cashier at the Capitol Theatre here Saturday night by a thief, who dashed to a waiting automobile and made his escape with two companions who had waited in the car with the engine running. The automobile, which, police said, was stolen and bore the license plates stolen from a second car, was recovered in the city Sunday night, but so far the trio has remained at liberty.

The cashier, Mrs. Evelyn Everett, was walking from the box-office to the manager's office when the thief grabbed the bag from beneath her arm.

Tragedy overtook their flight by which they hoped to point a way for Bolivian emergence from its isolation from the ocean, when their plane, a Junkers, named "El Condor de Bolivia," crashed less than three hours out of Ey Palomar Airdrome Buenos Aires, from where they began the 1,800-mile trip to La Paz at 1.25 a.m. Saturday.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Nov. 24 (C.P.). —Robert Easter, 25, employed on the construction of the High School at Prescott, was instantly killed there to-day when he was drawn into a large concrete mixer engaged on the work. No one witnessed the accident, and when assistance reached him it was too late to save Easter's life. It is thought that the sleeve of his clothing became caught in the machine. Wealthy Broker Has Lung Trouble Specialists Say

Both Men Entered Lethbridge Jail Farm With Certificates of Ill Health From Prominent Physicians — Strict Tests Were Made and Mills Found Fit.

GOVERNMENT OF ALBERTA SENT LUNG SPECIALIST TO DIAGNOSE CASE OF ISAAC W. S. SOLLOWAY

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., November 24 (Special to The Examiner). — In "The Big House" at Lethbridge, Isaac W. S. Solloway, millionaire broker, under four months' sentence for bucketing and attempting to affect the market value of stocks, is receiving "special" treatment. For he, who boasts that he broke the other brokers who tried to break him when he commenced business, is a sick man. The diagnosis of specialists in Montreal and Toronto that Mr. Solloway has serious lung trouble, probably the aftermath of war service, has been substantiated by the Alberta Government.

For twelve days now the veil of secrecy has been drawn tight around the Lethbridge Jail, while the Government has been trying to solve the problem that was giving them grave concern. For twelve days now, Solloway has been in the hospital ward, while the Government has tried to prevent premature rumors from spreading. Twelve days ago, it now devolves, both partners entered the prison farm with certificates of ill-health from prominent physicians. Strict jail tests, after one week, showed Harvey Mills fit for work. So, there, on Saturday he was carrying straw beds for the "rush" of new prisoners who are looking for winter board and lodging in comfortable surroundings.

Lung Specialist Sent to Jail

But in the case of Solloway it was different. The jail doctor diagnosed lung trouble. Last week the government sent Dr. R. H. Baker, prominent lung specialist, head of the Keith Sanitarium at Calgary, to make a thorough examination. This report was handed to Dr. M. R. Bow, Minister of Health.

The report was really made by us, Dr. Bow has said for the Department of Public Works.

Whether Mr. Solloway is to remain in the hospital ward for the whole four months of his sentence, will have to be determined by Mr. Roberts, Minister of Works.

"I don't think he is in very good shape," was all the opinion that Dr. Bow would vouchsafe.

It is officially admitted to-day that Mr. Solloway's health is so precarious that he will continue to need the rest and the better food of the hospital ward during the whole term of his sentence.

Mrs Solloway Arrives

The entrance of Mrs. Solloway coincided with the arrival of a van load of new prisoners from Calgary, under guard of Royal Canadian Mounted Police. With Mrs. Solloway was her husband's secretary, Mr. Harold Hendrickson, a very tall young man, scarcely out of his twenties, who has a room opposite Mrs. Solloway's suite at a hotel in Lethbridge.

EARL OF ATHLONE TO BE GOVERNOR?

Ottawa Citizen Says Next Governor-General Will Be Earl of Athlone or Viscount Lascelles.

NOT DUKE OF YORK.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 24. (CP)— "Reliable reports reaching Ottawa from England indicate that either the Earl of Athlone, retiring Governor General of the Union of South Africa, or Viscount Lascelles, only son-in-law of King George and Queen Mary, will be the next Governor General of Canada," says the Ottawa Evening Citizen in a feature story to-day.

The term of His Excellency Viscount Willingdon, as Governor General of the Dominion, expires on August 5 of next year.

The Earl of Athlone is the brother of Her Majesty Queen Mary. Viscounty Lascelles is the husband of Princess Mary.

The Citizen says it is understood on good authority that Premier Bennett consulted with King George regarding Viscount Willingdon's successor while in England attending the Imperial Conference, and thus a definite announcement in the matter may be expected in the near future.

The recent change in the status of Dominion Governors General whereby they are now the personal and direct representatives of the British government, is considered to render it even more desirable than ever that the governors general should be members of the Royal Family or of the senior, historic families of the United Kingdom.

The name of H.R.H. Duke of York, second son of Their Majesties, has often been mentioned as the next Governor General of Canada. The possibility of his leaving England for a five year period, however, is considered in high government circles here as being very remote.

SPAIN'S PREMIER AVIATOR ESCAPES MADRID PRISON

MARID Nov. 24 (C.P.). — Major Ramon Franco, Spain's premier aviator, who Friday was sentenced to eight months' imprisonment for alleged seditious utterances, to-day escaped from the cell where he has been incarcerated for more than a month.

The trans-Atlantic aviator, who is the idol of the Spanish populace and the hero of the Army Air Service, forced the window of a section of the old prison in which he was held, making his getaway some time between 3 a.m. and dawn to-day.

Another aviator, Eduardo Reyes, escaped with Franco. Prison authorities said that neither had been watched very closely, and that both had given their word of honor not to attempt a breakaway.

SEVERE STORMS HIT EDMONTON

Prairie Fires Sweep Forests Despite Efforts of Fire Fighters.

DAMAGE OVER $20,000.

EDMONTON, Alta., Nov 24.—(CP) —North winds, travelling as fast as 60 miles an hour at times, tore roofs off buildings and tossed heavy electrical signs hundreds of feet in Edmonton and northern Alberta towns Saturday. Damage from the storm amounted to $20,000 in the City of Edmonton alone, with losses in outlying districts unestimated as yet.

Prairie fires were whipped into wooded territory, causing roaring bush conflagrations with threatened destruction to several communities. Near Lisburn in northern Alberta, five farmers suffered the loss of their homes, stables and stock while northwest of the town, country folk battled fires driven by the fierce winds. To-day the flames were still roaring in some sections despite heart-breaking work by the firefighters.

Bandits Score Again In Chicago

GANGLAND TOLL HEAVY IN CHICAGO DURING WEEK-END

Two Women Are Killed, Another May Die and Three Men Badly Hurt.

ROADHOUSE HOLD-UP.

Detective is Shot While Making Arrest—Slayer is Also Dead.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (CP)—A gang of young robbers, frightened when lights were switched off during a roadhouse hold-up early yesterday, poured a shotgun volley into a crowd of victims huddled in a corner, killing two women, injuring another and wounding three men.

The robbers, described as youths of about 18, took $200 from the patrons and had started to leave, when the place was suddenly plunged into darkness.

Fearing a trap, the bandits, eight in all, blazed away in the general direction of the group, which was jammed in a space of less than 18 by 20 feet.

Wounded and dying screamed and moaned, and the survivors milled about, tramping and slugging, unable to distinguish gunmen from patrons. To add to the confusion a Great Dane dog, owned by Henry Goetz, proprietor of the resort, ran amok, slashing at the stampeding crowd.

Lights were finally switched on. Miss Barbara Lee, aged 22, and Miss Alice Ward, aged 29, were found dead. Miss Mary Ganey, aged 36, was probably fatally injured. John Gates, aged 39, James Miscus, aged 36, and Jack O'Bierne, aged 38, were badly wounded. A dozen others whose names were not obtained were not seriously hurt. The robbers escaped in two machines.

The roadhouse shooting capped the worst week-end crime out-burst in the Chicago area in months.

Detective Herbert Dillon was shot and killed by an unidentified Negro, who was in turn killed by Dillon's partner, Detective Patrick Gaynor. The police had answered a complaint that two drunken Negroes were disturbing the neighborhood.

CHEESE MAKERS NORTHUMBERLAND DISTRICT HEAR REPORTS FOR YEAR

G. H. Barr, Representative For Federal Dairy Board, Gives Report For Year.

MANY PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 24.—The annual meeting of the district for Northumberland, under the auspices of the Dairymen's Association of Eastern Ontario and the Provincial Department of Agriculture was held on Friday in the Campbellford Public Library, when George H. Barr, director of dairying, Toronto, addressed the gathering of cheesemakers and patrons in reference to the report of the industry for the current year. Other speakers were J. Irwin, Dominion cheese grade, and J. A. Murray, instructor for the Campbellford district. The chair was taken by Alfred Merrill.

The meeting was well attended and much enthusiasm was shown by the makers in the reports given. Many questions were asked the speakers in reference to the cheese situation and the market prices discussed. An important feature of the meeting was the appointment of A. Merrell as director for the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association for the year 1931.

Mr. Barr, in his address stressed the fact that he was pleased with the report of the province for this year. The year's work had been good and in his opinion there were going to be more firsts grade cheese than last year. One fact was very pleasing and that was that the makers were getting away from meely cheese. This defect had been gradually improving for the past few years and was noticeable again this year.

Giving the report for the year for the province, he stated that he had vided it into the two groups, Central and Eastern. This report showed, the speaker said, that the highest defect was a "not clean flavor." Explaining this point Mr. Barr said that he was judging by the number of times "not clean flavor" had been mentioned on the reports.

BURGLARS LOOT TWO GARAGES

Havelock Garages and Radio Shops Are Broken Into Friday Night.

RADIO SETS STOLEN.

(Examiner Correspondence)

HAVELOCK, Nov. 24.—Thieves operating in the neighborhood of Havelock and Rush Point on Friday night or Saturday morning, secured a quantity of loot from two local garages and radio shops. When Mr. Chas. Petherick of Rush Point left his garage on Friday night at about ten-thirty, it was securely locked. On his arrival there Saturday morning he found the door wide open, evidently pried open by a shovel left near the door, which the burglar had found very useful. A number of new tires, two Radio sets, and some radio accessories were missing. The thief or thieves had evidently come from the east in a car leaving a very definite track, which the provincial police are investigating.

Up until the last week, Mr. Petherick has been sleeping in a room off the garage, but as the busy season is now over, had been sleeping at home about a half mile from the shop. The value of the goods taken from his shop is estimated at about two hundred dollars.

When Mr. Robert McCutcheon went to his cash register to make some change for a customer about two-thirty Saturday afternoon he discovered that it had been tampered with and a quantity of small change, possibly about ten dollars was missing. On investigation he discovered that some automobile accesories had also been removed from his garage, the exact quantity not known. Mr. McCutcheon estimates the probable time of the burglary as after midnight Friday, as he had been in the shop until a late hour on Friday night. Constable Sylvester of the Provincial police department in Peterborough is investigating both robberies.

HOPE TO FIND TEMPORARY JOBS FOR FROM 10,000 TO 15,000 MEN NOT EXPECTING LARGE WAGES

Ottawa Sends Out Forms of Application to More Than 600,000.

MEASURE OF RELIEF.

Many Farmers in Need of Help Will Benefit Through the Service.

OTTAWA, Nov. 24 (C.P.)—As a further measure of unemployment relief which it is hoped may be instrumental in finding at least temporary jobs for 10,000 to 15,000 men, the publications branch of the Department of Agriculture is co-operating with the Land Settlement Board in placing men on farms. With the winter edition of "Seasonable Hints," which is mailed to more than 460,000 English and 227,000 French farmers in Canada, a form of application for farm help is being enclosed.

A notice accompanying this form calls attention to the number of men seeking farm work and says, in part: "Most of these men have only limited farming experience, but as a rule they are now expecting wages out of proportion to their experience. They are anxious to find a means of livelihood during the winter and appreciate the fact that farmers themselves are passing through hard times and can only afford to pay wages according to useful service rendered."

Application forms are to be returned to the district offices of the Soldier Settlement Board from which placements will be made. These offices are located at Vancouver, Vernon, Edmonton, Calgary, Regina, Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Winnipeg, Toronto, Sherbrooke, St. John and Ottawa.

Many farmers in need of help will benefit through the service it is expected, and many others, it is hoped, will be induced to undertake some work of improvement which ordinarily would be deferred until a later date.

THE SERENADE MECHANISTIC

Now the troubadour had a great advantage over the Robot, for the Robot can't be gay any more than he can be sad or sentimental.

He might have added that no Robot will ever feel, either. And where there is no feeling, no emotional capacity, there can be no music.

MANY SUGGESTIONS ARE PUT BEFORE INSTITUTE CONVENTION

HOME CANNING MACHINE.

STIRLING, Nov. 24 (Examiner Correspondence).—The morning session of the convention of the Women's Institute held in the Parish Hall, Belleville, on Wednesday, opened with a round table conference with Mrs. A. Munroe in charge who emphasized the value of changing papers, ideas or suggestions with other Institutes.

Mrs. E. Carter, of Demorestville gave a good suggestion for getting rugs, blankets, or comforters made from old sweaters, or used blankets.

Mrs. Van Kleek spoke of the women in their community owning a home canning machine thereby canning their own vegetables and chicken. Mrs. Munroe emphasized vocational guidance. "Farm work is not glorified as the profession of a nurse and school teacher. Pupils should be led to find their life work, do not put a square peg in a round hole. Much unemployment would be eliminated if each person were fitted for his job. We need co-operation between the teacher and the home. Coaching classes are a step in the right direction."

Miss Ethel Chapman is starting a class in house visiting among the girls.

Mrs. Munro called attention to the census taken putting down the words 'housewife—no occupation.' "We hope" said Mrs. Munroe, "to have that amended—it does not apply."

Afternoon Session

Mayor G. Reid, of Belleville welcomed the ladies at the afternoon session and expressed the hope that they would continue to meet in the city for years to come. Mrs. James Dwiney, of Demorestville replied thanking him for his confidence and showing appreciation of the co-operation spirit of Belleville, also its hospitality.

Miss Beatrice Jones, of Belleville gave a talk on 'How we promote health,' suggesting that a good roll call would be what to do in case of an emergency. "A good theme for an address would be 'those nerves of ours.' We cannot estimate the value of a school nurse in the community. Some communities have First Aid kits in schools. Children should be taught food values. Inculcate in them habits of cleanliness.

Mrs. L. Isaac spoke on Agriculture emphasizing the fact that children should be taught eradication of weeds, and understand how they deteriorate land value. In order to get rid of woodchucks, prizes were offered for tails, one boy getting 131 and one 90 in the same community.

Mrs. George McGowan of Campbellford gave a short talk interpersed with many humorous remarks, and Mrs. J. Brown, of Bonarlaw spoke on the theme, progress in education. She suggested a roll call of the name of a famous celebrity or current events. Another roll call suggested was an appropriate name for a country home.

Marmora reported $700 to library board and Springbrook reported giving a prize to the pupil passing highest in the entrance examinations. Stirling has compulsory dental inspection in the public school. Oratorical contests should be encouraged, papers should be given on places of interest in Canada, Mrs. C. Bleeker emphasizing the value of a paper on current events at each meeting.

Musical numbers during the session were contributed by Mrs. J. Heagle, of Wellmans; Mrs. F. Jeffery, of Stirling; Mrs. Carr, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Snyder. Community singing was led by Mrs. Harry Harrison, of Roslin.

The committees in charge were: convention chairman, Mrs. W. Grears, Wooler; secretary, Mrs. M. Weese, Rednersville; decoration, Mrs. B. Finkle, Holloway; banquet, Mrs. S. Fox, Rednersville; resolutions, Mrs. R. Allen, Cobourg; entertainment, Mrs. C. Bleeker, Marmora; registration, Mrs. Megginson, Belleville, and billeting, Mrs. F. McFee, Belleville.

BAD WIND STORM STRIKES ALBERTA

Roof of Y. M. C. A. Building in Edmonton is Torn Off and Carried 300 Feet.

AIRPLANE DESTROYED.

EDMONTON, November 24 (C.P.).—The upper half of Alberta is recovering to-day from the worst windstorm reported here in 20 years. Thousands of dollars' damage have been done in the city and surrounding districts.

The roof of the Y.M.C.A. building, situated in the centre of the city was torn off and carried 300 feet, falling in front of the courthouse, where it lay intact. The roof of the Goodrich block was torn off and deposited on Jasper Avenue. One man living in the Goodrich block suffered injuries.

A Bellanca airplane, the property of the Commercial Airways Limited, and the machine in which Captain R. W. "W.O.P." May used in his northern flights, was totally destroyed at Cooking Lake, where it had been thrown up on shore.

Meagre reports from country districts tell of forest fires which are running wild and engulfing everything in their paths.

At Lisbon, Alberta, south of Edmonton, it is understood that many farmers lost buildings, live stock, and just barely escaped with their lives. Stony Plain, a hamlet 20 miles west of Edmonton, is threatened by forest fires and every lake resort near the city has suffered damage, the cottages being uprooted and in some instances ecollapsing.

Drumheller Theatre Unroofed.

At Drumheller, in Southern Alberta, a near panic resulted when the wind tore part of the roof from the Napier Theatre, the terrific suction at the same instant breaking open the emergency escape doors. There were no injuries.

Edmonton had a temperature of 60 degrees before the storm, and to-day it is down to freezing point.

In the city the Fire Department responded to 39 calls during the day, and during the height of the storm a dozen persons turning in alarms were told to get along the best they could until firemen, returning from other alarms could get there. The majority of the blazes were chimney fires with no serious cases.

Part of the grand stand at the Edmonton Exhibition Grounds was wrecked.

ONTARIO LEADS IN PRIZE STOCK

Unionville Man Wins Grand Championship at Royal in Market Cattle Class.

ONTARIO SWINE FIRST.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 24 (C.P.).—Judging in market cattle, Percheron horses and in poultry was brought to Royal Winter Fair, and good progress a conclusion on Saturday night at the was made in the judging in the other live stock exhibits.

The grand championship of market cattle, open to champions of the pure-bred classes and of the classes open to grades and cross-breds, went to the pure-bred Shorthorn steer, Glenburn, bred and exhibted by Fred H. Deacon, Unionville.

The placing of ribbons on the female champions concluded the judging in the Percheron horses. The senior and grand champion went to the mare, Blanche Kesano, and was the second major success for her exhibitor, C. M. Rear, of Regina, whose stallion was made grand champion of the male classes in the previous day's showing.

Judging of carlots of market swine in the Interprovincial competition resulted in a win for Ontario, with Manitoba second, Saswatchewan third and Alberta fourth. Each province was represented by a carload of 40 hogs, fifty per cent. of which were barrows, all bacon-type animals.

Entries by the Ontario Sheep Breeders' Association were first and second in the Interprovincial competition for carlots of 25 lambs. Manitoba took third and Saskatchewan fourth. R. B. Hunter of Winnipeg won the championship for best pen of three ewes or wethers under one year. He also exhibited the grand champion wether lamb grade or cross-bred. ELDERLY WOMAN CHASES THIEF Awakened By Noises Uses Shotgun and Pitchfork in Defence.

BURGLAR OUT ON BAIL.

WELLAND, Nov. 24.— To history and mythology's gallery of women famed for bravery, Crowland Township has added the scantily-clad figure of an elderly woman, roused in defence of her hen-coop, chasing a terrified man across fields at midnight, brandishing a pitchfork a few inches from his fleeing form.

Miss McVey, who resides near Crowland with her sister, was awakened by noises in her chicken coop, and seizing an old shotgun, she rushed out of doors to investigate. Seeing a man in the coop, she placed a prop against the door to imprison him, but with several blows he forced his way past this barrier.

Emerging from the coop, the intruder was met with the sight of the determined woman, rusty shotgun raised, pulling at the trigger of the long-unused weapon, which emitted only raspy clicks.

Seeing her quarry about to flee, Miss McVey hurled the useless firearm at his head, and seized in its place a pitchfork, whereupon the man took to hurried flight.

Scuttling across the field with the gleaning tines of the fork perilously close to his body, the fugitive finally managed to outdistance his pursuer, but not before she caught several good looks at his face.

On her description of the marauder, Provincial Constables Finger and Peel arrested Charles Fritshaw of Crowland, on a charge of breaking and entering. He was released on $2,000 bail Saturday to appear in court on Thursday.

WHEAT SITUATION HAS IMPROVED

OTTAWA, Nov. 24. (CP)—The wheat situation appears to have taken a turn for the better over the week-end.

General managers of some of the largest Canadian banks called upon Sir George Perley, acting Prime Minister, and discussed with him negotiations which have been under way between the Western Premiers and eastern bankers. Just what transpired at the discussion was not made public, but Sir George appeared optimistic after the interview, and said he felt sure things would work out all right.

While no official intimation has been given that the government has modified the stand which it took at first, it is now suggested that Premier Bennett has decided to render a measure of support to the wheat pools. There is nothing to indicate just what action the government has taken, if any, but the fact that the western premiers are returning home apparently feeling that their mission to the east has not been barren of results, lends some color to the suggestion.

SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA
HEAD OFFICE MONTREAL

DEPARTMENT OF TRADE AND COMMERCE
OTTAWA, CANADA

November 22nd, 1930.

To Heads of Families,
Everywhere in Canada.

Co-operation—the Keynote to Progress

As head of your family, you always place the interests of your sons and daughters ahead of the interests of outsiders, don't you? You may be on the friendliest terms with outsiders, yet you concede without question that members of your own family have first claim on you for help of any kind. Collectively you form the oldest co-operative unit known to man—the home. And the best way to promote the welfare of that or any other co-operative unit is to do everything possible to promote the welfare of the individuals who comprise it.

Sentiment and self-interest combine to cause you to place the interests of your family first. You assist them to establish themselves in life, not simply because they are your sons and daughters, but because their success will add to yours.

Similarly, sentiment and self-interest combine to regulate your dealings within your own community. You help your neighbour, not simply because he is your neighbour, but because you believe he will be willing to help you in return. You and he have many interests in common. As a matter of good business you prefer to trade with those who trade with you.

Once beyond the borders of your community, when you get into the wider reaches of your province or of the Dominion itself, the call of sentiment tends to grow weaker, and the element of self-interest becomes less apparent. But seeing that our nation is simply our families and our communities in the mass, will not its welfare be best promoted by the same means we adopt to promote the welfare of our homes and our local trading circles?

Let us suppose you are a farmer living, say, in Saskatchewan. A large part of your income is expended for the purchase of implements, fencing, lumber, cement, twine, house furnishings, and the thousand and one other articles required to equip or service your farm and your home. The money you pay for these articles eventually finds its way back to the pockets of the workers who make them. Isn't it better for you if the workers you thus benefit are workers in Canadian factories, rather than workers in foreign factories?

If your money goes to workers in Canadian factories, don't you put them in a better position to buy your wheat, your butter, your eggs, and all your other farm products? Not only that, but because you have bought their products, haven't you established a first claim to their consideration when they come into the market to buy products such as you have for sale? It's simply the community trading principle on a little broader scale!

But send your dollars to factory workers in other countries, and what assurance have you that such workers will ever buy as much as a cent's worth of your products in return? Your dollars have gone far beyond the community circle, beyond even the national family circle. They have gone where there is no mutuality of interest, to countries where it is impossible for you to influence their spending in the slightest degree.

Or, to use quite a different and in some respects perhaps a little better illustration to demonstrate this community of interest, let us suppose you are a Quebec farmer, and that you contributed your portion to the $8,903,885 that Canada spent last year for imported corn to feed cows, hens, and hogs.

What would have happened if this money, instead of being sent to corn growers outside of Canada, had been spent with grain growers in Western Canada for the feed wheat and feed barley they had for sale—feeds that would have been equally as good for the production of milk and eggs, and considerably better for the production of bacon? Wouldn't the Western grain grower have had more money with which to buy the products of Quebec factories? And if Quebec factory workers had had more money to spend, wouldn't that have meant a better market for your milk, eggs, and pork?

Some of the money you spent for imported corn would almost certainly have come back to you if you had spent it for Canadian feeds instead. As it was, how much do you think ever came back from the foreign corn grower to whom it was actually sent?

So getting back to where we started from, don't you agree that it always pays in the long run to develop trading operations as much as possible within the family circle?

Very sincerely yours,

H. H. Stevens

Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Mrs. J. S. Deyell left yesterday for her home in Ravenna, Ohio, after spending some time with her mother, Mrs. L. Shearer of Gilmour street.

Miss Hazel Hall of R.R. No. 3 returned home to-day after spending the past two weeks with friends in Lindsay.

Miss Olive Prest, A.T.C.M., acted as hostess for her pupil members of the "Little Musicians'" Club, when an interesting program was provided, with piano solos by the Misses Eileen Sellon, Ardyth Richardson, Edith McLaren, Esther Lashbrook and Doreen Groombridge; recitations by Ruth Farr, and a piano duett by Miss Prest and Beverley Corvel. A musical contest followed, won by Miss Lillian Thomas. At the next meeting of the club, the life of the composer Bach, will be taken up.

The many friends in Peterborough of Miss Katherine Wallis will be interested in her views on the feminine movement, as outlined in the following report of her speech to the members of the Zonta Club of Toronto:

"Undaunted by an imposing array of representatives business and professional women gathered about a dinner-table in the Royal York Hotel last night, Miss Katherine E. Wallis, noted Canadian sculptor, now residing in Paris, had the temerity to announce to the members of the Zonta Club that she was decidedly not a feminist.

"I am delighted to hear what Canadian women are doing and I am overwhelmed by the achievements of your Zonta Women," remarked Miss Wallis as she surveyed the interesting gathering. Then she added, with quiet firmness: 'But personally I am not at all a feminist!'

"But Miss Wallis, despite her boast, has brought honor to the Dominion in a way unequalled by any other Canadian woman. For her work as a sculptor Miss Wallis was made a Societaire in the Societe des Beaux Arts, last year.

"Like a series of pictures, vivid and wholly charming, the women of various countries in the East visited by Miss Wallis last year were viewed by the members and guests at last night's dinner. Quiet women of Bethlehem, in white gowns and veils, following a funeral procession; hospitable Moorish women entertaining the English visitor at tea; Bosnian peasants in decorative capes and aprons; Chinese women, with their babies in their arms, waving at passers by; Japanese women officiating at a tea ceremonial; picture succeeded picture in the fascinating gallery of the mind.

"Miss Mabel Stoakley, the President, introduced Miss Wallis, and Dr Isabella Wood moved a vote of thanks."

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

IN WINTER

In Winter song and bloom retreat,
The woods grow barren as a street.
Sometimes a snow-piled branch is stirred.
Sometimes a snapping twig is heard
As over ice-encrusted snow
On cautious feet furred creatures go.

Life ebbed from all the forest ways
When Autumn passed in golden haze,
And now the land knows no regret
For mocking bird and violet;
But silent vistas, cold and white,
In sleep forget June's sweet delight.

Earth lies at rest and careless now
Of every ardent April vow,
Forgetful of each lyric strain
That whispered through the Summer rain;
But what bright dreams the rose must know
Beneath her robe of drifted snow!

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

You, as a housewife, are no doubt, seeking variety in table linens and their marking and individuality in the marking of household textiles, personal garments and accessories.

• • • • • • •

A novel way to use smart initialed tiny tags for marking a person's belongings that cannot be embroidered was given you last week, I believe.

• • • • • • •

Economy and novelty are stressed in many of the linens which are being shown in our local stores. Economy in the use of small pieces of lace that do not have to match and also in the linen itself.

• • • • • • •

If you wish you can make some linen doilies yourself and thus practise economy. Perhaps you have some linen left over from other articles which you previously made.

• • • • • • •

The centre initialing of doilies is the latest marking.

• • • • • • •

The shape of the doilies can be round, square, oval or oblong. Each piece may be edged with lace, with bands of insertion let into the linen.

• • • • • • •

The bands may form geometric designs with suitable patterns. But you must not use more than one design in any one set.

• • • • • • •

For instance, a square can be formed of the insertion inside a circular doily or a circle inside a square doily. A pattern resembling the letters "H" lends itself well, as do triangles.

• • • • • • •

There should always be plain linen in the centre on which the initial is embroidered. The lettering must be small, too.

• • • • • • •

To make a doily cut a pattern from brown wrapping paper. With a compass or a ruler mark off the lines chosen for the design in bands of lace. Baste the bands in position on the paper pattern and fit the linen into the spaces remaining.

• • • • • • •

Run the lace and linen edges together with fine stitches and neatly overcast the seam afterward. Cut the basting threads and turn the doily right side uppermost, for it has been made on the wrong side. Trace the initial in the centre and embroider it.

• • • • • • •

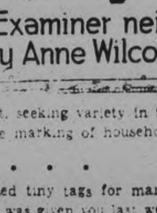
A simpler way to make the doilies is to cut each one from one piece of linen. Lay the lace over it according to the chosen design, run the edges to the linen, clip the basting threads and cut away the linen beneath the lace.

• • • • • • •

Perhaps later on I may be able to give you the method of piecing strips of lace together to make thrifty insertion, together with various ways of embroidering the letters.

• • • • • • •

The initials are just the thing to use for marking handkerchiefs, to use in medallion form, or for initialing lingeries, straps to go about towels, travelling accessories and face cloths, etc.



That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

A baker in a certain large city has been advertising his bread as the "staff of life." It would seem from the number of individuals who are doing without bread, or using very little of it, that they have decided to throw away the staff and get along on something else, some other kinds of food.

I believe this is a mistake, not that I am trying to help out the farmers by having my readers eat more bread. As a matter of fact, one writer tells us that if every man, woman and child would eat two more bushels of wheat during the year there would be no surplus to be sent to other countries.

But bread is really the staff of life for many nations, and it is only because we can command such a variety of foods from the markets of the world that we are turning away to some extent from bread.

Now bread is not a perfect food; in fact, there is no perfect food except perhaps milk for little children. However, bread does contain that rich food—starch—which is our most important food in producing energy.

Also, it is always a "safe" food in that, if chewed properly, fresh or stale, it will never cause any intestinal trouble.

Now I have no objection to the use of special foods because when foods are "tasty" they stimulate the digestive juices in the mouth, stomach, and intestine, and they are thus more easily digested.

However, there is just the danger that in eating various other foods that they will not contain the starch and vitamins of bread, and thus the benefit of this real food—bread—may be lost.

Now, bread is bread whether you eat the whole wheat or the white bread. Although the whole wheat contains the whole wheat, including the roughage—bran—it is not as generally liked, especially by children, as the white bread, and thus the digestive juices do not pour out as readily. Also, less of it would be eaten. Whole wheat bread, while of use in preventing constipation in many individuals, is too coarse for others and actually scrapes or scratches the stomach or intestine too vigorously.

Eat whole wheat bread if you like it. If you like white bread best, eat lettuce, spinach, cabbage, or fruits for roughage.

But, in any case, eat some bread at each meal.

Elaine And Her Ideas From Paris

A BEDTIME STORY

by Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S HALLOWE'EN

Because Uncle Wiggily had been so busy painting signs to keep the Bad Chaps out of his yard, and, with Mr. Twistytail, had made a grand blow up, with a toy balloon, the rabbit gentleman quite forgot about having a Hallowe'en party for the animal children.

"But it isn't too late," said Nurse Jane, when Mr Longears spoke about it. "You can have the Hallowe'en party this Saturday night."

"That's so! It will be all the more jolly for having it now," said Mr. Longears. "The children can stay up a little later on account of it being Saturday night."

"And since you and Mr. Twistytail blew up the Bad Chaps in the pile of dried leaves, I think they will keep away and let us alone," said Mrs. Longears. "We shall have a nice Hallowe'en party."

"I hope so," said Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose backward.

Of course the animal children had put on false faces and had gone out ringing doorbells and making tic-tacs for windows the night before, which was the real Hallowe'en.

Jingle and Jangle, Buster and Custer, Baby Bunty, together with Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, the puppies; Nannie and Billie Wagtail, the goats, and Lulu, Alice and Jimmie Wibblewobble, the ducks, had a lot of fun. Jackie wore a false face like a pussy cat, and everybody said the puppy looked very funny. Billie Wagtail was dressed up like a clothes basket and he got a lot of apples, too.

"Oh, but to-night will be ever so much nicer!" said Baby Bunty as she danced around the hollow stump bungalow, for the little orphan rabbit lived with Uncle Wiggily. "Just think! A real Hallowe'en party!"

"Will there be ice-cream, do you think?" asked Peetie Bow Wow.

"Oh, Daddicums wouldn't forget ice-cream" said Jingle.

Uncle Wiggily, with his wife and Nurse Jane, was very busy all day getting ready for the party in the bungalow. All the animal children of Woodland, near the Orange Ice Mountains, had been invited. Of course, all the bunnies would be there also.

In fact Uncle Wiggily was so busy getting ready for the Hallowe'en party that he did not hop out that day to look for an adventure as he nearly always did. If he had he might have seen the Bob Cat, the Woozie Wolf, with Red Fox and his cousin, Fuzzy Fox, talking together in the Bob Cat's den.

"I tell you we simply must catch Uncle Wiggily!" mewed the Bob Cat.

"That's what we'll do!" growled the Woozie Wolf.

"Why, all the animals in the woods are laughing at us," spoke Red Fox. "They heard how we were blown up by a toy balloon that burst under a pile of leaves when Uncle Wiggily blew it full of air. Bah! If I could only get hold of him!"

"There is just a chance that we can to-night," said the Woozie Wolf.

"How?" asked the other three Bad Chaps quickly.

"I was prowling around the bungalow, a little while ago," went on the Wolf, "and I heard some talk about there going to be a Hallowe'en party. Now, you all know what happens at parties. Everybody has so much fun they don't think of anything else. I think, while Uncle Wiggily is having his Hallowe'en party, we could slink around his bungalow, get in and maybe catch him and bring him here to Bobby's den," and he nodded at the Bob Cat.

"The very thing!" We'll do it!" mewed the Bab Chap with the short tail.

Soon when the children were having a grand time at Uncle Wiggily's Hallowe'en party, along came sneaking the four Bad Chaps. And just when the game of ducking for apples had started, into the bungalow burst the Bob Cat, the Woozie Wolf, Red Fox and Fuzzy Fox.

"What do you want?" bravely cried Uncle Wiggily. For the Bad Chaps had slipped in the back door when the animal children were making so much noise that the sound of the four could not be heard.

"We want you!" growled the Woozie Wolf.

Uncle Wiggily was standing near a wash tube full of water in which floated many apples. The game was for the animal children to take turns, kneeling at the side of the tub and trying to pick up a bobbing apple in their teeth. It was hard to do.

"You can't have me until you bob for an apple!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "This is "Hallowe'en and you must do as the others have done, Bob!"

"All right! We'll bob for apples and then we'll take you!" said Red Fox. "Come on, boys!" he called to the other Bad Chaps. All four knelt around the tub of water, their front paws behind their backs. They leaned down to pick up apples in their teeth.

"Now!" cried Uncle Wiggily: "Duck 'em!" He pushed the Bob Cat's head away under water. Mrs. Longears pushed Red Fox, Nurse Jane pushed Fuzzy Fox and Baby Bunty pushed the Woozie Wolf. Oh, what splashes there were! The Bad Chaps' noses, eyes and mouths were filled with water.

"Wow! Wow! Wow! Wow!" they cried and, dripping wet, out of the bungalow they ran. Then the Hallowe'en party went on to the end, which was ice-cream, and everybody was happy.

DOROTHY DIX tells The Real Truth about Feminine Charm

PETERBOROUGH
Girl's Letter

"MISS DIX, what is the secret of charm? Girls no prettier than I am are happily married with dear little homes of their own. Won't the right man ever fall in love with me—"?
EVELYN S—.

HERE is the real truth, Evelyn. It is femininity in a girl that arouses a man's desire to take care of her, marry her. And this adorable quality of true womanly charm can be yours as it can be every girl's!

But first of all, you must feel your own dainty, captivating femininity before you can impress others.

Confidence of Charm

Clothes can help to give a girl this happy self-confidence of charm. Especially all the dainty, most feminine part of a girl's wardrobe, her lingerie, negligees, hosiery.

Lovely, soft colourful underthings—lacy and shimmering—sheer, delicate hosiery—they make you feel so utterly feminine. Irresistible! You have faith in your inherent charm as a woman and because you have confidence in yourself, you impress others—for confidence is contagious.

But girls sometimes say, "It is so difficult to keep lovely underthings looking wonderful, colourful as new—frequent washings take away colour and charm."

It is true that just ordinary "good" soaps do take out some of the colour along with the dirt. But this will never be the case if you wash them always in Lux. Lux is made especially to keep colours vibrantly alive, to preserve the soft, dainty texture of sheer fabrics.

MOREOVER—NOT ONLY CAN DAINTY, colourful lingerie bring you confidence of feminine charm, but your surroundings can help you! Pretty curtains, slip covers, cushions, colourful table linens, all form part of the magic spell, when they are kept ever lovely with Lux. DOROTHY DIX

After 12 Lux washings—every thread in place, silk and lace fibres intact, colour intact. The garment retains all the charm of new.

After 12 washings with an ordinary "good" soap—silk fibres a little out of place—lace damaged. Lustre impaired—colour off.

Clothes can help to give a girl the happy confidence of charm

If it's safe in water, it's safe in* LUX!

IS NEEDED AT HOME.

The feeling is general that in view of the wheat situation and other problems of great importance arising therefrom that Premier Bennett should return from his European trip as speedily as possible.

It is announced that he proposes before sailing for Canada to visit France for the purpose of discussing trade relations with that country.

Under ordinary conditions that would be a desirable course, likely to be followed by beneficial results to this country.

But the situation in the Prairie Provinces—a situation that cannot fail to cause depression throughout the whole Dominion—is such as to demand the attention of the Federal Government, and apparently there is nothing that can be done until the Premier is back at Ottawa.

Negotiations with France are important—but not important enough to justify the absence of Mr. Bennett at a time when his services are most urgently needed at home.

They can wait until the most pressing of our domestic problems have been disposed of—and the Premier should be advised—if he has not already been—by his colleagues in the Cabinet that the people of Canada feel that he should get back on the job as soon as possible.

JUVENILE DRIVERS.

A fifteen-year-old Toronto boy was run down and seriously injured the other day by an automobile driven by a girl who admitted that she herself was only fifteen years of age, and the question naturally arises, "What business has a fifteen-year-old girl to be driving a motor car?"

Observation of general conditions goes to show that there is apparently a good deal of laxness to account for the large number of mere children who are entrusted with the handling of machines that require the careful attention and mature judgment of older people if accidents are to be avoided.

With motor traffic continually increasing and hazards as a result becoming more serious, the authorities should give some attention to this question of juvenile drivers, which if allowed to go on unchecked is likely to lead to a dangerous situation.

The whole field of operating licenses, as a matter of fact, should be reviewed, for in spite of the fact that the regulation requiring drivers to have a permit has been in force for several years there is reason to believe that there are many motorists who have ignored the law and are driving cars without the authority called for by the Traffic Act.

The purpose of the legislation is being defeated by reason of its seemingly lax administration.

MR. FERGUSON IN LONDON.

According to the Globe, which looks upon the rumored appointment with evident approval, Premier Ferguson, if he accepts the offer of the Canadian High Commissionership at London, will give the position a new significance.

The Globe intimates that Mr. Ferguson sees in the appointment the opportunity for real service on behalf of Canada, particularly in furthering the development of trade within the Empire, and pointing out that it is important that Canada should be represented in Britain by a man "burning with zeal for the welfare of the Empire," adds that "no doubt Premier Ferguson will do his best to deliver the goods."

Coming from a newspaper that has disagreed with the Premier on many issues and has opposed him with all the vigor at its command, the Globe's picture of how Mr. Ferguson would conduct himself in Britain were he to accept the appointment is noteworthy:

"Mr. Ferguson has the qualities of leadership, and he is possessed of unbounded energy and zeal in pursuit of his objectives," says the Liberal organ. "It will not be denied that he is an extreme partisan, and his campaign work has been marked by heavy hitting. But after the smoke of election battles has cleared away he resumes at once the role of the urbane and genial public man. He is recognized as a good mixer, and his admirers would go so far as to hope that, by personal intercourse, he would make an impression even on the present grim and uncompromising Chancellor of the British Exchequer. That may turn out to be the new Commissioner's supreme test, and, if so, there is no doubt he will enter joyfully upon his task.

"Premier Ferguson probably will give to the High Commissionership a new meaning. Mere routine duties will not hold him; in fact, it is doubtful that he will pay much attention to them. He will decide that his place is with the public—among the people, acquainting them with the potentialities of the overseas Dominions, with his own country foremost in his thoughts. And it looks like a good method of procedure. There is no doubt that not long after his arrival the British public will know Mr. Ferguson by sight, be familiar with his ideas and know what he represents. There will be nothing of the dilettante or idle dreamer about London's new citizen."

SHOP NOW AND AT HOME.

For those whose spending power has not been reduced by the present economic conditions—and there are evidences that there must be a lot of such people judging by theatre records and other indications—there has been no better time in years in which to purchase things they require, including Christmas gifts, than the present.

While the quality remains high, the price of most commodities is the lowest in a long period, and money can be spent to greater advantage just now than has been the case since the war.

This is particularly true of articles suitable for Christmas presents, and wise are those who are availing themselves of the opportunity to secure a better selection and more attentive service and who are doing their Yuletide shopping well in advance of the usual rush.

In addition, they are hastening the return of better conditions, for increased buying necessarily involves more orders for Canadian factories and just as inevitably creates more jobs for Canadian workers.

Peterborough people who are in a position to do so should do their Christmas shopping now and at home, for the money spent in Peterborough stores helps improve conditions for everybody.

MR. HOEY'S HOOEY.

The acting Premier of Manitoba, Hon. R. A. Hoey is reported in a despatch from Portage la Prairie, Manitoba, to have proposed to a convention he was addressing that Churchill, seaboard terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway, should be made a free port of entry into Canada for British manufactured goods.

No doubt Mr. Hoey's suggestion was warmly received by some of those to whom he spoke, but we can hardly think that he would have made such a proposal had he been a federal rather than a provincial minister. His idea appears to be nothing more or less than to put the Prairie Provinces on a free trade basis for British goods during the period of the year when the Hudson Bay water route is open, while precisely similar goods arriving at Saint John, Montreal or Vancouver would be required to pay the usual customs duties.

One will concede at once that Mr. Hoey is quite right when he says that this would mean return cargoes for the wheat vessels from England to Churchill. Indeed, it is possible to go further than that. It would mean that Churchill would become a great merchandising centre, with large warehouses to which Canada's requirements of British goods for the whole year would be rushed in during the shipping season, whether it were three or six months in length. It would probably then be economically sound for the Ford Motor Company to ship automobiles made in England to the prairies via Churchill, as the Canadian product would be entirely without protection and would be at the disadvantage of the long water and rail or all rail haul from East Windsor to, say, Regina.

All of Canada's requirements of British woollens and other textiles, now subject to heavy duties, would come in free to Churchill, because the freight on such materials to distribute them throughout Canada is a comparatively small item. This would not please Canadian textile manufacturers or their employees very much, but no doubt it would lower the cost of cloth.

We fear that Mr. Hoey is talking "hooey."—Border Cities Star.

IT'S NOT SPORT.

It is the greatest misnomer in the world to call prizefighting sport. The Literary Digest this week contains a remarkable exposure of this business which like many others in the United States has become permeated with graft. It is reflected from a suit by one Timothy J. Mara, New York politician, for $500,000 against Gene Tunney.

According to the Digest, Mara's suit was based on a claim to 25 per cent. of Tunney's championship winnings. But Tunney maintained that Mara was to get that "cut" for arranging a bout in New York, which he failed to do. The fight was staged in Philadelphia. Tunney won it, and went on to gather in $1,742,282 before forsaking the championship.

Something of Tunney's struggle with the politicians is shown by one of Alva Johnston's articles on the trial, in the New York Herald-Tribune:

"Early in 1926 Tex Rickard, the late promoter, had signed up Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney to fight for the championship of the world. The Boxing Commission, however, interfered in the matter, bringing forward a candidate of its own, Harry Wills, negro, who later was definitely proved to be a second-rate battler.

"Dempsey, as the world's champion, had to be a party to the fight, but the Boxing Commissioners claimed the privilege of appointing the so-called 'logical contender' or 'challenger.' The Boxing Commission thus retained the power of conferring a favor worth from $350,000 to $1,000,000 on the man of its choice.

"With this great stake dangled before him by the Boxing Commission, Tunney signed away, according to his own declaration, $500,000 of future earnings for the purpose of getting the political backing to win the Boxing Commissioners over on his side.

"Tunney signed away, it was calculated, 75 per cent. of himself to politicians in order to get the Dempsey match.

"On the other hand, according to a letter introduced in evidence, Wills signed away 95 per cent. of himself to gain political and other influence to swing the match his way.

"Wills, it was asserted, actually retained less than a 5 per cent. interest in himself, all the rest going where it was expected that it would do the most good.

"A long series of letters from William Gibson, the manager of Tunney, to the prizefighter, was introduced in evidence, detailing the progress of the political campaign waged in behalf of Wills and in behalf of Tunney for the enormous cash prize which the Boxing Commission insisted on bestowing where it thought best.

"The correspondence gave an interesting picture of politicians and promoters trying, like the mice that would bell the cat, to get up their courage to go directly to Governor Smith on behalf of Tunney. There is evidence in the record that Mara did finally see Mr. Smith, but met with a violent rebuff."

Tunney's bitterness against the New York State Boxing Commission is shown in a letter, introduced at the trial, which also embodies his scathing opinion of fight managers:

"If the Boxing Commission were half as kind to me as it has been to the Senegambian (Wills) I could go out to-morrow and get $5,000 a week on the vaudeville stage for the rest of the winter, and then box some 'dub' in the spring and get enough to retire on. But also I am not colored. Politics makes strange bedfellows. . . .

"The 'species' of fight managers is a strange one. It combines deceit, larceny, malice, viciousness and hatred all in one."

No wonder that Tunney has been called "high hat." He did have principle, however, and self-respect enough to quit the whole sordid business.

Tunney won his suit.—St. Catharines Standard.

THE SILVER HAWK

CHAPTER XXX

"VENGEANCE IS OURS"

A few seconds after Dorn left the tent, Kansas noticed his revolver lying forgotten on the table; and remembering that Dorn had enemies over at the station, he picked up the weapon and hurried over the path. At the landing he caught up with Dorn and gave him the revolver and said: "I'm carrying one. Might be just as well for us to stay together around here. Your friends' were over there last night." And when Dorn made no protest, he shoved the canoe off, and crouched in the stern, dipping a paddle.

Dorn asked: "You saw them?"

Kansas seized the chance to keep Dorn's mind from Aurore. "Yes. One of 'em is Harry Quillan. Used to fly in the Oregon Fire Prevention, but he was given the air. Every time a ship started wobbling a little bit, he'd step out and let her demonstrate gravity. No guts, in a pinch. But the other beezo is a tough customer. He must be piloting that pursuit machine. If I'jm not mistaken, he's Ace' McGregory, Jim. I only saw McGregory's picture, but he had a saddle in his nose where the stick caught him once in a crack-up, and the minute I saw this gent I remembered that picture. You know about him. Sort of oldish fellow; knocked down his half a dozen Fritzes in the War, but too hard-boiled for a commercial company to use."

They grounded the canoe and started up through the cedars; and Kansas kept talking, drawing Dorn's thoughts from that wilderness lake: "That gunner, I didn't know him, but he looked like a mate, all right, to McGregory. I expect they were the best pair Carter-Snowdon's money could hire, I'd hate to run away from a fight, but I'd hate like hell to monkey with that team in the air."

They came to the edge of the cedars, and stopped there a moment to look ahead. At the station a crowd was gathering for the morning westbound Transcontinental. A cluster of metis men, with a touch of the old fur voyageur still lingering in their jaunty clothes and gaudy ceintures flechees. A shy group of metise girls, black-haired, black-eyed, in their Sunday best of bright calico dresses and fascinators. Klootchmans with baskets of berries, and lake trout, and curios. Gingerbread Indians, silent and apart. But none of the enemies.

Across the clearing at Bergelot's cabin a tourist was knocking on the door, angrily trying to awaken the old station-master and procure a ticket before train time. It struck Dorn as queer; old Bergelot always was stirring at earliest daybreak. He suddenly demanded:

"What were those men doing over here last night?"

"Just loafing around, far as I could see."

"What time was that?"

"About eleven."

"Notice any stir this morning? You can hear their planes go up, from my camp."

"Yes, I heard—I meant to ask you what it might mean——"

"What?"

"Both ships went north."

"Both ships? North! When?"

"About an hour and a half, hour and three quarters ago. Just at daybreak. They went in a hurry . . . throttles wide open.

At Bergelot's cabin Dorn brushed the angry tourist aside, knocked once at the door, then broke the bolt with a powerful lunge. One glance around, and he leaped across to the doorway of the second room.

His oath of horror brought Kansas up beside him.

Old Bergelot was lying there motionless, face-downward on the floor. His grizzled hair was matted with blood, and a crimson pool had trickled down and darkened on the slabs. He lay in a grotesque heap beside the iron stove, with half an armful of stove wood scattered about him.

The tourist had timidly followed inside and he drew away from the sight, shuddering and gasping. But Dorn and Kansas dropped quickly to their knees and turned old Bergelot's body; and Dorn cried:

"Dad! Dad Bergelot! This is Dorn—this is Jeem lad . . ."

But then he laid his hand on the cold, wax-like features, and his own face went pale. He felt for a heartbeat. Kansas reached a mirror from above the washstand, and Dorn held it to the open lips. No film appeared on the glass. Across the body Dorn and Kansas looked at one another in realization that old Pere Bergelot was dead.

In a few seconds, after he had mastered the shock, Kansas wetted his lips and said: "Jim—he—that stove wood—he must've stumbled and fallen against a sharp corner of the stove."

With a glance at the tourist Dorn said: "Yes, that's what he did, Kansas. An accident. That's how he was killed." He ordered the third man: "Go up to the chalet. Tell the Swiss that old Bergelot . . . tell him to come and keep things as they are here till the coroner . . ."

When the man had gone—glad to get out of that darkened room into the sunlight, Dorn snarled:

"Accident! He was murdered. This wood, that candle burned to nothing—easy enough to arrange. It was the work of this detective, with maybe a couple 'breeds to help him. They came some time last night——"

"But why—but what?——"

Dorn strode over to the bunk and felt in a wall niche there where Bergelot had kept his valued possessions. His little canvas sack of money was there, a few trinkets, a packet of letters from his aged sister; but the letter Dorn had entrusted to him—the letter to Kansas and the map disclosing Aurore's hiding place—were gone.

Dorn whirled and came back; and without looking at his partner, he knelt again for a moment and pressed the gnarled old hand for a last time and his stern voice broke:

"It's all right, Dad. You couldn't help it. They were too many for you. You did all you could for her. You paid the price for being friend to her and to me."

He rose to his feet and turned and spoke to Kansas.

"They got the map and letter——"

"What map, letter? What does that mean?"

"Means they know exactly where she is. Means those two planes went north to get her."

For a space of silence the two men looked at one another. The thought was leaping in Dorn's mind: "I'll fly north alone. Kansas must not be involved in a death fight." The words were on his lips, but he checke them. The mere suggestion of it . . . Kansas would strike him in the face.

"Then let's be getting into the air," he said "We know what's cut out for us.'. He pointed down at the body at his feet' "They mustn't escape paying for this. And it's up to us to make them pay. The law can't touch them for this crime; they've seen to that; they've covered up their guilt. The vengeance is ours, Kansas."

They raced down through the red cedars, leaped into the canoe, and skimmed across toward the waiting plane.

Between strokes that bent his paddle blade, Kansas was snarling, as though in echo to Dorn's thoughts:

'Somebody's going to die this morning!"

They reached the Silver Hawk, turned it, hurried through their breathless preparations. While Dorn took the heavy camera and instruments ashore and brought back a drum of gas, Kansas moved the machinegun brackets to the rear seat, mounted the Lewis, fed in a web of cartridges; and to make sure the weapon was in working order, sprayed a leaden hail against a rock out in the lake.

Dorn flung the gas drum away, sent the canoe spinning with a kick, and jumped into the pilot's seat.

He said grimly, buckling on his parachute: 'I'm taking the stick. You can handle the Lewis better than I. Ready?"

A hundred yards out, he turned the Silver Hawk up lake, gave it the gun and leaped into the air.

Instead of circling as he usually did, Dorn climbed straight for the shoulder of old Titan Major—an angle terrifically steep. Kansas held his breath as the sheer rock-face swam nearer, towering above them. But Dorn knew the tremendous power of his plane; at the last moment, when it looked as though the machine would crash head-on against the dolomite escarpment, he tilted it still more steeply, cleared the hog-back by a scant twenty yards, and levelled the plane off before it could falter and go into a fatal spin.

Far away in the blue-hazy distance in front of him a snowy mountain, his first landwark, lifted itself in lordly majesty above its neighbors. With a vision aching in his brain—a vision of what was happening one hundred and fifty miles on beyond that mountain, of Aurore terror-stricken, captured, in the power of that brute, her husband—Dorn straightened the plane out.

With its mighty engine roaring above the scream of struts and the howl of riven air, it shot away into the north.

What To-day Means To You

"SAGITTARIUS"

If November 24th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. and from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. The danger periods are from noon to 1:30 p.m. and from 11 p.m. to midnight.

Fate leaves you to yourself on this date—there are no decided astrological indications. It should be a favorable time for study and reflection. Concentration on work is necessary, if favorable results are desired. Vague fears will upset the evening hours, which will not return with the dawn of another day.

The child born on this November 24th will have a sunny disposition, and a care-free nature. It will be inclined to shirk responsibilities and will be loath to give up its childhood's freedom. It will be lovable and sympathetic, and generous to a fault. It will be outspoken and sincere.

You are neither a saint nor a sinner, but an honest mixture of the two. People love you and confide in you, because you are so human. They always feel that their troubles will be understood, or their weaknesses or mistakes forgiven. Your sincerity, your lack of hypocrisy and your naturalness are the traits which differentiate you from others. You never pose or pretend, and the world sees you for what you really are—rich or poor, successful or unsuccessful, happy or unhappy. Your frankness is sometimes almost shocking, for you have the faculty of seeing through the veneer of others, and of meeting them on their real, not assumed, plane.

Your scholarship may have been poor, but you have sound ideas of life, fine ethics of honor, self-reliance, and the grit to endure and carry on, however hazardous the circumstance. You like to achieve things, you like to untangle knotty problems, but you are not materially ambitious and you would run from fame or publicity. You enjoy an active life, and your interests are many and varied.

You have religious inclinations, which may take an unorthodox direction, and a philosophical trend of mind. You have old-fashioned ideas about a home, and to you it is something more than a place to eat and sleep. You are given some musical skill, which you should at least cultivate as a hobby.

CHURCH OF THE SACRED HEART CELERATES 21ST ANNIVERSARY

Rev. Vincent Masterson, D.D., is Special Preacher to Anniversary Congregation.

OLD PARISH BOY.

The Church of the Sacred Heart is becoming conscious of its years.

With its twenty-first anniversary yesterday it attained the ripening age which men, in reckoning their development in wisdom and knowledge and service, designate as their majority.

And retrospect of a phase of the service which the Church of the Sacred Heart has contributed to its own community and ministry was quickened by the presence of Rev. Vincent Masterson, D.D., as special preacher at the anniversary celebration last night. A few years ago he was one of the sanctuary boys. Today, he is attached to the staff of the St. Peter's Cathedral, with four year's post-seminary studies in Rome amplifying his training for his life work. Another of the former boys of the church is Rev. J. C. Maloney, now assistant to the pastor of the church, Rev. J. J. O'Brien. Rev. J. V. McAuley, parish priest of Ennismore, who was also present last night, is recalled as the first curate of the church of the Sacred Heart, and its first pastor is now Archbishop M. J. O'Brien, D.D., of the diocese of Kingston.

A large congregation assisted at the devotional celebration of the twenty-first anniversary Sunday night. The children's choir, occupying front seats, sang processional and recessional hymns, and at Benediction, Rev. Father McAuley officiated, assisted by Rev. Father Maloney and Rev. V. Corkery.

The text of Rev. Father Masterson's sermon was Kings III, 9 to 3: "And the Lord said unto Solomon, I have heard thy prayer and thy supplication which thou hast made before Me. I have hallowed this house, which thou hast built, to put My Name there forever; and Mine eyes and Mine heart shall be there for ever."

After referring to the dedication of the magnificent temple which Solomon has built as a befitting abode among His people, Father Masterson spoke of the significance of the dedication of the church of the Sacred Heart. God had promised mankind a Redeemer, who was the second person of the Blessed Trinity. Jesus had come upon earth, and by His suffering and death restored to man his lost citizenship in the Kingdom of Heaven.

The mystery of the Incarnation, by which the second person of the Trinity had assumed our human nature and cancelled the debt which the human race had incurred, could not be fathomed by our feeble power. It was an article of faith that God had taken a body and soul like ourselves. Thus Jesus was endowed with a human heart, which was always considered by men as the centre of life and a noble symbol of love. History relates that among men the hearts of some great heroes were preserved and venerated by the people.

Devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus was not directed to His physical, human heart, Father Masterson said, but to His divine heart because of the hypostatical union of his human and divine natures. By His passion and death Jesus manifested His immense love for us. These manifestations of His love for man are symbolized by His Sacred Heart. The church wished to keep before our minds the great love of our Lord.

"In times of temptation we should seek refuge in the Sacred Heart," Father Masterson advised. "In times of trial and tribulation we should seek consolation in devotions to the loving Heart of Jesus."

Because of its special dedication to the Sacred Heart, the congregation should have a special attachment and obligation of devotion to the Sacred Heart.

Traders Show Little Interest on Either Side of Market in Sluggish Trading.

SOME SELLING.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (C.P.)—After having some difficulty in maintaining its foothold during the early hours of trading, the stock market managed rather feebly to resume its climb today. Losses of 1 to 5 points recorded during the morning were partially regained by early afternoon. Traders showed little interest in either side of the market, however, and prices moved rather uncertainly. Trading was again sluggish.

Allied Chemical lost 5 points, then regained about half its loss. Such shares as U. S. Steel, Westinghouse Electric, Air Reduction, and American Can, recovered most of early losses, running from 1 to nearly 2 points.

The market appeared to be awaiting some impelling development. Bulls were somewhat disappointed in the fresh selling pressure encountered at the high levels of the recovery last week, but the belief that there were substantial investment buying orders under the market, and that efforts on the downside would meet with strong opposition, restrained the bears.

The most conspicious development in the day's corporate news, the reduction of the Sinclair quarterly dividend from 50 to 25 cents, had been expected and had practically no effect upon the market. It merely accentuated the unsettled conditions in the oil industry, already well understood.

SNOW STORM ON UPPER LAKES.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Nov. 24.—(C.P.)—Storm signals warning of a western gale are posted at the ship canal here and reports tell of a severe snow storm on Lake Superior extending 200 miles north and west of Whitefish Point. Shipping is moving slowly.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND BRIEFS

A SPECIAL SERVICE TO THE EXAMINER

Resignation of Thomas Bradshaw, as director and general manager of Massey Harris Company, contained no great element of surprise to the street. Rumors had been current for some time that a change was impending. Mr. Bradshaw has had an enviable record since joining the organization about ten years ago. Noted then as a keen financier, he took hold of the company at a time when United State interests were after control, and not only greatly strengthened the financial position of the company but also brought it along where earning were showing healthy improvement. The past year, of course, has been especially trying not only because of general business conditions throughout the world—and Massey Harris does business with many foreign countries—but because the farmers of western Canada were among the first to feel the effects of reduced purchasing power. Mr. Bradshaw intends to devote most of his time to life insurance work, taking over personal direction of North American Life Assurance Company, of which he is president, and this company will benefit from the intimate association of one whose ability in matters of finance amounts to genius. Mr. Bradshaw is a man of wide interests, a student of world economic conditions, a man who has an understanding grasp of the present day maladjustments.

Depression Cycles.

F. B. Housser and Company pointed out that Professor Wesley C. Mitchell, director of research in the National Bureau of Economic Research in the United States, from data compiled on 19 major economic cylces from 1855 to 1927, found that the periods of acute unsettlement in business lasted an average of 16½ months. This would bring the present cycle to a close about February 1931. Housier and Company also state there is a surprising unanimity of authoritative opinion that a change for the better is not far off and quote from a number of recognized financial journals published on this continent.

MINE ISSUES ARE UNCHANGED

Nickel Eases a Quarter in Odd-lot Trading While Amulet Holds Steady.

AMULET FIRM.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 24. (By the Canadian Press.)—Still marking time, the mining market moved within narrow range in an irregular manner in the forenoon to-day. Large majority of issues were unchanged at midday, and volume of sales lowest in some time.

International Nickel eased a quarter to $18 in odd-lot trading, Noranda was holding and Hudson Bay regained 5 to $5.25. Amulet was firm. Falcombridge eased 5 to $1.50, Sudbury Basin 3 to 62, while Ventures held firm and Sherritt Gordon recovered 3 to 85.

Mining Corp., at $1.17, was up a couple, Howey, in fair demand gained 1½ to 21½ and Lake Shore and Granada sold up a half and 5. Respectively. Teck Hughes also was 10 stronger at $5.80. Kirkland Lake gold, off a couple to 43, showed the only recession in the group.

MINING BRIEFS

A Special Service to The Examiner

TORONTO, Nov. 24. (Special to Examiner.)—Action in copper stocks, which has been from 2½ to 7½ points and an average of 4 points in seven leading copper shares in New York has had an unfortunate effect, on other issues where the expectation of a stabilizing of the price of the commodity is the only basis for a forward movement, New York opinion states to-day. Unfortunately the public did not follow up the rise in the copper to any extent, as the advances were mainly due to short coverings and to some professional buying. Those who had profits took them quickly apparently.

A consolidation of various properties adjacent to Granada Rouyn including a part of the ground held by Rubec, Huronian Mining and others, is reported to be in progress. In the new company Huronian Mining and Finance, together with Granada and Rubec will probably receive stock interests. There are various gold showings on these properties with $15 per ton disclosed in one shoot 200 feet long by 6 feet wide on surface. Results at Granada has attracted considerable interest to the section. Work being done at Pelletier Lake by Ventures is said to have disclosed some extremely rich ore on surface recently.

George C. Bateman well known local mining man is in Vancouver this week representing the Ontario Mining Association, of which he is secretary, at the joint meeting of the Canadian Mining and Metallurgical Institute (B.C. division) and the Mining Association of British Columbia.

J. H. Macdonald has sold his Premier group, situated on the north side of the Salmon River in the Nelson mining division to Eastern capitalists fo $35,000. Some large replacement veins of lead zinc ore have been exposed on the property. The Eastern investors engineers are now on the property.

The eastern investors engineers are now on the property, laying out the development work to be done.

Higher Dividend.

Axxording to one financial service, Lake Shores 30 cents per share dividend, declared last week, will be the last 30 cent distribution. It is understood the management hope to pay at the rate of 60 cents quarterly from now on. Government gold figures for first nine months indicate an average daily rate of 1,338 tons and during the final quarter this average will likely be raised to around 1,600 tons per day with a rate of 2,000 tons established by the end of the year. Production this year should be in the neighborhood of $8,000,000 against $7,000,000 dollars in 1929. Nest year's gross is estimated around ten millions dollars.

If the original prorationing arrangement in the Oklahoma City field had been carried out, last Friday would have been the end of the 65 days shut off period on Ajax Oil No. 1 well. This did not take effect and no definite policy has as yet been set by prorationing authorities. Until it is definitely known that production is to be allowed it is not possible to estimate the company's revenue from this source. Officials state no. 2 well (Eckroat No. 1)—is now down a depth of 4,100 feet with the producing horizon expected at 6,500 feet. Better drilling time is being made on the second well than was made on the first. Revenue from the former, if any, will be subject only to a one eighth royalty whereas on No. 1 the company receives only seven sixteenths of total income.

Optimistic Report Briggs Manufact'ng

"Report has it that Briggs manufacturing will soon go on a $2.00 dividend basis. Company earned $2.26 in the first nine months this year and cash position is described as very strong," states Standard Facts and Forecasts. "It is one of the very few companies identified with the motor industry which made more money this year than last. Stockholders have received no payments since 1927 the stock formerly having been on a $2.00 basis. At 17 it would yield over 11 per cent and the market appears not to have fully recognized the merits of this situation."

DO-X PICTURED BEFORE LEAGUE BY R. MASSIGLI

Sensation Caused By Sudden Departure of M. Litvinoff For Milan, Italy.

CIVIL CRAFT USELESS.

German Representative Holds to Conversion of Civil Planes to Fighters.

GENEVA, November 24 (C.P.). — A picture of the DO-X, huge 12-motored German seaplane, armored and equipped as a bombing plane and a formidable weapon of war, was drawn for the preparatory Disarmament Commission of the League of Nations to-day by Rene Massigli, the French representative.

The allusions to the DO-X were made before a gathering already startled by one sensation, the abrupt departure of Maxime Litvinoff, Soviet Commissar for Foreign Affairs, for Milan, Italy from where, after conferring with the Russian Ambassador at Rome, he will proceed to Moscow, abandoning his work with the Disarmament Commission.

His departure aroused speculation as to a possible connection with the reported subversive disturbances in Russia, but members of the Soviet delegation remaining here declared that the disturbances did not exist, and that M. Litvinoff had left because he had done all that was possible in the Commission and was disgusted with its record in drafting a disarmament treaty.

The entire argument was in support of insertion in the draft treaty of an article calling for full publicity regarding the number of civil planes and dirigibles registered annually in each country.

Count von Bernstorff German representative on the Disarmament Commission deprecated the idea that civil craft might be transformed into fighting ships for military purposes. Germany, he said, strongly favors the fullest publicity on commercial airships, but he quoted a French Air Service official as asserting that converted civil craft stand a feeble chance in combat with planes built for military service.

Viscount Cecil of Chelwood also emphasized what he regarded as the "great war potentialities of civil airships."

ROTARY LEARNS

the field of physics and of Robert Boyle in chemistry supplied the methods to be used and discovered the principles which were to guide the investigator, Newton's law of motion, occupying a prominent place among those principles.

The speaker then passed on to refer to the atomic theory propounded by Dalton in 1805 and the molecular theory advanced in 1811 and not generally accepted for over fifty years. Then came, in 1863, the periodic law which formed the foundation of modern chemistry.

Explaining this law, Rotarian Henry said that when the elements were arranged in the order of their atomic weights, their properties were periodic functions of these atomic weights and when thus arranged gaps were found, but in time elements were found to fill nearly every one of the gaps, until by the end of the 19th century, scientists began to feel that they were within reach of finality in their knowledge of the material universe.

Then came the discovery early in the present century that atoms, hitherto supposed to be indivisible could be split up into smaller particles. The speaker stated that atoms were made up of tiny particles of two kinds, known through their electric charges; those carrying positive charges being called protons, and those carrying negative charges being known as electrons. Rotarian Henry explained the composition of atoms, as a heavy dense central part built up of one or more protons with some electrons, while around this nucleus were other electrons rotating in orbits. In short, atomic physics had become a kind of microcosmic astronomy.

An atom, the speaker explained, bore the same relation in size when compared to a baseball as a baseball itself did to the earth, while as regards energy, Rotarian Henry said the energy stored in a pint of water if liberated would be sufficient to propel the Mauretania across the Atlantic and back again at full speed.

"It is the dream of the physicists," he said, "to discover how to utilize for the service of man the great stores of energy which are locked up in the atoms."

In conclusion, the speaker dealt with radio-activity and explained the theory of photons as the greatest of all, he said, for it was the life of the atom.

"We sometimes think of standardization," concluded the speaker, "as being the destinctive keynote of modern industry. But even a Ford car has hundreds of parts that differ from each other. What then, shall we say of the Workman who by using only three different parts, protons, electrons and photons has made a universe with its infinite variety of beauty and life?"

Rotarian V. J. McElderry voiced a vote of thanks to the speaker.

An interesting feature to-day was the visit of a young mother with a child which was so badly scalded some time ago that the permanent loss of use of one arm was threatened. Dr. Moir, chairman of the Rotary Crippled Children's Committee, had taken charge of the case and as a result, the arm had been restored to normal.

Dr. Moir announced to-day that some eighteen children would be presented to Dr. Robertson, when the Rotary Clinic would be held here on the afternoon of December 5, and that the results of earlier cases undertaken by Rotary were regarded by the parents as generally satisfactory.

President Robert Abbott expressed the thanks of Rotary to Rotarian Dr. Moir for his services.

Suggestions in regard to Rotary activity at Christmas were asked for by the president, and will be considered later.

The principal item on to-day's menu was roast moose due to the generosity of Rotarian Elmer Metcalfe.

TAXI OFFICE THIEF ARRESTED

Information Received From Three Other Robbers Led to Frank Musco's Arrest.

IN COPPER CLIFF.

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 24.— (By the Canadian Press.) — Police received word yesterday from Copper Cliff, Ont., that Frank Musco, wanted here for holding up a taxi office September 14 had given himself up. He is the seventh man wanted for this and several other robberies. Six men arrested some time ago for the robbery appeared in court on Nov. 20 and pleaded guilty.

Three men walked into the office of a car renting company on Sept. 14, and covering the cashier with revolvers, took a small safe containing $331.50 and escaped in an automobile.

Two days later the safe was found in a vacant lot with the door blown open and the contents stolen. Six suspects were arrested and three of them were identified by the cashier as the robbers. A confession from one of them implicated Frank Musco. A detective left to-day for Copper Cliff to bring back the prisoner to Montreal.

Toronto Market Displays Firmness Despite Weak Tendencies at New York.

DULL TRADING.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 24. (By the Canadian Press)—The local market displayed a spark of firmness despite the weak tendencies prevailing at New York. Volume, however, was about the lowest witnessed this year, traders stood around the floor at a loss for something to do.

International Nickel and Noranda, the two issues of outstanding prominence in most all sessions failed to move and as a result were chalked up unchanged at noon. Nickel went at 18 while Noranda was turned over at $17.50.

Oils all bordered around their closes of Saturday. Liquors were unchanged for the most part. Steels failed to move and other inter-listed issues were on about an even keel with the latter part of the week.

Page Hersey proved to be the one high-light with an advance of fully 2 points to 86. Atlantic Sugar was another on the side of major advances and went at 11 for a gain of a point.

SEVERAL THOUSAND

conversation with The Examiner stated that the crowd was most orderly, and that after the plant was closed not a thing was misplaced or damaged.

Probably one of the most popular portions of the plant was the new building, one of the largest welded steel structures of it's kind in the Dominion and reputed to be the second largest in the world. Within its vast area large sections of the crowd were swallowed up.

An opportunity was afforded here to see the giant 25 ton travelling crane in operation away up within the confines of the roof.

A feature of the plant and one which must have made a great impression on the visitors was the absolute cleanliness which exists, even in the foundry and structural steel departments and the numerous safety devices, which play an important part in protecting life and limb. In the meter department was noted a shield, proudly displayed, denoting that that department holds the best safety record in the factory. The average number of employees in this department is fifty, and the last accident in that department was on December 7, 1928.

A recent visit to the plant which was made by His Worship Mayor Denne and members of the City Council, brought forward the suggestion from the Mayor that the building should be thrown open to inspection by the general public; hence the wholehearted invitation which was extended, and which was so fully accepted.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

REVENUE DROPS $30,639,000 IN SEVEN MONTHS

Canada's Unfavorable Trade Balance For 12 Month Period is $98,466,000.

DUTIES FALL OFF.

Total Imports Into Dominion For Seven Month Period Are $593,206,000.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 24.—(By the Canadian Press)— Canada had an unfavorable trade balance of $98,466,000 for the 12-month period ended Oct. 31, it was shown in a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. At the conclusion of the corresponding period of 1929, Canada had a favorable trade balance—surplus of exports over imports—of $4,470,000.

Total trade during October declined by $74,386,000 from the export and import figures for the same month in 1929. Imports dropped from $116,217,000 to $78,358,000 and exports fell from $119,265,000 to $82,781,000.

Imports Take Big Drop.

For the first seven months of this year, which includes October, the total imports into the Dominion were valued at $593,206,000 for the same period last year, the import figures was $776,564,000. Exports during the same seven-month period this year totalled $516,233,000 in comparison with the figure of $590,88,000 for 1929.

Coinciding with this decline in trade the Federal treasury suffered a substantial loss of revenue derived from customs duties. The total duty collected in the first seven months this year was $93,365,000, compared with $124,005,000 last year. This represents a loss to the treasury of Canada of $30,639,000. Duties collected in October amounted to $12,622,000 in comparison with $18,752,000 for the same month last year. The report shows that in no single month this year has the total duty amounted to the corresponding collections a year ago.

DEFINES NEWSPAPER AS HUMAN FORCE

Col. McCormick in Lecture at Yale Calls "Emancipation" of People Its Role.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 24.—Colonel Robert McCormick, publisher of The Chicago Tribune, in delivering the opening lecture on the foundation established at Yale by Paul Block, the publisher, who was present, said that the newspaper had invariably stimulated the emancipation of man and woman in every field of life and that this was its role in human progress.

Speaking on "The Newspaper as a Business Enterprise," he said, that, paradoxically, he did not call the newspaper a business enterprise, but a dynamic human force in progressive civilization.

The newspaper, he insisted, was not the result of a business organization but the achievement of an individual or a happy combination of individuals and that with the passing of these the newspaper would fall into a slow and steady decline until it came into possession of another man or group of men suited to the occasion.

"That these men can be produced at will by a board of directors, representing stockholders, as in the case of banks and railroads, the evidence of the past does not indicate," he continued. "If you consider investing in the newspaper field, invest in men, not in a corporation."

Colonel McCormick expressed the belief that the Bock Foundation will promote studies leading to a better understanding of the press as a political force and in its relations to publicopinion.

"The analogy of a newspaper to a business rather than to a profession has been accentuated of late by large financial transactions in the purchase and reorganization of newspaper property," he said. "It is normal political practice for politicians and promoters opposed to a newspaper to challenge constantly its sincerity and undermine its influence.

"So many newspapers have been purchased openly or surreptitiously to serve a special interest that the public is suspicious of an ownership that is not apparent and too strong to be subject to coercion from any source within or without.

"The pioneer newspaper which takes up an element of human life which leads to emancipation of any kind, social political or religious, promotes human progress and the future of journalism lies in such efforts of emancipation."

Jane Adams Writes On Chicago Gang Wars

Says City Holds Key to Rich Trade of West and Northwest in Liquor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—In the last analysis, "it is big money that makes Chicago gang wars so murderous," Jane Addams asserts in her new book "The Second Twenty Years at Hull-House," published yesterday by The Macmillan Company.

"The city holds the key to the rich trade of the West and Northwest in whiskey, wine, gin and beer, exactly as it does in wheat hogs, furniture and more staple commodities," Miss Addams says: "Bourbon now comes from Canada and is cleared through Chicago, arriving on motor trucks steamers, freight cars and airplanes from Detroit and other points along the border.

"Supplementing the Canadian ale and beer with the product of its own breweries, Chicago redistributes the lighter beverages as well. Certain Chicago citizens point out, almost with pride, that if other cities have escaped the bootleg wars, it is because they are less strategically located than Chicago in the scheme of liquor distribution."

To abolish the Eighteenth Amendment now or to modify it seriously "would be to obtain not even a negative result, and would mean that we never could be clear as to the real effect of national prohibition," according to Miss Addams.

Many more buildings are being erected in Jamaica than a year ago.

METROPOLITAN ORACLE DISPENSES UNFAILING, UNBLUSHING FLATTERY

Have You Ever Consulted to God Within the Weighing Machine?

IS POINTER TOO ACCURATE?

The Metropolitan oracle dispenses unfailing, unblushing and undiscriminating flattery. If you have never consulted the god within the weighing machine down at the big store, probably you haven't missed much except a written, dated and presumably accurate record of your assumptions.

Perhaps the poundage pointer on the dial may in fact be too accurate and unflattering for those who have cause for worrying about their curvilinear lines that tend more and more to concave accumulations and possible distensions. That new series of cigarette ads showing the ultimate and adult effects of the continuous combination of over much fats and carbohydrates is a haunting and unflattering prospect of eventual figures that are not selected for full page magazine displays of lingerie or B.V.D's. And as a dietary hint, it may be remarked that this offending rotundity is not compounded of spinach and Dad's cookies.

Mary Garden's eighteen-day diet may have become passee, but the ladies are still running after youth, their own fugitive youth that day by day outstrips their anxious quest. As proof of that one of the radio stations is featuring Tuesday and Friday afternoon health and beauty chats by Edna Wallace Hopper, the sixty-two year old soubrette who recently returned from Paris and is now appearing in a New York theatre, as youthful and graceful as ever, and she has been on the stage for more than forty years. Her dance program includes an adagio which the reviews especially mention, and the station broadcaster describes her as a beautiful girl.

But Broadway is far from George street, however, the hearts of their women, and men too, may bow in unison to the glorification of youth. And the Metropolitan's oracle is certainly not being neglected, not by an average of five hundred persons a week who step on to its platform and drop their cents into the slot. They may be merely curious, or again they may be concerned about the immobility of the normal weight line they are trying to hold within the approved silhouette. You know how it is, even if you scan the scales when somebody else has an extra copper.

Auto-Suggestion.

Anyway, if you don't like your weight, as it is automatically registered on a card which the Robot machine passes out to you, the oracle throws in a brief character analysis that is guaranteed to please. Here is a sample of the flattering unction which was delivered on September 8 to one of the devotees of this local Delphic god: "You have a cool, confident bearing, and are inclined to be very exclusive in the selection of friends, always desiring to associate with rich and distinguished people."

As an immediate result of this silent application of the psychological principle of auto-suggestion you immediately become cool and confident, no matter how diffident and retiring you are in your daily contacts. As for the exclusiveness and the rest of the utterance you probably dismiss it as hokum, realizing that humanity is too precious for that exclusiveness which the professor in an United States university recommended to his students and thereby got his name on to the Associated Press wires to the accompaniment of more or less editorial sarcasm. And as for associating with the rich, you admit that perhaps if you have six or seven big "O's" after your dollar mark you might be taken up by the plutocrats, but if you are in the penurious position that harassed Scotland's great bard you comfort yourself with the fine philosophy that "a man's a man for a' that", and you bind your tried friends to you with stouter bonds.

Other Deliverances.

Then you may receive this communication from the oracle: "You are fond of travel, a lover of music and art, a deep lover of family, and with a deep spirituality underneath it all." And to that you probably respond with the solecism "That's me all over." What man wouldn't? All the pharisees are not dead yet.

Another cent brought out this one: "You are not dictatorial in the least, but you carry everything your way at home, in a rollicking, good-hearted way."

That's big-hearted Joe to the life. And this one is for the girls: "You are charming, and have a beautiful temperament and are fond of things, especially wearing apparel so long as they are new." And that may fairly describe a competent gold-digger, 1930 winter model.

To this one, the oracle ventures a little advice: "When you are acting under the influence of your best judgment and intention, carry your determination through, and don't throw it up in a spirit of petulance and don't forget, you are as likely to be right as the meddler." Well, the young man trying to get along can't go far astray on that counsel.

Appeal to Ambition.

Here's another: "Your imagination is most wonderful and when developed to a high state, you will be able to achieve marked success as a writer and a playwright."

Since, the magazine editors tell us that they are swamped with fiction, that ought to please a lot of the customers. And we go home in a new glow to finish that short, short story, just as pot-boiler, or to get a toe-hold on the slopes of Parnassus.

After that one we dig up another cent, with this reward: "There are many sad experiences in your life, especially in your younger days and you attain to whatever height you reach by climbing and fighting, but the end is worth the sacrifice."

There's characteristic oracular equivocation in those lines, but a pile of truth, too. We knew by this time there is nothing else but sad experience. Playing around on "the coming board" was one of them, and a few "nine dreams" that George Lynch used to sing about, why only last Sunday we stood to win a million in the Irish sweep, but did we?

The Metropolitan "angle" manifestly knows something about life, but not much about people. Its utterances are all directed to the nobler side of character, just as if there were no reverse. On that side a long series of stereotyped personalities might be mismated with equal fitness to most of the weigh scale devotees.

For instance: "You never pay your debts if you can get out of it, and put him on many cigarettes you are becoming a nuisance."

"You like motoring, but you can't afford it. You should pay the grocer, the butcher and the landlord first."

"You have a pleasing voice, but that's no reason why you should talk loudly whenever you think you have an audience."

"You have a very loving disposition, but you should confine your attention to your wife (or husband)."

But, after all, such admonitions would no doubt be wasted. They have been received for hundreds and possibly thousands of years, and few people have paid any attention to the oracle.

Wise oracle.

RUNAWAY HORSES IRRIGATE LAND

Man Was Filling Barrels With Creek Water For Dry Farm.

LINDSAY, Nov. 24.—Although there certainly is nothing funny in the fact that wells in many part of the country are drying up and farmers have to draw water for their live stock from creeks, an incident that happened recently in this connection will appeal to those whose sense of humor runs to slap-stick comedy.

Carl Birchard had loaded a waggon with barrels and tins which he intended to fill from the friendly waters of the creek on the Ops-Mariposa boundary. He had backed his wagon in the creek and had filled the many receptacles when the horses started forward with a jerk throwing him into the creek and dumping much of the water back to the place it came from.

Then the team ran away, scattered barrels and tins all over the countryside at the same time irrigating some of the dry roads, cut an old mail box off at the roots and smashed the wagon before they were finally stopped. One of the horses was rather badly hurt.

Tiny baskets of gold thread filled with exquisite flowers of china are being worn as pendants in London.

Newtonville Church Is Destroyed By Fire

PORT HOPE, Nov. 24.—Damage estimated at $15,000 was occasioned early Sunday morning when fire destroyed the Newtonville United Church, eleven miles west of here, as well as the Sunday school and driving sheds, and at times threatened the community hall and school house. The loss is partly covered by $3,500 insurance.

The fire, which originated in the hay mow in the driving shed, fanned by a strong westerly wind, spread rapidly and the efforts of the bucket brigade were futile. Calls were sent to the Port Hope and Bowmanville Fire Departments, but lack of water handicapped firemen. Villagers managed to save the contents of the buildings. Sparks ignited the roofs of the community hall and the school but the volunteer workers saved these structures from destruction. The parsonage, situated 25 feet south of the church, was not damaged.

PILE SUFFERERS

End Your Misery Without Salves or Cutting.

External treatments cannot permanently end Piles. Nor does cutting remove the cause.

The cause is internal—bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel. The veins are flabby—the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles an internal medicine must be used to heal and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, a specialist after years of study discovered a real internal Pile remedy. He named his prescription HEM-ROID and prescribed it for 1000 patients, with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist.

Don't waste time on external remedies or think of the pain and expense of an operation until you have tried HEM-ROID. McDermid & Jury, Bond's Drug Store will supply you and guarantee money-back if it does not end all Pile misery.

ORATORY CONTEST AT CENTREVILLE

Eight Pupils From Six Schools in South Monaghan Enter Competition.

BAILIEBORO, Nov. 24 (Examiner Correspondence).—Preparations are being made for the township oratorical contest which will be held at Centreville on Monday evening. The chairman, J. C. Campbell, as well as the local school teachers have made the necessary arrangements and purchased the prizes.

Eight pupils from the six schools in South Monaghan have entered and the program will no doubt be one of the most interesting events that has taken place in the district for some time.

Music will also be provided by Misses Grace Johnston and Helen Howson.

Each of the eight contestants will receive a substantial prize to award them for their efforts. The winning pupil will win the Fraser trophy for his or her respective school.

J. B. Reynolds, ex-President of the Guelph O.A.C., will preside as judge.

Col. O'Dell, inspector of the public schools of the United Counties will be present to make the presentations.

An invitation has been forwarded to Major William Fraser, M.P. and others who are connected with the school boards, to attend the contest.

Policyholder says:

"The $50 Monthly Income will be of great assistance"

Mr. ——— was ill for a long time, but, because he had a Confederation Life Policy with Total Disability Benefits, he received $50 a month income . . . and his insurance was kept in full force without payment of further premiums while receiving such benefits.

Confederation Life Association,
Dear Sirs:

Please accept my sincere thanks for the prompt attention given my claim, regarding the Disability Clause in my insurance policy. The $50.00 monthly income will be of great assistance, as I have had such enormous expense in connection with my long illness.

I wish to express my appreciation for the courteous manner in which the Company has always transacted business with me.

I heartily recommend Life Insurance with the added Disability Clause, as it is one of the safest and best investments I know of.

Yours sincerely,

We earnestly recommend you to write for particulars of the Confederation Series of Policies, with Total Disability and Double Indemnity Accident Benefits, and participating in profits. They provide the most economical form of insurance to be had. The coupon above is for your convenience.

SOCIETY HEARS LIBRARY REPORT

Mrs. J. H. Snider Hostess to Members of Cavan's Women's Institute.

CIRCULATION MEETING.

CAVAN, Nov. 24 (Examiner Correspondence).—On Thursday afternoon, Mrs. J. H. Snider was hostess for the November meeting of the Cavan Women's Institute, the president, Mrs. J. W. Perrin presiding.

The roll call was responded to by each member stating "something she was thankful for."

Mrs. R. S. Staples, convenor of the purchasing committee, reported 37 books listed in the library with numbers and authors named. Eight more are ordered, making 45 books as a nucleus for a library. Non-members may have the use of the books by paying a fee of twenty-five cents. Any person keeping a book out longer than two weeks will be fined five cents a day for each extra day. A number of books were brought in by the members to form a circulating library. It was left in the hands of the committee to find a place to keep the books.

Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Harry Tinney, Mrs. I. Keegan and Mrs. Ray Syer were named a committee to meet at Mrs. I. Keegan's home, and arrange the books for circulation.

A communication was read from the Department telling of committees formed in New Ontario to receive bales of clothing for relief work during the winter months.

It was decided to send a bale, each member contributing something. Miss M. E. Hunter, the delegate to the convention in Toronto, next week, was authorized to stay at the Royal York Hotel where all meetings will be held.

A motion was sponsored by Mesdames Staples and Snider, that the next meeting be held on the evening of the second Thursday in December, be an open meeting, and a collection be taken to be used for "Christmas Cheer." The report of the convention will form part of the program.

Mesdames Hunter and Matchett introduced a motion that a bazaar be held next May, each person to contribute one article.

It was also decided to renew the subscription to the League of Nations.

Mrs. Staples read a poem by Robert Louis Stevenson "The best things are nearest;" Mrs. Perrin read, "Are we a gloomy people?" by Nellie McClung; and Mrs. Staples read an article on "The League of Nations." A short discussion followed on "Is home life and influence declining and why?"

A topic for the next meeting is "History of our Pioneer Days."

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by the lunch committee.

East Emily, Nov. 24. (Examiner Correspondence.)—The Ladies Aid of Bethel United Church and the Women's Institute of Mount Pleasant, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard James on Wednesday evening.

Owing to the terrible mist the attendance was not as large as might have been.

The meeting was opened by the President of the Aid, Mrs. Evans Storey. Blest be the tie that binds, was then sung. The Lord's Prayer repeated in unison and Miss Eleanor Sherin then read a passage of scripture and the meeting was given over to the Mount Pleasant ladies. Mrs. Shield then took charge and a varied program was put on, consisting of a paper given by Mrs. Ira Lowe, and Miss McCamus, then gave a talk on her recent trip to the coast, which was very interesting. Mrs. Hubert Lowes delighted everyone with a reading, "Isn't it Charlie", and encore.

There were several solos, readings, and piano and mouth organ selections.

Mrs. C. Morden then put on a contest and the delightful meeting was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem.

The Bethel ladies then served lunch. Votes of thanks were tendered to each society for their part and to Mr. and Mrs. James for their kind hospitality.

INDIGESTION

Banished By Kruschen

"I suffered for some years from a bad stomach. I used to feel very miserable after meals. The doctor advised me to take Epsom Salts, but it did me no good. I decided to try Kruschen and am now taking it, and have done for the past 12 months, and I am very glad to tell you that my stomach is now in perfect order. I feel as young in spirit as I was 20 years ago, thanks to Kruschen." (W.B.)

You know how badly an engine runs when it gets clogged up. It's the same with your body when your gastric—or digestive—juices fail to flow. What you need is a tonic. Nature's own tonic—Nature's six mineral salts.

You get all these six salts in Kruschen. The first effect of these salts is to promote the flow of the saliva and so awaken the appetite. The next action occurs in the stomach, where the digestive juices are encouraged to pour out and act upon the food. Again, in the intestinal tract, certain of these salts promote a further flow of these vital juices which deal with partly digested food and prepare it finally for absorption into the system.

The general escaped injury, but one one of his guards was wounded.

The incident was shrouded in secrecy, but it is understood that General Mulcahy and some friends were about to enter the residence of Professor Hayes, speaker of the Dail Eirwann, when shots were fired. General Mulcahy's guard returned the fire and men were seen dashing away.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

History Repeats Itself In P. C. I. Downfall-

Tigers Enter Eastern Canada Finals

GARNET AND GREY SQUAD PLAY BRILLIANT GAME 'SPITE WEIGHT HANDICAP

Victory Held in Balance During Early Part of Rugby Play-off Fixture.

BUT WEIGHT TELLS.

And P.C.I. Line Slowly Crumbles Before Continued Onslaught of Delta.

History repeated itself at James Stevenson Park on Saturday afternoon when Coach Ernie Legon's smart Peterborough Collegiate team went down to defeat before the smashing attacks of Hamilton Delta Collegiate's powerful rugby machine by the score of 24 to 11.

Year after year with amazing regularity P.C.I.'s former coach, Carl S. Browne, assembled rugby squads at the local school which battled their way through to district honors. Speed, condition, courage and smartness were ever part and parcel of those teams of the past, but always fell before the heavy, highly-drilled teams from Toronto and Hamilton.

The same fate befell the team which Coach Legon has worked so hard with this year. But never has a Garnet and Grey team given such a gallant account of themselves than did the P.C.I. squad on Saturday. Out-weighed ten to twenty-five pounds at every position they almost overcame the weight advantage to snatch a victory.

After a bad start, during which time nervousness gripped them and they handed Delta five points in the first two minutes of the game, they untangled themselves, dug in their toes and battled their opponents down every inch of the gridiron. In fact they opened such a brilliant offensive that within three minutes they had tied the score. Gaining ground on a series of trick plays and halfline a few minutes later they swept down the field to another touchdown to take a five-point lead.

It looked at that time that the sheer courage and fighting spirit of the light Garnet and Grey team might carry them to victory. But as the game progressed weight began to tell and tipped the scales in favor of Delta. Smashing plunge after smashing plunge was sent against the steely P.C.I. line. Delta's gains were slow at first but they were consistent. Five yards, eight yards and the yard sticks were shifted, and the steam roller attack began again. Isbister was able to kick for a rouge.

Early in the second quarter Delta scored again when Isbister tossed a forward pass thirty yards into the waiting arms of the speedy Farnworth who raced twenty yards for a touchdown. But for the remainder of the quarter P.C.I. stayed off that crushing attack and when half-time came were still much in the game.

Hamilton maintained their hammering thrusts to start the second half. Welch broke through centre for a thirty-yard run, the longest gain made by Delta during the struggle and Isbister kicked for another rouge. Again and again Delta pounded their way to near P.C.I. touchline only to have the great defence of the Garnet and Grey thwart them. Young's broken field running and the manner in which the P.C.I. halves were tossing the pigskin around was sensational at this stage. A fake kick failed and Delta gained possession on P.C.I.'s 20-yard line. From there they plunged for a touchdown, Zvonkin, their 190-pound line crusher, taking the ball over.

In the last quarter, aided by a strong wind Isbister was able to kick for two rouges. P.C.I. held off another major score and had made big gains themselves, but in the last three minutes of play a forward pass was intercepted, and Delta plowed through for another touchdown.

The Delta team and mode of attack was patterned on the Hamilton Tiger system. They depended solely on plunges and never even attempted an extend. Welch, Zvonkin, Caldwell and Zavitz did most of their ball carrying and each of these boys would tip the beam at well over 175 pounds. Bob Isbister, their six-foot half back, as expected turned in a sensational display of kicking. The boy was punting sixty yards on every effort and with the wind at his back, his boots often ranged further than that.

It was the weight and Isbister's kicking that earned Hamilton the victory. In every department of the sport P.C.I. were every bit as good as their opponents. Their interference and tackling was superior and certainly no member of Delta team showed as smart a pair of heels as did Young or Dunkerly for P.C.I.

Too much credit for their great effort can not be given the P.C.I. players. Each gave all he had. Young was of course outstanding for his brilliant open field running in carrying back Isbister's hoists. Dunkerly, Richardson and Fraser also showed speed in weaving through tacklers and rounding the ends. Preston handled the plays without a slip and showed rare judgment. The whole line was in on every play and stood up under a tremendous amount of pounding.

RANGERS EASILY DEFEAT QUAKERS

Score Four Times in Eight Minutes After Philadelphias Tie Count.

OUTPLAY VISITORS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24—Scoring four times in eight minutes of the second period, in the biggest goal-getting spree New York has seen in the current National Hockey League season, the New York Rangers trounced the Philadelphia Quakers last night, 5 to 2.

Except for brief intervals, the Quakers were outplayed in every department, and after the halfway point of the second frame the Philadelphians did not have a chance.

Just 19 seconds after Sid Howe, young Philadelphia centre, had evened the count at 1 to 1, "Bun" Cook and Frank Boucher broke through the weak Quaker defense to score. Gene Carrigan tallied in another two minutes and Murdoch and "Bun" Cook finished with a goal apiece. Paul Thompson scored the opening Ranger goal in the first period. "Hib" Milks tallied again for Philadelphia on a solo dash in the final frame.

HARRISONS TIE WITH BOWLRITES

Final Game in Second Half of Schedule Played at Lakefield.

SUGAR BOWL WINS 23-5.

LAKEFIELD, November 24 (Examiner Correspondence). — The last games of the second half of the Softball League were played on Friday night. The decisions made a tie for the leadership of the second half between Harrison's, winners of the first section, and the Sugar Bowl team, who tied them for leadership of the second section. The first game was a merry-go-round for the Sugar Bowl, and Jack Frost for the Cementos who were not up to form with the notable exception of White, the catcher, who was on the spot all the time, Forsyth, the star pitcher of the Sugar Bowl team, had fourteen strike hits to his credit, and no walks while Elliott had four strikeouts and two walks. Hardill and MacWilliams both landed nice three-base hits, which helped along the gaiety of the Sugar Bowl if not the Cementos, who, however, took their trimming like sportsmen. R. C. Chittick at the plate and J. E. Laidley at the bases, were umpires.

The following is the line-up:

Sugar Bowl — L. Forsyth, p; W. Mahood, c; S. Maudsley, 1b; J. Gillespie, 2b; B. Mahood, 3b; H. Nichols, ss; J. Hardill, ss; M. MacWilliams, rf; W. Simmons, lf.

Cementos — F. Elliott, p; H. White, c; W. Wingett, 1b; O. Abrams, 2b; J. Sabatino, 3b; R. Mott, ss; L. Sabatino, ss; K. Junkin, rf; E. Morin, lf.

More Balanced Tilt.

The second game was more evenly balanced, and while it had little bearing on the finals except for the fact that a victory for Selwyn would leave the Sugar Bowl the undisputed winners of the second, owing to a very strong counter attraction. Selwyn was short several players and recruited from the spectators, and there was a real game. Dorrington, the snappy third baseman of Harrison's, was absent, and Playford, their trusty first base, but Percy Harrison filled in with credit to himself and team. He shared the honor of pitching with Smith. W. Wingett at the plate and C. Chittick at bases chaperoned the game.

The following is the line-up:

Selwyn — Richmond, p; Payne, c; FitzGerald, 1b; Forsyth and Charlton, 2b; Langley, 3b; Shearer, ss; Northey, ss; McIlmoyl, rf; Elliott, lf.

Harrison's — Smith, p; Haas, c; Kitchen, 1b; Sturgeon, 2b; Clark, 3b; Harrison, ss; Corbett, ss; O'Keefe, rf; Vinnett, lf.

Charlton took Forsyth's place in the third.

Score by innings:

BRUINS TIE WITH FALCONS

Overtime Game in Michigan City Results in 2. all Tie.

FAST SKATING AFFAIR.

DETROIT, Nov. 24. — Boston's Bruins and the Detroit Falcons battled through three periods and an overtime in their National League hockey contest here last night and ended with a 2-2 tie.

The game was nip-and-tuck throughout, although only nine penalties were called, none in the first period.

The Bruins made the Falcon defense look bad at the start of the game, Weiland scoring the lone first period goal for the Bruins, but in the second period the Falcons showed a fast skating offensive and a defense that the Boston team had trouble in beating.

Noble scored early in the second period for the Falcons, and Pratt put the Bruins ahead again late in the same period. Ebbie Goodfellow, Falcon centre, tied up the game two all midway in the final period, when he teamed with Herbie Lewis in a triple pass that Thompson, Bruin goalkeeper, couldn't beat. Neither team made any progress in the overtime period.

R.M.C. Intermediates Oust Montreal C.N.R.

MONTREAL, November 24. — The Royal Military College squad defeated Canadian Nationals of Montreal in the first Canadian intermediate football elimination here on Saturday, turning the Railroaders back 5 to 3.

The Cadets showed better condition on the line, smarter despatch in getting their plays away, and more studious attention to sound football. Clary Booth, Canadian National kicking ace, outpunted Davoud, the cadet, on occasions, but his faltering at other stages detracted from his spasmodic brilliancy.

LEAFS BLANK SENATORS 2-0

Chabot Shuts Out Opposition For Third Time This Season.

COTTON-CONACHER SCORES.

TORONTO, Nov. 24. — Emerging victorious over the Ottawa Senators in Saturday night's N.H.L. fixture at Arena Gardens, the Maple Leafs completed their fifth straight game without a goal scored against them and strengthened their hold on first place in the International section of the Calder circuit. The score was 2 to 0. A near capacity crowd witnessed a fast game which was stubbornly contested right up to the final second of play.

Until the closing minute it was anybody's game, with the Leafs holdinging a slight one-goal advantage, the result of a nifty scoring effort by Harold Cotton in the second period, when he lodged the puck in the Ottawa net following a pass from Irvin Bailey. With twenty seconds of the third period left, and Ottawa launching a four-man attack, Harvey Jackson broke away and gave a rink-wide pass to Charlie Conacher on the opposite wing. Conacher swept in on Goalkeeper Alex Connell and delivered a wicked shot that Connell had no chance to stop. That made the Leafs' victory decisive and there was no time left for Ottawa to overcome such a handicap.

It was a particularly pleasing game from a Toronto standpoint. The Leafs were the better team on the night's play, but Ottawa extended the locals at all times and Lorne Chabot, in the Toronto net, was called upon to make some sensational stops in order to keep the local's fine record intact. It was the third game this season in which Chabot has blanked the opposition and he is now one up on his co-worker, Benny Grant, with whom he alternates in the cage position.

CANADIENS FALL BEFORE HAWKS

First Time Since 1927 Chicago Team Has Beaten Flying Frenchmen.

FINAL COUNT 3-0.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Cutting loose with the best hockey they have played on home ice, the Chicago Black Hawks trounced the Les Canadiens of Montreal 3-0 in a National Hockey League match last night.

Before a crowd of 15,226 the Hawks outfought the swift world champions, scoring a goal a period to win. The flying Frenchmen skated like wild men all the way, and had plenty of shots, but could not break through "Chuck" Gardiner, the crack Hawk goalkeeper.

The first score came well into the opening period. Tommy Cook picked up a pass from behind the Montreal net, from Teddy Graham, and flipped it past Hainsworth from close quarters. The second score was accomplished shortly after the second period opened. The Hawks made a big drive into the Montreal zone, with Gottselig passing to Ripley, who scored as Hainsworth sprawled clear out of the net.

The final score was gained on a solo effort by Ripley, who snared the puck while the Frenchmen were making a five-man assault in the last period. Ripley skated up the left side and fired away from long distance. The shot caught Hainsworth by surprise, and he had no chance to get set.

The victory was the first for the Hawks over Canadiens since December, 129.

TIGERS ROMP TO VICTORY IN FINAL PERIOD

Dave Sprague Gallops 40 Yards For Touchdown as Fourth Begins.

OUT FOR THIRD TITLE.

Big Four Champions Show Superiority in Plays From Scrimmage.

TORONTO, Nov 24.—Marching triumphantly on, battered and bruised, but still battling successfully, weakened though they are with injuries, the mighty Hamilton Tigers removed another obstacle from the path in their quest for a third straight Dominion rugby championship and left a fallen foe behind at Varsity Stadium on Saturday afternoon.

The Tricolor of Queen's University flaunted bravely and gaily in the faces of the Tigers for three periods of a tense gridiron struggle, then wavered and drooped as Dave Sprague, tall and powerful plunger of the Bengals, ripped through the Queens' team and galloped forty yards, to score a touchdown and deal a death blow to the Intercollegiate champions. Tigers won by 8 to 3, scoring seven of their points in the fourth quarter. They now meet Balmy Beach, O.R.F.U. titleholders, here next Saturday afternoon in the final game of the Eastern Canada playdowns, the winner of which will contest the Dominion honors with Regina Rough Riders, Western Canada champions, who are preparing to make another invasion eastward.

Crowd Smaller Than Expected

A crowd estimated to be in the neighborhood of 10,000 braved the chilly west wind and clammy atmosphere to see the interprovincial titleholders dispose of the Tricolor here. It was a game lacking in spectacularity until the closing quarter, when Tigers began to make substantial gains through Queen's previously strong defense. Until Dave Sprague made his victorious charge, the Tricolor was nursing a 2 to 1 margin over the Jungle Kings, and the teams had just changed ends for the concluding period. For three periods, the Kingston students had held their notable opponents to a single point, but Tigers leaped into the driver's seat with dramatic suddenness. Almost in the twinkling of an eye, the whole complexion of the game changed, and the Tricolor's hopes were smothered under the most spectacular play of the struggle.

MAROONS SCORE FIRST VICTORY

Defeat New York Americans 4 to 3 By Clever Combination Plays.

SPEEDY CONTEST.

MONTREAL, Nov. 24.—Snapping out of their period of goalessness, the regulars of the Montreal Maroons' hockey squad found their shooting eyes on Saturday night and defeated the New York American four goals to three for their first win in five starts. All goals were team-work efforts and in each case a newcomer to the squad this year provided the assist. Only the return of scoring ability saved the Maroons, as the Americans found much the same holes in the defense as found by other teams and pounded through for three markers, two of them pretty combination plays.

ROUGH RIDERS AND CATS FIGHT 14-0 DECISION

Northwestern Loses Two Excellent Chances to Score Through Costly Fumbles.

MICHIGAN DOWNS CHICAGO

Harvard's Well Earned 13-0 Victory Over Yale High Spot of Eastern Football.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—That mythical national football championship situation, more and more a nightmare for the experts in recent years, had resolved itself to-day into a duel between Notre Dame, on the one hand, and the rest of the field, on the other.

If Rockne's Rough Riders can hurdle their two remaining obstacles, Army and Southern California, there will be little or no dispute over the award of the mythical title, for no other college eleven in the country has played so representative and difficult a schedule. If either Army or Southern California stop Rockne's men, then the title will have to go abegging, with one expert's nomination as good as another's.

Notre Dame has won most of its games this year by getting the jump on the opposition, but it took a last-period assault for the Rough Riders to knock over Northwestern yesterday 14-0. The Wildcats, co-holders with Michigan of the Big Ten championship, entered the battle unbeaten and untied, and were not minded to surrender without a struggle. For three periods—or a major part of them—Notre Dame was on the defensive Northwestern losing two excellent chances to score through costly fumbles within the Hoosier's ten-yard line. In the fourth period, Northewstern's defense crumbled, and Marchmont Schwartz raced 29 yards for one touchdown and staged the scoring position for the other with a pass to Conley that took the ball to the one-yard line. Dan Hanley crashed through the second score.

Pistol Shot Ends One Game.

In the excitement over this fray, other Midwest classics suffered some neglect. Only 45,000 persons, smallest of the season, saw Michigan down Chicago, 16-0, to end the Big Ten race in a tie with Northwestern. Indiana's Hoosiers, distinct underdogs, flashed a fourth-period offensive that turned back Purdue, 7-6, while Ohio State won 12-9 over Illinois. Wisconsin vanquished Minnesota, 14-0, but the big kick of the game came when some one fires a pistol toward the close of the final period, and both teams ran off the field, thinking the battle was over. After a 15-minute delay, Wisconsin's team came back to the field, but Minnesota failed to show up, and officials declared the game over. Iowa checked in with a 12-7 victory over Nebraska to add to Big Ten prestige.

In the East, Harvard's well-earned victory over Yale, 13-0, with 78,000 persons looking on, furnished the high spot of the day. The Crimson outplayed the Elis all the way, and flashed a great passing combination, in Barry Wood and Art Huguley, which gave Harvard its touchdowns in the first and third periods.

Lou Kirn's 65-yard tackle-off dash gave Navy a 6-0 triumph at Maryland's expense, and Army, taking a "breather," brushed aside Ursinus, 18-0, with second and third string players doing the work

Another Big Upset.

The biggest upset of the day saw New Hampshire's fighting Wildcats bfreak through for a touchdown in the first period and then hold off all of Brown's scoring threats to win, 7-0. Western Maryland, after twenty straight victories was held to a 7-7 tie by Albright

Kansas assured itself of no worse than a tie in the Big Six Conference by whipping Missouri, 32-0, in the only conference game of the day. Iowa State and Oklahoma lost to rivals from the Missouri Valley Conference, Drake and the Oklahoma Aggies, respectively. "Bo" McMillan's Kansas Aggies turned back Centre College, where McMillan made his football name, 27-0.

In the Southwest Conference, Texas Christian was dethroned as titleholder when Baylor ripped through for a 35-14 verdict. Christian's defeat left Texas University with an excellent chance to win the championship by defeating Texas A. and M. next Thursday. The Aggies could get no better than a tie with Daniel Baker yesterday, 6-6. Southern Methodist easily whipped Rice, 32-0.

Eighty thousand saw Stanford's Cardinals flash an unbeatable offensive in the second half to trounce California, 41-0, the most decisive civtory in the 38-year history of this rivalry. This game had no effect on the Pacific Coast Conference title, which already has been won by Washington State.

Vanderbilt beat Auburn, 27-0, and South Carolina conquered North Carolina State, 19-0, in the only games in the Southern Conference, but Wake Forest surprised by holding Duke to a 13-13 tie, while Southwestern of Tennessee was engineering another upset by trouncing Sewanee 26-6.

In the only outstanding game in the Rocky Mountain Conference, the Colorado Aggies and Colorado College battled to a pointless tie.

LEEDS, England, Nov. 24. (C. P. Cable)—On Nov. 30, Rt. Rev. J. R. Cowgill, Catholic Bishop of Leeds, will celebrate his silver jubilee. The whole body of citizens will unite on that day in a presentation to be made at Leeds town hall, and the day has been set aside in the diocese as one of thanksgiving. VISIT TO LOCAL MOVIE HOUSE STARTS BAILEY'S PRO. ICE HOCKEY CAREER

Maple Leaf Right Winger First Broke Into Canada's National Sport Limelight as Forward With Peterborough's O.H.A. Seniors and Provincial Champions.

ONE OF THE ORIGINAL PLAYERS SOLD WITH ST. PAT'S FRANCHISE TO LEAFS

(Toronto Telegram)

Poor goalkeepers often become star right wing players.

Like Charles Conacher, Irvin 'Ace' Bailey, regular right-winger of the Toronto Maple Leaf Hockey Club, started his hockey career as a goalie.

When Bracebridge Intermediates engaged in opposition in a hectic post-season schedule, a young lad of 16 was in goal for the homesters under the name of Bailey. Irvin was not the best goalie around the Muskoka district, but he did manage to stop the majority of shots that came his way.

That was until "Red" Fryer of Collingwood broke into action.

The Collingwood "Redhead" had a shot that was terrific and after several cases of near heart failure, young Mr. Bailey had one of the Fryer's bullet-like shots just miss cutting his scalp wide-open. Needless to say, Irvin decided then and there that any position except goal would be more desirable, if he was to continue in the game at all.

Played Lacrosse

Strange as it may seem, but lacrosse was the attraction that first introduced Bailey to Toronto fans. He came here in 1921 to play for the Mimico team. However, during the following winter Irvin went back to Bracebridge where he played on the defence for the junior hockey team. Returning to Toronto the next summer for more lacrosse, Bailey decided to remain here during the winter, and he soon won a place at centre-ice for St. Mary's Juniors.

During the winter of 1922-23, Bailey played under M. J. Rodden, coach of St. Mary's Seniors and also for the C.N.R. team at Mimico, where he was employed. Billy D'Alessandro, now president of the Marlboro Hockey Club, recalls the time when the old K. and S. Intermediates protested Mimico's victory in the play-off because Bailey played for them as well as St. Mary's. Bailey told "Organgrinder Joe" plenty when the protest was allowed but their first and last verbal spat developed into a friendship that exists to the present day.

In th fall of 1925 Peterborough had ambitions of doing things in a big way as far as the O.H.A. race was concerned. In some strange manner Irvin Bailey was found at right-wing for the Petes when they captured the S.P.A. Senior Trophy. The Peterborough team of that particular season won the O.H.A. title, and the front line of Ranger, Collins, and Bailey gave the fans many a thrill with their brilliant scoring plays. Ranger, a fast skater and stickhandler on left wing, is now a professional with the Kansas City club. Collins remained an amateur, playing last season with the National Sea Fleas.

Gave Maroons Option.

Mike Rodden, the man who taught Bailey all the tricks of the right wing post with St. Mary's, never lost track of the Bracebridge speed artist. After another season with Peterborough in 1926, Bailey was ready to take a hand in professional hockey as the N.H.L. was on the verge of expanding further into United States territory. He was offered one of those "first call arrangements with Montreal Maroons and accepted. Then Mr. Rodden became associated with the Toronto St. Patrick Club as coach, and he lost little time in offering a substantial contract to Irvin Bailey.

But the actual signing with the St. Patricks took considerable time. In making an appointment to meet the Toronto officials here at a local hotel, Bailey waited one Saturday evening from six o'clock until 'train time without success. He immediately went back to Peterborough declaring everything between himself and the St. Pats as off. Frantic 'phone calls from Toronto to Peterborough failed to make connections as Bailey was determined to remain amateur because of the "blind date" in Toronto.

One evening a friend called to see Bailey at his home in Peterborough, and suggested a show. Irvin decided to venture out on condition they went the back way to the theatre. No sooner did "Our Hero" enter the picure house than somebody tapped him on the shoulder and requested an interview in private. It was the house manager who acted under instructions to locate "that Bailey man."

Once in the office of the theatre Bailey was on the 'phone talking to the owner of the St. Patrick Club. Bailey raised his figure $2,000, thinking that it would never be accepted, but to his amasement the party on the Toronto end of the 'phone call not only accepted the new figure, but stated that the contract would be ready to sign if the player reported to the hockey club as soon as possible.

Gerard Said "No."

Bailey was not to be hurried, he phoned Eddie Gerard at Montreal, as the Maroons had an option that called for first bid on his professional services. When told the figure that St. Patricks had offered, Gerard said he couldn't come near that amount and suggested that Bailey take the Toronto contract. The Bracebridge flash did that little thing in a hurry but there was the matter of a contract to be settled.

Investing the sum of ten dollars Bailey visited a law office in Peterborough and had a contract drawn up with clauses scratched out here and there with enough insertions to make the document look like the famous peace treaty.

The next scene is in the office of the Toronto St. Patrick's Club with Bailey and the officials in attendance. On the table were two contracts, the one Bailey had brought himself and the other the club owners had prepared. The owner of the club didn't care which one was signed as long as Bailey was secured for the St. Pats, and in his excitement Bailey signed the club's own contract after spending a ten spot to prepare his own. It made little difference, however, as both carried the same financial settlement.

Toughest Pro. Game

Since the fall of 1926 Irvin Bailey has played professional hockey for the Toronto representative in the National Hockey League. He is second to Happy Day of the longest continued service with the Toronto Maple Leafs and, like Happy Day, is one of the two remaining players turned over by the old St. Patrick management to the present owners. During the past four years one game stands out as the night of nights to Irvin Bailey. It was the Canadiene game at Montreal during the season of 1927-28 when "Jumpy" Leduc fell on Happy Day and opened a cut that threatened to end the Toronto defence star's hockey career. Bailey went the full sixty minutes in that hectic contest, playing both right wing and defence after Happy Day's unfortunate mishap.

Always a fast skater and a neat combination player, Bailey has taken a prominent part in the scoring strength of any team he has been associated with. He reached the top during the season of 1928-29, when the Maple Leafs entered the N.H.L. playoffs, in leading the league as the best individual scorer with twenty goals and twelve assists for a grand total of 32 points. He was presented with the Whiteman trophy before the final play-off game with Rangers in New York City that same year by the one and only Paul Whiteman himself.

That Name "Ace."

Leave it to Tom Daly, trainer de lux of Toronto's professional hockey and baseball teams to find a suitable nick-name for Irvin Bailey. The fun started when the St. Pats took their first road trip with Bailey as a member. As usual "Dr." Tim Daly took charge of the rummy game en route to Montreal and he was successful in making every member of the party "talk turkey" except Bailey, who would always flash the single ace card when the count was made. Daly was exasperated and explained, "Well Bailey you are the "Ace" of this game. And so it has been "Ace" Bailey ever since.

"Ace" Bailey, though handicapped in the first two games with a bad cold, is in great condition to enjoy another good season this winter. He is confident the present edition of the Leafs will finish up in the N. H. L play-offs and further believes that the team, under the capable coaching of Art Duncan will give the other lads a stiff argument for possession of the battered old Stanley Cup.

LEAFS RETAIN LEADERSHIP IN NATIONAL

Surprise Team of National League Leading Canadian Section By 3 Points.

RANGERS TOPPLE FALCONS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (CP)—With King Clancy strengthening the defence, the Maple Leafs are proving the real surprise team of the National League and are now leading the Canadian section by three points with Ottawa and the Americans tied for second place. In the five games to-day, the Leafs have won three and tied two and have scored nine markers against none for the opposition. Lorne Chabot, last season's goalkeeper, is credited with three of the shutouts, while youthful Benny Grant has blanked opposing teams twice. The Leaf netminders alternate in the goalkeeping.

The American standing in N.H.L. underwent quite a change over the week-end. New York Rangers ousted Detroit Falcons from the leadership by defeating the lowly Philadelphia Quakers in Manhattan, five to two. The best Detroit could do was tie with Boston at two-all, which was something of an achievement at that. Chicago, by scoring their first victory in three years over Montreal Canadiens to the tune of three to nothing, created a triple tie for second place with the Falcons and Boston. The Quakers have yet to win a game and firmly mired in the cellar.

Western Champions Decide To Come East

REGINA, Nov. 24.—For the third successive year, Regina Roughriders will take part in the final game for the senior football championship of the Dominion. Meeting over the week-end, the executive of the club unanimously decided to send the five-time Western champions in quest of the honors which they failed to annex in two trips to Hamilton, where they met the Tigers in 1928 and 1929.

While the Eastern winners have not yet decided, the Dominion final will likely be run off on Saturday, Dec. 6, as Hamilton and Balmy Beach meet next Saturday in the battle that will decide Eastern supremacy for 1930. Thus the Rough Riders will have more than a week's time in which to prepare for the all-important struggle, as present plans call for them to leave Regina on Tuesday, December 2, for either Toronto or Hamilton, depending upon the outcome of the Tigers-Balmy Beach game.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

"MADAM SATAN"

The Chinese have a proverb that what goes in to the brain through the eye has a greater staying power than what goes in through the ear. And then there is the saying that the ear is more moral than the eye.

If any children attended the shows at the Capitol on Saturday, they certainly got an eyeful and unless the modern youngsters are little morons, they would reap quite a harvest of knowledge.

"Madam Satan" is quite like its name. A lady who is too virtuous to suit her spouse (" I crave for warm affection and she gives me cold justice", he complains to his friend) discovers the name of her husband's inamorata, Trixie, and goes and camps on her doorstep, or rather, in her bedroom. When the husband pays his flame a call, he finds his wife and his best friend Jimmie, apparently involved in a warm love scene, while Trixie is acting as a somewhat lukewarm chaperone. But quick action on Jimmie's part saves recognition of the wife.

Then the big scene develops; a mad party on board Jimmie's Zeppelin, where the dancing and action is quite in line with the rest of the picture. To capture once again the waning regard of her husband, the lady has to go some, and she certainly does it. The costumes of the gay dancers are just about the last word in suggestion, but Madam Satan's caps them all. The advertisement that words this scene as a "saturnalia" is quite descriptive. The affair progresses to a denouement in a thunderstorm, when the big ship breaks in two and the guests descend to earth by way of parachutes.

Censorship is a strange thing. It is said that when George Arliss remarked in his "Green Goddess" that the lady would be "a damned nuisance anyway," the censors allowed the swear word to remain only on condition that the sound action be lowered considerably when it neared that comparatively inoffensive word.

BISONS TAKE 5TH STRAIGHT

London, Detroit and Windsor in Tie For Second Place in International.

INDIANS THIRD.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 24. (CP)—Dividing two games over the week-end Buffalo Bisons jumped into a commanding lead in the International Hockey League standing. Out of six games they have won five for a point total of 10, compared with five for their nearest rivals, London Tecumsehs. Detroit and Windsor are tied for second place with four, while Cleveland has three. Syracuse two and Pittsburg none.

The Bisons have been showing the splendid form which enabled them to reach the play-offs last season. On Saturday they lost a hard fought tussle to Cleveland Indians, last season's title holders, by a one to nothing score. Moving on to Syracuse they trounced the Stars of that city two to nothing, last night. Ken Doraty, lightweight Indian right wing star, notched the only counter in the Buffalo-Cleveland struggle. The score came with but a few seconds remaining to be played in the middle session. Captain Alex Gray, centre, engineered the opening for Doraty, who made no mistake on the only real scoring chance either team had.

Both goalkeepers played spectacular hockey, with Gordon Baxter, the youthful Indian netminder, having the more difficult shots to handle.

Syracuse has won but one game so far and the Bisons did not need to exert themselves exceptionally to gain the verdict. Rolly Huard scored in the first frame and Sammy Godin clinched matters in the second. Both tallies were registered following individual efforts.

MINOR FOOTBALL LEAGUES LIKELY DECLARE CHAMPIONS THIS WEEK

Six Semi-final and One Final Match is Played on Saturday.

IN THE O.R.F.U.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 24. — (By the Canadian Press.)—The minor series football situation in Eastern Canada is rapidly approaching a climax. On Saturday six semi-final and one final match was played and by the end of next week it is almost certain title-holders in the Ontario Rugby Football Union will be declared in the Intermediate, Junior and Juvenile series.

In the Province of Quebec, Montreal Canadian National Railways have already been declared Intermediate champions. They qualified to meet Royal Military College, Intercollegiate Intermediate champions; C.N.R. were trounced on Saturday by the Kingstonians, five to three. Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, Quebec junior titleholders, defeated University of Toronto, 12 to 10 in the first of the Canadian Rugby Union playdowns and will now meet the O.R.F.U. champions, in the Eastern Canada final.

Four teams remain in the running for the Ontario crown. They are Toronto Argonauts, Penetang, Woodstock and Hamilton Grads. The latter two teams met in Hamilton Saturday in the first of home and home games in the semi-finals. The Grads won decisively 11 to 1. The return game will be at Woodstock on Wednesday.

Argonauts advanced at the expense of their fellow townsmen, Manning Athletic Club, who they defeated in a sudden death game, 10 to 1. Argos will now meet Penetang on Wednesday and the winner will meet either Hamilton or Woodstock in the final, probably next Saturday.

Sarnia Wanderers gained a six point lead in the first game of the intermediate O. R. F. U final by defeating Oshawa Blue Devils at Sarnia, 14 to 8. The return game will be played at Oshawa or Wednesday with the winner qualifying to meet Royal Military College next Saturday, for the Eastern Canada championship.

Naples, Italy now has air transportation to Rome, Tunis, Palermo and Constantinople.

Balmy Beach Starts Heavy Training Grind

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 24. (By the Canadian Press).—Balmy Beach, Ontario rugby football champions, resume strenuous training to-day for their Eastern Canada final game with Hamilton Tigers. "Big Four" champions, at Varsity stadium here Saturday. The Beaches won the Eastern group of the O.R.F.U., and then won the title by trouncing Hamilton Tiger Cubs in the final and earned a bye into the C.R.U., Eastern final. They have had a lengthy layoff and many kinks in the Beach machine must be ironed out on the training field.

FEUD IS REKINDLED IN BASKETBALL WAR

General Electric Engineers and Testmen Tangle in Saturday Night's Fixture.

An old feud existing between C.G.E Engineers and C.G.E. Test was renewed on Saturday night, the rangy Engineers drawing the long end of the hard fought battle. It was a closely contested affair although the Engineers were really never in any great danger. Both teams were a trifle rough in their attacks but a few more games and practices under their belts and they will be strong contenders for league honors.

McLeish getting 15 points and Fraser 11 dribbled their way for point honors, while Greenlaw, Osterland and Emery also displayed nice rushes and shooting for the cage. A few fouls were distributed evenly among all but otherwise the game was cleanly fought.

Next Wednesday night brings the Westclox artillery against the C.G.E Engineers and C.G.E. Test will be out for revenge against Joe Cooper's husky Delavals. Games starting at 7.30.

Players

Engineers—McLeish, Jones, Greenlaw Osterland, Howe, Dickson and Cameron

Test—Fraser, Emery, Woodland, Larmer, Hedlock and Mahood.

Scout News and Notices

FIRST PETERBOROUGH TROOP (ST. JOHN'S)

A signal from the Assistant Scoutmaster on Friday brought the boys of the First Peterborough Troop (St. John's) into horseshoe formation for the customary opening of the weekly meeting. Following the flag break conducted by the Scoutmaster, the boys fell in for inspection.

The Buffalo Patrol reported a complete attendance, and the presence of one recruit. During the inspection the S.M. commented favorably on the tidy appearance of most of the boys.

During the instruction period which followed, the leaders visited the various patrols and checked up especially on the work they have covered in the past. The S.M. passed Alf. Pink and Thomas Hooper in 2nd class signalling.

Poor pussy was played during the recreational period. At the campfire Bill Coleman was the originator of a very curious continuous story. Frank Pammett gave a brief report of the hike held last Saturday, and the report was added to by Alf. Pink, T. Hooper and Vic. Millard.

The Patrol competition standing is as follows: Bulldogs, 137; Buffalos, 131½, Seals, 129; Wolves, 125.

The boys are asked to notice that in order to co-operate with the C.W.A. the meeting has been arranged for Wednesday evening instead of Friday.

FRIENDS HONOR HAVELOCK MAN CELEBRATING 77TH BIRTHDAY

Charles Armstrong Has Been Hotelkeeper in Village For Many Years.

LOVER OF HORSES.

(Examiner Correspondence)

HAVELOCK, Nov. 22.—Chas. Armstrong the genial proprietor of the Armstrong House, passed another milestone yesterday, when he celebrated his 77th birthday. Mr. Armstrong has been a resident of Havelock for the past twenty-five years, coming here from Mount Julian, where he operated a hotel for ten years. He was married fifty one years ago in Lakefield, to Margaret Darling who died here about six years ago. Mr. Armstrong was born in Percy Township on the Cobourg road. All his life he has been interested in sports, particularly horse racing, and until last year was never without one or two blood horses in his stable. He is a well known figure at all the rural fairs, where he always had one or two entries in the trotting races, and usually captured some of the ribbons and purses.

Some of the horses which he has owned from time to time were Red Sal, Mack P, Luck Lou. In addition to his love of the sport of Kings, Mr. Armstrong has a keen eye for a good dog, and counts one or two of these among his most prized possessions.

Last night about forty-five old friends from Havelock, Trenton, Smith Falls, Peterborough, Norwood, Hastings and St. Thomas gathered in the spacious dining room of the hotel to celebrate in a fitting manner the birthday anniversary of this popular resident of Havelock. Songs, stories and toasts were the order of the evening until the wee sma' hours.

CHICAGO WHEAT

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Argentine reports of frost and of crop damage from rust, together with persistent talk of Russian revolts, gave a big lift to wheat values Saturday. Sudden soaring of Buenos Aires wheat prices had a specially stimulating effect, and particular attention was given also to a big falling off in world's available supply figures regarding wheat. Argentine wheat-growers were said to be showing a pronounced disposition to withhold offerings, and overseas demand for wheat from North America was enlarged.

Closing quotations on wheat in Chicago were firm at about the day's topmost level, 1⅜c to 2½c higher than Friday's finish. Corn closed buoyant, 1⅞c to 3c up; oats 1⅛c to 1⅞c advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12c.

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

WINNIPEG, November 24.—Wheat continued its advance on Saturday and values at the close of the short session were 2⅛c to 3⅛c higher than Friday's close.

A very strong Buenos Aires market, along with higher Liverpool cables, brought good support in the local pit. Shippers, exporters, and other prominent interests figured prominently on the buying side.

Offerings were liberal on the bulges, but at no time did they prove too burdensome.

At the high points on Saturday values had advanced more than 10 cents from the low marks of Tuesday, when prices crashed down more than 8 cents a bushel for record all-time lows.

Elevator interests and profit-takers contributed a fair portion of the wheat offered for sale, while short covering, too, added to higher values. Overnight export trade was estimated at 500,000 bushels for future delivery, and 1,000,000 bushels on cash account.

The demand continued good for top-grade cash wheat on Saturday morning, while the coarse grain trade was featureless, though prices advanced.

The report as submitted by the speaker was as follows:—

Flavor defects:—	Central.	Eastern.
Not clean	22.54	23.6
Slightly rancid	22.40	21.26
Fruity and slightly fruity	11.59	5.39
Slightly off and off	.3¼	.23
Stable and farm yard flavor	.21	.21
Average per centage of flavor defects	62.	52.68
Mechanical defects:—
Acid	5.	13.8
Weak	7.2	8.03
Gass.	3.65	4.4
Open	6.7	6.4
Mottled and slightly mottled.	5.6	3.2
Stiff	.8	.8
Lumpy	1.1	1.3
Mealy	1.8	1.08
Minor defects	3.	6.

Talking on this report the speaker stated that the makers' defects were being cut down in Ontario, which brought up the interesting question, namely, what to do to get nice, clean sweet milk at the factories. This, he thought, was the future job for the associations to handle, declaring that the makers had a better control of the quality of cheese than the farmers. Mr. Barr thought that there should be more work done on the farms to enable the production of a better supply of milk. This was being advocated by the different associations through petitions being sent in. Every opportunity was now being given the farmer to enable him to produce better milk, one way being the supplying of all instructors with a specially devised testing outfit, which would enable him to take 24 tests a day. This would be at the service of all patrons, and the speaker hoped that the patrons would take advantage of this service and so give the makers a better chance to make first grade cheese.

Regarding the regulations governing factories and patrons, Mr. Burr stated that the period which must elapse before a man can take his milk from one factory to another had been changed by Act from 10 to 30 days. This would come into force in 1931, as also would the new regulation which ruled that every milk plant of any kind in the province must have a certificated man in charge. Furthermore, great care was being exercised in the granting of these certificates and it was declared a difficult task to obtain a temporary permit, once a man's certificate had been taken away.

Questioned as to the method to be adopted in regard to patrons who were delivering tainted milk, Mr. Barr urged that the makers be dead sure of the fact before turning a patron away and declared that this could only be done by taking samples of the milk before it got away from the factory.

In regard to the cheese, the speaker said that there was a variation in rancid cheese in the different groups, which varied from two to fifty-five. In seeking the cause for this, he said that it was not a local conditions as the groups were widely separated. This seemed to be the weakness and the work that had to be done for 1931. Up until the middle of October the best group had 324 pick-outs and the poorest group 608. This kind of defect could never be cut out unless there was full co-operation between the makers and the producers, and he urged upon the makers in addition to take the suggestions and advice of their instructor.

Speaking of Canadian cheese, Mr. Barr declared that the Canadian system of making was the best in the world. The best type of cheese on the British market was Canadian and carried a preference of from 2 to 3 cents per pound.

Mr. Irwin, when addressing the meeting, gave the figures for last year and this for boxes of cheese made in the Dominion, this year's figure being up to November 1. In 1929 there were 1,222,594, as compared with this year, which was 1,199,499. Of first grades on a percentage basis, last year 92.69 against this year which was 90.41, or a decrease of 2.28 per cent.

In face of the present conditions and the fact that it had been a bad year for cheesemaking, the speaker said it was very gratifying to know that the quality of cheese was good.

In the Campbellford district there was a .70 increase in quality over last year, which meant more money. The number of boxes of cheese for this year in Central Ontario stood about the same as last year, which was 259,446, but the fact remained that there was considerably less money owing to the lower price This fact, Mr. Irwin thought, should not induce the patrons to cut the wage of the maker. There are 193 makers in the Central Association, he stated, and a cut of one cent on cheese per pound on the present output amounted to a loss of $23,000, while on the other hand, with the 67,000 cows in this section, and an increase of 250 pounds of milk per cow would mean an increase in revenue of $163,000. This, he thought, was the right way to increase the revenue and raise and increase the standard of cheese. "You cannot expect to increase the revenue out of cheese by decreasing the wage of the maker, he declared, but by increasing the production of cheese." He thought the makers were doing splendidly. One thing Mr. Irwin thought could be improved in Eastern Ontario was the finishing of cheese. As compared with the western part of the province along this line he thought that they were behind.

In conclusion, the speaker voiced as his opinion that 1931 would be a good year for the industry and that prices would be better. This would be caused by the making of higher type cheese and increased consumption. He was also glad to see that Mr. Murray's district showed good representation in the Herd Competition.

Mr. Murray, district instructor, gave his report, which showed that there were 25 factories under his supervision. This year 79 patrons had fallen off, this fact he put down to the shipping of so many cattle out of the district. Altogether there had been 15,601 cheese graded at the Campbellford grading station. In regard to the quality of the cheese, Mr. Murray said that there had been many pick-outs, which were for rancid flavor. He thought that with regard to this the farmer would have to be approached. If factory conditions were clean every day, the fault must be with careless patrons, and he urged that the matter should be dealt with in the individual cases.

The speaker thought that the cheese industry was still the basis industry of the country and the one that was paying more money for fat, and was glad to see that cheese was fetching more in this district than in the east.

W. V. Drewry, president of the Campbellford Cheesemakers' Association, also briefly addressed the meeting.

Mountie Takes Up Trail and "Gets His Man"—Wanted Three Years.

SKIPPED TIMMINS IN 1927.

Faces Breach of O.T.A., Illegal Possession of Furs, and Non-support Charges.

TIMMINS, Ont., Nov. 24 (C.P.) — The Mounties always get their man, as Alphonse Latour, of Timmins, learned when arrested on November 15 by Constable R. L. Truelove, R.C.M.P., and Constable S. F. Hartleib, O.P.R., at Wawalten Falls, for an offence committed more than three years ago. He ducked out of Timmins in March, 1927, after the Timmins police had swooped down upon his house to find a still in full operation. Latour frequently, yet guardedly, boasted that he would outwit the police, even the famed Mounties. This boast came to the ears of Constable Truelove a few weeks ago, and Latour fell prey as a result. In addition to being charged with a breach of the O.T.A., Latour will face charges of illegal possession of furs and non-support, the latter being laid by his wife.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 24 (C.P.)—Forty persons, many of them women and children, marooned for two days in a small, snowbound cabin five miles from Mandan, N.D., were rescued to-day.

FIERCE BATTLE WAGED IN SHACK OF FINLANDER

Use of Axe, Hammer and Knife Show Gang Warfare.

One Dead and One Wounded.

Fight Ends in Arrest of William Hyytiainen By Provincial Police.

BARRIE, Ont., November 24 (C.P.) — In a terrific battle in a Finlander's shack in the village of South River, in the course of which an axe, a hammer and a knife were brought into play. A man by the name of Nissine was slain, and Onni Cantanen, aged about 30, was seriously wounded last Friday. A warrant charging murder has been issued for the arrest of William Hyytiainen, owner and occupant of the shack, who, according to police, has fled the village and taken to the surrounding bush.

Nissines body was found in an old well about thirty feet from the shack on Saturday, after Provincial Police had commenced inquiries as to the whereabouts of the missing man. Cantanen was located in the shack, in care of Hyytianen, who told the police before he left the village that the fight had occurred between Nissine and the wounded man.

HUNTERS SHOOT 314 POUND BUCK

Large Animal Was Shot By W. G. Morrow and Manson Comstock.

LARGEST IN YEAR.

Probably one of the largest bucks over shot in this district was brought triumphantly back to this city recently by members of the famous Ketchecum Hunt Club. Undressed the animal weighs 314 pounds, and is considerable compensation for the fac that the dozen members of the club only shot three deer during their two weeks' sojourn in the backwoods.

The animal was caught jointly by the captain of the club, W. G. Morrow, and Manson Comstock, and the fine spread of antlers which the beast possesses will go to swell the numerous trophies of the chase now in possession of this old-established club.

The capture of this immense buck far outclasses a buck weighing 212 pounds which was caught by Eric Roberts of the Glenoaks Hunt Club, and which is stated by "Lige" Windover their captain to be the largest deer to be shot in the Gull Lake district in the past twenty years.

Members of the Ketchecum Club report that the deer are very scarce this season due no doubt to the depradations of the wolves, which are are apparently getting more numerous.

Two moose were shot in the neighborhood and several bear tracks were seen.

Other members of the club included J. Wells Fraser, H. A. Morrow, T. H. Hooper, F. F. Mason, James Hamilton, G. A. Wood, Dr. A. W. McPherson, George A. Macdonald, W. C. Ackerman, and T. O. Donaldson.

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN No. 1 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Two happy years had passed for John Clayton, Lord Greystoke—he who had been Tarzan of the Apes. Yet often it seemed to him that only yesterday he had left the kingship of his savage African warriors and, with his bride, returned to civilization. Here, his great riches from Opar, the golden city, and the charm and beauty of his wife had brought him an enviable position in society.

Who in London's most exclusive circles would ever have imagined that this handsome, polished nobleman had grown to manhood knowing only the society of savages and jungle beasts? Occupied with the management of his vast estates in Uziri and England, in love with his beautiful wife, and proudly devoted to his little son, life seemed indeed good to the one-time ape-man.

His arch-enemy, Rokoff, had been sentenced to a French military prison. There was not a cloud upon Lord Greystoke's horizon. Today, as he crossed the Channel, he thought again of all this and his mind recalled many other memories. A sudden longing for adventure and the freedom of his past life in sun-drenched Africa possessed him, though he tried to dismiss these thoughts as unworthy.

This strange restlessness still persisted when late that night he entered the home of his friend in Paris. He had arrived in answer to an urgent summons from Lieutenant d'Arnot. After a warm exchange of greetings, the naval officer said: "The entire affair is shrouded in mystery. No one knows how it was accomplished. All that anyone knows is that Nikolas Rokoff has escaped!"

RADIO BUSINESS IS INCREASING

Grant and Thorpe Have Found it Necessary to Remodel Their Store.

RADIO DISPLAY PARLOUR.

Owing to increased business Grant & Thorpe dealers in fine electrical merchandise, just across the street from The Examiner office, have found it necessary to remodel the interior of their store to provide more room for the display of the various electrical necessities they offer for sale.

The radio business has increased to such an extent they found it necessary to provide a separate department and display room for R. To do this it was necessary to find more room. They enlarged and extended the mezzanine floor where their office has been and moved the office back to the larger space provided and turned the front half of the mezzanine floor into a radio display parlour. Furnished with a beautiful wicker suite carpet on the floor and tastefully decorated, this radio parlour presents the last word in comfort and convenience for the public who like to see and hear the different types of radio. The walls are newly decorated and hung in chintze curtains. Ceiling fixtures and floor lamps provide the lighting without glare. Taken altogether this radio parlour is just about the most comfortable and "homey" display room in Peterborough.

The stock room, shipping room, repair room and wholesale department have also come in for their share of the improvements, each in turn having been renovated and placed on a modern business footing. Next to the radio parlour the office of this enterprising firm is equipped for business along modern efficiency lines, each department having its own space and is equipped with modern efficiency lines, each department having its own space and is equipped with modern office machinery and files.

Grant & Thorpe extend a very cordial invitation to every person in the city and district to come in and inspect the improvements which should greatly add to the efficiency of the organization in serving the public with despatch and courtesy.

In Police Court

A local man was fined $2 and $3 costs in Police Court this morning for driving over a fire hose on November 6, contrary to a city bylaw. He pleaded guilty but in his own defence stated that he did not know there was a bylaw prohibiting driving over the fire hose and that many other motorists had done the same but had not been brought into court.

Magistrate Langley asked if this man was being made the goat, but it was stated that similar charges will be laid against others.

Chief Gimblett, who laid the information, stated that his object was to bring to the public's attention the fact that it was unlawful to drive over fire hose, and that when a car crossed the hose much damage to the hose resulted. Further, he pointed out that the police and fire department were both undermanned and that it was impossible for a fireman or policeman to be stationed at the various points where the hose stretched across the roadway at a big fire.

Pleas of not guilty were entered by a local man charged with being intoxicated in charge of a car and having liquor in his possession unlawfully. The case will be heard on Thursday when the defence may secure a material witness.

TECHNICAL POINTS OF ORGANIZED SOCCER EXPLAINED BY SPEAKER

O. F. A. Secretary Addresses Fans on Question of Proper Procedure of Affiliation.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Local Board Will Probably Make Application to O.F.A. at To-night's Meeting.

A small crowd of soccer fans welcomed Robert Muir, secretary of the Ontario Football Association, on Saturday evening, in W.O.W. Hall, to hear him explain the benefits to be derived from the Ontario Football Association through affiliation, which stipulates that they are recognized all the world over.

"I have been associated with the Ontario Board for over twenty years and have acted as the buffer between the player and the teams in many arguments. In that period, I have taken many hard bumps and I am still taking them. But gentlemen, I am not here to address you, but simply to help you on the question of organized soccer. Let me tell you frankly that the question of affiliation is up to your own executive.

Soccer History

"Well I remember the year when Peterborough first came into the O.F.A. many years ago. After many successful seasons they unfortunately dropped out of organized soccer through unforeseen circumstances which I need not dwell upon. In the early years of the code, the O.F.A. constituted only three associations, namely Toronto, Hamilton and the Western, but since that time it has advanced to eleven properly organized district associations extending to Ottawa in the East, London in the West and Timmins in the North. The finances in the early days run in the neighborhood of $2,000, and at the present time run from $9,000 to $12,000 per annum. That may look a very large sum of money to you, but the liabilities are many that the Ontario Football Association must meet, thereby leaving a small margin left over at the end of the season. They are not a money-making corporation like some big organizations that must pay dividends, but simply a body of men elected to carry out the functions of the soccer code in the Province.

What Are the Benefits?

The speaker continued on the subject, "What are the benefits? or rather let me put it this way, What are the difficulties incurred in the make-up of membership?"

That your association, through affiliation, would become a recognized body fully registered by the Charter Board and still further registered with the Dominion Board, which would still be registered with the International Football Board of the World.

If you remain outside the O.F.A., you are simply operating in the city of Peterborough. No player can play outside the city or register with another team in organized soccer until he has appeared before the organized executive so as to state his case. We could prohibit any player playing, but we have never done so, in fact, we are out to foster the game in every part of the Province.

At any time you feel that you have a team that is qualified to participate in higher company, you have the privilage of entering into higher company at any time under organized soccer, not as you are at present, an outlaw association, otherwise you will be operating in your own circle.

The playing side of the game is the most important part of the code. It requires officials who will insist in perfect discipline at all times from the players. Your officials are like the O.F.A., they do not know all the game or the rules and are willing to co-operate to the players' advantage at all times.

Kitchener First Canadian Team.

If you are affiliated, this will permit the Provincial association to gain your representatives' valuable experience as a legislator. Take for example the case of Mr. Elliot, the O.F.A. president, who belongs to Kitchener. He started in the Western association in a quandry whether he would be in unorganized football or not, but after my sincere advice I am happy to say that they become affiliated. Kitchener, rather Berlin, were the first to send a team to Scotland as representatives of Canada, where they played many games. Mr. Elliot is the president of the Western Association, also president of the O.F.A. and to-day is one of the most respected officers of the Dominion Council of Canada.

Questions Answered.

After speaking thirty-five minutes, Mr. Muir answered the following questions:

What is the cost of affiliation?

Your elected council must make application with the sum of thirty-five dollars as the registration fee. It entitles you to a representative on the O.F.A. council, who will receive all his expenses paid to all meetings called. At the annual meeting, you are also entitled to send a delegate to the annual meeting each year, who will receive his train fare only, you paying his other expenses.

Every player must sign an O.F.A. registration form. The forms cost $2.50 a dozen and can be sold by the local board at whatever figure they may fix. Toronto charges 30c. Western charges 40c, and others at different prices. The local association receives a minimum amount from this revenue, the greater part of it going to the O.F.A. The cost of sending such forms all over the Province runs into a high figure.

Your laws must conform to the laws of the O.F.A. and to the constitution of the laws of the game in Canada.

The question of a player's status in playing in an outlaw body received a lengthy debate. The pro's and con's were explained in the fullest detail, which told how the player must act before he can play in organized soccer. It brought out a debate full of interesting knowledge which carried forth excellent comments from the fans from many angles.

Many other questions were answered to the satisfaction of the meeting, which concluded on a very hearty vote of thanks being extended to the speaker of the evening by Jack Cairns, an ex-president of the local board, and Jack Clark seconded, who acted in the capacity of referee for many seasons.

The meeting went on record that they were unanimous on the question of affiliation which will be definitely settled at the meeting of the P. and D.F.A. to-night in the Chamber of Commerce.

FLOODS AND GALES PLAY HAVOC IN FIVE EUROPEAN COUNTRIES

Scheldt, Rhine and Seine Rivers Overflow Banks After Heavy Rain.

SEVEN DEATHS RESULT.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—(By the Canadian Press.) — Floods and severe gales caused serious damage in five European countries over the week-end.

Three great rivers, the Scheldt, the Rhine and the Seine, have overflown their banks owing to recent heavy rains, while destructive gales lashed other parts of Belgium, France, Germany, Switzerland and many districts in England.

Material damage was heavy and seven deaths, five in France, one in Germany and one in Austria were attributed to the gale.

Scheldt Breaks Dykes.

Belgium, so far, has been the principal sufferer, with the Scheldt breaking through its dykes at several points and overflowing the countryside. In the Termonde district thousands of acres have been submerged, and troops have been rushed to the affected area to repair the breaches in the dykes.

In Southern Germany, with the Rhine many feet above normal level, inhabitants in many places along the riverside have evacuated their homes.

Three electric power stations near Frankfort-on-the-Main have been put out of commission, while the bursting of a dam has flooded in the village of Lubweiler. Two aerial masts at a munich broadcasting station collapsed from the high wind.

In France the Seine was rising rapidly and navigation was interrupted. Grave fears for the immediate future were entertained as the situation was steadily growing worse. At Le Mans the river Sambre overran its banks, inundating quarters of the town, causing residents to Heavy Gale in England.

In the border districts of Northern England, the heaviest fall of snow, sleet and hail so far this year occurred last night, while in Southern England a heavy gale howled throughout the night.

The motor vessel Aauriga and three barges were wrecked off the south-east coast, and their 15 occupants were rescued only with great difficulty.

Exceptionally high tides were reported from British Channel ports as well as from Continental seaside towns across the Channel and along the southern part of the North Sea.

Interruptions in communications between Berlin, Warsaw, and Moscow, which occurred intermittently during the past two days and at first ascribed to disorders breaking out in the Russian capital, were now said to be due to blizzards sweeping over the marshes, forests and plains of Western Russia.

A violent storm visited northern Switzerland last nigh, unroofing homes in Basle, blowing down chimneys, and uprooting trees. A slight earthquake shock in that district this morning added to the distress of the inhabitants.

Women's Music Club Bringing John Duncan

The programs of the Women's Music Club are always good. When they branch out and bring well-known musicians to the city, they give an opportunity to Peterborough music-lovers to hear notables who might otherwise be unfamiliar, and might not be heard, even over the radio. For instance, the visits to this city of Miss Edythe Marjorie Shuttleworth afforded great pleasure to all who heard her, as this talented young Canadian is well on her way to making a great name for herself in Italy, where she has been studying for some time past.

Tomorrow evening, a recital of rare excellence is offered the music-lovers of the city, in the hall of the Conservatory of Music, when the Women's Music Club will present John Duncan, harpist, late of Paris and London, England, with an assisting artist in Miss Marguerita Nuttall, coloratura soprano of Toronto, a youthful singer of great talent and charm who made a wonderful impression on her hearers on her appearance here last year, also under the auspices of the Music Club.

Mr. Duncan is an unquestioned master of the harp, and holds his audience under the spell of his playing. His exquisite solos are of the highest artistic importance and music lovers are urged to take advantage of this outstanding music event.

Miss Nuttall's solos will be accompanied by Mr. Duncan on the harp. It is very seldom that singing has such an exquisite accompaniment and Miss Nuttall's voice is exceptionally well suited, in its clear coloratura cadences, to such a background.

MUSIC RECITAL MUCH ENJOYED

Pleasing Porgram Presented By Music Pupils in Queen Alexandra School.

SEVERAL NUMBERS.

Queen Alexandra Home and School Association sponsored a music night in the school on Friday November 21. All the musical numbers were put on by members of the regular music classes conducted in that school by Miss Kathleen Snider. The main purpose of the evening was to give the parents of that school district some idea of what is accomplished in these group classes and how it is done.

Pupils taking part played from memory and from the tiniest tots showed great accuracy, splendid shading in expression and remarkable ease at the piano.

R. C. Flitton made a most efficient chairman, voicing the appreciation of the parents to Miss Snider for her splendid work with the children.

Mrs. J. Forbes Allan, the speaker of the evening, taking as her topic "Music in the Home" traced the history of music, showing that there had always been music in the world since earliest times when "the morning stars sang together". Mrs. Allan gave a very thoughtful practical talk, giving some good advice to mothers, and many ideas worth pondering.

The platform presented a most pleasing appearance and the demonstrations of class work conducted by Miss Snider in all grades were most interesting to the large audience present. The musical program presented was as follows:

Piano Numbers

"Cuckoo", Betty Puffer; "Buttercup", Thelma Zavitz; "Singing Gally", Jean Reid; "Long, Long Ago", Kathleen Zavitz; "In the Morning", Billy Purdy; "The Clock", Shirley Richardson; "On the River", Dorothy Ross; "Bobolink", Ralph Hartshorn; "Evening Prayer", Robert Flitton; "Daisy Chains", Ruth Telford; "Old Folks at Home", Kenneth Laidley; "Criss-Cross", Fred Helson; "Juanita" Billy Shosenberg; "Hungarian Dance" Davis Graham; duet by Donald and Fred Helson; duet by Ruth Telford and Davis Graham; quartette, Dorothy Ross, Betty Puffer, Billy Purdy, George Richardson; motion song by Betty Puffer, accompanied by Donald Helson; Rythm orchestra (conducted by Billy Shosenberg).

Program closed with "God Save the King" played by George and Shirley Richardson.

DRAFTING OF INDIA'S CONSTITUTION BIG WORK FACING COMMITTEE

May Resign

Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta, who is reported as contemplating resigning from the Premiership of the Province.

Relations of One Government to Another in India Difficult Question.

WHOSE TO BE RESPONSIBLE?

LONDON, Nov. 25 (C.P. Cable). — The Indian Round-Table Conference got down to constructive work to-day with the assembling of the Federal Relations Committee of 32 members. This committee is faced with the giant task of framing the agenda of the sessions, and of trying to find agreement on the draft of a new constitution for a federated India. The relations of the Provincial Governments with the Central Government, and the relations of the Central Government with other countries, are points of great difficulty on which the committee will attempt to form recommendations for submission to the Round-Table Conference.

Rt. Hon. Wedgwood Benn, Secretary of State for India, is chairman of the committee, which includes representatives of British India, the native States, and the British Parliamentary delegations. The question of whether the Central Government, the Federal Executive, is to be responsible to the Central Legislature, is probably the chief stumbling point. Dominion status, as demanded by some of the Indian delegates, would, of course, have the Government responsible to the Parliament, but in the British view this would be a dangerous step for India at the present time.

Three Children Burned To Death In Rawdon

FLYERS ARRIVE HOME IN TORONTO IN OLD COLUMBIA

Captain Boyd and Harry Conner Fly From Montreal to Home Port.

BUCK HEAD WINDS.

Covered 330 Miles in Four Hours and Thirty-three Minutes.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 25. (CP)—Capt. Errol Boyd, the first Canadian to cross the Atlantic by air, accompanied by his wife and child and Harry Conner, his navigator on the ocean flight, arrived at Dufferin Airport at 3 p.m. from St.-Hubert Montreal.

The flight from Montreal to Toronto, during which the Columbia bucked head winds for a great part of the distance was accomplished in 4 hours and 33 minutes. The distance between this city and the eastern metropolis is approximately 330 miles.

The trans-Atlantic fliers were given a great welcome by a large crowd at the airport, and following greetings by his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. Tower Boyd, and his three other children, a welcome was extended to Boyd and his companion by Acting Mayor Controller Summerville and relatives and fellow-aviators.

Greetings over, the party with the two aviators at the head formed a parade to the City Hall, a distance of about six miles, where the official welcome of the city was read by Mr. Summerville, who presented Capt. Boyd with a cabinet of silver and Lieut. Conner with a gold wrist watch.

ST. HUBERT AIRPORT, Que., Nov. 25 (C.P.)—Apparently inured to bad weather during their flight across the Atlantic, Captain J. Erroll Boyd of Toronto, Canada's only trans-Atlantic airman, and Lieut. Harry Connor, his navigator, took off in the rain this morning at 10.27 to fly to Toronto in the Columbia. Despite the thick weather along the line of flight, Captain Boyd was accompanied by his wife and his three-year-old daughter Virginia. John A. O'Brien, manager of the airmen, will follow by train tonight.

ONTARIO CABINET MEETING TO-DAY

Premier Ferguson May Announce to Other Ministers if He is Going to Take London Post.

MAY NAME MINISTERS.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 25 (C.P.) — Premier G. Howard Ferguson has called a meeting of the Ontario Cabinet for this afternoon. This is the first official meeting of the Council since the Premier's return from England. It is thought Mr. Ferguson may give some intimation to the other members of the Government as to whether he will accept the Canadian High Commissionership in London.

The Cabinet may also deal with the appointment of two Ministers without portfolio. These posts are vacant following the death of Hon. Fred. Smye, of Hamilton, and the appointment of Hon. E. A. Dunlop as Provincial Treasurer. Various members have been mentioned for these positions.

Girl Jumps 70 Feet From Store Window

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 25 (C.P.) —Plunging 70 feet from a window in the Smith Building on Wellington street, Miss Annie Goodman, an employee of a hat company, died within five minutes after admittance to the General Hospital. Police state that Miss Goodman left a note behind to the effect that she would be unable to live without her boy friend.

When the girl was picked up by the police, practically every bone in her body was broken. An inquest is unlikely.

CASSIDY TRIAL IS OPENED IN HULL

Lawyer For Defense Challenges Every Juror Called in the Case.

FACES MURDER CHARGE.

HULL, Que., Nov. 25 (C.P.)—In a crowded court-room the trial of Austin Cassidy for the murder of William "Bert" Marshall opened here today before Mr. Justice Loranger. The selection of a jury proved a lengthy procedure. Francois Peron, counsel for the defence, challenging every juror called for the case.

The shooting to death of the young Ottawa athlete occurred during an argument over a trifling automobile crash in this city on October 4 last. Cassidy and John Chernetzky, another Ottawan, who like himself has a prison record, were arrested for the crime a few days later.

As the trial opened there was considerable discussion regarding the language qualifications of the jury. Mr. Peron argued that all jurors should be English-speaking, but the judge ruled any man might sit on the jury so long as he understood the English language. Defence counsel, however, made use of his right to challenge to prevent French-speaking citizens from being accepted.

PLAYING IN BARN THREE CHILDREN ARE LOST IN FIRE

Father Was Working in Fields and Mother Was Busy in Her Home.

NEAR BELLEVILLE.

Neighbors Had Great Difficulty in Restraining Father From Rushing Into Flames.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., November 25 (C.P.). — Three children ranging in age from three to six years, two boys and one girl, were burned to death about 11.30 this morning when fire destroyed a barn on the farm of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Woolman, on the Sixth Concession of Rawdon, 20 miles north-east of Belleville.

The father was working in the fields when he noticed flames were consuming the barn, and immediately rushed to the house to ascertain from his wife the whereabouts of the children. The wife, who could not see the fire from the house, said she believed they were playing in the barn. According to the meagre details received here, the neighbors had some difficulty in preventing Woolman from rushing to almost certain death in an effort to rescue his children.

It is not known how the fire started. The children were accustomed to playing among the wagons and machinery in the barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Woolman have one surviving child, an infant in arms. The names of the victims are not yet known here.

Great Tory Rally Endorses Leader Laborites Scored

After Receiving Vote of Confidence Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin Comes Out Flatly For Emergency Tariff on Manufactured Goods.

TAKES STRONG STAND AGAINST FOREIGN DUMPING
DENOUNCES REMOVAL OF RESTRICTIONS ON DYE STUFFS

Dominion Premiers Sent Home Empty-handed From Imperial Conference After Urging Mother Country to Try and Found Economic Union.

LONDON, November 25 (C.P.). — Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, who to-day received a vote of confidence as Conservative Party leader, came out flatly for an emergency tariff on manufactured goods as soon as the Conservative Party can return to power.

At the same time he took a strong stand against the "dumping" of foreign products into Great Britain.

"Whatever stands in the way of abolishing foreign dumping, that obstacle shall be removed," he declared.

The former Prime Minister, who was obviously impressed by the unanimity of the endorsement accorded him, told 800 delegates to the Central Council of the National Union of Conservative and Unionist Associations, that he stood at the head of a united party.

Differences Are Past.

"Our party differences are past and we shall say no more about them," he said.

Mr. Baldwin launched an attack against practically every question of the Labor Government's domestic and Empire policy.

He denounced particularly the recent announcement that import restrictions on dyestuffs would be allowed to lapse. He said:

"Perhaps the most futile, most stupid, and most malignant of this present Government's acts, is to leave that great industry, one of the triumphs of English science in the last ten years, open to free competition from the world.

The Conservative leader paid especial attention to what he described as the lack of results of the recent Imperial Conference. After the Dominion Premiers had urged the Mother Country to try to found an economic union, he said, they had been sent home empty-handed.

Is Sure of Victory.

What they got was merely an undertaking that some of the subjects might be discussed within a year at Ottawa.

"And that," he added, "is the only good thing that has come out of this Conference, because they will be discussed at Ottawa, and they will be discussed by our party."

This prediction drew loud cheers.

C.P.C. STORE WINS FIRST PLACE IN WINDOW CONTEST

T. Anthony is in Second Position and Haboco Store Third.

TEN CASH PRIZES.

Campaign Was Run Under Auspices of Provincial Department of Agriculture.

In the window dressing competition recently concluded in this city, in which retail merchants lent their co-operation with the Department of Agriculture in a campaign to impress the people of the Province with the fact that Ontario farm goods challenge the world competition for value and quality, the Canadian Packing Company's store at 356 George street, under the management of Wm. J. Outram has been declared as the first prize winning window, with 88.5 marks out of a possible hundred.

T. Anthony, fruit merchant, Charlotte and George street, comes second with 82 per cent., while the Haboco store at 168 Charlotte street, with 80.5 per cent. is declared third prize winner. This store is in charge of James Lillico.

Ten cash prizes were awarded in all and the judges Messrs. W. Derry of the DeLaval Company, Coleman Blewett of the Robert Neal Company, and Frank Kitney, director of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association had a difficult task of selection.

Two Brothers Meet In the Police Cells

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 25.—Alex. Church wandered into the police station tonight to seek lodging, and before retiring chatted with Traffic Officer Frink and the desk sergeant, Arthur Booth. He mentioned that he had come to this country some years ago from Ireland with a younger brother, whom he had not seen in six years. Soon afterward another young man came in, also to seek lodging. His name being the same as that of the earlier caller, the officers questioned him and informed him that his brother was in the police cells. Far into the night the two told each other of their experiences since being separated.

PREMIER BENNETT VISITING IN PARIS

Canada's Prime Minister is Very Careful to Avoid Politics in Interview.

LAYS WREATH ON TOMB.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—(C. P. Cable) — Receiving representatives of the French press at the Canadian legation today Premier R. B. Bennett was careful to avoid politics. He said he was very pleased to see Paris again—the city of beautiful buildings, beautiful women and handsome men. He was also gratified to observe the signs of economic prosperity and the absence of unemployment.

"I bring you a message of goodwill and good wishes," he told the French newspapermen. Asked whether he found Paris was too Americanized, Premier Bennett replied diplomatically, "I still think it is a very beautiful city.

Answering another question Mr. Bennett admitted he had discussed trade relations between France and Canada, but he did not give any details. He said the European tariff federation plan was out of his department and discussing the European question he said he was a "North American."

The Prime Minister spoke in English throughout the interview, saying "I don't want to incur a charge of murdering the beautiful French language."

At midday Premier Bennett laid a magnificent wreath of red roses at the Arc De Triomphe and in the afternoon he visited the Canadian section of the Cite Universitaire.

APPOINTMENT OF MACFARLAND NOT DENIED, YET UNCERTAIN

Did Not Deny Possibility of Succession to Wheat Pool Selling Office.

MEETING IN WINNIPEG.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 25 (C.P.) — For more than an hour this morning John I. MacFarland of Calgary, who has been mentioned in connection with the post of General Manager of the Central Selling Agency of the Western Wheat Pools, was closeted with Sir George Perley, Acting Prime Minister. Before he entered the Prime Minister's office, Mr. MacFarland was asked about the matter.

"So you are not going to accept the position of General Manager of the Central Selling Agency of the Wheat Pools?" said the reporter, referring to a despatch from Toronto, quoting a denial from Mr. MacFarland.

"I don't know about that," said Mr. MacFarland, and disappeared into the office.

When he came out after his discussion with Sir George Perley, Mr. MacFarland was again asked about the appointment; he did not say he was not considering it.

"Are you considering the appointment?" he was asked.

He replied that he had nothing to say.

"Has the post been offered to you?" pursued the reporter.

"I do not think I should be interviewed on the matter," Mr. MacFarland responded. The appointment will be taken up at a meeting to be held in Winnipeg to-morrow.

Sir George Perley said that he did not know whether or not Mr. MacFarland was considering the appointment.

RATE OF IMMIGRATION CUT BY ADDED STRICTNESS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (CP)—More selective and flexible immigration laws were held by President Hoover to-day to be needed.

The chief executive's immigration views were expressed as in general agreement with those recently announced by Senator Reed of Pennsylvania. Reed proposed stopping of all immigration from both quota and non-quota countries.

The President did not say he specifically favored this plan, but pointed to recent action by the government in cutting down immigration by a strict appliance of the rules including one which would exclude all persons who might become public charges.

Mr. Hoover said the effect of the stricter regulations was demonstrated in October. He said that from an average of 24,000 immigrants monthly from all sources that the total for October was less than 6,000.

Asks For Damages as Result of Liquor Control Board's Action.

WANTS FINE PAID BACK.

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 25 '(C.P.)—Suit for unstated damages was this morning entered by Mrs. Vital Benoit, of Lasalle, against the directors of the Hofer Brewing Company. She is a stockholder in the company and claims that losses are resulting from the order issued yesterday by the Liquor Control Board suspending sale of the company's products. She also demands that the directors pay back to the company the sum of $5,000, the amount of a fine imposed, under the Liquor Control Act, on a charge of illegal possession of a quantity of their product found on a truck near the river by Provincial Police. The driver jumped from the truck and escaped, and police stopped the truck just before it would have plunged into the river.

Suspension of sale of products of the Walkerville Brewery was also ordered yesterday. They had paid a fine of $5,000 on a charge of keeping liquor for sale. Provincial Police found a truck about to leave the premises with a quantity of their product and there was no record of the shipment being legal.

Bishop Of Birmingham Orders Curate Away

BIRMINGHAM, England, Nov. 25.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—"If you come to St. Gregory's I shall have no alternative but to appeal to the Archbishop of Canterbury, as head of the Church of England, to publicly rebuke you and order you to depart."

This is the final sentence in a letter from Rt. Rev. Ernest Barnes, Bishop of Birmingham, to Rev. E. L. Pike, to whom Bishop Barnes refused a license as curate of St. Gregory's Church. Brown, is one of the group of clergy who decline to follow the Bishop's instructions to discontinue public reservation of the Sacrament and the special services connected with this. Father Pike proposes to take up the curacy under Rev. Mr. Brown next January.

While admitting the curate's position will be irregular, the Vicar declares he feels justified in being irregular "in a good cause."

HINDU-MOSLEM QUESTION IS STILL ISSUE BEFORE INDIAN CONFERENCE

Effect of Recent Addresses Has Been Tremendous—Revolutionized British Attitude.

MANY DIFFICULT ISSUES.

LONDON, Nov. 25 (C.P. Cable) — The flood of oratory on India has subsided with the adjournment of the plenary sessions of the Round-Table Conference. Now leading British and Indian politicians are faced with realization of the enormous task that is involved in drawing up a scheme for a Federal constitution, which is the task of the conference's Federal Relations Committee. This committee, enlarged to 49 members, is busily surveying its duties.

The effect of the speeches of the Indian delegates during the plenary sessions has been tremendous. Their ability and eloquence may be said to have revolutionized the whole British attitude toward the problem, and a significant fact when the plentary sessions are reviewed, is the unanimity of the Princes with the representatives of British India on the demand for a Federal scheme of government.

Doubt Federation of States

In private talks after the conference, however, some doubts appeared

Too Much Stealing Going on Declares Magistrate in Passing Sentence.

(Examiner Correspondence)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 25. —Electing to be tried by Magistrate G. A. Payne in the Campbellford Police Court Monday afternoon and pleading guilty to a charge of the theft of goods from the store of Bert. George Hoard's Station, in the township of Seymour, Gordon Lindsay, 19, was sentenced to a two-year less one day definite and one year indefinite term at Guelph Reformatory and Amos Lindsay to 18 months determinate and 6 months indeterminate in the same institution. In passing sentence, Magistrate Payne stated that this was the first time he had ever given a heavy gaol term. Crown Attorney, Col. F. G. Boggs handled the prosecution.

Chief G. C. Bromley, in giving evidence, described the events that led up to the capture, and Mr. George when placed on the witness box identified the goods as belonging to him, stating that a neighbor drew his attention early Monday morning to the fact that his store had been entered, and that on investigation found that it had been looted.

Sentenced Madoc Last Year

Col. Boggs called Provincial Constable W. McBrian of Brighton to the witness box, who gave evidence to the effect that Gordon Lindsay had received a six-month definite and two years less one day indefinite sentences at Madoc last year for the same kind of offense and had served a little over eleven months of this at Mimico being released this year.

Before Magistrate Payne passed sentence on the two men Col. Bogg stated that there had been too much of this kind of thing going on in the county of late and he thought that drastic measures should be taken to stop such lawlessness

Both men are from the Campbellford district.

U. S. IS BLAMED FOR HARD TIMES

War Debt Policy of States Is Blamed By Former Prime Minister of Canada.

QUESTIONS WISDOM.

OTTAWA, Nov. 25. — While the United States was perfectly within its rights in refusing to cancel war debts, there was good reason to believe conditions in that country and throughout the world today would be much less depressed than they are if it had done so. This statement was made yesterday by Sir Robert Borden, Canada's wartime Prime Minister, in an address before the Professional Institute of the Civil Service of Canada.

Sir Robert gave reminiscences and reaching back into the past, held his audience spellbound with intimate glimpses of important men and events. Most of them had to do with his service as Prime Minister during the war, as a member of the Imperial War Cabinet, and as chief Canadian delegate to the Peace Conference.

Cancellation

"Reparations bring to our minds war debts," said Sir Robert. "Ten years ago it was mooted that they should be cancelled, with consequent reduction in reparation. This view did not commend itself to the Government of the United States, and public opinion in that country was strongly hostile to any such proposal.

"No one would venture to criticize the insistence of the United States upon repayment, although the sums borrowed were expended in that country in the purchase of munitions and other necessary supplies, at prices immensely higher than those prevailing in the time of peace. So I say the United States were entirely within their rights in the course they pursued, although one may be permitted, with all respect and without offense, to question its wisdom.

"For today there is a grave question as to whether the effect of repayment is not a baneful inheritance from the war, a distinct detriment rather than an advantage to the United States. One does not require much argument to be convinced that the economic conditions of the entire world, including those of the United States, would today be much less depressed and far more satisfactory than if the war debts and reparations, so far as they affected the repayment of those debts, had been written off ten years ago and the world had begun a new advance toward normal conditions so rudely disturbed by the war tempest."

THIRTY-ONE LOST WHEN BOAT SINKS IN ELBE ESTUARY

Belgium and France Suffer Worst Floods in Recent Years.

35 KNOWN DEAD.

Thousands Are Homeless and Many Are Injured in European Countries.

LONDON, November 25 (C.P.).—A gale still howled across Europe to-day, and driving rains pelted a region already stricken by floods and hurricanes which had taken at least 35 more lives, injured hundreds, made thousands homeless, and wrought enormous property damage.

Thirty-one men were lost when the steamer Louise Leonhardt went down in the Elbe Estuary, in Germany. Three were killed as a hurricane swept through Vienna. At least one person was drowned as the rivers of France poured over the countryside.

France has the worst flood since the disastrous one of November 1910.

In Belgium, half a million acres of farm land were under water.

In Germany the Rhine and Moselle had driven thousands from their homes.

In Holland the dykes were crumbling along the rivers.

Suffering in Austria

In Austria towns and villages suffered heavily from wind and water. In England—or off its coast—vessels scurried to the assistance of two Greek steamers driven inshore by the gale, but both ships, the Triton and the Taxiarchis, worked themselves out of danger under their own power.

Railways were halted in Bavaria and many other regions because trees and telephone poles were flung across the tracks. Telegraph wires were down in several places. Crops were ruined, and cattle and horses drowned by hundreds.

The 99-mile gale was bitter cold and the homeless suffered also from lack of food. The Red Cross was in the field early, starting its relief campaign.

Paris Mans Pumps.

Paris put its emergency pumps to work early as the Seine crept closer to the tops of the flood walls which run the length of the city. Pursboats and barges in the Seine piled one upon another as the torrent swept under them.

Distress In Belgium.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 25.—The region between Antwerp and Termonde continued in the grip of one of the worst floods in years.

Great masses of water continued to pour into the low-lying country in the Termonde region, despite the desperate efforts of soldiers and civilians to fill the gaps in the river dykes with sandbags.

At Antwerp the Kiel Hospital was evacuated yesterday, with ambulances proceeding through two feet of water surrounding the building. The evacuation was accomplished without mishap, although many of the patients became greatly excited. The rising waters seriously threatened the city's supply of electricity.

In addition to the extensive damage done to the homes and properties of peasants, the destruction of harbor works and property along the River Scheldt will run into millions of francs.

Dutch Dykes Crumble.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 25.—Several townships, including Zwolle and Browershaven, were partly inundated yesterday as a result of floods caused by incessant and heavy rains.

The entire dyke between Lier and Uffel has been breached at twenty points, and the harbor wall and sea dyke at Bergenopzoon have broken down. Large areas were flooded along the Rivers Maas and Waal, particularly in Limburg and between Rymegen and Grave.

The Harbormaster at Enkhuizen reported sighting a vessel drifting in distress toward the Island of Urk, but a motor lifeboat which braved a heavy northwester failed to discover any trace of the ship.

PETERBORO COUNTY LIBERALS NAME CONVENTION DELEGATES

Dr. Munro of Warsaw Re-elected President at Norwood Meeting.

Nelson Parliament Present.

NORWOOD, Nov. 25.—This may be a politically off season, but the Liberals of the Peterborough county constituency rekindled their hopes and enthusiasm at their annual meeting here Monday afternoon, at which they elected officers and commissioned delegates for the provincial convention of the party in Toronto next month.

The delegates are Fred Fry of Belmont, Dr. Donald Munro of Warsaw, W. A. Richardson and Mrs. R. J. Lawlor of Norwood. And the alternates are Mrs. J. W. Burgess of Norwood; Bruce Curtis, Havelock; P. McNulty of Asphodel; C. S Tanner, Lakefield; Thos. Wright, Havelock.

Nelson Parliament of Toronto discussed the condition and prospects of Liberalism in Ontario, touched upon some of the major problems which the convention will have to deal with and appealed to the local officers to put forth new energy and interest for the cause of Liberalism in their respective communities.

"I noted that your president said you haven't had an annual meeting in four years," said Mr. Parliament. "We've got to do better than that if as a party we hope to impress our ideals not only upon the people of our own day and generation, but especially upon the youth of our country and who in a few years should be assuming the obligations of citizenship."

Officers For 1931.

The officers elected yesterday were:

Hon. President—W. A. Anderson.
President—Dr. D. Munro, Warsaw.
1st Vice-president—Dr. J. C. Smith of Lakefield.
2nd Vice-president—Mrs. William Graham, Lakefield.
Secretary-treasurer—W. A. Richardson, Norwood.
Vice-presidents:
Belmont—W. H. Johnston, Fred Fry, Gilbert Wright.

Otonabee—David Hastie, M. Walsh, E. Devell.
Ennismore—John Flood.
Harvey—Archie Wilson and W. J. Shearer.
Burleigh and Anstruther—Duncan Brown.
Galway and Cavendish — John Clarke.
Chandos—David Campbell.
Lakefield—C. S. Tanner.
Douro—Vincent Moher.
Dummer—John Darling and Jas. Hawthorne.
Havelock—Bruce Curtis and Thos. Wright.
Norwood—John Robb and Mrs. R. A. Lawlor.

Convention Subjects.

Before calling on Mr. Parliament for an address, Dr. Munro invited the members to express their opinions as to what course the delegates should taken on some of the questions which would certainly be conspicuous on the agenda of the provincial convention.

This suggestion temporarily converted the meeting into a round table conference. One of the topics mentioned by several speakers was the liquor trade.

"The Liberals have surely learned one thing," said a member. "They know by recent experience that the big majority of dry Conservatives place their party before their temperance principles."

LEGION OFFICIAL ASKS FOR PROBE

Taschereau Is Asked to Probe Sweepstakes By Col. L. R. La Fleche.

CONTRARY TO POLICY.

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (C.P.)—Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec, in his capacity of Attorney-General, has been appealed to by Col. L. R. Le Fleche, Dominion President of the Canadian Legion, to investigate the supposed conducting of a sweepstake in that province by an organization referred to in press despatches as "The Canadian Legion."

Leo Plaisance, a Montreal bellboy, was credited with winning $50,000 in a sweepstakes on the Manchester Handicap. Col. La Fleche said last night it was contrary to the policy of the Legion, as enunciated at Regina in 1929, to permit either the Dominion body or any local or provincial command to conduct lotteries or sweepstakes. He had asked Col. F. F. Clarke, president of the Quebec command of the Legion, also to investigate the matter, the Dominion president said.

In a telegram to Premier Taschereau, Col. La Fleche called upon him to "see that those responsible for this forbidden and supposedly illegal enterprise are brought to task forthwith and that effective measures are taken in your province to prevent repetition as long as laws remain as at present."

Col. La Fleche said last night if it were discovered that any local or provincial command had conducted a lottery, it would be reprimanded by the Dominion organization for a breach of policy. He believed, however, that some persons or an organization had used the Legion's name in operating the sweepstakes and in that case he called upon the province to conduct the investigation.

"The Legion," the president said, "cannot conduct unlawful practices and maintain its present close relations with Parliament and the general public."

JUDGES' DECISIONS UNPOPULAR WITH THE TORONTO FIGHT FANS

Horner, Canadian Champion, Stages Comeback to Win After First Round Fall.

LONG DEFEATS SHARPE.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 25 (C.P.)—Several rousing battles and unpopular decisions featured the Queensbury Athletic Club's boxing show here last night. Five bouts were on the card with Jackie Phillips, Canadian welterweight champion, opposing Jackie Horner, hard-hitting St. Louis, 147-pounded, in the headliner. Horner won the unanimous decision of the judges, after six torrid rounds of milling. His margin, if any, was slim, and a knockdown scored by the visitor in the opening round for no count, apparently influenced the judges in his favor, for Phillips won four of the remaining five rounds, while the other was a tie.

One of the most unpopular decisions given here in some time was the verdict awarding Bobby Lawrence, local featherweight a victory over Young Strappa, Winnipeg. The latter, a rosy-cheeked lad of 19, arrived here a few weeks ago practically penniless and was given a fight with Vince Glionna, whom he defeated easily. Last night he gave promise of developing into a top-notcher and his short, jolting right to the head had Lawrence in distress in three rounds.

The fight faithful resented another decision given against a Winnipeg boxer in the opening six rounder, when Tommy Bland, Toronto lightweight, opposed Al. Harding, recent arrival from the West. Bland, purely the boxer, used a straight left effectively to stop the rushes of Harding, who was the aggressor throughout out.

Red Bragan, local welterweight slugger, hammered his way to victory over Seaman Smart, English boxer, in another six round preliminary.

In the semi-final tussle, Dick Sharpe, winner of four straight bouts since his recent arrival from England, met defeat at the hands of Chuck Long, Los Angeles.

Peterborough Among Leaders In Cheese Production

GEORGE BARR CONGRATULATES DISTRICT MANUFACTURERS ON HIGH QUALITY OF PRODUCT

Director of Dairying Addresses Annual Meeting of Ontario Dairymen's Association Yesterday.

MEET IN LEGION HALL.

W. J. Moore Tells Members Nineteen Factories in Operation During Year.

Complimenting the district on the excellent work done in the past year, especially regarding the manufacture of cheese and the low percentage of mechanical defects, George A. Barr, director of dairying, Toronto, addressing the annual meeting of Peterborough District and Eastern Ontario Dairyman's Association held in the Legion Hall yesterday afternoon, said, "The district deserves a great deal of credit. Six years ago Peterborough was at the bottom of the list of cheese groups for the Province; this year Peterborough is close to the top". He could not give the actual standing of this district as the final returns are not all yet in.

Mr. Barr stated that throughout the Province despite low prices, more cheese had been made during the year just closed than last year, and the quality of the first grade cheese had never been higher. The need was probably greater, he thought, for the making of high grade cheeese. Competition in the British market, especially from New Zealand, was particularly keen. So long as Canada could continue to make fine cheese, we can continue to get premium prices over New Zealand, he averred.

5th Annual Report

George Gillespie, local director of the association was in the chair and received the 5th annual report of W. J. Moore, dairy inspector, which read as follows:—

"Beginning April 1st and ending November 30th, I had 19 factories in operation. Fifteen in Peterborough County and four in Victoria County, eleven of which are limited companies and eight privately owned. There were 797 patrons supplying milk from 6950 cows. The total amount of milk in pounds was 15,682,166, while the total amount of cheese manufactured was 1,367,223 pounds, representing a total value of $6 292.55."

Mr. Moore further reports that he visited in this period, 223 times at factories and made 2,566 butter fat tests, 218 fermentation and sediment tests and visited 10 farms.

"The average butter fat tests was 3.3 per cent. There were 12,625 lbs of whey butter made and 10,554 lbs of whey cream at a value of $7,292.55."

"On improvements and equipment the sum of $4,055 has been expended and one new factory built and equipped at a cost of $6,000. There has been a slight decrease in the number of cheeses graded in this section in the past season, although no decrease in the production, there being a fair demand in local trade." "One of the high standing factories for 1928-29 and a prize winner each year has fallen away to the bottom of the list this year owing to unsanitary conditions on some of the farms and is responsible for 40 per cent. under grade cheese, in the section this season. Another factory which had a great deal of under grade cheese in 1929 has this year attained a standing of 99.8 per cent first grade."

Important Industry

E. A. Peck, M.P., who was present at the meeting referred to the importance of the cheese industry of this country and congratulated the manufacturers on the excellent results this years as reported by Messrs. Moore and Barr.

Mr. Allan, president of the local association announced that a meeting will be held in the agricultural offices here on Saturday afternoon.

WEDDINGS

BUCKLEY—CONDON.

DOURO, Nov. 25.—(Examiner Correspondence).—A very pretty wedding took place at St. Joseph's church, Douro, on Thursday morning, November 20, at eight-thirty when Clara Evangeline Condon, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. Condon, became the bride of Joseph W. Buckley, son of Mrs. Ellen Buckley and the late James Buckley.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father M. McGuire.

The bride who entered the church on the arm of her brother, John J. Condon, was charmingly attired in a frock of coral georgette and radium lace with blonde shoes and hose to match.

Miss Beatrice O'Grady, bridesmaid, wore a gown of old rose canton crepe with black satin shoes and beige hose.

Mr. James Buckley, brother of the groom, was the best man.

Little Noreen Moher and Kathleen O'Grady, cousin and niece of the bride, were flower girls, the former in maize and the latter in orchid taffeta. White satin poke bonnets completed their costume. They carried a basket of carnations and narcissus.

The wedding music was played by Miss Mabel Allen.

Following the ceremony dinner was served at the home of the brides brother-in-law, Mr. Raymond Condon, where decorations were carried out in pink and white streamers and white bells.

The guests were received by the bridal party assisted by Mrs. John J. Condon in navy blue satin with eggshell trimming, and Mrs. E. Buckley, mother of the groom, in black canton crepe with white georgette trimmings.

The groom's gift to the bride was a rope of pearls, to the bridesmaid an amethyst pendant, to the flower girls necklaces and to the best man gold cuff links.

Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Buckley left for a short honeymoon the bride travelling in sand satin faced canton frock, midnight blue broadcloth coat with sable trimming and a hat of blue velvet with silver cloth.

On their return they will reside on the groom's farm in Douro.

Previous to her marriage, Miss Condon was presented with a gift by the choir of St. Joseph's church.

SCHOOL CHILDREN NEED OF CLOTHING

Inspector Pentland Reads Appeal to Omemee Women's Institute.

OMEMEE, Nov. 25.—(Examiner Correspondence). — About twenty members of the Women's Institute gathered at the home of Mrs. McPhee on Wednesday evening for the regular meeting at which Mrs. R. Cornwall presided in the absence of the president. The roll call was responded to by an apple recipe.

An appeal was read from Mr. Pentland, school inspector for North Victoria and Haliburton, asking for warm clothing for the children. These children are dependent upon help with clothing to make it possible for them to attend school during the winter.

An appeal was also read from Mr. Putman asking for help in other parts, and Dr. McPhee who had been in Toronto recently asked for help for the veterans of that city, who in many cases are only working two or three days a week and in some cases have been without work for weeks. $10 was voted for relief work at Christie Street Hospital, warm quilts will be made at once and a bale of clothing sent to needy places.

Mrs. J. Eggleson and Mrs. McPhee each gave humorous reading and the Misses Parsons and Faulkner san a duet. Mrs. Cyril Elliott gave a vocal solo and Miss Race a piano selection. These numbers were much appreciated and helped make up a very enjoyable program. At the conclusion refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. R. Cornwall, Mrs. Fred Evans and Mrs. Palmer.

Lady Misses Dress Shortly After Purchase

STIRLING, Nov. 25—(Examiner Correspondence).—Miss Lulu Sarles of Stirling had the misfortune to have a dress stolen on Friday morning while in Belleville, where the dress had just been purchased.

The box containing the dress was placed in Miss Sarles' brother's car and when she went back to it in a short time, she found the box missing, the car not having been locked.

Cattle trading slow and dragging. Few sales completed. All classes of killing cattle 25c lower than last week.

Bacon hogs sold at $8.50; heavies $7.50; sows $7.

Top lambs, $8; sheep, $2 to $4.50.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—Butter and cheese were lower, while eggs and potatoes were unchanged on the produce and dairy market yesterday. Trading was light.

Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized creamery butter was ½c lower, being quoted at 29c to 29½c a pound. To retailers solids were 32c and prints 33c a pound. Receipts were 104 boxes.

The egg market was unchanged, receipts being 759 cases.

New Brunswick Green Mountains were quoted at 90c per 80-lb. bag on the potato market.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Word that Russian exports of wheat had ceased, as Russian home supplies were exhausted, led to a sharp rally in wheat prices late yesterday. The rally was aided by announcement of 1,058,000 bushels falling off in the Canadian wheat visible supply total and also by 487,000 bushels decrease of the United States visible. Besides, primary arrivals of domestic wheat yesterday were much smaller and export purchase of North American wheat aggregated upward of 750,000 bushels.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm, 1-8c to 1c a bushel higher than Saturday's finish. Corn closed at 1-8c to ¼c advance; oats unchanged to ⅛c up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 15 cents.

Wheat prices started with a decided upward trend, but soon underwent a sudden fall and continued to be depressed until the final hour. Initial gains were largely ascribed to increasing complaints of crop damage in Argentina, a very deficient yield being expected on about 3,000,000 acres of Argentina wheat land as a result of rust and frost. However, the Buenos Aires market instead of showing an advance underwent a tumble of 2 3-8 to 2 5-8 cents, and for at least the time being nullified in Chicago the price influence of crop damage. Big increase of the amount of wheat on ocean passage, 4,336,000 bushels enlargement, as compared with a year ago, acted also temporarily as a handicap to friends of higher prices.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—Livestock receipts at the Union Yards Monday, were:—

Cattle	3,360
Calves	610
Hogs	906
Sheep and lambs	1,622

The supply of cattle was moderate at the Union Stock Yards yesterday. Trading was brisk from the opening, with prices generally 25c per cwt. higher. Some choice handyweight steers and heifers sold at a top price of $7.75 per cwt., with good loads at $7.25 to $7.50. Best quality heavy steers brought $7 to $7.25, with a few selling at $7.50. Plain heavies sold downward to $5.75. Common light killers were down to $5. Butcher cows were 25c higher at $4.75 to $5.50 for choice grade. Canners sold unchanged at $1.75. Butcher bulls brought $4.50 to $5, with bolognas $3.25 to $3.75. Store cattle were strong, with good feeders selling up to $6.50 per cwt. Lighter quality went at $5 to $6. Milkers and springers were unchanged at $90 to $110 for best grade.

There were 2,300 head of cattle weighed by mid-afternoon, and though trade slowed after the supply had been picked over, traders expected that a fair clean-up would be made by closing time.

Supply of calves was small, but with a good proportion of heavy grassers, which sold at $4.50 to $6 per cwt. Good vealers were steady at last week's decline at $11.50 to $12, with an odd top selling at $12.50. A very small supply of fed calves sold steady at $8.50 to $10 per cwt.

Hog prices were unsettled at $9.25, f.o.b., bacons, or at $10.25 to $10.50 off cars. Bids were steady at last week's closing price. Packers were quoting 25c lower for Monday's loadings.

Lambs sold strong at $8.25 to $8.50 for good ewes and wethers. Bucks, culls and heavies went at $2 a hundred discount. Some choice lambs brought $8.65 to $8.75. Sheep were higher at $4.50 to $5 for best light ewes, with culls at $2 to $3 per cwt. Yearlings sold at $6.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, November 25. — The upward struggle of wheat prices from the low marks of last Tuesday ended yesterday after a flourish toward the heights. Early advances on strength at Liverpool and Buenos Aires showed gains of more than two cents, but a sudden down trend in the two marts had its effect at Winnipeg and values finished down 1⅛c to 1⅜c.

Reports of Dominion Government steps to support the pools and the Provinces brought buyers into the pit at the start, but they fled under the threat of the other markets' downturns. Volume was heavy, especially in the early trading. Export of some 750,000 bushels of Canadian wheat was confirmed, but cash wheat trading was light.

Second Growth Of Lettuce In Cavan

HAVELOCK CHOIR VISITS NORWOOD

Special Music Program Greeted By Large and Appreciative Congregation.

HAVELOCK, Nov. 25.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The choir of the United Church, of Havelock, accompanied by their pastor, Rev. W. R. Archer went to Norwood last Sunday evening and conducted the service in the United Church there.

They were greeted by a large and appreciative congregation.

Rev. Mr. Archer preached upon the subject of the Loving Kindness of Our Lord, from the text, 1 Kings, 17-7, illustrating his theme from the life of the immortal prophet, Elijah.

The choir sang two anthems, "'Tis Harvest Time" and "Hark, Hark My Soul" and Harry Sexsmith sang a solo "Abide With Us" in splendid voice. The exchange of pastors and choirs was something of an experiment but proved very enjoyable to all.

Nearly 20,000 Europeans have taken up farming in Southwest Africa.

"Here's How I'm Fixed"--

"If I live to old age I'll be able to enjoy a well-earned rest.

"If I should die earlier my good wife will have an income for life.

"If accident or disease lays me aside permanently before I'm sixty or even for a period of three months or more, I get a monthly cheque until I get better.

"If, later on, I urgently need cash, The London Life will lend me money.

"If my circumstances change I can adjust my policy to suit, without even medical examination.

"How's that for real life insurance protection?

"The cost? Why, it actually works out at less than 2%, because the premium is only $202.00 a year for $10,000 protection and the annual dividends reduce this considerably.

"It certainly is different and I'm glad I've got it!"

CHRISTMAS RELIEF

A [illegible] editorial [illegible] early issue for social service [illegible] an unusual Christmas in Peterborough this year owing to the abnormally large number of families who will be in need of at least a measure of assistance.

While we have not audited the work of a central committee to coordinate and direct the distribution of relief as the best solution of the problem it is realized that such a plan at this time offers obvious difficulties that it might not be possible to iron out in time to allow the plan to function speedily.

Fortunately, however, there is an opportunity for relief organizations to obtain a check upon their plans for Christmas work and to ensure a non-duplication of effort.

All such organizations as well as individuals who wish to extend a helping hand in making Christmas a gladsome time for some family that needs help, should consult City Relief Officer Arthur Metheral, who is in a position to advise just where assistance is most urgently required and accurately as to what form that assistance should take.

If this plan is followed and the knowledge and services of the relief officer are generally utilized, the problem of administering Christmas relief to the best advantage will be solved.

STIFF SENTENCES ARE NEEDED.

Two hold-up men who pleaded guilty in Hamilton yesterday to a charge of robbery while armed were sentenced to penitentiary sentences of fourteen and ten years respectively with thirty lashes added in each case.

As in a similar case recently in which long penitentiary terms with lashes was the punishment accorded two bank robbers, there will be well-meaning citizens who will protest that such sentences are too drastic and severe.

It is sad to hear of young men being sent to the penitentiary for many years and to know that, in addition to this long confinement, they will have to undergo the physical and mental suffering involved in a legal flogging, but the simple truth is that society must be protected from the gangster spirit that is rampant across the border and is seeping into this country as well.

These men have pleaded guilty or have been convicted of something much more serious and more threatening than mere robbery; they have gone out with loaded revolvers ready to shoot if necessary, and only good fortune has prevented them from adding murder to their list of crimes.

We cannot afford in this country to let the idea get abroad that the revolver is superior to the law, and that the way to easy money is to collect it at the point of a loaded gun.

A few more jolts such as have been handed out by Ontario magistrates recently will teach the foreign crooks to keep out of this part of the world, and the home-product imitators of cross-the-border gangsters that there are much safer and more desirable occupations than trying to make money in the hold-up business.

A PICTURE NOT TO BE MISSED.

There is being shown at the Capitol Theatre on Thursday and Friday of this week a moving picture that everybody should make a point of seeing.

The reference is to the film, "With Byrd at the South Pole," which for sheer interest and educational value will undoubtedly prove to be superior to anything in this line that has been shown here.

This is no study production, no cleverly faked effort of the camera man's skill, but a wonderfully vivid and gripping picturization of one of the finest exploration achievements that history has yet recorded.

Here is a chance for vicarious adventure such as rarely has been afforded an unrivalled opportunity to launch out into the unknown of the Antarctic sweeps, to see the wonders of the end of the earth as they unfolded themselves to Byrd and his intrepid companions.

The miracle of the motion picture camera makes it possible for Peterborough people to sit, warm and comfortable, in a cushioned seat and see history being made by men who braved the vastness of the frozen south and risking everything gloriously triumphed.

The epic pictures of the past, "The Covered Wagon," "The Birth of a Nation" and others that will readily suggest themselves to the reader's memory, were spell-binding in their effect, despite the fact that they were but creations owing their origin to the brain of some motion picture director.

How much more thrilling therefore should be this picture record of a surprising exploit, magnificently photographed and missing nothing of the big moments of Byrd's great adventure!

THE FISHING SEASON.

The suggestion made by Perry Alexander in a letter on the fishing situation, which appears elsewhere in today's issue, is one that is worthy of attention by those interested in this question.

Mr. Alexander, pointing out the fact that summer resort proprietors have been badly hit by the shortening of the fishing season, advocates the adoption of the Maine system under which anglers are allowed to fly cast for bass from June 1 until the 20th and then to bait fish if they so desire.

During the period of flycasting the daily catch in Maine is limited to three bass, so that no great inroads are made upon the fish, and at the same time that type of angler who takes pleasure out of casting is satisfied. There is much to be said on behalf of the men who have invested their money in summer hotels.

At best they have a decidedly limited season, and the present arrangement which does not permit angling for game fish until Dominion Day deprives them of what used to be about the most profitable fortnight of the summer.

In pointing out some time ago that the Fish and Game Department should be in a position to know just when it would be safe, having regard to the spawning season, to allow bass to be taken. The Examiner was under the impression that the plan [illegible] had been scientifically integrated over a period of years.

[illegible] A number of [illegible] and the Minister may be taken up with the companies.

IS THERE OVERLAPPING.

[illegible] Honorable Mr. Weir, the new Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa has held a conference with the heads of the principal agricultural departments and certain defined activities and objects have been recorded as a guide for the work both of the Federal and Provincial Governments.

This is good as far as it goes and there does not seem to be any real reason for the criticism aimed at the conference by certain members of the Farmers' party. The latter insist that their organization should have been represented in this conference although it was a conference between Governments. Consultation with the industry most affected may take place and probably will later.

The marked advance made in agricultural methods during the past twenty-five years is noticeable all over the world, and in no portion of it more strikingly than Canada. It is not so long ago that the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph was the object of all kinds of jibes, not only on the floor of the Legislature but in every election campaign. The stupid people who refused to see any good in the attempt to place agriculture on a higher level through the educational institution blinded their eyes to the good that was being constantly accomplished.

The late Honorable John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture in the Province for many sessions was attacked not only unfairly but cruelly, on account of the work being done at Guelph, and the older generation will recall that "the calf with a cough" "the ram Dan," of speeches but of posters as well.

When that wonderful institution, the Macdonald College, at Ste Anne de Bellevue, was opened the farmers in that vicinity and of Quebec in general looked at it from afar as an institution in which "book farmin'" would be taught, rather than practical instruction in real agriculture be given. Although they condemned Macdonald College and all that pertained thereto, it is a fact that in a few short years the farmers of Quebec were imitating, so far as they could the methods pursued at Macdonald College with very beneficial effect to their own products. Any person in Quebec or Ontario who to-day would ridicule the Macdonald institution or the Guelph school would be thought a trifle unbalanced mentally.

In addition to these, there are experimental farms and centres of agricultural education in every Province, and the question that forces itself on one's mind is this: Is there overlapping in work between the federal and provincial authorities?

At Ottawa there is the Dominion Experimental Farm, consulted and admired the world over for its practical demonstrations and for the research work being constantly carried on for the benefit of the farmers and gardeners. The Honorable Mr. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture in the King Government, was what might be called a riotous enthusiast over the Dominion Experimental Farm, and he not only enlarged its acreage but materially improved its methods with the able staff at hand.

Could the work of the federal and provincial departments be more perfectly co-ordinated so that the co-operation would be more complete? In other words, could the agricultural activities be so arranged that two authorities would not be endeavoring to do the same thing at the same time, but each would have its own well-defined duty to perform? It is not being said here that useless overlapping does exist, but it has been so stated. If the new Minister of Agriculture and the provincial Ministers will investigate suggestions such as these, it will probably clear the air, even if no overlapping be found to exist.

Any speeding up looking to the betterment of the agricultural industry will be approved by the people.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

CHAPTER XXXI

BATTLE

With Dorn it was a nightmare to sit there motionless and inactive at the controls, unable to press another jot of speed out of his hurtling plane, and to realize, helplessly, that these enemy ships had more than a two-hour lead and could never be overtaken. He thought, with black despair: "They've dropped down upon Aurore's lake by now, and we're two hundred miles away! They'll climb out, they'll be gone." He knew they would never return to Enax Mortes; they would be crazy to risk a machine-gun duel needlessly. Once they had Aurore, they would simply fly out into that illimitable wilderness of ranges and be lost.

There was one hope, and that rested with Aurore. If she had not been trapped in the cabin, if she could hide on her island and stave off capture for one precious hour, then the Silver Hawk might reach binocular range and see those shining specks escaping, and could close in upon them, and then Aurore's possession would come down to the arbitrament of machine guns.

The morning was beautifully clear, the sun mellow and golden, with not the faintest wisp of cirrus anywhere in the sky. From mountain torrent and lake and deep canyon stream the gray water-smoke curled up like incense; but in stead of collecting in pools in the valleys, it vanished as it rose. A quiet like a Sabbath benediction seemed to rest upon the virgin wilderness under keel; and Dorn in a fleeting thought remembered that to-day was Sunday—exactly three weeks since Aurore had come to him and he had flown her north to her refuge on ahead.

All the details of that night trip—how he had unchivalrously watched Aurore in that ebony panel, how at first she had been very still and frightened, how she had studied him, wondering if in the days to be he might turn wolf—came flooding back and haunted Dorn. He remembered, and now he could understand, little incidents which had puzzled him then. In particular he remembered that just before dawn, when he was sailing high over a star-glistening mountain lake, Aurore had learned out with some small object in her gloved hand and had flung it with a passionate gesture down into the abysmal depths of those cold waters; and now Dorn reflected: "That was Aurore's wedding ring. She had done with him then."

Her marriage to Henry Carter-Snowdon seemed a thing incredible, a thing unnatural, like a graceful gyrfalcon mating with a gorged and heavy-winged cormorant. Dorn had often recalled, with contempt and physical repugnance, the ponderous, flabby man whom he had knocked senseless with a couple of fist blows. Glaringly contrasted—he had carried in his heart a picture of Aurore, standing on the jutting boulder that morning he returned with her outfit. He remembered her as she stood on his plane-pontoon in the Bighorn's Looking-Glass, slender and quick with life, lovely in the beating sunlight. He remembered lifting Aurore to peer into a humming bird's nest; his tramp with her through her little wildwood; her golden voice and the fire-glow in her hair and her winsome mannerisms and all her adorable girlishness.

Those hours had been sunlit, but the memory of them now was the memory of a heaven lost, and Dorn's hell was the knowledge that Aurore had been wife to another man to Carter-Snowden.

That marriage was something which passed Dorn's understanding, and confused and bewildered him beyond the anguish of it. By her own words to Kansas, Aurore had not been led or forced into it; had had no high, forgivable motive; had entered into it of her own choice. Even without her confession, Dorn knew that a girl of her bravery and independence never would be coerced into any infamous bargain. He knew it was a deliberate act of her own free will, and blindly he groped: "Why then did Aurore run away from him? What made her break away after their honeymoon?" Her wild flight was a mystery more unfathomable than her marriage itself.

She had told Kansas that she married for money, power, social position. That was her motive; Dorn knew it was true, aside from her confessing it, for he thought: "There is the reason she would never tell me; there is why she said that day 'Your judgment would cut like a sword.'" She had expected him to say to her: "You gave yourself to this man, your husband, for sordid motives, and then you broke faith with him."

He knew that Kansas in his secret thoughts did actually condemn Aurore harshly for her marriage. But Dorn could not condemn Aurore. Now when the truth was known in all its ugliness and the time to judge had come, it was Dorn, before whose judgment Aurore had trembled, who defended her staunchly. He could not believe evil of her. He had been witness to her honesty in not allowing her flight to injure her husband, and to her gladness when she searched those newspapers and found nothing about the separation. Dorn could not forget Aurore's innocent comradeliness and her unyielding idealism in all her relations with himself. And the fact remained, the colossal fact, that not six hours ago Aurore, in the face of a passionate love, had begged him never to visit her again, and had refused to take a course-flight with him and divorce from her husband—which most people would have condoned as an easy and a domantic way out of her terrible trouble. Dorn, who had lived through those hours with Aurore, could not think evil of her. He felt that he knew the conscience and the soul of Aurore McNain.

While still eighty miles from the Lake of the Dawn, Dorn handed the powerful binoculars back to his partner; and Kansas bent out of his seat, shielding his eyes from the slip-stream, and began sweeping the blue-hazy distances stretching north. His range was limited; it had to be so; for Dorn was grazing the peak-lines, keeping his plane to the lowest possible altitude, where its speed was greatest.

He had little hopes of Kansas' picking up the enemy craft for half an hour yet—if ever he picked them up. He believed they were both at Aurore's lake, or else had escaped and were sticking together, with the pursuit plane acting as convoy and protection to the heavier ship. But fifty miles from the goal Dorn suddenly felt his partner's fingers clutching his shoulder, and throttling down for a second, he heard Kansas shouting into his ear:

"Dorn . . . plane . . . dead ahead of us . . . away to hell and gone just barely see it . . ."

In the hectic flush of near exhaustion Dorn's blood ran hot and his hand tightened upon the stick. The cry of enemy sighted was a trumpet call, a call to battle, a guarantee of a fight ahead.

He zoomed the Silver Hawk upward, climbed to fifteen thousand feet, swung about in his seat and spoke a lip language to Kansas.

"Keep it in sight. Don't give it a chance to slip up! Watch it every second!"

A few minutes later Kansas was shouting again:

"Dorn . . . can see it plain now . . . it's that Fokker . . . don't appear to be travelling . . . seems like it's circling."

Dorn looked where Kansas pointed; and through the propeller disc, he himself with naked eye spotted that glistening speck.

It was circling, as Kansas had said; sweeping like a sentinel back and forth across the sky squarely athwart their path. Dorn estimated its position as, about forty miles south of Aurore's lake, or approximately where those breeds had been dropped off.

Its tactics puzzled him. What was it doing there? What was its purpose in patrolling back and dorth so far away from her lake?

For a moment he thought that the enemy pilots had not been able to follow his chart, and had stopped short of the goal. But then in a flash of understanding Dorn saw through the whole strategy. He thought: "They suspected we might come flinging up across the ranges on their trail, and they're ordered guard against that. The biplane, with Carter-Snowdon and Quillan and that alley-wolf—they've gone on north, they're capturing Aurore. This fighting plane with Ace McGregory and the twin Vickers to back him up—they're patrolling down here to block the path, to protect the biplane, to shoot Kansas and me out of the air!"

That enemy pilot and machine gunner showed no such cowardice as Carter-Snowdon and Soft-Shoe had betrayed down on Dorn's island one day two weeks ago. They could have veered aside easily enough and so avoided a fight. But they had been put there to block that path, to wash the Silver Hawk out of the sky, and they stood up to the battle like men.

Stopping in their airy patrol, they came sailing boldly out over a big mountain valley to meet their enemy.

Far away below, Dorn caught a splotch of dirty white conspicuous on the shore of a lake; and he knew it was the tent, the orientation camp, of the breeds who had been planted there to discover Aurore's refuge.

Kansas clutched his shoulder again, and shouted: "Jim . . . you going to fight him? Our plane swifter . . . You can pass him up."

Dorn harboured the suggestion a moment. He was not afraid of 'Ace' McGregory; he knew that Kansas, too, was ready to fight and had made the suggestion in the fear that the biplane might even then be escaping. But Dorn reasoned swiftly: "It's not! It's still at the lake, or this ship would have drawn away to protect it. If it's us to go down, we'll go down now; if they go down, they won't be around to threaten us when we go after that biplane." He shouted curtly: 'We'll fight!"

Both he and Kansas stripped off helmets and goggles. With his left hand on the spade grip of the Lewis and his right hand ready on the trigger, Kansas braced himself firmly in his seat, so that the giddy dives and sharp stabs of quick, wrenching zooms of the coming manœuvres would not unsteady him. His eyes were narrowed to slits and his jaw stuck out; he grinned wolfishly at his flying mate, and Dorn read the shout on his lips:

"That dry shooting we used to practise at each other—we'll damned soon put it to the test, Jim!"

Dorn snubbed the speed of his plane. The enemy pilot did likewise. Circling warily three quarters of a mile apart, the two machines climbed to eighteen thousand feet for manœuvring altitude.

In Dorn's judgment he and Kansas were dead-evenly matched with the two enemies. His plane had greater speed and zooming power, but that advantage was entirely offset by the fact that the twin Vickers had twice the firing volume of the Lewis. In a fleeting, close-up opportunity lasting ten seconds at most, that double firing power was tremendously important.

As they levelled off eighteen thousand feet high and a thousand yards apart, the twin Vickers ran a short burst, possibly to tune up the gunner's eye and hand for the real work ahead. One chance bullet pierced a hole through the bay just behind Kansas. All the others missed.

Dorn paid no attention. With the glasses he was busy studying the mounting of that twin Vickers. The flexibility of the gun determined the "blind spot" of the plane, and that blind spot was the thing he had to manœuvre for.

There again the two machines were evenly matched. Like the Lewis, the twin Vickers was semi-flexible in mounting—a "pill box" weapon hastily adapted to a cockpit. It could sweep the air overhead, and the level range, and downward to a forty-five degree angle; but directly under keel it was "blind."

It was Dorn's job to dart down under the tail of that enemy machine and give Kansas a chance to send a spray of bullets up into it. And since his own plane too was a "blind belly" craft, he had to guard against that deadly twin Vickers getting under him.

He knew it would be a battle of arrowy manœuvring, a battle between his flying skill and the enemy pilot's wizardry, with the machine gunners relatively unimportant. From the wary circling he knew that "Ace" McGregory was no foolhardy daredevil, rushing in with a recklessness that would bring both planes down in flaming wrecks, but a wise old fox, with four years of war experience, and one of the best flyers he had ever seen handle a stick.

Dorn could not help thinking: 'He's shot down men in battle. He lived through four years of that—because he was good. He fought five Rumplers at one time and he bombed Immelmann's hangar. Now Kansas and I . . .

It was Dorn—picturing Aurore [illegible] hunted, captured, carried away—who precipitated the fight.

Suddenly swerving across the circle, he launched the Silver Hawk straight at the enemy plane, closed up to three hundred yards, and dived to pass under the enemy. To save itself the Fokker plunged down also. A couple of hundred yards apart, with machine guns drumming and struts screaming from the terrific speed, the two crafts went down together, three thousand feet in a giddy dive, before they broke apart, and shot out to either side, and zoomed back up as far as their impetus would take them.

"SAGITTARIUS".

If November 25th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 4.40 p.m. to 7 p.m. The hours in which to be careful, are from 7.30 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 8.20 p.m. to 9.30 p.m.

Astrological influences on this date will make both happiness and a moderate degree of success accessible. Unusual experiences, of minor importance, but thrilling in nature, may be expected. A new friend, who will prove sincere and helpful, may come into your life.

The child born on this November 25th, if it be a boy, will be a little Robinson Crusoe, and able to fend for itself. It should have a good physical vitality, a stout weapon, for the battle of the years. If it be a girl, she will care more for books and sports than dolls, and will have a wise little head. She will also be able to fight her own battles with a nimble tongue.

You have a very intuitive and prophetic nature, and you should experience some unusual and interesting evidences of mental telepathy. You quickly sense things without being told, especially any inharmonious vibrations. You feel forebodings of impending evils and your hunches are usually a cause of worry to you.

You have very good mind control, and seem to possess only one thought at a time, and this thought carries you on to the goal you wish to reach. Sagittarius is the sign of the archer, and those born under its influence shoot from their bow the arrow which seldom misses its mark. You always look forward with a bright and happy disposition, trusting and believing that the future state is to be far better than any that has precedied it. You are never afraid to look around the corner. You have such a decisive way of expressing yourself that you carry belief with your words. You have the ability to sense the weak spot in others, and when angered you know exactly where to hurt.

You should live in the open air as much as possible, as it will strengthen your vitality. There is a tendency to over-exertion on your part, and experience will teach you the limit of your strength and endurance. Vocations favored by those born in this sign compromise teaching, the ministry, law, astronomy and designing. You never like to leave things unfinished.

MOTOR ACCIDENT ON CHARLOTTE ST.

Car Forced Up on Sidewalk: Both Cars Damaged, But No One Hurt.

At 4.15 yesterday afternoon what might have been a serious accident occurred at intersection of Charlotte and Aylmer streets. A "Light Delivery" car owned by the Trent Canal was coming eastward down Charlotte and was turning to go northward down Aylmer. Another car attempted to do the same, but as the first car was intending to stop on the corner the second did not have enough room to pass. The driver of the Trent Canal car attempting to make room, jumped the sidewalk and only stopped after knocking a few bricks off the corner cigar store. Luckily no one was in the immediate vicinity on the sidewalk, and neither of the occupants of the cars were hurt. The first car had its fender smashed, mud guards bent, and a flat tire; the other received less damage.

MINISTER ARRIVES IN ROME

ROME, Nov. 25 (C.P.)—Dino Grandi, Italy's youthful Foreign Minister, arrived in Rome to-day from Milan, where yesterday he conferred with Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Minister, and went directly to a meeting of the Council of Ministers.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND BRIEFS

A SPECIAL SERVICE TO THE EXAMINER

Wall Street is floundering around looking for the leadership that will lift the market out of the rut and incase speculative participation. First it was the coppers, with the incentive found in the agreement to curtail production and a slight increase in prices. This played out and the increased producing schedules by the motor car manufacturings turned attention to the motors and accessories. Next came the rails and more recently the chain stores and merchandising securities with the market for such shares going higher in anticipation of increased Christmas trade at one time or another these groups were leaders in a moderate advance in comparatively light trading. Monday's session was one of the dullest of the past couple of months and the list is due to take a pre holiday appearance before long as the United States market will be closed Thursday, Thanksgiving Day. In recent sessions the test has displayed firmness and prices to-day are holding around the top for the current recovery. New York brokers. However, expect a further test shortly and are advising clients to take matters easy and not be in a hurry in taking on commitments. The belief is expressed that industrial conditions are on the mend and that the stock market is in an improved technical position but the fear has not been lost that international complications of one character or another may crop up to disturb the security markets.

New Dinner Game.

Four members of the financial district of this city were sitting around the dinner table last evening when a discussion arose as to which Canadian security could be expected to show the largest percentage advance between now and the beginning of 1931. The entire list on the Toronto Stock Exchange was gone over and the final result was that no two could decide on the same security. To make the matter all the more interesting it was decided that each should choose the stock they thought would advance the most and place a $5piece into a pot, the winner to take all. Consolidated Smelters was barred due to its wide fluctuations and balance of the list left open and when the four securities were named it was disclosed that not one of the popular leaders was included. The four stocks chosen were Service Stations, Good Year Tire, Economy Canadian Oil and Supertest Petroleum, the latter had a substantial lead this morning. Those present had their personal reasons for their choice but undoubtedly there will be found many people who fail to agree with them.

Supertest Activity.

More activity took place in Supertest Petroleum ordinary stock the first hour this morning than in any one issue on the Toronto Stock Exchange in some little time. The Street hears many rumors to account for the rise, a pool is reported to be operating in the stock and another rumor says the company is making arrangements whereby an American company will establish a refinery in Canada with Supertest the distributing outlet. There is very little foundation for either of these rumors. It does appear, however, that the directors at their meeting on Monday will have an announcement regarding the dividend policy which will be in the interests of shareholders. There is also the possibility the stock will be split and the price of the new shares brought in line with current market values on B. A. Oil and International Petroleum stock. Supertest has outstanding only 110,000 of combined common and ordinary stock and a split would give wider distribution to the shares. The company has been able to report substantial increases in earnings which last year amounted to more than $4 share, which would indicate that the dividend of per cent share was on a conservative basis. On the basis of last year's profits the stock has been selling around nine times earnings, earnings for the first nine months of this year were in excess of those for the entire 1929 period, those close to the company state, and will probably run close to $7 for the year 1930.

While activity was restricted over the general list on Toronto Stock Exchange this morning, the market was firm and least resistance was on the side of the advance. The oil group attracted most attention, with Supertest Petroleum occupying the limelight with an advance into recent high ground. McColl Frontenac was more active and higher again while B. A. Oil, Imperial Oil and International Petroleum showed fractional improvement. Page Hersey maintained Monday's gain, C.P.R. was stronger and Nickel, Brazilian, Ford of Canada and other pivotal issues were firm.

BUSINESS LEADERS PREDICT NEAR TURN FOR THE BETTER

Waller S. Gifford Prophesies End of Present Depression in Near Future.

NICKEL DIVIDENDS.

TORONTO, Nov. 25. Special to Examiner.—Acme Gas, somewhat stronger, displayed about the only interesting action on the mining market in the forenoon to-day. No word has been received in the past few days but the local office is anticipating a report soon on the situation in Oklahoma City, where E. P. Rowe, president, and other directors are at present supervising final stages of well drilling. Last week the drilling manager reported the well should be completed by the end of this week and production is expected any day now. It is encouraging to hear of outstanding business leaders predicting an early turn for the better in general industrial conditions. The latest to comment is Waller S. Gifford, president of American Telephone and Telegraph, who, in a speech in Salem, Mass., prophesied the end of the present business depression in the near future and the ensuing advantage of sustained period of prosperity. The like of which the world has never before seen.

A very interesting map of Canada in colors on a scale of 100 miles to the inch, indicating the country's resources, main railways, forests and agricultural areas, has been issued by the National Development Bureau, Department of Interior, Ottawa. It shows the location of Canadian mines water powers developed and undeveloped fisheries, various types of farming and other outstanding resources. Copies of the map may be obtained free of charge on application to the department.

Actual dividend history of International Nickel Co., of Canada, its predecessors and components extends back to 1894-a matter of 36 years. In that year dividends were instituted by Canadaian Copper Co. on September 1, 1909, $1 was paid on the common stock of the original International Nickel Co. On these shares of $100 par value $2.50 was paid in 1909, $5 in 1910, as well as a cash dividend of $25 in July of that year. $12 in 1911, $17.50 in 1912. In addition to $2 on the stock of the successor company in the same year. $10.50 in 1913, on the shares of International Nickel Co., of N. J. incorporated in 1912. $10 in 1914, $17.50 in 1915, in addition to a 10 cent stock dividend $6.25 in 1916 following splitting of shares 4 for 1 into $25 par stock.

In 1917 International Nickel Co. paid $5.50 in addition to a special 25 cent red cross dividend in July of that year, $4 in 1918, 50 cents in 1919. There was a lapse until 1925 when $1 was paid. $2 in 1926, $2 in 1927 and $2.50 in 1928. When the present International Nickel came into existence shares were split 6 for1 and in 1929 the propertionate dividend paid was 90 cents with $1 indicated for 1930. From this record it is seen present payment of $1 is equal to $6 on the old $25 par shares and $24 on the original $100 par stock.

ACTIVITY SLOW TORONTO CURB

Nevertheless Strong Upward Movements Noticed in Specialty Issues.

TORONTO, Nov. 25. (By the Canadian Press)—Strong upward movements in specialty issues gave a marked appearance of strength to the Toronto Stock Exchange market this morning. Over the list as a whole, activity was slow, prices firm and at best, only fractionally higher. Individual issues stood out, however.

Prominent among those to forge ahead, was Supertest Petroleum which touched a new recent high of 32 on a heavy turnover. Directors meet in London on Monday next and either a bonus or dividend increase is looked for. Rumors also connect McColl Frontenac and Supertest. McColl also advanced this morning, scoring a gain of well over a point. Oils as a group were strong, with others up less than a point.

Page-Hersey came out with Monday's gain maintained and in the second hour jumped another three points to sell at 90. C.P.R. climbed above 44 where it steadied. Ford of Canada, Dominion Stores, International Bickel, Brazilian, Noranda, Bell Telephone were firm in a quiet market.

KANGAROO CLOSURE

LONDON, November 25 (C.P.).—A lively banter accompanied discussion in the House of Commons last night of the proposal to adopt what is known as the "Kangaroo Closure," namely, to restrict discussion in committee by permitting the chairman to jump from an amendment to another.

Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin admitted the dangers of delay, but he also warned against the danger of passing legislation too quickly.

"The Kangaroo is distinguished by the speed with which it cover the ground. By the length and accuracy of its leaps, and by its care of its young," declared Premier Ramsay MacDonald, with sidelong glance at Rt. Hon. David Lloyd-George.

The Liberal leader replied that the kangaroo, at any rate, did get along. "I prefer him to the sloth, whose main characteristic is the tenacity with which he clings to his perch," he added. "All parties have used the kangaroo closure. Mr. Baldwin himself would use it."

"And very shortly," interjected Sir George Hamilton, Conservative, amid cheers and general laughter.

Special Service to The Examiner through the courtesy of E. J. Bawlf Company, Grain and Stock Brokers, of Toronto

Strength at Liverpool and at Buenos Aires was reflected on this side and there was an active opening and a sharp advance. This was, however, not long maintained. The upturn brought in a flood of offerings, partly in the way of profit taking, and the buying power was swamped. Shorts were inclined to cover at the start, but later in the day the market ran into stop-loss selling by longs. On the whole, it was a very nervous and erratic session. The wheat pool was generally credited as being on the selling side. Trade was dull towards the close and there was a moderate rally from the lows of the middle hour. Political conditions in Europe are somewhat disturbed and Liverpool shows some anxiety at reports of revolutionary outbreaks in Russia. The situation is obscure, and worth watching. World's shipments show about 2,000,000 increase and on passage stocks are about 2¼ million larger than a week ago. There was fair export business over the week-end estimated at 750,000 bushels of Manitoba. There was nothing doing Monday of any importance. In the cash market there was good demand for the three top grades at small advance in spreads. The demand came from shippers who have space to fill. Conflicting reports and rumors as regards the Canadian pool and its relations with the banks and federal government. A report carried by the morning Free Press that the federal government would guarantee the pool's advances was later denied by the acting premier. There is, however, apparently some foundation to the report that John McFarland will take charge of the central selling agency. The firm tone displayed by Chicago lends some confidence here, and a trading position seems the logical course to assume.

Coarse grains—these markets followed the trend of the leading cereal and all closed lower after showing early strength. There was no feature to the pit trading, while the cash markets were rather quiet outside of a few cars of low grades.

Liverpool due ¼ lower to ¼ higher based on Winnipeg.

OIL STOCK IN FAIR DEMAND

General Price Action Shows Some Improvement in Spite of Quiet Trading.

ON MINING MARKET.

TORONTO, Nov. 25. (By the Canadian Press)—General price action showed some improvement in spite of quiet trading on the mining market in the forenoon to-day. Gains predominated throughout the list at mid-day and a few interesting movements were in evidence.

Granada was the strong spot in a firm gold group, price moving up 20 to $1.55. Howey was active and sold fractionally higher at 24, and Premier, Siscoe and Wright-Hargreaves registered small advances. Teck Hughes and McIntyre off 5 each, displayed the only easiness.

Acme Gas was in fair demand, adding a few cents to recent gains to sell at 37. Local office of the company is momentarily expecting word of developments in the Oklahoma City field where the company's well is expected to be completed this week. Nordon advanced a couple of 70 and Imperial regained 40 to $17.95.

Both International Nickel and Noranda sold fractionally higher and the Lindsleys, Falconbridge, Sudbury Basin, Sherritt Gordon and Ventures, recovered from one to 3 cents a piece, Hudson Bay was off 10 at $5.25 and Amulet a point at 35. Mining Corp. was slightly stronger at $1.71.

Stock Market Ticker Briefs and Flashes

"As estimated a month ago," says Moody's Monthly Business Outlook, "October statistics reveal no change in the trend of business conditions compared with the preceding period. Nor does the recent estimate of the situation in November lead to the conclusion that any decisive turn is taking place now. It becomes ever more and more evident that the fundamental conditions are being altered so as to pave the way for a turn about before very long. Probably the most stubborn element that still needs to be overcome is a phychological one — that is the prevailing sub-normal confidence in business and financial circles. As we see the situation, improvement might set in as early as January, and it is unlikely to be delayed beyond the spring."

In Moody's current investors' weekly review, it is stated: "All markets have continued to show strength following the start which was made nearly two weeks ago. We should certainly not consider this should denote that from now onward we have left bad times and the bear market behind. There is enough maladjustment still left in our economic position to bring further irregularity and weakness into the stock market. In short, the track is not clear yet, even though the general level of stock prices is low."

Sound investment bonds we have no doubts about, though continuous rise is not to be looked for in such issues. A degree of stability can be expected now, and the trend is inevitably toward higher prices.

A growing spirit of renewed confidence and optimism is noted in the above reports and also in the statement made by Walter S. Gifford, president of the Am. Tel. and Tel., in a speech at Salem, Mass. He predicts the end of the present business depression in the near future and an ensuing advent of sustained prosperity the like of which the world has never before seen.

Another favourable sign would appear to be the New York Central Railroad's inquiry for 50 large Hudson type locomotives, the larges inquiry for locomotives this year. This business involves approximately $5,000,000.

The Mirror says, "Profit taking on strong spots should still be the cue. Rumours are prevalent regarding advances in steel prices."

On the New York market this morning stocks were in persistent demand and on slight setbacks through the first hour. Small recessions from highs reached in early dealings were followed by prompt recoveries to best levels of move, and principal stocks maintained a confident tone. Amn. Tel. stood out conspicuously among the high grade shares moving up 2 points to 193.

Selling of Motion Picture Shares was attributed to Supreme Court ruling that film distribution methods of various producers were violating the Sherman Act. However chief heaviness centered on Leow Inc. and Fox Film "A". Reactions were probably due to disappointment over declarations of only $1 extra by Leow directors. The Company earned its regular $3 dividend requirements more than three times in the year to August 31st last and hopes had been entertained in speculative quarters that a larger special distribution would be authorized as a substantial owner of Leow Fox Film, likewise was affected by this situation.

LAKE SUPERIOR STORMS HOLD UP TWO STEAMERS

HOUGHTON, Mich., Nov. 25. (CP) The steamers Maple Bay and Maple Flake are in Bete Gris Bay, at the northwest side of the Kewennaw Peninsula. The Maple Flake has been in Lake Superior waters near Bete Gris Bay for about a week and the Maple Bay has been near here for three days. Members of the crew of the Maple Lake said they were delayed because of the weather. Lake Superior has been calm for the past week; now there is a 40-mile gale and a heavy snowstorm.

U. S. INVESTMENT GREAT IN CANADA

Twice as Much Invested in Canada Than in Any Other Country.

IN EXCESS OF $3,500,000,000

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 25 (C.P.)—The United States has almost two billion dollars directly invested in Canada, double the funds in any other country. This is revealed in a Department of Commerce report on investments of United States capital in foreign countries.

The figure for Canada is $1,960,320,000, which compares with $1,352,753,000 for all Europe.

Estimates of total United States investments, direct and indirect, in the Dominion range around $3,600,000,000, including holdings of Canadian Governmental securities to the amount of $890,000,000 and Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railway bonds to aggregate of about $400,000,000.

NAVARRO KILLED WHILE ESCAPING

Three of "El Maestro's" Men Previously Captured at Cuernavaca and Shot.

HELD TO NO MAN'S LAW.

MEXICO CITY, November 25 (C.P.). — "Shot and killed while attempting to escape" was written today on the records of the Department of Justice after the name of Baldomero Navarro, who acknowledged no man's law, and whose deftness with two guns won him the title of "El Maestro" of Mexican banditry.

Until a week ago Navarro and a few bold companions roamed the mountains around Cuernavaca, descending to the highway from Mexico City occasionally for a hold-up which astonished with its daring.

Last week Federal troops, who pursued him in vain for years, captured and executed three of his men. There followed a running fight with him across Mesa and through Arroya, until one of their shots clipped his horse from under him and he was captured.

FLYERS ARRIVE

The Columbia was disembarked over the week-end from the Duchess of Bedford which brought her from England with her famous crew. Yesterday Bellanca mechanics assembled the plane at the airport, bolting the wings into place. The capacious gasoline tanks used for both trans-Atlantic flights were torn from the cabin and chairs substituted, so that Mrs. Boyd and her little daughter could fly in comfort. Yesterday afternoon Captain Boyd took the Columbia up for a test flight with Arthur Suddes, manager of Canadian-Wright, who had tinkered the old engine into efficiency.

Out at Port Early

The Boyd family were out at the airport to-day shortly after dawn, disappointed at the steady rain. Weather reports were equally as gloomy along the lakefront to Toronto, where a big welcome awaits the fliers. Captain Boyd ordered the engine warmed up in hope of better weather. When one of the magnetos proved balky, he sent a hurry call for Mr. Suddes, who effected repairs while the fliers watched the dull sky for a break in the clouds.

Impatient to get home to Toronto, Captain Boyd suddenly decided to start. Visibility was poor, with a ceiling of only a few hundred feet. The Columbia was wheeled from the hangar shortly after 10 o'clock. Captain Boyd helped his wife into the cabin and then turned and swung his little daughter off the ground into the plane. The little golden-haired girl insisted her toy dog make the flight with her. Harry Connor swung into his seat beside the pilot and Captain Boyd opened his throttle and the old plane lumbered across the sodden grass and lifted heavily into the rain.

Her motor roaring bravely, the Columbia climbed into the murk and disappeared from sight in a minute.

WHEAT VALUES AGAIN SLUMP

Trading Volume Was Not Large on Winnipeg Exchange.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 25 (C.P.). —Wheat values slumped to-day, closing 1 7-8 cents to 2 5-8 cents a bushel lower, but trade volume was not large, though a moderate quantity is believed to have gone to export buyers during the session.

Some of the selling early in the day was attributed to houses with foreign connections who had been good purchasers on the recent advance. Offerings, however, were well taken care of.

Factors in to-day's market news were the selling by foreign houses, and the uncertain condition prevailing in the Buenos Aires market.

Demand for cash wheat continued fairly good, but the coarse grain markets were neglected and price recessions followed the action of the wheat futures.

NEW YORK STOCKS DECLARE EXTRA THANKSGIVING DIVIDENDS

Numerous Issues Register 2 Point Gains in Slightly Livelier Trading.

MONEY PLENTIFUL.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (C.P.) — A little holiday cheer was infused into to-day's Stock Market as a few corporations provided sauce for the Thanksgiving turkey in the form of extra special dividends.

Trading was a little more lively than yesterday, and there were numerous gains of 2 points or so, notably in U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, Byers, American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Union Pacific, New York Central, Goodyear, and C. Penney. A few shares advanced about 3 to 5, including American Locomotive, Lima Locomotive, Allied Chemical, Atchison, Industrial Alcohol, Ingersoll Rand, and International Business Machines. The mail order shares sagged after yesterday's brisk upturn, and the motion pictures declined moderately.

The re-opening of some of the recently-closed banks in the South and Southwest, together with reports from banking commissioners indicating that the crisis had passed, had a salutory effect upon sentiment, while these difficulties had been isolated and due to local situation, they had been an adverse psychological influence at a time when gloom was already deep.

The steel shares helped by a firm stand taken on sheet prices by U. S. Steel coming upon the heels of the recent announcement of a minimum schedule for plates, shapes and bars.

Railway equipments were bid up in expectation of improvement in business after the first of the year.

In the motion picture shares, Fox Film and Loews, in which Fox has a dominant interest, were heaviest.

Hope that copper producers may be able to maintain their 12-cent price, despite the fact that the metal has been available at substantial concessions for several days, was revived by announcement that Anaconda and its subsidiaries are cutting production 10 per cent.

The weekly condition statement of the reporting federal Reserve Members Banks showed a drop of $66,000,000 in loans against securities, or $16,000,000 greater than the drop in brokers loans. All other, or commercial loans, increased $89,000,000, presumably indicating preparations for the holiday trade.

"Generally the summons is interpreted here to mean that Mr. Ferguson has decided to accept the post of Canadian High Commissioner to London which has been offered him by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada.

"If this proves correct it is expected the census of Ontario members may see Hon George S. Henry, Minister of Highways, selected as successor to Mr. Ferguson."

TWO CONTESTING PETERBORO SEAT IN BOYS' HOUSE

Voters' List Closed Saturday and Election Held on November 29.

EXPERIENCED WORKERS.

Three Are in the Race for the Premiership of 10th Boys' Parliament.

Between Christmas and New Year's approximately one hundred teen age boys from all parts of the province will gather for the Tenth Annual Ontario Boys' Parliament. These boys will be Tuxis boys or junior leaders chosen by their fellows to represent them in the parliament. The gathering is by no means a mock parliament the boys being concerned with the problems of boy life and operating through their Trail Ranger and Tuxis organization in the interests of the boys' programs. The members of the parliament will be chosen at the elections on Saturday, November 29. The voters' list closed on November 22.

Three boys were nominated to contest the Peterborough City riding for the Boys' Parliament: John Hunter, sitting member, Andrew Rutter and Donald McHoull. McHoull withdrew leaving the field to Hunter and Rutter to contest.

C. E. Sproat of 264 Stewart street is the Returning Officer for the local constituency in the elections. Both nominees have had extended experience in Boys Work and it is expected that either will make a direct contribution to the deliberations of the Boys' Parliament.

Addressing Sunday Schools

The candidates have been making speeches for the past three weeks to Sunday School classes and C.S.E.T. groups in the city and district, outlining their platform and giving the boys an opportunity to judge their abilities.

There is widespread interest among Ontario boys in the three candidates for the premiership of the Tenth Boys' Parliament. All have been prominent in Tuxis work and have held office in previous parliaments.

Ted Leonard, of Lakefield, is an engineering student at Queen's in his second. He has been prominent in the last two Boys' Parliaments and last year had cabinet rank. In his home town and in Peterborough County he has worked faithfully in helping the various groups of boys.

John Lauman, of Waterloo, holds a position with the Kaufman Rubber Company and gives much of his spare time to Boys' Work in his own church and in neighboring churches and towns. He was chairman of the house in the last Boys' Parliament and at Beausoleil, the Tuxis provincial training camp, he was president of the students' council.

Don Buchanan, of Toronto, is studying Political Economy, fourth year at the University of Toronto. He is editor of the New Citizen, a monthly publication of the Boys' Parliament and held cabinet position for two years.

Candidates for Boys' Parliament Present Their Election Programs

JOHN HUNTER

My platform as I have outlined it in my speeches is as follows:

1—My wonderful experience gained last Christmas when sitting with the boys of the province in the Boys' Parliament taught me a great deal in Boys Work and I also learned the spirit of the movement. The C.S.E.T. program is a valuable training and there is a great deal to be done everywhere in the interest of Boys Work. The Boys Work in Peterborough is on the upward grade and it is my policy this year to push it right to the top.

2—In my experience last year visiting and starting new groups I have gained a knowledge of the things that are causing the groups the most trouble and which need discussing. We started seven new groups last year but we could in time two or three times that number.

3—A Three C's Campaign should be promoted next year, because it is a real turning point in many boys' lives and it helps a boy to realize the value of clean living.

4—I will give a complete report of Parliament and also present a play entitled "The Fourfold Way." Our program is four fold and this play outlines it well.

5—Promote a Father and Son Week, and Mother and Father evening in the clubs, and have an athletic contest for all boys in the city.

6—Have a story in the paper every two weeks in the interest of Boys Work and suggestions for the program, and anything that happens in this interest of the Boys' Parliament.

7—Promote a successful Bond Selling Campaign next year. This year, we raised $231.

8—Promote a leadership class and encourage more boys to follow on; also have more open meetings so that the public may obtain a better idea of our work.

John Hunter.

ANDREW RUTTER

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I view the fact that I have been nominated to represent Peterborough in the coming 10th Ontario Older Boys' Parliament. In the event of my being successful in the present campaign, I will find myself in a position to materialize a great many ideas and ventures which I have been contemplating for some time. I think I am in a position to carry this work to its highest peak, having taken an active part in local group activities in the past few years, and therefor having an opportunity to see what is and what is not being done for Boys Work in this community.

The platform I have outlined below I will strive to carry out to the best of my ability.

1—Promote more active and successful Tuxis and Trail Ranger groups in Peterborough.

2—Introduce a leaders' training course sponsored and conducted by the Ontario Boys Work Board.

3—Support the Bond Selling Campaign and put it over the objective of $125.

4—Prepare and advertise a bigger and better boys' conference this year.

5—Promote Father and Son movements throughout this city.

6—Strive to introduce the Trail Ranger habits.

7—Conduct an article in our local paper describing the interesting events of the groups in our city and also items of foreign and local interest to boys.

8—Conduct a large Tuxis and Trail Ranger athletic meet open to all boys.

9—Promote the Four Fold development of young men into leading Christian citizens.

Assuring you that in the event of my being defeated I will in no way give up this good work.

Andrew Rutter.

(By Donald McHoull, who was nominated but withdrew from the election.)

Boys' work which is really Christian education through the church was started in Ontario in 1919-20 by Mr. Taylor Statten. Now we have a vast organization whose headquarters is the Provincial Boys' Work Board, Toronto. The Board supplies leadership for Boys Work in the Province by the distribution of suggestive programmes and helpful literature. Boys' work in the leadership for These programmes for boys—Explorers Trail Rangers and Tuxis—which are issued by the Provincial Board, are fourfold and the character which they aim to build is a perfect one leading to splendid possibilities. Boys Work is all based on Luke 2.52 "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and Man." Jesus learned and grew wiser. He grew stronger physically and He gained favor with God, his Father, and with His fellow men.

The Tuxis Emblem is a circle divided into four parts by the letter X which was the Greek letter 'Chi' the first letter in the Greek word for Christ. The X symbolizing Christ assumes an important relation to the divisions in the centre of the circle. Just as it binds each part of the circle to the other in symmetry, so, a Tuxis Boy's ideal of Christ relates each action in every department of his life to the other that he may attain equal perfection in body and mind and in the spiritual and social life. In the four divisions of the circle are four pictures, each typifying a particular side of the fourfold life.

The first picture in the emblem portrays the Venerable Bede, the first great English scholar, dictating to his small pupil. St. Cuthbert Bede was the first man to translate the Bible into Anglo-Saxon and Tuxis Boys have as part of their emblem a reminder of this great man whose intellect was dedicated to the service of God and of his fellow men.

The second picture presents the Greek runner Pheidippides who in 490 B.C. brought to Athens news of the battle of Marathon. He ran something like twenty-two miles in full armour, and after gasping out his message of victory to the chief magistrate he collapsed in death. It is in his memory and honor that the modern marathon race is held at the World Olympic Games. The Athenians fought not for themselves alone, but for all peoples of all time and the dedication of their physical prowess to the service of others is a lesson for all ages.

The third picture called the 'Vigil' shows a candidate for knighthood before an altar, clasping the cross of his sword in an attitude of prayer. Beside him are his accoutrements ready to be donned on the morrow when his vigil will be ended. All night the candidate watched, praying for strength in his crusade against the powers of evil, and when he set out in the world, he was well fortified by his night's vigil with God to withstand temptations and to prove himself a knight worthy of the golden spurs of knighthood.

The fourth and last is a picture of Sir Galahad of the pure heart and countenance one of King Arthur's mythical knights of the Round Table. The keynote of Sir Galahad's life of service was "If I lose myself I save myself." And so only by losing ourselves to save others may we attain real Christian knighthood.

These four pictures and their respective stories explain perhaps some of the ideals of the boys' programmes, since Tuxis programmes and emblems are merely more advanced than those of the younger Trail Rangers and Explorers.

NOT APPOINTED TO WHEAT POOL

J. I. McFarland and Premier J. Brownlee Deny Having Been Asked to Accept Post.

UNFOUNDED ORIGIN.

TORONTO Ont., Nov. 25 (CP)—Unqualified denial was given here by John I. McFarland, of Calgary, Alta., that he had been asked to accept the post of general manager of the Central Fuelling Agency of the Canadian Wheat Pool.

"I know nothing whatever about this report and have no idea how it originated. It's just pure guesswork in making an unqualified denial Mr. McFarland told The Canadian Press.

Last week the name of Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Premier of Alberta, was mentioned in connection with the appointment, but was immediately denied by Mr. Brownlee himself.

BRITISH CONSERVATIVE PARTY TAKES AGGRESSIVE ATTITUDE

TROUBLED OUTLOOK.

LONDON, Nov. 25 (C.P. Cable)—The Labor Government has a troubled outlook at the moment. With the left wingers of the party taking an aggressive attitude and threatening to vote against the Government unless something is done to satisfy their demands for "Socialism in our time," the Government also faces the prospect of a bitterly-fought debate on its attitude at the Imperial Conference, with a motion of censure pending.

Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative Leader, has been pressing the Government to allot a day for discussion of the Conservative motion of censure for the Government's conduct of the Conference, and for its ratification or approval of any definite scheme of Empire trade. It is expected the request will be granted almost at once.

Discussion on School Bill

Debate on the censure motion, however, must not interfere with the progress through committee stage of the Government's amendments to the Education Bill, which will raise the age of leaving school for children and thus help to keep youthful labor off the market. Conservatives strongly oppose the measure, which includes payment of children's allowances for the extra year they will be kept in school, and it is possible their attack on the Imperial Conference is also designed with an eye on delaying the school bill. Other hostile motions from the Conservative oppositions are also expected.

GOVERNMENT NOMINATIONS TO BE FILED

Ferguson May Be Forced to Forego London Appointment.

SUCCESSOR TO MASSEY.

Hon. Dr. Elliott Named as Possible Candidate For Saskatchewan Post.

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—Premier Bennett is expected here shortly after Dec. 10. With no wheat problem anticipated for solution, he will be able to make important appointments long pending.

Opinion here still is that Premier Ferguson will be forced to forego the London appointment by the unanimous demand of his followers at the Ontario convention in Toronto on Dec. 2. He has had three months to arrive at a decision, for within a few days after the election he was given the refusal of the High Commissionership.

As to Washington, there is equal doubt as to who will succeed Hon. Vincent Massey. During the last campaign and during the London conference Premier Bennett was accompanied in a confidential capacity by W. D. Herridge, K.C., Ottawa, who had never previously been active in politics or in fact publicly associated with the Conservative party. It is rumored here he may get the Washington appointment, but it is only rumor and receives little credence.

Then there is the Lieutenant-Governorship of Saskatchewan, and Premier Bennett has a difficult decision to make in conferring this appointment. During the emergency session the Conservative members from that province, except Hon. Robert Weir, met and decided to recommend Hon. Dr. Elliott, a member of the last Haultain government. As soon as this became known, Dr. H. E. Munroe, Sasktoon, demanded the appointment, and through party service, has many claims. Premier Bennett must decide between these two or find a compromise in some Conservative member of the Saskatchewan judiciary.

$400,000 WANTED TO CLEAR FIRE HAZARDS IN NORTH

TORONTO Ont., Nov. 25.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Application to the Provincial Treasurer for an additional $40,000 to spend on clearing fire hazards and townsites in Northern Ontario using unemployed labor has been made by Hon. William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests, who states the appropriation of $80,000 had already been exhausted.

The additional funds will be used in the Port Arthur district. Approximately 1,450 men are at present engaged in this class of work, exclusive of the men who will be given jobs in the Port Arthur district.

Reclamation of the Pontine marshes, near Rome, is resulting in the development of an important agricultural district.

RHEUMATISM MADE HER TREMBLE AS IF SHE HAD ST. VITUS' DANCE

Windsor, Ont., woman and her husband recommend T-R-C's to all who suffer from pains and aches

"In 1920," writes Mrs. Frank Seay, "I had a terrible attack of Rheumatism. So bad that I could scarcely bear to be touched. My feet trembled as though I had St. Vitus' Dance. This attack lasted nearly five months before I heard of Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules."

And how do you suppose Mrs. Seay heard about T-R-C's? She learned of them from Mr. Harry Judah of Chatham, who by using T-R-C's had conquered a very severe attack of Lumbago (Lame Back). Mrs. Seay tells how Mr. Judah recommended T-R-C's to her, and then goes on:

"I took seven boxes of T-R-C's and they got me out of bed. I use them also for bad headaches and know nothing else as good."

Deep-rooted, stubborn cases of Rheumatism require patient and correct use of T-R-C's for a reasonable length of time. But you are sure of relief if you persist with T-R-C's. Repeatedly they have given safe, speedy relief from Acute Rheumatic suffering; also from Sciatica, (stabbing pain in hip and thigh), Neuritis, Neuralgia and Lumbago (Lame Back). No harmful or habit forming drugs.

T-R-C's do this—enter the blood stream and help your body throw off the misery-causing poisons which have accumulated in your blood. When these go, health and happiness return. T-R-C's are 50c and $1 per box at your dealer's. 180

You owe it to yourself to try T-R-C's TEMPLETON'S RHEUMATIC CAPSULES

PREMIER BRACKEN PRESENTS REVIEW OF WHEAT CRISIS

Wheat Crops Will Continue if Prices Hold or Higher Levels Attained.

Government To Cooperate.

Visit to New York to View Bond Market Situation, Not Canadian Pool.

TORONTO Ont., Nov. 25. (CP)—Should the present prices for wheat hold or higher levels be obtained orderly marketing of Canada's wheat crop will continue even without the co-operation of the Dominion Government, declared Premier John Bracken of Manitoba in an interview with the Canadian Press to-day.

Mr. Bracken said the improved prices for wheat during the latter part of last week had cleared up the situation temporarily. But should another drop in prices occur, as happened a week ago when prices tumbled to 55c a bushel on the Winnipeg Exchange. The assistance of the Dominion Government would become necessary if serious consequences were to be avoided.

Sliding Bond Market

His visit to New York, where he spent three days, had nothing whatever to do with the present wheat situation, Mr. Bracken said. He had been looking into the bond market situation, studying it from the angle of ordinary provincial financing that must be done by provincial administrations from time to time.

Asked if he would comment on the attitude of the Bennett Government with regard to the wheat crisis, and reports from Ottawa that the Dominion Government had modified its original stand and decided to render a measure of support to the wheat pools, Mr. Bracken said any statement should come from the Dominion Government.

"I may say, however, "Mr. Bracken added, "our understanding is that while no final decision has been reached by the Dominion, the Dominion Government is standing by prepared to reconsider the situation should another serious drop in prices occur."

Having expressed the opinion the present situation was temporarily cleared up by the improvement of prices on the wheat market, Mr. Bracken was asked if he would comment on the general situation resulting from the depreciation of the price of wheat.

"There yet remains the larger and much more important question of stabilization of the price of wheat to the Western farmer at a reasonable figure if Western agriculture is to be saved from partial collapse," Mr. Bracken said. "At present prices the value of the Western grain crop is one hundred million dollars less than at the prices obtained four months ago, and four hundred million dollars less than two years ago.

"The agricultural industry cannot stand that shock unaided without serious consequences to itself, and to the country as a whole."

Discussing his visit to New York, whence he arrived yesterday, Mr. Bracken emphasized it had no connection with the guarantees of the Canadian Wheat Pool's bank loans by the Governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. "I was merely looking into the bond market situation," he said. Asked for his opinion on the money market, Mr. Bracken said, "The market for long-term bonds is not very attractive at the moment. It is generally regarded as better practice now to finance on short-term issues."

BOARD OF WORKS HAVING TROUBLE IN FINDING WORK

Not Enough Jobs to Go Around With Men Working Alternate Weeks.

MORE THAN 400 ON LIST.

Task of Picking Deserving Cases is a Difficult One Says Engineer.

Even with the shifts working alternate weeks, City Engineer Parsons is finding it impossible to give every man employed on the city's unemployment relief program of storm drain laying two weeks' work in every four. He explained to-day that the registration has so far increased that there are not sufficient jobs to go around, not with two men being assigned to each job and working week and week about.

Unable to Give 39 Work.

Thirty-nine men whose turn it was to return to work on Friday after a week's lay-off could not be given work this week, because it was found necessary to give others a chance to benefit under the city's scheme. These thirty-nine men will go to work next week. The Board of Works Department is stretching all its energies to find every man a job and make the relief pays go to as many families as possible.

More than 400 men are now registered with Mr. Parsons as being out of work and needing a job with the city. In every case the married men with children have been getting the preference, but last week more than twenty men who are supporting dependents were given an opportunity to earn a week's pay at 40 cents an hour.

Give Fake Information.

Again the City Engineer pointed out that the task of picking the deserving cases is a difficult one. The unemployment relief work has added tremendously to the duties of the Board of Works Department. In many cases it has been found that men have deliberately lied to make their case appear worse than it is so that they may secure a job ahead of deserving men. Not a few single men have sworn they were married and supporting children. In one of these cases it was found that the man was not married and supporting two children, but was single and living with his parents, and was not even residing in the city. Others have given wrong addresses and sworn to false circumstances, but in most cases Mr. Parsons has uncovered the truth. Such men are given short shrift by the Department.

Meanwhile the men on the jobs are pushing ahead with the work most willingly. Rapid progress is being made in the laying of drains, and Mr. Parsons expressed complete satisfaction with the hearty way in which the men, many of whom are unaccustomed to heavy labor, are plying busily with pick and shovel. The city has been particularly fortunate with the fine weather. The work has not been interrupted by one rainy day.

WATCH KEPT FOR MURDER SUSPECT

North Bay District Combed For Hyyteainen, Missing From South River.

CITIZENS AID SEARCH.

NORTH BAY, Ont., Nov. 25. (CP) Provincial Police of this and surrounding districts were notified to keep watch for William Hyyteainen, Finn, wanted for the murder of Paarea Missine at South River on Friday night last. The Finnish colony here was thoroughly combed yesterday afternoon and the railway lines and motor routes closely guarded but without result. Hyyteainen, it was learned is well known to fellow-countrymen here and it is believed he may endeavor to seek cover in this locality.

Inspector Putnam of the Ontario Provincial Police at Barrie, who is in charge of the case, returned to Barrie from South River last evening. A number of Provincial officers, assisted by a posse of South River citizens are conducting an extensive hunt in the vicinity of the scene of the crime. According to the Inspector it was four or five hours after the crime was committed that the Provincial Police were called in. Hyyteainen had until then been helping with ministrations to a second man who was stabbed and it was believed that the murdered man whose body was missing had been responsible for the stabbing. The Provincial officers immediately instituted a search for Missine and found his body in a well thirty feet from Hyyteainen's shack with a scalp wound apparently inflicted by a double-bladed axe. Hyyteainen was found missing as quickly as Missine's body was discovered. The wounded man, Onni Kamtamen, suffering from a stab wound in the chest is being treated under guard in Hyyteainen's shack where the melee occurred and will likely be seriously implicated in the affair according to Inspector Putnam. An inquest has been ordered for Thursday evening, Nov. 27 at South River with Dr. Wittick, Coroner, Burkes Falls, presiding and Crown Attorney Haight, Parry Sound representing the Crown.

MILLBROOK CIRCUIT HEARS REV. ARCHER

Havelock and Millbrook Ministers Exchange For Sunday.

MILLBROOK, Nov. 25 (Examiner Correspondence)—Rev. W. R. Archer, B.A., of Havelock, chairman of the Peterborough Presbytery, took charge of the services on the Millbrook circuit on Sunday, exchanging pulpits with the pastor, Rev. W. W. Jones, B.D., who preached special sermons in connection with the Missionary and Maintenance Fund at Havelock, this feature of the United Church activities being particularly stressed at this appointment on Sunday.

Mr. Archer chose his text from Matthew 16.24, "If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself and take up his cross, and follow Me," at morning worship, the theme of his discourse being "Sacrifice," declaring this to be not a popular subject in these days, because while this is the condition of power, as the text definitely stated, men and women are not willing to pay the price Christ said was obligatory.

Quoting a recent statement of Father Minnehan's, "On the tree of sacrifice, all golden apples grow," the speaker brought the reminder that the portal of the Temple of Fame are only entered by unselfish heroes, and no others are given high place in history. Mentioning some concrete examples of sacrifice for the good of others, such as Captain Scott, of Antarctic fame; Jack Scott, of Campbellford, who attempted to save a drowning comrade, though both were swept to their death in the mill-race; and the men who "formed the living wall of khaki to save civilization" in the world war, the speaker added, "These are post war days, and the word farthest from our minds and desires is sacrifice. A good plan is to so live that when our doing days are over memory will bring to us roses in December."

Developing his subject Mr. Archer spoke on the changing age, and the sacrifices being made in the interests of world peace, as represented by the work of the League of Nations. "God is drawing together the various nations, yes and the churches, in the interests of a world-wide union for the work of Kingdom. The higher we climb in the natural world the wider is our horizon; and in the realm of the spiritual the upward way leads to a broader scope for our sympathies in the Christian life, so we are in accord with Christ when He says, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to the whole creation"; or like John Wesley we say, "The world is my pariah."

Bringing the missionary theme to the fore, the minister spoke of the sacrifices of the early Christians, and the chance to-day to make oneself of 'worthwhile worth' through giving, if actual going be impossible. "A man may multiply himself many times by his dollars. Invest, then, in Christian missions, for there is no other investment in which the returns are more wonderful."

The choir sang the appropriate anthem, "Unto Thee O Lord," with baritone obligato by M. McDowell.

Six grandfathers, whose ages ranged from 70 to 87, were confirmed at a service held recently at St Luke's Church London.

COUNTY LIBERALS NAME DELEGATES

Another remark on this subject was to the effect that if the Liberals permitted themselves to be manoeuvred again on to the side of the prohibitionists they would reach the position which the Conservatives hoped they would take Criticizes Government.

Mr Parliament remarked that it was regrettable that the Liberal party's attack had been deflected and sidetracked in the last election. The Conservatives talked government control of liquor forcing that issue before the people, while the Liberal attack on the financial record of the Ferguson government could not get under way.

"One thing that characterizes the Ferguson government," said Mr. Parliament, "is this, that in all their expenditure of the public money of Ontario they are always concerned about how they can strengthen the Tory machine.

If you travel through the north country where the Ferguson government spends $5,000,000 a year, you will find that this money is used as a big election fund. I say that openly and without fear of contradiction. Go over the road from Sudbury to Sault Ste. Marie on which they have found so much money, and you will find that it is a fairly good road. But they have spent enough money up there to have paved that road, instead of having it as it is now, only a fair road. So much for the Northern Ontario department, but every Department of the government is just the same.

You remember the exposure of the fact that they used the Old Age Pensions Fund to drum up Conservative votes. Old people were threatened that they wouldn't get a dollar if they didn't vote Tory.

Look over the Mother's Allowance, the Highways Department, and so on, everything they do must be so much grist for the Tory mill. Civil servants drive cars on election day for Tory candidates. That's how far they go.

Do you remember when they were attacking the Drury Government?" Mr. Parliament asked. "Mr. Ferguson, Mr. Price, Mr. McCrae and others of the cabinet were all declaring to the people of this province that Ontario would be bankrupt if the Drury government was not defeated. Well, the public debt of Ontario was $49,000,000 under E. C. Drury. Today it is $426,000,000. And it was $5,000,000 in 1905 when the Conservatives succeeded the Liberals. Is it any wonder you hear so much about burdensome taxation? The expenditure for a year at that time was less than $6,000,000. Today it is $65,000,000 a year. Do you think the people of Ontario are getting full value for the money the Ferguson government has been expending?"

Mr. Parliament recalled that in the last provincial election the Liberals had charged that Premier Ferguson was gradually shearing the local municipalities of prerogatives and authorities which they had long exercised.

"The latest thing Mr. Ferguson had done," he continued, "is to take the appointment of Public School Inspectors out of the hands of the county councils."

Mission Circle Holds Delightful Hot Supper

MILLBROOK, Nov. 25—(Examiner Correspondence).—Mrs. G. E Burnham, with her daughters, Misses Jean and Mary, were hostesses for a delightful hot supper, sponsored by the Golden Links Mission Circle, held at their home, King street, on Saturday, November 22, at 6 p.m., when over thirty guests were welcomed, and the event successfully carried through.

The tea table was attractive in a color scheme of yellow and white, carried out in runners of pale gold on the white damask cloth; a pot of golden tuplis in the centre, and holders. Tall candles were burning also on a bouffet and waiting on the guests were Mrs. Cecil Hubbard, Miss Marjorie Skitch, Miss Charlotte Luxon, and Miss Jean Burnham.

Radio music entertained the guests during the tea hour, and games of crokinole were enjoyed by those first served, while later comers were invited to the dining room and the hot supper with its delicious menu was the feature of particular interest.

At the conclusion of the supper hour, the president, Miss Jean Burnham, called the meeting of the Circle members to order, and a business session was held with particular attention to the matter of presenting a pageant, "The Spirit of Peace" in the church on the evening of the Sunday preceding Christmas, the offering, outside the regular envelopes, to be donated to the Society's funds.

Will Establish Home In Kingston City

KINGSTON, November 25 (Special to The Examiner). — Some of the leaders in women's activities in this city are considering the establishment of an aged ladies' home, which they regard as a very needful thing. The late Miss Agnes Maule Machar in her will left about $40,000 to be devoted to the establishment of such a home. Up to the present, no move has been made in the matter, but now energetic women have taken the matter in hand, and it is likely that such a home will be established in a desirable part of the city, and conducted along lines that have found favor in other places.

PROGRESS MADE BY FLEMISH ART IN 14TH CENTURY

Mrs. F. Neal Reads Interesting Paper to Art Study Club.

THREE ARTISTS DISCUSSED.

An interesting paper on Flemish art was given by Mrs. F. C. Neal at last meeting of the Art Study Club of the Women's Art Association, when the speaker centred her attention on the work of Hubert and Jan van Eyck and Membling, contemporary artists of the 15th century.

"The war of independence, ending in 1384, during which the Flemish fought against their feudal overlords and overthrew them, ended in the annexation of Flanders to Burgundy, under the rule of Philip the Bold, Duke of Burgundy.

"Then ensued a period when liberty and justice were established, and as if the impulse toward self-expression had been greatly strengthened by this struggle for independence, there ensued the finest period of Flanders art.

"It is therefore in the 15th century, with the brilliant constellation of the Van Eycks, that Flemish art may be said to begin. In the whole history of painting, there are no morex remarkable figures than the two brothers, Hubert and Jan van Eyck, who share honors in founding the Flemish school of art. Unfortunately, we know all to little about the lives of these astonishing men.

"The elder Van Eyck (Hubert), was born at Maaseyck about 1366 and Jan was born twenty years later. Hubert Van Eyck is regarded by competent critics as one of the greatest painters that ever lived, but his name had been overshadowed by that of his younger and better-known brother and many of his works have for centuries been attributed to Jan.

"No doubt Hubert studied in Cologne, before migrating to Flanders where he and his brother settled in Ghent. The increasing commercial importance of Bruges and Ghent drew artists from the banks of the Rhine and the School of Cologne declined as the early Flemish School arose.

Difference in Media

"One reason why these brothers stand out so prominently is that they are credited with the discovery of oil as a medium. Before their time, artists had mixed their colors either with water (frescoes), or with yolk of egg (tempera). Modern scholarship is inclined to doubt that the Van Eycks were actually the first to make use of oil, but most probably they introduced an improvement in the application which greatly facilitated quick work and luminous effect.

"Apparently the saying 'Necessity is the mother of invention' was as true then as now, for we read that Jan van Eyck, on finishing a picture on which he had expended the greatest care, varnished it and put it in sun to dry. But the heat split the wooden panel which he had painted and his work was ruined. He was greatly annoyed and determined to find a means whereby he would be spared such trouble in the future. After various experiments, he found that linseed oil and oil of nuts dried more quickly than others which he had tried, and that colors mixed with these oils were more brilliant, were proof against water, and blended far better than the tempera. This new technique also included the use of a transparent varnish which dried quickly and without injury to the tints. For a long time they guarded this secret jealously but it was discovered by the Italians, Antonello da Messina, who was working Bruges, and by him was published to the world. This invention made possible the enormous development in the art of painting, which ensued.

"Thus in these two brothers the grand art of Flanders was born as in a day. Fromentin, the great French painter and critic, says of this art: 'Imagine a collection of the works of the goldsmiths, executed in paint, in which one feels the handiwork of the enameler, the glass-worker, the engraver and the illuminator. Its sentiment is grave, for it is inspired by the sentiment of the monasteries; but it is under the patronage of princess and its general character is resplendent.'"

Mrs. Neal went on to describe in detail some of the more famous works of the two brothers, and then spoke of other Flemish painters: Robert Campin, (1375-1444), who was the master of Roger van der Weyden, who in his turn taught Membling. "Membling appears to owe little to either of the van Eycks, and yet without changing theme or mode, he went farther on the road to perfection."

"In regard to process, there are not very perceptible differences between Membling and Jan van Eyck, who preceded him by forty years. One might think they were contemporaries, so alike are their compositions, so identical their methods. But Jan van Eyck saw with his eyes; Membling was beginning to see with the mind. The former reproduced human types which passed before his eyes in all grades of the society of his time, without troubling about the ideal. The latter dreamed while looking at nature, imagined while he imaged it forth, chose what was most lovable and most delicate in its human forms, and created above all in feminine type, a choice being until then unknown.

"Imagine in the midst of the horrors of the century, a privileged spot, a sort of angelical retreat, in which passions are quieted, where troubles cease and where everything is transfigured, where grow like lilies; simplicity, gentleness, a supernatural mildness,—and you will have an idea of the unique soul of Membling, and the miracle that he works in his pictures."

The young ladies who are members of the Golden Link Rebekah Lodge, I.O.O.F., were hostesses last evening at a delightful party held in the Oddfellows' Hall and tendered by them to the Assembly officers, the charter members and the past presidents of the Lodge, who were present with their husbands and friends, to the number of about one hundred. The banquet and social evening were one of the most pleasant in the annals of the society and the younger ladies excelled themselves in the splendid manner in which they carried out the arrangements for a jolly party. The decorations of the hall were carried out elaborately with pink and green, the Rebekah colors, in streamers and paper novelty ornaments. The tables were arranged with vases of rose baby mums, smilax, pink and white tissue paper and green candles in pink holders. At each place were minature candles formed from green gumdrops, with a white lifesaver for a handle and holding a tiny pink candle. These were lighted and made a dainty individual illumination for each place. The menus were in green and pink, tied with pink ribbon. The ladies were received by a committee that included the Misses Reta Head, May Wilson, Kathleen Isbister and Amy Fairbrother, and were conducted to their places by Miss Viola Martin and Miss Margaret Johnson, who also acted as leaders for the community singing which enlivened a repast that was splendidly served and very enjoyable, with every item, from the fruit cocktails in little floral glass holers, to the chicken and the dessert and the coffee, of the very best. The program of the evening was presided over by Miss Birdie Dawson, who was in charge of arrangements, while Miss May Cahill looked after the refreshments. Numbers included piano selections by Miss Reta Head; vocal numbers by Mr. Stanley Willis and Mr. George Coleman; readings by Miss Gwen Parnell, and toasts to The King, the Assembly Officers (proposed by Mrs. F. Mowry and replied to by Mrs. B. Watts); to The Lodge (proposed by Miss Dolly Brothersome and responded to by Mrs. Hotson, Noble Grand of the Rebekah Lodge), and to the "Young Girls" and the "Old Girls" proposed by Mrs. A. Heckman and responded to by Miss Josie Armstrong). Miss Marjorie Armstrong played the piano for community singing. Later, card games were played. Prizes for bridge were won by Mrs. E. Booth and Mr. W. H. Morton, and for euchre by Mrs. W. H. Morton, who was the lucky winner of a draw after a tied score with Mrs. B. Morrison.

At any rate there is nothing prettier or more appropriate for lounging about one's own boudoir. (4) An entire feminine pyjama gown of yellow georgette. The ruffles of the skirt are of deepening shades of yellow, blending finally into deep orange. Two tones of yellow develop the narrow ruffles of the bodice.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

A great deal of attention is paid today to studying children, their attitude towards people and things and and their actions and reactions to daily occurences and unusual events.

• • • • • • •

Their slightest actions are taken as indicating tendencies, some of which are endearing while others are astounding, they so evidently follow adult rather than a child's reasoning.

• • • • • • •

The interpretation of these actions usually follow some special school of investigation. They should not be considered infallible.

• • • • • • •

Methods of child study vary from time to time, and interpretations of actions and reactions vary accordingly.

• • • • • • •

The most important thing is to allow children to be natural, to help them build up fine characters, to develop their own individuality, and follow any special trends.

• • • • • • •

Be careful not to interfere with their rights, for children most certainly have them. By this I don't mean that they should be permitted to rule in a home nor that the household should be run especially with reference to them, but that they should be respected as well as the other members of the household.

• • • • • • •

Beware of patronizing a child. If parents try to see life through the eyes of a child, they will find it interesting. It will give them a refreshing point of view to see again the vision of a little child. It will take away any desire to be patronizing.

• • • • • • •

A child passes through humorous stages in the early years. His mind is expanding while his body grows. Some chilldren are full of whims, passing from one to another with surprising rapidity. To judge a child's mentality by any one of these fancies is harmful. To consider him odd because of these peculiar likes and dislikes, fears and prejudices, puts the child in a false light.

• • • • • • •

Do not attract attention to a peculiarity. Let it pass as long as is possible. A child frequently hopes to draw notice to himself by behaving peculiarly.

• • • • • • •

But this is not confined to children. Some adults find their oddities attract attention to themselves, and practice them for just such a reason, mistaking it for popularity.

• • • • • • •

It is wise neither to reprimand nor mention the fact that a child is acting differently from usual, until repeated strange behavior demands attention.

• • • • • • •

Then talk with the little one in private. Help the child to realize why his actions were disturbing. Try hard to see the child's point of view so that correction may be effective and no misunderstanding between parent and child results.

Citizens Are Helping In Search For Finn

BARRIE, November 25 — Scores of citizens of the district surrounding South River are aiding the Provincial Police in an intensive search of the wooded country and of Finlanders' camps, in the hope of apprehending William Huuytiane, who disappeared from the shack in which Haavo Nissinin, aged 27, was brutally hacked to death with an axe, and late last night he had not been captured.

An inquest will be held on November 27.

"We had hoped to have the man rounded up to-day," Inspector J. H. Putman said last night, a few minutes after he had received a telephone call from the police at South River. "There are no new developments yet, but we are following several clues which we believe may be fruitful. We are searching all Finlanders' camps throughout the north and checking every train, in the hope of cutting off his escape. The citizens are pretty frightened of this man, and are assisting the police in every way."

That Body of Yours

NATURE'S METHOD OF PROTECTING HEART.

You have seen contestants in a hard race, marathon running, rowing or other strenuous exercise, and as they finished the race they collapsed.

It had always been understood that the heart had increased in size, had become dilated, and it was a dilated heart that caused the collapse.

However, some recent experiments by Dr. T. K. Richards, Boston, would tend to disprove this idea.

He was fortunate in having available all the Harvard's first team of cross-country runners, also the runners of the freshman class, and many other runners of international fame during a period of four years.

In order to get the heart in its normal condition and size, with the men at rest, X-ray pictures were taken when there was no race in prospect, therefore no excitement in runner's mind.

Then X-ray pictures were taken as the men finished their races, that is, after crossing the finish line, they ran on into the X-ray room, and plates were taken before they had any time to rest.

What did these plates show?

That the hearts after racing were actually "smaller" than they were when at rest.

It was further noted that the hearts of the distance runners who had had many years of distance running showed the greatest decrease.

Dr. Richards suggest that these hearts, contracted after severe exercise, might be explained as a form of muscle "cramp," which results in a smaller or contracted heart.

As the heart is so much smaller it will not continue to send blood up to the brain, and so the runner collapses.

As the runner collapses, thus asking the heart to do no more heavy work, the heart muscle is protected from doing itself any permanent harm.

My thought in writing about this is to show how Nature is always protecting us even against our will.

It would also tend to show that men in good physical condition can undergo severe contests without doing any permanent harm to the heart; the collapse being Nature's method of doing this.

Enthusiastic over an amber and crystal sconce in a London restaurant, an American visitor bought it on the spot and had it removed so that it could sail with him the next morning.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Alice Michaelis

UNSAID

The tribute of true, kindly speech we cherish
Until long years have fled;
Yet, too, of vital force that will not perish,
Are the words left still unsaid.

However dear the dreams a kiss may waken,
To last till life be spent,
The hand unclasped, the kisses left untaken
With dearer dreams are blent.

And so I go, and thus serenely leave you
With all our vows unmade;
I know this silent passing cannot grieve you;
This love no words betrayed.

Leafs Invade Quaker Territory To-night

TORONTO SQUAD HAS EASY WIN FOR TO-NIGHT

Victory For Philadelphia Will Mean a "Real Surprise" in Canadian Group.

GRANT IN NETS.

Three International Contests and One All-American Match in N.H.L.

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (C.P.) — Three international contests and one All-American match are carded on the National Hockey League program. The Canadian group will invade Pennsylvania to meet the Quakers with New York Americans and Philadelphia Quakers. New York Rangers make their only American appearance when they meet Montreal. Chicago Blackhawks will be playing into Canada again to provide Boston to meet the British National Hockey League champions.

The Maple Leaf of Toronto appear to have drawn a soft spot to-night. Leading the Pacific by a margin of three points over Ottawa and the Americans deadlocked in second place, the Leafs are believed capable of trimming the Quakers, who have not won a game.

Grant in Nets.

Vezina Benny Grant will guard the Toronto nets and will endeavor to duplicate the performance of his team-mate Lorne Chabot, who has three shut-outs to his credit. Grant so far has two and if he succeeds against the former Pittsburgh Pirates, the Leafs will have established a record equalled by no other professional team in its first six games.

With second place at stake, a lively engagement is anticipated in New York between the Amerks and the Senators. It will be the first meeting of the teams this season who appear evenly matched on their record to date.

Having won their first game against Americans on Saturday, the Maroons may have struck their true stride. They will need to be at top form against the Rangers, who are leading the American group. Last season, the Maroons had the Indian sign on the Rangers, who lost many valuable points to their Montreal rival.

SOCCER EXECUTIVE HOLDS MEETING

Will Appoint Representatives at Annual Meeting on December 15th.

The regular meeting of the P. and D.F.A. was held last evening, in the usual place, to finish off the remainder of the business of the year.

When the question of affiliation came up, it was unanimously decided to withhold the application to the general meeting that will be held on Monday evening, December 15th, 1930, in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms, when the official representatives will be appointed and a delegate sent to the O.F.A. meeting to be held in Toronto in the month of January. It was customary for the local association to hold their annual meeting in the month of March, but the change was made so as to correspond with the O.F.A. meeting.

The secretary was instructed to write the Canadian General team that they must send bonds to the P. and D.F.A. or return the trophies to the secretary, to be held in his charge.

The next meeting of the associations will be held on December 8th when the whole executive is requested to attend, so as to complete the arrangements for the concert on Saturday evening, December 13th.

CARSON GOES TO LONDON

Who yesterday signed a contract with Roy Brothers to play with the London Tecumsehs in the International League. Carson made his professional start in hockey with Toronto Maple Leafs in the season of 1926-27, but was sold during the season of 1928 to the Boston Bruins. Boston asked waivers on him prior to the present campaign. As an amateur Carson played with Parry Sound and Woodstock Juniors, University of Toronto, Grimsby, and Stratford.

BILL CARSON REPORTS TO LONDON TECUMSEHS FOR SYRACUSE GAME

Former Leaf Joins Old Manager Roy Brothers at Forest City.

LATELY WITH BRUINS.

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 25.—Dr. Bill Carson reported to Manager Brothers of the London Tecumsehs yesterday and will be in the line-up when the locals face Syracuse to-day. Carson, with the Boston Bruins last season and formerly with the Toronto Maple Leafs, should prove to be a valuable play-maker for the Londoners. He was with Manager Brothers at Stratford in the amateur and professional leagues and the London leader believes that Carson will add strength to his club.

Art Ross, manager of the Boston Bruins, offered Carson to Brothers last week and the London leader advised Ross to have Carson report here. Following yesterday's workout Brothers and Carson held a conference.

Carson has spent the last few months in Northern Ontario, and while he has been on the ice but once, appeared to be in good condition. London now has four centre ice players including Carson, Grosvenor, Reinikka and Quesnel. Brothers does not expect to receive any players from the Chicago Black Hawks, immediately as Manager Bill Tobin is undecided whom he will drop. With the Back Hawks playing winning hockey, apparently the Chicago manager is not in any immediate hurry to cut the roster.

Al Gauthier, who was with London on the Windsor and Detroit trip has been dropped and Brothers is likely to do further cutting.

On a seventy-six acre tract recently seized at Singapore, Straits Settlements, has been found a large amount of high-grade sand for glass making.

Frankford Entering Trent Valley League

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 25. — Sports moguls have banded together in Frankford and this year this village will be represented by a team in the Trent Valley Hockey League, considered one of the finest county leagues in the Province. At first it was feared the Frankford backers could not place a team due to the unemployment situation, their industries being closed down, but they will send delegates to the annual meeting of the league to be held in Stirling to-night, of which William Whitty is the energetic president. Norwood and Lakefield may seek admission to the League with the other teams, Madoc, Tweed, Stirling, Frankford and Campbellford, ready for the opening bell. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: Hon. Presidents, Hon. Robert Cooke, M.P.P., W. H. Ireland, M.P.P., W. E. Tummon, M.P.; T. L. Thompson, president; George H. Pollard, vice-president; G. F. Grant, secretary-treasurer; O. R. Turley, manager; D. R. Ketcheson and J. E. Finnigan, players' committee, and R. F. Turley, H. J. Madill and Jack Johnson, publicity committee.

Sweepstake Winner Can Rest Easy; Winnings Are Not Taxable In Canada

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 25.—A. P. Dawe, a fugitive from the city in order to escape the attentions of hundreds who want to congratulate him on his luck in winning $409,500 on the Dublin Hospital Sweepstake, can rest content that none of his new-found wealth will be seized from him by taxation departments.

"Canada will not tax the amount won by Mr. Dawe," an official of the Federal Income Tax Department stated today. "Moneys received in this way are not generally considered taxable by the Province of British Columbia," the Provincial Assessor said. If Canada and British Columbia were to decide to take a toll from Mr. Dawe's windfall, he could escape payment by moving to Ireland.

Claude L. McAlpine, counsel for M. J. Dawe, the fortune-winner's brother, said today that the Irish Free State had already taken its tax out of the total amount of the sweepstake. So, Mr. Dawe could leave the money in Ireland or go to live in that country.

"Of course, if the money entered England, it would be taxable," Mr. McAlpine stated.

The reason for the view of the Dominion and Provincial Governments in the matter is that the sum is regarded as capital increase, not income. The earnings from the $409,500 will, of course, be subject to the usual income tax.

Mr. McAlpine is not of the opinion that it would be possible for an informant to wrest Mr. Dawe's money from him by virtue of an old section of the Criminal Code.

"But we are not taking any chances," re said, in explaining why M. J. Dawe had sued his brother as first informant.

Departure of Mr. Dawe and his family was taken Saturday afternoon, after he had suffered under an increasing barrage of telephone calls and visits. Destination of the Dawes was not announced.

CANUCK TEAM PLAY TO-NIGHT

London Meets Syracuse Stars While Bulldogs Clash With Yellow Jackets.

STRENGTHEN STANDINGS.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 25 (C.P.) — The two Canadian teams in the International Hockey League have a royal chance to increase their point standings to-night when they meet rather weak opponents in the only scheduled games.

London Tecumsehs, strengthened by the signing of the former National Hockey League player, Dr. William Carson, meet the Syracuse Stars in the Western Ontario city. The Tecumsehs are at present one point ahead of the third place Detroit and Windsor teams, and need the victory badly.

It is not expected the former Toronto Maple Leaf centre player will be in top form for this game, but he will only need to show a flash of his old-time form to outplay anyone the Stars can pit against him at the pivot position. Anyway the Londoners have another fine centre player in Len Grosvener, flanked by two hard-hitting wings, and should win by a comfortable margin unless the Stars, who have won but one game in four starts, show unexpected strength.

Windsor Bulldogs, Canada's other representative in the King loop, travel to Pittsburg, where they meet the Yellow Jackets, who like the Stars are finding victories exceptionally hard to obtain. The Smoky City team has lost all four starts to date and appear due to drop another game as the Bulldogs have won two out of three starts and are considered strong contenders for the championship this year.

"Baldy" Northcott, clever playing forward of the Bulldogs, has been recalled by Montreal Maroons of the National Hockey League. His departure from the Border City line-up may disrupt the smooth playing of Bulldog front line, even though several capable substitutes are available to take his place.

ALDERMAN OPPOSES COURT PROCEDURE

Two Men Given Grants By City Council to Pay Fines Imposed.

GUELPH, Nov. 25.—The action of the City Council in voting grants to two citizens in order to remit fines imposed in the local police court for infractions of the Highway Traffic Act has stirred up some indignation in municipal circles.

After voicing strong opposition to the procedure on the floor of the council chamber, Ald. Louis Brown, the only dissenter, made application to Judge R. L. McKinnon and yesterday secured an interim injunction restraining the city from paying $13.25 to A. E. Ritchie and $8.25 to Charles Kerley, as recommended by Council.

The writ, commanding the appearance of the City on Dec. 1, when the action will be heard, was served on City Clerk H. J. B. Leadlay.

The affidavit filed by Alderman Brown declares, among other arguments, that the resolution is ultra vires and in excess of the power of the council; that it is a wrongful repayment of penalties properly imposed; that it is unreasonable and discriminating; that it is a wrongful arrogation by the council to take to itself the function of a court of appeal from the magistrate.

AURORA JUNIORS BEAT PICKERING

Oakville Defeat Willowdale in S.P.A. Game By Score of 7 to 2.

PLAY VERY RAGGED.

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—Oakville and Aurora juniors were the winners in the S.P.A. doubleheader at the Arena Gardens last night.

In the opening game, Oakville defeated Willowdale by a 7 to 2 score, while in the second contest, Aurora took the long end of a 7 to 1 count with Pickering College.

Neither game supplied the fans with good hockey as the teams seemed to lack condition and practice and as a result play was very ragged with all teams back-checking fiercely.

Aurora looked like the better team on last night's play and they will likely give their opponents, in the second round, a good battle. Willowdale offered no excuses for their beating but it was learned that they have had only one practise this season. Pickering College had a fast and heavy team but they too seemed to lack practice.

Bowling Alley Gossip

By Pin Boy

The bowling battles staged in the weekly roll of the city bowling league last Thursday were the keenest and most closely contested duels staged in the league so far this season.

After a poor showing the Belmonts started to climb by annexing our points from the luckless Cognawaga outfit who have been position since the league started. The heavy gunning for the winners was supplied by Holyman, Nobbs, and Green, while Williams and Wilson were going nice for the Cogs.

The Big Five took 3 points from The Examiner in a heavy hitting tilt, the Printers winning one game. Cummings made the highest single of the night when he pushed over 341 pins for the winners, while Almos chalked up two singles of 268 and 212. Dugan, Dormer and Wyllie shared the heavy hitting honors for The Examiner, making 270-261 and 246 respectively.

The Westclox met with their second consecutive reverse when the Rangers defeated them 3-1 in a nip and tuck battle. Cupoli picked off 301 pins in a single game to keep the Clockmakers in the running while Joe Marsden's triple of 670 was the highest total collected by the winners.

AMONG LEADERS

The Bowlrites are right up with the leaders now as a result of the 3 game win over the Brintons. The winners put 9 out of the 15 scores over the 200 mark, Shaughnessy being outstanding with 225-220-224. V. Anthony secured 273 to take high single in this game.

Three Great Nations Guardians Of Pacific

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 25—(By the Canadian Press.)—As the "Chief Guardians" of the Pacific, the British Commonwealth, the United States and Japan, must co-operate, declared Prince Tokugawa, eminent statesman, speaking before the Canadian Club here yesterday. "Certainly I do not ignore any other Pacific country," he proceeded, "but it cannot be denied that the three nations I have mentioned are in reality the chief guardians of that region. I is pleasant to think those are the nations whose co-operation at the recent conference in London brought about the result which it did."

SOMETHIN'S GOT TO BE DONE

Ask any hockey fan anywhere, either in the National or International loop, how he enjoys the brand of hockey the pro's are dishing up this year. In return if you don't get a look that suggests you had better crawl away and die, then go and have your eyes examined. Hockey season started about three weeks ago and they haven't started to play hockey yet. The players can't help it with the new anti-defence rule and the forward pass regulations they have had the effect that somebody is dragging their feet. The results are that there has been too much bell ringing and Mr. Phan is just about fed up. For example, a forward line will get away to a clean break down the ice and while somebody on the attacking line has got his eye on the puck carrier they speed over the opposing blue line and one of them is a foot ahead of the puck. Immediately Mr. Referee shakes his little bell and takes the puck back and faces it off again. This is the same kind of hockey that they are handing out New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto.

MISSING SINCE OCT. 11.

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 25. (CP)—Reports here from White Horse, Yukon, said Pilot M. L. Wasson had discovered the wrecked plane of Captain E. J. A. Burke and two companions, missing since Oct. 11, in the headwaters of the Liard River in Northern British Columbia.

The reports which arrived were via Skagway, Alaska, and said Wasson returned to White Horse his headquarters. Withoutf urther information because of shortage of gasoline. He reported the wreckage indicated Burke and his companions were not seen.

Wasson said he would return as soon as possible to within about 15 miles of the wreckage and make his way to the pane by foot. Roughness of the country would prevent his landing near the plane he said.

EASTERN CANADA FINAL.

Beachers Confident of Giving Jungle Kings Battle of Their Lives.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 25.—(CP)—One of the best games seen at Varsity stadium here this year should develop from the Eastern Canadian Rugby Union final on Saturday between Toronto Balmy Beach champions of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, and Hamilton Tigers, interprovincial union titleholders and conquerors of Queen's University, intercollegiate monarchs.

Present Full Line-up

According to reports from the Bengal camp today there is a strong possibility the Yellow and Black squad will be at full strength for what is considered the stiffest test they have met so far this season. Cox and Rohmer are certain to be in the line up. Cox, regular snapback was injured a week ago against Toronto Argos, but Rohmer has been out of the game since the first of the month owing to injuries suffered against Ottawa. His injured knee has responded to treatment and with a brace on the weakened limb, he will be able to resume his middle wing position, and will team up with Glen Small, who replaced Brian Timmis. The latter was also injured playing Argos and will unlikely be fit for the big game.

Tigers rested yesterday following the hard tussle with Queen's at Toronto on Saturday. No serious casualties occurred in the game, though several players needed treament for painful bruises.

The Beaches, confident of giving the Jungle Kings, the battle of their lives, will practice every day this week, unlike their opponents who have been overworked, Beaches have suffered from lack of real opposition this season. In the Eastern group of the O. R. F. U., the Toronto East Enders have had pretty much their own way and waltzed through the schedule undefeated. Elimination of Tiger Cubs in the final has been their only competition since winning group honors.

Tigers and Beaches met once before in the Eastern final and while the "Big Four' champions were favored to win on that occasion, they didn't the score being nine to six for the Beaches, who hope to duplicate that performance, even though their lineup lacks the names of several starry performers of the 1927 machine.

Several other important games are likely to be ready for decision by Saturday as the minor football series nears the end of the championship trail.

Final On Wednesday

The Ontario Rugby Football intermediate championship will be decided tomorrow at Oshawa where the Blue Devils of that city meet Sarnia Wanderers. The latter team have a six point lead gained at the Tunnel City on Saturday in the first game of the series.

Two junnor semi-finals are also on taps. Hamilton Collegiate Grads travel to Woodstock for the second game of their series, while Toronto Argonauts entertain Penetang in a sudden death match. The winners will meet on Saturday in the final, while in the intermediate series either Oshawa or Sarnia will play Royal Military College, intercollegiate titleholders for the Canadian crown.

Re-organization Meet Of Church Hockey Loop

The Church Hockey League is preparing for another successful season. The first step in re-organizing for the coming winter will be the meeting to be held in the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, which last year's executive and the team captains are urged to attend. Plans for the year will be drawn up.

Any churches desiring to enter a team are requested to send a representative to the meeting.

presentative expressed himself as well pleased with the competition, and makes the appeal that the merchants who participated in the campaign should keep their windows in as long as possible in order to familiarize the shopping public with Ontario grown products.

Mr. Derry in commenting on the competition said he thought he was voicing the opinion of the other judges when he said the standard of the displays was exceedingly high. He was of the opinion, however, that some of the merchants had not quite got the idea, having only featured one certain brand of goods instead of their whole line of Ontario grown products.

On George street, Mr. Derry stated, the windows were really of exceptional merit, but he realised that in such cases expert window dressers were responsible for the displays and taking such a fact into consideration, he thought that the amateurs had done remarkably well.

Out of the possible hundred points they were placed as follows: 25 for store attractiveness and neatness; 25 for window; 20 for effective advertising; 25 for quality of goods and 5 for representation of products.

Prize Winners

The complete prize list is: 1st, C.P.C., 356 George street, W. J. Outram, $25; 2nd, T. Anthony, Charlotte and George streets, $20; Haboco Store, 168 Charlotte street James Lillico, $15; 4th, C.P.C. George and Brock streets, J. Jackson manager, $10; Asta Brothers, Charlotte street, $5.

Five other additional awards of $5 each were made to the following merchants: Dominion Stores, 342 George street; Haboco Store, Reid and Sherbrooke; Boyd's Grocery, 639 George street; E. Benson, 57 George street, W. H. Hamilton, 138 Simcoe street.

The runners-up were: Haboco Store, 60 Hunter street E; E. Puttick, grocer, 531 Park street; Dominion Stores Ltd., 160 Simcoe street; Haboco Store, 571 Chamberlain street, T. L. Edwards, butcher, 421 George street; John Allen, grocer 241 Gorge street, and Mason Groceteria, 682 George street.

The campaign, which was being run in conjunction with similar efforts inaugurated by the Department of Agriculture, in sixteen other cities throughout the Province, received the wholehearted endorsement of His Worship Mayor R. Denne, and Wm. Knox, manager of the Industrial Exhibition, and it was organized by J. B. Nelson, the department's local representative, who had the assistance of James Dutton, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

HINDU-MOSLEM

in the minds of a number of delegates whether any federation can possibly be evolved that will fit in with India's demand for Dominion status. Leading non-Moslem delegates have privately exchanged views on the subject, and have soon been enmeshed in a mass of details, running up again such intricate questions as whether the Princes should be eligible for Cabinet position; what should the proportion of their representation be—by population or on other basis; whether representatives of the Indian States should have seats in both upper and lower houses; whether, as members of the Legislature, the Princes or their agents should have a voice in matters other than those of common concern; whether British Indian members should be entitled to interfere in the affairs of the Indian States—these are only a few of the troublesome questions that come to the forefront immediately federation is discussed.

Whatever the result of the discussions—and they are likely to occupy many weeks—it is recognized that the problem is much more puzzling than it first appeared.

Little Progress Made

And settlement of the Hindu-Moslem question has made little progress. Apparently Moslem opinion is hardening against acceptance of joint electorates and the Moslem minority wants representation of at least one-third in the Central Legislature.

Indian Liberals are now talking informally with the Moslem leaders with a view to reaching a formula of possible agreement. These private meetings have included conversations of British-India leaders with the Princes.

The Princes themselves have not made any definite proposals in regard to the terms on which they would enter a federate India—other than asserting their right to continuance of their ancient privileges and this problem, along with the minorities problem, are quite sufficient to give the committee members many anxious days of work.

ARMY AND NOTRE DAME MEET AT SOLDIERS' FIELD SATURDAY

Expected Over Hundred Thousand People Will See Champions Battle.

ARMY HAS GREAT CHANCE.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25—Football in the Big Ten Conference has been written into the record books and only a handful of games remain to be decided during the closing week of the middle-western season.

The charity games scheduled at Soldier Field for the benefit of Sarmer hospitals for crippled children head the Thanksgiving Day program. Oregon State and West Virginia will meet in the Collegiate feature with all-star teams of former Notre Dame and Northwestern players clashing in a preliminary contest.

Two intersectional games furnished Saturday's only competition. Notre Dame's unbeaten eleven will meet Army before an expected crowd of more than 100,000 spectators at Soldier Field, with Detroit entertaining Georgetown at Detroit.

Army, with a tie against Yale as the only mar to a perfect record, is expected to provide Notre Dame with another strenuous test. The Cade's rested last week in a "breather" with Pitsmus, while Notre Dame took a hard pounding in defeating Northwestern.

Army Has Excellent Chance

Notre Dame will be a decided favorite tonight because of its great record and the success habit which Rockne has instilled in his teams, but Army has an excellent chance to break the Irish winning streak which now has extended to 17 games.

The Soldier Field Thanksgiving Day program, which is expected to raise more than $100,000 for charity, promises two great games. Both West Virginia and Oregon State have rallied on even terms.

The meeting of Northwestern and Notre Dame stars of former years has attracted wide interest. Notre Dame's squad lists many names famous in Irish football history, including Noble Kizer, Purdue coach; Don Miller of the "Four Horsemen"; Hunk Anderson, Tim Moynihan, all-American centre; Jack Chevigney, Adam Walsh, Yale line coach, and Jack Elder, 1929 backfield ace.

Northwestern's line-up includes Paddy Driscoll who starred on Purple teams of the war-time era; "Moon" Baker, all-American halfback; Russ Bergherm, Bill Calderwood, Tim Lowry, all-American centre; Waldo Fisher and many others who won honorary team mention in previous seasons.

COLLEGIATE TEAM SWAMP ST. PETER'S

High School Rugby Teams Clash For Supremacy of the City.

Peterborough College intermediate rugby team swamped an aggregation representing St. Peter's School in gridiron tangle at James Stevenson Park yesterday afternoon. The S. P. S. Boys showed the lack of coaching, and although game they knew little about the Fall sport, P.C.I. plunged through or raced around the end almost at will for big gains, while the best the S. P. S. gridders could do was to collect one point on a rouge by Scollard.

The teams:

St. Peter's School—Flying wing, J. Duffus; halves, Hyland, Scollard and Hickey; quarter, Begley; snap, O'Toole; insides, McKenzie and Sullivan; middles, Laplante and Young; outsides, Sweetman and White; subs, Primeau and Lebarr.

The two professionals were tied at 287 at the end of the regular 72 holes Sunday. Sarazen never was out in front in spite of his par golf.

Lonely Canine Wanders Through Toronto Streets

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 25. (Special to The Examiner).—Slowly starving because of a heavy wire muzzle which prevents him from eating or drinking, a white Spitz dog, name unknown, has been wandering about the city for four days.

The dog arrived, unannounced, in a crate from Peterborough, at the home of Mrs. M. Frogatt, 297 Gainsborough road, consigned to her father-in-law, who resides in the country. Mrs. Frogatt had the crate placed in the garage while she went to get the dog some food.

Opening the garage door, she was startled when the creature leaped through and escaped. A slat in the crate had broken. Mrs. Frogatt advertised in the newspapers. The dog has, so far eluded finders. When last seen he was wearing the muzzle.

TEACHING MEANS 'LEADING OUT' NOT 'POUNDING IN' SAYS INSPECTOR

Leo W. Copp Addresses the "Hi-Y" Club at Its Regular Weekly Dinner.

VOCATIONAL TALKS.

A teacher to be successful must understand that teaching means "leading out" and not "pounding in," Leo W. Copp, Inspector of Schools for East Peterborough, told the "Hi-Y" Club at the Y.M.C.A. last evening in telling of some of the drawbacks and advantages of the teaching profession. The talk was the second in a series of vocational guidance talks which will be given the club during the next few weeks.

Mr. Copp pointed out that of all professions the teacher enters the earning column first. After graduating from the one-year course at Normal School the student may teach for two to four years and then return to Training School for a further period of instruction. The latter was not necessary, but advisable if the student sought success.

"During the last few years," the speaker continued, "the Government has instituted summer training courses at little or no cost to the student teacher, which, if taken, would greatly increase his efficiency and earning power."

A successful teacher, said Mr. Copp, must be interested in people; like people's society, and understand that education means "leading out" and not "pounding in."

Vincent Holmes and Gordon McIntyre, in a vote of thanks, expressed the group's appreciation for the instructional talk.

C. A. Salmonsen, general superintendent of the C.G.E., will be the speaker next week.

STRIKE SEQUEL TO UNFAIRNESS

Young's Dismissal Contrary to Agreement of Railway War Board Wage Act.

PRIVY COUNCIL'S IDEA.

LONDON, Nov. 25 (By Thos. T. Champion, C.P. Staff Correspondent) —A strike, and not legal action, is the effective sequel when employers refuse to observe the rules of a general agreement between a body of employers and a labor organization. Such an agreement in itself is no contract between any individual employee and the company.

This highly important opinion is expressed by the Privy Council. It is embodied in the statement in which Their Lordships of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council to-day set forth their reasons for discussin, last July, the action of Young versus Canadian Northern Railways, claiming wrongful dismissal.

Appellant Young was dismissed from the railway's shops at Fort Rouge in 1927 and claimed that his dismissal was contrary to wage agreement No. 4, between the railway war board and the railway employees' division of the American Federation of Labor, which had provided that reduction of labor should be governed by seniority of service.

WHEAT BOARD TO MEET IN WINNIPEG WEDNESDAY

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 25.— (By the Canadian Press.)—The Board of Central Selling Agency of the Canadian Wheat Pools meets to-morrow to consider appointment of a general manager. The session is the regular monthly meeting of the nine member board from the three prairie provinces, but the pool has announced the general manager appointment will be an important question on the agenda.

From Premier Brownlee of Alberta and John I. MacFarland of Calgary, have come denials that either was to be appointed to the position. Rumors have connected both with the important office. The general managership has been vacant since the appointment of F. B. Ramsay to the chairmanship of the Board of Grain Commissioners more than a year ago.

G. HART SPEAKS TO ROTARY CLUB

Oshawa Vice-President Gives Impressions to Campbellford Club of Trip to England.

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 25.—(Examiner Staff Correspondent)—The weekly luncheon of the Campbellford Rotary club was held on Monday in the R. Lawrence Hotel, Campbellford with the president, H. N. Carr, in the chair.

The speaker for the occasion was George Hart, vice-president of the Oshawa Rotary Club, who was introduced by the president of that organization, Frank Johnson. In introducing Mr. Johnson spoke of a coming interclub meeting between the Campbellford and Oshawa clubs and stressed the importance of these functions as a means to create fellowship, consideration and co-ordination. On the work of Rotary the speaker said that it was necessary that the community welfare should be the chief consideration of the club, stating that community work there was to be done along the line Rotary should find the opportunity to do it.

Mr. Hart, as the guest speaker, sketched for the club a recent trip he took to England and the working of Rotary in that country. It was the custom over there to always have a visitors' book for the use of guests, these books containing some interesting signatures.

Another noticeable fact about an English club is that Christian names are not used as in this country, and that there is very little singing, and practically no levity. On the other hand the members of clubs take their duties in a serious way. When absent personal letters of explanation are sent to the president, these being read at the meetings. Also their debates and discussions on local and national politics are of a very high order.

One similarity that does exist between Rotary in England and in this country is that both are allied very closely with the work of the Chambers of Commerce, the problems facing the two countries being seemingly the same.

Mr. Hart also explained how the Rotary Club at Bedford, England, overcame the difficulty of the non-arrival of the guest speaker.

This was done by each member being given a tick, six of which were numbered. Those drawing the numbers had to speak for five minutes on subjects that corresponded with a list the president held. These subjects had a wide range and were very interesting.

Referring to a trip to Codrington which is situated near Bedford, Mr. Hart stated that he was privileged to see the return of the R-100 from Canada and was greatly impressed with the welcome tendered the members of the crew.

Speaking of the work of Rotary the speaker declared that the local club was a small cog in a mighty movement, a movement that will make an enormous contribution to the welfare of the world.

At the conclusion of the address, N. A. MacColl and Dr. B. Longmore moved and seconded a vote of thanks to the visiting speaker.

A BEDTIME STORY

by Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S FUNNY MOUSE

Once upon a time, when Mrs. Longears, the rabbit lady, came down stairs in the hollow stump bungalow, where she lived with Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny gentleman asked his wife:

"How did you sleep last night?"

"Oh, not so well," answered Mrs. Longears. "There was a bird flying around my room part of the night and he kept me awake."

"A bird, my dear?" asked the rabbit in surprise.

"Yes, a sort of black bird, with big wings and he flew very silently, making no noise at all," went on the rabbit lady. "But still I couldn't sleep well because I thought of the poor bird in my room, and I knew he must want to get out and go to his nest. I suppose he must have flown in the open window, since we have the screens out now."

"A bird! That is very strange," Uncle Wiggily said. "I know that sometimes birds do fly into bungalows. But birds seldom fly at night. What became of him?"

"I don't know. Mrs. Longears [illegible] my room, my dear," [illegible] "Don't tell me, Jollie ar Jillie Longtail, or even Squeaky Eekie, the cousin mouse, is in my room."

"No," said Baby Bunty, "this isn't Jollie, Jillie or Squeaky Eekie. But it's little house and he's hanging on that picture molding.

"A mouse hanging on a picture molding?" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I never heard of such a thing in my life. Where is he, Bunty?"

"Right here, behind the door," answered the little orphan bunny, and she called Jingle and Jangle also to see. "The mouse hasn't any tail, either," went on Bunty.

"No tail!" cried Mrs. Longears. "Oh, what a funny mouse!"

By this time Uncle Wiggily was looking back of the door. He saw what Bunty was pointing at, and as soon as he had looked the rabbit gentleman said:

"That isn't a mouse. That's a bat! No wonder he was flying around your room last night, my dear wife. Bat always fly by night when birds are asleep. And this bat is asleep now, for he cannot see well in daylight."

"Oh, what's a bat?" asked Jingle and Jangle.

"A bat," answered Uncle Wiggily, "is a sort of mouse with wings of skin instead of feathers. And his tail is so small you can hardly see it."

"Why does he hang with his head down?" asked Mrs. Longears.

"Because his paws, or claws, are on the end of his body where the tail ought to be," said Mr. Longears. "On the front edges of his wings the bat has two hooks, which help him to climb up the side of a tree. But when he wants to go to sleep in the morning, because he doesn't like sunlight, the bat must hold on to something by his claws, and of course this turns him head down. And in that way he can fold his skin wings about him, the better to keep the light out of his eyes. So he sleeps, upside down, on a tree branch in the dim woods or in a cave. And when it is dark again he flies out, on wings that make no noise, to catch more bugs and mosquitoes."

"Well, I'm glad to know about this funny, upside down mouse," said Mrs. Longears.

So she let the bat sleep, hanging head down until night when he flew out of the window into the dark to catch bugs, since his eyes were not made for seeing well until after sunset.

THE FISHING SEASON.

Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—I noticed in a recent issue of The Examiner an editorial about opening the fishing season the last Monday in June. The editorial suggested that matters of that kind be left to the Department of Game and Fisheries, as they undoubtedly knew best, and if they said July 1 t was because it was best for the conservation of the fish. So would closing the season for the next few years be good for the fish.

It seems that the Department can cope with the question of game conservation only by cutting the length of the season and limiting the catch. They don't seem to want to go into the intelligent manner of restocking like New York State is doing.

The putting back the season until July 1 was done after two or three years of very cold springs and cold summers. The findings were made upon these conditions, such as they were. We will all admit that some years the fish are a little late in spawning, but the last Monday in June should see all the fish spawned and off the beds. We catch fish in July and August with the spawn still in them.

The State of Maine has a very intelligent game law in regard to black bass, which to my mind seems fair to the fish and gives a break to the people who have money invested in the summer hotel game. The fishing season was short enough as it was, but the two weeks in June, which has been taken away from us, was always the best two weeks of the season. In Maine during June they let the angler fly cast for bass, limiting him to three per day until the 20th, when he can fish any way he wants.

Now the fact that he can only fly cast for lunge or bass will not keep a certain class of fisherman away from this vicinity. So long as he can cast flies he is happy, and it gives a break to the vicinity by getting the fishermen in earlier and doesn't harm the fishing.

The residents and merchants have no idea of the loss of money incurred in setting the season back. I'll say that Peterborough city alone with the surrounding close in places, loses at least 75,000 in good American money in that two weeks because of not being able to fish. July 1 to our friends across the line means about the middle of the summer. That is, say in Pennsylvania, Virginia, and surrounding states.

If we had some attraction to get the people in here on June 1, we could get them, because travel on the other side starts then—that is their summer starting.

Opening the season on July 1 makes us lose the bass fisherman who wants his June fishing, so he goes to Belgrade Lakes or Rangeley Lakes in Maine, which are north of us and still open their season earlier.

I would be the last man to suggest anything that would hurt the present fishing, for it has been a hard struggle the past few years to keep the fisherman satisfied with the poor fishing, but allowing the fisherman to cast flies in June and bait fish the last Monday in June, would not hurt the fishing and would allow the hotel owner a chance to spend more money on his place, and make the Kawartha Lakes a more up-to-date district, attracting more people of means, and not the tin-can tourist that brings everything he can from the States and sleeps in a tent and kicks because he has to pay two cents more for a can of Campbell's soup than he does in Detroit.

It seems to me that some of the organizations interested in the welfare of Peterborough and district would get behind this and put it up to the Department. I've talked it over with many interested and none can see any objection, but of course there will be objections. The Chamber of Commerce and the Trent Waterway Association should be interested in anything that would bring money to the district. The merchants should be interested and lend their support. To get anywhere with the Department we must have concerted action and our showing of the past few years has been in the hands of three or four of our sportsmen, who have done their best for the cause, but we want a more solid front to back up our demands.

I am, yours truly,

PERRY ALEXANDER.

IS BIBLE LAID ASIDE?

To the Editor of The Examiner,

Dear Sir,—If the Bible contains the record of the Divine will, the fact must be susceptible of proof. It is not a matter to be taken for granted, or believed without evidence: it should be proved and demonstrated.

Error and superstition are being whirled away by the oncoming blast of testing. Honest intelligent men now must draw their conclusions by personal research and ascertained facts. Assumed authority and tradition are now or no avail. While error and superstition are doomed to perish, facts and truth will stand the test.

The Bible will stand the test and the very test that comes from the Lord Himself, Isaiah 46:9, 10, Man cannot forsee the events of a single day. He who could minutely declare the events of the far off future must be omniscient and omnipresent and hence the writings which record such prediction must be inspired by Divine Mind.

CHICKEN SUPPER AT HAZZARD'S CORNERS

Good Musical Program is Much Enjoyed—Held in Orange Hall.

QUEENSBORO, Nov. 25.—(Examiner Correspondence)—The chicken supper and concert held in the Orange Hall, at Hazzard's Corners, on Friday evening was a splendid sucess, a large crowd being present. The basement, where the supper was served was prettily decorated with paper streamers and this, with the bouquets of cut flowers gave the tables a fine appearance.

The program which followed the supper was given in the auditorium and was well received. Miss Ramsay, of Madoc and Miss Dorthey Sager, of Tweed, contributed solos among which were, "Does Anybody Know where Love Comes From," "Girls marry in Haste and repent at Leisure," "As the river flows to the Ocean so my Soul Shall Flow to Thine," and "I want to help the Needy Day by Day." Rev. Oatley Reynolds, of Madoc, sang "As I went out one evening from Tipperary Town."

Mr. Reynolds also gave a short address dealing with our problems with young people in which he stated that there was no such thing, the difficulty being that older folk failed to catch the view point of young people. What was necessary, the speaker stated, was to get the view-point of youth from the stand-point of this age. Things are changed now from what they were when the older people of to-day were young. Mr. W. E. Tummon, M.P., of Tweed, gave an address on "Citizenship" and pointed out the heritage of the people of to-day because of the effort of the pioneers. He drew attention to the work of the communists or "Redism" and stated it was the thing most to be feared to-day and added that this teaching would destroy the influence of the church, the school and also of fraternalism. The Rev. J. F. Everson, pastor of Hazzard's congregation, acted as chairman.

Skin Covered With Eczema—Now Clear and Healthy

Marvellous Healing by Well Known Remedy

There is nothing so simple in its origin and afterwards so difficult to get rid of as skin disease. On the first sign of irritation, roughness, or eruption, anoint the place with Zam-Buk. This herbal ointment will speedily banish all trouble.

When the skin is already aflame with eczema, or poisoned or ulcerated, Zam-Buk is the one external application powerful enough to get to the root of the disease. It quickly replaces unhealthy tissue by new clear skin. You will be astounded at the quick soothing and healing of Zam-Buk.

MEDICAL TREATMENT BRINGS NO RELIEF

"My daughter's face and neck were covered with a mass of sores, which our doctor diagnosed as eczema. He prescribed treatment which we tried for two months without relief. The poor child's face had to be swathed in bandages and she was confined to the house. I was about to call in a skin specialist, when I heard how Zam-Buk had healed many sufferers from this dread disease, so I purchased a box of ointment and tablet of soap. After a few days treatment there was a great improvement; day by day the sores disappeared and within a month my daughter's face was entirely cleared of any sign of the terrible disease, without a single scar. I can't say too much of the wonderful healing power of Zam-Buk."—Mrs. H. A., Toronto, Ont.

IF YOU have a sore inflamed or blotchy skin, or suffer from salt rheum, scalp troubles, poisoned wounds, or piles, you will find Zam-Buk quickly soothing and healing. It is also a marvellous first-aid for cuts, burns, etc. Zam-Buk Ointment 50c. box, Zam-Buk Medicinal Soap 25c. cake.

ARMY RECALLED CHANNEL ISLES

British Troops Have Garrisoned Islands Since William of Orange.

REDUCE ARMY BUDGET.

LONDON, Nov. 25 — By Thos. T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—An interesting historical link between the British Army and the Channel Islands was snapped at midnight last night when the second battalion, Royal West Kents, was officially withdrawn from the islands.

Ever since William of Orange abolished the Channel Islands, neutrality they have been continually garrisoned with British troops. But now the islands will have only the Royal Guernsey militia and the Royal Jersey light infantry.

In 1928 the British Government refused to keep on taking responsibility for maintaining the militia in the channel islands, resulting in a saving of about £30,000 in the annual army estimates. The present withdrawal will effect a still greater economy.

Since the days of Napoleon the islands have had little strategic value but the present withdrawal is viewed with regret both by the troops who found them a most agreeable station, and by the islands business community, who found the British soldiers excellent customers.

The Channel Islands, united with England since the Norman Conquest, Have been frequently invaded by the French (notably in 1461 and 1781) who, however, failed to subdue them. The inhabitants, numbering roughly 100,000, are of Norman stock and the official language is French.

STOCK BREEDERS' MEETING AT FAIR

Reports on Progress in Disease Causing Great Economic Loss.

$3,500,000 LOSS YEARLY.

TORONTO, Nov. 25. (CP)—More than 150 stock-breeders attended a meeting held at the Royal Winter Fair last night by the Ontario Research Foundation to hear reports of progress made in the study of a disease which in cattle is causing an economic loss of about $3,500,000 yearly in Ontario, and which when communicated to humans, causes a great loss in man-power.

Dr. T. A. Russell, chairman of the foundation's Committee on Infectious Abortion among Cattle, presided at last night's meeting. He mentioned that a conservative estimate of the loss, according to data gathered by the committee, is $3,500,000 annually in this province alone. He emphasized the importance to breeders, especially, of cleaning up their herds by discovering cattle infected, and either segregation or slaughtering those diseased, thus preventing spread of the maladay.

Church Services.

SALVATION ARMY TEMPLE.

Sounding a very definite warning to the Christian church generally, Ensign Kenneth Barr, who has been a missionary in Japan for the past eight years, visited the local corps of the Army and following is resume of his sermon "Holy Days and Holidays" on Sunday evening.

I have already said that I come as a missionary, not a preacher, to you and I have come to the conclusion that here in our fair Dominion my missionary work is as essential as in Japan. I have viewed the Western World this last four months as a westerner, but with the eyes of the East. My subject may need explaining to you for in the East there are very few holidays, but many Holy days and to those of the heathen land there are real Holy Days, periods of sacrifice and with blind reverence these days are observed. Shall we view these holidays and Holy days as observed in the western world, the Christian World.

Christmas is near at hand—how is it observed? It is only a season of gift giving, a very happy, pleasant and necessary method of celebration; we think is sometimes overdone in that often the giving of presents become a burden for the standard set up by some is often beyond their means. I wonder if Christmas is not becoming to much Santa Claus and not enough Christ, after all, the season is to celebrate the birth of the Saviour. We in Japan, see the effect of Christmas, it is becoming highly commercialized and one of our tasks is to show the East the true meaning of Christmas.

Is Easter the real Holy season it should be in the Christian countries or New Year a time we review the Old and contemplate the New how we might improve? In Japan the New Year is their biggest holiday and it is to be regretted that the season of drinking, dancing as we only too often see in our land is becoming very popular.

How about Thanksgiving? is it a season of genuine thanks, not the general thanks that we, as Christians have for these blessing always present, but thanks for some special blessing from God. Are we thankful to God for the Spiritual growth that our lives have enjoyed or is such growth retarded? As in the fruits of the earth, progress, growth must be continual. We have just celebrated the Armistice and rightly so—we must ever honor those to whom honor is due, we must not forget. But what of the prayer we offered for peace, victory in battles have we forgot that it was to the House of God we went to pray—are we still remembering and are we continuing to pray for Peace and Goodwill.?

What do we gather from these observations? I feel it is necessary to remind the Christian church that the East is watching the West—these people are on the verge of a decision either to Jesus Christ or to the Gods she now worships. For 2000 years, almost now, we here, have had Jesus Christ and his teaching—are we progressing? You possibly saw the remark of Clarence Darrow, the other day he said "I doubt the right of any country to be called Christian". I wonder how far we dare look into this statement.

The people I have been with this last eight years have seen the Star in the East they are searching for a nation of whom it can be said that God reigns. In 1600, shortly after Frances Xavier had established Christ's Teaching in Japan, an emissary of the Emporor was sent to Europe to look over the "Christianity" and his report caused the closing of the doors of Japan against Jesus Christ and his teaching for a further two centuries. I wonder if a Japanese emissary came to your home tonight, a home in a Christian country, surely its a Christian home what could he report?

Does the Christian world need another Isaiah to thunder his warning, a Jeremiah to weep over the sins of the people may he an Ezekiel to prophecy or a Christ with His voice of pleading or a John with a new charge to the church'?

Japan is watching the West in her attitude to prohibition, she has her liquor problem and her statesmen realises its danger and are anxious to get rid of the evil. They are watching Canada, America, England—and what are we teaching her?

I do not want to be hard or harsh on you here, but this question is on my heart and I feel I must tell you—warn you—God is a reality—man's need is ever as great. I wonder if civilization is ousting christianity, we have become highly civilized but are we still grounded firm in the things of God. Our subject Holy Days and holidays—how about the Sabbath—remember set aside not only as a day of rest but sanctified as a Holy day. How about our Western Sabbath? Do we reverence it? has our advanced civilization helped to make the Sabbath a real Holy day? The heathen with his Gods of Stone, with Bhuddism, Shingtoism and his unenlightened mind, would not even think of doing some of the things we Christians are doing every sabbath, every Holy day. What are you doing to make the Christian countries God acceptable to the peoples of the East.

Do you realise the happenings of to-day are the news of Japan and her papers and magazines of to-morrow, recorded faithfully these items? I wonder how the Christian country can countenance the lawlessness ,vice, sin that seems to rule in these days. What sort of impression can the movie picture of to-day create in the minds o these "heathen people"? you can readily see how we need guard against any false impression being made. I would urge you to raise the standard of your Christianity, in your daily life, in the home, in the shop or office, so that to Japan and her peoples and the peoples who are reaching out for Jesus Christ, all over the world, for the East is watching the West, and demands a high standard.

BOAT IS BEACHED AS CABIN BLAZES

Women Passengers Are Safe—Captain Almost Overcome Near Soo.

U. S. MAIL IS LOST.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Nov. 25. —While upbound from Neebish Island to the Sault, the mail boat Neecum caught fire and was damaged yesterday morning on the Middle Neebish Dyke. A pouch of U.S. mail was lost, and the fire burned away the after-cabin of the boat. Two passengers and the operator of the boat escaped injury.

The Neecum is a 40-foot launch and runs daily between the Sault and Neebish with passengers, mail and freight. The fire is believed to have started from an oil stove in the after-cabin. The launch was beached by the operator on the Neebish dyke and the passengers, Mrs. Marjorie Marks, Mrs. Alexander Burns, and the operator, Eugene Seaman, escaped without injury. The boat is owned by J. M. Cummings of Neebish Island.

The three passengers were brought to the Sault on the U.S. coastguard cutter 110. Capt. Seaman was nearly overcome in his desperate effort to save the boat and passengers, and Capt. Powell's timely arrival with the cutter saved the boat from complete destruction by the 90 gallons of gasoline stored on it.

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN No 2 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Lord Greystoke thought of the lengths to which Rokoff had once gone to ruin him. He knew that was as nothing compared to what the villain would attempt now that he was free. Often he had thwarted Rokoff's designs upon his life. But now would not Rokoff strike at him through his wife and son? For in no other way could he inflict greater anguish.

His fears were well founded. As he and d'Arnot talked the matter over in Paris, two others, dark and sinister, faced each other in a low den on the outskirts of London. One, whose face wore the prison pallor of long confinement, was speaking: "In three hours I should be on my way with one of them. By to-morrow you should arrive with the other. Adieu, and good luck!"

As they parted, both thought of the pleasure and profit that would reward their efforts, if successful, when next they met upon the decks of the Kincaid. Already that little vessel was anchored near the water-front of Dover—waiting! Her few necessary lights blinking through the foggy gloom, she silently awaited only the arrival of the plotters, to put forth into the Atlantic.

Two hours later, a messenger arrived at d'Arnot's apartment, with a telegram for Lord Greystoke. Already he was preparing to depart for London. As Tarzan tore open the envelope and learned its contents, his face went white. "Read it, Paul," he said handing the slip of paper to his friend. "The blow has fallen." Eight words told a tragic story: "OUR SON HAS BEEN KIDNAPPED. COME AT ONCE, JANE."

Strange Fate Follows The Youmans Family

HAVELOCK, Nov. 25 (Examiner Correspondence) — A strange sequence of accidents has followed in the wake of the Youmans family during the past week. On Saturday last, little Margaret Youmans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Youmans, had her leg broken in two places when she was thrown from her father's automobile on the Marmora—Havelock road, when it collided with a car driven by Stewart Varty of Belmont. Sunday evening, her father's cousin, Dan Youmans was seriously injured in an automobile collision on the Havelock—Trent River road, having his right leg broken in two places and is suffering other injuries. On Tuesday last Herb Youmans, father of Margaret, had his hand badly mangled at the Ontario Rock Quarry plant east of Havelock, necessitating the removal of the middle finger.

Stewart Varty has also been a pawn in the hands of fate, Saturday last he figured in two motor accidents. In one instance he bumped into a cow being driven along the road, breaking its leg, and he was in the car that collided with Herb Youman's car.

PERU SITUATION STILL STRAINED

Order Re-established in Lima To-day After 15 Were Wounded.

VELASQUEZ CENSURED.

LIMA, Peru, Nov. 25 (C.P.).—Order was re-established in Lima to-day after rioting and fighting late yesterday in which 15 persons were wounded. The situation continued strained and further disturbances were considered possible.
A Government communique said: "Absolute tranquility prevails." The same communique contained a public censure of Major Manuel Velasquez, publisher of La Prensa, for an article carried in yesterday's editions criticising the Government for the inclusion of civilians in a new list of Cabinet appointees announced Saturday.
It was La Prensa's contention that only military men, or young men unbiased by politics, should be contained in the Cabinet of the Provisional Government as an insurance against political favoritism.
The Government statement declared that the new Cabinet, although containing two civilians of the old political groupings, had no political color and would contribute enthusiastically to the work begun by the provisional President, Lieutenant-Colonel Luis M. Sanchez Cerro.

DREAMS OF GRAND OPERA FAME REALIZED BY CANADIAN SOPRANO

Miss Ethel Codd, of Saskatoon, Sask., Wins Fame in New York and Europe.

WAS A STENOGRAPHER.

(Special to Examiner, Copyright 1930)
SASKATOON, Sask., Nov. 25.—From tapping typewriter keys in a local implement office to grand opera and the centre of a European concert stage may sound like a romantic day dream to many, but on former Saskatoon girl has had the thrilling experience.
Miss Ethel Codd will be remembered by many as an unassuming young girl with a voice of sympathetic naturalness who first received recognition at the provincial festival here in 1925. Those who heard her sing as a winning soloist at the final concert marvelled at the beauty of her voice and were delighted to learn later that she had joined the Brandon Opera Company for further study and musical experience. From then on she climbed the proverbial ladder of success with unusual alacrity and fulfilled her girlish fancies for fame.
Her life has been a particularly colorful one. Born in Regina 24 years ago, Ethel, together with a sister, Margaret, and two brothers, were left orphans when Ethel was ten years of age. Her mother, a delightful soprano, sang at an open air concert in Calgary and died of pneumonia a few days later. While this was a serious shock to the little family, the death from sheer grief of their father nine months later left them a sorry lot to be scattered among kind friends and relatives.
Ethel, born with an exceptional musical desire, used to picture herself in operatic roles as she fondled the pretty costumes she found in her mother's old trunk. With no prospect of money for vocal teachers or instructors in languages she cast her hopes aside and settled down of grim necessity to an ordinary business course. Working in Prince Albert and in Humboldt, Miss Codd, at 16, was encouraged by friends to come to Saskatoon for a start at musical training.
Working by day at the John Deere Plow Company, singing by night under the coaching of Miss Yvonne Gagnon, her first teacher, and acting as soloist on Sundays at Grace Church, Miss Codd led a busy existence.
When she was accepted by the Brandon Opera Company to sing leading roles a few of her old longings for a musical career urged her to seek vocal training in Vancouver, where the company was playing. Seeing a sign of a singing teacher, she entered the studio and asked for lessons. After hearing her sing, the old gentleman was delighted with her voice and commented on it sounding so familiar. He enquired into her family history and finally produced a picture of her mother, whom he had taught many years before. With such a staunch friend to assist her along the usually difficult path toward success, opportunities were given that have carried her to the enviable place in which she is to-day.

Wins Scholarship.
While in Vancouver, she was heard by Vladimir Rosing and was given a scholarship, to the Eastman School of Music at Rochester, N.Y.
The next year, while only 20 years of age, she made her debut in grand opera at Chautauqa, N.Y., and the following winter in New York City as Constanza in Mozart's "Seraglio."
The pinnacle of the old typewriter day dreams was reached last year when Ethel Luening made her European concert debut on February 27 at Cologne, Germany. Her youthful beauty, engaging personality, combined with the magnificence of her voice, determined for her a real triumph. Critics were kind and friends were many.

Operatic Roles.
Though the hopes of her name on printed programs and her pictures in the flowing robes of opera stars had been realized, they represented weary hours of hard and patient practice. Ethel Luening has performed in four light operas and four grand operas. She has learned 200 songs and arias in English, German, French and Italian, and is at present studying operatic roles under Mme. Marcella Sembrich and doing concert work under the exclusive management of the New York National Music League.
She has appeared as soloist and with several leading symphonies and before some of the most critical musical clubs of the east.
New York Times, January 13, 1930: "The artists were Ethel Luening, soprano, who sang Evelyn Berckman's 'Spring in the Orchard' accompanied by the Russian String Quartet. She also sang George Migot's 'Hommage a Thibaud de Champagne's unaccompanied, but perfectly on pitch, and sustaining the interest of the audience in a difficult task."
New York Evening World, R.L. Stokes: "Miss Luening is a coloratura soprano whose voice has the rare merit of becoming more musical and vivid the higher it mounts."
Her sister Margaret, who worked in Saskatoon until a few years ago is studying music in Philadelphia at the special request of the kind old music teacher in Vancouver. A brother, Arthur Codd, is also working towards a musical career in New York and hopes at a not too distant date to be able to equal the achievements of his older and ambitious sister.
Thus the little lonely Saskatchewan family of a few years ago is well on its way to fame and fortune.

TWO ACCIDENTS, FOUR VICTIMS

One Killed Near Melrose and Three Others in St. Joseph's.

CORONER'S INQUIRY.

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 25. (CP)—One man is dead and three people in the hospital as the result of two separate accidents in London district this morning. Duncan McAlpine, R. R. 2, Ilderton, was fatally injured in a peculiar accident one mile east of Melrose on No. 22 Highway when a large transport truck crashed into the rear of his stationary car on the highway. Mr. McAlpine was standing at the front of his machine at the time, screwing on the radiator cap, when the truck hit the rear of the passenger car, hurling the unfortunate man to the pavement.
Brought to St. Joseph's Hospital here at 11 o'clock this morning Mr. McAlpine died two hours later of head and internal injuries. His body was taken to the Logan Funeral home, while a coroner's inquiry is launched by provincial police.
Three injured persons, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Nicholson, R.R. 1, Clinton, and Mrs. J. McArthur, of Goderich, all suffer from scalp wounds and minor cuts. They were brought to St. Joseph's Hospital. It was Stated that their machine had skidded into the ditch.
Slippery pavements also contributed to the accident which took Mr. McAlpine's life it was learned. Traffic officer Martin was investigating the report that the truck, driven by a Buffalo man could not be ascertained, had skidded into the rear of McAlpine's auto.

KING OF NORWAY IN NATIONAL FETE

King Haakon VII Celebrates Twenty-fifth Anniversary of His Coronation.

PRINCE GEORGE ATTENDS.

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 29.— (By the Canadian Press.)— Denmark joined with Norway to-day in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of accession of King Haakon VII to the country's throne. King Haakon, until he became ruler of Norway, was Prince Carl of Denmark.
King Haakon and Queen Maud naturally were the chief figures in the national celebration but grouped around them in the capital's principal church in a solemn commemorative ceremony this morning was a royal company who included King Christian and Queen Alexandria of Denmark, other members of the Danish Royal Family and Prince George of Great Britain, who is the nephew of Queen Maud.
Many thousands of Oslo's population turned out to applaud the Royal figures as they arrived at the church for the ceremony and the edifice was crowded with as many of the city's prominent people as it could contain after officials were seated. The commemorative service was of a simple character with a suitable ritual and music, the sermon being delivered by the rector, Dr. Maroni.

30,000 Homeless In Japanese 'Quake

250 KNOWN DEAD 4,499 BUILDINGS ARE DAMAGED

152 Are Listed As Seriously Injured in Japanese Earthquake in Izu Peninsula.

30,000 HOMELESS.

Army is Distributing Tents, Food and Other Relief Supplies.

TOKYO, Nov. 26.—(CP)—The death toll of today's earthquake on the Izu peninsula reached 250 tonight when reports from nearly all districts had been compiled. The home office listed the number of seriously injured at 152. Houses destroyed numbered 645 and 4,499 buildings were seriously damaged. Seventy-nine other buildings were razed by fire.

The home office announced there 223 known dead in the Izu region. The Governor of Kanakawa prefecture reported 27 deaths in the Hakone district.

MISHIMA, Japan, Nov. 26.—(CP)—Throughout northern Izu Peninsula it was estimated 30,000 persons were camping out tonight, the majority because their homes were destroyed or partly wrecked in this morning's earthquake.

The army was distributing tents, and truck loads of food and other relief supplies. Red Cross volunteers from nearby cities assisted in improvising shelters.

A correspondent who traversed the earthquake area as far south as Nagaoka found inhabitants stoically counting the dead, tending the wounded and preparing the night's shelter.

Nirayama, with seventy four killed was the most sorely scourged spot. The whole district was a harrowing picture of devastation.

SNOW PLOWS OUT FOR FIRST TIME

Horses Found it Difficult to Travel on Streets of City After First Snow.

BUSINESS PICK UP.

Peterborough awoke this morning to find itself in the first grip of King Winter. The thermometer dipped during the night to 16 degrees Fahrenheit ,putting a glaze on the slight scattering of snow which had fallen early last evening. Following the passage of traffic over the streets and sidewalks it was but a short time, and the surface was indeed treacherous. Horses suffered extreme inconvenience, and as a consequence the blacksmith did a rushing business, in fixing shoe studs. A visitor from one of the country districts was observed on George street, having considerable difficulty with his horse, which had slipped and fallen. The poor beast was released from the shafts of the buggy ,while blankets and ashes were procured to assist it in regaining its feet.

Garage proprietors report an increasing demand for anti-freeze solutions, as few motorists will take the risk these days of freezing their engines, possibly beyond repair.

Snow Plows Sent Out.

The City Engineer states that each of the seven snow plows was out bright and early ,clearing a right of way for pedestrian and vehicular traffic along the network of sidewalks and streets throughout the city. Numerous citizens were of the opinion that sanding of the streets would appear to have been a necessary and desirable procedure. While sand was liberally scattered outside several of the large stores on the main thoroughfare, the streets were absolutely devoid of it, and made movement particularly hazardous, particularly for elderly folk, who were to be seen picking their way gingerly and carefully, placing one foot down and making sure it had a solid grip before allowing the other foot to leave the ground.

To the children the snow and frost brought a happy reminder of sleighs and skates, snowshoes and skis which have reposed in the depths of some cupboard since the departure of last winter. Many of the young generation were to be seen optimistically sliding their sleighs over the icy surfaces and pulling them bravely over the frequent bare patches, all aglow with healthy exertion and exhilaration.

RECOVER BODIES OF 3 CHILDREN WHO DIED IN FIRE

Children Apparently Huddled Together in Cow Barn Instead of Making Retreat.

FUNERAL FROM STIRLING.

Farm Employee Who Attempted Rescue Suffering From Effects of His Effort.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP)—The bodies of Hazel, Lorne and James Willman, children of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Willman, who perished in a fire, when the barn on the Willman property was razed to the ground yesterday, were discovered by searchers early to-day. The bodies were huddled together in one end of the cow barn where they apparently took refuge from the fire instead of trying to beat a retreat from the burning building. Colin Bain, an employee on another close-by farm, who tried to rescue the children, is suffering from the effects of his effort of yesterday, when he was nearly overcome with smoke trying to force his way into rescue the little ones. Mrs. Willman is suffering greatly from shock and is under the care of a physician. The bodies have been taken to an undertaking parlor in Stirling from when the funeral will be held.

Party Clings To Rock For Forty-Eight Hours

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 26. (CP)—Forty-eight hours of tenacious clinging to a rock, pounded and battered by the surf, saved the lives of Theodore Kettleson, superintendent of the Alaska Pioneers' Home, Dr. J. Hogins, Alfred Tilson and High Frederickson, all of Sitka.

They were rescued from the surf rock by a passing motorship, which arrived here to-day. The boat took them to Sitka.

The party was returning by sea from a hunting trip, when a gale smashed their power launch against the rocks. The four climbed on a rock and remained there two days and two nights.

ARMY SURGEON IS HELD UP BY THUGS IN SNOW STORM

STRATFORD, Ont., Nov. 26.—(By the Canadian Press.) — Dr. C. A. Houze, veterinary army surgeon, was held up at the point of a revolver by two armed thugs while returning from a professional call early this morning.

The two thugs escaped with no loot but had their hands in one pocket that contained $65.00. A snow storm was raging at the time.

Before they left him Dr. Houze's clothing was torn and a bullet whizzed by him and buried itself in the front of the car. County Constable R. J. Beatty is investigating.

Gasoline Explodes; Two Women Dead

CODER, Sask., November 26 (Canadian Press). — A gasoline explosion claimed the lives of two women in a farm home 12 miles south of here last night. Mrs. A. Allan and her daughter were using gasoline to clean clothes when the oil became ignited and exploded, asphyxiating the two women.

Two sons, working in nearby fields, saw the flames pouring from the house, and rushed to assist their mother and sister, but could render no assistance.

FARM LEADERS MEETING IN WEST

United Farmers of Three Prairie Provinces Gathering in Saskatoon.

STABILIZE GRAIN PRICES.

SASKATOON, Sask., Nov. 26.—(C.P.) — Stabilization of grain prices through government intervention stands high in the list of topics before the Inter-Provincial Agrarian meeting opening here today. The three-day sessions, called to consider the grave crisis facing western farmers due to low grain prices, will be attended by representatives of Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Ontario farm-bodies.

The gathering plans to formulate a stand to be adopted by organized agriculture for communication to Premier R. B. Bennett on his return possibly early next month from overseas. It is expected the proposal for a prairie-wide compulsory grain pool will also come before the meeting, as well as suggestions for freight-rate and crop-insurance assistance.

The 100 per cent pool has already been sponsored by United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, and favorably ballotted on by members of the Saskatchewan pool. Members of the Manitoba pool plan an educational campaign followed by a plebiscite on the question, and United Farmers of Manitoba at their annual convention last week entered a request for legislation enabling a plebiscit. United Farmers of Alberta so far have not voiced approval of the plan.

Until late afternoon, it will be impossible for the meeting to get under way today. Manitoba and Ontario delegates, together with A. E. Darby, Secretary of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, will not arrive from Winnipeg until mid-afternoon, while Albertas representative will reach Saskatoon about the same time.

DEAD EXPLORER RECENTLY GIVEN SUM OF $67,000

Canadian Government Recently Paid Captain Sverdrup For His Services.

TAKEN FOR NORWAY.

Discovered Many of Islands North of Canada and Within Arctic Circle.

OTTAWA, Ont., November 26 (C.P.). — Canada had a very particular interest in Captain Otto Sverdrup, the famous Norwegian explorer, who died to-day. It was only two weeks ago that the Dominion Government announced the payment of $67,000 to Captain Sverdrup in recognition of services which he performed in the realm of scientific research. As his activities were largely in the northern islands of the Canadian archipelago, it was recognized that his discoveries and studies had been of peculiar benefit to Canada. The sum was also paid the Norwegian explorer as a consideration for the delivery to the Dominion of all original maps, records, diaries, and other material in his possession.

The name of Otto Sverdrup was particularly associated with a group of four islands in the northern Canadian archipelago which was referred to frequently as the Sverdrup Group. The Canadian title to these islands was formally recognized by the Government of Norway a short time ago. The largest island of the group is Axel Heiberg, situated some eight hundred miles north of the Arctic Circle. It is approximately 250 miles long and 100 miles wide.

Possession of the islands in the name of the King of Norway was taken by Captain Sverdrup in 1900, but no further act of occupation took place. Canada, on the other hand, claimed possession of the islands, and proceeded to occupy and administer them. The claim of the Dominion has now been formally recognized, thus removing grounds for dispute as to Canadian sovereignty in the whole Arctic sector north of the Canadian mainland.

BARRIE, Ont., Nov. 26 (C.P.). — Struck by an Ontario Hospital motor car while walking along the highway near here last night, Elmer Matthews, 40, and Phillip Desjardines, 42, of this town, are lying in a hospital here in a critical condition.

Morley Ferguson, chauffeur, employed at the hospital, who was driving the car which struck the men, stated both were walking along the road on the "wrong side." The men were walking in the same direction as the car, and snow freezing on the windshield made visibility poor, Morley claimed.

ERNIE SOLLITT BADLY INJURED

Thrown From Bicycle While Crossing C.P.R. Tracks on Park Street.

CUT ABOUT FACE.

Ernie Sollitt of 185 Romaine street met with a very painful accident last night when returning from work, which resulted in severe lacerations to the face and neck, as well as several bruises to the body.

Mr. Sollitt, who is employed as an armature winder in the Canadian General Electric Co., was riding a bicycle south on Park street and was crossing the C.P.R. tracks when the post of the bicycle broke throwing him with much force between the tracks, and stunning him. He was assisted into McLeod's drug store by Al Spencely where first aid was applied and Dr. M. McCullough summoned.

It was learned this morning that three stitches were required to close the gash in Mr. Sollitt's forehead but the extent of his injuries were not known.

CHARGES OF PLOT AGAINST SOVIET

No Charges Against British Government—No Grounds For Official Protest.

DENY CONFESSIONS.

LONDON, Nov. 26. —(CP)— The trial of eight men in Moscow on charges of plotting to overthrow the Soviet Government echoed in the House of Commons today when Sir Rennell Rodd, former British Ambassador to Italy, asked Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, if he had made any representations to the Soviet Government similar to those made by France regarding allegations that Britain was involved in an Anti-Soviet plot.

Pointing out that documents prepared by the Soviet Public Prosecutor made no charges against the British Government, Mr. Henderson replied that there were no grounds for an official protest. He drew a distinction between allegations against the British Government and against British Subjects.

The charges on which the eight defendants are being tried named "Lord Churchill", "Colonel Lawrence" and several other outstanding British individuals. Foreign Minister Briand and former Premier Poincare of France, who also were named in the charges, today issued formal denials of the defendants' alleged confessions implicating them in the plot, and the French Ambassador at Mascow has protested also.

MARSHALL GAVE NO CAUSE FOR "RASH" ACTION

Salin Youth's Companion Says Chum Quite Calm During Fracas.

INDENTIFIES CASSIDY.

Ottawa Basketball Player Shot Following Car Accident on City Streets.

HULL, Que., Nov. 26 (C.P.). — The companion of Bert Marshall on the night of October 15 when he was shot to death on a street corner here, declared from the witness stand to-day that his identification of Austin Cassidy, 28, of Ottawa, as the slayer "is positive," pointing an accusing finger at Cassidy as the second day of the latter's trial on a charge of murder got under way. Arthur Ash said there is no doubt in his mind that the prisoner is the man who fired the fatal shot.

Marshall, prominent young basketballer of Ottawa, and Ash had stopped their car at a vendor's wagon to purchase potato chips. Another auto bearing two men crashed into the rear of Ash's car, and in an argument which ensued Marshall was slain.

No Cause For Slaying.

Ash was firm on the point that his chum gave the slayer no cause for shooting. Following the slight crashing of the cars, Marshall had walked up to the occupants of the second auto, who were also standing on the street, and asked "What's the trouble?" Ash said he had not seen a gun in Cassidy's hands, but declared smoke emitted from a pocket of the accused's coat following the report of the shot which pierced Marshall's heart.

SHOT COMPANION

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 26 (C.P.)—Mystery surrounding the death of Charles Musmanski, 19-year-old trapper of Angusville, Man., was solved to-day after a provincial police investigation.

CHRISTIE STREET AUTHORITIES REFUSE TO ADMIT EX-SOLDIER DIES SUDDENLY IN WESTERN

Frederick Eggleton Came From England in 1907 to Peterborough.

JOINED 33RD BATTERY.

Son Also Served Overseas, Enlisting at Age of 15 With 39th Battalion.

TORONTO, Ont., November 26 (Special to The Examiner). —Stricken ill suddenly yesterday, Frederick W. Eggleton, 56, of 632 Church Street (formerly of Peterborough), died early to-day in Toronto Western Hospital, after being refused admission to Christie Street Hospital, where he had previously been a patient for four months this summer, his relatives claim.

The hospital refused admission when Eggleton was taken there in the police ambulance on the ground that he was a tubercular patient. Coroner Anderson is investigating the man's death to-day.

Deceased was born in England, but came to Canada 23 years ago, settling in Peterborough, where, at the outbreak of the World War, he enlisted with the 33rd Battery. He was twice wounded and received honorable discharge in 1919. A son, Alfred, also enlisted with his father at the age of 15, and served overseas with the 39th Battalion, becoming a sergeant-instructor. He, too, was wounded.

"My husband has not been in the best of health for about three years, and this summer spent four months in Christie Street hospital" said Mrs Eggleton this morning, "He seemed better and wanted to get to work where his position was open for him. He had been told he had a growth in his chest and another doctor told me they did not just know what was the trouble, but yesterday was the first time I knew he had tuberculosis is when siezed with a hemorrhage, we called the police ambulance and accompanied him to Christie Street hospital. They refused him admission, however, telling me he was a tubercular patient. This was the first I had heard of it.

"When they refused to admit him both of us were broken up over it and we took him home. A doctor did tell us that "they would be responsible for care elsewhere" but my husband wanted to go home. Soon afterwards, however, he had another seizure, and we called Dr. Smith of Maitland Street who, after attending him, ordered an ambulance and had him removed to Toronto Western Hospital. Early this morning he passed away."

President Hindenburg Rebukes War Veterans

BERLIN, Nov. 26. (CP)—President Von Hindenburg, in his capacity as honorary member of the Stahelm, an organization of German war veterans, to-day rebuked the former soldiers for a recent pilgrimage of the "steel helmets" to Rome, where they were received by Premier Mussolini.

The incident interpreted in some quarters as an example of fraternization with Fascists, drew wide criticism and the president's rebuke appeared to have chastened the veterans.

GREAT EXPLORER OF ARCTIC DIES

Next to Amundsen and Nansen Sverdrup Was Norway's Greatest Explorer.

HONORED BY KINGS.

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 26.— (By the Canadian Press.) — Captain Otto Sverdrup, who was skipper of Fridtjof Nansen's famous Arctic ship, the Fram, in 1893, died here to-day after a brief illness, at the age of 76.

Next to Roald Amundsen and Nansen himself, Sverdrup was Norway's greatest Arctic explorer. He was a world-wide authority on Polar navigation, and a bosom friend of most of those hardy souls who spent years of their lives filling the uncharted white spaces of the Arctic with little dots of and great blotches which mean islands and continents.

Once he turned his back on the Arctic and went to Cuba to manage a tobacco and cotton plantation. But he was not temperamentally suited for a job like that and the enterprise failed.

He participated in numerous Arctic rescues, and once he crossed Greenland on skiis with Nansen. It was the first time that bitter territory had ever been traversed by white men.

The Norwegian Government granted him a life pension, but his own king was only one of many monarchs and government chiefs to decorate him with high honors.

BRIDGE COMMITTEE MAKES REPORT TO THE COUNTY COUNCIL

Work of Year is Reviewed in Chairman's Annual Committee Report.

MAY BRIDGE REPAIRED.

Reeve Tedford of Norwood, presiding as chairman of the Roads and Bridges Committee of the County Council this morning, presented his report of the committee's activities during the year.

He acknowledged the assistance which he had received from the members of the Council, and referred at length to the repairing of the Bensfort and Wallace Point bridges.

"All of you were aware of the unsafe condition of these two bridges," the report stated. "The members of the special committee appointed to deal with them have under way repairs that should last for some time.

Meeting as a joint committee with representatives from Northumberland and Durham, these bridges being on the boundary, it was decided to call for tenders. Several tenders were received, and the lowest was accepted, namely, $6,290, the counties supplying lumber for new floors.

"Some delay was caused, but at the present time the work is progressing satisfactorily. The Standard Steel Construction Company of Port Robinson are now in charge of the steel work, as a result of being the lowest tender, and of good reputation."

Young's Point Bridge

"The Special Committee appointed to have Young's Point Bridge repaired has accomplished the object in view. The lowest tender, that of Alexander Hill, Hamilton, was accepted. The piers required repairs and your committee authorized Alfred Cassan to have the same done by day work. The sum of $1,166.13 has been paid out to the present, being the amount of claims sent in.

"Your Committee have also rebuilt Elm Street Bridge, Norwood, all concrete, and by day work, supervised by Mr. Sanders. $1,945.93 has been paid out to the present, which is practically about the total cost.

"There are two other bridges that

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 26 (C.P.) — Repeal of the Ontario Apprenticeship Act was called for in a resolution passed at a meeting here of more than 130 employers, contractors and representatives of the building trades.

The resolution set forth that the Act had failed to accomplish the ends for which it had been framed and that its administration has led to a reduction of the number of properly trained apprentices in the building trades. Further, it was stated the Act placed an unnecessary financial burden on the Province and its building industry.

JUDGE O'CONNOR OPENS INQUIRY INTO EQUALIZED ASSESSMENT OF NORTHUMBERLAND AND DURHAM

Hearing Will Open in Bowmanville on December 2 and in Port Hope on 5.

CAMPBELLFORD 26 AND 27.

Counties Council Unable to Agree Upon Revaluation Made By Valuators.

(By a Staff Reporter)

COBOURG, Nov. 26—Equalization of the assessment of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham has finally devolved to Judge O'Connor.

The judicial enquiry opened here yesterday after a preliminary organization session a week ago. It continues to-day, and will extend and across the calendar of December.

O'Connor announced yesterday the following list of district sittings:

December 2 and 3—At Bowmanville, for the municipalities of Bowmanville, Darling and Clarke.

December 5—At Port Hope, for the town of Port Hope, village of Newcastle and Hope township.

December 15—At Millbrook for the municipalities of Millbrook Cavan, Cartwright, Manvers and South-Monaghan.

December 17 and 18—At Cobourg, for Cobourg, Colborne and the townships of Hamilton and Haldimand.

December 22—At Brighton, for Brighton village, Brighton township Murray and Cramahe.

December 26 and 27—At Campbellford, for Campbellford, Hastings, Alnwick, Percy and Seymour.

These meetings will begin at 10:30 a.m. on the day's appointed.

"I hope to have my report ready on the 30th of December" said Judge O'Connor. "I must have it in before the end of the year."

Valuators Were Appointed

The counties council finally turned to Judge O'Connor for a decision after disagreeing upon the revaluation and proposed equalized assessment prepared and presented by three valuators, Col. T. J. Johnston of Peterborough, George Thompson of Cobourg, and R. J. Rowe of Clarke township.

This commission was appointed last January when the council took the first decisive action upon the insistent demand of Reeve George Hooton of Cavan township for revaluation of the counties property which had remained almost stationary and with but slight and infrequent changes for nearly thirty years.

Other township reeves fell in behind Mr. Hootan's agitation, and it was soon manifested in the council that the farmer members were convinced that the towns and villages were getting off lightly in the payment of county taxes. This evasion was said to be due to the practice in the urban centres, such as Bowmanville, Port Hope, Cobourg, Campbellford and the villages, of setting a high tax rate in their municipalities and at the same time restricting the local assessments.

In their annual approval of the equalization of assessment, the coun-

DOGS ARE KILLING VALUABLE SHEEP

North Monaghan Farmers Are Being Bothered With Dogs Killing Their Sheep.

HOLD NIGHT WATCHES.

Dogs are ravaging sheep flocks in North Monaghan Township, and during the past several weeks many valuable sheep and lambs have been slain by the killers.

The flocks of Waltre Bowles, Kenneth Moncrief, and W. G. Waterman have suffered worst. Mr. Bowles has not only had sheep killed by dogs in North Monaghan, but also in Cavan Township.

The farmers have been holding night watches to protect their flocks and Provincial Constable D. Sylvester has been investigating, but as yet the dogs making the bloody descents on the flocks have been unidentified.

The indemnity of the township to the farmers losing their sheep has been well over $100 in the past month.

At one time recently nearly 5,000 tons of sugar were store in Haiti.

BRITAIN NAMED AS GIVING AID TO SOVIET PLOT

France and Other Countries Are Also Included in Those Plotting Against Union.

REBELS ARE ON TRIAL.

Force of 600,000 Men Was To Be Supplied By Neighboring Countries.

MOSCOW, November 26 (C.P.).—Great Britain and France were depicted as malevolent plotters seeking to intervene in Soviet Russia and overthrow the Communist regime by Professor Leonid Ramzin, "confessing" before a revolutionary tribunal which is trying him for high treason.

Professor Ramzin, speaking into a microphone which carried his voice to the furthest reaches of the Communist Federation, told an amazing story of intrigue mentioning casually as co-plotters with him, former President Poincare of France, Aristide Briand, French Foreign Minister, "Colonel Lawrence," and "Lord Churchill" of England, and other figures of the two countries.

The defendant, who is the leader of a group of eight prominent Soviet engineers who are facing death sentences on their pleas of guilty to the counter revolutionary conspiracy declared that British support to the plot waned after the second MacDonald regime was established in 1929, and relations with the Soviet were re-established. Thereafter he said, the French and border countries, Poland and Rumania and Jugoslavia, were the principal conspirators.

Contact with British agents in Moscow, Ramzin declared, was established through "Colonel Lawrence," newspapermen assuming his reference to be to "Lawrence of Arabia," or Aircraftsman Shaw of the British Royal Flying Corps. Another British representative, Sir Philip Vicars he said, once told him that "Lord Churchill" was the leading figure back of the intervention movement in England. It was assumed that he referred to Winston Churchill, former Conservative Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Ramzin told of meeting a French general in Paris, and, in company with a former Czarist general, Lukomsky, of discussing with him plans for intervention in Soviet Russia. They agreed that a force of 600,000 or 00,000 men, to be furnished principally by Rumania, Poland, and Jugoslavia, with aid from White Russian sources, would be sufficient for their purpose once the plotters had been able to pave the way inside the Soviet Union.

FARMER ADVISED TO GROW GRAINS

Westerners Must Turn to Mixed Farming Declares G. I. Christie.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 26.—(By the Canadian Press.)—In depending for their livelihood on wheat alone Western Canada farmers are "putting all their eggs into one basket," declared G. J. Christie, B.S.A., President of the Ontario Agricultural College, addressing the Canadian Independent Telephone Association here at its annual convention.

"Low price grain does not spell ruin to the farmers for in a country where you can grow grain you can raise live stock," said Dr. Christie. Canada, he added, had a great chance to break into the bacon markets, which are now being virtually monopolized by the Danes.

BENNETT VISITS BATTLEFIELDS.

PARIS, Nov. 26.— (C.P.) —Premier R. B. Bennett left Paris for Amiens to-day by motor car. He will visit the Canadian war cemeteries in that district, then travel to Somme and Ypes battlefields, returning to London to-morrow. It is possible he will be returning to Canada about the end of the week.

Britain Acknowledges Norway's Island Claim

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 26. (CP) —Two weeks after Norway formally relinquished to Canada its claim to the Sverdrup group of islands in the Archipelago, Great Britain announces that she has recognized Norway's claim to the island of Jan Mayen lying between Greenland and Norway in the Arctic sea.

Norway's claim was put forward in a royal decree dated May 8, 1930. It is accepted that the island was discovered by Henry Hudson, British navigator in 1607, in the first of four voyages which resulted in the discovery of Hudson Bay.

CITIZENS WANT PROMPT ACTION

Wolf Menace is Increasing in Haliburton County—Packs Are Numerous.

FORM HUNTING PARTY

LINDSAY, Nov. 26 (Examiner Correspondence)—Prompt action by the government with a view to ridding sections of Haliburton County of the wolf menace is being urged by the people of the northern county.

A merchant from the village of Minden who visited Lindsay to-day told a thrilling story of the presence of wolves in goodly numbers in the vicinity of Coboconk, Norland, Minden and other centres. The wolves have become very bold and as they travel in packs, they strike terror in the hearts of the farmers and their families. In the district of Blairhampton, where are situated many farms, five or six packs have been seen, some of them actually on the highway. The menace has become so great, said the Minden man, that the children have to be driven to the schools in the district.

During the hours of the night the howls of the animals strike terror into the people. The howls are continuous and when the wolves start fighting over a captured sheep or calf, the noise is indescribable. The wolves are said to be very bold, and when winter sets in and there is a heavy snowfall on the ground, they will become bolder in their search for food.

The wolf packs are chasing the deer in the farm yards in the district, mixing in with the cattle. Many sheep have disappeared this fall and the farmers in the north are driven to their wit's end trying to protect their herds.

There is some talkof forming an immense hunting party for the purpose of making a general clean-up.

COUNTY COUNCIL OPENS SESSIONS

Caretaker Refuses to Vacate His House in County Buildings.

FOUND INEFFICIENT.

Fired from his job as caretaker of the county buildings more than a month ago by the Peterborough County Council, F. T. Mahood refuses to move out of the caretaker's house.

The method to be adopted in evicting Mahood from the house was one of the big problems that faced the Council when it opened yesterday afternoon its final session this year. Is Mahood going to hold this council up, is he the boss or are we were the inquiries the councillors asked themselves.

In a letter to the Council, R. R. Hall, K.C., pointed out that Mahood had worked as caretaker for eight years and that his eyesight was failing. He suggested that the man be kept on the job until summer or paid up to the end of the year.

Reeve Fred McIntyre, of Otonabee said that it would show weakness on the part of the Council to reconsider Mahood's case, after his resignation had been asked for and another man installed in his job. Reeve John Clarke, of Harvey, stated that Mahood had been fired for inefficiency. "If you want to give charity, we have a house for that purpose up on the Lakefield road" he concluded.

No means of evicting Mahood were settled upon but the council definitely took the stand that he was to be forced out of the house, and the sooner the better.

James Brownlee has been appointed caretaker and has been carrying on his new duties for a month, but as yet he cannot move into the caretaker's house, because it is occupied by Mahood, who staunchly maintains that he will not get out.

WESTERN ONTARIO BREEDERS WIN MANY AWARDS IN CATTLE CLASSES

Large Share of Awards at Royal Fair Yesterday Went to Western Ontario.

STRONG IN CATTLE CLASSES

TORONTO, Nov. 26 (C.P.)—Western Ontario breeders who have been doing very well in the judging at the Royal Winter Fair continued to capture a very large share of the awards in the results of yesterday. They were particularly strong in Dual Purpose Shorthorns, Aberdeen Angus and Shorthorn cattle.

In the Angus classes practically everything in the judging outside a win or two by Michigan and the Western Provinces went to breeders in the country between Toronto and Windsor. George McAllister and Son of Guelph had both the Senior and Grand championship in the females as well as the reserves, while Howard Fraleigh, Forest, had the Junior ribbon. In addition to this, McAllister made a clean-up of the first prizes in the herds and groups, as well as winning heavily in the regular classes. Fraleigh also did well. Other Western Ontario winners who were well up in the money in this end of the show were Lloyd Runsberg of Petersburgh; Edwards Bros., of Watford, and F. G. Todd of Lucknow.

Competition Strong in Herefords

In Herefords there was a good deal more competition but McNeil and McNeil of Dutton had Reserve Champion Female, as well as several wins in the herds and groups and also the heifer classes. Walter H. Brownlee of Mount Brydges was another winner of several prizes and also O'Neil Bros., from Denfield.

James Douglas of Caledonia had senior and grand champion Shorthorn female while Duncan Campbell, Moffatt captured the reserve junior. Campbell also headed the heifer senior yearling class while Douglas had one, two and five in the senior calves, first in progeny cow and four calves. Other prominent winners from Western Ontario included Amos and Black, Moffat, Alfred Nicholson, Parkhill and Wm. Waldie, Stratford.

In dual purpose Shorthorns there was little opposition to G. L. Smith of Meadowvale who carried off senior and grand champion bull and D. Z. Gibson, Caledonia who had the junior. Smith also had junior champion female and the reserve grand champion. Another exhibitor from the same section, Jos Bingeman and Son, Kitchener had reserve junior and reserve senior. These exhibitors along with Peart Bros., Caledonia and Brompton Farm Ltd., were prominent in the regular classes.

In Clydesdale horse which were finished yesterday, Brandon Bros. of Forest, had reserve junior champion mare, with John Brandon, second in boys class.

BEER SMUGGLING INVESTIGATIONS AT DETROIT LINE

Score of United States Customs Border Patrolmen Taken Into Custody.

FOR QUESTIONING.

Expect Present Probe Will Result in Greater Expose Than That of 1928.

DETROIT, Nov. 26.— (CP) —The Free Press says that "approximately a score" of United States customs border patrolmen were taken into custody by special treasury agents for questioning about Detroit river rum graft.

The paper says that warrants for several of the patrolmen are held by the investigating agents and will be used if the patrolmen cannot explain actions the agents claim to have uncovered.

The investigation is in charge of Elmer J. Lewis, customs department investigator, the Free Press says, the same man who directed the investigation of two years ago which resulted in the indictment of 23 customs border patrolmen and 19 liquor smugglers, many of whom now are serving prison sentences.

The paper says that the present investigation is expected to result in a greater expose than that of 1928.

Establish Warehouses

The The Free Press says Canadian brewers are alleged to have paid bribes to customs border patrolmen to insure uninterrupted passage for boat loads of beer across the Detroit river.

According to the paper, some brewing companies have evaded the Canadian anti-export law by establishing warehouses some distance from their main plants and diverting to the river truckloads of beer ostensibly enroute to those warehouses.

Along the waterfront, the beer would be loaded into boats, the paper says, and smuggled into the United States.

Licenses of two Ontario breweries, the Walkerville Brewing Company of Walkerville, and the Honor Brewing Company of La Salle, were revoked after they had been convicted of selling beer through unauthorized channels.

FUTURE OF ONTARIO'S PREMIER WILL BE DISCUSSED AT CAUCUS

First Cabinet Meeting Since Mr. Ferguson's Return Was Held Yesterday.

PARTY MEETS THURSDAY.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 26 (C.P.)—The Provincial political situation, with the acceptance or refusal by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Premier of Ontario, of the post of Canadian High Commissioner in London, was discussed yesterday at the first meeting of the Ontario Cabinet since Mr. Ferguson returned from England.

Premier Ferguson declined to make any statement at the conclusion of the Cabinet Council, but the Cabinet decided on a course of action to be pursued at the Conservative party caucus to be held on Thursday at which the rank and file of the Government's supporters will hear the situation discussed.

Premier Ferguson, while still on the high seas, said he would put the matter of his acceptance or refusal of the High Commissionership before his party and abide by their wishes. In line with his declaration, it is believed a decision will be reached at the caucus.

Those in close touch with Provincial affairs believe the Ontario Premier received the support of his Cabinet at the conference yesterday and look for the caucus on Thursday approving of Premier Ferguson accepting the post.

On the other hand, it is expected strong opposition will be voiced to Mr. Ferguson leaving Ontario, as a considerable faction of the Conservative party has already expressed its opinion that the services of the Premier are indispensable.

Mr. and Mrs. James Farrell Celebrate Their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

ENJOY SPLENDID HEALTH

Fifty Guests Are Present on Joyous Occasion Which Opened With Jubilee High Mass.

CAMPBELLFORD, November 26 (Examiner Staff Correspondence).—Fifty years of married life is the record obtained by Mr. and Mrs. James Farrell, of Campbellford, who on Monday, November 24, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. The occasion was fittingly marked by celebration of Jubilee High Mass by the Rev. C. J. Phelan, at St. Mary's Church, after which the bride and groom of fifty years with their family and many friends adjourned to their home and continued the festivities.

Mr. Farrell married his wife who was then Miss Nellie Callaghan, in the year 1880 at Marysville, Ontario, the Rev. Father MacKye performing the ceremony. In the year 1894 the family moved to Plainsfield, north of Belleville, where they resided until 1902, when they came to Campbellford, where they now live. Both born in Canada of Irish stock, Mr. and Mrs. Farrell enjoy excellent health and are old only in years.

Seven Children.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrell have seven children, all except one being present for the re-union: Vincent of Campbellford, Mrs. Sarah Kelleher of Seymour, Mrs. Loretta Mullanay of Detroit, Mich., John of Edmonton, Alta., Lambert of Durham, Ont., Harold of Aylmer, Ont., and Mrs. Irene Reeves, of Toronto.

Mr. Farrell was engaged in farming when a resident of Marysville. On moving to Plainsfield he was for some years engaged in the hotel business. While a resident of Campbellford he has been employed by T. A. Brown, contractor, and the Hydro Power Company.

About fifty guests sat down to a splendid fowl dinner, the table being beautifully decorated with yellow 'mums and gold streamers. The toast to the happy couple was proposed by Rev. C. J. Phelan to which Mr. Farrell replied. Many telegrams of congratulation were received by Mr. and Mrs. Farrell, among these being some from Detroit, Chicago, Edmonton, and Toronto. Many valuable gifts were also received, including a purse of gold from the children.

Among those present from out of town points were, including Father Phelan, Miss Mary Gorham, Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kelleher and family, Seymour, Mrs. Frank Mullanay and Mrs. Al. Whitman, both of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. L. Farrell, Durham, Ont., Mr. Harold Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. James Reeves and family of Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brennen of Marysville, Ont.

CATTLE, GRAIN, PRODUCE

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, November 26.—Wheat values slumped yesterday, closing 1½ cents to 2¼ cents a bushel lower, but trade volume was not large, though a moderate quantity is believed to have gone to export buyers during the session.

Some of the selling early in the day was attributed to houses with foreign connections who had been good purchasers on the recent advance. Offerings, however, were well taken care of.

Factors in yesterday's market news were the selling by foreign houses, and the uncertain condition prevailing in the Buenos Aires market.

Demand for cash wheat continued fairly good, but the coarse grain markets were neglected and price recessions followed the action of wheat futures.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Nov. 26.—A decrease in the price of cheese was the only change yesterday on the produce and dairy market. Cheese was ¼c lower, Ontario being quoted at 12½c to 12¾c and Quebec at 12c to 12¼c a pound. Receipts were 1,671 boxes.

On the butter market, Eastern townships No. 1 pasteurized creamery was unchanged at 29c to 29¼c a pound, while to retailers, solids were 32 cents and prints 33 cents a pound. Receipts were 249 boxes.

Prices on the egg market were unchanged. British Columbia eggs, in carlots, were quoted at 60 cents for fresh extras, 55 cents for fresh firsts and 50 cents for fresh pullet extras. Receipts were 2,377 cases, the majority being American eggs going through here for export.

CHICAGO WHEAT

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. — Fading of buying power helped make grain values average lower yesterday. Transient rallies rang against enlarged selling pressure in all pits, and the day's bottom was reached just before the close.

Wheat price advances scored heretofore this week appeared to have checked demand for the time being at least, especially in view of a late announcement of 7,873,000 bushels increase of the world's visible supply.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled ⅝ to 1⅞ cents a bushel lower than Monday's finish. Corn closed 1⅛ to 1⅞ cents off; oats unchanged to ½ cent down and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to a rise of 2 cents.

JUDGE O'CONNOR OPENS INQUIRY

ties council necessarily had before them the comparative columns of the local and equalized assessments and the disparity of these columns as relating to the towns and villages finally wore down the rural members' patience, culminating in the Hooton resolution for revaluation.

Report By Valuators

Col. Johnston and his two colleagues went to work in the twin counties last Spring before the snow was off the ground, and brought in their report at the June sessions of the Council. Generally speaking the valuators verified the suspicions of the farmer members of the council. Their readjustment of local property values directly and substantially affected the urban constituents of the United counties. Cobourg, it was reported, was threatened with a tax rate increase of three or four mills.

Appeal to the Judge

The representatives of the towns and villages gained time last June with the discovery that the new equalized assessment was introduced too late for 1930 taxation purposes, and with this manoeuvre suspending the new assessment they joined forces and resolved to appeal to the counties Judge for revaluation.

The seven appellants are: Cobourg, Port Hope, Bowmanville, Newcastle, Campbellford, Millbrook and Colborne.

Six lawyers were engaged in the inceptive stage of the judicial enquiry yesterday. They were: D. H. Chisholm of Port Hope; Archie Cochrane, Cobourg; D. J. Lynch, Campbellford; W. R. Strike, Bowmanville; George Drewery, Brighton; and Col. F. D. Boggs, K.C., of Cobourg, who is solicitor for the united counties.

Nearly all the members of the council were present, including Warden Nelson; but they were bystanders in this last act of the Hooton drama. The equalization of assessment, for that is virtually what the procedure means, had finally passed out of their hands. For the most of two years, at their statutary meetings, they had sought agreement and compromise, because they knew that the appeal to the Judge would run up an expense account that should, if possible, be avoided.

Mr. Hooton had emphasized the point of law that revaluation of county property should be made every five years; but the united counties had passed over this requirement for nearly three decades except on several occasions when one or two minor changes in the equalized assessment had been effected.

Such were the precedents and the approach to the enquiry into the values of the property in the two counties which Judge O'Connor opened yesterday.

The first witness was Col. Johnston, who was the third or neutral member of the valuating commission. Mr. Rowe was the rural representative and Mr. Thompson represented the towns and villages.

Col. Johnston was examined from 10.30 a.m. until 4.40 p.m. During that time he related how the valuators had performed their duties. They took six per cent. of the local assessment as the basis of their work in each municipality. Then they examined and estimated the sale value of individual properties whose aggregate value corresponded with the six per cent. of the local assessment. This sum represented six per cent. of the "actual" value of the individual municipal and its total value was computed by simple arithmetic.

Campbellford Values

D. J. Lynch, Campbellford's solicitor questioned Col. Johnston about the valuation of the Trent town.

"I find that you assessed 65 properties in Campbellford for a total of $213,350. This is 12 per cent. of the total local assessment and your practice was to select just six per cent. of the properties in other municipalities. Was there any reason for this?"

Col. Johnston— There was no particular reason for selection 12%. Our assessment was based on 100% of the sale value of properties.

Mr. Lynch—Your figures are in some instances 50% higher than the local assessments.

Col. Johnston—Yes. In many instances the local assessment was 50% less than the actual value of properties. I don't think they had assessed one property at 100% of its value."

To Mr. Lynch Col. Johnston said he had never acted as an assessor.

Mr. Lynch—Your assessment of Denike's store in Campbellford is $7,000, whereas the local assessor placed it at $4,400. Why did you give it that boost?

Col. Johnston—We considered that $7,000 was the value of that store. We were not governed by the local assessment.

Mr. Lynch—Did you make enquiry about property values going up or down?

Col. Johnston — Yes. We learned that property values in Campbellford were going down.

Mr. Lynch—But in many cases you doubled the assessment. Glover's house you assess at $2,500 and the local assessment was $1,450. Ironsides' house you raise from $1,600 to $3,200. H. M. Donald's is raised from $1,550 to $2,500 and so on. You practically doubled the assessment of residential property.

To Judge O'Connor, Col. Johnston said the valuators had divided Campbellford into districts for the purpose of the general valuation of the town.

Valued Only One Store

Mr. Lynch pointed out that the valuators had assessed only one store in Campbellford, although there are thirty stores in the town. Denike's was the only store included in the valuators' figures. Not one factory was examined.

The valuators had presented their report to the counties council in two tabulated and supplementary statements. In the summary that was of secondary importance in this report, D. H. Chisholm of Port Hope pointed out a number of clerical errors.

Judge O'Connor said he could not see how the counties council could accept that part of the report.

Enquired Into Sales

Col. Johnston told Mr. Chisholm that the valuators had taken into their reckoning all the registered sales of 1929, or practically all. He remarked that none of Campbellford's vacant land was included in the valuation of that town.

To Judge O'Connor, witness explained how the township had been valuated.

"We got the figures for farm sales, and then examined other farms, placing proportionate value on them according to the evident quality of the land", Col. Johnston said.

Judge O'Connor questioned him at length as to the procedure of the valuators in Darlington township.

"What did you value the land at along the Kingston highway?"

"Eighty dollars an acre. If the highway cut through a farm, it is a detriment to the farm."

A farm west of Bowmanville on the highway was valued at $60 by the commissioners.

Col. Johnston said no valuation had been made of hamlets in Darlington, such as Hampton and Tyrone.

"Does your report indicate anything about summer resorts?" "No."

"Did you do anything at Nestleton and Caesarea?" "No."

"What did you value the best land in Cartwright at?"

Col. Johnston: "The best land at $70. I considered there was a difference of $10 an acre between the values of the best farm land on the highway and in the back townships."

Judge O'Connor: "You examined six properties in Orono. One house is assessed at $1,300, and your valuation of it is $3,200. That is Mrs. Halliday's house."

Col. Johnston: "The assessed values in Orono are very low as against the actual value of the properties."

Col. Johnston expressed the opinion that the Halliday house assessment was typical of Orono, and the village's entire assessment was considerably less than the actual values.

"What about Alnwick and Seymour townships? Did you leave out any concession lines as you did in Darlington and Cartwright?"

Col. Johnston: "Yes, there were roads we could not drive on.

Questioned by Archie Cochrane, Col. Johnston said that in Cobourg the valuators examined six per cent of the property values of the town, not six per cent. of the properties.

Mr. Cochrane: "The Act says 5 to 8 per cent. of the parcels of land."

Cavan Properties

Referring to some Cavan township sales, Mr. Cochrane pointed out that James Seymour had sold a farm to C. W. Seymour for $12,500, but it was assessed for only $6,500.

"That sale is not included in your list," Mr. Cochrane remarked.

"We didn't take that in because it was a family transaction," Col. Johnston replied.

Mr. Cochrane: "It might have been valued too low. A father might want to give his son a real bargain"

Mr. Cochrane: "Then, there's a sale by W. H. R. Baptie to Cathcart for $12,000, and it was assessed for $3,600 in 1929. Why did you leave that off your list?"

Col. Johnston: "I considered that farm sold for double its value, so we threw it out."

Another Cavan sale was by Albert Tinney to R. A. Robertson for $3,500, but the local assessment, was only $600.

Yesterday's session concluded with R. J. Rowe, another of the valuators, supplementing Col. Johnston's review of last Spring's valuation.

MANY ISSUES IN LINDSAY ELECTION

Citizens of Town Are Taking Municipal Politics Seriously This Year.

LINDSAY, November 26 (Special to The Examiner). — The citizens of this town are certainly taking their municipal politics seriously. Never in the memory of the oldest inhabitant has pre-election excitement been so keen. A number of the aspirants for municipal honors have actually laid off work for the week in order to engage in the fight. House-to-house canvass has been inaugurated by a number of the candidates, and there is no telling what may happen before the week ends. Groups of citizens gather on the street corners discussing the fight, and many heated discussions take place.

A dead set appears to have been made on the members of this year's Council. Issues such as unemployment, the Citizens' Band squabble this year's paving program representation in the County Council, as well as the old standby, "time for a change," appear to have divided the electors into different camps. The women, too, are deeply interested in the election. A number of them are already busily engaged electioneering for their favorites.

ONTARIO APPLES.

There is a good deal in the contention of the Brockville Recorder and Times that the apple-growers of Ontario have yet to learn that distribution in an attractive form has a great deal to do with successful marketing, and that until they use the methods which have proved so successful in the case of other Provinces, notably British Columbia, it is doubtful if they will be able to obtain control of a market that should be almost exclusively theirs.

To The Examiner it has always been a mystery why apples from outside the Province are most prominently featured in Ontario stores, and why there should be so much difficulty encountered in obtaining first-class home-grown apples.

There is nothing the matter with Ontario apples in themselves.

That is clear from the showing made at the Royal Winter Fair this year when apples grown in this Province swept the boards in several important classes and carried off the chief prizes offered.

Ontario in short produces apples that can compete successfully against the best grown anywhere, and the only reason why they do not command a bigger share of the local market is that assigned by our Brockville contemporary, that the Ontario producers have neglected to bring their marketing operations in line with the modern conception of salesmanship.

A SPLENDID STATEMENT.

Bank statements are usually accepted as an accurate indication of business conditions generally, and that being so, the strong position shown by the Bank of Montreal in its annual statement just issued must be regarded with satisfaction as evidence of the fundamental soundness of Canadian prosperity.

Despite unusual world economic conditions, the Bank of Montreal has made a remarkably fine showing during the year, and the whole statement conveys a reassurance that should be welcome to the business interests of the country.

While the total volume of business for the year shows a falling off when compared with the previous twelve months, there is significance in the fact that during the last half of the bank's fiscal year several important departments have been able to report a gain, which tells its own story of improved conditions and gives ground for hoping that the corner has been turned.

The profit and loss account indicates profits ample enough to provide the usual dividends and bonus for the bank's shareholders, and at the same time to furnish an appropriation for premises and to carry forward a substantial balance.

Total assets are $826,969,957, and in the last six months there has been an increase of over four million dollars, while the profits for the year amounted to $6,519,031.51, and the deposits have increased from $688,067,754 to $697,395,742.

All in all, the statement is a most satisfactory one, gratifying to the shareholders and comforting to the whole country as a proof of the soundness of underlying conditions.

MAYOR WEMP'S APPEAL.

Mayor Wemp of Toronto recently published an appeal to the citizens of the Queen City urging them to have their printing done at home, pointing out that there was a certain amount of unemployment in the Toronto printing trades that could be eliminated if orders were not sent out of the city for printing work.

As to Mayor Wemp's motive in issuing this advertisement there is no question; he was actuated by interest in the people of his home city and convinced that his appeal was justified.

There was one point, however, he overlooked, and that was, while he was asking for Toronto assistance for Toronto printing firms, representatives of such firms were travelling all over the Province seeking orders at the expense of provincial printers.

Probably every outside printing firm in Ontario has found itself up against the competition of Toronto concerns whose travellers are scouring every provincial centre for business, and it seems a bit thick that this should be going on at the same time as Mayor Wemp is seeking a monopoly of Toronto business for firms which have had no compunction about trying to take away business from printers in other parts of Ontario.

His position is quite different from that of Mayor Denne who issued a similar appeal on behalf of Peterborough printers out of work.

The latter are merely asking for the support of their own community; they are not trying at the same time to get a stranglehold on outside business as is apparently the case with many Toronto firms.

The Toronto Star refers to the matter thusly:

"For with the best intentions in the world, Torontonially speaking, Mayor Wemp published an advertisement urging the people of this city to get their printing done at home. And all over Ontario there have been protests about it—complaints that Toronto printing houses send their travellers throughout the Province to get business, and are now trying to monopolize the Toronto trade as well. To these protests the papers of other places have joyfully given space. The lives of the representatives of Toronto printers in other towns have not, one imagines, been happy of late."

HAS A RIGHT TO ASK FOR OWN TRADE.

Ontario and the eastern section of Canada in general cannot be indifferent to the condition being faced by the West to-day. The people out there are in a critical position.

There is no reason for not using the word "critical." It is only by facing facts that we can get a thorough understanding of what the West is experiencing.

One statement appearing in print gives a more adequate idea than many columns we have read and it is this:

"The return per acre in Saskatchewan has been reduced from an average of $20.40 to $6.92 for the crop year of 1930."

That is not an ordinary decrease or a shrinkage. Such terms do not cope with the situation, nor are they adequate to express it. It is a business landslide that is hurting the people who are living through it.

Ontario and the East cannot move away from this fact, either. Many of these people in the West are our own folk. They went out there a good many years ago from all parts of the East. They are westerners, but they have not ceased to be related to the East.

• • • •

The suggestion has been seriously made that the West should curtail the acreage that it plants in wheat. The Beacon-Herald discussed that question with a Winnipeg gentleman, J. Frank Harvie, when he was in this city a few days ago. His explanation and answer is this:

"The western farmer does not know what sort of a crop he is going to have when he puts in his seed in the spring. There are many sections where he knows from past experience his crops may be attacked by rust; he may be caught by poor weather for cutting and threshing, and also he may face early frosts. In that way he faces many uncertainties. If he started out by decreasing his acreage, and then found that his yield was going to be further decreased by the elements, he would have almost nothing to show for his year's work. That is why it is not possible for the individual farmer to cut down on his wheat acreage."

That explanation sounds reasonable, and it puts the situation in a way that many may not have understood when they wondered why the western farmer did not voluntarily cut down on the amount of wheat land in his holdings.

• • • •

It becomes evident, then, that the East should seek to show a practical interest in the West. We should strive to place business in that country whenever possible. There are two things which the West can sell to the East, coal and building stone.

There has been so much talk about Alberta coal that there is a danger of the idea growing stale, and yet the development of that trade should be possible. The condition of the West to-day makes it imperative that we should go at it again if we are going to show our desire to be of assistance to the people there.

A train load of fifty cars of coal leaving the West for the East means a good deal. In the first place, it provides work for 600 miners for one day. Between Alberta and here are 18 railway divisional points, and the passage of that train means that train crews in 18 places will be given a certain amount of work in moving it along.

The freight charges on that load of coal amount to $14,000, and that money is put into circulation in Canada when it goes to a Canadian transportation company.

When Canadian cars and engines are used for such work it means they will get out of repair, and that in turn suggests more work for men in Canadian car shops.

That load of coal, multiplied a good many times by the growing desire of the East to deal with the West, would set in motion a volume of business that is needed in Canada to-day. At present the great bulk of money which we spend for coal goes across the border to United States.

Eastern Canada has troubles of its own to-day, but we are better able to stand them and come through safely than is Western Canada. The West is not suggesting anything unreasonable when it asks that the East should send it some business.

We ought to be willing to put some sentiment in the building of Canada, and right now is a good time to experiment with it.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

ITALY'S ASSURANCE.

Mr. Mussolini has given the readers of the Star, through Mr. Henry T. Russell of the United Press, a word picture of Italy's history and what he has tried, in a personal way, to accomplish for his country. He defends the launching of the Fascist movement and the methods taken for changing the nation's line of thought and action, on the ground that when people are seriously ill, they require drastic treatment. Italy was seriously, dangerously ill, the dictator says, and Fascism has been the cure.

Above all things, Italy's uncrowned king declares, his country has no "lust for conquest." The country seeks, he says, "only to recover from a sense of inferiority, acquired since the decline which followed the Renaissance. We were recognized as a great nation at one time. Once we were cited as models for mankind. Then we were taken ill. We suffered morally and physically. We grew weak. The Renaissance saved us the first time, but we had a relapse. Once more we began to decline. By the time the war of 1914 had arrived, a war for which Italy paid the price of 600,000 dead, we were once more on the upgrade. But losses incurred during the war weakened us again, until nine years ago we were on the verge of chaos. Then came Fascism . . . Fascism triumphed over the worst. Italy's health returned. Italy is tired of being gazed at and admired for her beauty, but simultaneously looked down upon. . . . She recovered and this time intends to be strong enough to resist any possible relapse, internal or external. . . . Fascist Italy will never initiate a war."

Mr. Mussolini's words should be encouraging to friends of peace. Many of his public utterances, in the past, have been of such a swashbuckling character that there has been reason for alarm and uneasiness. However, it appears, that much of this matter has been for domestic, rather than foreign, consumption, part of the dicator's policy in building up the national morale and destroying Italy's inferiority complex. A world that is sick of war, hopes, at any rate, that this is the case.—Border Cities Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Don't delay your Christmas shopping if you are in a position to buy now. Every dollar spent at the present time helps to bring prosperity back.

Egg prices in Chicago are the lowest they have been for forty years. It would not be a particularly good time for an election campaign.

Uncle Sam evidently has a great deal of faith in the future of Canada. American investments in this country have almost reached the two billion dollar mark.

Attendance at the Royal Winter Fair is running 10 per cent. above that of last year, indicating conditions generally in Canada are improving.

Advices from Ottawa are to the effect that the Federal Government may come to the rescue if the average price of wheat for the season falls below sixty cents a bushel. This, however, surely does not mean that the Government has any intention of getting into the grain business.

THE SILVER HAWK

By

WILLIAM BYRON MOWERY

Keeping his offensive, forcing the battle, Dorn struck twice more and twice the planes went volting down in a fearful plunge and climbed back to a safe height.

One by one in quick succession Dorn tried all the stratagems he knew. Twelve thousand feet high, he manœuvred close and executed a sudden, sharp Immelmann turn; but just as he completed the loop and was in position to roar in under his enemy, the crafty pilot side-stepped and easily banked out of danger, and the machine gunner, slewing around in his seat, punctured the fuselage of the Silver Hawk with a half a dozen bullets.

In growing desperation for Aurore, with the sense of defeat mounting in him, Dorn tried the rolling trick of the French aces, but it failed miserably. He pretended to run away north, meaning to stall and drop and knock the pursuing plane out of the air as it sped over, but "Ace" McGregory kept a safe distance, and waited his chance. Once when the battle had drifted south over the range peak-line Dorn tried by a clever feint and bullet-swift stab to lure the other plane into collision against a high naked pinnacle. But all his flying wizardry was a futile against his warwise enemy.

He had one last trick—so difficult and perilous a manœuvre that it was little short of suicide. Few monoplanes built could stand the strain of it. To an observer it was a terrifying spectacle. He had tried it once on Kansas two years ago, and scared his partner white with it.

Circling back over the lake, he climbed nearly two thousand feet higher than his enemy and came drifting over, dead overhead, deliberately making a fair target of his machine. As he expected, the twin Vickers began feeling for him, its tracer bullets drawing white lines all around his plane.

The Silver Hawk suddenly stalled like a craft hard hit, and went out of control, staggering and lurching drunkenly. For a moment or two Dorn seemed about to master it again. But it wobbled and pitched and yawed helplessly, and its engine died, and it finally toppled nose first and came twisting down in a fearful rolling spin..

McGregory merely whipped out of its path, and throttled down and slewed around in his feat to watch the disabled craft plummet ten thousand feet to the lake below. Looking back with a grin on his face, reaching a congratulatory hand to the gunner, he was caught utterly unawares by Dorn's superbly executed stratagem, and had no chance, no time to escape.

The Silver Hawk came suddenly out of its spin, with a jolt that would have torn the wings from an ordinary plane. With its powerful engine roaring, it shot like a bolt of well-directed lightning at the other machine and passed dead under keel.. From rudder to propeller, at the murderous range of fifty feet, Kansas Eby flailed and sept and riddled the enemy craft with a hail of bullets.

It was Dorn and Kansas who looked back now. They saw a wing crumple, saw a jet of gas spew from a bullet-hole in the high-pressure tank, saw it explode in the flame of the exhaust and tear the other wing from the plane, and saw the machine topple and hurtle downward wrapped in fire.

Dorn met Kansas' eyes for a second, but he merely nodded, with no congratulatory handshake. By some provident miracle both McGregory and the gunner managed to throw themselves clear of that blazing twisting wreck. With a leap of heart Dorn saw the white wings of their "Guardian Angels" catch the air and open with a burst of white and start drifting toward the pine-clad slope of the southern range.

He was glad the pair had saved themselves. They were brave fellows, worthy enemies, loyal to the trust imposed in them. Their only fault was the company they kept, the money they took. It was not right they should lose their lives protecting two such men as soft-Shoe and Henry Carter-Snowdon.

CHAPTER XXXII

THE CRACK-UP

As he whirled on north from the meteoric battle which he had scarcely hoped to win but which he had brilliantly earned, Dorn was thinking not that he had shot "Ace" McGregory out of the air, but that he had destroyed Carter-Snowdon's defence and now could dictate at the muzzle of a Lewis.

He knew the biplane had not yet escaped; that pursuit craft had not been patrolling the sky for nothing. Something had fatally delayed Carter-Snowdon, and Dorn guessed: "Aurore came through! They had to comb the island for her. She managed to hide on that tiny island not one hour but two hours and a half'" He laid plans to whip over the mesa and drop down beside the biplane; and with machine gun trained upon it, have those three men at her mercy and take Aurore again under his protection.

There was one man of those three whom Dorn wanted to kill, to kill barehanded, without pity or qualm of conscience; and he swore to do it if the shadow of excuse or justification came his way. That man was Soft-Shoe. Dorn could forgive him for having discovered somehow that Bergelot had information of Aurore's whereabouts; but there Dorn's mercy stopped. The torture scene at the Lake of Dead Waters was burned into his brain. He could never forget hearing the sear of hot iron against old Luke's naked body and the gasp of agony wrenched from the Indian's lips. He thought grimly: "I ought to have killed him then: I made a mistake, I let him live; and now, because of it, Dad Bergelot is dead. That detective murdered him. Not to get the map and letter; he could have got them without that. But merely to keep him from discovering the theft and telling me. For the mere sake of an hour's advantage he murdered a man. That alley-wolf isn't fit to walk in God's sunshine. I won't make the mistake a second time."

But of Carter-Snowdon, Aurore's husband, Dorn thought otherwise. He dared not raise his hand against Carter-Snowdon. It would be murder, as Kansas had said—murder in order that he himself might possess Aurore; and no excuse could ever gloss over the deed. Dorn had long ago resolved: "Whatever happens, he's got to live; I've got to shield him." And he meant just that, and knew he would carry it through; but his same grim sense of honour, his relentless reasoning, kept repeating to him those words he had told Kansas; in the whirr of the propeller, in the sing and swish of hurtling struts, that purpose was beating like an endless refrain:

"She's his wife, and I'll never touch her. But she's mistress of her own body and soul, and neither shall he touch her unless she wants him to."

He planned not to go ashore on Aurore's island; not to meet Aurore nor speak again with her. Last night, when she held her lips up to him and confessed love, he had pledged himself not to return. Under the dire necessity of saving her, he was returning now; but their kiss had been a covenent of honor between Aurore and him, and he heldit sacred. Aurore would know that Kansas had told him she had been Carter-Snowdon's wife; and it would be an unbearable ordeal for her to face him, and he wanted to spare Aurore that. Whatever lay back of her marriage and her flight, she had gone through some terrible suffering of soul, and Dorn pitied her profoundly, with a sympathy and tenderness that rose above his own personal loss of her.

He planned that he would order Carter-Snowdon and Quillan into the biplane and would himself pilot it back to Titan Pass; and that Kansas would take Aurore into the Silver Hawk and fly her to some other refuge.

As his plane sped north at lofty height Dorn looked back and saw Kansas sweeping the horizon with the binoculars. Far ahead the star-shaped glacier swam into view, and he caught the fiery glint of Goat Mesa. A few seconds later, glancing back again, he saw Kansas suddenly stiffen, with the glasses pointed north toward that horseshoe range, and he knew Kansas had picked up the biplane.

Dorn started; a question struck him like a blow: what if Aurore was in that plane? He had thought to get there before they rose with her. But if they had captured Aurore, how could he fight them and get her out of their power? Compared with the battle just ended, to knock that heavy ship out of the air would be child's play—one swoop, one stab and a deadly fusillade from the Lewis. But with Aurore in that plane? She was their protection; they would ignore him and fly on; with their big tank capacity they could stay in the air three hours to his one, and fly clear beyond his pursuit.

He clung to the hope that Aurore had eluded them altogether, and that they had come away without her.

For several long minutes, Kansas intently studied the distant growing speck, drawing it close to him with the powerful X-12's. Through the propeller arch Dorn himself presently sighted it, circling for altitude above Aurore's lake. When he turned again in suspense and fear of the worst, Kansas slowly brought down the glasses. He leaned forward, cupping his hands, and shouted into Dorn's ear:

"Jim, I can see 'em plain: they've got her!"

A plan born of stark necessity came to Dorn. Kansas' remark that Quillan, the pilot of that machine, was a coward at heart, had stuck in his mind and worked subconsciously. He had associated with all types of bird men; air psychology—the peculiar quirks and idiosyncrasies of a flyer's temperament—was a familiar subject to him. It was on Kansas' blunt characterization of Harry Quillan that Dorn built his strategy.

There was a certain amount of peril in it—peril to himself and Kansas and to Aurore. But it was his last hope on earth of stopping that plane. Unless he struck and struck hard, it would carry her away; it could fly farther than the Silver Hawk; it would fly to the Pacific ranges. For himself and Kansas the peril did not matter. For Aurore . . . he believed in the depths of his soul she would rather die here in her beloved mountains than be carried a helpless prisoner to one of Carter-Snowdon's camps.

Dorn studied his plan very closely, and he came to see that the actual danger was very slight. He knew his own air skill; and six weeks of daily work with the Silver Hawk had familiarized him with its magnificent control and instant response. Piloting it, he could gauge a manœuvre to a rod and time his acts to the fraction of a second. He could achieve his purpose—stopping that biplane—with little more than the ordinary hazards of flying.

As Aurore's blue lake unfolded from its mountain hiding and the hostile plane far below came almost under keel, he turned to Kansas; and in the language of lips and signs, perfected by six years of partnership, they talked the situation over.

Kansas too had thought out a plan. They should fly along with that biplane until it was above some big lake where Quillan could make a dead-stick landing. Then Dorn was to bring the Silver Hawk up alongside the enemy, and at point-blank range Kansas was to shoot through the cowling and riddle the engine and put it out of commission, forcing Quillan to glide down and light.

Dorn pondered the suggestion. At first glance it looked less dangerous than his own plan; but in reality, as he studied it in detail, he saw it was a hundred times more so. A bullet deflected from the engine block might pierce a gas tank and send the biplane down in flames; or might kill the pilot, or cut a support and let a wing crumple. But failing this there was a greater danger still: however deadly the range, a speeding airplane was an uncertain target—doubly uncertain when a gunner was shooting from the unsteady cockpit of another plane. The slightest wobble or bump of either craft might swerve that hail of bullets back at the rear seats—at Aurore.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

What To-day Means To You

"SAGITTARIUS"

If November 26th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 a.m. to 10:45 a.m., from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. and from 9 p.m. to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from noon to 1:30 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Unless your position in life is secure on this date, it may prove to be a critical time for you. Dangers lurk in your pleasures—be careful of sports. A misunderstanding may cause you secret sorrow. A journey to an elder may bring you joy.

Children born on this November 26th will have venturesome, cheerful natures, and quick mentalities. They will have hasty tempers, but will be very kind hearted and generous. They will be fond of the flesh pots and rather too-amusement-loving for their own good. They will make many friends.

You show two very different characters, one external and another internal, and this makes it very difficult for you to be understood. You are bold, reckless and daring, yet at the same time very sensitive, impressionable and reticent. You are ardent and rather petulant, but seldom bear malice. You often show irritability, which results from no apparent cause, but which in reality is the result of restraint, and is caused by your double nature coming into play at one and the same time.

Your manners are naturally gentle, only becoming brusque or defiant in the presence of enemies or when stirred to self-defence. Your nature will be hopeful, joyous and youthful even in advanced years. Unsympathetic surroundings fret you exceedingly, and you are a friend of peace, truth and justice, and are seldom engaged in strife without good cause.

Many obstacles are shown in the first part of your life, but fortune will come to you in the end, probably through personal application to your calling or profession. Trouble is shown through your father or father-in-law. You will have many illustrious and useful friends, although false friends will try to injure your honor, without success.

Your family life and home affairs will not be altogether harmonious, and will be a cause of sorrow and regret to you. In this respect you will be the victim of circumstances and astrological influences.

Voice of the People

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People column must be received at The Examiner Office on the day before it is desired to have them inserted.

To the Editor of The Examiner,

Dear Sir,—In Saturday's issue of this paper it was stated that a number of people visited Keene, had their supper in the basement of the United Church, then proceeded to the Hall where the evening was spent in playing cards and dancing.

Now a great many good people question these along with some other amusements because of their history, associations and influence, especially in the young. As the supper was provided by the Women's Missionary Society, they were therefore catering to questionable amusements.

The program for the evening was not definitely known to the Society as a whole, therefore, we desire the responsibility to rest on the person or persons to which it belongs.

WHERE ARE WE NOW

Editor of The Examiner,

Dear Sir,—Montreal is a fine place to meet, as one may, leading Canadians who are keeping in close touch with the momentous and perplexing condition of Empire affairs.

The settlement of the Indian question by the adoption almost unanimously by the Indian delegates of the Dominion status for India and the granting of it by the MacDonald Government in Britain has raised that government out of the hole it was in and will ensure its return to power.

But the settlement means more than settlement of the Indian question. It means a federated empire or none at all. And could a British empire be established if each or any part of it treats the others to a tariff which tries to keep out instead of circulating the Empire's products.

We will either establish and develop a mutual and common or united interest or go our ways. Mr. Bennett's policy as we know has met the warm, if slyly reserved approval of the United States because it means separation and not a United Empire.

I have seen prominent Canadians just returned from abroad who freely state that if Canada persists in her exclusive trade policy there is nothing in all this talk on our part of a united empire. Quebec so far as our French friends go, is opposed to an empire policy. It would tend to submerge not to increase the importance of Quebec and its French-Canadian aspirations. That of course is true. It was that which defeated Mr. King and the London Conference policy of 1926.

It is freely and openly believed here that another general election would see Mr. Bennett's Quebec majority greatly increased. To tell the simple truth, Mr. King sacrificed himself to the united Empire policy of the 1926 Conference. Mr. Bennett opposed it and has gained additional prestige in Quebec by rendering by his exclusive stand (Britons are not deceived by his speeches) the present conference null and void. No one sees a way out of it if this exclusive policy is to be maintained by Canada.

Certainly it is either reciprocal preferences which India has now joined in promising or no preferences and Canada out of the Empire.

Think how absurd it would be if India promised nothing but high protective duties against Great Britain and the other dominions and gave hollow assurances of loyalty at the same time.

It may yet be a British empire without Canada if Conservatives persist in their present anti-Imperial policy.

Mr. Ferguson is doing all he can in every way to save the situation. His demand that the provinces be consulted was a crafty move and it was no less crafty of Britain to accept it. In no other way could Canada's separatist policy be blocked although it is no part of the B.N.A. Act that provinces should deal with extra-provincial or foreign affairs. I met a very prominent Liberal and former Minister who blamed Mr. King violently for adopting the Empire policy when Mr. Bennett was not forcing him to it by any showing of loyalty on his part.

He too, could only see the advantage of power at Ottawa. The Empire means nothing to such as these.

SCHOOL OF AIR PILOTAGE SUBMITTED BY COMMITTEE

LONDON, Nov. 25 (C.P. Cable).—A scheme to establish an imperial school of air pilotage, for training and testing future professional pilots in pilotage, navigation, meteorology, the economics of air transport and international air legislation, etc., is being submitted to the British Air Ministry by the special sub-committee appointed by the late Air Minister, Lord Thomson.

This was revealed at the first annual meeting of the Guild of Air Pilots and Air Navigators of the British Empire last night. It is suggested the course would last one or two years and would be available to picked, experienced pilots, including overseas and foreign aviators.

ENFORCEMENT OF LAWS GREATEST NEED OF U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (C.P.)—An enforcement of State and Federal laws and a "widespread public awakening" were put forward to-day by President Hoover as a solution to the problem presented by gangster activities in the United States.

He disavowed any intention of proposing "extension of the Federal Criminal laws to cover racketeering."

"What is needed is the enforcement of laws, and not more laws," he said.

MINING TREND IS SLIGHTLY EASIER

All Groups Show Predominance of Minor Recessions at Mid-day.

TRADING IS LIGHT.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 26. (C.P.)—By the Canadian Press.—General trend was easier on the mining market in the forenoon to-day, all groups showing a predominance of minor recessions at midday. Trade was in light volume and spotty.

Petrol Oil and Gas received some favorable attention, price moving up a few cents to just over 40. Acme Gas was off several cents from last night, Nordon lost 3½ to 62½, Home Oil 5 to $2.15, Dalhousie 3 to 52 and Calmont a point to 29.

Interlisted stocks were softer. Nickel and Noranda both losing fractions in relatively small turnover. Falconbridge declined 10 to $1.45, Ventures a couple to 4¾, while Sherritt Gordon and Sudbury Basin were practically unchanged. White Lake, a recent strong point, weakened, the price falling 1¾ to 26.

Golds followed the trend, McIntyre losing 20 to $17.50, Teck Hughes 5 to $5.70, Kirkland Lake gold a couple to 45 and Mining Corp. and Wright-Hargreaves a point each, Howey managed to firm a fraction to 24½.

TORONTO LIST REMAINS DULL

Favorite Issues in Tuesday's Session Closely Watched By Speculators To-day.

LEADERS DECLINE.

TORONTO, Nov. 26. (By the Canadian Preess)—Trading slackened and price range narrowed on Toronto Stock Exchange this morning. Wall Street will be closed to-morrow in observance of Thanksgiving Day and to-day's market on the local exchange was a typical pre-holiday on . The interlisted issues were particularly slow, nickel recorded only one transaction the first hour and sales were under 500 shares at the end of the second hour. The fluctuations, such as they were, carried no significance.

Stocks which shot up yesterday, notably Page-Hersey Tubes, Supertest Petroleum and McColl-Frontenac were closely watched this morning. They lacked the insistent demand of Tuesday, however, and settled back after the opening.

McColl also turned down on profit-taking; however buying came back into this stock before midday and the price strengthened again. The other oils were dull and practically unchanged.

Many of the usual leaders were slightly lower in the morning, but so small was the turnover that losses could be disregardded. Walkers came out ex-dividend 25 cents a share and down, just that amount from last night.

PROTESTS SUBSIDY GIVEN GRAND OPERA

Conservatives Maintain That Foreign Opera Will Flood Covent Garden.

LONDIN, Eng., Nov. 26. (C. P. Cable).—A motion from the back benches of the Conservative representation in the House of Commons will protest against the Government allotting a subsidy to Grand Opera at Convent Garden.

A manifesto of the National Farmer's Union says that most operas will be of foreign origin in the forthcoming season. Rt. Hon. Dr. Christopher Addison, Minister of Agriculture might well argue in cabinet that since subsidized German wheat was good enough for the British farmer a dose of subsidized Faust would be equally palatable to the British entertainment industry.

STRONG ANNUAL REPORT ISSUED BY THE BANK OF MONTREAL

Principal Departments Show Gains During Last Six Months.

ASSETS INCREASED.

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 26.— (By the Canadian Press.) —Showing an increase in deposits and its total assets a reduction in call loans and in current loans, a decrease in profits but an increase in surplus carried forward, as compared with last year, the annual report of the Bank of Montreal for the year ended Oct. 31, 1930, was issued to shareholders yesterday.

The statement of assets and liabilities was annually strong. Total assets were reported at $826,969,537 as compared with $822,599,648 last year. Of this total liquid assets amounted to $439,192,479, or 59.32 per cent. of total liabilities to the public.

The deposit and loss account showed profits of $6,519,031 compared with $7,070,892 in the previous year. The net profits, added to the amount carried forward, made the total available for distribution $7,254,612, allotted" as follows: Dividends and bonus, $5,047,586; provision for taxes, $459,979, and reservation for bank premises, $800,000 ,leaving a balance to be carried forward of $947,047 as against $735,582 at the end of the previous fiscal year.

Due to general market conditions call loans had been substantially reduced, the report showed, amounting to $17,840,690 in Canada, down from $21,460,856 and call loans in Great Britain and the United States have declined from $68,028,615 to $90,921,712. A substantial increase is shown in Dominion and Provincial Government securities held by the bank.

The smaller volume of business being done in the countr is reflected by a reduction in current loans in Canada to $290,872,423 from $335,301,194 while current loans outside Canada held fairly steady.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND BRIEFS

A SPECIAL SERVICE TO THE EXAMINER

During the early hours of trading to-day the market had all the typical earmarks of a pre-holida session Wall Street was weak, indicating a continuance of the sentiment prevailing at the close yesterday and the indisposition on the part of traders to hold stocks over the Thursday holiday when American markets will be closed for Thanksgiving. Locally, the effect was to cause trading to dry up until scarcely any sales were being recorded on the tape. Price fluctuations of the inter-listed stocks sway as does New York, but the limits are more confined and so far as the local market is concerned, carry no significance.

The insistent demand having abated, those issues which figured prominently on the advance Tuesday made no further progress this morning, the stock being all owed to consolidate position. In some instances, where orders were completely filed the bid was promptly lowered. Such movements reflect the balance between desire and willingness to dispose of the stock at the moment and in no way affect the inherent value of the stock.

Brazilian Statement.

Shareholders of the Brazilian Traction Light and Power Company, should be well satisfied with the statement of earnings for the first ten months of 1930, which only shows a decrease in net of considerable less than one percent when compared with the corresponding months of 1929. The company, probably more so than any other Canadian corporation has experienced considerable difficulty in maintaining earnings. There is the general business depression that is world wide and the problems of the country itself, such as the depreciated value of the Brazilian milreis and the revolution in Brazil occupied practically the entire month of October. For the first ten months of 1930, net is down only $92,795, A fraction of one per cent, and to accomplish this the management had to effect economies of operation with operating expenses down materially, thus improvement is to be noted in the ration of net earnings to gross. The extent of the decrease in operating expenses can better guage by the fact that the reduction in the month of October alone was more than the total decrease in net earnings experienced in the months of January, August, September and October.

Massey Harris Plant.

In a current analysis of Massey Harris, Standard Statistics says the company is the most important farm machine company in the British Empire, having a well developed sales organization throughout the world. Massey Harris has plants, in addition to those in Great Britain, in the United States, Canada, Germany, France and South America. In line with tendencies in farm equipment industry throughout the world. Standard' Statistics states earnings dropped sharply after a relatively good start in 1930. Not only did Canadian business diminish, but all important export operations dropped considerably, in reflection of world wide crop deterioration, depreciated currencies and widespread business depression. One country, Australia, actually placed an embargo on farm machinery. Net income in 1930 is expected to be well below that of the year ended November 30, 1929, for which the equivalent of $3.58 a share on average common shares outstanding was reported.

Imperial Bank Report.

In concluding his remarks at the annual general meeting of the stockholders of the Imperial Bank of Canada here to-day the president, Frank A Rolph, said he was an optimist and in a country like Canada, we should all be optimists. "Canada is on the threshold of much bigger and better things. She cannot help but go forward if her people, are industrious and move forward with courage and confidence in order that they may participate in the good times which are before us." Mr. Rolph told those present. The president said "Our industries arising from our great natural resources, such as mining lumbering pulp and paper are, suffering from over production and a consequent drop in prices, but this is a situation which we have passed through before, and which we are, I am thankful to say, passing out of now. We have in most cases, I think, touched bottom, and while the up grade in volume and price will probably be slow it has already started in some commodities and I feel satisfied will continue."

Favored at New York

One of the group of Canadian stocks picked by four members of the Toronto financial group is also favored by the round table crowd in New York. This group meets for luncheon each week in that city and informally discusses financial matter and possibilities of market appreciation for certain securities. This week the group were favorable to the rubber industry, believing that this industry was in sound condition from the standpoint of inventories and that it was bound to be helped next year by the trend of raw material prices as well as by a revival in demand for tires. According to a wire received by the local office of A. J. Wright and Co., the favorites were good year of Akron and Goodyear of Canada.

The ordinary shares of the Canadian company are currently selling around 90 and earnings for the year ended September 30, 1930, were equal to $8.02 per share. Good year is the largest rubber company in the Dominion and was pointed out as being in an exceptionally strong financial condition.

Stock Market Ticker Briefs and Flashes

The stock market reactionary tendencies which broke out on Tuesday afternoon, again characterized trading in early dealings. Disappointment over failure of steel and other leaders to carry through on the upside, caused considerable liquidation of commission house lines and encouaged bearish professionals to resume hammering tactics suspended during the recent recovery.

Advices from steel trade were unfavorable and freight loading during the week ending November 15, showed a decrease of 52,150 cars rfom the preceding week. Adverse developments in business news, increased pressure on main body of stocks and active shares generally displayed a heavy tone.

Steel common declined to a new low on reaction at 145¾ off ½ from Tuesday's final and Westinghouse at 101¾ off 1.

California Oil Cut Likely

Los Angeles coincident with further curtailment of California Crude oil production to bring States output down to required level consistent with demand, it is likely that an oil cut will be made. It is probable that readjustment of crude prices will be necessary in certain fields. Shading of refinable crude prices is a logical sequence of present conditions in competitive markets and the only outlet for California operators if they intend to reduce their inventories. What fields will be affected or to what extent adjustments may be necessary are matters that will come up for consideration, no doubt, at a meeting of the general operators' committee scheduled for this week, which will act on the proposals to reduce States' total output from present daily fixed allowable of 5,402,000 barrels to below the 535,000 barrels recommended by the committee on Petroleum economies, in its recent report to the Federal Oil Conservation Board. Actual production in California has been averaging in excess of 600,000 barrels daily recently.

Hopes in the Steel industry are heightened by the reports of further expansion in demand from the railways and automobile industries and a piling up of construction projects, particularly public undertaking. There is some hope that such impending projects will give added force to current efforts to stabilize prices.

Clarke says: "We believe that if further selling is accompanied by a falling off in volume, stocks will be purchased for a turn. Excellent profits can be collected in Steel WX and UN, if bought on weakness this week-end. Do not get too bearish on the market," they counsel.

Winnipeg Review

Special Service to The Examiner through the courtesy of E. J. Bawlf Company, Grain and Stock Brokers, of Toronto

Wheat continued nervous and erratic within a somewhat narrow range yesterday, with trade volume not heavy and without any particular feature. The market opened sharply lower with prices declining 1½ cents from Monday night's close, but a good recovery was made, the May and July months coming back to the previous close, but the nearby months did not show the same recovery. There was no export business overnight, but there was some business worked on the break this morning, probably 600,000 or 700,000 bushels and the buying against this business, combined with some good buying by one large Chicago house, was the cause of the upturn. Later in the day the buying petered out and with longs unloading and with some selling credited to the pool, the market again sold off sharply, making new lows for the day. Liverpool was somewhat firmer than due, closing ¾ to 7-8 higher, while Buenos Aires was half up at midday after opening ½ lower, and there was a private report put out that Buenos Aires was about 3½ higher, but this could not be confirmed. There was a good demand for some grades of cash wheat, presumably to fill boat space and spreads were mostly 1-8 better to 1-8 off. Offerings continued on the light side and round lots appear difficult to buy without advancing prices as holders appear to be well hedged around a good carrying spread. Flour trade is generally quiet. Bradstreets available wheat supplies increased 7,873,000 bushels for the week.

Coarse grains—These markets followed the trend of wheat, and while there was not much selling pressure in evidence, all markets were lower. The cash markets were quiet and outside of a little business with eastern Canada there is nothing going on, with export sales flat.

Liverpool due 7-8 to 1¼ lower.

HUNTING VICTIM DIES

ST. STEPHEN, N.B., Nov. 26 (C.P.)—Thomas Robinson, 68, of Bass Wood Bridge, Charlotte County, shot in the neck at De Wolf Corner, 12 miles from this town, Monday, by a hunting companion, Allan McGowan, of De Wolf Corner, died in the Chipman Memorial Hospital here last night. He was conscious before his death and in a statement exonerated McGowan.

ESKIMO FASHIONS UNIQUE ICE RAFT

Stranded on Drift Ice Makes Getaway on Rough Boat With Stock as Paddle.

POINT BARROW, Alaska, Nov. 26. (CP)—Marooned on a small island of ice, while hunting a polar bear, Joe, an Eskimo, fashioned a rough raft from the ice and used a rifle stock as a paddle to make his way to safety in a 42-hour battle. Finally reaching shore ice near here yesterday.

He was exhausted, hungry and with frost-bitten fingers. While he was on the ice temperatures ranged from 20 to 30 degrees below zero.

Killing one bear and wounding another, the Eskimo tracked down the second animal and killed it. In the hunt he had left the shore several miles behind him. The ice began drifting rapidly northward. Knowing rescue was impossible the Eskimo made his raft and started on the return journey.

WORK DIVIDED ABOUT EQUALLY

Same Number of County and City Men Employed on Highway Jobs.

BY BRENNAN COMPANY.

Complete satisfaction was expressed this morning by J. F. Strickland M.P.P., with the manner in which the Brennan Construction Company is striving to comply with the agreement reached between Mr. Strickland and T. P. Lancaster, county member of the Provincial Government, that county and city men share equally in the jobs available on the new provincial highway east of the city. Mr. Strickland said that he had investigated, following rumors that the city men were not receiving fair treatment by the company.

Referring to the fact that seven city workmen had been laid off from the job early this week, Mr. Strickland said that the men had been engaged in ditch digging and that this kind of work was completed now. "I am interested in seeing that city men get work," concluded Mr. Strickland" and can state positively that the company is fully carrying out the agreement with Mr. Lancaster and myself."

N. MONAGHAN REFUSED GRANT

Three Out of Four Municipalities in County Get Grants to Aid Unemployment.

MAKING OTHER PLANS.

All except one municipality in Peterborough County which applied for some small share of the $20,000,000 being distributed by the Federal government for unemployment relief have received notice that they will receive grants out of the Dominion and Provincial treasuries to go ahead with their unemployment relief work.

North Monaghan township is the one municipality to be refused. Lakefield will receive $2,500, Norwood $1,000 and Havelock $1,000. Havelock and Norwood have both about expended already the full amount, but Lakefield has yet to start the relief work, which will likely take the form of surface drains. Lakefield wanted sufficient to install a waterworks system but was refused this large program.

North Monaghan wanted a grant of $1,000 for surface drains, and although the request was turned down by the Ontario Unemployment Relief Committee, Reeve McIntosh is still hopeful that it will be approved.

The unemployment is being felt rather keenly in certain sections of North Monaghan now and the township council is considered various plans which might give relief. One farmer has offered a swamp to the council for the purpose of wood cutting at a cost of $1 per cord. It is proposed to put the unemployed at work cutting this wood at so much a cord. In this way the unemployed would receive assistance without charity and the township would have wood available to distribute through charity channels.

Lady's Shoe Betrays Robber

The lady's shoe with whitened finger print that finally convicted two men and saved a father.

The finger print on the shoe found by the police.

A Father Saved

On the morning of January 22, 1929, a store was robbed. The only clue was a finger-print left on a lady's patent leather shoe. It had been picked up and dropped. The police had the finger print whitened and photographed, then retained the shoe and photograph for evidence. Two months later three men were arrested on another robbery —a father and two sons. Finger prints were taken, and one corresponded with the prints on the shoe. As a result, the two sons were convicted of the former robbery and the father was exonerated.

All because of the clear record written by a thumb-print on a shoe.

Your Danger Dirt

This is told to indicate how you leave finger-prints on everything you touch. And these prints are germ-laden. Life Extension Institute lists 27 diseases which are conveyed in those ways to the mouth.

Colds are among them. One uses a hand to stop a sneeze or a cough. Cold germs are blown upon it. Then everything touched by that hand is contaminated.

Buttering your bread, eating candy or fruit—every touch leaves that germ imprint if you fail to clean the hands. Not with ordinary soap, but with Lifebuoy. That contains a germicide. And tests show that no active germs exist after you apply it.

Wash hands often—with Lifebuoy—many times a day. Never touch anything which enters the mouth until Lifebuoy makes hands safe.

And Lifebuoy, based on two palm oils, is also an exquisite soap. No soap was ever more luxurious, none better for the skin. The scent of safety is there but disappears quickly after every use.

The careful people, in every country of the world, are using Lifebuoy for this reason. No other soap in existence so combines luxury and safety.

First Cake FREE

We supply the first cake of Lifebuoy —one only to a family—with our compliments for test. Just send your name and address, and learn how much this soap can do. Not merely a soap of palm oils, but an antiseptic soap. You will never use anything else for toilet or bath when you know it. Cut out this reminder so you won't forget. Clip it now.

ENGINEERING INSTITUTE HOLDS BIG BANQUET

EXODUS OF CANADIAN GRADUATES IN ENGINEERING TO UNITED STATES IS DEPLORED BY COL. R. E. SMYTHE

After War as High as Twenty-seven Per Cent. of Gradu. ates Left For U. S.

TO PLAY LEADING PART.

Technical Service Council Has Greatly Aided in Keeping Men in Canada.

In deploring the exodus to the United States of a large percentage of the graduates of Canada's universities, which has been checked appreciably by the activities of the Technical Service Council, of which he is a director, Colonel R. E Smythe, D.S.O., speaking before members of the Peterborough Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada, and their guests at the twelfth annual banquet of the Association in the Empress Hotel last evening, explained that in the past fifty years this exodus from one university alone, was approximately 17 per cent. After the War and up to the year 1928, the percentage rose as high as 24 47 per cent. At that time the Technical Service Council was formed with the intention of increasing the use for technically trained men in Canada and to influence the supply and demand in all branches of the profession; also to establish a clearing house that men of ability could find some opening, where their talents may be used for the good of their own country.

98 Percent Stayed in 1930

In 1929, 97 per cent of the graduates of Ontario universities put their efforts into Canadian enterprises, in 1930 the percentage rose to 98. "This country needs her engineers" he declared, in making it quite plain that the organization of which he spoke, was in no way antagonistic to the United States. In 1931, he said, there will be 38 engineers graduating in Canada for every one million of the population, while in the United States next year, there will be 82 graduates for every million of the populace.

"I believe that in the near future the engineers of Canada are to play a larger part in the wealth of the country, than they have done in the past. We still see the demand for engineers, which has kept constant despite the slight depression in most other industries and professions," he said.

The speaker thought the E.I.C. was due for an increase in membership and an increase in influence and strength, and that the quickest way to accomplish such an end was for the A.I.E.E., the Technical Service Council and other kindred organizations to get into harness and pull together, then the engineers of the Dominion occupy a new status, and commence to play a greater part in the leadership of this country, more than ever before.

Commenting on the emigration situation, Colonel Smythe, while realising that Canada needs many men of the right stamp and calibre was nevertheless of the opinion that in times of depression emigration on a large scale should not be encouraged. With this idea in mind the Council had written to several young men in the preferred countries and had urged them to postpone their impending migration to Canada, until trade conditions become more stabilised. The result of this action had been a large falling off in the number of immigrants to this country during the past year; more work for our own engineers and the assurance that these intending migrants, providing they are of the right type will be needed very shortly.

Such were the main points in Colonel Smythe's address, before his professional colleagues and their guests. The banquet was featured by an impressive program of toasts and addresses by prominent members of the engineering and sister professions, which crowned with success the efforts of the energetic executive and afforded fresh impetus to the season's activities of the local branch.

Among the guest speakers, including Colonel Smythe, were A. J. Grant, M.E.I.C., president of the E.I.C.; R. J. Durley, M.E.I.C., general secretary of the E.I.C.; A. B. Gates, A.M.E.I.C., A. L. Killaly, A.M.E.I.C., superintendent engineer, Trent Canal; R. L. Dobbin, M.E.I.C.; C. E. Sisson, vice-president, District No. 10 (all Canada); E.I.C., A.I.E.E.; R. C. Flitton, A.M.E.I.C.; Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, president Peterborough Ministerial Association; J. Walton Stevenson, representing Peterborough Law Association, Dr. A. G. Howson, representing Peterborough Medical Association; Robert J. Bolton, B.A., representing Peterborough Teacher's Association and Alderman G. A. Macdonald, representing His Worship, Mayor R. Denne. E. A. Peck, M.P., was among the number of prominent guests.

Presiding over the dinner meeting, W. E. Ross, A.M.E.I.C., president of the local branch, proved a capable master of ceremonies. Following the banquet he introduced the program by a brief address, in which he reviewed the aims of the Peterborough branch of the Institute, and the possibilities it holds for the profession.

Alderman Macdonald.

"I convey to you on behalf of the Mayor, his regrets at his inability to attend", said Alderman Macdonald, who thought it a great honour to be present in his stead among old friends and to make many new friends. "We have, I believe, three classes of people here to-night, the first those who are making their initial visit to this city, to whom I extend a very hearty welcome; those who have visited us before and are renewing acquaintances and thirdly the "home brews"—those who have left this city for the advancement of their profession and for their own good, and to you all I wish to convey greetings from the City, which are most sincere.

The chairman then commissioned Mr. Killaly to telephone the regrets of the gathering at the absence of E. R. Shirley, who is ill, and their heartfelt wishes for his speedy recovery.

Proposing the toast to "The Institute", Mr. Dobbin, said we are here to-night to do honour to the E.I.C. of which Peterborough branch is an important part. The local branch was organized in 1919 he said, while the parent association has its jurisdiction over the whole Dominion from coast to coast. It occupies a unique position among the major engineering societies in the world, as among its members all classes of the engineering profession are represented. There are 5,000 members with 24 branches. The Peterborough branch is proud of the fact that of the Institutes past presidents and the president four of them are old members of this branch, namely Walter J. Francis, R. A. Ross, J. Fairbairn, chief engineer of the C.P.R. and Mr. Grant, now of Niagara Peninsula district.

Expressing his pleasure at being once again with the engineers of the Peterborough branch, Mr. Grant, the Dominion president, said in responding he came in the category described as "home brew". Speaking on behalf of the Institute he was of the opinion that it was at the present time, passing through a critical period. At one time, he said the branches were the means of rejuvenating the Institute. To-day the tendency of the engineering profession was to neglect becoming members of the E.I.C. He considered it the duty of every member of the profession to encourage his colleagues to become members of the Institute. As regards the Peterborough branch, he was of the opinion that they were doing well so far as membership was concerned. Speaking of the establishment of a Provincial Association, he explained that it had been formed to obtain protective legislation etc., to the engineering profession, but he could see the need for more co-operation between the various organizations of the profession and particularly between the E.I.C., and the Provincial Association. In unity is strength," he said.

Coupled with the name of the president was that of Mr. Durley, general secretary who in speaking along similar lines to the previous speaker, told something of the progress which has been made, and said he thought the Institute is at present undergoing a very special stage of development, but there was no reason for members to be disconsolate—quite the reverse—we are looking forward to great development in the near future.

A. B. Gates, proposing the toast of "The Branches," referred to them as the children of the mother body the E.I.C. He also spoke of the Institutes grandchild,' the members of the Junior Institute, a branch of which is successfully operating in this city.

The toast was responded to by E. G. Cameron, on the staff of the Welland Ship Canal and a member of the Niagara Peninsula branch. He spoke of Mr. Grant as being a joint member of Peterborough and Niagara branches.

With this toast were coupled the names of Mr. Cannon, chairman of the Montreal branch; Colonel Smedley, professor of engineering R.M.C., Kingston; and the chairman of the Toronto branch.

On A. L. Killaly devolved the pleasurable duty of proposing a toast to the "Sister Associations." The toast was responded to by C. E. Sisson of Toronto, a former member of Peterborough branch, who urged co-operation instead of competition among the various engineering associations. The "Sister Professions" was proposed by R. C. Flitton, past chariman of the local branch and was responded to by Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, on behalf of the Ministerial Association, Mr. Stevenson the Law Association, Dr. A. G. Howson, medical association and Mr. Bolton. Teachers' Association.

The program was rounded out by stunt speeches and a skit featuring the activities of certain prominent members of local branch on the recent occasion of their visit to Canada Cement Works, featured by the members of the Junior Institute. There was also a good musical program contributed by Mr. Harry Northrop, pianist, Stanley Northrop, violin and Jack Thackery, 'cello; a solo by R. J. Cobbold, S.E.I.C., and community singing leader Mac Manning, an old Peterborough boy.

At the head table stood a large welded steel, working scale model of the Welland Ship Canal bridge at Welland, made by S. O. Shields, assisted by fellow associates of the Institute.

COURT STANLEY'S ANNUAL BANQUET IS BIG SUCCESS

First Court Was Opened in England in 1798 and in Canada in 1871.

OLDEST SOCIETY IN CITY.

Object is to Relieve Distress and is Unity, Benevolence and Concord.

A very successful banquet was held by "Count Stanley" Ancient Order of Foresters, in the "Downeyflake" last evening. After an excellent menu, speeches and toasts were in order, interspersed here and there with songs.

The Chairman, F. A. Dainton, C.R., welcomed his brothers to the 41st anniversary banquet, and he was especially grateful to Mayor Denne and J. F. Strickland, M.P.P., for their presence.

T. Henry, P.D.C.R., was called upon to propose the toast to "Our City." In his remarks, he stated that he had learned to appreciate the good things of Peterborough during his 30 years' residence here. He had visited many towns and cities throughout Ontario but found his own city to be unsurpassed. Their residential section was clean, they were blessed with a good governing body—a good Mayor and Aldermen—who were willing to act on suggestions or complaints; thus they looked to the officials for leadership.

Replying to the toast His Worship the Mayor said that he and his Council were doing the best they could for the city. The Aldermen showed 100 per cent. attendance at meetings, thereby showing an interest in the work of the city.

This city, declared the Mayor, was principally of the Anglo-Saxon race and what foreigners there were, they were all good citizens and landowners. There are only 411 registered as unemployed, and the Council was doing all it could to provide work to willing workers. "We are not afraid to spend out money on relief—for we believe Canada can stand this hard situation." The Mayor said that a new City Hall was needed, as well as added co-operation with the Nicholls Hospital Board. The city was paying the hospital $600 a month now, but more assistance was necessary. In closing, Mr. Denne asked for the co-operation of all the members of the Lodge.

S. Whittaker then proposed the toast to "Court Stanley." In the course of a brief speech, he stated that all the members were doing all they could, and would in future.

Oldest Society in City

G. Record signalized himself as one of the older members, though not a charter member, as there are only two left now. The A.O.F. is one of the oldest societies in Peterborough, declared the speaker. For $2.00 a year a member was entitled to 8 weeks per year in the hospital without charge. The main attraction of the Lodge was the association with the old members; they have a sportsmanlike spirit; their friendship forms one of the bright spots of his life.

The toast to "Our Country" was proposed by S. Mason, D.C.R. He sketched the history of Canada, and was very proud of its ancestry.

J. F. Strickland, M.P.P., interested his audience with his reply. He had heard over the radio a speech concerning the individual interest of people. This is true to a certain extent, but Canada could not have gone ahead the way she has if this were true. Peterborough has grown according to previous planning; Canada was doing the same. We have tradition behind us. Borden made Canada felt at the League of Nations; Meighen at Washington urged world peace; Foster was a great exponent of the same idea. Our viewpoint should extend to the whole world through strong healthy Canadian opinion.

A presentation of jewel and certificate by Mr. S. Mason to E. Ray, P.C.R., was made.

Mr. Ray, called upon to propose the toast to "Our Order," stated that if the members lived up to their Order, their lives would be a credit to the city and the country, and they should thereby help in the uplift of Canada.

In response A. Day, H.C.S.B., conveyed a message of best wishes from the Council of Foresters. He then reviewed the history and purpose of the Lodge. The first court was opened in England in 1798; in Canada in 1871. The object was to relieve distress, to help the poor, and comfort the mourners; the motto was "Unity, Benevolence and Concord." Its members were aided during the war and in the 'flu epidemic immediately after. The order had received many hard knocks but had managed to keep its status of 100 per cent. solvency. Every member was insured to cover all the family.

E. Bradshaw took a critical viewpoint in proposing the toast to "The Medical Profession." He alleged conservatism in the profession. However they had had several hard bumps during the War. But they should give preventative measures rather than attempt cures.

Dr. G. T. Louden then said that the aim of his profession was service. He spoke of the Nicholls Hospital situation, and closed his remarks by wishing the Order every success.

Then there followed a silent toast to "Absent Brothers."

Mr. Dowson next proposed a toast to "The Press." In his remarks he outlined the strides made by the press in the last few years. He laid emphasis on its high-spirited work, and its aim of advancing interests and good causes—the Press was kind to societies. He asked for a greater measure of sympathy for those who were doing their best to serve the public with select news.

"God Save the King" and "Auld Lang Syne" closed one of the most successful banquets of the Lodge.

OLD U.S. MOTORS SENT TO RUSSIA

400 Liberty Motors Sold to American People Who Resold to Amtorg.

SECRET PLANS GIVEN.

WASHINGTON, November 26 (C. P.). — A story of discarded United States Army airplane motors going secretly to Russia was told here yesterday by a former official of the Soviet's trading agency in this country.

Basil E. W. Delgass, once vice-president of the Amtorg Corporation, related to the House's Special Communist Investigating Committee. Four hundred Liberty motors, a discarded type, were sold by the War Department to United States citizens, he said, who in turn resold them to the Amtorg. They found their way to Russia under bills of lading bearing the designation "Other Machinery." Delgass added they were accompanied by "secret plans" for improvement of military motors for which, he said, bribes might have been paid.

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 26 (C.P.) — Faced with a tremendous deficit of 150,000,000 pesos (about $150,500,000) in meeting this year's expenses, the Finance Ministry, preparing next year's budget, has arrived at the conclusion it will be necessary to dismiss 10,000 State employees and workmen.

In order to avoid unemployment, if their discharge is decided upon, the Government is studying a vast plan of road construction over the country which will provide work for thousands of laborers.

Once upon a Time

women bought their soaps much after this fashion—a good laundry soap, a perfumed soap for toilet use, and a safe soap—Infant's Delight, of course—for baby.

Nowadays, however, women have begun to realize that a soap that cleanses and soothes baby's tender bloom is the proper one for other skins. They inquire into the whys and wherefores of Infant's Delight.

They discover that it is a pure bland soap, made from the finest of ingredients. And that boracic has been added, making it mildly antiseptic and soothing to sensitive skins. Women everywhere these days are using Infant's Delight not only for baby, but for themselves.

OSHAWA LAWYER ADDRESSES CLUB

St. Lawrence Waterway Project is Subject of Splendid Address.

TO CANADIAN CLUB

Warning his hearers that further postponement by Canada of decision with regard to the St. Lawrence Waterway project might easily result in the inclining of the United State Government to a contrary proposition within its own borders by a differing faction, a proposition that would do away with consideration of the St. Lawrence project, as far as the Union is concerned, and substitute therefor a channel from Oswego to the Hudson River, G. D. Conant, K.C., B.A., LL.B., of Oshawa, closed a very interesting and graphic address on the St. Lawrence Waterway which he gave yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the Public Library to the members of the Women's Canadian Club.

Mr. Conant, a pinch-hitter in a sense, as he kindly took the place of G. H. Sedgewick, K.C., of Toronto, on the latter's inability to complete his engagement here, was secured owing to the good offices of the Hon. G N. Gordon, K.C., and proved to be a speaker of especial ability. His outline for his hearers of the possibilities, the difficulties and the possible cost of the projected St. Lawrence Waterway, was replete with interest and held their attention to the last concise sentence.

"I feel that this is a problem that all Canadians should become acquainted with, as the time is coming when th e activity of our representations in this regard will have to be fortified by public opinion."

Navigation and Power.

Mr. Conant dealt with the two outstanding aspects of the questions, from the viewpoint of navigation and of power. He asserted that, of all forms of transportation, the water-borne type is the cheapest and that the cost of transportation is a very large factor in the marketing of produce.

Canada stands second in the world in its developed horse-power, having 450 (turbine) h.p. per one thousand of its population. Norway has the largest total of 750 h.p. per thousand of population and Sweden comes next. Canada's eminence in this regard has contributed very largely to the upbuilding of the Dominion and the maintenance of the ascendancy of Canada as a nation.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

FOOD AFTER AN ILLNESS.

I have spoken before about a patient who came to me with the request that I try and increase his weight. Although of average height he weighed about 90 pounds.

I advised him to continue the food he was already eating, but to add two eggs and one quart of milk daily, that is, one pint of milk and one raw egg at 11 a.m. and at 4 p.m.

At the end of a month he had gained two pounds, and I thought that was a fair gain considering that he hadn't gained anything in two years.

However, he was not satisfied and told me he was going to a distant city to eat a certain type of bread. Returning three months later he called on me and I was certainly surprised and pleased at his appearance as he had gained over thirty pounds.

I told him that it must be a wonderful bread that could not only put on such an amount of weight, but give him such a good appearance.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "I only ate the bread twice in three months, but I drank 6 to 8 quarts of milk and ate 18 to 20 raw eggs every day."

Now, why did eggs and milk make such a difference in this man's body? Why shouldn't he have eaten the fattening foods—vegetables and bread?

Because his body was broken down and needed repairing. And only one class of food can do a real job in building up solid muscles and tissue.

And that food is protein.

Protein is what you find in meat and eggs; it also occupies one-third of the solid part of milk.

Now as some cases are so badly run down that even choice meat does not appeal to them, milk and eggs furnish the materials with which the body tissues are repaired and rebuilt.

And one of the reasons is that these foods are not only easily digestible, but they contain more phosphorus than most other foods in a form that can be assimilated by the body.

This is most important because every cell in the body must have some phosphorus in order to do its work properly.

Dr. Hal Bieler, Pasadena, Calif., speaking about the use of foods after illness, no matter what the illness was, repair of body tissue depends chiefly upon the amount and kind of protein—milk, eggs, meat—in diet.

This is worth remembering.

NEW CASSEROLE

A delicious dish is cabbage and tomatoes, served en casserole. Shred the cabbage and then alternate lining a baking dish with slices of raw tomatoes and shredded raw cabbage. Put bread crumb layers between and on top. Cover with a meat sauce, a cheese sauce or just a very thick white sauce. Bake from 30 to 45 minutes, slowly.

PATOU COAT

A new, sumptuous black velvet coat from Jean Patou has a fitted silhouette, with a full skirt portion edged with fur for the front and side while the back width of the velvet, is cut circular and dipping until it is so long right in the back that it sweeps the floor.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough or chest cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a 16 oz. bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make 16 ounces. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in severe bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Norham

Mr. and Mrs. George Palmateer, Miss Dora Palmateer and Mr. Cole motored to Buffalo on Wednesday for a week's visit. They were accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Ray Campbell, and her son, who has been visiting friends for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Robinson have moved from the village to a house near Pinegrove School.

In the oratorical contest in Warkworth on Wednesday night Miss Eunic McCurdy and Master Earl Clare represented Norham school as speakers. Four little girls from the beginners' class — Noreen McCann, Elaine Grant, Eunice Turney and Edna Windover—sang a little song, while the school sang a chorus.

Gordon Mitchell, Lorne Mitchell, Blair Huycke, John Bound, Hayden Newman, Wesley Clare and W. J. Newman were the representatives from Norham Sunday school at the boys' and leaders' conference held in Trenton from November 21 to 23.

Mrs. D. R. Clare visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Scott, of Omemee, over the week-end.

Rev. D. R. Clare was a speaker at a missionary rally at Elizabethville on Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Rouse and son, of Sharon, were visitors at the parsonage on Saturday when their son was baptized by Rev. D. R. Clare.

Mrs. Windover and Mr. John Bound, Jr., of Norham, and Mrs. Clapperton, of Warkworth, went to Eldon Station on Saturday to attend the funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Daynes and infant son, who were killed at Grass Hill on Friday. Mrs. Daynes before her marriage was Ila Bound, daughter of Mr. John Bound, of Norham, where she was well known and highly respected. Eight years ago she married Edward Daynes, a returned soldier, who lived for several years with Mr. and Mrs. Valleau. After their marriage they settled on a farm near North Eldon Station, where they had a happy home with their four little children until the terrible tragedy of Friday morning left three little orphaned children. The sympathy of the neighborhood is extended to the father and brother.

"I enjoyed Quaker natural Bran very much, and I am recommending it to my patients."

Physicians Recommend This Natural Corrective

IT is never safe to try to correct with habit-forming purgatives constipation and its attendant evils of languor, nervousness, bad breath and headaches.

Nature herself has a sure, harmless, and more pleasant way. Just add Quaker natural Bran to the daily diet—sprinkled over other cereals, in muffins made plain or with raisins, or in other recipes which the package contains.

Physicians recommend bran as one of the best natural laxatives and they know that Quaker Bran because uncooked and sterilized, is the best you can use. Made of soft Ontario winter wheat, it does not irritate.

DR. SMITH GIVES ILLUSTRATED TALK

Reviews Missionary Activities of United Church in the World.

WARKWORTH, Nov. 26 (Examiner Correspondence) — In St. Paul's United Church on Sunday evening Dr. Edwin Smith gave a very interesting and instructive illustrated lecture on the review of missionary activities of the United Church in the world.

The church was well filled and among the large crowd were visitors from Campbellford, Oak Heights and Dartford.

It was stated that the sun never sets on the mission field of the United Church.

Six dollars and fifty-six cents was spent in every minute of last year for the up-keep of this work and just as much is being spent this year. The slides covered the activities in Labrador, in Canada, in Japan, in Korea, in Honan, in India, in Trinidad and in Africa, and portrayed very vividly what the church is doing for the heathen. It was pointed out that it did not matter what church did the work it did was true of every church.

Mr. Smith urged the people to support this missionary and maintainence fund after he so clearly explained what it meant. There has been much work accomplished but there is still a very great work to be done for the Kingdom of God.

Mrs. Wilfred Boorman of McDonnel Street was hostess yesterday afternoon at a delightful talent tea given in aid of the Songsters' Organ Fund. Assisting Mrs. Boorman in receiving the guests was Mrs. H. Hedge. The tea-room looked especially cosy and inviting with its open grate log fire. A tastefully-laid tea table centred with a bouquet of pink carnations and smilax was presided over by Mrs. J. T. Braund. Tea-room assistants were Mrs. F. Cox, Mrs. G. H. Young, Mrs. H. Barton, and Miss Muriel Boorman. A splendid musical program, which was in charge of Mrs. Stanley Richardson, included vocal solos by Mrs. Mendel Braund and violin solos by Mrs. H. Payton. Piano solos were also cleverly rendered by Frances Wells, Ardyth Richardson and Lester Boorman. Miss Phyllis Braund, a clever elocutionist, received great applause for her several readings. Mrs. H. I wonder how many of you readers have children who delight in collecting stamps?

• • • • • • •

I know a number of children who make a hobby of collecting stamps and they get a great deal of enjoyment out of it. In fact I think this is one of the hobbies that it is well to encourage in children.

• • • • • • •

It has genuine educational value, but the wise parent never mentions this fact. Children get so tired of having every interesting thing they do given a cultural aspect.

• • • • • • •

They cannot fail to learn fascinating historical facts from commemorative stamps. The pictures will prove intriguing as they are apt to give some tiny picture of the most notable incident connected with the event that is worthy of the government issue of the stamps.

• • • • • • •

What does the picture signify, in the life of the nation?

• • • • • • •

No one will have to prod a child on to accumulation of the knowledge. Curiosity will be a spur. Also in exchange trading of stamps, dates and historic knowledge are valuable.

• • • • • • •

The portrait heads on stamps acquaint one with the personages of a country. Kings, queens, presidents and rulers of countries, empires, kingdoms, etc., are chosen to be pictured on various denominations of stamps and at different eras.

• • • • • • •

A stamp collector learns to know at a glance the facts concerning issues and the countries from which they come. It is amazing to note the quickness with which even a young collector can spot variations know the monetary value and detect slight deviations from an accepted form.

• • • • • • •

Children's minds are keen on subjects which excite their fancy and stamp collecting is one of the first hobbies to catch their fancy.

• • • • • • •

Fortunately there is little or no expenditure needed at first. The writing desks of parents are the original treasure houses for the little folks.

• • • • • • •

The envelopes of accumulated mail from years gone by will keep the youngsters busy sorting, and learning what the value of each stamp is.

• • • • • • •

Then, they can trade with other children who have different assortments in their collections. Adults who are stamp collectors will take genuine interest in helping young collectors.

• • • • • • •

Parents can help children by warning them not to take stamps off envelopes. It increases the value to have them on the envelopes.

• • • • • • •

If the cancellation marks are damaged, the value of the stamp is lessened. The government stamping may be by hand or machine, and each is significant in valuations.

• • • • • • •

The imprint of the place from which a letter was sent and its date also affects valuations. The interest parents take in gathering such information for their children will increase a common bond of sympathy between the older and younger generation.

On Monday evening, the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Thompson of South Monaghan was the scene of a jolly party when forty of their friends and neighbors assembled with them to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. The hosts were presented with thirty-five dollars in gold, while the members of Court Bensfort No. 541, C.O.F., presented Mr. Thompson with fifteen dollars in gold, and a leather tobacco pouch, and Mrs. Thompson received twenty dollars in gold and a black moire purse. Mr. Wilbert Wood, reeve of the township, read the following address: "We, your neighbors and friends of Bensfort community, together with the members of Court Bensfort, No. 541, C. O. F., feel that we cannot allow the occasion of the celebration of your fiftieth wedding anniversary to pass without extending to you our heartiest congratulations. We have come to do honor to two of our most patriotic citizens on this occasion, which is unique because you are celebrating in the community in which you have always lived. During those years you have enjoyed the love and respect of a large circle of friends and have endeared yourselves to your neighbors by your many kind acts and helpful deeds. As citizens, we have alway found you honorable and upright and always willing to support any cause which helped to make our township a better place in which to live. As a slight token of our love and respect, we ask you to please accept these gifts, and may they ever remind you of the high esteem in which we hold you. In conclusion, may we wish that you may be spared many more years to enjoy the companionship of each other and your friends in the community." The presentation was made by Mr. Lawrence Finnie, and little Barbara Finnie and Betty Moncrief presented the hostess with a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson made suitable acknowledgments of the gifts from their friends. The evening was spent in dancing and concluded with the service of a dainty lunch.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Alice Michaelis

LIFE OF A TREE.

How rare, how rich a thing must be
Existence to a spreading tree!
Here clearest robin carols ring,
Here freshest rise the scents of Spring!
Consider gifts a tree can give.
What splendid virtues it can live
Its arch of softly rustling leaves
Is gracious as cathedral eaves.
And such blest aims it can disperse
As put to shame a Dives' purse
Beneath its kindly beckoning boughs
The gentle cattle love to browse;
Shelter alike from storm or sun
Its branches would refuse to none,
And never ring love's vows so sweet
As when breathed forth in such retreat.
How rare, how rich a thing must be
The life of every sturdy tree!

HIGH WAISTED

Unusual looking but tremendously smart, thereby, is a grey-blue tweed suit with seven-eighths coat. The skirt has a fitted yoke, with a very deep, triple box pleat in front. The coat is raglan sleeved, collarless, cut with its waist portion fitting tight to empire line. From there the skirt of the coat flares in circular cut. Only a tall woman could carry this suit.

CAPE COATS

The cape coat by no means has taken a back seat. A lovely bottle green princess line coat has a cape of its fabric edged in red fox.

Mother Restored to Family

If you asked the average happy and comfortable Ontario housewife what a gain of 49¼ pounds would mean to her, she would probably look aghast at the very suggestion. Suppose, however, she were in the position of Mrs. Roberts, a woman with a family of young children in a small Ontario town where there was "little to earn and many to keep," growing weaker and weaker from overwork and poverty, finally obliged to leave her little ones to friends and neighbors and betake herself to the Toronto Hospital for Consumptives.

Then began the long, long fight to put back the precious pounds, which to Mrs. Roberts and so many like her, mean milestones on the road to health. Thanks to ten months of good care, rest, nourishing food and experienced medical attention, Mrs. Roberts one day saw the scales register 149 — a happy gain from the 99¾ pounds she registered on entering the hospital.

Where is she now? Back at home, joyously taking up the cares of her family, and grateful for her restoration to health. A great work assuredly, which needs much assistance from friends because poverty and tuberculosis so often go hand in hand. Will you help, please? A subscription sent to Mr. A. E. Ames, 223 College Street, Toronto, will be greatly appreciated.

TORONTO HARPIST DELIGHTS MANY IN FINE PROGRAM

Miss Marguerita Nuttall, Also of Toronto, Assists in Splendid Concert.

GIVEN BY MUSIC CLUB.

John Duncan, Harpist and Composer of Music, is Well Received.

(By Jeanette)

The seldom-heard music of a harp, beautifully played, provided the major portion of the program of instrumental and vocal selections that were offered in the hall of the Conservatory of Music last evening by John Duncan, Toronto harpist, late of London, England, and by Miss Marguerita Nuttall, coloratura soprano, of Toronto. The program was under the auspices of the Women's Music Club and was attended by an audience of over three hundred people who listened with manifest pleasure to the fine music.

An effective setting on the stage was fashioned with the aid of a few 'props': a chair with a notable upholstering that featured colorful grospoint', a few lighted floor lamps, and dark green hangings at the rear that threw into relief the bright gold of the large and beautiful harp.

The program throughout was of strings and vocal chords. The songs were accompanied by the harpist and even the National Anthem which opened the evening's entertainment was played by the majestic instrument whose owner seemed to have such an entire mastery of its many difficulties and variations.

Mr. Duncan is also a composer of music. Perhaps the most notable of his offerings, from the point of view of descriptive and atmospheric music was the arabesque of sound that was his 'Winter" his concluding programme selection, and a portion of his own suite, entitled "The Seasons." In it were the retrospection of autumn, the gale of the nor'easter whistling over frozen spaces, and through it, as a monody, the sadness of a winter hymn.

The exhibition of hand-work in this unusual instrument is a fascinating study. These shimmering, vibrating strings that waken memories of old-time tales of Cymric bards and of lovely ladies of an older day, respond to different moods under the touch of strong fingers. For the majority of his pieces, Mr. Duncan spread his broad, well-shaped fingers over vibrating, pulsating strings, but for several of them, notably the "Impromptu" which opened the closing group, his hands were formed liked a claw, the plucked strings responding with a newer tone to that strong, determined pull that seemed to reach among them and pull the melody from their midst.

Varied Composers.

The first group included a Fantasie in C Minor (Zabel), a bit of Schumann's sweet music, in the brief "Nordisches Lied," and a Canzonetta (Verdalle). The encore was a recognition of the sincere applause which greeted every one of the splendid harp solo and was an arrangement for the strings of "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes."

The second group had another Zabel composition, a "Cascade" that was just like its name, and spun a delicate gossamer web of shimmering music for its hearers; an entrancing brief bit of lovely melody, in a Prelude (Chopin-Renie); "Believe Me if all Those Endearing Young Charms", and a dreamy arrangement of the well-known Volga Boat Song, with a pianissimo echo in the finale. The encore was The Last Rose of Summer.

The final quartette of harp numbers opened with that odd "Impromptu" (Loukine) with its fascinating, vagrant melody in the right hand, as a tinkling overtone to the heavily plucked bass strings. Then there was another bit by the evident favorite composer, Zabel, in his 'Liebeslied," and a little cameo of dainty music, in 'La Mere a la Creche" (the Mother at the manger), thing of only a minute and a quarter in length, that had infinitesimal little notes as accents.

Then came the player's own composition in the memorable "Winter" selection, and the inevitable encore resulting from continued applause; an exquisite rendering of "The Rosary."

Miss Marguerita Nuttall, the youthful colaratura singer who scored such a success here on her first appearance last season, also under the auspices of the Women's Music Club, was the assisting vocalist of the evening. Her songs were interesting, the major selections probably being the numbers of Old English type; Arne's 'Lass with the Delicate Air", in which the flute-like coloratura cadences of her voice had a lovely scope, and Purcell's love song, "Passing By", another delicate, romantic thing of high, light calibre. The encore to this song was a dainty morsel of song that displayed to the full the singer's skill in the manipulation of light, clear, high tone with trailing inflections. These bird-like cadenzas are a joy in a voice like Miss Nuttall's, but they appeared in only a few of her selections of last evening.

The gorgeous composition of Schubert, the "Ave Maria", suffered from a slurring over of the noble Latin words and from a draggy handling that marked other songs in the program, and were probably caused, to a certain extent at least, by an unfamiliar accompaniment in the harp. These accompaniments were played very beautifully by Mr. Duncan, but the two artists didn't seem to click' in the combination of vibrating strings and vocal chords.

Giordani's 'Caro Mio Ben" in Italian was a pretty number, and had an encore in the well-known Welsh song, 'All Through the Night."

Miss Nuttall's last group of four songs included one especially lovely thing, with its legato music handled splendidly by the sweet voice, 'Serenata" by Toselli. There were also in this group Mendelssohn's 'On Wings of Song," the well-known composition, "Sweet and Low", and Purcell's 'Passing By", with its wistful, dreamy attraction.

A far-off echo of war-time programs, when the knitting lady was constantly a member of any gathering, public or private, came to mind last night with the appearance in the audience of shining, swift needles in a pair of busy hands, that worked like the busy feminine hands of old, while their owner enjoyed the music.

PRIMARY PUPILS SUPPLY PROGRAM

Prince of Wales Home and School Association Holds Social Evening.

The Kindergarten and Primary pupils of the Prince of Wales School had a major share in the splendid program presented last evening by the Home and School Association.

The President, Mrs. Davis, presided with her usual tact, quickly dispatching the business, which consisted of the minutes and the roll call.

There was a large attendance of the parents, who formed a very appreciative audience; Miss Connolly's room being the winner of the banner for the largest representation.

The program opened with The Lord's Prayer, repeated in unison by all. Miss Isabel Young contributed a group of very fine readings, including "Being the Youngest" and "The Bee," with encores.

A much-enjoyed feature on the program were the choruses, "I Would Be Like Jesus" and "Slumber Song" given by the children of the Kindergarten.

Miss Ruth Fisher delighted everyone with her violin selection, as did Miss Rita Sproule with her charming piano solo.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. J. E. Middleton, who in a very interesting and instructive address, on the "care and preservation of the teeth," brought a timely message to the parents present.

He emphasized the importance of proper food while the teeth are in the formative period and also explained the initial care of the mouth and teeth of the child. In conjunction with this, the speaker suggested the great benefit that might be derived by establishing a pre-school age clinic. While splendid dental work is already being done, the remedy might be much more effective if it were begun at an earlier age. Illustrating his remarks, Dr. Middleton told of many interesting experiments being made to further this work.

Mr. F. E. Kerr tendered a vote of thanks to all who had contributed to the success of the evening. This was seconded by Miss Milburn and was heartily endorsed by the audience.

Great credit is due to the committee in charge, consisting of members of the Home and School Executive, assisted by Misses I. Connolly and A. Milburn.

The program was brought to a conclusion by singing "God Save the King."

GERMAN CABINET TRYING TO FORCE DOWN PRICES

BERLIN, Germany, Nov. 26. (CP)—The campaign of the government, headed by Chancellor Bruening, to force down retail prices in confomity with wage reductions resulted in withdrawal of the economic party from the ranks of government supporters.

Minister of Justice Johann Bredt, the party's representative in the Bruening cabinet, resigned. For a while it was rumored that President Hindenburg would request Bredt to remain, a rumor, however, which failed to materialize.

The economic party is composed largely of middle-class tradesmen.

From sources close to Chancellor Bruening it was learned that he is determined to push through his financial reform program without resorting to lengthy negotiations.

Galt Eliminates St. John's In S. P. A. Series

ST. JOHN'S ELIMINATED IN FIRST ROUND OF JUNIOR S.P.A. SERIES LOSE TO GALT TEAM 4 GOALS TO 2

Saints Put Up Hard Battle, But Westerners' Superior Condition Turns Trick.

SOME NEW FACES

Many of Last Year's Players Are Missing From St. John's Line-up.

(By F. D. C.)

The St. John's adventure into this year's Junior S.P.A. series is already terminated, the Saints being eliminated last night in the first round of the pre-season competition by the Galt Juniors, who won a hard-fought battle by 4 goals to 2. The winners had a big edge in condition and it about turned the trick for them, for after being outplayed in the first period the Galt youngsters came on in the second session to take the lead and had enough left to stave off the determined efforts of the Saints to pull the game out of the fire in the last twenty minutes.

There were many new faces in the St. John's line up last night, in fact of the thirteen local players who participated only six wore the red and white last season. Of last year's team, Archie Weir, Gordie Cuthbertson, Doc Hewitt, Terry Hall and Leo Burke are all missing this season and last night's test revealed the fact that the Saints problem will be to build up a second string of forwards. The starting line from last year's team, Dallin, Calladine and Gardner all went great guns last night and out of the recruits who showed their wares the Saints' management should be able to develop a second attacking division.

Considering the superior condition of the westerners and the fact that the extra practice they have had showed in their shooting and stick-handling, the St. John's team have no reason to feel disappointed at their showing. They made a real battle of it until the last gong and with more luck around the nets might have fought their way into the second round. They broke inside often enough to have nicked a victory but once inside their shots lacked sting and often accuracy as well and golden opportunities were lost that would have turned the scale.

The Galt crew showed a nice turn of speed, fair combination and their shooting was generally on the mark. They have been working out for some time and in that respect had a decided advantage over the Peterborough entry.

The Saints' defence pair, Howe and White, although they were all in before the struggle was over, turned in a nice card. They spilled many a raider with heavy body checks while both rushed well. Back of them Tommy Miller, last year's goaler, and Wesley, a new twine guardian from Ottawa, who was between the posts the last period performed nicely. Wesley's style impressed the Toronto critics and he moved fast to make a number of clever saves in the closing stages. On the firing line the starting trio, Dallin, Calladine and Gardner, were the most effective, showing individual cleverness as well as some nice combination. The rest of the squad gave all they had and individually made a good showing but they have not had the practice together that makes for team play. Among the new Saints was a younger brother of Leo Burke and he made some smart moves when he was out there while Ellis, Merrett, Wilshaw, Milliken and Robinson, the latter a Port Elgin boy, gave a good account of themselves.

Galt's most useful players were McGregor, who played a fine game in the nets, Cassidy on the defence, and Devere, Liscombe and Scott up in front.

The Saints ran into a tough break before the game had got nicely under way. Tommy Miller attempted a long pass out to the wing but Bryan the Galt left winger, intercepted and coasted in to score a somewhat soft goal. This early setback did not seem to bother the Peterborough youngsters who began to carry the attack and gave McGregor in the Galts nets plenty of work. They had little luck with their shooting, however, being foiled three or four times when close in. Finally Calladine and Gardner went in and although McGregor blocked the centre player's low shot, Gardner dashed in and netted the rebound to tie the score.

Three minutes after another smart Calladine-Gardner play put the Saints in front. Gardner gave the Saints' centre a neat pass to beat the defence and "Cal's" shot into the corner of the net gave McGregor no chanec to save.

Just when it looked as if the Peterborough team would carry a goal lead into the second period, Bryan and Devere broke away together and on the former's pass Devere drove home the tieing goal. It was a nice play all round.

St. John's perceptibly were tiring when the second period got under way and although they hung on desperately Galt were setting the pace. Eight minutes after the period opened Dever slipped a pass to Liscombe close in and the sub left winger's aim was right on the target, putting the Westerners in the lead once more. It was the only goal of the period although the Saints lost several beautiful chances, Gardner once missing the open net at close range.

The Saints tired as they were making things interesting in the last period, although Galt got the only goal seven minutes after the session opened. Gates was left unchecked in front of the net and when Scott slid a pass out to the uncovered player Wesley did not have a chance to save. That made it 4 to 2 but the Saints fought back being dangerous often enough to cause the Galt rooters to urge their players to shoot the rubber down the ice, in spite of the two-goal lead.

Theft From The Jail Lands Man In Gaol

LINDSAY, Nov. 26.—(Special to The Examiner).—Walking off with a pair of boots, the property of a prisoner at the county jail, brought Patrick Angiers of Coboconk a four months sentence in the Ontario Reformatory on Saturday afternoon. Angiers had been sentenced to jail some time ago on a liquor charge, and at the termination of his sentence walked off with a pair of boots, the property of another prisoner who was awaiting transfer to the Ontario Reformatory. Angiers forgot to take the boots which he discarded with him and this oversight gave the authorities the necessary clue.

Gagne's Goal Gives Ottawa Victory in Defensive Play.

COP SECOND PLACE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—One dazzling shot by Art Gagne, made just a second before the end of the first period, gave the Ottawa Senators a 1 to 0 victory over the New York Americans, and possession of the second place in the Canadian division of the National Hockey League last night.

Aided, perhaps, by a little luck, Gagne got a long shot past Goalkeeper Roy Worters on the final dash of the opening frame, and fine defensive play by the Senators protected that slim lead for the remaining forty minutes. Worters apparently had stopped the shot without difficulty, but it slipped past him, and the little American goal-guardian seemed to be the most surprised person in the Garden when he turned to look for the rubber and found it in the net.

Against Ottawa's superlative defense, the American attack again looked weak, and the result was a poor show for the fans. So far the Americans have played four games on their ice and scored only one goal. Last night they appeared to have almost no punch, except for a few minutes in the final period, when they cut loose with everything they had in a vain effort to penetrate the Ottawa net. They last a fine opportunity to make good use of similar cases in the second period when they refused to take a chance while Hec Kilrea was in the penalty box on a major penalty, given him for holding in an effort to have a goal.

NORWOOD CLUB ENTRY REFUSED AT ANNUAL MEETING OF T. V. L.

Cognawaga and C.G.E. Clubs of This City File Applications For Entry.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Suggested Two Peterborough Clubs, Trenton and Lakefield Should Form Own League.

CAMPBELLFORD, November 26 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — The annual meeting of the Trent Valley Hockey League was held last night in the Stirling House Hotel, Stirling, when delegates from Campbellford, Tweed, Frankford, Madoc Norwood, and Stirling met under the presidency of W. J. Whitty to outline the season's work, elect officers, and arrange the schedule for the coming season.

The first business of importance was the request of Norwood, made by K. T. Kemp, for that village to enter a team this season in the Trent Valley League. In making the request, Mr. Kemp stated that it was a matter of Norwood returning to the league, for as far back as 1900 it had been on this hockey circuit. Before this matter went into open session for discussion President Whitty stated that he had received applications from Lakefield, the Cognawaga club and the C.G.E. of Peterborough and Trenton to be allowed to enter teams in the league.

Delegates from the different teams voiced their opinions on this matter which seemed to tally, all being agreed that Norwood was too far off the circuit to work in the schedule. G. A. Ironside, speaking for Campbellford, thought that as the schedule stood now that the men had sufficient games to play, and suggested that another group, composed of these teams could be formed and if necessary could compete with the Trent Valley League in the play-offs. T. Beatty of Tweed brought up the question that it was possible that the O.H.A. might outlaw the Trent Valley League players if the league was to encroach on their territory. This idea was also expounded by Mr. Whitty, who stated that although the O.H.A. do not control hockey, they do control the O.H.A..

On motion it was carried that it was impossible for the Trent Valley League to expand. Following on this motion the question was raised as to the name the new league should take, and it was suggested that it should get away from the Trent Valley title, and that it also should have its own offices.

Officers Elected

The election of officers proved a very interesting event. Mr. Whitty asked that his resignation be accepted and in anticipation of this thanked the officers of the league for the support that they had given him in the past.

He stated that he had been accused of many things in the past of which he was innocent. It had always been his policy to try and win, but not at any cost; for he had always tried to play square. In looking at the future of the T.V.L. he thought that the time was not very far distant when there would have to be a change in the resident rule, for the younger players were not getting their chance. When, however, the meeting was thrown open for election, Mr. Whitty still retained the helm of the T.V.L. The slate of officers is the same as last year with the addition of a fourth vice-president, and is as follows: President, W. J. Whitty, Stirling; 1st Vice-President, G. A. Ironside, Campbellford; 2nd Vice-President, Ross Query, Frankford; 3rd Vice-President, T. Beatty, Tweed; 4th Vice-President, P. Nailer, Madoc; Secretary-Treas., E. Luery, Stirling.

Residence Rule

The next question for discussion was that of the resident rule. All teams seemed to be in favor of altering this with the exception of Frankford, who voiced the opinion that at that place fast hockey was needed to draw the crowd, and they needed good gates as they were under an obligation for the building of their rink. It was generally agreed, however, that the only way to bring along the younger players and so strengthen hockey in the league was to protect them in some way.

This could only be done by training them at home and playing them. It was thought that within two years of strengthening the resident rule that the league would be playing good hockey and using its own men. A motion was therefore put to the meeting and passed, that the resident rule as it stands be amended to read up to October 1st, with the exception of two players; this to take effect in 1932.

Another rule that was rescinded was that whereby not more than two men of any team in the T.V.L. could play for an outside team. The matter of referees was left open, the rule having been that in the case of a dispute that the two teams agree upon this official.

One motion that was presented to the meeting and passed that was of interest, was that which governed that a member of any of the teams in the T.V.L., before he could play for another team in the league would have to obtain a release from the team in which he was playing the season previous. It was also decided that the T.V.L. affiliate with the O.H.A. and play under their rules.

QUAKERS SPRING BIG SURPRISE BY BEATING LEAFS

Milks Breaks Toronto's Shut-out Record in First Period.

WHITE ALSO SCORES.

Cotton Credited With Smythes' Only Goal which is Deflected Into Goal.

PHILADELPHIA, November 26. — The Toronto Maple Leafs suffered their first defeat of the season and the Quakers won their first game in an exciting National Hockey League match here last night. Benny Leonard's team triumphed by a score of 2 to 1.

Not only was it the first defeat for the leaders of the Canadian Division, but it marked the first time this season that they had been scored on. The Quakers, showing surprising strength, completely outplayed the Leafs, except in the late moments of the third period, when the Toronto team desperately tried to tie the score.

After several close calls, the Quakers broke through in the first period when Hib Milks, playing defence instead of centre, soloed through the Leafs, and slipped the puck under Grant's feet. Eleven seconds before the end of the period the Leafs tied the score on a "break." Cotton took a shot at the net, which Miller cleared, but his rebound hit Howe and the puck went into the net.

White Also Scores.

"Tex" White won the game in the waning moments of the middle session when he picked up a loose puck and golfed it into the corner. Miller's great work in the net saved the locals in the last few minutes.

When Jackson returned to warfare in the last of the first, he got through by himself, but Miller again made a marvellous stop. Shields was sent off for using the elbow. Clancy, Cotton, and Primeau broke through, but Clancy's pass was wide. Horner rushed and took a shot that bounced high into the air off Miller's stick. There was a scramble for the disc, but Milks finally batted it to safety. Both sides charged furiously at the nets, but the defences were tight. Cotton stickhandled his way through, but Miller saved. However, there was a rebound, and the disc flew back against Howe and went into the net for a goal.

BOWLRITES WIN SOFTBALL TITLE

Harrisons Lose Out 14-8 in Final Game of Lakefield Indoor League.

LARGE CROWD SEES TILT.

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 26 (Examiner Correspondence). — The play-off between Harrisons and the Sugar Bowl for the Softball championship drew a bumper crowd to the Lakefield rink on Monday night. Counter attractions suffered but the ball game crowd was all there and accompanied by their voices turned to cheer the favorite team. As this was a final game nine innings were played and the game was anybody's till the very end, although the Sugar Bowl got a lead in the third which they held throughout the remainder of the game. The score of 14-8 was a decisive victory and at the close of the game the handsome silver trophy, offered by the Canada Cement Co. was presented to George Dormer, manager of the team, by J. R. Hill, who substituted for the superintendent of the Cement Co., E. H. Bailey, who was unable to be present owing to illness in the family.

Forsythe, the Sugar Bowl pitcher had 15 strike outs and one walk to his credit while Sturgeon who pitched a strong game also had 11 strike outs and five walks.

"Stuffy" Mahood, who has played a strong game all season, surpassed himself at the final game and his one hand catch of a foul fly for the final "put out" was a masterly play and got a round of applause which he richly deserved. Haas, Smith and Dorrington were the stars for Harrisons and Hardill, Gillespie and the batteries, Forsythe and Mahood, for winners. Gillespie has been a strong player for the Sugar Bowl and could always be counted on to make a good play.

In receiving the cup George Dormer made a very fitting speech which showed real sportsmanship and the softball season closed after a successful year and very pleasant relations all round.

The line up was as follows:

SUGAR BOWL—Forsythe, p; Mahood, c; Maudsley, 1b; Weese, 2b; H. Dormer, 3b; Nicholls, ss; Hardill, ss; Gillespie, lf; Dallin, rf.

HARRISONS—Sturgeon, p; Haas, c; Smith, 1b; Calladine, 2b; Dorrington, 3b; Playford, ss; Corbett, ss; Clarke, lf; Vinnette, rf; Kitchen, rf.

MAROONS OUTPLAY NEW YORK RANGERS TO WIN OUT 5-2

LONDON TECUMSEHS OUTSCORE SYRACUSE

Retain Possession of Second Place in International League By 4-2 Win.

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 26.—London Tecumsehs retained possession of second position in the International Professional Hockey League, as a result of their 4 to 2 victory over the Syracuse Stars, at the local Arena last night. A third period rally which netted three goals in less than ten minutes, gave the Tecumsehs the victory after Percy Lesuer's Syracuse sextet had battled the Tecumsehs to a tie for 47 minutes of play.

PITTSBURG TIES WINDSOR TEAM

Yellow Jackets Deadlock Bulldogs 4-4 to Break Four Game Losing Streak.

PLAY CLEVER HOCKEY.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 26.—The Pittsburg Yellow Jackets of the International Hockey League broke their losing streak last night, even though they didn't win. They played a 4—4 deadlock with Windsor, an overtime period failing to shatter the tie. Pittsburg has lost four games and won none.

The teams concluded the first period tied at 2-all. Both teams battled viciously during the second 20-minute ordeal and with only ten seconds remaining to be played the Bulldogs broke the tie, Phillips lifting the puck through Cox at close range after taking a pass from Northcott. Up to this time it was hammer and tongs warfare. The goalkeepers bore the brunt of the work, although both lines and the defense put in some excelint playing.

Fairview Fowl Supper Is Successful Event

BRIDGENORTH, Nov. 26 (Examiner Correspondence)—The hot fowl supper provided by the Ladies' Aid of Fairview United Church was a huge success. Although the dining room space was limited the table arrangements were excellent and every care was taken to insure the best of service.

The Tuxis Boys of George Street United Church sang several songs during the supper hour, and Mrs. J. O. Totten also gave some instrumental selections.

The Rev. J. O. Totten presided for the concert which followed, consisting of readings by Mrs. Huffman and Miss Jean Cotes; duets by Rev. J. O. and Mrs. Totten and selections from the Male Quartette of Murray Street Baptist Church. The quartette included H. F. Graham, Walter Fitzgerald, C. B. Westbrook and Dr. S. J. Graham. Mrs. H. H. Graham was the accompanist.

Montrealers Give Brilliant Display in Fast Hockey Game.

FIVE PENALTIES.

MONTREAL, November 26. — Showing that the men having played themselves in condition, they have a great aggregation of hockey talent, Montreal Maroons outplayed the New York Rangers and took a five goal to two decision here last night.

The game was fought at a furious pace, but was clean, only five penalties being given. "Hooley" Smith scored two clever goals for Montreal, both on faked passes and quick shots. Dave Trottier, on a lone sally, and Haynes and Siebert after combination plays, netted the Maroons' other tallies.

"Bill" Cook, sterling right winger of the New Yorkers, scored both their goals, each time after heady three-man rushes.

"Flat" Walsh was hit on the temple by "Bun" Cook during the first play of the game, and retired. He was replaced by Dave Kerr, who turned in a veteran-like performance in his first full match since signing a professional contract.

HAWK VICTORY RECORD INTACT

Arbour's Goal Wins For Chicago Team in Overtime Period.

FINAL COUNT 4 TO 3.

BOSTON, Nov. 26.—The determined Chicago Black Hawks continued on their undefeated journey here last night by squeezing the Boston Bruins out if a slam-bang overtime hockey contest by a 4 to 3 score. Ty Arbour gave the visitors, who appeared to have the Bruins jinxed, the winning tally by slashing the puck through Goalie Tiny Thompson during a wild scrimmage directly in front of the Boston cage. Mush March had the first try and Arbour's score was made on the former's rebound.

Both teams scored a tally in each of the regular periods, Johnny Gottselig netting two counters and Bill Adams getting the other for the Hawks. Clapper, Galbraith and Wellland scored for the Bruins, who played a much slower brand of hockey than their hard-fighting rivals. Taffy Abel, burly Chicago defence star, cut down many impressive Boston rushes and covered almost every inch of his team's territory. His hard charging, during the second period, earned him a major penalty but his trip of George Owen undoubtedly saved a score.

TIMMIS WINS EVENT IN ROYAL FAIR RACE

Canada Wins, With United States Second and Germany Third.

TORONTO, Nov. 26 (C.P.).—Canada last night scored a hard earned victory at the Royal Winter Fair Horse Show.

Taking his aged Bucephalus over a thickly strewn course, Major R. S. Timmis of the Canadian Army jumping team, captured the international military event of the program. Major H. D. Chamberlain of the United States team, riding Dick Waring, was second, with Germany third. The fourth prize also went to Chamberlain, upon Tan Bark.

The victory of Major Timmis drew a tremendous ovation from the crowded arena, for it was Canada's first important victory of the show. Timmis covered the course without a hitch, until he reached the last jump, where his horse committed a hind kick, scoring a half fault. The United States and German riders who tied for second place, each scored a full fault. The rest of the performances were thrilling, but usually ended up in early disqualification.

EAST ENDERS CONFIDENT OF WINNING TITLE

Tigers Will Be at Full Strength With Return of Disabled Players.

BEACHERS GRUELLING.

Several Minor League Titles Expected to be Decided To-day.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 26. (CP)—Just how good are Balmy Beach, Ontario Rugby Football Union senior champions that is the question being debated amongst football fans to-day as the Beaches practice faithfully each day for the real test of their gridiron campaign against Hamilton Tigers, Interprovincial Union champions in the Eastern Canada football final at Varsity stadium on Saturday.

The old gold and blue team had such an easy time breezing through first, the group championship and then to the O.R.F.U. final that no one could really gauge the possibilities of the fighting young team.

In the east end of Toronto, where the Beaches have established their domicile, the fans are confident Teddy Reeves' team will repeat their smashing victory of 1927 over the Tigers. Others, however, are not sure. For one thing the Bengals will be strengthened for the game by the return of several injured stars including Rohmer, husky lineman and Cox, veteran snapback. Then again their indominitable spirit in the face of disaster, has won them a place in Canada's football hall of fame. On two successive Saturdays they have taken the field against two of the finest teams in Eastern Canada and with their machine wrecked by injuries have come through to victory on sheer courage.

The Beaches are engaging in long workouts daily in an effort to prime themselves for the gruelling struggle. Tigers have rested since beating Queen's University but resume their workouts to-day.

Minor Tangles

While the major league teams prepare for their classic, minor series squads clash in three important games to-day.

The Ontario Rugby Football Union intermediate championship will be decided at Oshawa, where the Blue Devils of that city, entertain the smart Wanderers team of Sarnia. The latter gained a six point lead in the first tussle at Sarnia last Saturday and they will likely need it.

The Blue Devils are confident of overcoming the deficit and qualifying to meet Royal Military College of Kingston in the Dominion final. The gate receipts from the game will be given to an Oshawa unemployed relief fund.

Argos-Penetang

At Toronto, Argonauts, of that city, and Penetang, meet in an O.R.F.U. junior semi-final. The game will be a "sudden-death" affair with the winner qualifying for the final.

Penetang have a splendid team and indications point to a thrilling struggle between the youngsers. Argos too have a fine team and boast one of the most powerful backfields in junior football.

In the other semi-final Hamilton Collegiate Grads travel to Woodstock where they play the return game of the series. The Grads won the first tilt decisively and have a 10 point margin in their favor to-day.

Joe Breen Returns To Western In 1931

LONDON, Nov. 26 — Joe Breen will be back to coach the University of Western Ontario Mustangs in the Intercollegiate football campaign of 1931. He made this assertion at the annual rugby dinner last night, at which the senior and intermediate teams were guests.

The Mustang coach said he had received no offer from Varsity, thus shattering a rumor which was flying about the Western campus yesterday.

He qualified his assertion about returning by saying that he would surely be back unless business reasons interfered. Eighty-five attended the banquet.

Blue Ore Encountered Red Hematite Region

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Nov. 26 (C.P.)—Finding in this district of a blue ore, similar to that successfully mined in the Mesaba Iron Range of Minnesota, was reported by John McGugan, of the Animikie Iron Ore Company.

Mr. McGugan, who has been working for ten years on a property fifty miles from Port Arthur on the Port Aruthur and Duluth Railway, said that recently a horizontal tunnel directed into the side of a hill for a distance of sixty feet, running for that distance through the red hematite, which is common in this section, encountered the blue ore that mining men, interested in Ontario iron properties, have long been looking for.

HOCKEY CLUB JUNIORS MEET STRATFORD TO-NIGHT IN S.P.A.

Sole Representative of City in Toronto Series Following Elimination of Saints.

HUSKY YOUNGSTERS.

The Peterborough Hockey Club's junior hockey squad will mix in their first game of the season in Toronto this evening, when they clash with Stratford in the S.P.A. series. A crowd of zealous young puck-chasers turned out for the team when the first and only practice was held last Saturday in Oshawa, and a big squad will be carried to Toronto. The management hopes to get some idea of the youngsters' abilities when they are tossed over the boards for their first go to-night.

LAWN BOWLERS FROM DISTRICT WILL GATHER HERE THURSDAY

Plans Regarding Next Season's Program Will Be Thoroughly Discussed at Meeting.

HELD IN CLUB HOUSE.

The president of Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club, Limited, is earnestly requesting a large attendance of members at the district conference of bowling clubs which is to be held in this city to-morrow (Thursday). Invitations have been extended to representatives of twenty-one clubs throughout the district to have representatives present, and already ten delegates have signified their intention of accepting.

Matters of considerable importance to bowling enthusiasts will be discussed, and there is a possibility that a district league will be formed, so that every club will have at least one rink competing in the play-offs for the district championship.

The meeting is to be held in the club house at 3.30 to-morrow afternoon, and will be followed by dinner at 6.30 in the Paragon Hall.

BOWLING TEAMS FROM FAMILIES

Many New Plans Suggested For Coming Season By Games Committee.

SPECIAL NIGHTS.

Members of the games committee of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club have been discussing ways and means of showing the people of Peterborough what a real asset the city has in the new club house and grounds. Few people realize that there is not a bowling club in Toronto conducted purely for bowling purposes, that has a club house and grounds equal of those of the Peterborough club.

In the past, owing to limited facilities, it has not been possible to permit organizations out side of the club to use the greens for occasional games. This handicap has now been removed and it is planned to extend the use of three or four greens on certain nights for special contests.

For instance, should certain lawyers in Peterborough think that they could produce a team which could trounce the best team the doctors could field and the doctors should decide that they would take up the challenge, both groups will be given a chance to show what they can do. It is just possible that some of the ministerial brethren might dispose of the bankers in a contest if the latter would undertake to show their power. It has even been suggested that two or three teams from the Board of Education might take on teams composed of the city fathers, including Mayor Denne and City Clerk, Armstrong. On such an occasion it is probable that all other bowling would ease until the outcome of this endeavour was decided.

A suggestion that has been considered by the game committee is that they arrange for special contests among club members in the form of teams composed of fathers and sons, fathers and daughters and possibly a mixed team representing individual families. Bowling is a game unlike most in that it can be enjoyed equally by father, mother, son and daughter. Thus this suggestion has great possibilities. In fact, there are several families in the club which could produce teams which would be hard to beat.

Altogether the Peterborough Bowling Club will have a busy time next season. The green committee report that the greens will be in wonderful condition, following the good start the grass got last summer and the special treatment given the lawn this fall.

Terry And Cronin Valuable Players

ST. LOUIS, November 26 (C.P.) — William H. Terry, first baseman of the New York Giants, and Joseph Cronin, shortstop of the Washington Senators, were the most valuable players in the National and American Leagues respectively, for the 1930 season, according to the vote of a committee of sport writers in all the major league cities in an annual poll by the Sporting News of St. Louis. Results of the poll were announced to-day.

Booth Is Elected Captain Of Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 26—Albie Booth, sensational little 145-lb. halfback, was unanimously elected captain of the Yale football squad for the year 1931, at the annual football banquet held last night at the Hotel Taft.

The usual Eli custom of naming a lineman as leader was broken to name Booth captain. Herster Barres, end, who together with Booth was favored for the captaincy, asked his mates to forget him and vote for the little half back.

Booth is a member of the class of '32.

Tecumsehs Meet Bisons While Bulldogs Clash With Indians To-night.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 26. (CP)—London and Windsor strengthened their position in the International Hockey League standing last night. The Tecumsehs gained two points on the leading Buffalo Bisons, by defeating Syracuse Stars, four to two. The Border City team moved into third place by earning a tie with the Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets.

To-night London plays the leading Bisons at Buffao and a thrilling game should result. The Bisons have lost but one game in six starts and are leading the league with 10 points. The Tecumsehs have seven points to their credit and appear quite capable of taking the leaders into camp.

The Bulldogs were counted upon to do better than tie the weak Yellow Jackets, but though they held a two goal lead a one stage of the game, they could not hold the desperate playing Pittsburgh team in check during the last period.

The Bulldogs clash with the Indians at Cleveland to-night and will need to show better form to emerge victors over last season's champions.

Charles Higginbottom To Resign Presidency

TORONTO, Ont., November 26 (C.P.). — Charles E. Higginbottom, of Toronto, for the last three years president of the Ontario branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, has announced his intention of retiring from that office at the 21st annual meeting to be held here on Friday.

Mr. Higginbottom has been connected with the Ontario branch during the last eight years, serving as honorary treasurer for six years prior to his election to the presidency in 1927.

It is believed two of the vice-presidents, Richard G. Fry and George S. Guthrie, president of the Toronto Police Amateur Athletic Association, will seek election to the presidential chair.

Organization Meeting. South End Hockey Loop

The organization meeting of the South End City Hockey League will be held in the Raybestos plant at 7 o'clock Friday evening. This league was a great success last year, with more than a half dozen teams operating in each of its three sections, and it is expected that the competition will be just as keen this season. Every team planning entry is requested to have a representative present at the meeting Friday night.

GEORGE ARLISS IN "OLD ENGLISH"

"Bread and butter with independence, rather than champagne with a fool."

Sylvanus Heythorpe advised his granddaughter, Phyllis, when she fell in love with a youth regarded by him as witless. He spoke straight from the shoulder, the old man who typified in his nickname of "Old English," the staunch spirit of the British bulldog, hanging on with failing strength while his enemies buffeted him.

George Arliss, that peerless actor, has a fine part in this tale of John Galsworthy's. The old man whose youthful sins sat hard on his shoulders, like the Old Man of the Sea, he refused to live on and eat the bread of dependence, so he managed affairs according to his own wilful way and held his own to the very last.

"Carpe diem," he mutters, and translates it: "Live while you can." So he goes his wilful old way.

An old windjammer, the type that sailed the Seven Seas in the days when sailing ships of wood breasted trade winds in tropic waters, casts its shadow over the opening of this tale, set in the early eighties of the last century, with the dock headquarters of the Island Navigation Company of Liverpool as the main background.

Arliss is "Old English," the octogenarian manager of a declining shipping firm whose directors harass him at board meetings. Determined to make some provision for the children of his natural son, he persuades his old friend to help in an illegal undertaking—and puts it over. But a younger man hates him and forces him to the wall, to fight to the last tired minute.

AT THE REGENT

JOHN McCORMACK IN "SONG O' MY HEART"

When Sean O'Callaghan's sweetheart died, in the little green island far over the sea, the touch of her hand came across the waters to her lost love. As he stood on the stage of the great opera house, his Irish mysticism responded to that unseen presence and he felt her near. They encored him again and again, and he came out to sing "I Hear You Calling Me," with the warm tears shining behind that golden, unforgettable voice. It is a sentimental ballad with little dramatic value, but John McCormack sings it gloriously.

What an art there is in this sweet singer. To hear that warm, rich, smooth tenor as it comes from the lips of the big, awkward man, is to realize just how much these sound films can do. "It is not McCormack himself?" asked a visitor last night, as she entered the Regent. She remained to listen absorbedly to that mellow, wonderful voice, in a repertoire that included eleven of his best-known numbers.

For the Irish tongue of John McCormack, they have made an Irish picture, with the major portion of the screening in the tight little Emerald Isle, with its jaunting cars and its stories of the frisky little leprechauns, its gossips on the village green, its warm hearts and its drollery. McCormack is Sean (pronounced Shaun) O'Callaghan, and he goes to America to seek his fortune with his golden voice. Interwoven is the romance that has its ending in the death of Mary, who has married another man and lived to yearn for her lost love. The pathos of the story lends a fitting atmosphere to the central figure and his marvellous singing.

A pair of real Irish jokesters, one of them that well-remembered father of "Colleen" in the Irish picture of that name, provide the comedy element with a constant back-fire of smooth-tongued repartee. And there is a round-faced little boy, Tad, with the ring of the Old Sod in his mellow brogue.

"Better to sing sorrow than to cry it," reminds Sean as he tries to comfort the little Phyllis, daughter of his lost Mary. So he stands beside the organ and sings "Just for Today," and that ethereal voice floats out like a dream.

Again its golden cadences thrill the heart in "Then You'll Remember Me," "A Fairy Tale by the Fire," and "I Feel You Near Me." It has the heart throb of the lover in "Rose of Tralee" and "Kitty, My Love," and the touch of the real artist in the Italian words of "Lpughi Sereni E Care."

When Eugene Field wrote his immortal "Little Boy Blue" as a memory of his own small dead son, did he think that such an immortal voice would send its echoes reaching for every mother's heart in millions of places?

And then there is "Ireland, Mother Ireland," with the fervor of the true Irishman in its ringing lines. And, last of all, "A Pair of Blue Eyes," and the heart-touching beauty of "I Hear You Calling Me."

It is an unforgettable and beautiful sound reproduction of this sweet singer's art.—Jeanette.

DUTY OF LEGION TO BRING UNITY OF ALL VETERANS

Campbellford Branch of Legion is Addressed by Rev. E. R. C. Adye of Whitby.

GREAT SERVICE CLUB

Speaker Believes Additional Changes Are Needed in Pensions Act.

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 26 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—A high degree of enthusiasm and an excellent meeting marked the visit of the representative of the Ontario Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion, Rev. E. R. C. Adye of Whitby, when he visited the Campbellford Branch No. 103 B.E.S.L. and delivered a splendid address on the aims and object of the Legion in the Armouries, Campbellford, Monday evening.

Twelve new members were added to the branch at this gathering, which was one of the finest held this year. The president, J. Watters, occupied the chair and the speaker was introduced by Major J. F. B. Belford of Codrington.

Mr. Adye commenced his address by stating that it was the duty of all members to study the constitution of the Legion and learn what it means and stands for. In the first place it was to bring about the unity of all ex-service men who had served in any army of the service. This has been done by the Canadian Legion when it became a part of the British Empire Service League and when further it had been accepted by Edar at the annual convention of that body in the States this year and so was now linked up with all ex-service men of the Allied forces who were all united by the tie of common service.

Perpetuate Memory Of Fallen.

And again said the speaker it was the duty of Legionars to perpetuate the memory of all those who had fallen in the service of their country or who may fall in the future. Stressing this point he emphasized the fact that Armistice Day this year had received more space in the press and had been more strongly emphasized than in many years past. This fact was due he thought to the work of the Legion and urged that this interest should be still further created among the citizens of the Empire and especially among the youth of this country. On this point Mr. Adye was very emphatic, stating that the boys and girls of Canada were not being interested in the way they should, and pointed out that in one text book used in the Ontario schools there were four pages given to the deeds of the Canadian forces in the war and eighteen pages to the part the United States played. This he thought was not fair, saying that if the valor of the Canadian forces was worth while it was right that our boys and girls learn their glories.

"Patriotism feeds upon the valor of its sons", declared the speaker and stated that if there was a justification for war this was it. Memory was the strongest force in human life. Our boys and girls need to be reminded that the United States served, but when that service was compared with the history of the Canadian forces the records needs no emphasis. And in the speaker's opinion this was the most important part of the Legion work.

Defend Its Rights.

And then it was the duty of the Legion to defend its rights and traditions. Many of the old traditions were going by the board yet there were many that must be expanded to make room for the new to fit in. The Canadian tradition, said the speaker, was one of valor, integrity of purpose and righteous purpose, and a tradition that was worthy to uphold, and if this was worth fighting for it was worth talking about. That was another part of the Legion's job too.

Of the re-establishment of ex-service men, Mr. Adye pointed out that there were many who were still being discharged from the forces and needed attention because, as was the case with men in the past war, they were unfit for a long time to find their place in civil life. This he said was the very heart of the work of the Legion.

Speaking on the Pensions Act the speaker said that although a revision of the old rate had been secured and the final clauses somewhat looked after it would have been better to have had the old act thrown out and a new one drawn up. Of the War Veterans Allowance Act he thought that it was good and well looked after and that the inspectors were doing fine work. This dealing with the relief of "burned out" veterans, Mr. Adye stated, and drew attention to the fact that many people did not like this term but in his opinion it is right and proper for it meant men who under normal conditions would have lived their allotted span but who under the stress and pressure of war were burned out, were dead men though living.

Referring back to the pensions act, the speaker said that a change in government was a great handicap because in the stress of adjustment the act had to wait and that very little work was done on it for some time. The federal appeal board had been established but lacked a chairman because, out of 500,000 men who served overseas, less the dead, one could not be found to fill the office. Speaking of the first two cases that had come before the Pension Board for revision he said that they had been given pensions in full but that the Commission Council had appealed the cases. This seemed very strange in the speakers opinion, that when the whole House of Commons had passed the act, placing the onus of proof on the Board, that a body of eight men could appeal the act. There were not sufficient boards in his opinion. The machinery was there but it had not been set up, and the present organization could not meet the demand of dealing with fifty applications a day. It was the same story, said Mr. Adye, which happens times without number. Democracy was a good thing when it did not sleep. The Legion had slept after its first victory and then it was put over them by clever but less honest politicians. It might be good politics but it was not good justice, and he urged upon all men to put their claims in the hands of the Legion adjustment officers, who would make them airtight.

The Legion, declared the speaker, was the greatest service club in the world. It was non-sectarian, non-political and was united under great truths. And to maintain the rights that it believes belongs to them it must use the vote. It was the duty of the Legion to see that those who are put in the place of power use that power to the benefit of the nation, and refuse to be tagged by any political party. The Legion also recognized no social line but were all comrades, character being the only thing that counted.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Adye for his splendid address was moved by N. A. McColl and seconded by Rev. N. Clark Wallace, this being conveyed to him by President Watters to which he replied.

After the singing of the National Anthem a lunch was served and a social hour and sing song was enjoyed.

For Coughs Too Deep To Risk A Lesser Help

Creomulsion was made to deal with coughs from colds which hang on. A three-day cough is a danger signal. There the utmost should be done.

But a trifling cough may develop into something deep and difficult. Don't you think it wise to use the utmost help, even if a lesser help might do? Creomulsion combines seven major helps in one. The seven best helps known to medical science. One is best for one type of cough, one for others. Nobody can tell in advance. So the best way seems to be to combine all in one prescription.

Creosote stands first. Here it is blended, emulsified and tasty. For soothing membranes and combating cold germs, the world knows nothing better.

But some coughs best yield to white pine tar, some to wild cherry bark, some to menthol, some to ipecac, etc. So we combine all these factors at their best in a single formula.

For some coughs Creomulsion is better than you need. One of its factors might do. But don't you feel safer when a minor cough is treated in the utmost way?

If so, get Creomulsion. It costs a little more than lesser helps—$1.25. But your druggist guarantees it. He returns your money if you are disappointed. You will feel safer in any cough if this master help combats it. Use it promptly.

HOME TOWNERS

Tidbits, Interesting and Humorous CAMPBELLFORD

In the winter it seems that the thoughts of the Campbellford folks turn to hockey. This was very much in evidence to-day when men where busy levelling the rink here and starting to flood it. This is an early start and the results should be the better for it.

Col. and Mrs. Earchman of Wooler have moved to town and will in future reside here. Col. Earchman is the superintendent of the Raynard Construction Company and is a keen horseman. At the Toronto Royal Winter Fair this year his bay mare "Melen Zombia," took first and third prize in a large field of entries.

Many friends of Dr. G. A. Hay will be sorry to learn that he was taken to the hospital on Sunday, where he will undergo an operation.

Visitors attending the Legion meeting on Monday were the Rev. E. R. C. Adye of Whitby, Major J. F. B. Belford of Codrington and Mr. George King of Oshawa.

CHICKEN THIEVES BLAMED FOR FIRE

Farmer Looses Barn and Entire Season's Crop in Brock Township.

INSURANCE IS SMALL

LINDSAY, Nov. 26 (Examiner Correspondence) — Another mysterious barn fire has been reported. Louis Taylor, who resides in Brock township, near the village of Cannington, lost his barns and season's crops in a fire of unknown origin. The loss is a very heavy one as it is understood Mr. Taylor only carried small insurance. It is believed by some that chicken thieves were responsible for the fire.

A.Y.P.A. BRANCHES GATHER AT STIRLING

Enjoyable Evening is Spent by Young People in Community Hall.

STIRLING, Nov. 26 (Examiner Correspondence)—On Monday night the community hall was filled with young people from the A.Y.P.A. branches of Marmora, Deloro, Tweed, Roslin, Thomasburg, Rawdon and Belleville.

A program was given interspersed by community singing. Margaret Bateman and Doris Tanner sang as a duet, "I passed by your window." Two banjo selections were given by one of the guests. Solos by Mr. Evans and Mr. Herman of Belleville. A reading by Miss Arbuckle of Belleville.

A Scotch dance (in costume) by Miss Shields of Tweed and short addresses by four ministers and the various presidents brought the program to a close.

Lunch was enjoyed and dancing. A nine piece orchestra came from St. Thomas' Church, Belleville.

FEEL MEAN?

Don't be helpless when you suddenly get a headache. Reach in your pocket for immediate relief. If you haven't any Aspirin with you, get some at the first drugstore you come to. Take a tablet or two and be rid of the pain. Take promptly. Nothing is gained by waiting to see if the pain will leave of its own accord. It may grow worse! Why postpone relief?

There are many times when Aspirin tablets will "save the day." They will always ease a throbbing head. Quiet a grumbling tooth. Relieve nagging pains of neuralgia or neuritis. Or check a sudden cold. Even rheumatism has lost its terrors for those who have learned to depend on these tablets.

Gargle with Aspirin tablets at the first suspicion of sore throat, and reduce the infection. Look for Aspirin on the box—and the word Genuine in red. Genuine Aspirin tablets do not depress the heart.

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN No. 3 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Almost frantic with grief, Lady Greystoke quickly related to her husband, upon his return to their London home, all she had been able to learn concerning the theft of their child. As they were planning the wisest course to pursue, the telephone rang. A strange man's voice told Tarzan he knew where the baby was hidden. And, for a price, he would betray his confederates.

As a result of this conversation, Tarzan late that night went alone to a squalid den beside the waterfront of Dover. As he paused within the evil-smelling room, a muffled figure brushed past him, whispering: "This way, my lord." In the gloom he did not recognize the man. "Where is the boy?" he questioned. "On that small steamer whose lights you see yonder," replied the other.

His guide led Tarzan into a small boat and pulled rapidly toward the ship. They climbed upon the deserted deck and the man pointed to an open hatch. "The boy is hidden there," he said. "I will stand guard while you fetch him." All Tarzan's thoughts were occupied with the hope that soon he would again have his little son in his arms. Quickly he swung down into the darkness below.

Scarcely had he done so than the heavy covering fell clattering above him. Instantly he knew he was the victim of a plot. He waited for what might next befall him. Soon there came to his ears a sound that caused him to go cold with apprehension. The ship was moving! Then high over the noise of the propeller, clear and shrill from the deck above him, rang the scream of a frightened woman.

CONTINUED DANGER IN WESTERN EUROPE

Renewed Anxiety in France, But Relief in Netherlands, as Scheldt Floods Recede.

PARIS, Nov. 26 (C.P.)—Heavy rains which set in at dawn after a brief respite during the night to-day renewed anxiety over a widely-flooded area of France, and the danger which was believed to have passed appeared to be stalking the country again.

In Central Belgium, however, the situation seemed to be somewhat eased as the flooded River Scheldt began to recede. In the Dendre Valley fields were under deep water and there was no possibility of draining them until nearly a hundred breaks in the dikes could be repaired.

I will not forget the Members of the Council for 1930, and I sincerely trust that my successors will be as loyally supported."

Mr. Griffith's Request.

Reeve Griffith, Belmont, reported that he had not spent the $150 granted by the Council for repairing Dafoe's Bridge.

"I didn't want to mix this up with Government money," he said. "Besides, it will cost a lot more than we were granted. I thought you might recommend the grant to next year's Council."

County Clerk Elliott commented that the money would have to be revoted next year.

Mr. Griffith moved, seconded by Deputy-Reeve Waterman, North Monaghan, that the Belmont grant be recommended to the 1931 Council.—Carried.

The committee acceded to a request from Reeve Coons, Smith, for a grant of $100 for work on the 7th Concession bridge.

Reeve Humphries, Asphodel, persuaded the committee that his township should receive $50 from the county toward the cost of a culvert on the 10th Line. Asphodel expended $261 on this work, laying a 25-foot covering over the water course.

Mr. Tedford remarked that considerable money had been spent on bridges this year.

MRS. GEORGE GIMBLETT.

Mrs. Gertrude Gimblett, beloved wife of Fire Chief George Gimblett, passed away at the family residence, 304 King Street, at 1 o'clock this afternoon, after an illness extending over some weeks. MONTREAL POLICE BRING MAN BACK Foreigner Who Gave Himself Up in Sudbury Will Be Witness at Wife's Inquest.

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 26 (C.P.).—John Demitrovitch, who disappeared from his home last week a few minutes after his wife had been shot and killed in their home here, and who gave himself up to Sudbury, Ont., police last Saturday, was brought back to Montreal yesterday. He will appear at the inquest over his wife's death when it resumes to-day.

Mrs. Demitrovich, a twenty-year-old mother, was shot through the heart by her father's revolver soon after she and her husband entered their room when he was about to dress for his work as a night club waiter. Her parents, with whom they lived, found the wife dead on the floor and her husband standing nearby. Saying he would summon a doctor, he did not return. Police sought him as a material witness for the inquest. There was no record of the couple living other than a completely happy married life.
